A MURDER MYSTERY

Another Body Buried in a Catch Basin at Chicago.

CHILDREN MAKE THE DISCOVERY

They Spied a Man's Hand Grasping a Rawhide Whip.

A Policeman Attempts to Secure the Body With a Rake—The Corpse of a Large Man Rose to the Surface and Disappeared Into the Sewer Opening—Wagon Tracks Leading to the Manhole.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The police at Englewood are working on a mystery. A party of children spied a hand grasping a rawhide whip protruding from the catch basin of the sewer at the corner of Sixtieth and Wallace streets. The children rushed to the Englewood station and notified Lieutenant Healy, who took a rake with him and plunged the implement into the water in the catch basin. The rake struck something which moved about and the corpse of a large man rose to the surface, but disappeared before it could be secured. Healy turned the rake and the teeth caught on a piece of cloth, which was loose. He reached down and caught hold of a thick willow stick which was bent far into the sewer opening by the force of something pressing against it. The officer gave the stick a quick jerk and the corpse slipped into the sewer.

He reached quickly with the rake again and the piece of cloth he caught broke off and remained clinging to the rake teeth.

The piece of cloth was of stout linen, almost two feet long, and tied in a hard knot. It is just the sort of a piece of cloth that might be used to choke a man to death, and Lieutenant Healey concluded that such was the use to which it had been put. On searching about the catch basin for additional evidence, the officer found fresh marks in the wood, showing where a bar or some other instrument had been inserted to remove the heavy cover of the manhole. Upon the edge of the catch basin was a bunch of human hair. The hairs were short and coarse and dark brown in color.

The corner of Sixtieth and Wallace streets is a very lonely spot at night. There are no houses for several blocks around, and men could drive up to the catch basin and dump a body into it with little chance of being seen. Wagon tracks were found in the dust in the street leading up close to the manhole. A board cover that looks like the cover of a long box was picked up two blocks north of the catch basin on Wallace street.

TWICE AN APOSTATE.

The Rev. Father Martin Again Returns to the Protestant Church.

MONTREAL, May 27.—The leading sensation in religious circles for the last three weeks has been the disappearance of the Rev. Mr. Martin, formerly a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, but latterly identified here with various Protestant bodies.

The sensation was increased last night when it was known that Mr. Martin appeared with his wife at a French Presbyterian Church, on St. Catharine street. Mr. Martin said last night that having become discouraged through his inability to support his family he made an agreement with the Archbishop to return to the Catholic Church on the condition that his family would be provided for.

He then went down to Antigonish, N. S., to the Trappist Monastery, where the Abbot had been instructed to receive him as a priest going into retreat, but there he found his domestic ties were too strong, and accordingly he returned to his family. The Archbishop was seen last night by a press correspondent, and informed for the first time of the priest's second apostasy. He could offer no reason for his strange conduct.

The Protestant clergy are much perplexed over the man's vagaries, and are not a little chagrined at the faithlessness of their protege.

Murder of a Peddler.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 27.—A man Samuel Hatz was found murdered on the roadside near Wurtsboro, Sullivan County, in the morning, there being a bullet hole in the back of the head. He was a Russian Jew, who made his home with his cousin here during the past two years. Hatz was a pack peddler, and came to this country two years ago, leaving a wife and two children in Russia. He was about 35 years old. He left here on a trip through the surrounding country some six weeks ago.

Lowell's Camp Fire.

LOWELL, Mass., May 27.—Last night a rousing camp fire was held in the Huntington Hall with a large number of ladies in the galleries. Gen. Alger urged upon comrades the duty of standing together for protection to the widows and orphans of soldiers and regretted that relief by the passage of the Pension law had been so long delayed. Speeches were also made by Gen. B. F. Butler, Congressman Greenhalge and others.

Reunion of the Army of the Potomac

PORTLAND, Me., May 27.—General W. T. Sherman has accepted an invitation to be present at a reunion of the Army of the Potomac to be held here July 4th. He will come, he says, in his private capacity, and declines to be the guest of the city or of any private family; that he simply wants to room at a hotel where he may receive his friends.

Ratified the Rutland Lease.

RUTLAND, Vt., May 27.—The stockholders of the Rutland Railroad Company ratified the lease of the road to the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

THE REVISION COMMITTEE.

Twenty-five Theologians Selected by the Presbyterian Assembly.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 27.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly the report of the Committee on unemployed Ministers and Vacant Churches, recommending the organization of a special bureau of information to put the unemployed ministers into communication with the vacant churches, was referred to the presbyteries and will come up in the assembly in 1891.

The Nominating Committee submitted and the Assembly by a unanimous voted accepted the following members of the Committee on Revision of the Confession of Faith:

Seminary Professors—W. H. Greene, Princeton; Thomas H. Hastings, Union; M. B. Riddle, Allegheny; W. J. Beecher, Auburn; E. D. Morris, Lane; Herrick Johnson, McConnell; William Alexander, San Francisco.

College Presidents—Francis L. Patton, Princeton. William C. Roberts, Lake Forest.

Pastors—W. E. Moore, Columbus, Ohio (Moderator of Assembly); H. J. Van Dyke, Brooklyn; Ebenezer Erskine, Chambersburg, Pa.; J. T. Leftwich, Baltimore, Md.; J. C. Niccols, St. Louis, Mo.; E. R. Burkhalter, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Elders—Ex-Justice William Strong, Washington, D. C.; ex-Senator J. K. McMillin, St. Paul, Minn.; Judge Alfred Hand, Scranton, Pa.; Emerson E. White, Cincinnati; Judge Henry B. Sayler, Hunterdon, Ind.; Winthrop S. Gilman, New York; Barker Enmere, Trenton, N. J.; William Ernst, Covington, Ky.; George Junkin, Philadelphia; Charles R. Charnley, Chicago.

Detroit, Mich., was selected as the place for the next meeting.

ELECTION CELEBRATION.

Crowds at Newport to Witness the Opening of the New Legislature.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 27.—The election celebration began last night with the arrival of Governor Ladd and staff, State officials and members of the Legislature.

The Governor was met at the wharf by the Newport Artillery, his body guard, the Newport Light Infantry and the Newport band, and was escorted to his headquarters at the Aquidneck.

The hotels are lively, and there is an immense amount of log-rolling and wire-pulling in progress over officers of the Legislature to be elected to-day.

The Democratic legislative caucus decided that the House shall not organize until the Senate has done so, and that if the Senate unseats any Democrats the House shall unseat an equal number of Republicans from the same towns.

The Boy May Have Been Killed.

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—John Allen, 18 years old, was arrested on suspicion of having caused the death of Paul Crunisholz, the school-boy, whose death was at first attributed to apoplexy brought on by over study. Allen says that Paul threw stones at a crowd of boys employed at Lockwood's factory, and that one of them hit him on the leg. He refused to say whether he threw stones at Brunisholz in return. Allen will be held until the matter has been investigated.

The $8,000 Saloon Sustained.

LOWELL, Mass., May 27.—The voters of Dracut almost unanimously voted to keep the $8,000 they received from John Lennon for his liquor license, and to permit the sale of liquor to go on in the town. The Selectmen are authorized by the Legislature to give the money back and to cancel the license, but they wanted to know what their constituents thought about it, so they took it into town meeting.

Accidentally Shot During Target Practice.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 27.—Corporal William Hackett, of the Marine Guard at the United States Training Station, was accidentally shot during target practice. Acting as marker at the target, he stepped out just as a marine fired. The bullet passed through his body, making a serious and possibly fatal wound. His family has been summoned from Salem, Mass.

No More Eight Hour Strikes.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, consisting of Samuel Gompers, P. J. McGuire, Christopher Evans, William Martin and Henry Emerich, decided to order no more strikes until all the carpenters' strikes had been settled, and then the miners will be called upon to go to the front.

Puddlers Will Ask for an Advance.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 27.—A week from to-day the Amalgamated Association will begin its annual convention here. Next Friday the Wage Committee will hold a meeting to prepare a basis for the scale of next year. All the lodges have handed in their suggestions. The puddlers will undoubtedly ask for an advance of 50 cents per ton.

Ex-Secretary McCrary Dying.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 27.—George W. McCrary, of Kansas City, the ex-Secretary of War, is dangerously ill at the residence of his son-in-law, Dr. W. C. Battler, in this city. His recovery is not thought possible. Judge McCrary's trouble is a malignant tumor of the bowels.

Hatters Locked Out.

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—The men employed in the hat shops of Weghman & Budish and John Wolf, are locked out. There was no cut in the wages, but the men claim the two firms were trying to break up the union. This makes 600 men at present out of employment.

Miss Elkins Will Wed.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Miss Elkins, the daughter of Mr. Stephen B. Elkins, who spent a few weeks here recently, will be married to Mr. Alexander C. Oliphant, of Jersey City, Tuesday, June 3.

A NEW SILVER BILL

The Document Prepared by a New York Banker.

INTRODUCED BY SENATOR PLUMB

The President Appoints the World's Fair Commissioners-at-Large.

Progress of the Border Raid Bill—A Boy Murderer's Death Sentence Commuted to Imprisonment for Life—Committees Trying to Agree on Pension Bills—The Universal Peace Union Convention.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Silver bill prepared by Banker St. Johns, of New York, and introduced by Senator Plumb, directs the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase monthly silver bullion to the aggregate amount of four and one-half million ounces of fine silver at the market price, but not exceeding one dollar for 371 25-100 grains of pure silver, and to issue United States notes in payment therefor.

These notes shall be legal tender for all purposes, unless otherwise specified in any contract. The aggregate amount of such notes outstanding shall not exceed the cost of silver reserved on hand, in the purchase of which the notes were issued.

The notes shall be redeemable at the Treasury or sub-Treasuries in coin, but the Secretary of the Treasury may, after the expiration of two years from the passage of this act, prescribe regulations for the redemption of the notes, on demand of the holder, in an amount of silver bullion worth at the market price of the date of redemption the face amount of notes thus redeemed in bullion, if in the discretion of the Secretary such method of redemption shall then be to the interest of the United States.

The Secretary shall coin such portion of the silver purchased—not less, however, than $2,000,000 monthly—as he may deem necessary to provide for the redemption of the United States notes. After two years the minimum coinage requirement shall be reduced to $1,000,000 per month.

COMMISSIONERS-AT-LARGE.

The President Appoints the World's Fair Representatives.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The following gentlemen have been appointed by the President Commissioners-at-Large for the World's Fair:

For the District of Columbia: A. T. Britton and E. Kurtz Johnson, commissioners; Alfred A. Wilson and Dorsey Clagett, alternates.

Edward H. Amidon, New York; alternate, Gorton W. Allen, New York.

Peter A. B. Widener, Pennsylvania; alternate, John W. Chalfant, Pennsylvania.

Samuel W. Inman, Georgia; alternate, William Lindsay, Kentucky.

Henry Exall, Texas; alternate, Henry L. King, Texas.

Mark L. McDonald, California; alternate, Thomas Burke, State of Washington.

August E. Bullock, Massachusetts; alternate, Henry Ingalls, Maine.

Thos. W. Palmer, Michigan; alternate, James Oliver, Indiana.

R. C. Kerens, Missouri; alternate, R. W. Furness, Nebraska.

The President signed the commisions of the various State Commissioners recently appointed by the Governors of the States and Territories.

Death Roll in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—There are now sitting in the House of Representatives nineteen members that were not elected to it when Congress was chosen in November, 1888, and there are still two vacancies to be filled, occasioned by the death of Representative Wilbur of New York, and the advancement of Representative Carlisle to the Senate. The death rate of the Fifty-first Congress has been unprecedented. Three hundred and twenty-five members were elected to it in November, 1888, and now nine of that number are dead, and the successors of all but one of them are in Congress.

The Universal Peace Union.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The 24th annual convention of the American Branch of the Universal Peace Union is in session here. Alfred B. Love, of Philadelphia, in the chair. A letter from President Harrison was read expressing the wish that he might attend their meetings and inviting the members to call on him. Letters expressing sympathy with the work of the union were also read from the members of the Cabinet, Senators Sherman, Colquitt and Stanford, and from Cardinal Gibbons.

The Pension Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Another effort will be made to-day by the Conference Committee on the Morrill and Senate Pension bills to come to an agreement. Mr. Morrill said that the Senate will yield on every other point but the service feature, and that it is bitterly hostile to that. Experts are now at work calculating the relative cost by the two bills, and it is alleged that the difference is not large. A universal pension system seems, however, Mr. Morrill states, to be out of the question.

A Ball Catcher Instantly Killed.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 27.—Ben. Myers, catcher of a colored baseball club, while playing at Montgomery was struck in the mouth by a ball thrown by the pitcher and instantly killed.

A Deputy Postmaster Arrested.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 27.—Emanuel E. Boger, deputy postmaster here, was arrested last night, charged with defrauding the Government by using cancelled postage stamps

BY THE WAY.

—The Hope chapel boys brigade meet this evening at 8 o'clock for drill.

—Many of the stores in this city will remain closed all day, on Decoration Day.

—A Social Meeting of the Young Mens Auxiliary will be held at the Y. M. C. A., to-night.

—The attention of the ladies is directed to the advertisement in another column, headed—"Woman's Exchange."

—The joint detail from the Grand Army Posts, met last evening and completed the Memorial Day arrangements.

—A farmer's horse fell on the crosswalk near THE PRESS office, this morning, but no particular damage resulted from the mishap.

—It will pay grocers, druggists and confectioners to give attention to the adv. of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association published today.

—All ladies holding unsold tickets or money for the Kinder Symphony, are kindly requested to return them at once to Mrs. Kimball, 29 East Fifth street.

—The post office will close on Decoration Day, May 30, 1890, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the day. There will be one delivery in the morning and two collections

—It was just 29 years ago Sunday that the farewell sermon was preached to Company I, composed mostly of Plainfield men, who were leaving for the war.

—Craig place in North Plainfield, is to be macadamized, and a subscription paper is being circulated among the property owners along the line towards paying part of the cost.

—Mr. Edward Galbraith's hack collided with Mr. W. S. Terry's milk wagon on North avenue, this morning, and the hack was upset. One of the hind wheels on the milk wagon was dished.

—A meeting will be held to-morrow night, at 8 o'clock in the lodge room of the Jr. O. U. A. M., corner of Park avenue and Front streets, for the purpose of organizing a lodge of the Knights of St. John and Malta.

—The Central Railroad company had a gang of men at work yesterday, removing the dirt preparatory to laying an additional siding at Fanwood. The dirt was thrown along the railroad bank at a point near Netherwood.

—Captain Grant took Conrad Miller to Elizabeth this morning to serve out a 20 days' sentence, and to stand committed to await the action of the Grand Jury for an attempted assault upon two little girls at Netherwood on Sunday.

—The Pond Machine Tool company, it is said, is considering a new system for protection against fire, and Chief Doane of the Fire Department is advocating the purchase of a chemical engine and the formation of a new company with headquarters in the vicinity of Grant avenue.

—A boxing match was to have taken place, in this city, last evening, but one of the principals failed to materialize and the match was postponed. Two local sports, however, had a few rounds in a resort on North avenue, late in the evening, in the presence of a dozen or more witnesses.

—A special sale for two days only, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, will take place at Sherman & Becker's, 73 Park avenue, of ladies and children's muslin underwear, hosiery and handkerchiefs. Miss C. D. Squier will also make a specialty of trimmed and untrimmed hats on the above-named days.

—Mr. John Morton, the ice dealer, has received and disposed of about ten carloads of ice since February 15 last. He reports that on the first of the present month the price to local dealers went up one dollar on the ton. Mr. Morton has an easy way of unloading the ice, the cars being run on a siding at Grant avenue, directly alongside of his ice houses.

—THE PRESS is informed that all of the coal and lumber dealers in this city, according to their usual custom, will close their places of business on May 30. This is a progressive movement in the right direction, and one that will be appreciated and encouraged by the people, and it is to be hoped that the same may be said of all business places in this city. Anyone needing coal or lumber had better order the same as early as possible.

When your dealer sends you something "just as good" when Hires' Root Beer is asked for, the proper thing is to send it back. He delights in selling substitutes, because the profit is large.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. W. Sutphen of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent Sunday with friends and relatives in this city and North Plainfield.

Mr. Elmer E. Runyon says, it will be worth the whole price of admission only to hear Perry Averill sing at Music Hall, Friday evening.

Ernest Kinney, of The Scott Press works, left for his home at Worchester, R. I., yesterday, where he will spend several weeks with his parents.

Mrs. Clara Holbrook Smith will lecture in this city next week, on "Artistic Dress" and its relation to physical culture and the health of woman. Her Secretary, Miss Chevaillier, is in Plainfield now arranging for the lecture.

Mr. Charles Schermerhorn, a son of Manager Scherm erhorn of the Western Union office in this city, will next month lead to the altar, Miss Edna Keene, the handsome and accomplished daughter of a wealthy widow lady, who resides at Vicksburgh, Tenn.

Changes in the Programme.

The hours of exercises and entertainments of the State Division of Wheelmen's Meet, for Friday, have been somewhat changed. Following is the new order:

At 10:00 A. M., there will be a business meeting, followed by luncheon, at the Club House.

At 1:30 P. M., the parade, according to the line of march published in THE PRESS of last Thursday.

At 3:30 P. M., the banquet at Hotel Netherwood.

At 8 o'clock, grand minstrel and vaudeville entertainment at Music Hall.

On Saturday morning there will be the following runs: 9:00, schorcher's run to New Brunswick, under command of Capt. F. L. C. Martin; 9:30, to Bound Brook, under J. E. Erickson; 9:30, to Westfield, under Stanton Smith.

Luncheon will be served at noon of Saturday in the Club House, and wheelmen will take the 1:00 o'clock train for the races at Bergen Point.

Make Inquiries at Your Home Office Before Writing Postal Items, Brother!

It is stated that the post office department has directed that hereafter letters on which the postage is not paid shall be forwarded promptly and that double postage be collected at the point of delivery.—Flemington Democrat.

Not much! If a letter is dropped in the Flemington, or any other, post office, without a stamp on it, the one addressed is notified from the post office where the letter was dropped, that it is there and will only be forwarded when stamps sufficient to pay for its transmission, are received.

If, however, there is but insufficient postage affixed, the letter is sent to its destination and the balance collected there—but not one cent more than the legal rate. For instance, if a letter requiring four cents postage has only a two cent stamp on it, it is forwarded and merely the two cents due is collected of the one addressed, before the letter is delivered.

Do You Want to Camp Out?

The usual World's Conference of College Students will be held at Northfield, Mass., under the direction of Mr. D. L. Moody, beginning June 28 and closing July 9. The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. has been represented at these conferences for the past four years Any members of the Association who desire to join a tenting party for this year are requested to apply at the Association rooms. Mr. A. A. Stagg of Yale will have charge of the athletics.

The boy's camp in charge of Mr. S. F. Dudley of Orange will be held as usual at Lake Wawayanda, Sussex county, N. J., July 8 to 22.

Death of James Marshall.

James Marshall, senior member of the firm of Marshall & Ball, clothiers, of Newark, Jersey City and Paterson, died at his home on Clinton avenue, Newark, last evening. He was stricken down with inflammation of the kidneys about four weeks ago and never rallied. Mr. Marshall was one of the best known and most successful business men in New Jersey. He was born in Paterson in 1816. He was a brother to the late Daniel J. Marshall, and had many friends and acquaintances in this city.

Candidates for the Shrievalty.

They are smiling, says the Elizabeth Journal. We refer to candidates for offices that are to be filled next Fall. Who they all are cannot yet be stated, but the Summit Herald names three Democrats. It says:

Candidates for the shrievalty are already moving around in a very quiet manner, each with a pleasant smile and a winning way. We may submit as the more prominent possible Democratic candidates, Elmore D. Moffett of Plainfield; Wm. H. Reynolds of Elizabeth; Geo. H. Doty of Union.

An Exciting Runaway.

A horse belonging to an out-of-town butcher ran away in front of a house on Duer street, North Plainfield, late yesterday afternoon. The animal turned into Somerset street and ran along that thoroughfare until Front street was reached, when the runaway collided with a farm wagon, wrecking one of the wheels on the latter vehicle. The horse was captured near the post office before doing further damage.

The entering wedge of a complaint that may prove fatal is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. It would be well, therefore, to keep this remedy within reach at all times.

FRANCIS K. HARTE MULCTED.

A Former Plainfielder Comes to Grief and is Obliged to Pay $10,000 for Robbing Another Man of His Wife's Affections.

A Sheriff's Jury over which Gen. Sickles presided, yesterday found a verdict of $10,000 against Francis K. Harte, formerly of this city, and a son of Bret Harte the well-know novelist, in a suit by James J. Smith for the alienation of the affections of his wife, Eline B. Smith. The suit had been tried previously in the Supreme Court of New York where, as Harte failed to appear and defend, judgment was given in favor of the husband, the Judge ordering the damages to be assessed by the Sheriff's Jury. The verdict was for the full amount claimed.

The Smiths were married in 1879. They have two children, of whom the wife has possession. A referee has just recommended that the children be given to the husband.

The trouble seems to have dated from the time the family went to board with Mrs. Detley in Pittsfield, Mass., where young Harte was a guest. Mrs. Detley testified that Harte's attentions to Mrs. Smith became so marked that they caused comment and compelled her to speak to him.

At the trial Harte's counsel asked Mrs. Detley if Mrs. Smith did not pay the bills and she replied that she received checks from Mr. Smith.

"Did Harte pay them?" asked a juror.

"I guess not," she exclaimed, "he left owing me $110."

Laura S. Kerrison testified that Harte and Mrs. Smith lived together at Rockland Lake. She was a nurse in the Smith family and when Harte and Mrs. Smith went abroad together, in November, 1888, Mrs. Smith left the children in her charge and told her not to tell any one where they were.

Mr. Smith is a cripple. He testified that it cost him $100 to find where his children were. His home, he said, had been ruined, his family broken up, and his children taken from him.

Harte did not appear.

The jury was out but a few minutes.

The Company That Collier Caught In.

The Boston Evening Record of the 17th inst., had something to say of a wonderful ball team that was the pride of Concord "way back in the sixties;" and it told of the enviable futures of its members. One of that nine is now a successful Plainfield merchant.

The article says: "Samuel Hoar, counsel of the B. & A. R. R., was the pitcher. His catcher was Asa Collier, a splendid backstop, and now a successful business man in Plainfield, N. J. Hodges, a well-known physician, played short stop: Charles Hoar, a brother of Samuel, covered first base; Col. R. F. Barrett, of the Governor's staff, covered third base, and captained the team; C. H Walcott, of the State Board of Arbitration, played second base, while Loring, Holbrook and Reynolds gathered in everything that came to the outfield. Ned Simmons, the famous artist, pitched many a game in this nine. Frank Robbins, a Boston bank cashier, and Fred Thayer, inventor of the mask, and ex-Captain of the Harvards, gained their first experience here in one position or another."

Meeting of Alpha Lodge.

Alpha Lodge No. 4, I. O. of G. T., met in regular session last evening, in their hall corner Park and North avenues, but owing to the state of the weather the attendance was small.

The report of last Tuesday's proceedings in the lodge was made by Sister Burdick. Mr. W. H. Clum was elected a trustee for one year. Alpha Lodge is in a growing condition, nineteen new members having joined during the last quarter. After the usual business was transacted, there were songs and recitations by several of the members of the lodge.

An Unequal Division.

Judge McCormick has awarded the counsel fees in the William Moore will case, as follows: James R. English of Elizabeth, $500; R. V. Lindabury of Elizabeth, $300; Jackson & Codington of this city, $50, and Nelson Runyon, also of Plainfield, $50. Mr. W. L. Hetfield who was also employed as counsel in the case was allowed absolutely nothing. The first-named award is considered exhorbitant, inasmuch as there were but about seven testimonies in all taken.

Deserted by His Young Wife.

Wm. Keiser, a resident of New Brunswick, is mourning over the disappearance of his wife. Keiser married the girl only a year ago. She was eighteen and he forty-seven. Lately they have not lived together in perfect harmony, and the husband attributes this largely to a visit from his wife's mother, who lives at New Market. He has been unable to find any trace of his missing wife and has now called on the police to aid him in his search.

The Clerks' Meeting.

A number of the clerks in this city met in Laing's Hall, last evening, with Mr. "Jere" Moore in the chair. The subject of forming an organization was talked over, and some private business was transacted.

No Rival in the Field.

There is no remedy which can rival HAMBURG FIGS for the cure of habitual indigestion and sick-headache. Their action is as prompt and efficient as their taste is pleasant. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Cricket.

The St. George's Cricket Club is trying to secure the grounds on Washington avenue, formerly occupied by the Plainfield Athletic Club. The club is arranging a series of games with out-of-town clubs, the first of which will be played at Paterson on August 7, and a return game will be played in this city on August 9. The local club will also play with a team from the New Jersey Athletic Club at Bergen Point on September 20, and with the same club in this city on September 27.

Sick Headache

IS a complaint from which many suffer and few are entirely free. Its cause is indigestion and a sluggish liver, the cure for which is readily found in the use of Ayer's Pills.

"I have found that for sick headache, caused by a disordered condition of the stomach, Ayer's Pills are the most reliable remedy."—Samuel C. Bradburn, Worthington, Mass.

"After the use of Ayer's Pills for many years, in my practice and family, I am justified in saying that they are an excellent cathartic and liver medicine—sustaining all the claims made for them."—W. A. Westfall, M. D., V. P. Austin & N. W. Railway Co., Burnet, Texas.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered stomach and liver. I suffered for over three years from headache, indigestion, and constipation. I had no appetite and was weak and nervous most of the time. By using three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured."—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kansas.

"I was troubled for years with indigestion, constipation, and headache. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, used in small daily doses, restored me to health. They are prompt and effective."—W. H. Strout, Meadville, Pa.

There is No End of Freaks.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Last Friday THE PRESS printed a copy of certain cards which it said had been circulated among our school children and which asked the question: If I die to-night, where shall I spend Eternity?" and which provided space for answers and the scholars names who were so foolish as to reply. You said that if anyone knew where the answers ought to go, you would print that information. Yes, and you might also give the name of the questioner in big poster type in order that we common but sane mortals may steer clear of him and leave him to his own devices. But didn't it occur to you that it may not be intended that the answers should be sent anywhere? I remember hearing of a religious maniac who rambled through the Eastern States a few years ago, calling upon everybody to write these words: "If I were to die to-night where would I spend Eternity?" on a piece of paper and begging them to hang the emblem up in their rooms as a sort of conscience encourager. I don't know whether that man is living now or not. If he is still going it must be in an asylum.

Perhaps this business is only another freak of the impertinent census takers who have already gone beyond the bounds of reason; or it may be but a new departure of those proselyting religious cranks of which our city has more than its share. Of course such an absurd question asked of an adult would neither harm nor benefit; but asked of school children, possessed of a moderate sense of the ridiculous, it will illicit a very funny lot of answers, I should suppose, and at the same time imbue in the child a disrespect if not a contempt for matters not to be disrespected. The child is not to blame, and the person who promulgated the question ought to be taught that our people are not the kind to appreciate any such dangerous absurdities.

Where a man expects to spend Eternity is an affair for him to settle between himself and his conscience with the aid, if he chooses, of a spiritual adviser, and not of a religious alarmist whose principal inducements to the living of a righteous life are the alternatives of brimstone and fire. These people who are so abnormally certain of their own salvation, and so generally doubtful, yet solicitous, about other folks' chances in the hereafter, should recall the touching story of the little boy who died and whose bereaved relatives had inscribed upon his tombstone the following lines:

"Here lies our Tommy—age eleven;
He is dead, and gone to Heaven."

And some matter of fact character came along and added these words:

"But you can't sometimes always tell—Perhaps little Tommy went to Shoel."

CRITIQUE.

An Unprecedented Record.

Since the complete organization of the Crescent League team for 1890, their record has been a most remarkable one. They have played five games, and won every one of them in eight innings. They have made 60 runs to their opponents 8, and 58 safe hits to their opponents 19. In the five games the Crescents made but 8 errors. Just look at it:

		Runs		Runs
Apr. 30,	Crescents	13	Columbia College	1
May 3,	"	18	Silentias	0
" 10,	"	7	Rutgers College	3
" 17,	"	12	Lees	3
" 24,	"	10	Vernons	1
		60		8

There seems to be no doubt now that Plainfield has the finest ball team in the State, barring none. As to Somerville, the Crescents with one hand behind their backs could beat them easily. There is a great deal of talk in this city about another series of games with the West Ends, but the idea is ridiculous in view of the fact that the Somervilles are so far out-classed by the Crescents this year.

Is This Justice?

Mrs. Elizabeth Pawson of Grove street, was arraigned before Justice Hardy in North Plainfield, yesterday afternoon, charged by Mrs. I. Phillips, a neighbor, with using foul and abusive language. She was fined $5 and costs.

Mrs. Pawson called at THE PRESS office this morning, and told her version of the affair. She said she was summoned into court without the least knowledge of the complaint, and that furthermore she was not even given time to call any witnesses. She also says that the complainant in the case accused her of poisoning her four children, which she lost with diphtheria a few years ago. Mrs. Pawson says she wanted to make a counter charge against Mrs. Phillips, but the Justice would not entertain the charge.

Wm. Robinson, a son of Mrs. Pawson's sister, was also fined one dollar and costs on a charge of throwing stones at Mrs. Phillips.

Changes of City Realty.

The following are the transfers of real estate in Plainfield, recorded during last week:

Julia Scribner et al to John H. Campbell, Second street.

David Boehm et ux to Ignatz Boehm, Front street.

John Beerbower, et ux to John Kelly Third street.

Clarence J. Rice, and others, to Mary J. Williams, Sanford avenue.

Lemuel W. Serrell to John Kenny, Stebbins Place.

Manning Stelle, dec., ex'rs to Jeannie G. F. Runkle, Field avenue.

The prevalence of scrofulous taint in the blood is much more universal than many are aware. Indeed, but few persons are free from it. Fortunately, however, we have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most potent remedy ever discovered for this terrible affliction.

HOW YOU'LL VOTE THIS FALL.

The Requirements of The New Ballot Reform Law That the Democrats of New Jersey Have Passed.

The readers of THE PRESS who are voters will have a strange feeling when they approach the polls at the next election in November. Under the new ballot reform law every voter will go to the polls with a feeling akin to that of the youngster who goes up to cast his first vote. His first real surprise will be the absence of the usual mob around the place where he is to deposit his ballot. Instead of a half dozen men of each party standing right up in front of the window and staring him in the face to see if they can tell how he intends to vote there is a large vacant place. A few men stand some distance away and timidly offer a ticket to the voter, but not with the old bulldozing spirit. This reminds the voter that under the new law no electioneering is permitted within one hundred feet of the polling place. There is really no use for ticket peddlers for there are plenty of tickets inside, but the workers are permitted to buy some of the official ballots before election day if they so desire and then have them to peddle.

The voter enters the door of the room which must be provided for the purpose He looks in front of him and there is a railing and behind it are the four election officers and the poll clerk. He sees two places to get behind the railing, and over on one side are five small apartments which look like closets. He sees several parties coming out of these and handing small envelopes to the election officers. He notices that the men waiting are going behind the railed enclosure through one of the openings and coming out through the other. He follows suit, and as he enters one of the election officers hands him three tickets and an envelope containing the official stamp. These are the official ballots and envelope printed at the expense of the State, and they represent the Democratic, Republican and Prohibition nominations. He is directed to one of the booths and finds himself entirely screened from the gaze of everyone. All about the little shelf made to write upon are piles of ballots of the different parties. He can take his choice and he feels as he never did before that it is time for him to vote just as he thinks and not according to the dictates of others. He selects his favorite ballot, folds it carefully, and inserts it in the envelope and goes out. The envelope is left unsealed and is handed to the election officers, one of whom promptly deposits it in the ballot box which is on a table at the opposite end of the enclosed apartment from that occupied by the booths. The voter has done his duty as a citizen and he passes out. He notices a few men in the room, but they are only waiting their turn to vote or are the authorized agents of the candidates or the political parties. The candidates themselves can be present in the room, but their agents must be duly authorized in writing. The Chairman of the County Committee of the political parties can authorize two representatives to be present in the polling room as challengers.

But here comes a man being led by another and apparently blind. How can he go into the booth and prepare his ballot? He makes inquiry of the election officers and they require him to make affidavit that he is blind. When he does this they allow his friend to go into the booth with him and aid him in preparing his ballot.

The poll clerk is obliged to make a memorandum of this fact and to state in the memorandum the name of the person who entered the booth with the voter. The friend is not to divulge the candidates for whom the voter cast his ballot.

The Comic Opera Success of the Season.

"Castles in the Air," the great comic opera success now playing to crowded houses at the Broadway Theatre, New York, is destined to enjoy a long and prosperous run at that handsome play house. The DeWolf Hopper Opera Bouffe Company, presenting "Castles in the Air," is one of most thoroughly competent comic opera organizations ever heard, and includes such eminent artists as DeWolf Hopper, a long-time metropolitan favorite, Marion Manola, Thomas Q. Seabrooke, Della Fox, Alfred Klein, and others, who have heretofore distinguished themselves on the comic opera stage, and are pleasantly remembered. The chorus is remarkable for affective voices and pretty faces, and has manifestly received the special care of Max Freeman, under whose direction rehearsals were conducted. "Castles in the Air" is particularly rich in point of music, and contains a number of gems which have already become popular. The humor is of the unctious and mirth-provoking kind, and permeates the entire opera. Visitors to the metropolis in search of pure, wholesome entertainment, combining delightful music with infectious fun, will find much enjoyment in "Castles in the Air," as presented at the Broadway, the handsomest and coolest theatre in New York.

—On the door of a little shop on Park avenue, the following notice has been pasted for at least a week past: "Will not be home today." The shop is kept by a woman and is also tightly closed in the back part where she lived.

"Oh! why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" We have often wondered why, and have concluded that we don't know, unless it be that the aforesaid mortal is conscious of the fact that at his disposal, at all times, are Dr. Pierce's Pellets, to relieve him, should he suffer from torpidity of the liver, sick or nervous headache, dyspepsia, etc. Druggists.

A Trial by Jury.

An action upon contract brought by Carney Bros., vs. Chas. Hand, to recover a claim of $135, is being tried before Justice Nash and a jury this afternoon. Counselor Chas. Reed appeared for the plaintiff, and Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh for the defendant.

—The heat today has been very oppressive, and visions of the seashore and mountain loom up in the distance.

—City Treasurer Alex. Titsworth's new Marvin safe arrived yesterday, in which hereafter the treasurer will keep the city documents.

—The second struck jury drawn at Elizabeth recently, to try a railroad case, was yesterday discharged by Judge McCormick until to-morrow morning.

—A man who gave his name as Ryan, and his residence at Elizabeth, was locked up last evening for acting in a disorderly manner. This morning City Judge Codington gave the prisoner his choice of paying a ten dollar fine or spending 20 days in the county jail.

Whatever tends to increase usefulness, by banishing pain and suffering, will certainly secure notice and approval. We allude to Salvation Oil.

Insure your life for 25 cents against all the danger of a consumptive's death by keeping a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup convenient. It is the best.

—It is said that at Flemington ice is being delivered at private residences for sixty cents a hundred pounds. In this city it is a dollar a hundred, and it is likely to raise to $1.50 a hundred before long.

No Fooling Now in Behring Sea.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The Government has informed the owners of sealing vessels on the Pacific coast that they can offer no assurance that their vessels will be free from molestation if caught by American cruisers in Behring's Sea, and that in hunting seal in those waters they take the whole responsibility for what may follow.

A Rubber Factory Burned.

MT. VERNON, N. Y., May 27.—The Hodgman Rubber Factory here was burned, with machinery and stock of crude and manufactured goods. Loss $40,000; partly insured. About 200 employes, mostly girls, are thrown out of work.

Charley Mitchell's Unknown.

NEW YORK, May 27.—A cablegram has been received from London stating that in reply to Slavin's challenge to fight Mitchell, the latter offers to match an unknown against Slavin. The unknown is said to be Kilrain.

To End Conflicting Dates,

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Manager Hecker of the Pittsburg Club says that the conflicting dates will be cancelled, because the Western Brotherhood clubs will stay in the East after the present series.

First Catch Your Hare

Reads an old recipe; that's well enough in Culinary matters, but it dosen't do to wait until you Cut, Scald or Burn yourself, and then run for a bottle of CARL KAERTH'S

"Instantaneous Liniment."

A much wiser plan is to spend 25c., and keep a bottle in the house.

Ask your Druggist for it.

WIMAN'S PREDICTION

He Tells the Canadians About the McKinley Tariff Bill.

IT MAY FORCE ANNEXATION.

A Coming Liberal Party in the Dominion that Will Startle England.

Stanley Writes a Stinging Reply to Lord Salisbury's Speech—Another Dynamite Scare in London—Sixteen Persons Swept Away by a Flood—Gladstone's Speech To-Day at Hawarden.

WATERLOO, Ont., May 27.—In his speech here on "The Continental Consequences of the McKinley Tariff Bill," Mr. Erastus Wiman declared that no event in the whole history of events relating to the two divisions of the continent was likely to effect to so serious an extent the trade relations between them as the passage of the McKinley Tariff bill.

The enforcement of the agricultural sections, he said, against Canadian products entering into the United States, with two harvests intervening before the general parliamentary election, which must be held within two years, would be sufficient to reverse the entire fiscal policy of the Dominion, and defeat at the polls the existing Tory party and put in power a Liberal government with Sir Richard Cartwright as its chief financial minister.

The attitude of this new administration, he said, would be in entire harmony with the United States and startle the English Government with its policy.

STANLEY'S REPLY.

He Denies that He Has Any Other Than a Sentimental Interest in Africa.

LONDON, May 27.—Explorer Stanley is out in a letter in reply to comments recently passed upon him by Prime Minister Salisbury. Mr. Stanley says he has only a purely sentimental interest in the African continent. He says, however, that on ascertaining that a large number of his friends have invested their funds in an African scheme, the charter of which is not worth a counterfeit sixpence, unless the conditions of the compact with Germany are inflexibly maintained, and all indications evidence the Government's willingness to assist Germans rather than Englishmen, he has advised and urged his friends to locate their territorial limits in Africa.

Mr. Stanley says that he seeks no quarrel with either England or Germany, and boldly adds that if the colonial demands of Germany are to be conceded, economy would be practiced by making over to that country, as a free gift, the entire British-African sphere. In that event, British investors might recover as many shillings as they had been so credulously cheated out of pounds.

Gladstone's Speech To-Day.

LONDON, May 27.—Mr. Gladstone will deliver an important speech at Hawarden this afternoon, on which occasion it is expected that there will be at least 10,000 people present. Arrangements have been made for the transportation of delegates which contemplate the carrying of 3,000 from Bristol, 1,000 from Huddersfield, 1,000 from Crosthwaite, 700 from Ilkeston, and lesser numbers from the smaller places in the vicinity of Hawarden Castle. The ex-Premier's speech has been especially prepared with reference to the leading political questions affecting Ireland, Wales and Scotland.

A Steamer's Narrow Escape.

LONDON, May 27.—The French steamer La Gascogne had a narrow escape from grave disaster near the Sicilly Isles. Just before she struck on the famous Bishop Rock the fog lifted. By great presence of mind and prompt action at the wheel Captain Santelli managed to change her course and thus to reduce the force of the shock, so that the fine steamer reached her port in safety. There was great excitement among the passengers.

Sixteen Persons Killed.

BERLIN, May 27.—At Alvinsleben, Prussian Saxony, a house surrounded by the waters of the prevailing flood, resultant from the recent heavy rains, became undermined and was swept away. There were sixteen inmates of the building and all of them were drowned. By the falling of a bolt of lightning upon a house at Suplinger, five persons were killed.

The Kaiser's Trip to England.

BERLIN, May 27.—The accident to Emperor William, caused by jumping from a carriage, compels him to remain in his apartments in the palace. On his projected visit to England he will be accompanied by Chancellor Von Caprivi who will take occasion to assure the British premier of Germany's continued friendship for her Majesty's government and people.

Another Dynamite Scare in London.

LONDON, May 27.—The police think they have reason to believe that the Anarchists and agitators are arranging for more explosions in London. Several suspicious Americans now staying here are being closely watched, and additional precautions are being taken in guarding public buildings, especially the House of Parliament.

Swept Over a Dam and Drowned.

LONDON, Ont., May 27.—A boat containing four persons was swept over the water works dam last night, throwing its occupants into the water. Two of them Adam Johnson and Miss Ida Doherty, a well-known young society lady, were drowned.

Three Men Scalded to Death.

BERLIN, May 27.—In an establishment for the manufacture of artificial ice at Barmen, Rhenish Prussia, an ammonia steampipe exploded, scalding three men to death and seriously injuring several others.

Alleged Cures of Leprosy.

LONDON, May 27.—Frank Muller, of the Jesuits' College, of Mangalora, India, alleges to have cured several lepers by Count Mattein's system. A gentleman of Calcutta has had similar success, it is said.

RECKLESS BANKERS

Depositors Unearth a Conspiracy at Philadelphia.

OFFICIALS TO BE PROSECUTED.

Palpable Frauds Committed by the Bank of America Directors.

The Books Said to Have Been Doctored. Loans Made on Bogus Securities—The Cashier of the Owego Bank Short $75,000—He Threatens to Expose Prominent Citizens if Crowded to the Wall.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—At a meeting of depositors of the defunct Bank of America the committee of investigation reported that probably 50 per cent. would be realized on the deposits.

The committee also declared that the bank's semi-annual dividends had not been paid out of the earnings, and that the directors are liable to criminal prosecution for this as well as for making loans on bogus securities.

The bank's officials, the report says, drew out their personal balances just before announcing the suspension of the bank. The bank was in good shape at the time Senator MacFarlane was elected vice-president, May 1, 1889. The trouble began then. The minutes of the meetings of directors have been doctored so as to make them agree with MacFarlane's assertion that he severed his connection with the bank some weeks before the suspension. Cashier Dungan, however, states that MacFarlane was a director at the time of the suspension.

The meeting adopted a recommendation to employ counsel to bring civil and criminal proceedings on behalf of the depositors. Pfeiffer, MacFarlane, Work, Dungan, Boileau, Ewbanks and Yerkes are mentioned in the resolutions as subject to criminal proceedings.

THOMPSON'S THREAT.

The Cashier of Owego's Broken Bank Says He Will Make Trouble if Crowded.

OWEGO, N. Y., May 28.—Bank Examiner Geteman refuses to make any statement regarding the affairs of the Owego National Bank and Cashier Thompson is equally non-committal, except to declare that if pushed to the wall he will expose two of Owego's most substantial citizens, who are implicated in the shortage.

Leading citizens now believe that there is a shortage in Cashier Thompson's accounts to the extent of $75,000, while others are inclined to believe that it will not exceed $20,000.

The excitement is greater than at any time since 1855, when the Bank of Owego collapsed for $80,000.

Thompson's speculations, which led to the bank's failure, were apparently confined to his dealings with the "Big Four," through James F. Dee, the Owego correspondent of the Exchange.

FOUND A BURNING MINE.

Workmen Discover a Seething Mass of Flames Unexpectedly.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 28.—Workmen in shaft 14 of the Pennsylvania Coal Company at Port Blanchard, which caught fire about a month ago, but which was thought to have been extinguished, broke through a pillar last evening, and found the interior a seething mass of flames.

The smoke and gas drove the men back in confusion. The fire is burning fiercely and thousands of tons of coal will, it is feared, be consumed. All further operations in the mine have been abandoned.

The officials of the company decided to flood the mine. This will throw several hundred men and boys out of employment and destroy thousands of dollars worth of property.

Jack Davis Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Jack Davis lasted nine rounds with Joe Choynski at the Occidental Club. The contest from start to finish was a good exhibition and some terrific slugging was witnessed. Choynski depended entirely upon his left hand, while Davis' great strength and rushing qualities almost finished the fight at several stages. Choynski weighed 165 pounds and Davis 170.

The Price of Coal Advanced.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The agents of the six big coal producing companies held a long meeting here, and after some lively discussion decided to advance the price, all sizes except broken, 15 to 25 cents per ton, the maximum advance being on stove and chestnut. It was also decided to restrict the production for the month of June to 2,750,000 tons.

Killed While Intoxicated.

DOVER, N. H., May 28.—The mutilated body of Frank Hanlon, of this city, was found lying by the side of the Boston & Maine railroad. While walking on the track in an intoxicated condition he had been struck by an ice-train. He was dragged some distance. The back part of his head was cut off.

Flocking to Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., May 28.—The city is begining to fill up with Confederate veterans from various sections of the country, and every train brings in a big quota of visitors to see what will be the biggest gathering of ex-Confederates since the war at the unveilling of the Lee monument to-morrow.

Will Meet in Pittsburg.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 28.—Immediately after the final adjournment of the Presbyterian Assembly the Revision Committee decided to meet in Pittsburg the first Tuesday in October. The committee was empowered to publish its conclusions if reached before the time of the next Assembly.

THE BIG GUN BURST.

Hundreds of Lives Imperilled by Dr. Justine's Dynamite Shell.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 28.—The experiment of firing dynamite shells from a rifled powder gun at Perryville proved to be a most thrilling as well as a most tremendous exhibition of dynamic power.

The big gun used by Dr. Justin not only burst into a thousand pieces, but also narrowly escaped killing scores of people. Hundreds of lives were imperilled and many came within a hair's bredth of being mangled to death.

Thousands of people came to see the test which promised to revolutionize modern warfare. The United States Government sent Commander Jewell, of the torpedo station at Newport; the Chinese and Japanese Governments were represented by Yung Wing, and other officers of the army were present to examine into the experiments. There were many ladies, too, who wanted to see the big gun explode its dynamite cartridge against the massive stone cliff.

When the cannon was fired it exploded in a thousand pieces, which went flying through the air in all directions. Fortunately no one was hurt. It is claimed that it was the charge of powder, not the dynamite, that burst the gun.

Sullivan Will Make His Own Matches.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Pugilist John L. Sullivan was seen at the Continental Hotel. He said: "There is no truth whatever in the report that I am matched to meet McAuliffe or any one. I have not authorized Lynch or any one else to negotiate matches for me, and I wish to say right here that I will attend to that part of my business myself. I shall not talk fight until I am free from my Mississippi troubles. Then I shall be at liberty to meet any man in the world, and also be prepared to uphold the name I have earned."

Found a Badly Decomposed Body.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 28.—The badly decomposed body of a man was picked up near Badger's Point. The body was that of a man well advanced in years, dressed in a coarse flannel shirt, pantaloons and overalls. It is thought to be the body of Capt. Francis Raymond, master of the schooner Flying Eagle, who was drowned Sunday afternoon, Dec. 21, 1889, near the entrance to the harbor.

The Tilden Will Suit.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The suit of George H. Tilden to have the trust clauses of the will of his uncle, the late S. J. Tilden, set aside as void, has begun. The case was tried once before, but was set back by the General Term on a reversal of Judge Lawrence's decision in favor of the executors. Formal testimony was put in showing the total value of the estate to be $5,296,846.

Prohibitionists Will Make a Fight.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 28.—The Executive Committee of the Prohibition State Committee held a session here to consider plans for the fall campaign. It was decided to open headquarters in Boston at once. It was thought advisable to place a full State ticket in the field this fall, and to endorse only such candidates as are pronounced Prohibitionists.

The Oldest Free Mason Dead.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 28.—Stamford Levi Lyon, said to be the oldest Free Mason, is dead at his home here, aged 98. He had been connected with the Masonic Order for 71 years, having joined St. Andrew's lodge at Hobart in 1819. He was one of the most prominent farmers of this section of the State.

Arrested for Robbing the Mails.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Thomas V. Gallager, a "caser" in the postoffice here, was arrested last night for robbing the mails. Nineteen letters and a package of jewelry were found on his person. He had been employed in the office four years and is believed to have committed extensive thefts.

Reception to Gen. Alger.

LAWRENCE, Mass., May 28.—General Alger was tendered a reception in the City Hall last night, which was attended by over 3,000 people. Mayor Warford delivered an address of welcome to which General Alger responded. Other prominent G. A. R. men also spoke.

The Scheele Murder Trial.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 28.—The Scheele murder case will go to the jury to-day. A very large crowd of spectators are present. Scheele takes much interest in the proceedings, and his apparent indifference has vanished. The defence is making a great fight, taking the ground of justifiable homicide.

The Body Recovered.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 28.—The body of Arthur Davis, aged 10 years, was found floating in the Susquehanna River near Berwick. Young Davis, it will be remembered, was blown into a creek at Edwardsville and drowned last week during the heavy rain storm.

Stricken With Paralysis.

ALBANY, May 28.—Hon. N. C. Moak, who was stricken with paralysis, is in a critical condition. He was once District Attorney of Albany county and was Governor Hill's choice for the last vacancy in the Court of Appeals, but he declined the honor.

Catcher Kane Released.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—President Von der Ahe has released Jesse Kane, the catcher of the Browns.

Dr. Murch Dead in Jail.

PORTLAND, Me., May 28.—Dr. Oren Murch, indicted for abortion, died in jail last night of pneumonia.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Congress Opposed to Loaning Money to Farmers.

HEARINGS ON THE TARIFF BILL.

The Senate Committee Will Consider the Measure by Sections.

An Appropriation Asked for the Grant Monument—The International Bank—The President and Cabinet Start for Cleveland To-Night—Meeting of the Republican Leaders.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—It is now certain that the Ways and Means Committee will make a unanimous report against the scheme for the loaning of the Government money on farm mortgages and crops.

This is the scheme which is being pushed by the members of the Farmers' Alliances of the South and West and which they are trying to get through Congress.

The fact that there will not be a minority report from the committee in its favor shows that the members of Congress regard the idea as impracticable and visionary.

Mr. McClammy, of North Carolina, in view of the rejection of the sub-Treasury scheme, has evolved from his inner consciousness another, and what he believes a more practical one. He offers it as a substitute. The bill is entitled an act to authorize legal tender notes based on land for school purposes.

Mr. McClammy, who is a practical farmer, proposes that eighteen hundred millions of dollars shall be loaned to the various States pro rata.

He estimates that the sum will give $30 per capita, the money will be loaned on real estate at one per cent., which is one per cent. below Senator Stanford's scheme. Preference is to be given to lands that are already mortgaged, which is to allow the mortgage-ridden farmer to liquidate his first encumbrance. Ten thousand dollars is to be the limit of the loan to any one person.

WORK ON THE TARIFF BILL.

The Senate Committee in Favor of Giving Public Hearings.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—To-morrow the Senate Committee on Finance will begin the consideration of the Tariff bill by sections in full committee, instead of referring it to a sub-committee. The bill will be considered day by day until the committee is ready to report it to the Senate.

The question of giving hearings was discussed by the committee and Senator Morrill surprised his colleagues by voting with the Democrats to give hearings to all who asked for them. Mr. Sherman also seems inclined to go with Mr. Morrill and the Democrats.

If they finally carry this point it means that the Tariff bill will be a long time in committee.

Senator Carlisle's New Committees.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The Democratic Senatorial caucus adopted the report of the committee in charge of assignments to membership on Senate Committees, and placed Senator Carlisle on the Committee on Finance, Territories and Woman Suffrage. He takes Senator Blackburn's place on the Committee on Territories, who goes to the Committee on Appropriations to fill the vacancy there caused by the death of Senator Beck.

$250,000 For the Grant Monument.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Congressman Flower introduced in the House an important bill providing for the appropriation of $250,000 for the completion of the Grant Monument at Riverside Park. The resolution instructs the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the amount to the Monument Association as soon as he is satisfied that the monument can be completed. The bill was referred.

Republican Leaders to Confer.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee will be held on Friday of the present week, instead of to-morrow, as heretofore announced. Senator Quay, the chairman, who is now at his Beaver home, will return on that day and preside. The session of the committee will be held at Mr. Quay's residence in this city, on I street.

The President's Trip to Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Harrison and several Cabinet officers and other officials will leave the city this evening on a special train for Cleveland, to take part in the Garfield memorial ceremonies that are to take place there on Decoration Day. They will probably return Saturday night.

The Original Package.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The House Commerce Committee has decided to report favorably Mr. Boutelle's bill amending the Interstate Commerce law with the provision "That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize any sale of or traffic in intoxicating liquors in any State contrary to the laws thereof."

The Customs Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The Conference report on the Customs Administration bill was submitted by Mr. McKinley and after an hour's debate was adopted. The Democrats refrained from voting and the Speaker counted a quorum.

Appointed United States Consul.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The President has appointed Samuel L. Gracey, of Massachusetts, consul at Foo Chow, China.

BY THE WAY.

—At Somerville ice is sold to private families at 80 cents per hundred. Why not here, too?

—An interesting and profitable meeting was held in Warren Union Mission chapel, last evening.

—The school children are now counting the remaining days for attending school, before vacation.

—The Oriental Social Club will hold a grand Summer night's picnic in Amphion Hall, on Thursday evening.

—The police have been instructed to stop the North Plainfield bottlers from delivering beer in this city.

—Ninety-six of the scholars in the Irving school have joined the Band of Mercy, which was organized in the school about a week ago.

—The three struck juries drawn at Elizabeth, last week, to try certain railroad cases, were summoned into court yesterday morning.

—The colored people of Westfield will hold a cake walk this evening for the benefit of the New York Avenue Baptist church of that place.

—The Good Samaritans, a lodge composed of colored people, will hold a "pink tea" in Manning Hall, on West Front street, Friday evening of this week.

—One of the Western Union Telegraph Messengers was actually seen to run along North avenue, yesterday afternoon. The Press wants that boy's picture for publication.

—An entertainment consisting of home talent, is being arranged to take place in Warren Mission chapel, on the evening of Thursday, June 5, for the benefit of the excursion fund.

—A meeting of the Carpenters' Union was held in the rooms of Jr. O. of U. A. M., last evening, with President H. W. Force in the chair. Only business of a private nature was transacted.

—The "Young Moonlights" of this city defeated a picked nine on the Fourth street grounds, Monday, by a score of 16 to 0. As will be seen by the above figures, the game was all one-sided.

—The Committee on Fire and Buildings of the City Council, will meet in Councilman Hetfield's office this evening at 8 o'clock, to consider the matter of re-modeling and improving the Second street engine house.

—The young people of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold one of their usual enjoyable gatherings in the form of a "basket sociable," at the residence of Mr. John Coard, on Putnam avenue, to-morrow evening.

—If the weather should prove favorable Decoration Day, at Waverly, this year will witness the largest crowd and the greatest trotting that has been seen over that popular course in all its history. Among the entries in the 2:34 class, for a purse of $250, in Mr. Charles P. Brower's b. g., "Banta," of this city.

—Chief Doane of the Plainfield Fire Department, has succeeded in locating 250 hydrants for fire purposes. He considers that when the water works are in operation and with the twenty-one fire wells which the city now owns, Plainfield will have the best supply of water for fire purposes of any city of its size in the country.

—Street Commissioner Meeker informs The Press that the total cost of cutting down and grading Plainfield avenue, will be about $400. In some places the roadbed was cut down as much as 2½ feet, and the surplus dirt was dumped on the circus lot at Plainfield avenue and Fourth street. The Street Commissioner has made a good job of the work.

Tit for Tat.

Gov. Abbett, yesterday, called a meeting of the Inspectors of the State Prison and recommended the dismissal of all the Republican deputy keepers employed at that institution. This was in retaliation for the unseating of Senator McDonald. A number of Republican deputies had been retained by the Democratic Board of Inspectors. They were efficient officers and Keeper Patterson had been averse to having them removed. After the conference with the Governor the inspectors unanimously agreed to carry out his recommendations, and eight Republican deputies were then dismissed.

WINFIELD SCOTT POST INSPECTION.

Department Officers Present at the Exercises—The Collation.

A special inspection of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., took place in the post room, last evening, the inspection being made by Assistant Inspector Hunter of Barry Post of Rahway. Among the visitors who were in attendance were Department Commander, A. M. Mathews of Orange; Junior Vice Department Commander James M. Atwood of Brooklyn; National Inspector Hall of Orange; Department Quartermaster Hartshorn of Camden; and the Commanders of the Orange, Rahway and Bound Brook Posts. A delegation from Barry Post of Rahway came over in a stage, arriving here about nine o'clock. The Department officers were escorted from the railroad station to the post room by Prof. Guttman's Plainfield Cornet band.

Following the inspection were addresses by the Department Commander, Junior Vice Department Commander, and by the Commanders of the out-of-town posts. Dept. Quartermaster, Hartshorn also made an address.

After the exercises in the post room the members and their guests adjourned to the Republican Association rooms, where the members of the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, Auxiliary to the G. A. R., had prepared a bountiful and appetizing collation. The visitors left for home on a late train.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Mary Kane, an aged lady died at her home on Plainfield avenue, last evening, from old age.

Collector A. K. Gale has been appointed census enumerator for Westfield. He will begin work on Monday next.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Ross, No. 5 LaGrande avenue, is made happier by the coming of a little daughter.

Edwin H. Lewis, son of the Rev. Dr. Lewis, has been seriously ill at his home on Central avenue. The disease is now under control, however.

Mr. Howard Hummer, lately employed by Justice Hardy of North Plainfield, has accepted a position as night ticket agent at the Central Railroad station in this city.

The $15,000 residence that Architect Charles H. Smith, of this city, is building for the Hon. Alvah Clark, at Somerville, already shows, as it nears completion, that it will be one of the handsomest in the State.

Miss Dumont, the young lady who was injured in the runaway accident on Broadway, recently, is slowly recovering, and it is thought that within a few days her condition will permit of her removal from her uncle's residence on Broadway to her home at Dunellen.

Walter Irving Clarke, the newspaper correspondent, offers in another column a reward of five dollars for information that will lead to the identity of the jackass who has been sending silly scores of fictitious base ball nines, from this city to the New York World.

The coterie of young ladies composing the Shakespeare Club, are to be entertained by Mr. Wm. Rockwell, of East Front street, at his home, to morrow evening. A few young gentlemen, of course, have also been invited and a delightful time is a foregone conclusion.

A special car attached to the 5:20 train from this city, to-morrow evening, will take a congenial party to Lake Hopatcong to spend Decoration Day and Sunday. Those who will go are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter, Jr., and family, Captain and Mrs. J. Frank Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Babcock, and others.

Mr. Wm. C. Ayers, agent for the lands of the Central railroad, moved in the house he now occupies on West Second street, March 31, 1834—over thirty-six years ago. There were only four roads in the place then—the Rahway road, now Broadway; the Toetown road, now Plainfield avenue; the Main road, now Front street: and the Mountain road, now Somerset street.

Jacob Sieder, a veteran of the late war, who deserves a pension more than many who have been enjoying such for years, seems at last in a fair way to get one. It was said that the delay was because he was a Democrat, yet now his claim reaches recognition through the effort and influence of a New Jersey Democrat. Senator John R. McPherson, by request, called his case up, and that resulted in a special examination a few days since. There is now no doubt but that Sieder's pension will be forthcoming ere long.

The remains of the late Mrs. Pauline Landy Boughton of Elizabeth who died very suddenly while visiting friends in this city, on Sunday evening, were taken to her late home on West Grand street, Elizabeth, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Boughton was a young woman having many friends in that city, and her sudden death occasions a deep gloom over a very wide circle. She was a daughter of the late Pliny F. Smith. Her husband was until recently a partner with Mr. Peter O. Dyke in the real estate business in Elizabeth.

—It must have rained pretty hard at Bound Brook on Monday night. Two Plainfield fishermen who spent the night rowing around on the Raritan river in search of fish, resembled drowned rats when they alighted from the boat. The total catch was five eels and a severe cold.

When your dealer sends you something "just as good" when Hires' Root Beer is asked for, the proper thing is to send it back. He delights in selling substitutes, because the profit is large.

PLENTY OF ICE FOR PLAINFIELD.

Thousands of Tons Offered at a Price That Will Cover Freight and Haltage, Yet Give a Profit.

Office of John Brown & Co. }
Ice Dealers, Plattsburgh, N. Y. }

To the Editor of The Press:—I would respectfully state that your ice dealers are laboring under a false impression. Messrs John Brown & Co., have got about 75,000 tons of ice for sale, about one-half of it can be shipped either by boat or rail, the balance must go by boat unless it is hauled in wagons some distance to car. Our present rate to Philadelphia is $3 50 per ton. We have shipped a large quantity already to different points in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Mr. J. Y. Wilson of Dunellen, has been here and looked the stock over, and we have shipped him something over 300 tons, can refer you to him.

Now we can furnish all the ice your dealers want up to 50,000 tons, unless they can get it there by canal boat when we could increase that quantity 25,000. Our price for May is $3 per net ton F. O. B. at loading stations, and we can load 50 cars per day if necessary, for we have different points to ship from. Our price for June is $4 per net ton, F. O. B. B-L. to be weight of ice, or we will sell the ice in the houses, one or more houses, from 1,000 to 9,000 tons in house and you can load and ship yourself. Our price in the house is $3 for May and $4 for June, 45 cubic feet to the ton. A house containing 1,000 tons measured up 45 cubic feet to the ton, will weigh out about 1,200 after all shrinkage.

If some of your dealers will come up here we will soon convince them that they are misinformed if they think they can't get ice.

Yours respectfully,
John Brown & Co.

Memorial Day Parade.

The line will form on Front street, at 9 o'clock A. M., will move at 9.15 sharp, with right resting on Peace street, thence from Peace street to Crescent avenue, to Park avenue, to Seventh street, to Central avenue, to Front street, to Grove street, to Emily street, to Somerset street, to Front street, to Music Hall, where the services will be conducted by the Posts and children.

The formation of the line will be as follows: First, Marshal, then detail, band, Post No. 199, Saengerbund and other societies, old soldiers, sailors and patriotic citizens, Post No. 73, stages for disabled comrades, Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, and children.

All desiring to take part in the parade will please report to Wm. C. Smith, Marshal, at Post headquarters. Services at Music Hall, at 10 o'clock. Admission free

By Order of Detail.

Base Ball at Westfield.

The Westfield Athletic Association, a new organization recently formed at Westfield, already has its base ball grounds enclosed. Admission to the grounds will be 25 cents, and ten cents extra for a reserved seat in the grand stand. The rates for admission, however, are entirely too high for a town of that size, and it is thought to be only a matter of a very short time before the rates will have to be reduced.

The Westfield ball club will consist of four local players, and five imported ones. The first two games on the new grounds will take place on Decoration Day, in the morning with the Rutgers College nine, and in the afternoon with a club from Roselle.

Fanwood Flakes.

Mr. Charles Richardson took possession of his new residence near the railroad station, yesterday.

Mrs. Anna S. Miller, who is just recovering from a spell of sickness, and who has been ordered by her physician to take a vacation, has gone to Albany, New York, to visit her sister, Mrs. Broxby.

The "Young Twilights" of Scotch Plains defeated the "Young Arlingtons", of Plainfield on the grounds of the former club, Saturday, by a score of 12 to 11. The "Young Twilights" are now ready to arrange games with club's whose members are under thirteen years of age, the games to be played on the home grounds.

No Cause for Action.

The jury in the case of Carney Bros., against Charles Hand, tried before Justice Nash, yesterday, brought in a verdict of "no cause for action," and the case was therefore dismissed.

The suit was brought to recover $135 alleged to be due for work on the new Hand building on West Second street. The defendant produced his receipts, showing that the claim had been paid, and the justice instructed the jury to bring in the above verdict.

Meeting of the Board of Health.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Health, held last evening, with President Geo. W Rockfellow in the chair, among other business transacted was the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, that between May 1 and October 1 following, no ashes, rubbish or any offensive materials shall be dumped upon any lot in the city, except in such places as shall be designated by the Board of Health.

—Mrs. T. Shelly writes: "I wish to state to you that my Husband and I was not quarling as I read in you Press it was and exdence that the lamp fell for I was out doors and my Husband was in bed so it could not be fighting as was in the papers."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $1 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,
J. O. CAMPBELL,

A GUEST'S ENDORSEMENT.

What a PRESS Correspondent Has to Say of the Hotel Netherwood.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Your correspondent had the honor of registering his name among the first arrivals, on the opening day of this charming resort, the 15th inst. The day was bright and lovely and everything seemed auspicious. A goodly number of guests registered and the Hotel was declared formally opened for the season. The guests were cordially received by the owner and proprietor, Frank E. Miller, whose reputation as a leading hotel man is too well known to need further comment from me; but I will say that his courteous manner and untiring efforts to make his patrons thoroughly comfortable, must receive its reward.

The grand Hotel located upon the Heights, overlooking the Orange Mountains, and a country unsurpassed for its loveliness, cannot fail to render the guests supremely happy in the selection of their Summer home.

The drives over macadamized roads to Plainfield and other localities, is a joy forever. Horseback parties were one of last season's features and will be continued this Summer. An excellent livery stable supplies the wants of those in that direction.

The Hotel Netherwood has been thoroughly renovated, repainted outside and inside, new wall papers throughout, elegant new carpets on the parlor floors and hallways, and other rooms, new furniture and necessary adornments, etc., so that the Hotel is thoroughly equipped, and is about perfect in all its appointments. The exquisite taste displayed in the selection of the carpets, wall papers and other adornments, is largely due to the charming wife of our worthy host, whose skill in that direction is proverbial. I must not fail to note electric lights in the dining rooms. The effect is very fine.

The chef de cuisine has a record in New York that places him in the front rank of chefs, and judging from his efforts in that direction since the opening he has fully sustained his reputation. Mr. Borne, the chief of the dining room, with his excellent corps of assistants, gives entire satisfaction. He was for many years in the service of Delmonico.

The steward, a position of great importance, is worthily filled by the present incumbent. Other departments of the Hotel are well officered, all under the guidance of our excellent host, so that the guests may feel assured that nothing will be left undone to make them comfortable.

A goodly number of visitors are now sojourning here. The booking for the season is far in excess of any former season, and it is surely safe to predict for the Hotel one of the most brilliant seasons in the annals of this fair resort. Fifty minutes from New York to Netherwood, with about 35 trains daily each way, over the Central Railroad of New Jersey, foot of Liberty street, having one of the finest rock roadbeds in the country; courteous officials in the general office on Liberty street, and conductors and others on the trains who are polite and attentive to their patrons.

For the lovers of music and terpsichore a fine orchestra has been engaged for the season. Tennis courts, billiards, bowling alleys, etc., afford the lovers of these games ample opportunity to enjoy them. The wine room is supplied with the finest wines, liquors and cigars obtainable in New York.

Mr. Geo. Taylor, a well known resident here, is registered for the season at the Hotel, his family having sailed for Europe on the 7th inst., per steamer "City of Chester." A cablegram announcing their safe arrival at Owen O'Cork House, near Belfast, home of Mr. Alexander Taylor, brother of Mr. Taylor, was duly received, which of course rendered the recipient thoroughly happy.

J. AUG. H.

Netherwood Heights, May 25, 1890.

A $1,500,000 Mortgage.

There was recorded yesterday in the Middlesex County Clerk's office a mortgage by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company to the Atlantic Trust Company for $1,500,000 to pay $800,000 of old bonds and make improvements in the plant. The mortgage was originally filed in the Union County Clerk's office, but inasmuch as the Company owns real estate and other property in both Counties, the mortgage must necessarily be recorded in both Counties.

Diversions for Decoration Day.

As Decoration Day draws near lovers of sports hereabout become more active and anxious. With the bicycle meet at Plainfield, road races at Milburn, horse racing at Waverly, regattas on the Passaic and Harlem, base ball, excursions to Hopatcong and Mauch Chunk, and Decoration Day exercises at home, it will be difficult for one to decide upon a programme for the day.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. Chas. B. Brown will have charge of the Mount Pleasant Mission, during the month of June.

Next Sunday evening the meeting will be led by Mr. Seely Edsall, and a good gospel talk is promised.

What I know about that standard remedy—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup:—I know that a 25 cent bottle cured me of a bad cough in 12 hours. It is a fact.

Myriads of cases of rheumatism and neuralgia have already succumbed to that wonderful remedy, Salvation Oil. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

BISHOP VINCENT'S VIEW.

He Thinks the Tendency of the Theatre Is, on the Whole, Exceedingly Bad.

The Rt. Rev. John H. Vincent, who for so many years lived amongst you, and who is now a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, and popularly known by the well-deserved sobriquet of the Prince of the Sunday school World, expresses his opinion as follows:

EPISCOPAL RESIDENCE, BUFFALO.

You ask "Is it wrong or inconsistent for Christians to attend the theatre?" I think they would do well to avoid it. Does the Bible contain positive prohibitions on the subject? Who will find the passage? Is not the theatre a product of and a response to the "dramatic instinct" in man? It may be all that and even then all wrong. Are not intoxicating drinks a similar response to and provision for inborn appetites.

The argument from "dramatic instinct" is of little weight with thoughtful men, for they know the capacity itself may find abundant exercise in other and worthier fields without employing the dangerous devices of the stage. We acknowledge that the dramatic instinct is natural and legitimate, but we insist that scenic accompaniments of the theatre are not necessary to the enjoyment of the dramatic gift. If the great actors would become great readers all the best results of the stage as an educating agency would be secured and nine-tenths of its evils would be avoided.

The whole question depends upon the legitimate uses of the dramatic taste and the dramatic power. What may be wholesome in rhetorical and oratorical expressions may, with spectacular accompaniments, produce overwrought imaginations and do damage to both the intellectual and moral elements in man. The necessary pretence and "put on" of the stage may be as injurious to the hearers and eye-witnesses as to the actors who give themselves up to the unreal life which almost unavoidably fosters falsity.

The spiritual nature that needs culture by the contemplation of the unseen may be so dazzled as to be benumbed and deadened by the vividness, boldness and splendor of the spectacular display. There are lights too brilliant for one to look at, if he would keep his eyes adjusted to delicate service.

But what of the stage itself? What of its tendency? The theatre has made a history. Its quality and its tendency and its fruits are known the world over. It was in the days of its glory in Greece and Rome, a corrupter of the people. So said the sages then, so say the historians now Nor is the theatre any better today.

What is the moral and religious influence of the stage? What of the actors? What of the risk a young girl runs in becoming an actress? What of the idea given of a young man when he is said to be "a great theatre-goer?" How is the stage regarded by the spiritually-minded, devout souls who sustain the church? Every one knows the answer to all these questions. There seems to be an irreconciliable antagonism between spiritual sensitiveness and dramatic entertainments.

Though the Scriptures do not speak specifically, the theatre itself speaks, the popular verdict speaks, the devout men and women of the church speak. The tendency of the theatre is, on the whole, exceedingly bad. This statement cannot be contradicted. It can be readily proven. Therefore, let who will patronize the theatre, the consistent, earnest, unselfish Christian should avoid it.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN H. VINCENT.

Etta Hall Dedicated.

How To Select a Wife.

Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensables. After them come the minor advantages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four, married life will be comfortable and happy. Lacking either, it will be in more or less degree a failure Upon good health depends largely good temper and good looks, and to some extent good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weaknesses and whims attendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is falling into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her health. Try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her.

DAVIS IS GOVERNOR.

Both Houses in Rhode Island Organize and Elect Officers.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 28.—The Senate organized by the election of Eugene F. Warner, of Coventry, as Clerk.

A. S. Miller was re-elected Speaker of the House over Adin B. Capron of Smithfield, Republican, by a vote of 49 to 22.

Dennis H. Sheehan of Providence was elected Reading Clerk. Stephen O. Edwards, of Providence, was elected Recording Clerk over Thomas Z. Lee of Woonsocket. Both of the clerks are Democrats.

The Senate and House met in grand committee to ballot for State officers. Hon. John W. Davis was elected Governor; W. C. Wardwell, of Bristol, Lieutenant Governor; Zilva O. Sloeum of Providence, Attorney General; E. D. McGuiuness, of Providence, Secretary of State, and John G. Perry, of Kingstown, General Treasurer.

Gov. Davis made official announcement of his personal staff, and also appointed Claude B. Farnsworth executive secretary.

THE OUGH DIVORCE SUIT.

Several Leading Men Named as Co-Respondents in the Sensational Case.

ALBION, N. Y., May 28.—The most sensational scandal this place has ever had is being ventilated in court here. It is the suit of George W. Ough against his wife for absolute divorce.

Mrs. Ough, before her marriage to Ough, was a wealthy young widow name Mrs. James Cummings of Shelby. She was married to Ough in 1875, but two years later trouble began, Mrs. Ough claiming her husband wished to control her money. They separated in 1885.

In November last divorce papers were served on her. Some of the co-respondents named are S. E. Filkins, a leading attorney of Medina, Mr. Palmer of Churchville, Marvin Warner, formerly of the Albion House, and Mr. Charles H. Moore, a prominent capitalist of the village.

Found Dead in Bed.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 28.—F. Wilson Cunningham, son of D. O. Cunningham, a well-known bottle manufacturer, was found dead in bed in his room in the St. Charles Hotel. He had evidently been dead several days.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Sam Smith, of Red Bank, N. J., defeated an "unknown" from Ashbury Park in a finish fight for a purse of $50 last night at Red Bank.

The Bricklayers' Union of Boston held a meeting and decided not to support the striking carpenters or the building laborers, in case the latter should strike.

The Grand Jury of Hudson County, N. J., has presented thirteen indictments against policy dealers, all of whom were arraigned and furnished bail for their appearance.

The differences existing at Rockport, Mass., between S. J. Hollis, shoe manufacturer, and his help have been settled and the factory will start up Monday at International Union prices.

A meeting of the Board of State Prisons of New Jersey was held at Trenton, at which Governor Abbett was present. Several changes in the prison management were decided on.

The New York State Central Committee rebuked Assemblymen Fred Gibbs and Hamilton Fish, Jr.; indorsed the McKinley Tariff bill and denounced the Democrats of Tammany Hall.

The House of Representatives passed the Senate bill for the erection of a public building at Beaver Falls, Pa., at a cost of $50,000 with an amendment striking out the appropriating clause.

"IN DARKEST AFRICA"

The complete story of Stanley's recent thrilling adventures and the disclosure of his important discoveries will appear for the first time in the work written by himself, entitled "In Darkest Africa." In two volumes, profusely illustrated, price $3.75 per volume. Do not be deceived by any of the so-called "Stanley books" now being offered as "genuine" and "authentic." To no one of these has Stanley contributed a line.

Residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield can get the work only through the agent authorized by Charles Scribner's Sons.

CLAIRVOYANT!

MRS. DR. EDWARDS.

The greatest and the most celebrated Clairvoyant in the World, and is known in this country from Maine to Mexico. She was born with the wonderful gift of second sight and with a veil. She is the seventh daughter, of the seventh daughter. She reveals every mystery; tells you if the one you love is true or false. She removes every grief, settles lovers' troubles, and causes speedy love marriages. She gives reliable information to gentlemen in all business transactions, and informs them how to make profitable investments and acquire speedy riches. She tells lucky lottery numbers. She has an "Osiris Egyptian Talisman," which is noted all the world over, as a specific charm for the unlucky. All who are in trouble or sick, should call without delay. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Ladies 50c to $1. Gentlemen, $1. She has engaged parlors in the City Hotel, room 4, (one flight up.) 5-28-w

EXCITED FISHERMEN

The People of Newfoundland on the Verge of Rebellion.

A DESIRE FOR ANNEXATION.

Talk of Appealing to the United States for Protection.

Rioting in Ireland—John Dillon Struck by a Policeman—Gladstone Predicts an Early Election—Revolt of Criminal Lunatics in Paris—Americans Attend the Passion Play.

OTTAWA, May 28.—A gentleman who has arrived here from Newfoundland in connection with business with the Dominion Government says that the people of that colony are in a thoroughly demoralized condition, almost on the verge of rebellion against the British Government for the manner in which they have been treated by the imperial authorities in surrendering to France one of the most valuable sections of the island, while France continues to discriminate against them.

From this distance, he says, it is impossible to picture the excitement that prevails throughout the colony. No action of the British colonial Government has ever done more to create a desire on the part of the colony for annexation with the United States than the apathy now shown by the British Government.

"Should we not succeed in securing our rights," he said, "there will be an insurrection, and the United States will be appealed to by nine-tenths of the people of Newfoundland to admit us into the Union. All idea of entering the Dominion has been abandoned, as not only has Sir John Macdonald and his Government expressed themselves unwilling to assume the responsibility such a step would envolve in the present unsettled state of affairs, but the people see that their position would not be in the least improved by such an alliance, the only remedy being to enter the American republic, which would insure the United States agains' French aggression."

RIOTING IN IRELAND.

Dillon and O'Brien Address Meetings and the Police Use Their Clubs.

CORK, May 28.—The Nationalist demonstration proposed to be held at Cashel, but which was proclaimed by the Government, resulted in a sort of hide-and-seek affair through the efforts of the leaders to find a place where a meeting could be held without molestation.

Mr. Dillon succeeded in addressing a fugitive meeting outside the village of Boherlahin, and when he drove into the village to make another speech he was followed by a large crowd. The police attacked the crowd with drawn batons and dispersed it.

Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon protested against the action of the police, and in the altercation Mr. Dillon was struck with a baton.

Later the military arrived and made several charges upon the returning crowd before it was finally scattered. In the melee a policeman was seriously injured and many of the crowd were severely clubbed.

Gladstone Predicts an Early Election.

LONDON, May 28. — Mr. Gladstone, speaking at Hawarden, predicted that a general Parliamentary election would take place at an early day and appealed to his hearers and the electors of the country generally to give final utterance on that occasion to their condemnation of further faltering with the Irish question. He denounced the Government's bill to compensate publicans.

Mutinous Lunatics.

PARIS, May 28.—A number of criminal lunatics confined in the Bicetre asylum, in the southern environs of Paris, revolted and smashed all the furniture and other property they could lay their hands upon. In the attempt to subdue the mutinous lunatics several warders were wounded, and troops had to be summoned to suppress the disorder and place the riotous ones under restraint.

American See the Passion Play.

OBERAMMERGAU, May 28.—Not less then 1,000 American tourists were among the immense audience that witnessed the initial performance of the Passion Play. The weather was pleasant and the play proved a great success. It will be repeated to-day.

An Armenian Village Destroyed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.—News has reached here that the Armenian village of Repahie has been destroyed by an earthquake. None of the villagers were killed.

AN EXILE'S RETURN.

Boodler Keenan Surrenders in New York and is Released on Bail.

NEW YORK, May 28.—John Keenan, who for years has been regarded as the head and front of the scheme to bribe the Board of Aldermen of 1884, walked into the District-Attorney's office about noon.

He was accompanied by Col. George Bliss, his counsel; Patrick Kiernan, his partner in the David Jones Brewing Company, and ex-County Clerk Patrick Keenan, who, although no relative of the accused, has stuck to him closer than a brother through all his troubles.

He came unannounced, and District-Attorney Fellows said their appearance was a surprise to him.

The matter was soon arranged that Mr. Keenan must give $40,000 bail. This did not disturb the ex-exile in the least, as his friend Patrick Keenan was present with deeds and bonds, and Bond Clerk McGee selected two for property worth $90,000.

Recorder Smyth accepted the bonds and Keenan walked away with his friends.

The La Gascogne Leaking.

HAVRE, May 28.—The General Transatlantic line steamer La Gascogne, Capt. Santelli, from New York, which struck on the rock known as Bishop's Island in the English Channel Sunday morning, is only leaking slightly.

A Voyage to the North Cape.

VIENNA, May 28.—The Fremdenblatt says that Archduke Charles Louis and Archduke Ferdinand are to make a voyage to the North Cape.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Supreme Court of Albany Settles a Case of Interest to Labor Unions.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 28.—A decision of importance to every labor union in the country was handed down in the Supreme Court here.

In Lake Cox vs. the Albany Brewing Company, the appeal was by defendant from a judgment of the County Court for plaintiff.

In April, 1888, during the strike of defendants' regular employes, the plaintiff and others were engaged to take the place of the strikers, the plaintiff being under a verbal agreement to work for one year. When the strike was settled a few weeks later, plaintiff was discharged and then bsought suit to recover wages for the balance of the year he was unemployed.

The judgment in his favor is now affirmed with costs. It is said that the labor unions will pay the expenses of the trial and also the man's salary.

Suspect Kunze Married.

CHICAGO, May 28.—John P. Kunze, who was tried with Coughlin, Bourke, O'Sullivan and Beggs for alleged complicity in the Cronin murder, was married to Miss Julia G. Hoyer, the young lady who visited him so often at the jail during his imprisonment, and cheered him during his trial. Kunze received as a wedding present a solid silver water service from the lawyers who conducted his defence.

American Wheelmen Win Prizes.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., May 28.—The Canadian Association of Amateur Wheelman held their annual tournament here, and there were many notable American riders present, among them Lumsden of Chicago, who took second prize to Windles' first in the one-mile bicycle race, open to all. Other winners of events were Campbell, Carmen, Iven Pascoe and Glass, all Americans.

The Tammany Chief Coming Home.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Richard Croker, the Tammany leader, is coming home to testify before the Fassett Investigating Committee. He cabled to Mayor Grant yesterday from Bremen that he will arrive in New York June 6th, on the steamer Aller.

Knights of the Mystic Chain.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 28.—The Supreme Council of the Knights of the Mystic Chain is now in session here and will continue for several days. Delegates representing castles in almost every State are present.

FIRE BUGS ESCAPE

Two New Jersey Convicts Secure Liberty.

AN OLD KEEPER SANDBAGGED.

Stolen Keys Used to Open the Doors of the Prison.

The Bold Exploit Well Planned—They Secured a Roll of Money Amounting to $800—Attired in Suits Belonging to the Keepers—They Were Serving a Thirty Years' Term for Arson.

TRENTON, N. J., May 29.—Two desperate colored convicts escaped from State prison last night. They are Tom Thomas and Henry Jackson, firebugs from Monmouth County, serving 30 years terms.

They sandbagged Charles Parker, the front doorkeeper, took the keys from him and escaped. They took all the clothing they could gather, and robbed the unconscious doorkeeper of $800 in cash.

Thomas was a runner for the front part of the prison, and Jackson was waiter in the head keeper's dining room. They made their escape while the deputies were at supper.

It was 7:45 when the lock-step of 50 striped convicts echoed through the corridors of the prison as the convicts marched to the prison night school, attended by several keepers. Old Charles Parker, nearly 60 years old, was carrying the big key that unlocks the front door of the institution.

He had just come on duty when he was invited into the prison clerk's office by Thomas Thomas, a negro runner, and he and Henry Jackson, another negro, dealt blow after blow on the old man's head with a stocking full of sand and lead. He fell to the floor in unconsciousness.

Then they took from his pocket a wad containing $800 and his revolver.

Before leaving the convicts ransacked the quarters occupied by several of the keepers and helped themselves to revolvers and lots of clothing. They stole two overcoats, two suits and three pairs of trousers.

They did not discard their prison stripes, and covered them over with the stolen goods.

They then unlocked the front door and walked leisurely out into the country.

BISHOP JONES' PLAIN TALK.

He Requests His Clergy Not to Stamp and Snort and Bang the Bible.

BALTIMORE, May 29.—Just before adjourning the Baltimore and Philadelphia Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Jones gave the candidates for orders some advice. He told them not to spend too much time before the glass trying to make themselves look pretty. It was not at all likely that they would be successful, but it was a shame even to try to turn an example of God's noblest work into a dude, and very likely a poor dude at that.

"When you are preaching," he said, "don't start out in a sleepy sort of a way, and drone away until you are half way through the sermon and then start in and make a home run. Preach right out from the beginning, and when you are through stop right there.

"Don't jump around in your pulpit and stamp and snort and bang your Bible, and pull your hair to get up the power. You may get your congregation to shouting and stir the women up, but it will all be false excitement. If the good Lord wants to make himself felt He'll do it without your making a lot of monkeys of yourselves. You just preach the Word, and He'll send the power without your assistance."

Robbed an Old Man.

WATERTOWN, Mass., May 29.—A burglar entered the residence of Isaac Bemis at midnight and, after awakening Mrs. Murphy, the housekeeper, placed the muzzle of a revolver at her head and compelled her to go before him to Bemis' room where he awoke the latter and demanded his money, threatening to blow his brains out if he made an outcry. Bemis is old and deaf and he did not hear what the burglar said. He tried to rise when the burglar knocked him down and rifled his pillow of $200 and escaped.

German Catholics in Politics.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 29.—The convention of the German Catholic Societies has adjourned sine die. Resolutions were adopted declaring it the sense of the convention that the Bennett law and its attendant paternal spirit infringes upon the conscience of the German Catholics, and resolving therefore that the societies take an active part in the approaching State campaign.

"Fritz" Emmet Divorced.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—Elizabeth Webber Emmet, the wife of J. K. Emmet, the actor, has obtained a decree of absolute divorce without opposition on her husband's part. It is said that Emmet not only offered no contention in his wife's suit, but announced that he would give her $100,000 and the superb villa which he had built in Albany.

Physicians Will Not Comply.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The prominent physicians of this city are almost unanimous in the determination not to comply with the request to fill out blanks sent them by the Census Bureau. Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the Health Commissioner, said: "From what I have heard I will go so far now as to say that the scheme won't work."

RICHMOND CROWDED.

Over 50,000 Strangers Present at the Unveiling of Lee's Statue.

RICHMOND, May 29.—This is the day set apart for the unveiling of the statue of General Robert E. Lee. The city is gay with banners and alive with enthusiasm.

The hotels are packed; boarding houses nearly all have as many guests as they can possibly entertain, and there is hardly a private residence in this city or Manchester that is not filled with country kin and friends. Most of the distinguished visitors are being entertained by relatives or friends of years ago, though there are quite a number at the Exchange and other hotels.

Besides all these visitors, numbering perhaps 30,000, are the military and veteran organizations, which have accommodations at other places, bringing the total strangers in the city up to 50,000.

Guests generally have been arriving for several days, and every train coming in yesterday or this morning has been crowded. The country around Richmond is thickly settled, and from 4 a. m. to noon to-day the roads entertering the city were filled with more crowds coming into the city.

The head of the column moved promptly at 12 o'clock noon from Adams street, on Broad, and then the line of march was down Broad to Nineteenth, to Main, up Main to Eighth, to Franklin, out Franklin to the monument.

All the organizations remained in position until the statue was unveiled, when a salute of seventeen guns was fired.

The head of the line reached the grounds about 2 o'clock, when Gov. McKinney called the assembly to order. Dr. Minnegerode then offered prayer, Gen. Early was introduced as the presiding officer and made a short address, Col. Archer Anderson dlivered the oration and when Gen. Johnson pulled the halliard by which the veil was drawn, there was great enthusiam.

CLAASSEN GUILTY.

His Wife Shrieked and Fainted When She Heard the Verdict.

NEW YORK, May 29.—In the United States Circuit Court last night, the jury in the case of P. J. Claassen, on trial for appropriating funds of the Sixth National Bank, while its president, after six hours deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty.

Claassen was taken to Ludlow Street Jail. His wife shrieked and fainted when she heard the verdict, but the old general remained calm. Mrs. Claassen was unconscious for fifteen minutes Her daughter was also in court.

New York Prohibitionists.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 29.—The Prohibition Convention adopted the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization, electing for President, J. I. Platt of Dutchess; Vice-Presidents—J. H. Kellogg of Munroe, D. H. Mann of Kings, Mrs. Mary T. Burt of New York, Dr. O. H. Warren and the Rev. A. R. Palmer of Onondaga, and J. N. Stearns of New York; Secretaries—W. P. Hendricks of St. Lawrence, Ruth Hoag of Rennsalaer, and S. E. Marvin of Orleans; Finance Committee—John Lloyd Thomas of New York, Rev. T. F. Parker of Livingston, and Horace Waters of Orleans. Committees of nine each were appointed on Resolutions and Plan of Campaign.

Test Case on Original Packages.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 29.—Charles S. Silverman, of Leechburg, Pa., the agent of a Cincinnati, Ohio, brewing firm who was arrested on Saturday last for selling beer in original packages, was sent to jail yesterday, and Judge Fetterman secured Silverman's release from confinement on a habeas corpus writ. The case will be tried by the United States District Court in this city next Saturday morning. The matter will then be taken to the United States Supreme Court for final argument and decision.

Cushing Will Not Meet Gibbons.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 29.—The match between Mike Cushing and Austin Gibbons, to have taken place at the Gladstone Club in June is off, Cushing having failed to put up his money. The Gladstone Club offers $500 for Paddy McBride, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Lynch, of New York, now matched for $1,000, to meet here in June. The club also offers $600 for Jack C. McGee, of Norwich, and Pete McCoy to spar for.

General Synod of the Reformed Church.

LEBANON, Pa., May 29.—The triennial meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, convened in the First Reformed Church last night at 8 o'clock. On account of ill health the venerable president, Dr. Walker of North Carolina, was not present to preach the opening sermon. The Women's Missionary convention convened this morning.

Afraid of the Powder Magazine.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 29.—A bill in equity was filed by the Attorney-General praying the court to restrain the Hazard Powder Company, a Connecticut corporation, from maintaining a powder magizine in lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, near Philadelphia, because of the danger of the houses and factories in the vicinity.

Big Worsted Firm Failure.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 29.—Ackroyd & Scull, one of the largest worsted yarn manufacturing firms in New Jersey, had their factory seized by the sheriff. They claim that their suspension is but temporary.

Boston's Elevated Railroad Bill.

BOSTON, May 29.—In the Senate the West End Elevated Railroad bill was ordered to a third reading without a dissenting vote. It has already passed the House.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER

Young Kimber's Body Found in a Montreal Reservoir.

HIS POCKETS FULL OF STONES.

His Throat Was Cut and Around His Neck Was Tied a Towel.

The Coroner Decides It Was Suicide. Distinct Traces of Foul Play—The Young Englishman's Friends Not Satisfied With the Verdict and the Minister of Justice to Make an Investigation.

MONTREAL, May 29.—The body of Thomas Kimber, a young Englishman who disappeared a month ago, was found in the city reservoir with his throat cut.

An inquest was held and a verdict of suicide returned, but the investigation was very unsatisfactory.

The coroner, realizing the indignation which his hurried inquest had caused, ordered an autopsy, which was held by Drs. Mount and Brennan. After a careful examination they found several contusions on the back of the head and eight wounds on the neck, one of which was from five to six inches long, penetrating the windpipe. The body, however, was in such an advanced state of decomposition that they are unable to say whether death resulted from the wounds or from drowning, and there the matter rests so far as the coroner is concerned.

The St. George's Society, however, is by no means satisfied with the result of the investigation. They have claimed the body and are taking legal advice.

Detective Grosse, who had the matter in charge, notified the Minister of Justice that he suspects foul play. He says it was practically impossible for Kimber, after having lost so much blood, to walk three miles, half way up the steep road to Mount Royal, then fill his pockets with heavy stone, climb over a high iron railing and throw himself into the reservoir.

Kimber was a young Englishman, who came to Canada in February last with considerable money in notes and a letter of credit to a Quebec firm, which was never presented. He came to Montreal and put up at the Grand Central Hotel. A few weeks afterwards he suddenly and mysteriously disappeared.

The case resembles in many respects that of Benwell, Birchall's supposed victim, and is consequently exciting intense interest.

SHE CARRIED A REVOLVER.

An American Woman Arrested for Bringing Fire-Arms Into Ireland.

LONDON, May 29.—Upon the arrival of the steamship City of New York from New York, at Queenstown, a female passenger who gave her name as Mrs. Nugent was discovered, when passing the customs officials, to have a loaded revolver concealed in a secret pocket in one of her skirts.

She disclaimed ownership of the weapon, and declared that a fellow passenger named Devine had requested her to carry it ashore for him. Devine could not be found, and Mrs. Nugent was arrested and arraigned before a magistrate, who remanded her for violation of the law prohibiting the bringing of fire-arms into Ireland.

Pettit's Good Tennis Score.

DUBLIN, May 29.—Great interest is now being manifested in the court tournament for the tennis championship between Charles Saunders, champion of England, and Thomas Pettit of Boston, Mass. In the second days's contest Pettit won three of the four sets played. The first set was won by Saunders by a score of 6 to 3. Pettit won the ensuing three sets as follows: The second set by a score of 6 to 3; the third by a score of 6 to 3, and the fourth by a score of 6 to 2. The contest will be continued to-morrow.

Dinner to Poor Children.

DUBLIN, May 29.—Mlle. Raffalovitch, who is to become the wife of Mr. William O'Brien, M. P., gave a dinner to 500 poor children at New Tipperary and crowned her charitable work for the day by donating a large sum to the support of the school conducted by nuns at that place. The dinner was a most successful affair and aroused the enthusiasm of young and old to a high pitch.

Minister Reid Gives a Grand Ball.

PARIS, May 29.—Mr. Whitelaw Reid, United States Minister, gave a grand ball last night, the attendance at which included all of the diplomatic corps and a large number of the aristocracy of Paris and other capitals. Among those present were Baron von Mohrenheim, Russian Ambassador, and M. de Rothschild, with their families.

Murdered the Family.

MADRID, May 29.—A farmer living near Cordova refused to grant permission to his servant to visit a bull fight, whereupon the servant murdered his master and four other members of the family and fled.

Strikers Attack Looms.

VIENNA, May 29.—The strikers at Prossnitz are becoming desperate and are resorting to violent measures. They forced their way into several factories and cut the loom warps.

Vermont Democrats in Convention.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 29.—H. F. Brigham, of Lakersfield, will probably be nominated for Governor by the Democratic State Convention to-day. District conventions will also be held to-day, and the probable nominees for Congress are T. W. Maloney, of Rutland, First District, and S. C. Shurtleff, of Montpelier, Second District.

THE DAILY PRESS.

BY THE WAY.

—It will not be long before the rush to the seashore will begin.

—Winter overcoats were not at all uncomfortable, last evening.

—Florida Grove will be thrown open to the public on and after Decoration Day.

—Mr. F. H. Gise of Dunellen lost a valuable horse on Tuesday with lockjaw.

—The straw hat season has opened, but this kind of weather has put a damper on it.

—To-morrow being a legal holiday there will be no paper issued from this office.

—Gov. Abbett signed the Ballot-Reform bill yesterday and it is now on the statute books.

—The Crescent League ball grounds will doubtless be largely patronized to-morrow.

—The Oriental Social Club give a grand picnic at Amphion Hall to-night. Music by Prof. Frazee.

—Those who have flowers to spare should contribute their share to the old soldiers on Decoration Day.

—The services in Music Hall, to-morrow morning, will begin upon the arrival of the procession there about ten o'clock.

—One of Mr. B. F. Randolph's one-horse trucks was upset on Park avenue, this morning, but no damage was done.

—There will be no books distributed at the library to-morrow. The reading rooms and art gallery will be open at the usual hours.

—Messrs Doane & VanArsdale announce that they will keep there store open this evening until ten o'clock, and will be closed all day to-morrow.

—Regular weekly meeting of the Reform Club in Reform Hall this evening, when there will be the usual interesting exercises. All are welcome.

—Gasoline stoves have become an important utensil for Summer use. The Pierson Hardware Co., make a specialty of them, and keep a large and elegant line.

—Mr. L. T. Titsworth has had a concrete walk laid around his residence on Prospect avenue, Dunellen, which beautifies and ornaments the grounds wonderfully.

—The regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held in their hall as usual this evening All the members are requested to be present.

—The post office will close at ten o'clock to-morrow morning, and remain closed for the day. There will be two collections and one delivery of mail matter, during the day.

—One Plainfielder has at last succeeded in striking a lucky number in the Louisiana State Lottery. This morning he received a check for $1,200, which was cashed at one of the city banks.

—The Presbyterian church of Dunellen has purchased a handsome and costly new organ. The organ will be delivered next week, and an organ concert will be given in the early part of June.

—Rogers Brothers, boot and shoe dealers, 12 West Front street, report increased sales since their announcement appeared in THE PRESS. It will pay you financially, to read their advertisement.

—Ye who have teeth to pull, prepare to have them pulled, as Dr. Estebrooke is coming back. On and after Monday he will be at the office of Dr. Thiers, 22 West Front street. His method is absolutely painless.

—C. P. Wheeler, No. 37 Somerset St., is agent for the sale of the celebrated James Means $3 shoes. He is also having a special sale of excellent shoes for men, women and children's wear. Give his goods a trial.

—There are two Courts sitting in Elizabeth today. Judge VanSyckle as usual, and Judge Scudder in the Freeholders' room. The latter is sitting on a railroad case that Judge VanSyckle is barred out of as a stockholder.

—There will be a match game of cricket between the Veterans of Brooklyn and the St. George's club of this city, on the grounds at the corner of Spooner avenue and Fourth street, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock.

—The members of the Grand Army Posts in this city will decorate the graves of the dead soldiers in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield, to-morrow afternoon. The graves in the Baptist cemetery at Scotch Plains will also be decorated during the afternoon.

—There is likely to be a change made in the division of the counsel fees in the Wm. Moore will case. Judge McCormick, it is understood, has been asked to reconsider the awards, and the Plainfield lawyers, who did much of the work in connection with the will contest, will be more liberally rewarded.

—The Fire and Building Committee of the City Council, met in Councilman Hetfield's office, last evening, and looked over the proposed location of the fire hydrants as laid out by Chief Doane. It is, however, impossible to decide upon the exact location of the hydrants, until after the water mains are laid out.

The entering wedge of a complaint that may prove fatal is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. It would be well, therefore, to keep this remedy within reach at all times.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Kate Maier of Dunellen, is spending a few weeks with relatives in New York.

Mr. Geo. Homan and family of Franklinville, N. Y., are visiting friends at Dunellen.

Mr. Wm. Tier is confined to his home on Bank place, suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart of Easton, Pa., will deliver the Memorial Day address in Music Hall, to-morrow morning.

Dr. T. S. Davis' father is very ill at his home in Wilmington. He has been failing for some time, and now there seems to be no hope of his recovery.

Joseph Martin and his cousin, John M. Agans, Jr., of Three Bridges, N. J., spent yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Martin of 39 Somerset street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt of New York, are visiting Major and Mrs. R. L. Burnett at their home on Hillside avenue. Mrs. Pratt and Mrs. Burnett are sisters.

Mr. Frank McClusky, an employee at the Pond Machine Tool Works, started for Worster, Mass., last evening to attend the funeral of his uncle, who died recently.

Mrs. G. B. Brainard, after an absence of over ten years in Illinois, has returned for a visit among friends and relatives in Lebanon, Hunterdon county, and other parts of New Jersey.

Mr. A. G. Hooley of Central avenue, returned yesterday from a three months trip in the Northwest, going as far as Idaho. Mr. Hooley has been greatly benefitted in health.

The Rev. E. Stewart, a native Plainfielder, formerly of Kansas, but now settled in Pennsylvania, will occupy Reform Hall platform next Sunday evening. He is a speaker of decided merit.

The Rev. Mr. Goodrich is to give a lecture, next week, in the Congregational church, on Florence. The music of the occasion will be given by Miss Alice Holmes and Mr. Elmer Runyon.

Mr. Robert Campbell and family of No. 10 First place, will spend the Summer at Monmouth Beach, and Mr. Charles Ladgdon and family of LaGrande avenue, will on June 1, occupy Mr. Campbell's residence.

The "Band of Mercy" of the Irving school, now numbers 118 members. At the meeting held yesterday, Miss Gilbert was elected President, and Miss Petrie Secretary. The members of the band are to be provided with neat and attractive badges.

The ever-welcome Sam Moore, now of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., but for many years a resident of this city, was here for a few hours yesterday. He is a member of the firm of Moore Bros., boot and shoe dealers, 157 Main street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and THE PRESS cheerfully recommends him to the citizens of that city. Plainfield lost an honorable, upright citizen when Mr. Moore left.

The funeral of the late James Marshall, senior member of the clothing firm of Marshall & Ball, whose death was announced in THE PRESS yesterday, took place at 11 A. M. today from the home of Mr. Ball, No. 9 Clinton avenue. The following named gentlemen officiated as pall-bearers: L. Spencer Goble, Aaron Ward, James G. Barnet, George Peters, Henry N. Parkhurst, John P. Jube, William H. Stiles and James Miller.

Jr., Rowland Cox, C. J. Fisk, J. K. Myers, Frank Bushnell, N. D. C. Hodges, I. H. Brown, F. O. Herring, A. C. Baldwin, Pliny Fisk, and other ladies of this city, are the subscribing members of a book club formed for the purchasing of such books as the public library does not contain. Money has also been expended for magazine subscriptions. The books are loaned from house to house of the club's members.

Ten Daughters Will Sell Cake for Charity.

The "Judge Not" ten of King's Daughters will hold a cake sale in Holy Cross Sunday school building, Saturday afternoon, beginning at two o'clock, for the benefit of the Fresh Air Fund. Every one who likes good cake and reveres good cooks, is expected to be present and make the affair a financial as well as an artistic success. It need only be mentioned that the following young ladies will conjure up the cakes themselves and will be on hand to see that they go where they will be most appreciated, to secure a large and generous attendance.

The presiding graces are to be the Misses E. N. Hasbrouck, Margaret Long, Annie Murphy, Agnes Smith, Emily Thompson, Della Storm, Helen Warman, Kate Miller, Clara Woltmann, Annie Hasbrouck and Grace Brown.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate were reported at the County Clerk's office since those last recorded in THE PRESS:

Wallace L. Serrell, of Tacoma, Wash., to William J. Pearson, et al., of Plainfield, tract of land on Third street, Plainfield, $1,950.

James McGinley and wife, of Plainfield, to Andrew M. Anderson, of Plainfield, lot on South avenue, Plainfield, $550.

Jeremiah Manning and wife, to Joseph C. Manning and wife, of Plainfield, tract of land on Sandford avenue, Plainfield, $5,000.

MELODY AND BURNT CORK.

'Twill be a Great Entertainment That of To-Morrow Night.

Have you got your seats for to-morrow night at Music Hall? If not, do not eat, drink nor sleep until you get them. Else you may find yourself in the consomme—and very cold consomme it will be, too. Witnesses rise up on every side to testify to the creamy richness and the rich creaminess of the show. The minstrel boy has not gone to war, with his wild harp slung behind him, but he will be right here, "in our midst," to-morow night—several of him. Go prepared to "die o' laughing." Extra mouchoirs and tear-bottles will be distributed at the door.

The company will consist of W. T. Markem, Interlocutor; and Messrs E. W. Johnson, G. B. Herrick, R. P. Moore, H. E. Distelhurst, A. F. Andrews, Perry Averill, J. D. Shaw, E. P. Baggot, C. A. Stenkin, T. F. Merseles, Will Lyle, H. C. Nichols, A. Ahrens, G. C. Thomlar, H. A. Steffins, C. T. Purdy, G. E. Rice, G. H. Earl.

The programme will be as follows:

The committee on entertainment consists of Messrs T. S. Burr, J. M. Crane, A. L. C. Marsh and Dr. H. A. Benedict. The performance will be under the immediate supervision of Mr. Elliott W. Johnson. Musical Director, Mr. Louis R. Dressler. Stage Manager, Mr. Carman Nichols.

At The Bryant School Building.

The chapel at the Bryant school building was prettily trimmed with flowers, this morning, on the occasion of Memorial Day exercises which took place at that time, according to the following programme:

Singing—Be firm and be faithful.....School
Devotional exercises.
Singing—America.
Declamation—"Decoration Day.".....
Ernest Suffern, Second Class.
Singing—"The Young Recruits".....School
Recitation—"The Flag of the Free".....
Bertha Hurlbut, 5th class, 1st division
Singing—"Fair is our Country".....School
Recitation—"Decoration Day".....
Bessie Loizeaux, 3d class
Singing—May song.....School
Recitation—"The Blue and the Gray".....
Clara Armstrong, 1st class
Singing—Our Country.....School

Bryant's picture was neatly draped with a flag and a floral wreath, and the children carried flags or flowers. Bertha Hurlburt recited clearly; in fact all the recitations were clearly given. Clara Armstrong's recitation was given with expression, good taste and smoothness.

Changes of Tenantry.

Wm. Wm. Barlow of Brooklyn, has bought Mr. J. S Sutphen's property on Prospect place, formerly occupied by Mr. Henry Stanton.

Mr. Percy Phillips, recently of Evona, has bought the John Cameron house on Madison avenue, where Mr. Phillips and family have been living for the past few months.

Mrs. Annie McKee, of Brooklyn, has bought Mrs. Seaman Williams' house on East Fifth street, and rented it to Mr. E. A. Eastman, of New York.

Mr. A. D. Salkeld of Boston, has leased Mrs. Wingate's house on Richmond street

Mrs. Lucy Hooley has rented her home on Central avenue, for the Summer.

Mr. A. Tuska, of New York, has leased ex-Councilman Squires' Broadway house, for the season.

Mrs. E. Dezendorf, and Miss Dezendorf, will occupy Mrs. Wm. M. Day's home on Broadway, this Summer.

Mr. A. Kaufman, of New York, has rented Mrs. Gardner's house on Broadway, during the latter's absence in Asbury Park.

Mr. Theo. A. Ball of Newark, has leased the Dr. Chase farm at Fanwood. Mr. Ball has just been awarded $25,000 from the Erie railroad for injuries received.

Memorial Day Exercises at the High School.

Special exercises appropriate to Memorial Day were held at the High school this morning. The singing was led by Mr. Hazell. After the rhetorical exercises, Mr. E. L. Suffern addressed the pupils, telling of his personal experiences in the war. The declamations were as follows: Extract from Blaine's Oration on President Garfield—Master Loizeaux. The Blue and the Gray—Master John C. Sutphen.

—The Grand Jury were discharged at Elizabeth, today, with the thanks of the Court. They brought in 53 indictments, which with the 17 before reported, makes 70 in all.

A Hamburg Fig.

There is no longer need to force children to take castor oil for sickness. A HAMBURG FIG, which is like preserved fruit, will be taken by them with relish. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

—Unless North avenue is sprinkled better for the money, those who pay will "rise up." When the railroad company especially—which already says it is paying a good deal and getting very little—becomes just a trifle more indignant, something will drop.

Shortness of Breath.

DR. FLINT'S REMEDY should be taken at once when slight exertion or a hearty meal produces shortness of breath or a pain in the region of the heart. Send for treatise, free. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

—Gov. Abbett has approved the bill which provides that Baptist societies may assist young women in preparing for home and foreign mission work, by passing a resolution and filing a certificate of the same with the Secretary of State.

The prevalence of scrofulous taint in the blood is much more universal than many are aware. Indeed, but few persons are free from it. Fortunately, however, we have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most potent remedy ever discovered for this terrible affliction.

—The Central Railroad company is improving the condition of the driveways about the Netherwood station.

THREE GREAT GAMES.

The Crescents With a New Pitcher, Will Undertake to Beat Some Very Strong Clubs.

The game to be played on the morning of Decoration Day, will be against the Flushings, the semi-professional champions of Long Island for 1888 and '89. The team defeated such well known clubs as Yale College, Cuban Giants, Metropolitans, Gorhams, Stars of Long Island, Senators, Rahways, and the Acmes. They have been engaged to play exhibition games at Brotherhood Park when the New York (P. L.) club is away. They are so well known that it is needless to say anything further in regard to them, for all lovers of base ball know that they are ball players.

The Monroes, who play in the afternoon, have a most enviable reputation as ball players. They have lately beaten the Senators of Long Island, who are composed of the celebrated Hackett-Carharts. They have also defeated the Long Island Stars, Lees of Brooklyn, and Cuban Giants, and were the first team to beat the Senators this year. They have the reputation of being the strongest batting club among the semi-professionals. They come here thoroughly recommended, and if the Crescents win from them it will only be because Plainfield has the stronger team.

The Unions of New Brunswick, who are to play with the home team on Saturday afternoon, have not lost a game this season, and are considered one of the strongest clubs in the State. They have secured the ball grounds of Rutgers College, and have given such fine exhibitions of ball playing that the people of their city turn out in large numbers to encourage them, and insist upon saying that they have the finest club in the State. But Plainfield does not admit it and trust to prove the same Saturday afternoon. The club's schedule for June is as follows: June 7, Original Acmes; June 14, Sylvans, champions of Harlem; June 21, Metropolitans of New York; June 28, Trentons of Trenton, N. J. They are as strong an organization of clubs as can be produced, and will undoubtedly make the Crescents play ball to beat them.

The management of the Crescent ball team have endeavored to schedule the best of the semi-professional clubs, and have succeeded, as will be shown before the season is completed. The exhibition of ball playing lately given by the Crescents is one that has given credit to themselves, has proved them to be batters as well as fielders, and without egotism it can well be said that there have been many plays made by them which could not be surpassed by even the professional clubs. All who witness the games on Decoration Day and the afternoon game of Saturday, will see a fine exhibition of ball playing.

The batting order of the Flushings tomorrow will be: Shannon, 3b; Cunningham, 2b; Burns, p. and rf; Nugent, ss; Sutter, lf; Stinmar, cf; Meehan, c; Pilkerton, rf. and p; McGivney, 1b.

The batting order of the Monroes will be: Pender, rf; Devoe, cf; Cavanagh, 2b; Panker, 1b; Keegan, lf; Platz, c; Fletcher, 3b; Loughran, ss; Wheeler, p.

The Ladies Will Also Hold Memorial Day Services.

Garfield League, No. 23, Loyal Ladies League, Auxiliary to the G. A. R., Department of New Jersey, will hold on the evening of to-morrow, Memorial Day, a public service at Reform Hall, in honor of the Union soldiers who gave their lives for their country.

The exercises will consist of singing by the children of Houghton Division, No. 1, Children's Loyal Legion, and a quartette of young ladies. An address will be delivered by the Rev. Edward H. Stewart, of Portland, Pa., a member of Company B., 6th New Jersey Volunteers.

The services will commence at 7:45 P. M. Admission free.

By order of the Memorial Committee the members of the Grand Army Posts in this city and all veterans of the late war, are particularly invited to be present.

The Kings Daughters.

During the Summer the "Whatsoever" Ten, King's Daughters, will meet at the residence of one of their members, to receive and send flowers to the tenement house children of New York city. Yesterday, at the home of Miss Mabel Woodruff, on East Second street, there were present Daughters Miss Mabel Woodruff, Miss Lizzie Dunn, Miss Jennie VanWinkle, Miss Phoebe Mills, Mrs. Jennie Dunn, Mrs. Emma Hardy, Mrs. Wm. See and Mrs. Chas. Leggett, who bunched together 65 handsome bouquets of flowers and sent them to their destination in New York. This work of the King's Daughters is a laudable and pleasant one, and no doubt highly appreciated by those who receive their gifts.

How to Get Stanley's Only Book.

Everybody intends to secure a copy of "In Darkest Africa," Stanley's own story and the only one written by himself. To no one else than the firm of Chas. Scribners' Sons, has he contributed a line of his thrilling adventures, nor disclosed a fact concerning his important discoveries.

This book will be offered the people of this city and North Plainfield, only by the agent authorized by the publishers. No one else can deliver the book to subscribers here.

This Will Interest Every Woman.

General Garfield believed that if a great truth can once be fixed in the minds and hearts of the people, you can trust them to act upon it. [illegible] gradually a new system of dress is being adopted by thoughtful women. The press is discussing the "divided" skirt with vigor and there is some curiosity to know just how it looks and whether it is as shocking as a garment worn in a Turkish harem. In reality no one would know that the sensible mountain dress or the pretty bicycle dress designed by Mrs. Jenness Miller could be parted in any unaccustomed way. Yet under the deep folds and pleats two long cuts have forever done away with the binding resistance of the old fashioned skirt and make walking and all athletics a delight rather than a cause of fatigue.

THE PRESS is glad to learn that Mrs. Clara Holbrook Smith, a friend and coloborer with Mrs. Jenness Miller in her crusade against ill health, will lecture in our city next week. In the West Mrs. Smith has captivated her audiences as Mrs. Miller has in the East, and our ladies should attend and judge whether or no we are not slightly behind the progress of the age and see how it is possible to combine grace and common sense methods in this needed dress reform.

A Vindication.

The readers of THE PRESS will remember that a few months ago it copied an article from another paper regarding a difficulty arising between contractors Cameron & Clark, and the Kinderhook and Hudson Railway Co., resulting in the illegal arrest and detention for a time of Mr. Cameron, who is a respected citizen of this place. Mr. Cameron claimed that injustice and injury was done him by the arrest, and subsequently prosecuted the railroad company, who awarded him damages and sent the firm an apologetic letter, which the following, taken from the New York World of May 24, will explain:

THE RAILROAD COMPANY APOLOGIZES.

An echo of the scandal of the Kinderhook Railroad strike was heard yesterday, when John Cameron and George E. Clark, comprising the firm of Cameron & Clark, contractors, issued the following letter, which had been received by them from J. V. Clark, the President of the Kinderhook and Hudson Railway:

Referring to the differences her to fore existing between the Kinderhook and Hudson Railway company and the firm of Cameron & Clark, I take pleasure in stating that after an investigation of the circumstances I am satisfied your firm mediated no wrong, and that the differences which existed resulted from mutual misunderstandings, and in no manner reflect upon your honor or integrity.

A strike had occurred on the work of Cameron & Clark on pay-day and the firm refused to pay the men until they went to work and the company gave them payment in full for work done on the road. The company had orders of arrest issued for Cameron & Clark, but upon explanation the case was settled.

A Word on Base Ball, to Somerville.

It seems that there is already music in Somerville, since THE PRESS stated on Tuesday the self evident fact that the West Ends are this year far out-classed by the Crescents. The statement said further that "the Crescents with one hand behind their backs could beat the West Ends easily." There was nothing offensive about that statement of fact, yet the Somervillians now say they will "show" the Crescents whether they out-class them. "We'll come down to Plainfield," say they, "and wipe up the field with you!"

Well, come! The people here await you anxiously. There's money in it for you, though mighty little glory. However, as it is publicly reported in town and on the road that you are afraid to play the Crescents, here's a grand opportunity to prove your courage.

Improving the Presbyterian Cemetery.

The Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield, never looked more tidy, and was never better kept than at the present time, and the credit for the same is due to Voorhees VanFleet and "Uncle" Freeman Shotwell.

The trustees have also ordered a new walk of blue stone flagging laid in front of the cemetery, which work has already begun. Persons who visit the cemetery to-morrow will notice a decided change there.

Y. M. C. A. Special.

Mr. W. D. Murray, President of the Y. M. C. A. will lead the young men's Gospel and song service at the Association rooms 8 and 10 East Front street, Sunday at 4:15 P. M. As this will probably be the last meeting that Mr. Murray will conduct before his departure for Europe, it is hoped that there may be at that time a large attendance of both Association members and their friends.

The Boy Choir will be present to aid in the singing.

—A game of base ball will be played tomorrow afternoon at the corner of Fourth street and Spooner avenue, between the "Centrals", the colored champions of Plainfield, and the "Athletics" of this city. Wyckoff and McGrimley will be the battery for the Athletics. Game called at 2:30 sharp.

How To Select a Wife.

Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensables. After them come the minor advantages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four, married life will be comfortable and happy. Lacking either, it will be in more or less degree a failure. Upon good health depends largely good temper and good looks, and to some extent good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weaknesses and whims attendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is falling into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her health. Try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her.

The Westfield Ball Team.

The following players compose Mt. Ararat's ambitious team: Allen, catcher, formerly of the Connecticut team; Gough, pitcher, formerly of the Eastern League; DeWitt, ss., of Colorado Springs; Lent, first base, a graduate of Rutgers College; E. Love, second base, of Westfield; W. Stitt, third base, of Westfield; French, left field, of Fanwood; Winslow, centre field, of Brown's University; Johnston, right field, of Fanwood.

The base ball season will open at Westfield to-morrow, when the local team will play against the Rutgers College team in the morning, and with the Roselle club in the afternoon.

In the County Courts.

The suit of Mrs. Mary A. Seaton against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, which has occupied the attention of the Union County Court for the past two days, was unexpectedly stopped yesterday by the sudden illness of one of the jurors, Franklin Brooks. Judge Scudder postponed the hearing and at once began the trial of another case, that of Simon Sternburger, who, like Mrs. Seaton, appeals from the award of the Commission that appraised his property which the railroad company wants.

Middlesex Gun Club.

Owing to the fact that other attractions will occupy the attention of sportsmen, to-morrow, Decoration Day, there will be no shooting on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun club on that day. Manager Charley Smith, "Dutchey" will give a "big shoot" at live and inanimate targets June 12.

—An important meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Committee will be held on Saturday evening, 31st inst., at 8 o'clock, in Winfield Scott Post rooms over City National Bank.

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $3 00; $3 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully, J. G. CAMPBELL, 8 WEST FRONT STREET. (Shed over front.) 5-23 m

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Census Office Makes Public the State Debts.

THE NET DECREASE IN 10 YEARS.

Total Bonded Debt of the United States for the Present Year.

The Presidential Party Start for Cleveland—Speaker Reed's Temperance Order—Hitch on the Tariff Bill—Indians Surrender More Land—Picking Out the President's Summer Residence.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Census Office makes public the first result of the eleventh census in relation to State and local finance. It consists of a preliminary report by Mr. Kendrick Upton on State indebtedness, also a preliminary report by Mr. T. Campbell-Copeland, in charge of local finance, on the indebtedness of the 2,809 counties in the United States.

The report shows that the principal of the State debt at the present time is $288,679,817; of this amount $194,954,206 is bonded debt and $33,725,610 floating debt. This shows a net decrease in the total debt during the last ten years of $54,459,484, the bonded debt having been decreased by $64,083,249 and the floating debt increased by $9,623,764. The changes in the same debt by geographical divisions have been as follows.

	1890.	Decrease since 1880.
Eastern States....	$39,974,068	$11,296,117
Middle States....	31,498,412	11,387,482
Southern States..	107,616,077	28,022,964
Western States...	47,591,261	3,752,920
Grand Totals.....	$228,679,819	$54,459,484

The States have reduced their debts to this extent, says the report, mainly by applying to the redemption of their obligations the revenues not needed for current expenses. In a few cases, however, a reduction of the debt has been effected by the enforced redemption of obligations at a discount. The total bonded debt of the United States is shown to have been $1,709,993,100 in 1880, and $719,178,570 in 1890. The bonded debt of the several states in 1880 was $259,036,456, and $194,954,206 at the present time, making a total decrease of $1,054,897,880.

THE PRESIDENT'S VACATION.

It is Believed that He Will Summer at Cape May Point.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—It is nearly settled that the President and his family will summer at Cape May Point, N. J., either with the Postmaster-General, who has a cottage there, or in a cottage that is being specially constructed for that purpose.

At all events, Mrs. Harrison has come to the conclusion that she does not want to spend another summer at Deer Park, and she is known to be very much impressed with the beauties of the Jersey seashore. Ex-Senator Sewell called upon the President before his departure for Cleveland and repeated his invitation to have the Executive household quartered at his place at Cape May.

If The President Leaves for Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Harrison, accompanied by Secretaries Windom and Rusk, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, Attorney-General Miller, Congressman McKinley and Marshal Ransdell, left Washington at 7:40 last night over the Pennsylvania road for Cleveland to participate in the Garfield monument dedication ceremonies in that city to-morrow. The party, with the exception of Attorney-General Miller, who will go from Cleveland to Indianapolis for a few days, will return to Washington Saturday evening.

Protection Cruisers Ordered to Sea.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A dispatch from Ottawa confirms the report that the Dominion Government has decided to vigorously enforce the terms of the convention of 1818 in reference to the Atlantic fisheries, except those United States fishing vessels which take out modus vivendi licenses. The protective cruisers have been ordered by the Fisheries Department to be got ready for sea immediately, and the Viligant will proceed from Halifax to the fishing grounds this week.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate:

Pennsylvania—J. L. Wright, Columbia; D. L. Barton, Mercer.

New York—John Smith, Jr., Peekskill; Bernhard F. Geutsch, Buffalo.

New Jersey—J. W. Roberts, Beverly.

Massachusetts—D. W. Barnes, Attleborough. A. J. Davis, Ware; T. A. Hills, Leominster, M. L. Harlow, Whitman.

Indians Surrender More Land.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Success has at last crowned the efforts of the Indian Commission, and an allotment contract has been signed throwing open 221,618 acres of the Iowa tribe's land. The number of acres under the contract required to supply the Indians will be about 6,800, leaving 221,618 open for whites.

Mr. Vaux in Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Mr. O'Neill of Pennsylvania presented the credentials of Mr. Vaux of Philadelphia, the successor to the late Samuel J. Randall in the House, and escorted him to the bar of the House where he affirmed. He took his seat amid applause.

Speaker Reed's Temperance Order.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The first act of Speaker Reed on his return from Maine was to temporarily prohibit the sale of liquor in the House restaurant. The order may be modified, however, to permit drinks to be served at tables.

The Senate Hitch on the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Owing to a hitch in the Senate Finance Sub-Committee Mr. Aldrich is quoted as saying that the passage of the Tariff bill will probably be indefinitely postponed.

Will Adjourn for Decoration Day.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—It is the intention of the House leaders to have the House adjourn over from to-day until Monday on account of Decoration Day.

ECHOES OF THE DAY

Cleveland Proud of Yesterday's Ceremonies.

200,000 PEOPLE PARTICIPATED.

Large Numbers Visit the Cemetery To-Day to See the Memorial Monument.

President Harrison's Tribute to the Nation's Martyr—Lessons Which Posterity May Learn from the ex-President's Life—An Immense Assemblage Present at the Exercises Last Night in New York.

CLEVELAND, May 31.—Large crowds, who were unable yesterday to see the memorial monument erected in honor of the late President James A. Garfield, visited Lake View Cemetery to-day.

The parade yesterday was almost equal in length to that which followed Garfield to the tomb in 1881. Over 200,000 people were in the cemetery; although some of the papers to-day claim that there were nearly 300,000 persons present.

President Harrison was given a very hearty welcome when introduced to the vast assemblage by ex-President Hayes. After thanking the people for their cordial greeting the President said:

"This monument, so imposing and tasteful, fittingly typifies the grand and symetrical character of him in whose honor it has been builded. His was 'the arduous greatness of things done.' No friendly hand constructed and placed for his ambition a ladder upon which he might climb. His own brave hands framed and nailed the cleats upon which he climbed to the heights of public usefulness and fame.

"He never ceased to be student and instructor. Turning from peaceful pursuits to army service, he quickly mastered tactics and strategy, and in a brief army career taught some valuable lessons in military science. Turning again from the field to the councils of state, he stood among the great debaters that have made our national Congress illustrious. What he might have been or done as President of the United States is chiefly left to friendly augury, based upon a career that had no incident of failure or inadequacy. [Applause.] The cruel circumstances attending his death had but one amelioration—that space of life was given him to teach from his dying bed a great lesson of patience and forbearance. His mortal part will find honorable rest here, but the lessons of his life and death will continue to be instructive and inspiring incidents in American history."

CLOSING EXERCISES.

General Alger Presided in New York City Last Night.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The memorial exercises of the G. A. R., held in the Metropolitan Opera House last night, were of a highly interesting character, and attracted an audience which crowded the building. Flags and streamers of red, white and blue were the only decorations.

Commander-in-Chief Alger presided, and with him on the platform were Secretary Tracy, Department Commander Floyd Clarkson, Grand Marshal Hyatt, Col. E. F. Shepard, Gen. H. A. Barnum, Gen. Varian, Col. Appleton, C. N. Bliss, John H. Starin, Rev. Morgan Dix, Congressman J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, the orator of the evening, and other distinguished men.

After prayer by Rev. D. C. Potter, Gen. Alger was introduced and made a few appropriate remarks. Music and recitations followed, and then Congressman Dolliver delivered a brilliant and patriotic address.

AN OCEAN RACER'S ESCAPE.

The Normannia Crashes Into an Iceberg in a Dense Fog.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The steamship Normannia, of the Hamburg-American line, has arrived here on her maiden voyage from Hamburg. Her time from Southampton was 6 days, 21 hours, 50 minutes.

She did not beat the record for maiden trips, but no attempt was made to do so. The screws were not pushed beyond an average of 82 revolutions per minute, though their capacity is 96, and only 14,000 horse power was developed in the engines, which have a capacity of 15,600. Her commander believes that when an effort is made to get top speed out of her she will prove to be the fastest vessel afloat.

Tuesday afternoon the Normannia entered a dense fog and slowed down. Suddenly an iceberg loomed up in the fog. Commander Hebich reversed the starboard engine, put the rudder hard-a-port, and went ahead at full speed with the port engine. The effect was to swing the vessel around almost within her own length, and she skimmed the iceberg with only a slight collision, the contact being on the port side just below the bridge. Two plates were cracked and the rail damaged.

The passengers hardly felt the shock, and after completing her circle the Normannia went right along. Commander Hebich thinks that if she had been a single-screw steamer she could not have escaped a serious collision with the berg; which was hardly more than the vessel's length ahead when sighted.

The President Returning to Washington.

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—It was six o'clock last night before the exercises at ex-President Garfield's tomb were concluded and midnight before the last of the vast crowd had been able to secure transportation from the cemetery to the city. The Presidential party left for Washington in a special train at 1 o'clock this morning.

JAKE HAD A PICNIC.

Pugilist Kilrain Had a Jolly Time During His Alleged Imprisonment.

BALTIMORE, May 31.—Jake Kilrain, who fought Sullivan, has just returned from Mississippi, where he has served out that term of alleged imprisonment. Few persons around the station recognized the stalwart form of the pugilist, and in less time than it takes to tell it he had elbowed his way through the crowd and was soon whirled homeward in a carriage. A warm welcome awaited Jake at his house on Division street. Mrs. Kilrain and Jake's sister showed their joy in a womanly way, while the little Kilrains romped all over their father and literally smothered him with kisses.

Jake said his imprisonment was a picnic. He could not leave the country, but within its boundary lines he did what he pleased and lived like a fighting cock. The household was awake every morning at six o'clock, and after a hearty breakfast an hour or so was spent with the rod or gun. Every morning the south-bound train would pass through the plantation and stop within a stone's throw of the very spot on which Sullivan and Kilrain did battle on July 8, 1889. Jake said he and Mr. Rich would ride on horseback to meet the train every morning to get their mail. "You should see how curious the passengers were," said the big pugilist. "The train would be brought to a standstill, and a few minutes later the passengers would swarm from the cars like bees."

Of other things Kilrain said: "I am in pretty fair condition at present. My weight is 220 pounds, and it will take very little work to put me in fighting trim. I am willing to meet all comers, and for any amount of purse money. Smith, of Colorado, has been creating quite a sensation of late through his easy victory over Cleary and his clever match with Jackson in Chicago, and it would afford me much pleasure to have an opportunity to try conclusions with that individual."

A BIG MONOPOLY.

The Wires Laid for the Consolidation of Two Electric Light Companies.

BOSTON, May 31.—The Thompson-Houston and the Edison-Villard Companies will soon be consolidated. All that remains to be done is the signing of the papers in legal form.

Two months ago a majority of the Thompson-Houston stockholders agreed to pool their holdings with five trustees—H. H. Pevear, Oliver Ames, Albert Stone, Charles H. Newhall and E. L. Sanborn—the object being to sell out the company to the Edison-Villard people at a satisfactory price.

The trustees have just issued a final call to such stockholders as have not yet transferred their stock to do so before June 5, when all the stock will be pooled and delivered to the purchasing company. What the consideration is to be the trustees will not now state.

The combination of these companies will give them a practical monopoly of the electric lighting and electric motor business of the United States.

Welcomed the Colored Slugger.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Peter Jackson, the Australian colored slugger, received a royal welcome on his return to this city after a year's absence. Jackson went directly to the California Athletic Club, where he held a secret conference with President Fulda. Fulda said afterward that from what Jackson said and from a dispatch he had just received from Sullivan's agent he was satisfied a fight between the two men would occur at the California Club very soon.

Cruel Treatment in School.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 31.—Mr. Gebhart, editor of the German paper in this city, has brought complaint against Principal Lewis, of the Davenport School, to the Board of Education, charging him with punishing his son, Joe, so severely as to bring on epilepsy, from which the boy died. He was whipped for truancy. He has been subject to fits, and besides had a rupture, but this was unknown to Lewis. The coroner and medical examiner are investigating the case.

Horses and Jockeys Injured.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Twenty-three horses started in the first race at the Brighton Beach track, while the track is hardly wide enough for fifteen to run abreast. As the horses in this race swung into the upper turn Gyda (Barton), Hearst (Owen) and Gallus Dan (Cullen) collided and all went down. Cullen and Owens were seriously injured, and Hearst's back was broken and he died shortly after.

Caused by Spontaneous Combustion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—Fire in Allegheny City, caused by spontaneous combustion, totally burned the Eagle Varnish Company's works, and partly burned the Fraelich Grease Works and the Hall Steam Pump Company's works. The varnish company's loss is $60,000, and the grease and pump companies lose together about $10,000. Insurance one-third.

The Fire in the Mines Still Burning.

ASHLAND, Pa., May 31.—The fire in the mines at Bast colliery is still burning briskly and it is feared that it will spread to the main workings. At present it is confined to the old water level drift and the officials are endeavoring to cut the flames off from the slope. It originated in the loose coal in the drift, but how is as yet unknown.

Tragedy Over a Keg of Beer.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., May 31.—During a quarrel over the possession of a keg of beer John Cauch, a local desperado, nearly disembowelled Henry Johnston with a pruning knife. Johnston will probably die.

CONVICTS CAPTURED

Terrible Battle With the Trenton Fire Bugs.

AN OFFICER FATALLY WOUNDED

One of the Fugitives Killed After Several Shots Were Exchanged.

His Partner Run Down by Bloodhounds. Forced to Surrender After Desperate Resistance—He Identified the Body of His Dead Comrade and Blamed Him for All the Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 31.—Patrolman Henry F. Barber, of the Fifteenth Police District, attached to the Tacony sub-station, came face to face, early in the morning, with Tom Thomas and Henry Jackson, the negro convicts who escaped from the New Jersey State Prison at Trenton Wednesday evening, after having sandbagged and robbed doorkeeper Charles Parker. As a result of that meeting, Barber lies wounded at his home, one of the convicts is a corpse, while his partner is a prisoner.

Word was telegraphed from Holmesburg to the Tacony sub-station that two colored men resembling the escaped convicts from Trenton were coming down the Bristol Turnpike. Officers Harry F. Barber and George Milligan were sent out to capture the colored men. The fugitives were met near the end of the 'Longshore. The escaped men seemed to anticipate re-capture, and they were prepared for an attack.

Shot the Policeman.

As soon as Policeman Barber saw the convicts he shouted, "Stop! I know you," and the negroes turned to flee. They only ran into the park. Barber blew on his signal whistle for help. This stopped the fugitives suddenly.

The smaller man of the two turned and ran at Officer Barber ferociously. He pulled a big Colt revolver from his pocket as he ran.

"D—— you, you have brought this on yourself!" he yelled, fleing point-blank at Barber.

The latter fell, mortally wounded, just as two mounted policemen, attracted by his whistle, dashed up.

Seeing that in all probability he was beyond all earthly aid they got on their horses again and spurred forward after the negroes.

Jackson Shot Dead.

They came up with them at the edge of a dense growth of underbrush. Both fugitives stopped suddenly, turned on their pursuers and fired point blank.

The mounted men returned the fire. Jackson dropped in his tracks and Thomas disappeared in the underbrush. The mounted policemen could not follow him. They returned and took Barber into Philadelphia, and also the corpse of Jackson.

A large force of policemen with bloodhounds at once started in the woods about Tacony hunting for Thomas.

From marks of blood on the green award it was seen that he had been severely wounded.

Thomas Captured.

The search was continued, and finally Officer Smith stumbledeon Thomas and threatened to shoot holes through him on the spot if he offered any resistance. The negro was unarmed, having thrown his pistol away. He was taken to the Tacony sub-station, where he told the story of the escape, but put the blame of everything that took place on his dead comrade. He identified the body of Jackson. He said that Jackson was better off dead than alive. His statement was sworn to, and he was taken the Central Police Headquarters.

Although the convicts had taken over $75 in money and $800 in negotiable securities when they escaped, but $1 and a few pennies were found on their persons.

Jackson's body was removed to the morgue, and Thomas was locked up in the City Hall. Keeper Patterson, of Trenton, has fully identified the two men.

The Old Keeper Dying.

TRENTON, N. J., May 31.—Capt. Parker who was sanbagged by the two negroes, was reported much worse when a reporter called at his residence, 96 Dey street, this morning. He is gradually growing feebler, and it is feared that he will die.

KILLED HIS MAN.

Terrible Conflict Between an Italian and a Policeman.

PUNXSUTAWNY, Pa., May 31.—During a fight between Italians, among themselves in a store here, citizens interfered, putting the Italians out. Vincenzo Feraro ran up the street, revolver in hand, threatening to shoot anyone interfering with him.

Policeman McGovern met the Italian, ordering him to put up his revolver. He replied by firing at the officer. The officer returned the fire. Several shots were exchanged on both sides. Feraro finally fell dead shot through the stomach. McGovern's coat and waistcoat were pierced by a bullet, but he was unhurt. Feraro leaves a widow and five children in Italy.

Overcome by the Heat.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Several persons were overcome by the heat. At 6 o'clock last evening a man employed by Cardan & Crowley, contractors, was overcome by the heat at Harrison and Morgan streets. He was taken to the county hospital in an unconscious condition and it is thought he will die. About the same hour a laborer on his way home from his work was sunstruck on Halstead street, and dropped unconscious to the sidewalk. He was also taken to the county hospital.

—It was a great day for all the liverymen, yesterday, but Higgins of East Fourth street, was the most extensively patronized of them all. He has the handsomest line of turnouts in the city, including a hard wood buckboard surrey that is very stylish, and a London cart with a big grey horse in the shafts, that is particularly swell. He also has a surrey with high backed seats, that cuts under like a park phæton, and is a particular favorite with the ladies. Every one of his horses and carriages were on the roads, yesterday.

"Don't Mention It!"

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Choral Society held the 19th instant, a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to the press of this city for the many cordial and gratuitous notices which have appeared therein regarding the society and its work during the past season.

NELSON RUNYON, Sec'y.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.

Charles, the six-year-old son of Mr. Wm. Beiter of East Front street, fell in the race way in the rear of his father's home on Thursday afternoon, and only escaped drowning by the timely arrival of Mr. Geo. Clark, one of Mr. A. M. Griffen's employees, who rescued the boy just as he was about to disapper for the third time.

Just to Remind Young Men.

LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

The Seventh Annual Meet in This City Yesterday.

Over one hundred bicyclists attended the seventh annual meet of the New Jersey Division, League of American Wheelmen, held in this city yesterday, representing clubs in Trenton, Tuckerton, Asbury Park, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Rahway, Paterson and other places. Lack of space prevents a publication of the business metting until the next issue of THE PRESS.

In the afternoon the annual bicycle parade took place, over the route published in THE PRESS There were 150 handsomely uniformed riders. A banquet was subsequently served at Hotel Neterwood.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The father of Dr. T. S. Davis, whose serious illness THE PRESS recently spoke of, is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Hallock have moved into their handsome home on Willow avenue.

Mrs. J. H. Force and Mrs. L. Prescott, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. Carman Dunn, at Philadelphia.

Mr. Thomas Chamberlin, an employee of the Potter Press Works, sailed for Europe today for the benefit of his health.

At the M. E. parsonage in New Providence, N. J., on April 19, 1890, Ella C. Dunning of Plainfield, was united in marriage to Frederick Sandford also of this city.

Gottlieb Fritz, a well-known resident of North Plainfield, died yesterday, after a brief illness from a complication of diseases. Mr. Fritz was 69 years of age, and was a butcher by trade.

To-morrow only one service will be held in the German Reformed church, on Craig place, North Plainfield. It will be at 10:30 A. M., and in connection will be held the funeral service over the remains of the late Gottlieb Fritz. No service in the evening.

Veteran Thomas M. McDonald deposited his annual offering on the grave of his late comrade, Joseph L. Force, in the Presbyterian cemetery, yesterday morning, in the shape of a wreath of flowers. Mr. Force was a member of Company I., of this city.

Civil Engineer, C. H. Schermerhorn, son of Western Union Manager Schermerhorn, who has made Vicksburg, Miss., his home for the last four years, has been prostrated with jaundice, the result of too close application to duty, and also in consequence of the extreme heat. Through the advice of his physician, Dr. O'Leary, he is testing the qualities of the mineral water at Cooper's Well, Hinds county, Miss., and is now slowly improving.

Mr. A. B. Myers, a well known resident of Scotch Plains, died this morning at the home of his son-in-law, John M. Marsh, of a complication of diseases. He formerly resided in Washington Valley, where he owned a farm until several years ago, when his health failed, forcing him to give up farming and to make his home with his son-in-law. He leaves two daughters—Mrs. John Marsh of Scotch Plains, and Mrs. John Johnson of Netherwood.

"Baby McKee" Lost.

In the federation race of homing pigeons from Manassas, Va., yesterday, there was entered "Baby McKee," from THE PRESS' loft. It was a beautiful red-checker with a frill down its chest, and was the pride of the loft. But it has not come home as yet.

The weather was bad for flying, and the time was slow. The birds were released at 9:30 A. M. James Ingram, of North Plainfield, had two in the race, and the first reached home at 3:57. Captain Benj. Doane, F. R. Stevens and J. Hervey Doane, also had birds in the race, but their's came home later. Dr. Johnson and Mr. Lambertson, of Keyport, and Messrs Kiggins and Tucker, of Elizabeth, also entered birds.

Some of the others besides "Baby McKee," have not reached home yet and are anxiously awaited. The trouble with THE PRESS entry was that as usual. THE PRESS aimed to do more than had been done before, and entered one of its birds in a 200 mile race, that had never flown but 30 miles.

IT BEATS ALL KNOWN FLYS.

Since the above was written, "Baby McKee" has returned. It flew in THE PRESS loft just before noon today, looking very tired. Its feat of coming home from a 170 mile jump is believed to be unequalled.

Officers of the Auxiliary Board.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital, held May 28, the following ladies were elected for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT—Mrs. M. E. Edgerton.
VICE PRESIDENT—Mrs. Rowland Cox.
SECRETARY—Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson.
TREASURER—Mrs. S. Huntington.
AUDITORS—Mrs. W. E. Lowe, Miss Mary Tweedy.

Tis True!

Plainfield excels in everything! It is the healthiest and most beautiful city within a hundred miles of New York! It has the best ball team in the State, and it has more pretty girls to the square foot than any other city within a thousand miles of anywhere!

MEMORIAL DAY.

HOW IT WAS OBSERVED IN THIS CITY.

The Parade and the Exercises in Music Hall—An Address by the Rev Mr. Stewart of Easton—Other Details.

Yesterday was a red letter day among the Grand Army men, and the day was fittingly observed by them. During the early morning hours details from Winfield Scott and Major Anderson Posts were escorted to the various cemeteries and the graves of the dead heroes were strewn with flowers. At 9.30 o'clock the parade took place over the route published in THE PRESS of Wednesday. The procession was headed by the Plainfield Cornet Band, followed by first Marshall, Wm. C. Smith, members of the Joint Retail, the Grand Army Posts and other societies, stages for disabled soldiers and sailors, Woman's Relief Corps No. 10, and the children who subsequently took part in the exercises at Music Hall.

When the procession arrived at Music Hall, the Grand Army men marched in and took seats in the orchestra circle. The hall was comfortably filled, many in the audience being women and children.

Propertyman W. R. Mattox had exerted himself in setting a handsome woodland scene, while in front on the stage muskets were stacked at convenient points, and flags, bunting and flowers formed the other platform decorations.

When the curtain arose it was upon a scene of beauty and splendor, tiers of children who constituted the chorus being seated lengthwise of the stage. Commander Charles B. Stevens of Winfield Scott Post, presided, and after the band played a selection, "America," the Rev. L. E Livermore of New Market led in prayer. The chorus sang "Before All Lands," and the Rev. Mr. Livermore delivered the address of welcome, during which he complimented Winfield Scott and Major Anderson Posts upon their joining together in holding Memorial Day services. The usual post exercises were conducted by the Commander, after which the chorus sang "Deck Their Graves With Green," some of the children marching to the front of the platform and depositing flowers at the base of a cenotaph.

Miss Renoff of Brooklyn, gave a clear and distinct recitation, after which the Rev. E. H. Stewart of Easton, Pa., was introduced as the orator of the day. The speaker, during his address, took occasion to eulogize the New Jersey soldiers as being among the bravest and the best. He also spoke in eulogy of Scott, Anderson, Grant and other distinguished leaders, at the mention of whose names the Grand Army men applauded. Mr. Stewart gave a vivid history of the past, and alluded in fitting terms to the children, whom he said are learning the lessons of patriotism, which are as necessary as the lessons of the Gospel; the floral tribute signifies that the memory of the past shall be perpetuated for all time. He admonished the veterans who are not members of the Grand Army of the Republic, to identify themselves with the Order; patriotism, he considered, should be shown in the pulpit, for patriotism and religion go hand in hand. The South, today, the speaker concluded, is worth three times more than ever before, and today the American flag floats over the home of the free and the land of the brave.

The chorus sang "Mustered Out One By One," and Master Arthur Smith gave a recitation. Miss Renoff sang a patriotic song, after which the the audience joined in singing "America," and the exercises closed with a grand tableaux, "America surrounded by her Army and Navy," arranged by Comrade W. R. Mattox, the Rev. Mr. Livermore pronouncing the benediction.

Miss Alida Day also gave a patriotic recitation, that was loudly applauded.

The orator of the day, Miss Renoff and others who took part were presented with handsome bouquets by the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, and at the close of the service the children were provided with refreshments in the basement of Music Hall.

In the afternoon the Grand Army men went to Scotch Plains and Westfield, and decorated the graves in the cemeteries of those places.

The minstrel entertainment at Music Hall, last evening, under the supervision of Elliott W. Johnson, of Jersey City, and the Hudson County Wheelmen, must have been a treat even to George Thatcher. The music, vocally and instrumentally, was as good, and the wit, as a whole, somewhat better than that afforded by professional organizations.

Messrs Distelhurst's, Averill's and Shaw's solos, were most enjoyable, the topical songs were received with great enthusiasm, and in fact the entire first part from the opening overture to the finale by the "Dandy Waiters," was an entire success. Prof. R. H. Mohr, as a ventriloquist, cannot be equalled; Mr. Will Lyle, in a "Social Call," was encored until he could appear no more; while "Doc" Johnson's skirt dance was a marvel of make-up and a remarkable impersonation—it was Letty Lind, music, ankles, divided-skirts and all.

Injured at Scott's

A machinist named Burrows, who is employed at the Scott Press Works, met with a painful accident while at work on Thursday afternoon. In some unexplained manner the man run a file through the palm of his right hand. A physician dressed the wound.

Reform Club Meeting.

Like its predecessors, the Reform Club meeting last Thursday evening was an occasion of decided interest. After a choice piano duet at the hands of Miss Alice Smith and one of her musical pupils, a reading by Judge Harper, and a song by Mr. G. H. Fountaine, an appointed question for the evening, involving the relative detrimental effects of tobacco and liquor upon the human system, was taken up and discussed with animation by Messrs Lanphear, Angleman, Burnett, Fountaine, A. Titsworth, Bauersachs and Marcley.

"A May Morning of Song."

The magnificent country seat of John Taylor Johnston, ex-President of the Central Railroad of New Jersey on East Front street, was the scene of a brilliant society event, "A May Morning of Song," yesterday. The Mendelssohn Society, of which Miss Johnston is a member, gave a concert and banquet on the lawn. Among the artists were Mrs. Charlotte F. Kennan, Mrs. Gerrit Smith, H.E. Dilstenhurst, Francis Fisher Powers and Lena Toms. Many from New York and this city were present.

The entering wedge of a complaint that may prove fatal is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. It would be well, therefore, to keep this remedy within reach at all times.

DR. ESTEBROOKE

Will return to Plainfield on Monday, June 2. His painless method of extracting teeth won him renown last January. Dr. C. R. Thiers recommends him as a careful dentist, and invites the public to witness his success in operations of dentistry during the week following June 2, at 22 W. Front street. 5-29-tf

THEY CAN'T LOSE!

The Crescent League Team's Base Ball Victories Still Continue.

A thousand people, yesterday, witnessed the Crescent League's ball team add two more to its unbroken list of victories since its organization of April 30. The visitors were the celebrated Flushings of Long Island, and the renowned Monroes of Brooklyn. They were beaten in eight innings as usual, by the scores below.

The morning game was one of the finest. Gregg, a new pitcher on trial, was rather wild, and both the visitors' runs were made by men who had been given their first base on balls. The marvellous strength of the Crescent team outside of the pitcher's box, was proven in yesterday morning's seventh inning. Only three balls were pitched and the Flushings were out—Daly on a foul to Jones, McGiveny on a fly to Martin, and Pinkerton by Lufbery's stop and throw to Wiegand. Third baseman Williams of the Somervilles, played one of his usual magnificent games for the Flushings. The score:

The Monroes were slaughtered in the opening inning of the afternoon's game. Martin had a three base hit, Wiegand a two-bagger and Lufbery and Jones singles, and seven runs was netted as a beginning. After that the Crescents took all sorts of impossible chances in the way of base stealing, and kept their score down to 14 runs. Shaw, another pitcher on trial, struck out 13 of the Monroes. He proved himself at least as good a man as Gregg. But the Crescents do not seem to have found a pitcher yet fit to travel in their company. The score:

Mayor Place Warns Dog Owners.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I desire to call the attention of residents of the Borough who own or have dogs under their control to the ordinance concerning them, which provides "That it shall be lawful for, and the duty of any Marshal of said Borough to catch or cause to be caught all unmuzzled dogs running at large in said Borough during the months of June, July, August and September." The ordinance also provides for killing all dogs caught. I may add that no matter where the dog belongs—whether in the Borough or elsewhere—if found unmuzzled without its owner, will be subject to the law. In view of the fact that several dogs have been running mad in our vicinity recently, and that the warm weather will soon be upon us, all owners, it is hoped, will see to it that their dogs are properly muzzled when allowed in the streets.

All Borough Marshals have instructions to strictly enforce the ordinance.

CHAS. PLACE, Mayor.

An ugly complexion made Nellie a fright.
Her face was all pimply and red.
Though her features were good, and her blue eyes were bright,
"What a plain girl is Nellie!" they said.

But now, as by magic, plain Nellie has grown,
As fair as an artist's bright dream;
Her face is as sweet as a flower new-blown,
Her cheeks are like peaches and cream.

As Nellie walks out in the fair morning light,
Her beauty attracts every eye,
And as for the people who called her a fright,
"Why, Nellie is handsome," they cry.

And the reason of the change is that Nellie took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which regulated her liver, cleared her complexion, made her blood pure, her breath sweet, her face fair and rosy, and removed the defects that had obscured her beauty. Sold by druggists.

NEW JERSEY DRUGGISTS.

They Say They Do Not Habitually Violate the Liquor Law.

The New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association held it twentieth annual convention in Wood's Hall, Jersey City, Wednesday. Messrs Reynolds and Shaw represented Plainfield. President Henry P. Thorn of Medford presided. Mayor Cleveland made a speech of welcome. In his annual address President Thorn said he had made a personal investigation of the charges that druggists habitually violated the liquor law, and in general he had found reports of violation greatly exaggerated.

"In Asbury Park," he said, "I found a number of druggists who had opened stores there merely for the purpose of violating the liquor law and satisfying the appetite of tipplers in the absence of regular saloons. The druggists who carry on this nefarious business, however, are in many cases not licensed pharmacists, and have no honorable standing in the profession."

The Committee on Liquor Traffic recommended a strict observance of the Werts law of 1889. Under it no druggist can sell liquor except on a physician's certificate. In the afternoon the wives of the members were taken in charge by local committees and treated to a drive through Central Park. Last night there was an entertainment in the hall. At today's session new officers will be elected.

Cricket Match.

Yesterday afternoon the "Veterans" of Brooklyn and the St. George's of this city played a match game of cricket on Spooner avenue and Fourth street, the St. George's winning by an inning and 42 runs. Several hundred people witnessed the game. The score is as follows:

Thieves at Westfield.

On Thursday night the coal office of John S Irving on Central avenue, was entered by thieves. Mr. Irving has wires connecting the office with the home of Mr. Dougherty, a neighbor. The electric bell gave an alarm and Mr. Dougherty got up in time to see a man get out of the window of the office and run down the railroad track.

On the same night the drug store of Dr. Gale on Broad street was entered through a window in the rear of the hall. When the Doctor got up in the morning he found his clothing and that of his son strewn around the parlor floor. Several bureau drawers had also been opened and their contents disturbed, but nothing of importance was taken. The safe door stood open and the contents of the safe were scattered around the store. The safe was not locked nor was there any money in it. The contents of one of the show cases had been disturbed and a box of cigars and a package of knives taken. The thief or thieves were evidently looking for money.

Warren Mission Wants to Give Its Members an Excursion.

On Thursday evening, June 5, the Mission will give an entertainment for the benefit of the excursion fund, it being the desire and purpose of the officers and teachers to give the scholars connected with the school an excursion without cost to its members. They ask the assistance of all their friends in this object. Tickets 25 cents, to be obtained from members of the school or at the door on evening of entertainment.

The prevalence of scrofulous taint in the blood is much more universal than many are aware. Indeed, but few persons are free from it. Fortunately, however, we have in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most potent remedy ever discovered for this terrible affliction.

Corner Stone Laying.

The corner stone of the new St. Joseph's church at Bound Brook, will be laid with impressive ceremonies to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. Bishop O'Farrell of Trenton and other priests from adjoining parishes will be present and take part in the exercises.

—The Grand Officers of the State will pay a visit to Easter Lodge, No. 3542, K. of H., on Monday evening.

TERRIBLE DISASTER

A Crowded Passenger Car Plunges Into the River.

BLUNDER OF A BRIDGE-KEEPER.

He Neglected to Signal the Train When the Draw Was Opened.

Over Thirty People Drowned or Killed—Thirteen Bodies Recovered—Desperate Struggle of Women and Children in the Water—The Calamity Witnessed by a Number of River Men.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 31.—The carelessness of a bridge-keeper on the narrow gauge railroad led to the fatal plunge of an engine and one car into a creek and a terrible loss of life. Twenty bodies have been recovered and as many more are missing. The narrow gauge train connected with the 1:45 p. m. train from San Francisco, and in the three cars were about 150 passengers. As the train neared the Webster street draw-bridge, the passengers who looked out of the window were amazed to see the draw open. The train came round the sharp curve at high speed before the engineer could materially slacken speed.

The yacht Juniata had just passed through, and the bridge-keeper made a desperate effort to close the draw, but without success. Luckily the weight of the engine and the first coach broke the train in two and the rest of it was saved.

Removing the Bodies.

The top of the coach was finally cut open and the work of removing the bodies commenced, ten bodies being taken out in quick succession. Conductor Rerath was seen directly after the accident and said: "In all probability twenty-five women and children have perished."

Three women and three girls were taken from the water alive and removed to the hospital. Another young lady died soon after being taken from the water. News of the accident created intense excitement at Oakland and thousands of people flocked to the morgue and to the scene of the wreck. The body of E. P. Robinson, which was among those taken from the hole cut in the roof of the car, was among the first removed. The bodies of six men and and two women were brought in soon after, some of the bodies being at first left at the receiving hospital, where the injured were also taken. In a short time thirteen bodies lay on the floor and on marble slats awaiting identification.

The Fatal Plunge.

The engineer was Sam Dunn, the fireman Charles O'Brien, and the conductor Ed. Rerath. Of this trio, Rerath escaped through being in the hind part of the train. It is rumored that Dunn and O'Brien jumped and swam to safety, but it is not believed, as neither has yet been seen.

When the coach fell through it went completely under water, but a number of passengers crawled through the windows and escaped. The majority of passengers in the coach were women and children. From the broken half of the train the passengers swarmed out, women shrieking and men half frantic, although there was no occasion for their fears, as the car was securely wedged in by the woodwork at the approach to the bridge.

The car which had followed the engine to the bottom of the muddy estuary soon rose, and such of the passengers as had escaped therefrom were picked up by yachts and small boats which gathered on the scene.

When those were all picked up, the boats gathered about the car, where thirty or forty women and children lay suffocating beneath the water. They could do little or nothing, as it took several minutes to tear open the roof of the coach.

List of the Identified Dead.

The following is the list of the identified dead: Martin Kelly, of Oakland; A. H. Austin, of Austin & Phelps, San Francisco; Miss Florence Austin; Mrs. O'Bryan O'Connor, of San Francisco; J. B. Irwin, of Oakland; E. R. Robinson of San Francisco; Luigi Maelesta of San Francisco; Capt. John Dwyer, of Sacramento; Mr. Williams, of San Francisco; H. W. Auld (colored), of Honolulu; two Misses Keenan, of San Francisco; H. Maiorta, a Japanese boy, of San Francisco.

DEATH FOR PANITZA.

The Conspirators Against Prince Ferdinand Sentenced.

LONDON, May 31.—There was great excitement at Sofia when the court which has been trying Major Panitza and his companions for conspiring against Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, concluded its labors.

Six of the prisoners were acquitted. The sentence of the court for Panitza is death, but it is hinted that Prince Ferdinand will commute the Major's sentence from death to imprisonment for 15 years.

Of the other conspirators, Kalabkoff is sentenced to nine years and Amandoff and Rizoff to six years' imprisonment each.

Shot Himself After Leaving Jail.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 31.—James Shaughnessy, aged 25 years, who has been in jail since last January for abusing his wife, was released a few days ago. Last evening he went to his home and was refused admittance. He stepped out on the sidewalk, drew a revolver and shot himself in the abdomen. He will die.

Assaulted by a Negro.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Francis Moran, a sporting man, was attacked in Bennett's saloon, Sixth avenue and Thirty-second street, last night by a negro, and had his skull fractured and his face terribly cut. He will probably die. His assailant escaped. Moran was drunk at the time. Mike Coburn, brother of the pugilist, was arrested as a witness of the affray.

Champion Tennis Player of the World.

DUBLIN, May 31.—A big crowd witnessed the last game in the tennis match for $250 a side and the championship of the world between Thomas Pettitt of Boston and Charles Saunders, champion of England. It was won by Pettitt, who was declared champion of the world amid great applause.

DINED BY AMERICANS.

Four Hundred Guests Greet Stanley at the American Legation in London.

LONDON, May 31.—The banquet given in honor of Henry M. Stanley, at the American Legation last night, was one of the most notable of the many complimentary entertainments of which the explorer has been the recipient since his return to England.

Nearly four hundred guests were present, including the entire American Legation and Consulate. Among the more prominent of the guests were Mr. James Whistler, Max O'Reli, Paul du Chaillu, and five members of the New York and London banking family of Seligman. The remainder of those present comprised the leading American residents and sojourners in London.

The special guest of the occasion was more prompt in arriving than has been his custom at previous gatherings in his honor, and appeared less reticent and exclusive than usual.

In his speech in reply to the toast to the guest of the evening Mr. Stanley disappointed his hearers by making no mention, whatsoever, of the question of his citizenship, since everybody has evinced curiosity to observe whether he will feel himself at liberty to accept any title or other mark of distinction which it may please the Queen to bestow upon him. Mr. Stanley is now an American citizen, though born a subject of the Queen, and no one is as yet informed as to whether he is at liberty to avail himself of Her Majesty's gracious intentions toward him, nor indeed whether or not he still regards himself as an American.

Mr. Stanley's remarks, as well as his manner, were not particularly impressive until he proceeded to refer to the recent reply of Lord Salisbury to his assertions that the Government was throwing away her chances in Africa, through apathy, while Germany was improving hers. In the allusions of the Premier to himself Mr. Stanley became animated in manner and forcible in speech.

VIOLATING LABOR LAWS.

Boss Carpenters in Trouble Over Employing Canadian Workmen.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A dispatch from Chicago says the joint Congressional Committee on Immigration and Naturalization has completed its labor in that city and has gone to St. Louis, possibly to return again to Chicago next week to continue the investigation into the importation of contract labor.

The last witness before the Committee in Chicago furnished the sensation of the day. This was William Goldie, President of the Master Carpenters and Builders' Association.

He admitted that the Association had advertised in Canadian papers for carpenters, but claimed that no contracts were made with any of the immigrants until after they had arrived in the city. He denied that agents for the Association had been sent to Canada for the purpose of securing carpenters. It is stated authoritatively by those who have the matter in charge that a number of arrests of members of the Carpenters and Builders' Association will be made next week.

Reckless Shooting by Veterans.

NEW YORK, May 31.—While some veterans of Garfield Post were shooting at a target, in the rear of the saloon at 1691 Second avenue, a stray shot struck and probably fatally wounded Miss Mary Gunther, who lived in a neighboring house. Four veterans and the saloon keeper were arrested.

Eleven Lives Lost.

BERLIN, May 31.—Five persons were killed by lightning at Hamburg, and six children were killed by the falling of a swing at a kindergarten in the village of Reimskindorf.

RESCUED IN TIME
Twelve Men Taken from a Sinking Ship.
TRANSFERRED IN MID-OCEAN.
A Thrilling Story of Disaster on the High Seas.

The Leaking Norwegian Bark Louis Abandoned — The Crew Sighted After All Hope Had Departed — The Captain Knocked Down by a Great Wave and His Shoulder Dislocated.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The steamship Exeter City, of the Bristol line, came into port from Swansea last night, carrying Capt. J. Heppermeke and the crew of ten men of the Norwegian bark Louis, which was abandoned at sea on May 19. Capt. Heppermeke was seen on the Exeter City last night at the foot of Twenty-sixth street, North river. He said that the Louis sailed from Ostend for Cienfuegos, in ballast, early in May. Fair weather was encountered until the 10th, when a heavy gale set in which lasted nine consecutive days.

During that time the crew had a very hard time to keep the vessel afloat. The canvass was all carried away and the ballast began to shift. This caused the vessel to be buffeted about by the waves, and she soon sprang aleak. The two pumps, worked by a patent windmill, failed to carry off the water that poured into the hold. It became evident that the craft would have to be abandoned, so signals of distress were set flying.

The last day the crew were aboard the sea was very high. A huge wave which washed over the deck caught the captain and knocked him down. The force of the shock was such as to dislocate his arm. As soon as the crew saw that the captain was disabled they became greatly excited. While debating what ought to be done the Exeter City hove in sight.

Captain Weiss, seeing the signals of distress, sent off Second Officer Burrell to see what could be done for the crew. Mr. Burrell soon returned with the intention of all on board to abandon the vessel. Captain Weiss then went to the bark, bound up Captain Heppermeke's arm and had him lowered into the steamer's boat. The crew and all their effects, with the ship's papers and glasses were then taken aboard the steamer.

A sign was placed on the mast saying that the crew had been rescued by the Exeter City, and asking that the vessel be reported. Captain Heppermeke and his crew will be sent back to Norway by the Norwegian Consul. The Louis was about thirty years old and valued at $5,000.

The Exeter City had a pretty rough voyage on the way to this city. There was a succession of gales, and at times the glass was down to 28.90. Capt. Weiss said that he came far south to escape the ice and rough weather, but it seemed to him that the vessels that came further north made much better time and had better weather.

Wind Storms in Virginia.

PETERSBURG, Va., June 2.—A terrible wind, hail and rain storm passed over Dinwiddie county, about twenty miles from Petersburg last night. The woods for miles are covered with timbers of barns and fences which were swept away by the wind. Crops are destroyed, and the fruit trees in many of the orchards were completely ruined. Immense forest trees were uprooted and their branches twisted into all kinds of shapes. It is feared that much other damage not yet reported has been done by the storm.

Two Prisoners Escape.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 2.—Two prisoners escaped from the Ontario county jail at Canandaigua on Saturday night. They are Robert, or "Sport" Noonan, the well-known character, who was serving a term for drunkenness, and Edward Wilson, in for petty larceny. The escape was made by sawing two bars from a cell window.

Immigrants Held.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The contract labor inspectors at the Barge Office prevented seven Belgian glass-blowers from landing. The men all have tickets for Glassboro, N. J. They answered the inspectors' questions so glibly as to show that they had been coached by some one on the other side. Their cases will be carefully investigated.

Bethlehem's Memorial Pavilion.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 2.—The memorial pavilion, children's ward, erected to the son of Merritt, the late son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilbur, has been formally presented to St. Luke's Hospital. It cost $40,000. The presentation was made with impressive services, according to the Episcopal Church.

A Flatiron was His Weapon.

TRENTON, N. J., June 2.—Matthew Dugan, a young unmarried man, died from a fracture of the skull caused by a blow from a flatiron thrown at him by William J. Haddock, a printer, during an altercation two weeks ago. Haddock will be held pending the action of the coroner's jury, which meets to-day.

Another Colliery Resumes Work.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 2.—The Reading's Monitor Colliery opened to-day after five months idleness. Four hundred persons are employed.

Count Herbert Bismarck to Marry.

LONDON, June 2.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Paris says that Count Herbert Bismarck is engaged to marry the eldest daughter of Lady Dudley.

THE LOTTERY FIGHT.
The Antis Already Claiming a Victory in Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A special from New Orleans says that the Governor has ordered an election for Representative of the Twelfth district of New Orleans, vice Phillips, absconded.

There are five lottery candidates for the nomination and this makes the nomination of the anti-lottery man certain if all five stay on the track.

The vacancy caused by the death of Dr. McCullough, of Texas, a lottery man, has been filled by the election of Snyder, lottery, who has taken his seat.

Grady, of the Third Ward of New Orleans, lottery, is lying desperately ill. If he dies his successor will be anti-lottery.

The successor to the seat of the deceased Senator Barrow from the Felicianas will be an anti-lottery man.

It is now all over but the shouting as the antis have one-third of both Houses, who cannot be shaken, while it takes only one-third of either House to balk the lottery scheme.

REPORTED FRAUDS.
Grave Charges Against New Jersey's Bureau of Animal Industry.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Charges of the gravest and most sensational character have been made in a formal appeal to Congress through Representative McAdoo, of New Jersey, asking for a thorough investigation of the operations of the agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry in the counties of Hudson and Bergen, New Jersey.

The allegations are made in writing by C. A. Dunham, an attorney of Hudson County, whose responsibility is vouched for by Representative McAdoo. As the result of these charges a resolution calling for an investigation is being prepared and will be introduced in the House within a day or two.

The Public Bar Law.

BOSTON, June 2.—The first case brought by the Police Commissioners to test the "no public bar law" has been decided in the Civil side of the Municipal Court. It was that of C. W. H. Sanborn, who keeps a restaurant on North Market street, and who is licensed to sell liquors and does sell them over a counter and at tables to his customers whether food is ordered or not. The case is brought by agreement between the Commissioners and Sanborn for the express purpose of obtaining a definition of the law, Sanborn having made no change in his methods of doing business since the issuance of the famous order. Judge Hardy adjudged Sanborn guilty and imposed a fine of $100 and costs. Sanborn appealed and the case will be tried at the June term.

Railroad Employes Injured.

MONICO JUNCTION, Wis, June 2.—A terrible accident happened to a crew of section men here last night. There were seven on the hand-car returning to the station for supper. They were going fast and one wheel of the car broke. It threw the three who were in front across the track with terrible force, and the car passed over them. Albert Wynan, a 14-year-old boy was instantly killed. Fred Kroll, the foreman, was terribly injured by the cog wheel passing over him and will die. Herman Pulinski had his leg broken and foot crushed. The others were hurled off the car, but escaped serious injury.

Canadians Interested in the McKinley Bill.

TORONTO, Ont., June 2.—The prospect that, owing to the decision of the Senate committee to consider the McKinley Tariff bill in the full committee the measure will not be passed this session has given general satisfaction to barley dealers in Toronto. The farmers have a large crop in, and if the bill goes over till next session it will mean that this year's crop may be marketed without the large loss the advanced duty would entail. By the time the measure does become a law the bill to prevent the adulteration of beer will probably have passed, in which case the market for Canada barley will be assured.

The Buffalo Strike.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 2.—There is every indication that the outside carpenters will be drawn into the mill hands strike. The mill owners at another meeting decided to resist their men's demand. In addition it is said that they will require their outside carpenters to work ten hours instead of nine. The outside men have been working nine hours under an agreement which expires to day. Should the mill owners take this action, between 1,400 and 1,500 carpenters will go out

Death of W. A. Smith.

BOSTON, June 2.—Private telegrams announce the death at Seattle, Washington, on May 29 of the Rev. W. A. Smith, formerly pastor of the Perkin Street Baptist Church, East Somerville. It will be remembered that much trouble was brought about in the Baptist denomination through a conflict among members of that society, and that the character of the reverend gentleman was attacked.

Bishop Potter Will be the Orator.

BOSTON, June 2.—Rt. Rev. Bishop Potter, of New York, is to be the orator at the Phi Beta Kappa dinner at Harvard on commencement day. The poet will be R. W. G. Gilder, of the Century. Col. T. W. Higginson is to preside. Among the distinguished men who have signified their intention to be present at the dinner is ex-President Cleveland.

Stanley's Lecturing Tour.

LONDON, June 2.—Henry M. Stanley will visit the United States in the autumn. It is his intention to deliver lectures in most of the principal cities of this country.

AFTER THE PENNANT
Boston and Philadelphia the Leading Cities.
BROOKLYN'S PLUCKY FIGHT.
The Interest in the Struggle Has Been Materially Increased.

Comparing the Playing Qualities of the Two Leagues—Talk About the Atlantic Association—Ewing's Giants Coming to the Front—Score of Yesterday's Games. Records of the Clubs.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The races for the pennants of the various associations goes bravely on, and there is unmistakable evidence shown that the interest in the struggles has been materially increased. The attendance at the games last week was twice as large as during any other week of the present eventful season.

In the Players' League race the clubs hold the same positions as they did last Monday, Boston being in the lead and Buffalo acting as the whipper-in.

Although the Beaneaters are setting a lively pace, the plucky Brooklyn team continues to keep close behind.

Ewing's Giants are also playing a plucky game, and are a good third and coming up fast.

The Atlantic Association threatened, it is alleged, to hurl a fire brand into the camp of the National Agreement Clubs this week by breaking away and joining the Brotherhood forces. This faction arose over the decision in the Pettit case rendered by the Board of Arbitration. This player had accepted terms with the Milwaukee Club, which purchased his release from the Torontos. As he received no contract from the Western club by April 1, according to the usual custom, he considered himself eligible to sign elsewhere, and Manager Burnham, who is always willing to take advantage of any possible point, signed his name to a contract. The matter was referred to the Board of Arbitration and decided against the New Havens. As this club had lost one or two players previously this season on technicalities, the manager felt sore over the decision and threatened to use the Association as a club to break up the National Agreement. Fortunately the Atlantic Association, like the majority of other organizations, is not ruled by a few hot-headed men, and the other clubs refused to listen to the idea of secession, and Secretary Broden so declared as soon as he received official authority. Thus another sensation was very quickly exploded.

During the past two weeks New York supporters of baseball have had opportunities of comparing the playing qualities of the various League and Brotherhood teams. The Chicagos and Cincinnatis have given a good account of themselves. Anson left here with only one victory, but with one smile from Dame Fortune he would have broken even. That the Chicagos are playing the same game of former years, as a team, there is little doubt.

The Cincinnatis opened the series here with a rush. The battery work of Rhines and Harrington demonstrated that the words of praise received by them since they entered the League were well deserved. Rhines has pitched marvelous ball in holding the Bostons down to three scattered singles and giving the Brooklyns only four hits. This, too, without the slightest knowledge of the qualities of the men he was facing. Now that he has studied their peculiarities he will likely prove a greater enigma than ever. The batteries are well supported in the field with Marr and Beard at short and third, and Nichol and Knight in the outfield.

As for the Clevelands's work, no apology is necessary. Manager Schmelt has as promising a set of young men as can be found anywhere.

They are all ambitious, hard workers, and the majority of them are playing a game equal to the veterans. Cleveland needs a few more pitchers of the Beatin stamp.

In the Brotherhood none of the Western clubs have surprised the natives, unless it is through their inability to play winning ball.

But if the Western Brotherhood clubs have not struck their gait yet, the Eastern clubs certainly have. The local club has made a remarkable rally at the bat and the pitchers are rapidly getting into prime condition.

A Gigantic Swindle.

NEW YORK, June 2.—A dispatch from Sioux Falls, S. D., says the Western Union swindle in South Dakota is assuming gigantic proportions. The latest reports are that Blood of Aberdeen was the chief conspirator, and that he had established along the Milwaukee railroad going in and out of Aberdeen a code of signals by which he was enabled to do a great deal of his work. Nothing particularly new has developed in the Mannix part of the interview. When asked if there was any truth in the rumor that he was going to sue the Western Union for $50,000, he refused to answer directly but acknowledged there might be some truth in the statement.

The Schoolship's First Voyage.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The schoolship Saratoga sailed from the breakwater for her first sea voyage. She has 103 boys on board, and will visit Fayal, Southampton, Lisbon, Madeira and other points, returning here about October.

The Mine Full of Gas.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 2.—The fire bosses at the Stanton Mine, operated by the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company, reported the mine so full of gas as to be unsafe. Work was ordered suspended for the present.

BY THE WAY.

—The census enumerators started out on their rounds today.

—The sweet girl graduate is already making her daily visitation to the dressmakers.

—A great many owners of dogs seem to ignore the ordinance in regard to the muzzling of canines.

—The liveryman rubs his hands in glee these fine Sundays. The store clerks leave a week's salary with him.

—The City Council will hold its regular June meeting, this evening, when business of a routine nature will be transacted.

—The city jail was yesterday filled with prisoners for the first time since the arrest of the firebugs, about three years ago.

—Every member of Easter Lodge, Knights of Honor, should be at the lodge room to-night. The Grand Officers will be present.

—A garter snake about two-and-a-half feet in length was killed on Grant avenue, yesterday afternoon. The reptile made no resistance.

—On Thursday next and every Thursday during the month of June, services will be held in St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock P. M.

—Police Captain Grant, it is claimed, does more actual walking in the course of a day, looking for evil doers, than ex-Captain Carey did in a week.

—Several new and attractive stages were shipped from Athens, Pa, today, which are to be used in connection with Higgins' stage line in this city.

—The semi-annual election of officers of the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., will be held at the Association rooms to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

—It is a perfect shame the way the dust was allowed to blow in clouds about the streets of this city, yesterday, making both riding and walking very uncomfortable.

—A number of colored people got into a wrangle at the railroad station late on Saturday, but the appearance of Officers Giesse and Cooney, suddenly put an end to the fracas.

—Some little difficulty occurred among the Italians at a stone quarry in the Notch, early this morning, but the proprietor paid off the two ringleaders and discharged them.

—Mr. John H. Staats, formerly proprietor of the City Hotel in this city, opened for the season, on Saturday, the Fair View House, at Chatham, N. J., where he was last season successfully located.

—The usual weekly row occurred on the Boulevard, Saturday night, which is said to have been caused by a man throwing his wife out of doors, and the interference of the woman's mother in her behalf.

—The City Council should at once consider the matter of owning its own fire department horses, and when not doing fire duty, the animals could be utilized for street sprinkling purposes, to good advantage.

—The first grand picnic of the Holiday Social club, held in Amphion Hall, on the evening of Decoration Day, was an enjoyable affair. The attendance was also very large, and everything passed off harmoniously.

—At the Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning, previous to celebrating the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, eight persons were received into membership of the church, five by letter and three on confession.

—The attention of those interested is called to the notice of the Chairman of the Street Committee, published in another column. A meeting is called to consider the macadamizing of the very worst street in the city.

—In consequence of the anniversary of the Children's Home which comes on Thursday afternoon, June 5, the monthly business-meeting of officers will be held on Wednesday of this week in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., at 4 o'clock.

—The Class of '90, of Redman Seminary will hold its commencement exercises, Wednesday evening, in the rooms of the Camera Club, 17 East Front street. The pupils will also tender their friends a reception, at the close of the exercises.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires' Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires' Root Beer Packages make.

A DISASTROUS RUNAWAY.

One of the Wheels on a Butcher's Wagon Comes Off, Frightening Another Horse, and Results in a General Wreck—One Man Injured.

About three o'clock on Saturday afternoon Wm. Drake, an employee at Hedden's stables on East Fourth street, harnessed to a buckboard a horse belonging to Mr. Andrew McKinney of Crescent avenue. Less than an hour afterward the horse ran into the stable foaming, and with only the bridle on.

Mr. McKinney and a friend, Mr. Clifford Wharton, were seated in the buckboard driving along Grant avenue. When they were turning into West Seventh street the horse they were driving became frightened at a buther's wagon which had dropped a wheel, on the way out from a customer's house, and ran away. The runaway horse had gone but a short distance when he struck a tree, throwing the occupants out, and almost completely wrecking the vehicle.

Mr. McKinney received a bad cut under the eye, but his companion escaped with only slight injuries. The injured man was taken to Dr. Fritts' office, where the wounds were dressed.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Leo Daft and family will go to Lake George, this week.

Mrs. A. A. Vantine, and the Misses Vantine, of New York, are at the Hotel Netherwood.

Sarah, the little daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Richards, is steadily recovering from an attack of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Hiram Hope and daughter, Emma, of Belvidere, Warren county, are visiting at the home of Mr. S. R. Hope, 31 Richmond street.

Chester B. Dennis of the Scott Press Works, returned home this morning from a four days' visit with his parents at Bloomsbury, Hunterdon county.

Mrs. George H. Goddard and Mrs. Christopher M. Goddard, will entertain their friends with a tea, Saturday afternoon next, from 4 to 7 o'clock, at 19 East Ninth street.

At the First Presbyterian church, on Thursday evening last, occurred the marriage of Mr. James H. Southard and Miss Annie A. Vail, both of this city. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. K. P. Ketcham.

Mrs. Leah Ryerson, the aged mother of Mr. J. V. F. Ryerson of East Front street, died at her home in Somerville on Friday afternoon, of paralysis. Mrs. Ryerson was 68 years of age. The funeral took place this afternoon at Somerville.

After a very pleasant visit with her parents in this city, Miss Sadie Grant, daughter of Police Captain Grant on Saturday returned to Buffalo, N.Y., where she is engaged in the main office of the C. L. S. C., with headquarters formerly in this city.

The funeral of the late Gottlieb Fritz, who died on Friday, took place from the German Reformed church in North Plainfield, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, the Rev. F. Koechli, officiating. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. P. P. VanArsdale, an elder of Trinity Reformed church, has been elected by the Classis of Newark, a delegate to attend the General Synod of the Reformed church of America, to be held at Asbury Park, commencing Wednesday, June 4.

Miss Ketcham's Musical.

A musical was given by Miss Julia J. Ketcham, assisted by her pupils, at her home, on Saturday afternoon. The programme was an attractive and varied one. Miss Ketcham sang very artistically, Rossi's "Ah! rendimi quel core," and also Saint Saens' "My heart at thy sweet voice;" also by request, "Rose," by P. Lacome.

The selections by her pupils were, Piccolomini's Eternal Rest, by Miss Blair; Schumann's Two Grenadiers, by Master Edsall; Aria from Handel's Athelja, by Miss Dewey; A flight of clouds, Carraciolo, by Miss Marsh and Miss Ketcham, and Neidlinger's Serenade, by Miss Marsh; Cowen's Snow Flakes, by Miss Kitty Mitchell, who sang so sweetly that she was recalled. All the pupils showed careful training.

Miss Marsh also played Adagio, Op. 14, Haydn, which was much enjoyed.

Postponed Again.

Gen. Negeley was all ready, Saturday evening, with his plans for a granite shaft to be erected in Plainfield, to the memory of the dead soldiers. He also had a report to submit of his extended tour of inspection of like monuments in other cities, and the material used in their construction. But there was no quorum in the G. A. R., rooms where the committee were called to meet, and the meeting was again postponed for a week.

A Small Fire.

A quantity of excelsior heaped up with a lot of packing boxes in the rear of Mr. G. Q. Packer's store, was accidentally set on fire, Saturday afternoon, but through the efforts of Second Assistant Jas. Martin and ex-Chief J. E. Waters, the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

Oh, For a City Hall!

There has again arisen the scheme of a "City Hall," and some of the councilmen with the mayor, are considering the Hand building with such object in view. Possibly at this evening's meeting, some resolution pointing in that direction may be introduced.

WONDERFUL "BABY McKEE."

A PRESS Homer and His Interesting Genealogical Tree.

News of the extraordinary feat of young "Baby McKee," one of THE PRESS homing pigeons, has rapidly spread and become the one subject of interest among owners and breeders of these wonderful birds. In these columns Saturday, it was told how "Baby McKee" who had never flown but 30 miles before, was sent 200 miles away and entered in the Inter-State race. Marvellous to tell, the bird came home ahead of some of the others who had flown from that direction before. The news spread so quickly that inside of three hours, Mr. Charles Doane, of this city, in whose loft "Baby McKee" was born, received an order from Mr. Tucker, of Elizabeth, for a chick of the same parents.

"Baby McKee" is not yet a year old. His registered number is x8007. He was hatched July 14, 1889, from "Puritan" (H 156), and "Penelope" (D 252). "Puritan" has a 300 mile Federation record; was bred by Mr. H. Wagner, of Boston, and is a brother to Mr. Wagner's noted bird "Wade," an uncle of "Baby McKee," that flew from London, Ont., to Boston, a distance of 525 miles, air line, when only about five months old, being the greatest distance flown by a youngster. "Penelope" has never been flown, but is a sister to Mr. Charles Doane's bird, "Hermes" (D 77), with a 500 mile record, and record from Steamship "City of Rome," 230 miles out, and also a federation record from 309 miles in about seven hours—making the fast average speed of 1,286.58 yards per minute. The father of "Baby McKee's" mother is out of Mr. McGauhey's of Philadelphia, famous bird "Red Cloud," with a 500 mile record. The mother of "Penelope" is also a 500 mile bird and was bred by Dr. Johnson of Keyport, from 500 mile stock. "Baby McKee" has an uncle, "Leander," with a 400 mile record. "Leander" has also flown three times from ocean steamships. "Baby McKee's" uncle, "Ariel," holds the greatest of ocean records.

IN THE CITY COURT.

Prisoners Arraigned for Sentence.

Business was booming in the City Court, this morning, when six prisoners were arraigned for sentences, all charged with being drunk and disorderly, and all but one of them, John Green, arrested by Officer Giesse, pleaded guilty to their respective charges. Green was given a hearing, adjudged guilty, and committed to the county jail for twenty days. His companion, Chas. Tiez, was discharged.

Another of those brought before the bar of justice was John Dorgan, arrested by Officer McCue on Saturday night. He was fined eight dollars.

"Trenton Jack," an old offender, was found lying on the sidewalk on Somerset street, Saturday night, and Officers Giesse and Cooney took him in. He was committed for twenty days.

Mrs. Newman created a disturbance on the Boulevard, Saturday evening, and Officer Flanagan locked her up. She was subsequently released, upon promising to return today for sentence. Judge Codington fined her five dollars.

About four o'clock yesterday morning Officer Flanagan found a young man from Scotch Plains delivering a political address on the New street railroad bridge, during which the man declared that David P. Hill would be the next President. This morning he paid eight dollars for the privilege of making his address—that being the fine imposed by the City Judge.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart Says the Whiskey Men Bought Clergymen, Even.

There was quite a large audience at Reform Hall, last evening, to listen to the Rev. Mr. Stewart, lately of Kansas, but now of Pennsylvania. After devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. Mr. Honeyman, and singing by the choir, Mr. Stewart said he desired to tell how the prohibitory amendment was defeated in Pennsylvania, and one word would tell it—Money! He declared that the whiskey men bought up newspapers and politicians, and, in a few cases, clergymen, to talk for high license and thus defeat prohibition.

He read a number of letters written by men who had conducted the campaign, to prove his statements, and said that their confessions were enough to satisfy everyone. Some farmers were made to believe that prohibition would increase taxation, but the opposite was true. In Kansas, under high license, taxes were $1.70 per hundred, but only 80 cents per hundred under prohibition, or a reduction of over one-half. As to the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court concerning "original packages," which allowed people of another State to bring liquor into a neighboring State and sell in spite of all law, he felt it was a great mistake. He thought the people would not stand it. It took away their rights. If that was good law, then anything vile and dangerous could be imported and we must suffer and die, provided it was in an "original package." It killed local option, high license and everything else. He believed that the people would be aroused to action, and this decision in the end would destroy the liquor power.

A Warning to Nude Bathers.

The bathing season was formally inaugurated in Green Brook near the Grant avenue bridge, yesterday. This is in direct violation of the city and borough ordinance, and those who are in the habit of bathing in a nude state should take warning before the police pounce down upon them, and compel them to pay a fine or be committed to jail.

WINNING YET.

The Crescents Shut Out New Brunswick's Big Team.

The Unions of New Brunswick, with their giant battery and heavy batters, started a game with the Crescents, Saturday afternoon, but the visitors were never in it from beginning to end.

The interest of the game, however, was kept up by the brilliant playing of the Crescent's infield, and the marvellous base running of Martin. He gave such an exhibition of this important part of a team's success, as has never been excelled even by League players. He even stole third base in magnificent style, and the 600 people present showed their appreciation by loud applause.

Gregg certainly pitched a fine game throughout, and held the big batters of New Brunswick down to two little hits—one in the sixth, and one in the eighth inning. Jones backed him in good shape, and not a man on the visiting team attempted to go to second. Lufbery had seven chances, and took them all without a break. McMurray ruptured a muscle in his calf in running to third, and Chas. Runyon took his place. He proved a good one in the fifth inning. When he went to the bat two men were out and the bases were full. He hit towards right field, the ball was fumbled, thrown into the crowd behind first base, and then over the catcher's head at the home plate. The whole four runners meanwhile came in. The score was:

"A Contented Mind is a Continual Feast."

The Rev. James M. Whiton, Ph. D., of Fremont Congregational church, New York, occupied the pulpit of the West Seventh street Congregational church, this city, yesterday morning, and to a large and fashionable audience preached from the words: "For I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content."

The reverend gentleman did not name any part of the great family of man that was not susceptible to the discontents of life, and fit subjects for the lesson taught by the great disciple Paul. He named physicians, artists, statesmen, editors and even globe trotters, who sought content in great achievements by themselves, yet being devoid of the great spirit of Paul made the mere accidents of life a contrary virtue to the lesson and experience taught by the great teacher. The one was the parent of self conceit, while the other was acquired by a constant observance of, and a close walk in, the footsteps of his Lord and Master. The aged artist of Paris, the historic Jacob, the Athenian stoic, renowned in their day and time, deplored the increase of knowledge and acuteness of advancing genius, and succumbed to the inevitable, discontented with their own great achievements. Paul's was a kingdom that could not be moved—a power that brought forth content in whatever situation of life. In perils by sea, in shipwrecks, in distress, famine or nakedness, wherever and whatever might be his life or state, he was content. His power and work—like the magic wand of Moses' rod that brought forth water from the rock—produced to the World lessons that live and are handed down through the ages and point to the royal highway of a contented mind. With such a mind all things were possible with Paul, but a selfish ambition is the product of low living in the basement of nature. Climb to the upper stories through peace in a righteous God, and all will find in this higher life the kingdom of Paul's contented mind.

Only a Little in Advance.

Always eager to give its readers the first news, THE PRESS on Saturday stated that Mr Frederick Sandford and Ella C. Dunning had been united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage in New Providence. The groom says the announcement is premature. The ceremony will take place on Thursday June 12, but the clergyman who will officiate has not yet been decided upon. The bride and groom will spend a two weeks' honeymoon at distant places, after which they will take up their home in this city.

Local Base Ball.

The Young Stars on Thursday defeated the Young Crescents by a score of 15 to 4, on the grounds near the Oil Cloth Works. Batteries—For the Young Stars, Winn and Lyons; for the Young Crescents, Hefferen and C. Sutphen. The Young Stars knocked Hefferen out of the box.

ONE FIRM'S EXPERIENCE IMPORTING ICE.

The Common Council Somewhat to Blame if the People Suffer.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In your issue of May 27, you published a letter from Messrs Brown Bros., of Plattsburgh recommending to Plainfield dealers what would appear to be cheap ice. In justice to local dealers, and in view of our own personal experience, kindly allow us to make some explanation, as some of their statements may be misleading in the matter. The retail dealer is compelled to buy on representation—the cash invariably accompanying the order—bear all losses by shrinkage and short weights, suffer tedious delays and pay all freight charges, which on some lines have been nearly doubled on ice alone. On April —, we ordered a car of ice from Sandy Point, at lower rates than is offered by Brown Bros., and a much shorter route. After being five days on the road we received what was left of it, paying $56 for the ice and $1 20 freight on the same. In another instance we were charged on one car 12 tons in excess of what we received, also freight on the same, with an additional charge for its return to Plainfield, it having been taken by mistake several stations beyond.

Our experience teaches that ice after being handled several times and forwarded over long distance routes in ordinary freight cars, is generally soft and in bad condition upon arrival, and poor profit for either dealer or consumer. The Common Council having twice refused us permission to build a small house near the track, we are compelled to get storage elsewhere and with transportation thereto and extra labor in rehandling, the expense is nearly doubled.

You ask "By the way," why ice can be sold cheaper in Somerville? We are informed that the new firm having capital were fortunate in securing a large quantity at a forced sale, and having fine storage facilities along the track, were enabled to move and house their ice direct from the lake, thereby saving expense of housing and reloading on cars and before the rates of transportation were advanced.

At present prices they would scarcely like to exchange profits with Plainfield dealers. In conclusion we would say we intend to buy and sell as cheaply as can be done, and leave the public to judge who is getting the largest profit, the retail or the wholesale dealer.

J. W. & H CODDINGTON.

A Way to Solve the Dog Question.

Councilman Spangenberg, it is understood, will soon offer for adoption an ordinance that will help the city out in the dog question, and at the same time entirely suit both the people who have dogs and those who have not. Some of its provisions as proposed are as follows:

Every person who shall harbor, possess or keep any dog in the City of Plainfield shall take out a license therefor from the City Clerk's office in each year, for which a fee of two dollars shall be paid for each and every said dog, to be dated May 1, and to continue in force for one year thereafter. And any person harboring, possessing or keeping any dog in said city, who shall neglect or refuse to obtain a license therefor, shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten (10) dollars. All dogs thus licensed shall wear a collar to which shall be attached a metal tag bearing the number of said license, the said tag to be furnished by the city with the license, and for which ten (10) cents shall be paid by the party or parties obtaining the license.

Any dog wearing the tag hereinbefore provided for, and muzzled, shall be permitted to run at large; but every unlicensed dog found in the streets, whether muzzled or not, shall be captured by the dog catchers and taken to the pound. Any dog found running at large in the streets without a collar and tag may be captured, although it is muzzled, and any unmuzzled dog found running at large on the street, may be captured although it wears a collar and tag.

In this way the city will soon be rid of all dogs except the few whose owners care enough for them to look after them. The worthless ones—who are the ones liable to go mad—will be destroyed, to the satisfaction of everybody, including dog owners.

Plainfield's Good Showing in the Elizabeth Tournament.

On Friday last, the first of the two days' tennis tournament at Elizabeth, David Wotherspoon of this city defeated his antagonist, L. Glazebrook, of Elizabeth, 6—2, 6—1; and Wotherspoon and Green, defeated both Glazebrook and Smith, and Cook and Smith, in the doubles. Saturday the finals were played, and Green and Wotherspoon won the double championship; but Mr. Smith of Philadelphia, defeated Wotherspoon in the final of the first-class singles.

A Valuable Officer.

The Court records show that during the month that closed on Saturday, J. M. C. Marsh, of Westfield, engaged by the Central Railroad as a special detective to break up the practice of coal train riding, arrested 43, part of whom paid a total of $92 in fines, and the rest were sentenced to a total of 203 days imprisonment.

Smith Will Get His Children.

Judge Lawrence, of the Orphans' Court, New York, has confirmed the report of the referee in favor of giving James J. Smith his two children. Heretofore they have been in the custody of their mother, Aline B. Smith, from whom he separated because of her alleged acquaintance with Bret Harte's son, Frank.

Still Another Wreck.

Plainfield's horsemen are either becoming negligent in their duty or else there is a mania among horses to run away. The city has never before known so many runaways, in the same short period, as have taken place within the past fortnight. Scarcely a day passes, in fact, that one or more runaway accidents are not recorded.

One of the latest happened on Saturday morning, about eight o'clock. Mr. A. C. Vail of Madison avenue and Eighth street, had just returned from a morning drive, and his hired man was leading the horse into the stable, when the animal became unmanageable, and ran at full speed into the barn, breaking up a buckboard and village cart.

The hostler remained pluckily at his post of duty, but he was only fortunate enough to escape with his own life.

Captured a Rock Eagle.

Mr. David Falkner who resides on the road leading from this city to Mt. Bethel, on Wednesday evening last captured a real curiosity in the shape of a large rock eagle. During the evening Mr. Falkner heard a strange noise in the woods near his house, which he started out to investigate. He had not gone far into the woods, however, when to his surprise the eagle attacked him and showed fight. With presence of mind Mr. Falkner raised his gun and fired away in the dark, succeeding in wounding the bird on the wing. He then called for help, and with the assistance of his brother, the two men captured the prize after a desperate fight.

The bird will be on exhibition for a short time at Mr. John Wolf's residence, No. 15 Green Brook road, North Plainfield.

W. C. T. U. Meetings.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U., which should be held to-morrow, has been postponed to next Tuesday at the same time and place—3 P. M., 73 West Front street.

The meeting to-morrow will be a special prayer meeting at the same time and place.

Jersey Central's April Earnings.

The statement of the Central Railroad of New Jersey for the month of April shows: Gross earnings, $1,079,709; net earnings, $422,621.

—A delegation from this city attended the seventh annual anniversary of the National Newark Turn Verein celebrated in that city on Friday.

—Captain Wm. Egbert's base ball team of "Longs," will play Captain Joseph G. Miller's team of "Shorts," on the Crescent grounds Wednesday afternoon.

—Meeting for consecration and prayer at Mrs. E. D. Poole's this evening at 8:15 o'clock. All are invited. 22 West Third street, second door from Central avenue.

—The man that left his coat and dinner pail in the Bryant school yard on Saturday night can have them by proving property and applying to the janitor of the school.

—Alpha Lodge, No. 4, I. O. of G. T., will meet in regular session this evening in their hall, corner of Park and North avenues, at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are kindly requested to be present.

Strikers Arrested.

BENNINGTON, Vt., June 2.—There is a spinners' strike at the woolen mills of the C. J. S. Holden Co. The company wished to put on piecers in the male spinning department, and have the spinners continually run two mules, thus earning higher wages and doing more work. A number of the spinners objected and quit work under the impression that young help was to be substituted for adults. Three strikers have been arrested for inducing new men not to take vacant places.

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $3 00; $3 50 grade, $3 75; $3 00 grade, $2 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,

J. G. CAMPBELL,

Proposals for Grading, Improving and Macadamizing County Roads.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the place of meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, county of Union, State of New Jersey, until the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on Thursday, the Fifth day of June, 1890, as follows:

For the grading where necessary, and macadamizing or telford paving for the width of twelve (12) feet in the centre thereof of Mountain avenue or Springfield road in the township of Fanwood, from the centre of Park or Martine avenue in said township of Fanwood to the boundary line of the township of Westfield in said county of Union, State of New Jersey.

It is estimated that the following quantities of work and material will be required to be done and furnished on said road or avenue:

Three hundred and forty-four (344) cubic yards of excavation, and ten thousand seven hundred and ninety-one (10,791) square or superficial yards of macadam or telford pavement.

Also, for the grading where necessary, and macadamizing or telford paving for the width of twelve (12) feet, in the centre thereof of Springfield road through the township of Westfield, from the boundary line of the township of Fanwood to the boundary line of the township of Springfield in said county of Union, State of New Jersey.

It is estimated that the following quantities of work and material will be required to be done and furnished on last aforesaid road or avenue:

Two thousand five hundred and ninety-two (2,592) cubic yards of excavation, and nineteen thousand two hundred and twenty-eight (19,228) square or superficial yards of macadam or telford pavement.

Also, for the grading where necessary, and macadamizing or telford paving for the width of twelve (12) feet, in the centre thereof of Springfield road in the township of Springfield, from the boundary line of the township of Westfield to the centre of Springfield avenue in said township of Springfield in said county of Union, State of New Jersey.

It is estimated that the following quantities of work and material will be required to be done and furnished on last aforesaid road or avenue:

Two thousand two hundred and twenty-nine (2,229) cubic yards of excavation, and fifteen thousand four hundred and thirteen (15,413) square or superficial yards of macadam or telford pavement.

Plans and specifications, and also the conditions only under which said proposals or bids shall be received, may be examined at the office of F. A. Dunham, Engineer of the County Roads, No. 7 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Printed copies of the specifications and contract, and also said conditions under which said proposals or bids shall be received, can be had at the office of the aforesaid Engineer, and also at the office of E. M. Wood, County Collector, Elizabeth, N. J. All bids and proposals to be addressed to J. F. Hubbard, Director, Court House, Elizabeth, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids for said work is reserved by said Board, as may be deemed for the best interests of the county, and notice is hereby given that the bids will be opened publicly at a meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders to be held on said fifth day June, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at their place of meeting, in the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J.

Dated May 2 1890.

TAKING THE CENSUS

The Enumerators Begin Their Work To-Day.

OVER 40,000 MEN EMPLOYED.

Trouble Expected in Securing Answers to Certain Questions.

No Harsh Measures Will be Resorted to in Enforcing the Law—The Passage of the River and Harbor Bill Delayed—The Silver Debate Resumed in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The machinery for taking the census for 1890 was put in motion to-day all over the United States, and as it will be pushed as expeditiously as possible, Superintendent Porter anticipates early returns to his office that the work of tabulating can be entered upon and completed within a reasonable period.

All the preliminary matters have been arranged, blanks prepared, enumerators instructed as to their duties, and all that remains to be done is to collect the data, which it has been decided shall become a part of the census.

It requires 43,000 men as enumerators to gather the requisite information, and each of these is either employed in a definite locality or upon some special topic. This, however, does not include the additional thousands of clerks employed in collecting and tabulating the returns made that will come back from all over the country as the result of the labors of the enumerators, so it can be seen at a glance what a corps of men it requires and immense sum of money must be expended to accomplish this undertaking.

Mr. Porter has accepted and confirmed the supervisors' selections of enumerators, except in a few instances where the fitness of the appointees was questioned, and, it being shown that they were incompetent, others were substituted. In the South, in some places, objection was made to the appointment of colored men, but the Supervisors being held responsible for their men, he concluded to trust to their discretion and declined to interfere upon that ground. It is known, however, that appointments of this kind are few.

It is not anticipated that much trouble will be experienced in obtaining answers to the questions that are to be propounded, but where refusals are met with, they will be at once reported, and steps taken to enforce the law. The Superintendent is not given any discretion in the matter, but it is made obligatory upon him to report each and every person who fails to comply with the requirements of the law to the proper persons, who will institute a vigorous prosecution against the violators of it, and they become liable to a fine of $100.

It is thought that some trouble will be experienced in securing answers to the inquiries regarding mortgages, as well as those concerning special information in relation to disease, about which physicians have recently given opinions and declined to furnish. No exceptions will be made in propounding the questions, or harsh measures resorted to in enforcing the law, but where it becomes plain that the provisions of the law are intentionally being violated, then the parties so offending will be called upon to take the consequences.

IN HOUSE AND SENATE.

Several Senators Say They Will Make Long Speeches on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Senate resumed to-day the suspended silver debate. Senators Pugh, Aldrich and Sherman are booked for long speeches, and as a great number of other Senators desire to be heard, no limit to the debate can be fixed. It is likely to be suspended once or twice during the week to permit the discussion of bills from the Committee on Appropriations.

In the House, the Silver bill agreed upon by the Republican caucus of the House will be dissected during the week in Committee of the Whole. The bill will be called up probably on Wednesday, and the rest of the week will be consumed in debating it. It cannot be definitely stated that the bill will be acted upon before the end of the week.

To-day in the House is general suspension day, and a few general and a large number of local measures will be placed on their passage under suspension of the rules.

To-morrow has been set apart for the consideration of the contested election case of McDuffie (Rep.) against Turpin (Dem.) from Alabama. The Republican majority of the Elections Committee has declared in favor of seating Mc Duffie, and there is no doubt that this will be done.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Its Passage Delayed by the Absence of Senator Frye.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The absence from the city of Senator Frye, the chairman of the Commerce Committee, has delayed the consideration of the River and Harbor bill on the Senate side of the capitol. The delay is not at all serious, as with the Silver bill and the Tariff bill hanging fire, it is not likely the River and Harbor bill will have much chance of being considered within the next month. Senator Frye will return to the city to-morrow, and the committee will then begin in earnest the consideration of the bill. It has been determined that no hearings will be given to representatives of different interests affected by the bill, but members of the Senate will be given hearings on the improvements asked by their States.

The bill will be taken up in the order of the appropriations, and the first week will probably be consumed in debating the appropriations for New England. The Pacific coast comes at the bottom of the list, and it will be the last considered.

There is very little doubt that the bill will pass the Senate, probably with the appropriations materially increased. It will be in conference for some time, but will doubtless go to the President before the adjournment of Congress.

Bitten by a Mad Dog.

LONDON, June 2.—A number of children were bitten by a rabid dog in Huy, Belgium, a few days ago, and two of them have died of hydrophobia. Several of the survivors have been sent to M. Pasteur for treatment.

AN EX-CONVICT'S BRAVERY.

While Contemplating Suicide He Rescues A Boy from Drowning.

NEW YORK, June 2.—David Barrett, a young ex-convict, was standing on Pier 37, East river, yesterday, almost ready to jump into the river and end his life because he could not get work, and he would not go back to his old thievish life, for he remembered the words of his mother, who recently died, and with her last breath she begged him to lead an honest life.

While Barrett was musing he saw little eight-year-old Charles O'Connor, who with other boys was fishing on the pier, fall into the water. Barrett jumped after the boy, who was in a dangerous place, between a canal boat and the pier. He was being sucked under the boat by the current when Barrett reached him. Barrett caught the boy's clothing with his teeth and swam with him to the end of the dock, where they were rescued. Both were taken to Gouverneur Hospital.

Barrett told the story of his life and how he had tried to live right since his mother died. He said he had made up his mind to starve rather than steal. He learned the iron moulder's trade while serving a ten years sentence in prison, but no one would employ him. People who know the young man say he has rescued ten persons from drowning.

VANDALISM AT HARVARD.

Buildings and Statuary Painted Red to Celebrate a Victory.

BOSTON, Mass., June 2.—Harvard University and the citizens of Cambridge are wild over an outrageous piece of vandalism supposed to have been committed by Harvard students in celebration of their victory over Yale on Saturday.

The vandals smeared all the beautiful college buildings and statuary and neighboring private houses with red paint, while the steps and vestibule of Appleton Chapel were lettered with "To hell with Yale."

The handsome bronze statue of John Harvard is covered with red, and the beautiful granite pedestal is ruined. The carved freestone work on Memorial, Seaver, Boylston and other halls is irrepairably damaged.

It is estimated that it will cost near ten thousand dollars to repair the damage, as the oily paint has sunk deep into the stone.

The faculty will expel the criminals and hand them over to the police if identified, and have announced that this puts an end to all intercollegiate contests. The students as a body have called a mass meeting to denounce the outrages.

Drummers Excited.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The Grand Council of the United Commercial Travelers' Association adopted a resolution demanding of President Harrison, in the name of the 250,000 traveling men, the removal of John A. Place, postmaster at Oswego, N. Y. Place is editor of the Oswego Times, and editorially denounced the profession as one composed of rakes, profligates, mashers and seducers.

Murdered Infants.

ERIE, Pa., June 2.—The bodies of two babes which had been born alive were found in a grass plot on the outskirts of the city by the authorities, and circumstances led to the arrest of Mrs. William Abell, a young German woman. The evidence against the woman is so strong that she has been held for a hearing. The woman is good looking, and has always borne a good reputation.

An Order to Conductors.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—The Reading Railroad Company has ordered its conductors to leave the Brotherhood of Conductors or resign. This action is taken because the Brotherhood, at its recent meeting in Rochester, repealed the anti-strike clause of its constitution. Superintendent Bonzand says the Reading will hereafter have no union men in its employ.

The Canal Bank Repaired.

UTICA, N. Y., June 2.—The work of repairing the canal bank at the break in Whitesboro was completed last evening, and water is being let in slowly. There is four feet of water in the canal west of Criskany, and at midnight the Black river canal feeder at Rome and the Criskany feeder were turned on. Boats will be running this evening.

Killed by a Hurricane.

SOFIA, June 2.—A hurricane swept over Sofia, completely leveling the buildings in the north part of the city and wrecking many structures in other portions. Eleven soldiers were killed and several injured. The number of civilians killed or injured is not yet ascertained. The pecuniary damage to the palace will reach $300,000.

Died a Sudden Death.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 2.—John Thompson, one of the most prominent lawyers of this city, died suddenly at his country residence at New Hamburg of heart disease. Mr. Thompson represented this district in Congress in 1857-8, and was one of the first trustees of Vassar College. He was 81 years of age.

Chinamen Arrested.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 2.—Fifteen Chinamen who were arrested some time ago while crossing the boundary line near Tia Juano into the United States were examined before the United States Commissioners, and were remanded to the county jail until such time as the Government decides to send them back to China.

Escaped from the Hospital.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 2.—James Shaughnessy, who shot himself because his wife would not admit him to her home, escaped from the hospital while the nurses were temporarily absent from the room. He has not been found since, and it is thought that he jumped into the river and was drowned.

Shoemakers on Strike.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 2.—All the employes of the P. Cox shoe factory are on strike. It is understood that their principal grievance is the employment of boys instead of men to run lasting and finishing machines.

Won the Jockey Club Prize.

PARIS, June 2.—The race for the Jockey Club Prize, run yesterday, was won by Heaume. Mirabeau was second and Fitz-Roya third. Twelve horses ran.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

THREW UP THE CASE

Sensational Ending of the Vineland Poisoning Case.

MRS. LOCKWOOD IS ACQUITTED.

Her Husband Says His Children Advised Him to Make the Charge.

He Tries to Embrace His Wife but She Waves Him Aside—Lockwood Ejected from the Court Room by an Officer—His Lawyer Dumbfounded—What the Children Testified To.

VINELAND, N. J., June 3.—Mrs. Cremora Jackson Lockwood, accused of attempting to poison her aged husband, had a hearing before Justice Hall. She was the most composed person in the room. She is not more than 40, is fine looking, and was elegantly attired. Her husband occupied a seat near by.

His sons, Arthur and Maurice, and his son-in-law, Elliot Cogswell, all testified that he came to them and asked them to have his wife arrested, as he was afraid she would kill him. Lockwood's daughter swore that when her father found the powder in his teacup he brought it to her and told her to have an analysis made. Drs. E. H. Bidwell and O. H. Adams, who made the analysis, testified that the powder contained enough morphine to kill a person.

Marshall Creech testified that after arresting Mrs. Lockwood he searched her room, and found a loaded revolver and a dagger under the pillow of her bed and a quantity of arsenic in the pocket of her dress. It was also offered in evidence that Mrs. Lockwood threatened to shoot her husband the day before she is alleged to have put the morphine into his teacup, and that recently her husband prevented her from shooting his 15-year-old son.

Mr. Lockwood was recalled to give additional testimony against his wife, but he declined to say anything prejudicial to her and created a sensation and dumfounded the lawyer for the prosecution by saying that it was his children who advised him to make the charge against his wife, instead of him asking the children to make it. The lawyer then virtually threw up the case, asserting that Lockwood had been induced by some pressure to change his statements made previous to Mrs. Lockwood's arrest. The justice then discharged Mrs. Lockwood.

Her husband ran up to embrace her but she waved him aside, and told him she had had enough of him and his family, and positively refused to return home with him. Lockwood then became enraged at one of Mrs. Lockwood's friends, and was about to assault her, when an officer ejected him from the court room. Mrs. Lockwood, it is said, will return to Virginia immediately.

STOLE THE INDICTMENT.

A Discovery that Created a Sensation in the Vandegrifts Poisoning Case.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., June 3.—The case of Mrs. Carrie E. Vandegrift, who was convicted of attempting to poison her son, Frank Norman, was remanded to the Supreme Court on a writ of certiorari.

The discovery was made that the indictment and writ of error in this case had been stolen from the office of the County Clerk, and the announcement created a profound sensation. Judge Garrison was at once informed of the affair, and he will order a thorough investigation, the result of which will be watched with interest, as it is believed there are sensational developments to follow.

It is said a young clerk in the employ of Lawyer Hendrickson, who is Mrs. Vandegrift's counsel, called at the clerk's office and asked to look at some of the papers relating to the case. It was after the young man went away that the County Clerk missed the papers. The young man denies that he took the papers and that he knows anything about them. An immediate effect of the disappearance of the papers will be a postponement of the certiorari proceedings.

Duel in a Graveyard.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 3.—Thomas Overby, an advertising agent, and Chas. Sanders, of Evansville, fought a duel in St. Louis Cemetery. Sanders was engaged to be married to Miss Emma Zenor of Evansville, who is now visiting in this city. Upon coming to see the young lady, Sanders discovered that Overby had supplanted him in her affections. A quarrel was followed by a fight in which Sanders was worsted. The men afterwards met at the Alexander Hotel and resumed their difficulty and finally decided to settle the affair according to the code. They met as agreed, and Sanders received a serious wound in the shoulder. Overby was not hurt.

Opposed to the Use of Tobacco.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 3.—In the United Presbyterian Assembly, the memorial from the presbytery of Central Illinois, asking that a stand be taken by the General Assembly against the use of tobacco, was reported favorably by the committee. Much discussion followed, all against tobacco. The report was finally referred back to the committee with instructions to consolidate the report so that it would be even more sweeping than at first, and include all members of the church.

Four Men Seriously Injured.

DANBURY, Conn., June 3.—Four men were seriously injured, one probably fatally, by the falling of a portion of the Hall & Rogers block, in process of construction.

THE KEMMLER CASE.

The Court to Decide Where the Murderer Shall be Executed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 3.—The Kemmler case came up in General Term here to-day on the question whether Kemmler should be executed by the sheriff of this county or the warden of Auburn prison.

It has been arranged that the motion for Kemmler's discharge will be denied without argument and taken to the Court of Appeals. This, it is expected, will enable this phase of the case to be decided within two weeks.

Attorney Hatch was asked if this decision would end the case. He replied: "So far as this point is concerned it will." It is believed that other steps will be taken in the effort to save Kemmler, or at least delay his execution.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS.

Considerable Bolting in the Town Elections in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 3.—The results of the little town elections show much bolting and the presence of the independent voter everywhere. In some cases fusion tickets were elected. In others, candidates lacked only one or two votes of an election. In North Smithfield there was no choice of council, and the old body holds over.

In Burrillville three Republicans and four Democrats were chosen. In North Providence the council is Republican. In Johnston a fusion ticket was elected.

Bookmakers Held.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 3.—Isaac S Thomasson, Robert G. Irving, John Nathan, John L. Anderson, George Johnson and Henry Steddeker, bookmakers at the track of the New Jersey Jockey Club, were arraigned in the Union County Court charged with violating the laws of New Jersey in keeping gambling establishments. They gave bail in the sum of $1,000 each. They will be tried befor Judge Van Syckel, of the Supreme Court, and struck juries, on the 23d of June.

Searching for the Mine Victims.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 3.—The water in South Wilkesbarre shaft, where eight men were entombed on March 2, has been partly pumped out, and an exploring party entered the mine and are now looking for the victims. The mine is full of gas, and grave fears are entertained that the explorers may be driven back. The result of the exploration is watched with intense anxiety.

Trouble Expected from Italians.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., June 3.—The striking Italians who placed obstructions on the track at Folsom, N. J., and threatened serious trouble owing to their not being paid by the contractor for work done, were paid off by the railroad company and then discharged. There are considerable mutterings among them, and more trouble is feared.

Trouble With a State Officer.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 3.—The Democratic State Central Committee met here and authorized the executive committee to inquire into the possible refusal of the retiring General Treasurer to transfer his books and papers to the incoming officer. In the event of such refusal the Governor will be petitioned to convene a special session of the General Assembly.

Nearly a Century Old.

READING, Pa., June 3.—Jacob Fisher, who was a hotel keeper for fifty-five years and a lifelong resident of Kutztown, this county, died in the morning, being within a few months of 100 years of age. He voted for nineteen Democratic candidates for President, was never ill, and used tobacco and spirituous liquors ever since he was a young man.

A Prominent Politician Dead.

WESTFIELD, Mass., June 3.—Reuben Noble, a prominent Democrat, formerly member of the State House and Senate, postmaster here under Buchanan and Cleveland, often a delegate to National Conventions and elected chairman of the State Committee in 1884, died last night, aged 70 years. He was a manufacturer of whips and cigars.

Miss Totten's Breach of Promise Suit.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The judgment of $15,000 which Miss Clara Totten obtained against Cassius H. Read for breach of promise has been reversed by the Court of Common Pleas, and a new trial ordered. The principal ground of reversal is that the evidence as to Mr. Read's financial resources was not sufficiently conclusive.

A New York Boy Killed in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 3.—While Phillip Lyons of Ithaca, N. Y., a son of Judge Lyons of New York, attempted to step from one car to another on the cable road yesterday, he tripped and fell between the cars and was dragged many yards before the train could be stopped. He was terribly bruised, his spine dislocated and fractured and his hips and left ankle broken and torn. He was taken to Mercy Hospital where he died a few hours later.

Oregon State Election.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—In the State election here the vote for Governor will be close, but the returns received seem favorable to Pennoyer (Dem.). Meagre returns from the State indicate the re-election of Binger Hermer (Rep.) for Congress by from 4,000 to 6,000 majority. The Republicans will probably have a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot.

Destructive Fire in a Shipyard.

MADISON, Conn., June 3.—Fire in Tucker & Barry's shipyard here destroyed buildings, wharves and schooners valued at $75,000. There is very little insurance.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Republicans Discuss the Pension Bills in Caucus.

THE MATTER STILL UNDECIDED.

It Was Agreed to Insist on the Retention of the House Amendments.

No Action on the National Election Bill. The International American Congress Recommendations—Mr. McKinley Predicts a Long Session of Congress—An Official History of the War.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Contrary to expectation, the matter of pensions came up in the Republican caucus in the House last night, and a long discussion ensued over the kind of agreement that the conferrees on the part of the House, on the Senate Pension bill, should make.

The Senate, it will be remembered, recently passed a general Dependent Pension bill which the House amended by adding the Morrill bill, which contains a service pension clause. A conference was ordered, but the conferrees have been unable to agree, and the matter was brought up in the Republican House caucus last night in the hope that some instructions to guide the House conferrees might be agreed upon.

A great many members took part in the discussion. It was finally agreed that the conferrees should insist on the retention of the amendments made by the House, and also that a further amendment could be made providing that no pension shall be less than $6 per month.

The McComas bill to prevent by States gerrymandering of election districts was then taken up, and Mr. McComas and others addressed the House on it. No conclusion was reached and it was agreed to allow the bill to await the action of another caucus.

It had been intended to take some action on the National Election bill, but after Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Rowell, of Illinois, had explained the provisions of the bills on the subject prepared by them, respectively, it was decided to let the matter go over until next Thursday evening, when another caucus will be held.

UNIFORM CUSTOMS.

The President Sends to the Senate Several Important Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The President sent to the Senate a letter inviting the attention of the Senate and House to the following recommendations of the International American Conference:

"A uniform system of customs regulations for the classification and valuation of imported merchandise. A uniform nomenclature for the description of articles of merchandise imported and exported; and the establishment at Washington of an international bureau of information.

"The Congress also, at its final session, decided to establish in the city of Washington, as a fitting memorial of its meeting, a Latin-American library, to be formed by contributions from the several nations, of historical, geographical and literary works, maps, manuscripts and official documents relating to the history and civilization of America, and expressed a desire that the Government of the United States should provide a suitable building for the shelter of such library, to be solemnly dedicated upon the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America."

Accompanying the letter is a communication from the Secretary of State, setting forth the importance of the recommendations. He devotes a great deal of space to the recommendations as to the establishment of a more uniform system of customs regulations.

Major McKinley on Silver.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Major McKinley said last night: "I believe a silver bill will become a law by act of this session, although it is not a sure thing by any means. The House will devote itself to the measure within a few days. Yes, this will be a long session. We will not adjourn, in my judgment, till late in August. The Senate will talk tariff for a whole month, I presume, and it may be August before the Tariff bill is finally passed. No, I don't believe we will pass either a Federal or an Anti-Gerrymandering bill."

On His Way to the Pacific Coast.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Assistant Postmaster-General J. S. Clarkson is on his way to the Pacific Coast to look after postal matters there. Before leaving here he denied emphatically that he has ever sent in his resignation, or that he even contemplated resigning. He also denied the recent interview attributed to him, in which he stated that President Harrison was suspicious of every man under him. He said that he would like to start a Republican weekly in New York city if he had the money.

The Official History of the War.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—In response to a resolution offered in the Senate the Secretary of War says that, with the present force at his disposal, it will require six years to complete the work of compiling, indexing, printing and binding the official records of the rebellion, additional appropriations however, being necessary for printing and binding.

A Port Officer Loses a Job.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The office of Assistant Deputy Naval Officer of the port of Boston has been abolished upon an order from the Treasury Department. The present incumbent is Thomas Keefe. This is probably the result of the investigation recently made by the commission from Washington.

—Just before sunset, last evening, in the Boulevard, Michael Cox and Wm. Ross had it for fair. Ross got the worst and applied to Justice Nash for a warrant. It was granted. Ross says Cox's friends jumped in, but that if they had come at him one at a time the result would have been different.

—Mrs. Dr. Edwards, the clairvoyant, after a prosperous stay in this city, has gone to Somerville where she will remain a week at the County House. Those who have not consulted her yet about their future, won't have an opportunity for two years unless they go to Somerville. She's a very smart woman in her line.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Officer Eugene A. Laine is confined to his home on East Second street, by illness.

Prof. Edwin H. Lewis has so far recovered from his recent serious illness, as to be able to ride out.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Graham of East Ninth street, started on Saturday for a week's trip through Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lutkins have returned from their visit among friends at Bath, and Paterson, N. J.

Five hundred and sixty-two persons were present at the recent ball of the Oriental Social Club, held in Amphion Hall.

The Miss Fish, daughters of Horace W. Fish, of New York, have been the guests of Mrs. Charles Potter, Jr., for a few days past.

Miss Florence Titsworth today returned to Pennington Seminary, after a pleasant visit with her parents on Madison avenue, this city.

Mr. Aaron Allen of Race street, North Plainfield, was stricken with paralysis, this morning, and he now lies in a critical condition.

Mr. M. C. Dobbins of Elmwood place, yesterday attended the funeral of his sister-in-law, who died at Caldwell, N. J., on Saturday.

Assigned for the Benefit of Their Creditors.

The plumbing firm of Messrs J. H. & A. L. Carney, heretofore existing under the firm name of Carney Bros., of this city, yesterday made an assignment to Mr. Wm. M. Stillman for the equal benefit of their creditors. The firm's liabilities are not known, but it is thought that the assets will about cover the liabilities.

Messrs Carney Bros., have been established here for several years past, and have always done a large business, the business of year before last amounting to $50,000. During the past year the firm has lost heavily by bad book accounts, which together with losses occasioned by sickness, the late flood, and a large outstanding indebtedness, has caused the members to make an assignment. Some of the New York creditors were also pressing their claims, and an extension of time has thus been obtained by the firm, in taking the action which they did.

The Contest of the "Longs" and "Shorts."

The following will compose Captain Cody Egbert's team of "Longs," that will play a match with Captain Drug Miller's team of "Shorts" on the Crescent League's grounds, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock: Wm. H. Egbert, B. Frank Coriell, Henry Woodland, Charles P. Leggett, John Kenney, W. H. VanSyckel, John Vetterlein, W. L. Hetfield and Chas. B. Van Winkle.

The "Shorts" are not all selected yet. So far they are, J. G. Miller, A.C. Horton, John Force, Frank Smith, John Beerbower and Chas. Sebring. Mr. Bowman, the Crescent's umpire, has consented to act. If the game is not finished by 7.30 P. M., it will be continued on the following Wednesday, at the same place.

An Attractive Programme.

Attention is called to the advertised lecture on Florence, to be given by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, at the Congregational church, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The well-known descriptive powers of the lecturer, together with the peculiar interest and enthusiasm which the very name of this beautiful Italian city always awakens, will be more than sufficient to attract many, and the fact that this lecture is to be accompanied with music by the much admired vocalists, Miss Alice Holmes and Mr. Elmer E. Runyon, insures for all who attend an enjoyable evening.

Meeting of Alpha Lodge.

Alpha Lodge No. 4, I. O. of G. T. met in regular session last evening, in the Hall corner of Park and North avenues. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary which were found to be correct, after which one of the members who had broken his obligation was restored to the lodge. Songs and recitations were given by several members for the good of the order and the meeting then adjourned.

Another Very Narrow Escape.

A team of horses passing under the Park avenue railroad bridge at 11:15 o'clock last night, became frightened at a passing train, and attempted to run away. The vehicle, a phæton, to which they were attached, swayed from one side of the street to the other, and just missed striking a telephone pole. The horses were gotten under control, after a short but exciting run.

Annual Election of Directors.

The meeting of the stockholders of The Pond Machine Tool company, yesterday, resulted in the election of the following Board of Directors: David W. Pond, Albert C. Stebbins, Henry Graves, J. Rogers Maxwell, Henry S. Manning, Eugene L. Maxwell, Charles A. Moore.

The new Board will meet for organization, some day this week.

Freight Twice As Costly As Ice.

In the Messrs Coddington's communication, yesterday, telling of their experience in importing ice, it should read that when the carload arrived after a five days' trip, the freight charges were $120 while the bill for the ice was $56.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires' Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires' Root Beer Packages make.

LAKE HOPATCONG AND ITS BEAUTIES.

Plainfield People Make the Banner Catch of the Season.

There was quite a number of Plainfield people at Lake Hopatcong on Decoration Day, a special car being provided for them, which ran the entire route without change. Among the excursionists were the families of Postmaster E. R. Pope, Rudolph Titsworth, Charles Potter, Jr., and Geo. Babcock, ex-Postmaster Force and wife, the Misses Fish of New York, Mr. J Simpson and wife of Fanwood.

Several of the visitors remained over until Monday, enjoying the delightful scenery, air and sailing, and to try their skill at fishing. The banner "catch" on Decoration Day, was by Mr. Rudolph Titsworth of this city, who landed nine black bass and pickerel which tipped the scales at 18 pounds. One of the bass weighed 3½ pounds.

The banner catch of the trip, however, was by Messrs "Jack" Simpson of Fanwood, and ex-Postmaster W. L. Force of this city, who on Monday captured with their "little rods" sixty-seven black bass, pickerel and perch, which weighed eighty-two pounds. The fish were brought home and distributed among friends. Some unknown party, however, unlawfully appropriated Mr. Titsworth's fish to their own use during the night.

Among the many cottages accommodating guests at Hopatcong is the "Van Over House," which, with its attractive grounds and home-like accommodations, is a general favorite, especially with Plainfield people. The best guide on the Lake is Mahlon Decker, and the best place to get boats and bait is at Mahlon Smith's.

Easter Lodge Election of Officers.

Easter Lodge K. of H., was honored last evening, by the presence of several of the Grand Officers of the State, viz., Grand Dictator, S. W. Hartshorne; Vice Grand Dictator, R. C. Jones; Grand Reporter, John M. Mahew and Past Dictator Hoyt of Central Lodge, Newark.

During the evening, the following officers were re-elected to serve for the coming six months, and the same will be installed at the first meeting night in July:

Past Dictator—Brother Seymour Marsh.
Dictater—Brother Thos. H. Bartindale.
Vice Dictator—Brother Thos. R. Cone.
Assistant Dictator—Brother Peter Neuman.
Reporter—Brother Henry A. Thorne.

Andrew L. Carney and wife, John H. Carney and wife, of North Plainfield, and Jacob Voehl, of Plainfield, two lots on Netherwood avenue, Plainfield, 125x55 feet distant 100 feet from Second street, $500.

Deed. Andrew L. Carney and John H. Carney and wife, North Plainfield, to Jacob Voehl, of Plainfield, two lots on Netherwood avenue, Plainfield n es, 125x 55 feet, distant 165 feet from Second street, $500.

How to Dress Healthfully.

Since the advent of lawn tennis, a very sensible change has come to stay. Loose, light, warm garments and broad shoes have become popular, and young people show a great physical improvement. Mothers and family doctors have marked results with great satisfaction and our best women are adopting improved methods.

Mrs. Holbrook Smith will lecture to ladies at the Congregational church, on Friday afternoon, upon correct dress and physical culture. No one interested in good health should fail to attend.

Paris Has It, Too.

The London Illustrated News says: "Some American young ladies in Paris have discovered a way of studying Shakespeare which has not yet found favor with the English or German students of the bard. One of them was lately asked by an interviewer: 'What is your method of study?' 'Oh! we don't do much studying,' she said, 'we meet once a fortnight and read him for an hour. The rest of the evening we dance!'" —Special attention is given at Edsall's just now in new and fashionable articles suitable for "full" or "evening" dress in view of the many approching weddings, parties, commencements, etc. See his new announcement elsewhere.

The vocal organs are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Clergymen, lawyers, singers, actors and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weakness of the throat and lungs, and for all affections of the vocal organs.

Sick Headache

Is a complaint from which many suffer and few are entirely free. Its cause is indigestion and a sluggish liver, the cure for which is readily found in the use of Ayer's Pills.

"I have found that for sick headache, caused by a disordered condition of the stomach, Ayer's Pills are the most reliable remedy."—Samuel C. Bradburn, Worthington, Mass.

"After the use of Ayer's Pills for many years, in my practice and family, I am justified in saying that they are an excellent cathartic and liver medicine—sustaining all the claims made for them."—W. A. Westfall, M. D., V. P. Austin & N. W. Railway Co., Burnet, Texas.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered stomach and liver. I suffered for over three years from headache, indigestion, and constipation. I had no appetite and was weak and nervous most of the time. By using three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured."—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kansas.

"I was troubled for years with indigestion, constipation, and headache. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, used in small daily doses, restored me to health. They are prompt and effective."—W. H. Strout, Meadville, Pa.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

ANOTHER LONG AND TEDIOUS SESSION.

Additional Liquor License Applications Presented—The Sanitary Condition of Green Brook Considered—A Committee Appointed to Purchase Horses for the Fire Department, and Many Other Details "Too Numerous to Mention."

The regular June meeting of the City Council was held last evening, all the members being present, Messrs Johnston and Jenkins coming in later. The minutes of the two previous meetings, regular and special, were approved with slight alterations.

Under the routine of business Geo. R Rockafellow was nominated by Mayor Male as a special policeman. The nomination was confirmed.

Petitions for wholesale liquor licenses were presented by the following, all of which were referred to the License Committee where they remained: Matthew Kilpatrick, at No. 79 West Sixth street; M. F. Watson, at No. 15 Grant avenue, corner of South Second street; Augustus H. Khrone, on Stebbins place, between Second and Third streets.

Mary R. Lewis and others petitioned the Council to accept a driveway known as "Westervelt avenue extension," extending from East Front street to Green Brook, to a point opposite Robert Currey's house. Referred to Street Committee.

Chas. H. Hand communicated with the Council to the effect that he would sell to the city his building on West Second street at a reasonable price. Referred.

The Secretary of the Board of Health again called attention to the urgent necessity of considering the unsanitary condition of the outlet to the New street sewer. The matter was referred to the Street Committee, which Committee, through its Chairman, Mr. Smith, reported that already steps had been taken to alleviate the complaint.

John Hickey of Plainfield avenue, communicated to Council the alleged fact that when in 1874 Plainfield avenue was widened, he was awarded $25 for the removal of his fence and for other damages, which he claimed accrued to him at that time. The money, he said, had never been paid, but the matter was referred to the Law and Ordinance Committee for adjudication.

President Geo. W. Rockfellow, of the City Board of Health, asked for an appropriation of $100, which is to be used in conjunction with an appropriation from the Borough Board of Health, for the purpose of putting Green Brook in a sanitary condition from Tier's dam to Cadmus' saw mill. Referred with power.

Petitioners asked for street lights as follows, all of which were referred with power: Three lights on Netherwood avenue; two on Denmark avenue, and an additional lamp on LaGrande avenue.

Chief Doane, from the Board of Engineers, submitted a list of the recently elected fire department officers. They were all confirmed, without a dissenting voice.

The monthly reports of the Collector and Treasurer were presented and referred. The former showed the total receipts to be $1,122.29, and the latter showed a balance of over $6,000 in the general fund and over $1,500 to the credit of the Fire Department fund.

City Judge Codington reported that since March 3, 84 prisoners had been arraigned before him; some have been committed; others fined and two have been held for the Grand Jury. The total fines amounted to $251.51. The report was referred to the Finance Committee.

The quarterly report of the Overseer of the Poor was referred to the Alms Committee.

Chief Dosne reported the fire department apparatus in good working order. He recommended the purchase of 1,500 feet of new hose, and also that the Board of Engineers make the necessary arrangements for protection against fire on the Fourth of July. The Chief's recommendations were adopted. He also on behalf of the Board of Engineers, submitted for confirmation the names of S. H. Whitney as a duly elected member of Alert Hose Company, and M. Vanderweg as a duly elected member of Gazelle Engine Company. Later on they were confirmed.

The City Clerk's report showed a total collection from licenses, etc., $682.81, which amount, he said, had been paid to the treasurer.

Several petitions for hack and cartmen's licenses were presented, referred and subsequently granted.

Messrs Edward Love and Chas. P. Sebring petitioned Council to widen Peace street, and Mr. Chauncey Roll and others in their petition, presented for the same purpose, agree to give eight feet each of their property, provided first, that the street shall be opened up as far Northwest as Green Brook; second, that no special assessment shall be made upon them for said improvement; third, that the city shall relay sidewalks, curb, and remove fences; fourth, that the work shall be completed by Nov. 1. Referred to the Street Committee.

CLAIMS.

Besides the usual batch of poor bills and the claims for work on the streets, the following were presented and referred:

V. W. Nash, $67.89; T. W. Morrison, $24.30; Times, $25.20; E. H. Holmes, $22; R. A. Meeker, $98.72; J. E. Stewart, $10.50; B. Fosgate, $10; Marvin Safe company, $90; J. R. Naylor, 32; Electric Light Co., $675.17; L. H. Bigelow, $13.75; R. Hering, $360; John Johnson, $125; A. Titsworth, $37.50; W. R. Codington, $150; G. W. Grant, $104 75; J. Cooney, $60; C. Giesse, $60; P. Lynch, $60; P. J. Flanagan, $60; W. R. Mattox, $12.30; E. Laine, $60; T. McCue, $60; W. H. Sebring, $114.50.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

J. E. Waters, $6.25; George Conover, $41.66; F. B. Fine, $13.33; W. Scott & Co. $6.50; F. A. Glaentzer, $5; Plainfield Gas Co., $12.60; S. O. Doane, $51.59; T. O. Doane, $52.66.

Mr. Newhall, from the Select Committee, appointed to consider the matter of having the freight house removed, together with a committee of citizens, reported that the latter committee had failed to materialize. He asked that the committee's instructions be changed, or else to have the committee discharged from further duty. Whereupon it was unanimously agreed and the Select Committee was authorized to confer direct with the railroad officials with reference to the removal of the freight house.

He also offered, on behalf of the Water Committee, a resolution which was unanimously adopted, requesting the Water Board to have an analysis made of the proposed supply of water, and to submit the same to the State Board of Health, the cost to be deducted from the fund paid to the city by the Water company.

The same Councilmen reported correct the bill of Engineer Hering. He also presented report No. 4 from the engineer, in which it was stated that progress thus far had been slow, but the contractors have promised rapid advancement; fourteen wells have been sunk, and more are well under way; the architectural designs for buildings, etc., are with Architect Fosgate.

Mr. Hetfield, from the Fire and Building Committee, recommended granting the petition of Chas. McGinley, presented at a former meeting. The petition was granted.

Mr. Roberts, from the Police Committee, reported back as correct all the police claims, with the exception of Wm. H. Sebring's, which, he said, was not sworn to, but was signed by ex-Chief Carey. Of course the claim was not paid.

The Street Committee, through its Chairman, reported that a certain part of Kensington avenue, asked for by petitioners, could not be accepted by the city because the avenue has not yet been properly laid out, flagged or curbed. The report was filed.

Mr. Smith offered a resolution which finally prevailed, after much discussion, but with little antagonism, to the effect that a committee of three, including the chief, be appointed to purchase five horses for joint use on the streets and for fire department purposes, at a cost not to exceed $1,000. It was amended to the effect that one-half of the cost be deducted from the fire department fund and the balance from the general fund.

In referring to the above resolution Mr. Newhall thought it would be wise to wait for a time and see what facilities the water works would offer; expending $1,000 for horses, at the present time, he wisely considered, might over-run the appropriation.

Mr. Smith spoke in favor of the city owning its own horses, purely as a matter of economy. Mr. Hetfield also favored it, but thought that an equal division of the cost should be borne by both the fire department and the Street Committee.

Chief Doane was asked to make a statement of the facts: He said that the city was now paying on an average, $8.33⅓ a month each for horses which are practically in all parts of the United States; he considered it highly essential that the city own its own horses, and cited instances, particularly in Orange, where the horses are owned by the city and where part of them are out doing duty on the streets, while some are held in reserve in case of fire.

As above stated the resolution was adopted, Messrs Dunham, Jenkins, Johnston and Newhall, voting "No." The latter gentleman explained his vote by stating that there were insufficient facts present to warrant his doing otherwise: Messrs Dunham and Johnston, asked permission to change their vote so as to be recorded as voting in the affirmative, and the chair granted their request, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Newhall objected, at the same time requesting the president to present at the next meeting his authority for such a decision. President Moffett informed Mr. Newhall that when a motion was made to re-consider a vote, he would entertain it, but when a member of the Council desired to change his vote on any particular question, that member had the privilege of so doing.

A resolution by Mr. Smith, authorizing the Street Commissioner to purchase necessary carts, etc., at a cost not to exceed $300, was adopted, all voting aye.

NEW BUSINESS.

Upon resolution of Mr. Dunham, the treasurer was authoried and empowered to borrow $500 from the general fund and deposit the same to the credit of the poor fund.

Mr. Spangenberg offered a resolution which prevailed, making it compulsory that ex-Chief Tunis J. Carey report at the next meeting what he has spent out of the $200 appropriation the city allowed him to detect illegal sellers, and that the balance be paid over to Captain Geo. W. Grant.

Upon motion of Mr. Hetfield, the monthly allowance of the janitors of No. 1 and No. 2 Engine houses, was increased from $5 to $10 a month.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Ordinances were called for third reading and adopted as follows: One relating to the city physician; another repealing certain ordinances; also the ordinance extending Orchard place from its present Northeastern terminus to New street, Mr. Newhall alone voting "No."

Mr. Newhall's sidewalk ordinance was called to its third reading for final passage, but upon motion of Mr. Hetfield it was referred back for further consideration, Messrs Johnston, Newhall and Rushmore voting "No."

At this juncture of the proceedings, President Moffett appointed Councilmen Smith, Roberts and Hetfield, as the Committee to act with Chief Doane, in purchasing the fire department horses.

Mr. Newhall reported back to Council two maps, one of which had previously been reported by the Fire and Building Committee, locating 250 hydrants, and the other laying 23 3-10 miles of piping. In connection with this, a resolution was adopted, requesting the Water Board, the Chief, and Engineer Hering to confer with the Water Works company, with reference to the location of hydrants.

An ordinance establishing the grade on Belvidere avenue, was read for the third time, and referred back for consideration.

The Auditing Committee reported and the Council adjourned at 10:45 P. M.

The McAll Mission.

(From the Baltimore American.

The McAll Mission, begun eighteen years ago by an English minister and his wife, in the midst of the lowest and most ferocious quarter of the Paris Communiste, is exciting great interest among the churches of America. A few days ago the parent society, whose quarters are in Philadelphia, held its annual meeting in Boston, to which occasion the Rev. Dr. Storrs of Brooklyn, and the Rev. Philip Brooks of Boston, contributed their loftiest eloquence. Dr. Brooks said: "I suppose no man dreams that France is to be converted by England or America, but we believe that there is in the spiritual life of France a great body of material, a great mass of fuel, which only needs to be touched with the divine fire, that only waits for any weakest hand—it may be the hand of a child—to touch that fuel off, and kindle a flame that shall warm and illumine that great, great land. I am sure we have been interested to-night in knowing that there is such an association between our own city and that city of Paris, and of the work that is going on there. It is always interesting—some of us have done it—to turn aside from the splendid confusion of the Parisian street, and go into the little hall, so quiet, so simple, so plain, sometimes so shabby, and to find there something that comes so near to our souls—a few people gathered together, all the more intensely, earnestly, genuinely manifesting their devotion because of the simplicity of their meeting place.

Census Enumerators Who Weakened on the Start.

The Plainfield census enumerators all resigned on the start except W. C. Hubbard in the third district. He had been there before and had got over his sensitiveness and embarrassment. He started in yesterday and made a good beginning.

David French, of North Plainfield, was another enumerator whose bashfulness did not get the better of him. He got through about 30 families in his first day. But neither he nor Hubbard insist on answers to the questions as to the chronic diseases of the ladies, or how much you owe.

B. T. Barnes, L. C. Dunn and E. W. Titsworth, however, appointed enumerators in this city, have resigned on the start. It is understood that H. H. Baker has been appointed in Mr. Titsworth's place, and M. M. Dunham is recommended for Mr. Barnes' place.

THIS LOOKS WARLIKE

England Sends a Fleet of Torpedo Boats to Halifax.

FIVE WARSHIPS FROM BERMUDA

A Rumor that a Regiment of Soldiers Will Sail for Newfoundland.

All London Preparing for the Derby Meeting—Emperor William Sends a Threatening Note to Bismarck—Gladstone Explains About a Recent Speech. To be Banished from Sofia.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 3.—Two torpedo boats are expected to arrive from England this month. They will be accompanied out by H. M. S. Tyne.

A fleet of war ships has arrived from Bermuda, including the Partridge, a comparatively new gunboat of the first-class, a sister ship of the Thrush. She carries six guns.

There is a rumor here that a regiment of the line and two batteries of artillery are about to sail from England for Newfoundland.

The officers of the ships say they are in no way surprised at the action of the French war ship at Bay St. George. It is a thing that has been going on for the past thirty years or more. The Admiral, however, has ordered two of the ships to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Newfoundland should the occasion require. The French corvette Bisson, now here, will proceed hence to the French shore of Newfoundland.

THE GREAT DERBY.

Fashionable and Sporting Londoners Will be Present at To-Morrow's Meeting.

LONDON, June 3.—The Derby meeting to-morrow is the chief topic in fashionable and sporting circles.

The Prince of Wales and his family will be present on all four days of the meeting and on the principal day, to-morrow, no one will be absent who can by any possibility attend.

In order to enable the Members of the House of Commons and the Lords to witness the event there will be no sitting of Parliament to-morrow.

The best boxes in the grand stand have already been secured, the greater number of them by wealthy Americans and Australians sojourning in London, who maintain their reputation of being the most lavish of all patrons of the turf and other events in the distribution of money.

The betting is 95 to 40 on Mr. A. W. Merry's Surefoot, which is regarded as an almost certain winner. The horse Heaume, which ran first in the Jockey Club race at Paris Sunday, is entered in the Derby and will surely start. He was ridden in Sunday's race by the English Jockey Barrett, who will ride him to-morrow. He is expected to run second and by some is backed for a winner.

Gladstone Explains.

LONDON, June 3.—Mr. Gladstone, in reply to questions sent to him by Liberals in Glasgow, denies that he ever stated that the shooting affair at Mitchellstown, Ireland, and the Siberian atrocities were parallel outrages. Though, he says, he has spoken of them together, he did not desire the inference to be drawn that he regarded the Mitchellstown affair as equally as bad as the outrages perpetrated by the Russian officials in Siberia.

The Articles Not Inspired.

BRUSSELS, June 3.—The Independence Belge, under the impression that the United States Government opposes protection in the Congo State, because that paper's articles on the subject were regarded by the American Government as having been officially inspired, explains that the opinions expressed in the articles were its own.

Bismarck Threatened.

BERLIN, June 3.—The Emperor has informed Prince Bismarck that if he does not at once cease his utterances on political affairs and other matters relating to his retirement, with which the press have been filled of late, the result will be serious to him.

A Canadian Village Burned.

MONTREAL, June 3.—The village of St. Jacques de Lachigan was almost entirely destroyed by fire last night. Twenty-eight houses were burned, also a number of tobacco warehouses. Fifty persons are made homeless.

Capt. Kalabkoff to be Banished.

SOFIA, June 3.—The sentence of Capt. Kalabkoff, of the Russian army, who as a co-conspirator with Major Panitza was condemned to nine years' imprisonment, has been commuted to banishment.

A Move for Nine Hours.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 3.—A move for nine hours, without a reduction of wages, has been inaugurated here. Most of the masons are working on the new schedule. Some of the masons' tenders who had been working for less than union rates have struck. The carpenters are also in for nine hours, but as yet it is difficult to state how things will end. Some have struck work and many have consented to keep on at ten hours. Many bosses have acceeded to the demands of their men.

Mistake of a Druggist.

WESTFIELD, Mass., June 3.—Willie Cummings died Friday night, it was supposed of diptheria, but it has since been alleged that the boy's death was caused by the mistake of a druggist in putting a gargle into a bottle labelled for medicine for internal use. The swallowing of the gargle is said to have resulted fatally. An autopsy will be held.

Mitchell in Luck.

DETROIT, Mich., June 3.—John Hayes, a Grand Trunk switchman, and the only person who positively identified Birchell, the alleged murderer of the young Englishman, Benham, at Woodstock, was killed by the cars at Windsor.

Boland Whips Burke.

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—Jack Boland, of Cincinnati (123 pounds), and Tommy Burke, of Boston (119 pounds), fought with five-ounce gloves at the Audubon Athletic Club, last night, for a $600 purse, Burke being knocked out in the eleventh round.

A NEW MAN-OF-WAR.

The Government Takes Possession of the Dynamite Cruiser Vesuvius.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—At the League Island Navy Yard the United States Government took formal possession of the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, and that vessel was placed in commission as a man-of-war.

The Vesuvius was transferred from the possession of the Cramps, the owners of the shipyard in which she was built and launched, by Mr. Charles H. Cramp and accepted on behalf of the Government by Capt. H. B. Seely, Commandant of the League Island Naval Station.

The Vesuvius will remain at League Island for a few days and then proceed to some point on the Atlantic coast to be designated by the Secretary of the Navy.

Resumed With a New Cashier.

OWEGO, N. Y., June 3.—The Owego National Bank has resumed business. There was no run on the institution or nothing approaching a run. In fact, only a few thousand dollars were withdrawn, while a number of substantial business men made deposits. A. H. Upton has been appointed cashier of the bank in place of Thompson, who held the position and whose dealings resulted in the temporary suspension of the bank. James Bassett, the former teller of the bank, has been appointed assistant cashier. He was implicated with Thompson in the grain transactions. Bassett is succeeded by Frank Inman Stanbrough.

High License in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 3.—Indictments have been found by the grand jury against a number of hotel and saloon keepers for violation of the new high license law which went into effect May 1. Among the presentments are two against Robert Rennert of the Hotel Rennert—the leading hostlery of Baltimore. A number of Baltimore's most prominent citizens were called upon to testify in this particular case. It is believed an indictment will follow and it is possible according to the new law that Mr. Rennert may be imprisoned.

McAuliffe Will Fight Slavin.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Negotiations are pending for an international prize fight between Frank Slavin, of Australia, and Joe McAuliffe, of San Francisco. A prominent sporting man to-day received a cablegram from London informing him that Slavin had agreed to fight McAuliffe at the Pelican Club for £800 and the championship, Slavin allowing McAuliffe £100 for expenses. Billy Madden, McAuliffe's backer, replied that McAuliffe would fight Slavin on the terms mentioned.

The Smoky City Team's Big Debt.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 3.—Director O'Neill, of the Pittsburg League club, has been East several days trying to fix up a deal whereby he will have full control of that club for the National League. The movement of the Brotherhood upset all the directors' calculations and in the place of selling their stock on hand they had to pay dearly to retain it. It would be safe to put the debt of the Pittsburg club down at $65,000.

Challenge from Pete McCoy.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 3.—Pete McCoy has offered to fight Arthur Upham or Jack Magee in this city at some near date for $1,000. Mike Slatterly, in replying to this offer, has named $600 as the best purse which could be made up here for such a match.

Serious Charges Against a Cashier.

BELVIDERE, N. J., June 3.—Cashier L. J. Hann of the National Bank of Washington, N. J., and his wife quarrelled, and it is said that he choked her and threw here down stairs. Her injuries are mortal, her back having been broken. Her dying deposition has been taken by Justice Van Dyke

A QUESTION.
Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

BAYNE WITHDRAWS

The Congressman Creates a Political Sensation.

RUMORS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

His Opponent for the Nomination Threatens to Create Trouble.

Mr. Bayne Says He Worked for a Vindication and Secured It—His Wife Only in the Secret—The Convention's Choice Said to be Irregular and Cannot Stand—Politicians Excited.

PITTSBURG, June 4.—In the Congressional convention of the Twenty-third district, Col. Thomas M. Bayne, who has been that district's representative for seven terms, was renominated. He refused to accept the nomination, whereupon Col. William A. Stone was nominated.

The entirely unexpected action of Mr. Bayne in declining a renomination, after having defeated his opponent, George Shiras, 5 to 2, and the subsequent nomination of Col. William A. Stone to succeed him created an immense sensation all over the the county and rumors of all descriptions are in circulation.

Col. Bayne's action is bitterly denounced by many prominent Republicans. George Shiras, Col. Bayne's opponent, now claims that he is entitled to the nomination and threatens to cause trouble. In accordance with the rules of the county committee, prominent Republicans, friends of both Shiras and Bayne, claim Stone's nomination is irregular and cannot stand.

Mr. Bayne's reason for refusing the nomination was that he was worn out and unable to work. He had worked for the honor of renomination as a vindication, had succeeded and was satisfied. Mr. Bayne says he decided upon this course several months ago, and told no one but his wife. He says he will retire to private life and will not again be identified with politics in an official capacity.

There are, however, numerous rumors to the contrary, one mentioning Col. Bayne as a Quay compromise candidate for Governor; another that he is to be appointed to a foreign mission and many others.

Just previous to the close of the convention of the 23d Legislative district in Allegheny City George D. Riddle a prominent attorney, read a series of resolutions severely censuring Congressman Bayne for his action in declining the nomination in the manner in which he did, and demanding that the county committee call another convention at the earliest possible date. The resolutions were adopted.

STOLE HIS WIFE AND MONEY.

A Deserted Husband Has His Rival Arrested for Grand Larceny.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 4.—Charles E. Lewis of Jackson, Pa., is under arrest at Cortland, charged with grand larceny by William C. Chandler, with whose wife the prisoner ran away about a month ago.

It is claimed by the husband that when his wife deserted him some of Lewis's friends held him until three trunks, one of which contained some money, could be got out of the house. At the examination a number of witnesses from Pennsylvania will be in attendance.

Mrs. Chandler declares that she will not return with her husband under any circumstances, but threatens to go back and have him prosecuted for violation of the revenue laws if he appears against Lewis.

The Child Perished in the Flames.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 4.—The frame dwelling of James Fogerty, near Big Mine Run, a few miles from here, was destroyed by fire last evening. The flames were started by Fogerty's 6-year-old son, who was playing in a second story room. The fire spread so rapidly that the child could not be reached, and he perished. Four adjoining houses, owned by John Carl and Peter Joyce, were also destroyed. The loss will reach $12,000.

Bail for the Fighting Mayor.

CEDAR KEYS, Fla., June 4.—It is said that bail has been arranged for ex-Mayor Cottrell and his clique is jubilant. They say that he can safely give himself up through the formality of giving bail, and then return to intimidate all the witnesses against him. Many families will remove from here if Cottrell gives bail, and it is reported that Collector Pinkerton says he will at once resign, and return to his old home at Manatee.

The Negro Conference.

RONDOUT, N. Y., June 4.—Ex-President Hayes and daughter are at Lake Mohonk Mountain House. Mr. Hayes will preside at the negro conference to be held there to-day. The conference will be in session three days. It is the first gathering of the kind ever held, and has for its object the education and Christianizing of the colored men. Scores of college presidents, professors and prominent personages from all parts of the country are present.

Master Carpenters to be Prosecuted.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A report from Chicago says that Special Treasury Agent Stieon who has been investigating the charge that members of the Master Carpenters and Builders' Association are guilty of violating the alien labor law, has about concluded to begin vigorous prosecutions against the offenders.

An Indian Skeleton Unearthed.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., June 4.—An Indian skeleton was unearthed on Mayflower street yesterday. The body was lying on its right side.

TONS OF POWDER EXPLODE.

Houses Levelled to the Ground and a Child Horribly Mutilated.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 4.—A dispatch from Mansfield, Ohio, says that during a heavy storm, lightning struck Tracy & Avery's powder house, located about a mile east of that city. The house is said to have contained two tons of powder, which exploded, causing a tremendous report.

Hundreds of windows in the city were broken; china and glassware was knocked from shelves and people thrown from their feet. Many buildings in the vicinity were badly wrecked. Two frame dwelling houses on the opposite side of the street from the magazine were levelled to the ground, scarcely anything remaining to show that they were dwellings.

One of the houses was vacant; the other was occupied by Henry Roost, his wife and two children. The husband was absent at the time of the explosion. A six months old babe was instantly killed, it being mutilated beyond recognition; the mother and one other child, two years old, were blown over 100 feet away and are thought to be fatally injured.

Nothing remains of the powder house, the bricks are scattered in all directions, some being found a quarter of a mile distant. The explosion was heard ten miles distant. Fully 3,000 people have visited the scene.

AN UNEXPECTED TRAGEDY.

Forger Stoddard Shoots Himself When a Verdict of Guilty Was Rendered.

UTICA, N. Y., June 4.—When the jury in the case of D. Webster Stoddard, who has been on trial for forgery at Herkimer, announced a verdict of guilty, Stoddard arose and went into an anteroom of the court-house, pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot himself through the head. It is thought he will die.

The case is the most sensational ever tried in Herkimer County, and the unexpected tragedy at its close creates great excitement.

Robbed and Tried to Drown a Boy.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., June 4.—George Faddy, aged 17, of Elizabethport, was found unconscious on the beach here early in the morning, bleeding from wounds in the head. He recovered sufficiently to say that he had been assaulted and robbed by a man whom he knew as Billy, employed as a painter at Long Branch. His assailant, after beating him with an iron bar, tried to drown him. Faddy' injuries are serious. His assailant is under arrest at Long Branch.

The Miller-Elliott Contest.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The House Committee on Elections, has completed the report of the Committee in favor of seating Miller (Republican) who contested the seat of Elliott (Democrat), the present member from the seventh district of South Carolina. The report contains the sensational assertion that the registration and election law of the State of South Carolina is unconstitutional.

Big Conclave of Masons.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Master Masons of the State of New York are now holding the 109th annual communication of the Grand Lodge at Masonic Tempie. Grand Master John W. Vrooman is presiding. Delegates representing the 720 lodges of this State, with a membership of more than 75,000, and many prominent Masons from other States are here to attend the ceremonies of the Order.

Favor an Underground Road.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The sub-committee on rapid transit discussed various plans. Though no decision was reached, the plan of the underground roads similar to those in London was, it is understood, most favored. The roads would be 50 to 60 feet below the surface, and there would be no cost for right of way or damages to property. Another meeting will be held soon.

The Child Made a Narrow Escape.

DEDHAM, Mass., June 4.—John Kane, aged 4 years, fell into Merchant's millpond and was swept the whole length of the covered flume—100 feet—in a raging torrent six feet deep. He was taken out of the rack near the wheel in an unconscious condition, but was soon resuscitated. He was apparently uninjured.

The Trouble at Harvard.

BOSTON, June 4.—The committee appointed by the students' mass meeting to take action in regard to the recent acts of vandalism at Harvard, object to that part of their instructions relating to the employment of a detective. They have therefore called another mass meeting, at which they will offer to resign.

Death of Bank President Kerr.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., June 4.—George W. Kerr, president of the National Bank of Newburgh, died at his residence in this city last night from the effects of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Kerr had been identified with the banking interests of the State for upwards of half a century and a bank president for the past 37 years. He was 80 years of age.

Iron and Steel Workers Meet.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 4.—The second annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was called to order by President Weihe, about 240 delegates being present. The session was devoted to formal organization and the appointment of several committees.

Ordered Away by a Man-of-War.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 4.—Letters from the whaling schooner Rising Sun report her at Antigua, W. I. April 28, with 106 bbls. of sperm oil. While at anchor in Som Bay she was ordered away by a Haytian man-of-war.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Senator Cockrell Talks of Capturing Canada.

HE WANTS ENGLAND TO KNOW IT

The United States Will Take the Dominion and Confiscate Her Debt.

The Breckenridge-Clayton Contest—Progress of the Tariff Bill—Marshall McDonald May Have to Go—Chief Bell of the Secret Service Removed—Republican Campaign Committee Organized.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—An amendment to increase the appropriation for rifled sea coast mortars from $250,000 to $400,000 gave rise to a discussion in the Senate, in which the exposed condition of American seaports was described by Messrs. Dawes and Hale and their apprehensions were ridiculed by Mr. Cockrell.

The latter, commenting upon a remark that an ironclad even of a fourth class Power could levy contributions on the seaboard cities, said that he would like Great Britain to levy a war contribution of even a nickel in New York. That act would be followed by an invasion of Canada and a confiscation of every particle of property owned there by Great Britain, amounting to billions and billions.

Mr. Hale remarked that the Canadian offset would make no figure in the question, because if there were any hostilities between Great Britain and the States, England would assume in advance that the United States would take possession of Canada, and one reason why England might be driven by force of circumstances to exact contributions from sea-coast cities would be because she knew that she would lose Canada.

Mr. Hale said that if Canada should come by war the question of her debt, owed not to the British government, but to private individuals, would be a question for negotiation, and it is by no means certain that, if the negotiations resulted in the absorbtion of Canada by the United States, there would not accompany that a provision that the United States should assume the debt.

Mr. Cockrell said: "I can say that it is absolutely certain that there would be no such negotiation, and I want England to know to-day that, in that event, we shall take Canada, with all that she has, without any kind of obligation to mortal being, national or individual. Canada knows that as well as we do, and England knows it."

The discussion was continued on the general subject of coast fortifications, but without further special allusion to Canada and Great Britain. It was participated in by Senators Cockrell, Dawes, Hale, McPherson, Gorman, Plumb, Dolph, Reagan and Platt. Finally the vote was taken and the amendment was agreed to—24 to 22.

MR. GARLAND ARGUES.

The ex-Attorney General Counsel in the Breckinridge-Clayton Contest.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The sub committee of the House Committee on Elections charged with investigating the contested election case of John M. Clayton, deceased, against Clifton R. Breckinridge from Arkansas, heard argument by ex-Attorney-General Garland on the application made by Mr. Breckenridge for the further hearing of testimony.

After Mr. Garland had finished the committee decided that it could not hear the large number of witnesses that Mr. Breckinridge asked to have called because full opportunity had been given for hearing their testimony while the sub-committee was in Arkansas, and because, as the case had been closed with the consent of the contestee, there was no reason why it should be reopened.

The sub-committee desided however to allow Gen. Powell Clayton and Dr. Taylor of Arkansas, who are now in Washington, and Mr. Breckenridge to testify. Mr. Breckinridge requested that several witnesses be summoned from California to testify as to the theory that Thomas Hooper killed Col. Clayton, but this was overruled by the sub-committee on the ground that these witnesses had telegraphed full statements while the sub-committee was in Arkansas.

Lottery People Frightened.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A special from New Orleans says the lottery company is now paying 20 cents a name for signatures to petitions in favor of a charter. One petition presented yesterday had only five signatures. Three of them were saloon keepers and the fourth man has been in the insane asylum twice. In Pointe Coupe signatures were obtained from the careless and ignorant by representing that the petitions were for appropriations for levees. There are reports that the lottery people recognizing their defeat wish to compromise by taking a re-charter for one year until January, 1895. The anti-lottery people refuse to yield an inch.

Progress of the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee discussed the probability of bringing the Tariff bill before the full committee so as to report is to the Senate if possible by the end of the present week. The sugar schedule was passed over, and only some unimportant schedules were considered.

Chief Bell Removed.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—John S. Bell, chief of the Secret Service Division, Treasury Department, has been removed from his position. His successor has not yet been appointed.

Further particulars may be obtained by addressing Prof. D. H. Hering, Secretary, Washington Square, East, New York.

Now They've Got What They Want.

A youthful correspondent to THE PRESS says that "some of the boys of this city have long been wanting a bicycle club of their own," and the organization of such a club was perfected at the meeting held at the residence of one of the members yesterday afternoon. Any boy, between the ages of ten and fifteen years is eligible for membership. Application for membership should be made to Master V. Green, No. 36 East Fifth street, between the hours of noon and one o'clock in the day time, and from six to seven o'clock in the evening. At the meeting yesterday the club elected officers as follows:

President—V. Green.
Vice President—B. Bowers.
Secretary—W. Probasco.
Treasurer—R. Tomlinson.
Captain—G. Homan.
Color Bearer—H. Johnson.

Speeches, Music and Recitations, Free.

Next Tuesday evening a public meeting of the various Bands of Mercy in Plainfield, will be held in Reform Hall for the benefit of the Children's Home. No admission fee will be charged, but a collection will be taken up.

The Rev. Dr. Lewis and A. M. Powell will speak. There will also be fine music by New York artists, recitations by children of the bands and singing by the little ones of the "Home." Short reports from each Band of Mercy will be presented that the public may learn something of their excellent object.

Anniversary Exercises.

The nineteenth anniversary of the Children's Home, will be held in the First Presbyterian church on Front street, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Short addresses will be made by Drs. Rodman and Ketcham and the annual reports of the Treasurer and President will be read. Special music by quartette, trio and solo will add interest to the exercises. All friends of this charity are cordially invited to be present.

Indigestion.

A recent attack of indigestion is easily cured if the right remedy is applied, but every medicine except HAMBURG FIGS is so disgusting to taste or smell that a person prefers to let the disease take its course, if the above laxative cannot be obtained. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

HYMENEAL.

WELCH—M'GEE.

The wedding took place, last evening, of Miss Adelaide Frances McGee, daughter of School Trustee James McGee, of North Plainfield, ex-President of the New York Produce Exchange. The groom was the Rev. Herbert Welch, who, although a young son of wealthy parents, has devoted his life to the ministry, and has already given promise of a noticeable future. In his present pastorate, at Bedford Station, N. Y., he doubled the membership and congregation in a few months.

The ceremony was performed in the M. E. church at seven o'clock, by the Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell—E. R. Foley, a college classmate of the groom's, delivering the prayer of benediction. The bridal gown was of white faille richly combined with brocade, and she wore a veil of tulle. The maid of honor was her sister, Miss Emma McGee, in heliotrope. The bride carried a bouquet of niphetus roses and lily of the valley, and entered the church on the arm of her father preceded by the ushers: James R. Joy and Clifford McGee of this city, Dr. George McDowell, Edward Slayback and James Welch, of New York, and W. S. Ashbrook of Philadelphia. The groom's attendant was his brother, O. L. Welch.

There has never been so large an attendance of ladies in full dress, and prominent people of New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and other cities, at a church wedding in Plainfield before. The rule of admission only to those favored with cards of invitation, was also for the first time strictly enforced, and the consequence was a ceremony exclusively amid environments of refinement and entire good taste. Dr. E. W. Hedges' charming selections on the organ, added also to the delightful effect of the occasion. A reception was subsequently tendered about 200 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McGee. Supper was served by Mazetti, and the orchestra was led by Ernest Neyer, of New York. Private cars left this city for New York, shortly after ten o'clock, with Mr. and Mrs. Welch and a large number of their friends.

RUNYON—BULKLEY.

In the Lee Avenue Congregational church, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, took place the marriage of Miss Mary W. Bulkley of that city, and Mr. Howard J. Runyon, of West Front street, one of the Directors of the Y. M. C. A., and a prominent member of the Plainfield Bicycle club. The pastor of the church officiated, assisted by the uncle of the bride. The ceremony was simple and impressive.

Miss Bulkley was attired in a plain but rich traveling costume, and carried a beautiful bouquet of red clover. The ushers were Mr. Townsend Rushmore, of this city, and Messrs Baker, Swift and Bulkey, of Brooklyn, the last a cousin of the bride. The groom's gifts to them, were scarfs and handsome pins. Among those present were guests from Plainfield, including Mr. Runyon's parents.

The newly wedded couple have started on a well-planned trip that will occupy a fortnight. Subsequent to its completion, they will live in this city for a time.

Plainfielders Will Tent at Northfield.

The World's Students Conference will at Mr. Moody's invitation, be held at Northfield, Mass. A number of Plainfielders will camp there.

The advance circular says that the commodious buildings and beautiful grounds of the Northfield seminary have been placed at the disposal of the delegates. It commands one of the grandest views in New England. The Connecticut River flows closely by and the mountains are on every hand. It is the birth place and present home of Mr. Moody, and is rapidly becoming the leading resort of Christian workers. Students will converge there from all quarters of the Globe. It will have a widely varied programme and will be characterized more by its practical conferences and spiritual addresses than by actual study. To read what a great man has said is well; it is better to go and hear him. At this conference one may catch a living inspiration from some of the grandest men of the age.

The singing will be made one of the strongest features at Northfield. It is a mistake to suppose that this gathering is given up to an uninterrupted series of meetings. The afternoons are reserved for recreation. Every facility is afforded for tennis—singles, doubles, tournaments, etc., for base ball, foot ball, track athletics, swimming, boating, tramping and sleeping.

At Northfield as last year there will be a jovial Fourth of July celebration and Field day. Other interesting special athletic features will be introduced. A. A. Stagg of Yale will have charge of the Athletics. The total expense at Northfield (including board, room and registration fee) will be $15 for each delegate.

Further information about this conference and also the students at Chautauqua, may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

She's Sore On Officer Lynch.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I beg leave to contradict the statement in which Policeman Lynch had said my house was in a disgraceful condition of dirt. I called in Mr. M. M. Dunham, Sanitary Inspector, to be witness. He said it was not dirty. I beg leave also to state that my husband is wrongfully imprisoned, for which I intend to settle matters afterwards.

MRS. THOMAS SHELLY.

Still Another Runaway.

Mr. John N. Moore and a companion named Underhill, were seated in a buckboard driving along Prospect avenue, about seven o'clock, last evening, and when in the vicinity of Ninth street the horse became frightened at a scavenger's wagon and ran away. The vehicle struck a tree, throwing the occupants out and slightly injuring one of them.

The horse was seen passing the Dog Corners, but up to ten o'clock today, the runaway rig had not been recovered.

Their Assets Nearly $7,000.

Andrew L. Carney and John H. Carney, partners as Carney Bros., plumbers and tinsmiths, assignees, to Wm. M. Stillman, have transferred all their goods, chattels, book accounts, etc., for the benefit of creditors. The total assets, it is thought, will amount to about $6,779.

Fell From a Hammock.

A four-year-old son of Mr. W. A. Campbell of East Second street, fell out of a hammock on the front porch of his father's residence, last evening, and sustained severe injuries to his left shoulder. Dr. J. B. Probasco attended the injured child.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires' Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires' Root Beer Packages make.

DECORATION DAY AT THE NETHERWOOD.

A Guest Tells How the Wheelmen Were Banqueted There.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—The first great event of the season was the assembling of the New Jersey Wheelmen at the Hotel Netherwood, Decoration Day. The State was well represented from Plainfield, Roselle, Elizabeth, Newark, Morristown, Trenton and other noted localities. One hundred and forty members of the L. A. W. registered their names in the hotel register. They were a fine body of men, and elicited general admiration from the guests of the hotel for their graceful evolutions on their wheels. The members at bugle call assembled on the lawn in front of the hotel, where two expert photographers executed snap pictures of the leaguers and their friends. The day was propitious for the event, and the members thoroughly enjoyed their visit in so far as your correspondent was able to judge.

Another event, the dinner, was announced at 4 o'clock. The bugle call brought the members together, when they fell into line and marched into the grand dining room, where a sumptuous repast awaited them, specially prepared for the occasion by the excellent Chef of the hotel, under the guidance of our good host, Mr. Frank E. Miller, whose reputation in that line is evidenced in the following Menu.

Little Neck Clams.
Soups.
Printaniere Royal.
Hors d'Oeuvre
Pickles, Chow Chow, Olives, Radishes.
Bouche a la Russe
Poisson
Escalops of Bass, au Vin Blanc
Relevee
Croquettes de Volaille, Marechale
Entrees
Filet de Bœuf, Pique, Demi-Glace
Pommes Nouvelles
Asperge, Sauce Hollandaise
Sorbet Au Kirsch
Roti
Upland Plovers with Water Cress
Dessert
Pudding, Glace Nesselrode
Petite Fours
Mixed Nuts Assorted Fruits Cheese Coffee

The Menu was intended to be a souvenir of the Meet and was really a work of art, and eagerly sought for by the members. So passed Decoration Day with many other pleasant incidents by the way, at this charming hotel and home on the Heights. The leaguers were delighted with their reception and entertainment, and the whole affair may safely be pronounced a success in the fullest acceptation of the term.

It Was No Runaway.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—In your issue of the 29th, you say "Mahlon Vail's team of iron grey horses ran away on Somerset street again on Thursday afternoon, and reduced another wagon into kindling wood."

Where or how you could have gotten any information so far from the real facts I cannot imagine. In the first place it was not another, but the same wagon, with only new whiffletrees and neck yoke, being all that was necessary to make new from the accident in North avenue.

In Somerset street there was no runaway, as the horses only moved from the centre to the side of the street, and the only damage done the wagon was the breaking the end of a very light pole by coming in contact with a hitching post.

MAHLON VAIL.

An Engineer Killed.

A Philadelphia and Reading engineer, on the Bound Brook route, was killed while making a return trip from Bound Brook, last evening, his head coming in contact with a stand pipe. The train was speeding along rapidly, when the fireman looked over from his side of the cab, and was surprised to see the engineer sitting upright in the cab, dead.

The engineer's name was Murphy, and he was running train No. 528, which passed through here about 6:48 o'clock P. M., going West. The accident happened at Janney station, near Neshaminy Falls.

Too Much One-Sided for Comfort.

The Home News of New Brunswick says in referring to the ball game in this city on Saturday last: "The Unions met their Waterloo on Saturday afternoon, when they faced the crack Crescent team of Plainfield.

"Those who had seen the Crescents and the Unions respectively play before had considered the teams well matched."

An Editor Arraigned in Court.

Editor Lane, of the Summit Record, was arraigned in the Union County Court in Elizabeth, Monday, to answer to an indictment for criminal libel obtained against him by Sheriff Glasby. The editor pleaded not guilty and was held in $500 bail for trial.

—A delegation of Franklin Council, of this city, was present last evening, at the institution of a new lodge at Metuchen. The new council will be known as Metuchen Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. Among those who went from this city were: Vice Councilor G. S. Martin and Brothers C. F. Stephens, C. S. Greer, J. V. Beekman, E. R. Pope, Jr., and others.

"Things are Seldom What They Seem."

While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are not only all they seem, but more. In torpid liver, indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Observance of the 49th Anniversary—The Rev. A. R. Dilts of this City, Preaches the Sermon.

The forty-ninth anniversary of the East New Jersey Baptist Association was held in the Peddie Memorial church at Newark, yesterday morning, there being a large attendance from the different churches in the association which includes the Baptist churches in this city. The committee on nominations named the Rev. F. C. A. Jones of the Mount Pleasant Baptist church of Newark, as Moderator, and Mr. C. Edgar Sutphen of Newark, as Clerk. Both gentlemen were elected. The Rev. Mr. Jones on taking the chair briefly returned thanks for the honor done him.

The Rev. J. A. Cubberly of New Market, read a portion of the Scriptures, and the Rev. J. K. Folwell of Westfield, offered prayer. The Rev. Asa Reed Dilts of this city, preached a sermon, taking for his text Acts II. 47th, "And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." He said in part:

"The church is the body of Christ, the temple of God, and the members of the church are built on the foundation of the Apostles, Jesus Christ being the chief corner-stone. There is a close connection between the Church and Jesus Christ. It is the relation of head and body, of husband and wife. We come across the narrow idea sometimes that the Church is a religious club for the benefit of the members and their families. I am satisfied in my own mind that the fact that the Church is not free from such ideas has much to do with fostering the idea that the church is a religious club. The idea that a man shall say 'I rent a pew; it belongs to me and I am going to sit in it and no one shall come in without my permission!' Does it not seem strange that such a thing should be when the Church is dedicated to Almighty God? It seems contrary to the teaching of the Old Testament and the New that any man has the right to say that he owns, for the time being, any part of a church. O, but they say the mob will come in. Well, we want the mob to come in and if they drive us out we will go somewhere else and worship. Christ taught his disciples to go out into the highways and compel men to come in. The true function of the church is to seek men and to save them." The preacher next spoke of the necessity of the church preparing itself for its work, and of the influence of the members, cultivating the spirit of charity, love, faith and prayer. He also spoke of the importance of having a deep conviction of the deeds of the world and carrying the Gospel to all men.

An Open Letter to "The New York World."

Geo. B. M. Harvey, Editor New Jersey Edition of The World:

Some time ago The World began the publication of a series of fictitious base ball scores which cast ridicule and insult on some of Plainfield's best citizens. One of the first things the public sought in connection with the "reports" was to ascertain the author. Many, knowing that I as a newspaper correspondent had done work for The World, accused me, secretly and openly, of being the offender. I found that the "scores," besides being annoying to others more prominent in local affairs, were bringing myself as the reputed inventor of them into disrepute. I wrote to you, as the editor of the New Jersey Edition of The World, demanding a vindication for myself and satisfaction as to the identity of the culprit. Two letters—each of them gentlemanly and firm and deserving of prompt and courteous response—and one telegram—worthy of instant reply—were utterly ignored; and a personal visit to you in your office was received with the same curt indifference. I told you that the "scores" had ceased to be funny from the moment they first saw print, that they were making serious trouble for me and would bring disrepute and obloquy on both your newspaper and myself. You claimed not to know the name of the offender, but you offered no excuse for such rank violation of journalistic ethics in publishing utterly anonymous communications. The only good effect my efforts had was to induce you to reject all future unsigned "scores." You apparently made no effort to discover who was the offender. I was left alone to protect my reputation. You vouchsafed no vindication. You did not aid me in my expenditure of time and money to unmask the base ball "humorist." I inserted in THE DAILY PRESS an offer of $5 reward for information establishing the identity of the fellow. As I had expected, no information came. I had been civil; now I would be fierce; in a second advertisement I called the anonymous reporter a liar and a coward, hoping that he might bluster up courage enough to attack me on the street and thus reveal himself. Still silence. Three days passed. This morning the liar and the coward developed into a forger, and in your paper appeared another ridiculous "score" purporting to be signed by a respected citizen of North Plainfield—a man whose venerable locks are white with the sunshine of nearly an hundred years. From other papers I find that Newton and other localities have been libeled by similar "scores." In Newton ministers of the Gospel have been classed with bar room loafers, just as Plainfield's reputable men—not excepting the mayor, postmaster and other leaders—have been associated, through your gullibility, with notorious jail birds. Public sentiment is swelling vastly in resenting these outrages. It is time you gave the people an explanation and your trustworthy correspondents the vindication they deserve. Is not this a time for a display of manliness?

Yours very truly,
WALTER IRVING CLARKE

"No Suffering Whatever."

A contemporary writes as follows of the method of dentistry used by Dr. Estebrooke, who is now at 21 West Front street.

Having had 15 teeth extracted yesterday by Dr. Estebrooke, at his parlors in the American House, I wish to testify in this public manner my hearty appreciation of his services. Dr. Estebrooke's method is entirely and absolutely painless and cannot be too strongly endorsed. An operation that ordinarily would have caused me torture was performed in a way that inflicted no suffering whatever.

Start With $1,000,000 Capital.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the Union County Clerk's Office by the Interior and Underground Electric Insulating Company and Indurated Pulp Industries Company, of Rahway. The companies will begin business with $1,000,000 capital. The incorporators and stockholders are John Weaver, of Rahway, and Frank Cochrane and Waldo G. Morse, of New York. The companies will do business in Rahway, Jersey City and New York. The plant will be located at Rahway.

Runaway at Dunellen.

A team of horses belonging to the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of Newark, driven by John Meeker the company's agent, ran away at Dunellen, yesterday afternoon, throwing the driver out and dragging him fully one hundred yards. The wagon struck a tree, tearing it out by the roots, and also breaking the pole of the wagon. Mr. Meeker was badly injured about the body and legs, but fortunately no bones were broken.

—Two wagons, a rockaway and a coupe, collided at the corner of Park avenue and Front street, about nine o'clock last evening, but no great damage was done.

The Oliphant-Elkins Wedding.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Miss Sarah Elkins, eldest daughter of Stephen B. Elkins, and Major A. C. Oliphant, of Trenton, N. J., were married last night at the residence of the bride's father, Rev. Heber Newton officiating. Among the ushers were James V. Long, of Pittsburg; Richard Colter, Jr., of Greensburg, Pa.; and Lieutenants Griffin and Woodward, U. S. N. The wedding was a quiet and very select affair. Among the numerous costly and beautiful presents were gifts from President and Mrs. Harrison, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary and Mrs. Windom, Andrew Carnegie, and General Sewell and staff of the New Jersey State Militia.

Philadelphians Protest.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—A business men's meeting was held at the Walnut Street Theatre, at which Alexander McClure presided. The tobacco, tin plate and woolen industries were largely represented. Among the speakers were Congressmen McAdoo, Springer, Bynum and Breckenridge. Last night a mass meeting of workingmen in textile goods was held at Kensington, and was addressed by the same gentlemen. Both meetings were called for the purpose of protesting against the McKinley bill. A letter was read from ex-President Cleveland.

Still Trying to Save Kemmler.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 4.—At the request of Mr. Hatch, attorney for Kemmler, the murderer, the General Term of the Supreme Court directed that an order be entered confirming the decision of Judge Underwood to the effect that the Warden of Auburn Prison was the proper custodian of the condemned man. An appeal to the Court of Appeals was afterwards made and argument will probably be had at the present term of that court at Saratoga.

The Buffalo Club Goes to Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 4.—Arrangements have been completed for the transfer of the Buffalo baseball team of the International League to this city. The regular scheduled games of that team will be played on the Shamrock Lacrosse grounds here, beginning Monday next.

The Convict Jackson Inquest.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—The coroner's jury in the case of the negro convict Jackson, who was killed by Policeman Grand while escaping from prison, rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Nominated for Congress.

BANGOR, Me., June 4.—Hon. Josiah Crosby, of Dexter, was unanimously nominated for Congress by the Fourth District Democratic Convention here.

Result of the Oregon Election.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—Hermann's (Rep.) majority for Congress is estimated at from 6,000 to 8,000. The Republican State Central Committee concede the re-election of Pennoyer (Dem.) for Governor by 1,000 majority. Both branches of the Legislature are Republican by large majorities.

A Labor Difficulty Settled.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 4.—The trouble between the builders and the masons has been settled, the builders agreeing to pay first-class masons forty-five cents per hour. This is generally acceptable to the men.

Movements of the Squadron.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 4.—A telegram from Admiral Gherardi states that the North Atlantic squadron will stop at Charleston on its way north. The fleet is expected here to-morrow.

THE DUKE PARDONED

President Carnot Releases Orleans from Prison.

TAKEN TO THE SWISS FRONTIER.

He Was Removed Secretly During the Night from Clairvaux.

The London Times Advocates Sending British Gunboats to Behring Sea—Parnellites Issue a Whip—Louise Michel Declared a Lunatic—Four of the Powers Sign a Treaty to Suppress Anarchists.

LONDON, June 4.—The young Duke of Orleans is at last free.

President Carnot signed the decree releasing the Duke, and he was secretly conveyed during the night from the prison of Clairvaux to the Swiss frontier.

This was done with a view to avoiding the great number of tokens of sympathy and loyalty which the Duke would have received had he been allowed to return to Paris.

The President's action has caused a great flutter in Orleanist circles, for hope of pardon had been given up, and quite a colony, especially of ladies, had been formed at Clairvaux, which will now be suddenly broken up.

The Duchess of Chartres and her daughter had rented expensive villas in the neighborhood, and in their suite were many wealthy families, who enjoyed this occasion of manifesting their political preference.

It is expected that the Duke's fiancee, the daughter of the Duchess de Chartres, will accompany the Duke of Orleans into his new exile in Switzerland.

It is also reported that the Comtesse de Paris intends that the youthful pair shall be married in London very shortly, making the wedding the great event of the fashionable season.

President Carnot's action may cause some Cabinet changes. Some of his associates think he has been headstrong in this matter.

A GROWL FROM LONDON.

The Thunderer Thinks British Men-of-War should Go to Behring Sea.

LONDON, June 4.—The Times this morning says the sending of American cruisers to Behring Sea smacks of Napoleon's methods, and thinks that the British men-of-war should promptly follow. The pressure of the Irish vote, the Times thinks, has changed Mr. Blaine's desire to settle the fisheries question in a diplomatic manner.

The Times concludes its article as follows: "We believe that England will agree to a close time for seals in the open sea; but such an arrangement must be international, and cannot be imposed upon the world by American gunboats at the bidding of Mr. Blaine."

A Prominent Journalist Married.

LONDON, June 4.—Another wedding celebrated here was that of Mr. Ballard Smith, the New York journalist, to Miss Catherine Butterfield, also of New York, at the Savoy Chapel. The bride was given away by Mr. Robert Lincoln, United States Minster to the Court of St. James, and Major Post, United States Military Attache in London, was best man. Their was a large attendance of Americans. Creighton Webb, one of the Vanderbilt family, presided at the organ during the ceremony.

A Parnellite Whip.

LONDON, June 4.—An urgent Parnellite "whip" has been issued, calling upon the Nationalist members of the House of Commons to be in their seats to-morrow. It is reported that a motion will be made to adjourn the House in order to censure the Government for proclaiming the recent meeting at Tipperary.

Conspiring to Kill the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The authorities here have become possessed of the knowledge that a fresh conspiracy against the life of the Czar by Nihilists in France is in process of incubation. The French police, having been advised of this fact by the Russian officials, are now engaged in hunting down the conspirators.

Louise Michel a Lunatic.

PARIS, June 4.—M. Constans, Minister of the Interior, has ordered the release of Louise Michel from prison, the doctors having decided that she is a lunatic.

Anarchists to be Suppressed.

BERLIN, June 4.—Germany, France, Russia and Switzerland have signed a treaty for the suppression of anarchists. England is still unwilling to join.

Two Trains Wrecked.

New York, June 4.—A train on the North Shore road was running out of the yard of the Long Island Railroad at Long Island City at 7:30 last night, when it ran into the Babylon express, which was coming into the depot. A crowd in the station not one hundred yards away saw the trains collide and sent up a mighty cry. It was thought that many passengers were killed or injured, as the crowd rushed down to the scene of the accident and made their way through the steam that hid the wreck. Fortunately no lives were lost, but several passengers were badly bruised.

Paving Cutters on Strike.

BARRE, Vt., June 4.—Two hundred paving cutters have struck and will not return to work until the demands of the quarrymen are granted. The business men are now endeavoring to make the quarry owners settle with their workmen.

Imbecile Children Killed.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 4.—A terrific storm visited Glenwood, Mills County. The chimney of the Institute for Feeble Minded Children blew down and crashed through the roof, killing two and injuring six others of the inmates.

Sold to the Cracker Trust.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 4.—The New York Cracker Trust has bought William Sear & Co.'s cracker plant in this city. The consideration is said to be $110,000.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Herman Oelrichs Marries a Daughter of Bonanza King Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Herman Oelrichs, of New York, and Miss Theresa Fair, daughter of ex-United States Senator James G. Fair, were married last night at the home of the bride's mother in this city. The ceremony was solemnized according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Riordon officiating, assisted by the Very Rev. J. J. Prendergast, vicar-general of the diocese, and the Rev. George Montgomery.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Birdie Fair, Miss Lillie O'Connor, Miss Nellie Joliffe, Miss Jennie Blair and Miss Bella Smith, and the groom by George Pollock and David Barnes of New York. About 100 intimate friends of the family were present at the ceremony. A reception followed, for which about 800 invitations had been issued. After the wedding supper the bride and groom left for New York.

GATHERING THE CENSUS.

Troubles and Trials of the Enumerators in New York.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The scene at the office of Census Supervisor Murray, at 135 Eighth street, was an animated one during the morning. The result of three days' work by the census takers in this city is roughly estimated at 500,000 names. Matters went along more smoothly the second day of the work, although several enumerators resigned on account of sickness.

The Supervisor has as yet heard nothing from the Bureau of Justice at Washington as to what action will be taken in the case of Enumerator Marks, who was bombarded with beer glasses by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Smith Monday.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The overdue French line Steamship La Bourgogne has arrived in New York.

The new gunboat Bennington was successfully launched at Roach's shipyard.

John White, head of the extensive lumber firm of White, Lentz & White, of Williamsport, Pa., died last night, aged 81 years.

Southern ex-Confederates offer to build a monument to General Grant if New York does not do so before September 1.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has purchased a hundred-acre farm at Freemansburg, Pa., as a terminal for its new road to Philadelphia.

The examinations at West Point, so far as they progress, show excellence beyond the average. The Board of Visitors have organized into committees for work.

The Court of Appeals of New York State has not rendered a decision in the Sugar Trust case. A decision will not now be handed down until next Tuesday, unless a departure is taken from the regular routine.

The strike of sash and blind makers of Rochester, N. Y., for nine hours work and ten hours' pay, which has been on here for five weeks, keeping 300 men idle, has been settled by the men going to work on the old terms.

Exercises commemorating the ninth anniversary of the Actors' Fund of America were held at Palmer's Theatre in New York last night, and speeches were made by ex-President Cleveland, General Sherman, General Horace Porter, A. M. Palmer and Lawrence Barrett.

The four members of the Campeau family who were poisoned at Georges Lake, Ont., last Wednesday by eating wild parsnips, have died, and the recovery of the others is doubtful. The family are miserably poor and gathered roots in the woods for food.

The McGurgan and Minor blocks, the two largest buildings in Waynesburg, Pa., were entirely destroyed by fire. Loss over $30,000. The buildings were occupied by R. F. Delaney, grocer; J. T. Ross & Co., furniture dealers; L. M. Travis, dry goods dealer, and Wylie, Buchanan & Walton.

Matron Webb, who has served the police department of New York city for the past eighteen years, has tendered her resignation to the Police Board. Mrs. Webb pleads her advancing age and her inability to procure such help as would lighten her duties while doing justice to her office. Her retirement will take place from August 15, when she will go to her daughter's house in Haverstraw. She is not entitled to a pension.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—For New England and Eastern New York: Fair, followed in Eastern New York by showers; warmer; southerly winds.

For Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland: Fair; continued high temperature; southerly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Fair, followed on the lakes by showers; continued high temperature; southerly winds.

A VILLAGE IN RUINS

Bradshaw, Nebraska, Demolished by a Cyclone.

FEARFUL RAIN AND HAIL STORM

Twelve Persons Reported Killed and a Large Number Injured.

Contents of Houses Scattered Broadcast Over the Prairie—Railroad Cars Swept from the Track—A Russian Settlement Near the Town Also Wrecked—Physicians Sent on a Relief Train.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 5.—Parties returning from the scene of the tornado in Bradshaw, York County, confirm the worst reports of the destruction by the storm of Tuesday night. The storm struck the town at 8:30 p. m., coming from the southwest. It struck the town fairly, and left not a single building in the business part standing. All are a total wreck, and the principal street is filled with the ruins.

A few houses were left in the extreme western part of the village, but they are without windows and doors, and their contents were scattered broadcast over the prairie. The depot building was completely wrecked, and all the cars standing on the track blown away except one, loaded with stock, which was blown without leaving the track to York, a distance of nine miles.

This gave the alarm to the people of York who sent a messenger, who at midnight returned with the news of the disaster. A relief party was at once sent out. A Russian settlement near the town was wrecked and it is reported that nine were killed outright. Physicians who left Lincoln on a relief train report twelve dead at Bradshaw and that eight are mortally wounded and about twenty injured.

The killed are John Miller, child of J. Bromsey, wife and child of Isaac Penner, child of Mr. Chapin, two members of Mr. Shaw's family, wife and child of Mr. Minke, also his hired man.

Injured: Dr. O. M. Moore, Mrs. Alice Miller, Tulu Miller, Carrie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. John Brumsey, Isaac Penner, Mrs. Chapin, four members of the Cutshaw family, Mr. Kehar, Miss Nellie Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Prof. McDermott, Thos. Ross, Mrs. Wiggins, R. D. Logan, wife and two children of Tyler Colby, and many others.

Governor Thayer has ordered the York militia to the scene and also sent 60 army tents and other supplies to the sufferers.

IRON AND STEEL WORKERS.

The Report of the President Read and the Scale Given to Delegates.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 5.—At the morn session of the Amalgamated Association convention, President Weihe read his annual report. This report is never given out for publication, but it shows the association is in a very prosperous condition.

Among the communications read was one from a local manufacturer asking a hearing before the Wage Committee. It was discussed pro and con, and a motion to the effect that "no hearings be granted individuals, but that we are willing to meet in conference a committee representing the manufacturers to discuss the general scale of wages question," was unanimously carried.

The reports of the secretary and division vice-presidents were made and the scale was given to the delegates, who will now discuss it and suggest changes or adopt it as presented.

Captured by the Standard.

PITTSBURG, June 5.—The Forest Oil Company has been purchased by the Standard Oil Company for $1,600,000. Not satisfied with gobbling this immense concern the Standard is now negotiating for the purchase of the Anchor Oil Company, the second largest and richest producing company in existence. Should the purchase of this company be also consummated there will be no rival producing company in the field worthy of the Standard's powder.

Christian Scientists Under Arrest.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 5.—Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lovejoy, in whose care as Christian Scientists Mrs. W. A. Barrows died recently with cancer of the breast, without having received medical treatment, and who were found guilty of culpable negligence by the coroner's jury, are under arrest on a charge of manslaughter.

A Telegraph Operator Kills Himself.

BOSTON, June 5.—A special from St. Louis says: Thomas Vines alias Cartello, alias Kain, a telegraph operator with a family in Boston, jumped from a fourth story window yesterday and was instantly killed on the granite pavement. He was arrested last Saturday for tapping a wire and swindling the pool rooms on the races out of $5,000.

Jack Rowe's Rib Broken.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 5.—Manager Jack Rowe, of the Buffalo Players' League Club of this city, is unable to play with his team. Kilroy hit him on the ribs with a pitched ball in Boston on Decoration Day morning, and yesterday Rowe discovered for the first time that a rib was broken.

Hottest for Twenty Years.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Yesterday was the hottest June 4th for twenty years. The mercury reached 93 degrees. A remarkably severe but short-lived thunder storm last night somewhat cooled the air.

YANKEE SHREWDNESS.

The Stranding of the Old Whaler Strafford the Work of a Speculator.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—A special from Atlantic City says the romance of the stranding of the old whaler Strafford seems to be "knocked out" by rumors that her present plight was brought about by the shrewdness of a Yankee speculator.

About three weeks ago an announcement appeard in the New Bedford papers stating that the the old whaling bark Strafford had been sold very cheaply, and that the purchaser meant to exhibit her as a "wreck" at some of the seaside resorts. To-day she is high upon the beach. Many people visited her and would have been willing to pay had there been a convenient way of getting on board. An effort will be made to get her off but she is so high up on the beach that this will be futile.

A convenient means of getting on board will be built and she will prove a very good drawing card here all summer.

FOUNDLINGS ABUSED.

An Institution in Jamestown Run on "Faith in God."

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 5.—Messrs. Boyd and Letchworth, of the State Boards of Charities, visited the Mikanori Home, a foundling establishment in this city run on "Faith in God," and found the institution in a fearful condition.

There was but one meal of victuals in the house, the sanitary conditions were bad, the sleeping apartments were unclean, the beds being infested with vermin, while the bodies of the children were in a like condition. Mrs. Gibson, who conducts the place, is a religious enthusiast, and says she makes known her wants to the throne of grace and that God provides.

Messrs. Boyd and Letchworth are considering what action to take in the matter.

Editor Fortune Refused a Glass of Beer.

NEW YORK, June 5.—I. Thomas Fortune, the well known colored editor, was refused a glass of beer in Trainor's saloon last night, and becoming noisy, was ejected and arrested. He furnished bail, and says he will sue Trainor under the Civil Rights Act. Mr. Trainor declares that the refusal to sell a drink to Fortune was due to the fact that the man was intoxicated, and had no reference to his color.

A Mayor Charged With Perjury.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 5.—Mayor Wyman, of Allegheny City, has been arrested, charged with perjury on taking his official oath of office. The prosecutor is S. H. Walkup, who charges that Mayor Wyman gave different persons money and valuable contributions to secure his nomination and election. The mayor is under $1,000 bail for a hearing Saturday, when he claims he will be cleared of the charges.

Novel Way for Paying a Church Debt.

BRIDGETON, N. J., June 5.—The ladies of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church of this city have hit on a novel way to earn a dollar each toward paying the debt of the new edifice being built. Some will black their husband's boots, others will take in washing, and various other ways of earning a dollar—which they must account for by July 1—will be resorted to.

Hiring an Assassin.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., June 5.—Mrs. Sarah Randolph was arrested last night, charged with attempting to induce Samuel Kissenger to kill William S. Foltz, president of the First National Bank, for $1,500. The woman is 65 years of age, and both she and Kissenger have served a term in the penitentiary. Kissenger told Mr. Foltz of the plan.

Lottery Agents in Dakota.

BISMARCK, N. D., June 5.—The efforts to secure a charter for the Louisiana Lottery in North Dakota are being renewed with great energy. The State is swarming with agents of the lottery, and it is said that $5,000,000 will be expended with a view to securing the election of a Governor and Legislature favorable to the scheme.

Chauncey Depew in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 5.—To-night the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew will delight a Chicago audience with one of his speeches. He has accepted the invitation of the Chicago Press Club to speak on the World's Fair in the Auditorium, and the building will be packed to the doors, for Chicago is as fond of Chauncey's oratory as is New York.

Battle of Bantam Weights.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 5.—A terrific battle between Fred Bogan and Dan Hawkins was fought at the Golden Gate Athletic Club for the bantam weight championship of the Pacific coast. In the nineteenth round Hawkins was nearly knocked out but recovered and at the end of the seventy-third round the fight was declared postponed, no fighting having been done for about forty rounds.

Officers of the Mohonk Conference.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y, June 5.—The following officers were elected by the negro conference: President, R. B. Hayes, Ohio; Secretary, Rev. A. H. Bradford, New Jersey; Treasurer, D. L. C. Warner, New York. The organization is known as the Mohonk Conference for the Welfare, Education and Christianizing of the Colored People of the United States.

Fires Caused by Lightning.

BELVIDERE, N. J., June 5.—A heavy thunderstorm, with high wind occurred last night. Lightning struck the Warren House stables, and they were destroyed by fire, together with several other buildings. Loss $10,000.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

A Compromise Silver Measure Agreed On in Caucus.

MR. M'KINLEY'S PROPOSITION.

The Treasury Shall Purchase 4,500,000 Ounces of Silver Per Month.

Cause of the Present Deficiency in the Pension Fund—The Order About the Squadron Came from the President. Free Delivery System for Several Towns—The Army Bill Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Last night the Republican members of the House met to caucus on the silver question. Mr. Conger, of Iowa, the chairman of the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, opened the caucus by stating that the silver question must be settled as soon as possible. He wanted a bill to pass, and he hoped that a strong Republican bill would be agreed upon and pushed to a conclusion.

Mr. McKinley submitted a proposition in the nature of a compromise. It stated definitely the amount of silver to be coined monthly. This was placed at four and a half million ounces. It also provided that the bullion certificates should be full legal tender, and that when gold and silver were at par free coinage should be inaugurated.

After a long discussion on Mr. McKinley's proposed bill, it was adopted intact, with the addition of an amendment providing that the holder of a bullion certificate shall have the right to demand redemption in bullion, at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Before the vote was taken on the McKinley bill several gentlemen asked the Chair if the caucus was intended to bind those present. The chair stated that it was rather a conference than a caucus, and that no one would be bound by its action. The vote on the bullion redemption clause was 44 to 29.

THE PENSION FUND.

The Great Number of New Certificates Caused the Present Deficiency.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—It is stated at the Pension Office that the deficiency in the amount of funds in the hands of the different pension agents, which has resulted in the announcement that a large number of pensioners will be compelled to wait until July 1st for the payment of their pensions, has been caused by the unusually large number of allowances made by the Pension Office under the present administration, and particularly since General Raum's term begun. The great amount of allowances has been largely in original cases. There have been issued already 7,000 more original pensions than were issued during the last fiscal year, and the office has yet a month's work before the end of the present fiscal year.

Another drain upon the appropriation, it is said, was the act of March 1, 1890, which increased to $72 per month all pensions for total disability requiring the aid and attendance of another person. The number of these cases is large and involves the expenditure of a large amount of money. The pension office record for the present fiscal year, it is stated, will be far ahead of that for any fiscal year for many years.

The final payments by the pension agents will not be completed until about June 20, and those who have not been paid by that time will be compelled to wait only a few days until the appropriation for the next fiscal year becomes available on July 1.

Refused to Dismiss the Case.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A dispatch from Seattle says that Judge Hanford of the United States Court refused to dismiss the cases against ex-Special Customs Agent Beecher at Port Townsend, son of the late Henry Ward Beecher. United States Attorney Winston said that he had been authorized by the Department of Justice to enter a nolle pros. in the case.

Ordered by the President.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—In order to correct certain misapprehensions in regard to the matter, Secretary Tracy desires to have it known that the order transferring the Squadron of Evolution from the President was not the individual act of Commodore Ramsay, while acting as Secretary of the Navy

The Army Bill Goes to the President.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—In the House, Mr. Osborne, of Pennsylvania, presented the conference report on the Army Appropriation bill, which, after considerable discussion on the canteen clause, was agreed to, and the bill now goes to the President.

Free Delivery System.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Postmaster-General has ordered the establishment of the free delivery system at the following among other places, the service to begin July 1: Hackensack, N. J.; New Brighton and West New Brighton, S. I.; Princeton, N. J.

Mr. McDuffie Seated.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The House adopted a resolution seating McDuffie in the contested Alabama election case. The vote was 130 to 113. McDuffie appeared at the bar of the House and was sworn in.

Severe Rain and Hail Storm.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 5.—Last evening a severe rain and hail storm passed over this city. The rainfall for the half hour that the storm lasted was the heaviest known here for years, but no serious damage was done.

BY THE WAY.

—The shower last evening, at least laid the dust for a time.

—The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

—Ground has been broken for a brick store building at the corner of Third and Richmond streets.

—The question has been asked as to whether the Natal day in this city will be appropriately celebrated.

—By the crossing of two live wires on East Second street last evening, all the incandescent lamps were out for a time.

—Important business matters will be presented at the Reform club meeting, this evening. A full attendance is desired.

—There was a perfect jam of carriages in front of the M. E. church, on Tuesday evening, but, strange to say, there were no accidents.

—This morning at eight o'clock services were held in St. Mary's church, in honor of the feast of Corpus Christi, which is celebrated today.

—Auctioneer T. J. Gillies will dispose of a quantity of furniture at auction at No. 76 West Front street on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

—John Harkins, the pitcher for the West Ends, has permanently taken up his residence in Somerville, where he is worshipped like an idol.

—Examination of applicants for teachers' certificates in Somerset county, will occur at the public school building in Somerville on Friday and Saturday of this week.

—According to Carey's organ, Councilman Newhall said at the Council meeting, Monday evening that it was governed by the rules of "Cushion's Manual." They'd let a fellow down easy.

—To use the common expression, this city "takes the cake" for runaway accidents. There has not been scarcely a day within the past two weeks that one or more runaways have not been recorded.

—The regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held as usual this evening. All the members are requested to be present as business of importance to the Council is to be transacted.

—A good programme of vocal and instrumental music, and professional ventriloquism, will be given at Warren Mission, this evening, for the benefit of a fund to provide an excursion without cost for the scholars. Admission 25 cents.

—The horse that ran away after throwing John N. Moore and Will Underhill out of their hard-wood surrey, Tuesday evening, was found last night in Dover, N. J., by John E. Yose and Lambert DeCamp, and returned to its owner late last evening.

—Messrs McCann and Sheehan were arrested this morning for indulging on Decoration Day in what is flippantly entitled a "scrapping match." An examination was set down for next Tuesday, and they were released by Judge Codington on their own recognizances.

—The next regular meeting of Wetumpka Lodge, Knights of Honor, of this city, will be held this evening, when the nomination of officers and election will take place; besides, ten candidates will be initiated and the final report of anniversary committee will be rendered.

—Officer Lynch denies the statement published yesterday over the signature of Mrs. Thomas Shelly to the effect that the officer had said that her house was "in a disgraceful condition of dirt." The officer says he had always supposed that Mrs. Shelly's house was the neatest and best furnished house on the street.

Mrs. Jenness Miller's Associate to Lecture Here.

In this age of reforms, nothing is more important than using common sense in dress, and seeing how our girls may become strong and graceful women. Mrs. Holbrook Smith, the friend of Mrs. Jenness Miller, pleases her audiences and the ladies are to be congratulated upon her coming to Plainfield to-morrow afternoon. Mothers, too, should listen to the cultured lecturer, at the Congregational church at 3:30 P M. to-morrow.

"Things are Seldom What They Seem."

While the above is, in the main, true, still there is an exception to the general rule, as is the case in many instances. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are not only all they seem, but more. In torpid liver, indigestion, sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness and headache, the relief afforded by their use is wonderful.

THE DEADLY WIRE.

A Valuable Horse Killed.

The high wind which preceded last night's thunder storm, broke a large limb from a tree on Crescent avenue, near the Crescent Avenue church, which in its descent tore loose from its fastenings a street lighting electric wire, which sagged across the street. Before the damage could be remedied, Geo. Sadler came along driving Mr. John Chandler's famous and valuable trotting horse "Rambo" toward its owner's home. Not noticing the sagging wire, the horse struck it, and in a flash dropped dead in his tracks. Evidently the wire struck the horse in the abdomen, as he lay directly across it. Sadler attempted to raise the animal by catching hold of the bridle, and received a slight shock.

Assistant Supt. McClurg was summoned, who cut the wire and drew it from beneath the dead body. The power used on the street lighting wires is much greater than that used for house lighting. The charge on the wire which did the mischief was over 1,000 volts. The animal was returning from exercise at the Driving Park, and being warm and nervous was more susceptible to the current. The wire was insulated. Mr. Chandler valued "Rambo" at $2,500, and the loss is a severe one to him, as the animal gave great promise as a trotter. It is likely that the Electric Light company will pay damages to the owner.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Weaver, of St. Marks Square, Philadelphia, is visiting relatives in this city.

The Rev. Dr. Ketcham will preach for the Rev. Dr. Lewis, Sabbath day morning, in the Congregationalist church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher left Plainfield yesterday to attend the wedding of Mr. Thatcher's neice, Miss Wheeler of Baltimore.

Ex-Councilman R. M. Stover of Park place, has been confined to the house for a week past, suffering from illness. His condition is today reported improved.

A boy was born to Mrs. Susie Ryno, of Newburgh, last Sunday. Mrs. Ryno is a sister of Mrs. James Herth, of this city, and the daughter of Mrs. Albert Hedden.

The event of this season, again, is the piano recital by the pupils of A. Venino. It will take place Thursday evening, June 19, in the new Chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. Cards of invitation are being eagerly sought.

On Thursday evening of next week, two of the most gifted graduates of the Boston School of Oratory—Miss Maude Agnes Bowers of this city, and Miss Gertrude Marchand, of Pittsburgh—will give a recital in Seminary Hall.

At the regular meeting of the Plainfield Crescent League, last evening, the following were elected new members: F. L. C. Martin, Robt. S. Miller, Thos. B. King, Jr., Horace J. Martin, J. M. Hammand and W. H. Drayton. Letters of acceptance of their election to honorary membership, were received from the Revs. E. M. Rodman, C. B. Mitchell, T. Logan Murphy and Cornelius Schenck.

This Evening's Lecture.

To the lover of art there is no city in Europe that offers such stretches of canvas from the hands of the Old Masters, or such models of sculptured beauty, as Florence. Florence, the city of your affections; the one of all Italian cities to which your thoughts turn most lovingly and longingly. There history and romance have woven a woof and warp of unsurpassed brilliancy and pathos.

Guarded by the surrounding hills and washed by the river Arno, this most charming city attracts the traveler and holds him by a complete environment of artistic and natural beauty. Nowhere are skies so blue and air so soft and balmy. Even care seems to sit lightly and life runs on to a merry tune.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church invite all to listen to a lecture on Florence to be given in that church, this evening, by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich. Then, too, Miss Holmes and Mr. Runyon, are to sing.

A Cricket Tournament in Plainfield.

The St. George Cricket Club of this city, has arranged for a series of tournament games to be played against New York, Brooklyn and Paterson clubs on its new grounds at Spooner avenue and Fourth streets, Saturdays. The tournament team is composed of Messrs Ardan, Ogden, Wharton, Stansfield, Gow, Ahlgren, Hendry, Neal, McIntosh, Chamberlain and Sylvester.

The officers of the team are: Captain—Robert Gow; Vice Captain—T. Chamberlain; Treasurer—R. J. Neal; Secretary—Wm. Ahlgren; Assistant Secretary—Fred Wharton; Committee—C. Burns, J. Clifton, N. Head, J. Arden, R. Pullen.

The officers of the Club are: President—James E. Greensmith; Vice Presidents—Thomas Lea, George E. Greenleaf, W. P. Lincoln, L. B. Morgan, George Wm. Moreton, A. McCardell; Patrons—A. C. Stebbins, D. W. Pond, A. T. Wing, James Lancey.

Changes in Borough Realty.

The late changes in borough real estate have been as follows:

James W. Jackson and wife to Chas. W. McCutchen, property in North Plainfield, $1,500.

Caleb Evans to James D. Cleaver, property in North Plainfield, $1.

Elisha Coriell to Joseph A. Blatz, property in North Plainfield, 1,750.

TIPS ON THE FASHIONS FOR BOTH SEXES.

What the Well Dressed Ladies and Gentlemen are Wearing, and Where to Get It.

Among the young women especially, this Summer, will be more fashionable than ever, the soft flannel blazier in all colors and every combination of figures and stripes. Nothing adds more to the comfort, style and attractiveness of a young woman than one of those cool and graceful sacks, when the proper shades are chosen to set off the complexion. At Horton's, 5 West Front street, a full line of the latest imported styles of these goods are offered the ladies, besides an extensive assortment for the gentlemen as well.

A second consignment has just been received at Horton's, from the noted manufacturers of New York, of outing and negilee shirts in solid silk, all styles of imported flannels, and with fine and broad stripes of silk interwoven. The patterns are very handsome and if you go right away you will have your pick in all sizes for both sexes.

Then, if you are a man who can appreciate something nobby, and want to be properly dressed out doors, look at the lot of stiff brim straw hats Horton is selling at $3 each in all shades of straw and all color bands. Dunlap bought $1,800 worth of these same hats in one bill, put his lining inside and retails them for $6. They are the same hats, from the same cases and are the handsomest thing out in many seasons. The ladies, however, would only admire and not be more particulatiy interested in those "Dunlap straws" than that their husband or adorer must have one; but they would fall in love at once with the hammock, tennis, seaside and siesta caps that Horton has already sold so many of to the fair sex. In shape, material, trimming and effect, they have never been equalled in Plainfield nor excelled in New York.

A word should be said for the hand-white vests that are also an attraction, this season, at Horton's. They are shown in all the new figures and fine stripes, besides the perfectly plain. In the selection of these goods, as well as the others mentioned, the buyer has displayed unusual good taste and a remarkable knowledge of what refinement would demand. If you are a judge of the proper thing in gentlemen's furnishing goods, and such specialties as mentioned, you will be thoroughly satisfied at 5 West Front street.

HYMENEAL.

HEDENBERG—THOMPSON.

Under a canopy of Florida moss and palms, with a ball of roses suspended above them, Margaret Helen Thompson, daughter of ex-Councilman Wm. Thompson, of this city, was married, last evening at seven o'clock, to Mr. John E. Hedenberg, son of the late Watson S. Hedenberg of Newark, and Treasurer of the Republican club of that city.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Central avenue and Sixth street. The Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., officiated. Miss Thompson was most becomingly attired in a gown of white faille trimmed with point lace. She carried a bouquet of Bride roses. Miss Elizabeth Thompson, sister of the bride, and Miss May Taylor, daughter of Morgan S. Taylor, of Washington Park, were the bridemaids. They were dressed in pale blue mull, and carried bouquets of pink roses and forget-me-nots.

The bridemen were Mr. Albert Wright and Mr. Alexander Coe Thompson. The groom's best man was Mr. John Conger, of Newark. The house was profusely decorated with cut flowers and plants. The supper served by Davis, of Newark, has never been excelled in this city by any other caterer. The attendance of guests included all the best of Plainfield's society besides representative people from other cities.

There was dancing from 9 until 11 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Hedenberg left for an unknown wedding trip, on the 10:12 train. They will be at home on Wednesdays at 213 Plane street, Newark.

Will Entertain the Ladies.

It is proposed by the committee on "Good of the Order," of Plainfield Council Royal Arcanum, to give an entertainment to the members, their ladies and their friends, in their rooms, Monday evening next, immediately after the regular session of the Council. Wm. H. Lyon, Jr., the chairman of the committee, desires the hearty cooperation of all the members, and requests that they notify him whether they will attend and what friends will accompany them, so that proper arrangements can be made.

Go Early—Game Called at 3:45.

Gregg will pitch again for the Crescent League team, Saturday afternoon. The visitors will be the Acmes who are one of the only two nines that have defeated the Crescents this season.

Probably the largest crowd so far, will attend. Ladies, especially, should go early, as although over 500 seats are provided, they are usually filled long before the time of game.

—The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Crescent Avenue chapel. A full attendance is especially desired.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

THE "COWBOYS" DEFEAT THE "PAREGORICS."

Captain William Ewing Egbert's and Dr. Joseph Glycerine Miller's Two Nines Meet on the Crescent's Diamond.

The old man, the small boy, and the other base ball cranks, who have witnessed the many glorious triumphs of our Crescents during the season so far, but failed to attend the game played by the "Cowboys" and "Paregorics" yesterday afternoon, will have something to regret for the remainder of their days. It was a game—"take it for all in all, we shall not look upon its like again." The players were representative gentlemen who have heretofore devoted their time to their different vocations. Why base ball has not degenerated, when that fact stares us in the face, seems almost incredible, for what is a gain to business is certainly a loss to the National game.

Umpire Bowman, in his most melodious tone, relieved the minds of the anxious spectators at 2:30 P. M., with his accustomary "play ball," and Councilman Walter Hetfield stepped to the bat for the "Cowboys" first inning. When the first ball had passed the plate, the umpire shouted "one ball." The genial Councilman, dropping his bat, took the referee and his remark in at a glance, and said, "I'll take a pony" No doubt it recalled tender recollections of what is technically termed a "ball," but more familiarly known as soda water—a beverage patronized after eleven o'clock. After a lucid explanation of the dissimilarity between the two usages of the word, and a proper definition given of each, the game was resumed, and the Councilman retired at first base. John Montgomery Ward Kenney was the next striker, and was given his base on balls,

Then came Captain Egbert. After acknowledging the reception tendered him, he gave his bat an Arizona swing, with a graceful curve he brought it into a Washington Territory position, and struck an heroic attitude that took the casual observer back to the Black Hills. With a mighty "whoop" he prepared to come down on that pitched ball like a hungry hunter on a pack of wolves. But the "tarnal critter" was too swift for William, and though the force of his effort shook the timbers in the grand stand, and caused the small boy that goes outside for "fouls," to tremble—yet he smote it not but took the coveted base as a present. Billy Sirloin VanSickle was the second victim to Dr. Joe Miller's curves—retiring on an easy hit. Petie Winn and Charlie Leggett secured their bases, and it was left for Henry Woodland to retire the side.

The "Paregorics" then took their initial inning at the bat, and Headgear Horton was first to face the music of the sphere manipulated by pitcher Hetfield. It was not andante—on the contrary, it was quite allegro—but he of hat fame succeeded in getting his base, being more fortunate than Jack Wiegand Force, who was forced to strike out. In the meantime Charles Potter Rogers—who said he'd be "coachman"—in an undertone told "Ash" to steal second base, when that expert made a dive for it and snatching the bag from its resting place proceeded to leave the grounds with it. He was arrested by VanSickle, who put him out. Then it was Dr. Miller's chance to save a whitewash, but as he was about to make his third and last strike, a mischievous "crank" on the bleaching boards shouted, "Take your medicine, Doc," and the diminute druggist retired on strikes. The score;

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Cowboys	4	5	0	4	4	1	4	3	4	—29
Paregorics	0	4	2	2	5	6	3	4	2	—28

Earned runs—C, 2; P, 1. Two base hits—Kenny, VanWinkle, VanSyckel (2), Winn, Leggett, Woodland, Voehl (2), Stiner. Three base hits—VanWinkle, Coriell, Voehl. Home run—Voehl. Left on bases—C, 6; P, 6. Base on balls—C, 9; P, 17. Struck out—C, 6; P, 14. Passed balls—Winn (1), Rogers (1), Voehl, 5. Double play—Kenny. Umpire—Mr. Bowman. Time of game—Three hours.

The second and third innings were conspicuous for excusable errors. Billy Sebring lost his hat in running down to third, and in returning for it at a 4½ minute gait, barely escaped an out. In the fourth inning the "Cowboys" mascot, a "yaller" dog with the inappropriate name of "Snowball," was heard to sigh as the score stood 8 to 9, and the "Paregorics" were playing ball. But Frank Coriell's three-bagger brought in three runs, and "Snowball's" agitated tail gave a renewed confidence to the "Cowboys. The fifth, sixth and seventh innings were replete with brilliant plays and changes of positions by both nines, VanSickle, Voehl, Smith and Rogers pitching alternately for their side. In the eighth inning there was blood in the eyes of the "Paregorics." Rogers made a phenomenal catch that was worthy of rank with Billy Lee's best efforts, and Hetfield continued to strike out players indefinitely.

The ninth inning was noticeable for a beautiful double play accomplished by John M. Ward Kenney—stopping a liner at third, putting out the batsman and the runner between second and third. The game ended with a terrific drive by Chuck Legget for three bases—and how he did leg it, for it won the day for the "Cowboys," bringing in two runs and victory. It was the intention of the enthusiasts to carry the hero of the day on their shoulders from the grounds, weather permitting. But 84 in the shade, and Charlie's avoirdupois, were serious drawbacks. The result is that the "Paregorics" forfeit a supper to their antagonists, to be given at Slide Kelly Beerbower's City Hotel in the course of a few days. Then fish "balls," "batter" cakes and other delicacies are to be served. There were no serious results, but one was happily averted in the fifth inning when Baker Voehl ran into Kenney on third, and caused a fall in shoes.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Continuing the Session at Newark Yesterday—The Doctrinal Sermon Preached by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes.

At the meeting of the East New Jersey Baptist Association, Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. George W. Clark spoke in behalf of the Baptist Publishing Society.

The Rev. J. K. Folwell of Westfield, spoke in behalf of the Baptist Educational Society. He said that the man whose liberality had made it possible to meet in this magnificent building, has done two great deeds. He built a church where the masses may hear the Gospel preached, and he established the Peddie Institute on a firm foundation. Men are wanted in the pulpit today who are men of education, and the Baptist denomination is alive to this need. The Educational Society is in debt and money is needed. He urged all to come to the aid of the society in order that its good work may go on.

Yesterday's session opened with a devotional meeting, led by the Rev. Mr Cressy of Montreal.

The committee on place of next meeting reported that there were no invitations and the matter of the place of the next meeting was left to the Moderator and Clerk.

O. B. Leonard and C. Edgar Sutphen were elected Trustees of the Disabled Ministers and Ministers' Widows fund.

The Rev. Messrs Rollinson, Armstrong, Yerkes, Boyd and A. Hill, with the officers of the association, were appointed to arrange for a jubilee at the next meeting of the society, it being its fiftieth anniversary.

The Rev. A. A. Armstrong of New Brooklyn, was selected to preach the doctrinal sermon at the session of 1891.

The doctrinal sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., of this city, who took for his theme: "Regeneration."

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Resolved That the action of the Legislature of this State in forcing on the people against their earnest protest an act legalizing gambling in the form of pool-selling, is deserving of the severest reprobation, while the contempt shown for the petitions of the people of Essex county now being demoralized by the bill thus shielded, merits an emphatic rebuke on the part of the people of the entire State. And we regard that provision of the law by which the State becomes a beneficiary of the bill, as an attempt to debauch the consciences of the people, making them partners in a feeble imitation of the policy of the father of lies in his temptation of the Lord Jesus.

Resolved, That in the judgment of this association, it is still binding on the followers of Christ to "have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness," and as the liquor traffic is confessedly an emanation from the pit, we regard any sympathy with, or toleration of, the liquor traffic by a disciple of Jesus as disloyalty to his Lord, and we esteem it a supreme duty of Christian professors to take an open stand against the protection of this unmitigated curse.

Another Bridge for Somerset County.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders, on Saturday last awarded to the Canton Iron Bridge Company, the contract to erect an iron bridge over Peter's Brook on the Bridge street extension in Somerville, for $2,925. The bridge is to cover a seventy foot span, clear of abutments, with a twenty foot driveway and two sidewalks each five feet wide. Several other bids were submitted, but that of the Canton Company was the lowest.

An All Day Shoot.

The Middlesex Gun Club will give an open-to-all sweepstake shoot on their grounds at Dunellen, Tuesday, June 10. Blue rocks will be the targets used. A sweep at 25 singles, $3 entrance, is to be the feature of the programme. The affair will be under the management of the popular marksman, Charles Smith.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

—One of Contractor Wood's horses dropped in the harness, while at work on the county roads near Cranford, yesterday, on account of the extreme heat.

—A committee from the Somerset County Board of Freeholders met a similar committee from the Union County Board in this city, yesterday afternoon and accepted the Somerset street bridge.

The vocal organs are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Clergymen, lawyers, singers, actors and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weakness of the throat and lungs, and for all affections of the vocal organs.

RODMAN SEMINARY.

Interesting Closing Exercises Last Evening.

The fourth annual commencement exercises of the Rodman Seminary, took place in the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club on East Front street, last evening, a large number of the relatives of the pupils and friends of the school being in attendance. The floral decorations were modest and appropriate—a handsome basket of flowers being presented to each of the graduates.

The graduating class consisted of Miss Sophia W. Brower, Miss Matilda Daft and J. Linn Edsall. The class motto is, "Carpe Diem."

On account of the storm, many of the pupils who were to take part in the exercises, were unable to be present, and some of them coming in late delayed the opening for nearly an hour. Mr. Leo Daft announced the numbers from the printed programme, beginning with an essay by Miss Daft, "The Lake Dwellers," which was delivered in a highly commendable manner. It was followed by a "Tableau of Nations" in which the pupils took part. Miss Agnes Rodman's recitation, "The Little Quaker Sinner," was remarkably well given. A tableau, "Eclipse of the Sun," was followed by a piano duett, "L'esprit Francaise," by Miss Pitman and Miss McDonald.

Mr J. L Edsall then delivered an admirable essay on "Music and Musicians," after which a tableau, "Herald Angels" was performed—Masters Jack Bartindale and Willie Langdon singing a duett. A well rendered recitation, "The stranger in the Pew" by Miss Mary Collier, a part piece entitled "A Modern Baby," by Miss Anna Daft and Miss Pitman, and the closing essay, "Recent excavations in Egypt" with valedictory remarks by Miss S. Brower, together with two tableaux, completed the programme.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman then awarded the diplomas to the graduates, the same being the handy work of Mr. J. Oscar Stevens of Evona. He also awarded the prizes for the highest average in all studies, and made particular mention of others who had attained high averages, in connection with which he delivered a very interesting address referring to the success of Rodman Seminary. He also very highly praised Mrs. Dingee and her assistants, through whose efforts the Seminary has attained such a high standing. He furthermore complimented the pupils who took their parts so well and congratulated the graduates, giving them some sound advice with reference to their future in life. During his address Dr. Rodman referred to the duties of pupils towards their teachers, and the great responsibility which rested upon the alter. He related several amusing anecdotes during his address, which the audience heartily appreciated.

One of the entertaining features of the evening, not on the programme, was a recitation by Master Willie Thiers, entitled "The News Boy," which was delivered in a clear and clever way.

The pyrotechnical display in connection with the tableaux, was under the immediate supervision of Mr. R. C. Dingee.

On the whole, the exercises were a pronounced success, and too much credit cannot be given those who took part. Credit and thanks were also extended, on the part of the management, to those who assisted in making the entertainment the success that it was.

After the entertainment, dancing was indulged in by those present, and refreshments were served to the pupils and their invited guests.

Newport Waking Up.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 5.—The coming season bids fair to be a most gratifying one for the merchants and tradesmen of this city. Despite the fact that June days have barely arrived, many of the wealthiest cottagers are here, and on every hand preparations are under way which indicate that the season of 1890 will surpass all its predecessors.

Accident to Prof. Comstock.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 5.—Prof. W. G. Comstock, assistant in chemistry at Yale, while experimenting in the laboratory at the Scientific School, burned his hand with a preparation, the heat of which is reckoned at 500 degrees Fahrenheit. The hand will probably have to be amputated.

Killed at a Crossing.

NEWARK, N. J., June 5.—A carriage with four men was struck at the Market street crossing on the Pennsylvania Railroad last night by the Washington limited express train. William P. McGuinness was killed; Frank Hauck and John Kenney were fatally hurt. James Coyle, the other occupant of the carriage, escaped uninjured.

DANCERS IN FLAMES

Blazing Coal Oil Lamps Explode in a Ball-Room.

TWO LADIES BURNED TO DEATH.

Shrieking Women With Their Garments Blazing Run in All Directions.

Big Losses Caused by Surefoot's Defeat in the Derby Race—Marquis de Mores Convicted and Sentenced—Battle on the Servian Frontier—Cardinal Manning Writes a Letter to William O'Brien.

BERLIN, June 5.—During the progress of a ball at Arnstadt, Germany, a chandelier containing a number of lamps filled with petroleum fell to the floor, in the midst of a crowd of dancers. The lamps exploded, scattering the burning oil over the terrified men and women in that part of the hall and a horrible scene ensued.

Shrieking women with their garments blazing ran in all directions, defying the efforts of friends to extinguish the flames, and many were thrown with violence born of desperation to the floor and held while their burning clothing was torn from them.

Two ladies ran into the open air and were burned to death before pursuing friends could overtake and relieve them. Thirteen others were seriously burned and it is thought that some of them cannot survive their injuries.

THE FAVORITE BEATEN.

Great Surprise for Rich and Poor at the Derby Meeting.

LONDON, June 5.—The race for the Derby stakes, 5,000 sovereigns to the winner, 500 sovereigns to the nominator of the winner and 200 sovereigns to the third horse, was run at Epsom Downs and won by Sainfoin in two minutes.

Surefoot, the favorite, was beaten 500 yards from home, and finished a head behind Overall.

The result of the race created the most tremendous excitement. Surefoot had been backed to win to the extent of hundreds of thousands of pounds. Among his backers were large numbers of the aristocratic classes, tradesmen and poor people, and they suffered severely.

DAYBREAK FOR IRELAND.

Cardinal Manning Believes Home Rule and Imperialism Compatible.

LONDON, June 5.—Cardinal Manning, in a letter to Mr. O'Brien, says that his reading of the latter's novel has more deeply than ever impressed him with Ireland's inextricable sorrows. The Cardinal continues:

The Irish people, the most profoundly Christian people on the face of the earth, have been afflicted with every kind of sorrow, barbarous and refined, for centuries. Race and religious hatred is their inheritance. But a day of restitution has nearly come. I hope to see the dawn, and I hope you will see the noontide of the day when they are admitted to the possession of their own soil and the administration, so far as possible, of their own local laws, while sharing in the general legislation which governs and consolidates the empire."

The Duke Still in Switzerland.

LONDON, June 5.—The Duc d'Orleans, who was released from Clairvaux prison, will remain in Switzerland a few days, presumably to perfect his plans for the future. His friends are making extensive preparations to give him a royal welcome on his arrival in Brussels, whither he will proceed from Switzerland, and he has taken a house in the West End of London for the season, where he will give a series of entertainments.

Claims that England is Weak.

LONDON, June 5.—The Munich Allgemeine Zeitung says that the recent speeches of Lord Salisbury and Sir James Fergusson show that England recognizes that she is too weak to meet claims on her, and must unite with Germany, in order to defend unwieldy colonies without increasing the army and navy.

Marquis de Mores Sentenced.

PARIS, June 5.—The trial of the Marquis de Mores and others arrested with him for connection with the May Day disorders has ended in their conviction. The Marquis was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, and the Anarchist Vallee to one month in prison.

Battle on the Servian Frontier.

BELGRADE, June 5.—A bloody fight between Arnauts and Servians has taken place on the Servian frontier. The Ottoman and Servian Governments have telegraphed orders for an inquiry into the affair.

Sensational Law Suit.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 5.—A sensational suit is now pending in the Circuit Court here over the stallion Red Wilkes, sire of Prince Wilkes, 2:14½; Repetition, 2:19½, and other trotters. He is owned jointly by Miss Nannie Smith and W. C. France. The latter has had control of him for several years and the plaintiff alleges France has kept his service fee too low and has also overtaxed his powers. The plaintiff, therefore, prays for a receiver. The case is attracting much attention among horsemen.

Men Burned by Exploding Metal.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 5.—A converting vessel at the Allegheny Bessemer Steel Works was upset, and the outpouring metal exploded by coming in contact with the wet bottom of the pit. Four men working near were burned; George Dales, fatally; Thomas Holland, probably fatally, and John Sagers and Martin Peters seriously injured.

A Steamer Burning.

TOLEDO, O., June 5.—The steamer Pasadena brought news to this port that the steamer Wetmore was sighted off the Erie dummy, twenty-five miles off the entrance to this harbor and burning. The Wetmore was aground and could not be reached. The fire had almost reached the water line when the vessel was sighted.

The Newfoundland Dispute.

LONDON, June 5.—Sir Charles Tupper left for Canada to advise the Government in regard to the Newfoundland fisheries dispute.

Fifteenth Annual Meeting of Nurserymen.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The American Association of Nurserymen opened its fifteenth annual meeting at the the Park Avenue Hotel with President George A. Sweet of Dansville, N. Y., in the chair. A very large representation from all over the country is present. An essay entitled "The Question of New Fruits" by the Hon. H. E. Van Dernan, U. S. Pomologist at Washington, was listened to with marked attention. Dr. Collier of Geneva, N Y., and J. Jenkins of Winona, Ohio, also read addresses. The meeting will be in session till the 15th instant.

The English Flour Syndicate.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—A dispatch from Minneapolis, Minn., says the English syndicate controlling the Pillsbury and W. D. Washburn mills have leased the C. C. Washburn mills, A, B and C., thus adding to their present capacity of 14,500 pounds per day over 8,500, making over 22,000 pounds as a total capacity of the English syndicate per diem. There will be no such syndicate in the world as this last named doing business as flour producers. Mr. Pillsbury says that this new deal adds $6,000,000 to Minneapolis capital.

A Sioux Indian Graduates.

BOSTON, June 5.—A class of 166 students received degrees at the Boston University (Methodist) here. Among the graduates in medicine was Charles Alexander Eastman, a Sioux Indian, whose original name was Ohiyesa, signifying a winner. He was born in 1863, on the Sioux reservation. His father was the son of one of the Sioux chiefs, and joined in the Sioux outbreak of 1862. He was wounded, captured and condemned to be hanged, but was reprieved by President Lincoln. The mother of young Eastman died at his birth.

Failure of a Paper Company.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 5.—The Richmond Paper Company has assigned to F. M. Sackett, its treasurer. The company has been doing no business for six months, having failed to receive a further extension, and the action is probably in settlement of its affairs.

Granite Cutters Want More Wages.

CONCORD, N. H., June 5.—The granite quarrymen here have made a demand upon contractors for an increase of wages to 22 cents an hour and for a nine hour labor day. The matter will be considered at a special meeting of the employers.

A $50,000 Promise of Marriage.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Louis C. Wachsmuth, who was sued some time ago for $100,000 on allegations of breach of promise made by Miss Jennie Paul, now a resident of New York, has settled the pending suit at a figure said to be $50,000.

Mormon Converts Arrive.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The steamship Wisconsin, from Liverpool, arrived here with 150 Mormon converts, in charge of seven elders. The delegation was made up for the most part of Scandinavians and natives of Wales. They were not detained.

Farmers Struck by Lightning.

CARO, Mich., June 5.—Four farmers while cleaning a horse last evening were struck by lightning. The two killed were Edward Goodchild, William Holmes; the injured were Matthew Ringle, S. N. Taggett.

The Harvard Student Adjudged Insane.

BOSTON, June 5.—F. J. Holland, the Harvard student who stole bicycles, books, etc., from the college buildings, was adjudged insane and sent to an asylum.

Several Firemen Frightfully Burned and May Die—The Burning Steamer Towed Down the Delaware and Run Aground—The Explosion Caused by Spontaneous Combustion—Over $150,000 Damage.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—An explosion occurrred last evening in the tank steamer Hans and Kurt, lying at the Atlantic Oil Refining Company's dock at Point Breeze. The vessel was ruined and 800,000 gallons of oil, together with considerable wharf property, including a brick building, were destroyed by the fire which resulted from the explosion.

There had been no fire aboard the vessel and no cause for the explosion is known unless it be spontaneous combustion.

Joseph H. Quinn, aged 46, a shipping clerk, was covered with the burning oil and so badly injured that he died soon afterward.

John Karl Wuent, the steamer's carpenter, was badly burned and had his arm dislocated. His condition is serious.

Henry Campen was badly burned and is in a serious condition.

John E. Stoney, William Quinn and Henry Spond, employed about the works, were more or less seriously burned by the flying oil.

Robert Paetet, cook of the steamer, had both feet burned.

Samuel Lynn, engineer of No. 1 company, scalded about the body.

James Devine, engineer of No. 11 company, scalded.

William Black, foreman of Engine Company No. 1, both hands burned.

A seaman named Blaerbon, scalded about the legs.

The force of the explosion was tremendous. The crew ran from the ship as soon as it occurred, but the members of the city fire department, who responded to two alarms sent in, went aboard the burning steamer and threw lines to the tugs which came to her assistance. The lines were quickly made fast, and as the tugs towed the doomed steamer out into the river, heavy streams of water were thrown on her from their pumps. After getting her clear of the surrounding shipping, the steamer, now a mass of flames, was towed a distance of about a mile down the Delaware, where she was run aground. Here for four hours water was poured on her from all sides by the tugs which surrounded her. The vessel is almost completely burned out. Her side and deck plates are warped out of shape, and she will virtually have to be rebuilt.

The damage to the ship and cargo is estimated at $150,000.

CONFERENCE OF MINERS.

Operators and Workmen Will Meet this Afternoon in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 6.—President Rae and Secretary Watchorn, of the United Mine Workers of America Association, arrived in the city last night. A conference committee of coal operators and miners will meet here this evening for the purpose of settling the controversy over the dead work scale.

President Rae stated that in all probability a settlement of existing trouble in the Punxsutawney district will be effected within a very few days, probably by to-morrow. He would not name the basis of settlement, but intimated that it would be satisfactory to both miners and operators. The new coal company at Punxsutawney has, Mr. Rae says, already made several concessions to the demands of employes.

THE TILDEN BEQUEST.

The Trust Illegal and Void and Incapable of Being Carried Into Effect.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Judge Beach, in the Supreme Court, signed the findings submitted in the Tilden Trust case.

Judge Beach holds the bequest for the trust to be illegal and void, and incapable of being carried into effect by a judicial decree. Governor Tilden is found to have died intestate as to the residue of his estate.

The executors are directed to account for the estate and to pay over to the plaintiff, Col. George H. Tilden, his share of the residue.

There is likely to be still another appeal upon questions raised in the present trial.

Nurserymen Elect Officers.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The American Association of Nurserymen elected the following officers: President, S. M. Emery of Lake City, Minn.; first vice-president, J. Van Luidley of North Carolina; secretary, Chas. A. Green of Rochester, N. Y.; treasurer, A. R. Whitney of Frankling Grove, Ill. The executive committee is composed of the following gentlemen: J. Irving Rouse, Rochester, N. Y.; W. J. Peters, Troy, Ohio; Franklin Davis, Baltimore. Either St. Paul or Minneapolis will be the place chosen for the next annual meeting.

Arrival of the War Ships.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 6.—The U. S. naips of war Kearsarge, Dolphin and Galena have arrived here from Port Royal. The U. S. ship of war Baltimore, also from Port Royal, is off the bar.

Congressman Reed Renominated.

PORTLAND, Me., June 6.—The Republicans of the First district renominated Hon. Thomas B. Reed for Congress by acclamation.

CITIZENS SWINDLED.

A Big Embezzlement Just Comes to Light in Connecticut.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 6.—A case of embezzlement, which occurred several months since by which several prominent residents of Trumbull and surrounding towns lost large amounts of money, has just come to light.

The alleged embezzler is Rollin Beers, son of Legrand D. Beers, a young lawyer of much promise, doing business in Bridgeport. Several months ago Mr. Beers visited his home and secured a large amount of money from his brother and sister, two wealthy neighbors, Miles and Elliott Beardsley, Rev. C. G. Adams, proprietor of the Church Record in Southport, and others, representing that he would invest it in mortgages in Brooklyn, paying large dividends.

It is expected that his embezzlements will reach nearly $80,000. Elliott and Miles Beardsley, it is said, were victimized to the extent of $15,000, and the others in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. It is thought Beers has gone to Canada.

GREAT DAY AT ANNAPOLIS.

Miss Sampson Presents the Colors to the Winners of the Company Flag Drill.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 6.—The greatest day in the Naval Academy, save Commencement, is the day of the Company Flag drill. The winners carry the colors.

Hundreds of spectators were at the Academy to witness the drill. The contestants were the four companies of the naval cadet battalion, and each executed a formulated programme, including the rifle practice with a magazine gun.

The judges decided this to be the score. Company No. 2, H. Schofield, of New York, 301; Company No. 1, A. Garther, of Iowa, 300; Company No. 4, M. H. Signor, of Nebraska, 209; Company No. 3, C. B. McVay, of Colorado, 209. The winning company, Captain Schofield, was the color bearer last year.

Miss Sampson, daughter of Superintendent Sampson, of the Naval Academy, accompanied by Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, presented the colors. The winners cheered the lady, and the batallion cheered the winners.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAIL.

A Horrible Wreck Reported on the Ohio River Railroad.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 6.—A report has reached here of a horrible wreck on the Ohio River Railroad between here and Parkersburg.

The train was a special of two cars filled with Baltimore & Ohio Railroad officials on their way to Wheeling.

The train went through a trestle and the disaster is said to be appalling, though this is not yet confirmed, as the officials can give no information.

Home Life of the Negro.

RONDOUT, N. Y., June 6.—At the Mohonk negro conference, the discussion of the home life of the negro in the Black Belt of the South was opened by Miss Emerson, secretary of the Bureau of Women's Work of the American Mission Society. She was followed by President Woodworth, of Tourgaloo University of Mississippi; Rev. Dr. Pitree, of Washington, and others. The discussion was very spirited, and led to questions of education for the Southern negro. Resolutions on the subject were presented by John Jay, of New York, and under the rules were referred.

University of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—The 134th annual commencement of the University of Pennsylvania was held at the Academy of Music here. Degrees were conferred upon the graduates of the departments of arts, science, philosophy, law, medicine, dental surgery, and veterinary medicine. Commencement exercises were also held at Bryn Mawr College (for women) at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The graduating class, which includes ladies from all parts of the country, was adressed by Prof. Ora Remsen, acting president of Johns Hopkins University.

An Immense Audience Greets Depew.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, will henceforth hold a cherished place in the grateful memory of Chicagoans. At the Auditorium last night Mr. Depew more than made amends for any antagonism to Chicago's interest displayed by him during the incipient stages of the World's Fair preliminaries, and he did it in so handsome a manner that he won the enthusiastic plaudits of the thousands present. The audience was certainly the largest that ever listened to any set public speech in Chicago.

A Coffin Trust.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 6.—Negotiations are in progress looking to the consolidation of a number of the leading casket manufacturers, one of which is the Stein Manufacturing Company of this city. The capital stock will be $2,500,000. The firms that will be represented have works in Rochester, Oneida, New York, Hoboken, Boston and Chicago. The properties are now being appraised, and it is expected that the consolidation will soon be effected.

Favor an Advance in the Wage Scale.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 6.—It was learned that there is a strong sentiment among a majority of the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association favoring a slight advance in the wage scale in all departments. The advance, however, will not, it is said, exceed five per cent.

Seven Years for a Wife Murderer.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 6.—Thomas Dunn, the wife murderer of Stamford, pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced to prison for seven years. Dunn threw an earthen vessel at his wife, striking her on the head. She died a few days later.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Hosts of People Interested in the Tariff Bill.

PROTESTS FROM TOBACCO MEN.

Senator Aldrich Says the Committee Will Grant No More Hearings.

Secretary Blaine Calls a Meeting of the World's Fair Commissioners—Brazil's Cabinet Approves the Action of the International Conference—The House to Vote on the Silver Bill To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Opening the doors of the Senate Finance Committee to the importers has had the effect of bringing down upon the committee hosts of people interested in the Tariff bill, who desire to make statements. In consequence of the demands of this class the committee has made no progress in the consideration of the schedules of the bill.

Mr. Moen, of the firm of Washburn & Moen, Worcester, Mass., was before the committee for a short time, advocating free steel blooms and a revision of the duty on wire, a reduction on some grades and an increase on others.

A tremendous pressure is being brought to bear upon the committee to secure a change in the paragraph fixing the duty on leaf tobacco, suitable for cigar wrappers, at $2 a pound if not stemmed, and $2.75 a pound if stemmed. The paragraph makes the whole bale of tobacco in which a single leaf suitable for wrappers may be found dutiable at the rates named.

It is believed that the committee will report an amendment which, while affording adequate protection to native tobacco growers, will at the same time enable the manufacturers of Havana cigars in this country to continue their business, which has grown to great proportions.

Senator Aldrich says it has been decided to grant no more hearings.

To Vote on the Silver Bill To-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Mr. McKinley, from the Committee on Rules, reported a resolution providing that the House shall proceed immediately to consider the Silver bill, and that consideration shall continue until 3 p. m. to-morrow, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered. The previous question was ordered on the resolution, and forty minutes debate was allowed. The resolution was adopted—yes, 120; nays, 117. Mr. Blount voted in the affirmative and moved a reconsideration. The motion was tabled.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The following nominations for postmasters were sent to the Senate by the President: Connecticut, Horton Pease, Thomaston. New York, Andrew D. Baird, Brooklyn; O. H. Griffin, Stapleton, S. I.; Judson Field, Canastota. Pennsylvania, D. L. S. Noly, Sewickley; Christopher Sheets, Braddock. Maryland, W. G. Tuck, Annapolis.

Another Original Package Decision.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A dispatch from Fort Scott, Kan., says Judge J. S. West of the U. S. District Court rendered a decision on an "original package" case in which he declined to enforce the State Prohibitory law, this being in line with the recent action of the Supreme Court. The decision was occasioned by a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Harry Harris.

A Product of the Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Secretary of State has received a dispatch from the United States Legation at Rio de Janeiro announcing that the Cabinet has passed resolutions enthusiastically approving the action of the International American Conference in recommending arbitration on all questions of differences between the several governments of America.

The Big Lottery Gaining Ground.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A New Orleas dispatch says the lottery people now seem to be gaining ground, and are in a very confident mood. They now desire to force a vote as soon as possible. The opponents of the lottery attribute this result to the lavish use of money which has been going on.

Meeting of World's Fair Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Secretary Blaine has called a meeting of the World's Fair Commissioners, to be held at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Chicago, on the 26th inst. for the purpose of organizing by the appointment of officers, committees, etc.

Stephani Pleads Not Guilty.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Alphonse J. Stephani, who shot and killed lawyer Reynolds in the latter's office about a month ago, was arraigned in court on an indictment for murder. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for trial.

Struck by Lightning.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 6.—The Browning mill near Arcadia, run by Col Thomas Hoxie, was struck by lightning during a storm in the morning and burned. Nothing saved. Probably insured.

A Successful Strike.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The tin and sheet iron workers and roofers, on strike in Brooklyn, are gradually gaining their point—eight hours, union men and union wages. Only about fifty men are now out, and they will doubtless be taken back soon.

Alternate—F. P. Haffner.

The German Ladies Aid Society.

The general annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the German church was held last evening in the lecture room, and well attended. The reports showed the society to be in the best condition, and were very encouraging.

The officers elected for the ensuing year, are as follows:

President—Mrs. Sauermann.
Vice President—Mrs. Menzenbach.
Secretary—Mrs. Valentine Utzinger.
Treasurer—Mrs. Newton Smalley.
Treasurer for Mission—Mrs. Bach.

Thursday of next week the anniversary entertainment of the society will be held. Admission free.

"Baby McKee" is With Them.

Homers have been shipped from the lofts of this city, Elizabeth, Newark and Keyport, to Covesville, Va., from where they will compete in a 300 mile race homeward, to-morrow, if the weather is favorable.

Among the flyers entered are the fastest birds of the Doanes, Ingram, Stevens and other owners of this city, besides "Baby McKee" of THE PRESS news service.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Bert Holden of this city, sent Sunday at his home in Pluckamin.

Mrs. John H. Evans, and Miss Evans, are at The Netherwood for the Summer.

The many friends of Mr. Wm. Tier will be glad to learn of his improved condition from his recent severe illness.

In a very few weeks now, City Clerk Coward will begin the erection of a fine brick building on his property at 9 and 11 Park avenue.

The beautiful roses in the front yard of Mr. E. P. Thorn's residence on East Front street, attract universal attention from passers-by.

Mr. S. H. Burr of Harlem, formerly superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday school, was the guest of the Rev. Dr. Yerkes, last Sunday.

To Edward Petrie has fallen the honor this year of being the valedictorian of the graduating class of the High school. The honor was never more deservingly bestowed.

Palmer B. Skillman, and family, who have been Summer guests of The Netherwood, and also residents of this city during other seasons, have again returned to Plainfield.

The Rev. John VanMeter, formerly pastor of the M. E. church, of this city, and now President of the Baltimore College for Women, has accepted the invitation to deliver the address to the High school graduates at the coming commencement.

Word was received in this city yesterday, of the death of Mrs. Catherine Dysart, a cousin of Mrs. W. K. McClure. She died on her estate at Burt, in the North of Ireland, May 18. This makes the third death in Counselor McClure's family, in three months consecutively. Mrs. Dysart leaves a large fortune of which Mrs. McClure's share will probably amount to about $75.000.

First Set-back for the Pool Sellers.

The certiorari proceedings in the cases of the bookmakers indicted for plying their business at Linden Park, Elizabeth, came up in the Union County Court Wednesday. Prosecutor Lindabury wanted the cases referred for trial to the Circuit Court, and he applied also for an order providing for a struck jury. Samuel Kalisch and Cortlandt Parker opposed the application.

The matter went to the Supreme Court at Trenton, where the next day Judge VanSyckel read an opinion in the matter. He decides that the Justice had an undoubted right to grant the writ of certiorari and it was proper for him to do so in this case. Justices Depue and Scudder who also sat in the case, concur. The application for a struck jury is granted, and the indictments are sent back to the Circuit Court of Union county to be tried before the Presiding Justice of the county on June 26.

A Sharp Contest Expected To-Morrow.

Armitage, didn't pitch for the Acmes when they defeated the Crescents, April 19, but says he is to pitch to-morrow. He will receive a different reception. This time the home team wins. It was cold weather before; the Crescents had not got their joints limbered, nor their batting clothes on.

Gregg will pitch for the Crescents. He is doing better than ever before, and can't be replaced so long as he keeps in the fine condition he now is. He's a batter, too. All signs point to an exciting game to-morrow. It is to be deplored, however, that some people will bet money on these contests. Over $300 is said to have been wagered around town, on the result.

His Visit Postponed.

Frank Johnson, whose home is between Martinville and Pluckamin, was thrown from his carriage and seriously injured on Monday. He was driving to Plainfield and his horse became frightened at something in the road and ran away. The carriage wheel struck an obstruction while crossing the bridge at Dock-Watch-Hollow and Mr. Johnson was thrown over the bridge, his head striking the floodgates.

Not Known Here.

The Newark News was probably mistaken in the man's residence when it said, last evening: "A brakeman on the Central Railroad, living at Plainfield, named Wm. Kenny, was brought to St. Michael's Hospital in this city last night, suffering from injuries sustained while coupling cars at Jersey City. His right hand was crushed, and it is thought amputation will be necessary.

Plainfield Graduates Good Enough for any College.

The faculty of Vassar College have informed President Goodrich that hereafter a certificate of graduation from the Plainfield High School, will be a sufficient passport for admittance into Vassar without examination. Wellesley and Rutgers colleges have long ago adopted such a practice.

Hyde Vs. French.

This case was adjourned to Monday, June 9, but yesterday counsel received word from Vice Chancellor Bird that he could not come to Plainfield until Wednesday June 11. The case therefore will not be called until Wednesday.

The vocal organs are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Clergymen, lawyers, singers, actors and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weakness of the throat and lungs, and for all affections of the vocal organs.

WEDDING BLOSSOMS AND RICE.

TAMS—MOFFETT.

A pretty home wedding took place last evening at 15 Orchard place. Miss Ella Moffett and William H. Tams, of Trenton, were married. The bride is the daughter of President Elmore D. Moffett, of the City Council, and the bridegroom is the son of James Tams, President of the Greenwood Pottery, of Trenton. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents. The house was handsomely decorated with flowers, plants and palms.

The bride looked charming in a handsome traveling gown. The Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., of the First Baptist church, officiated. A large and fashionable company was present. Among the guests were many from New Brunswick, Elizabeth, Paterson, Brooklyn, Trenton and Jersey City. The gifts were beautiful and many.

The happy couple left on a late train under showers of rice and with the best wishes of their friends. They will make a bridal tour of the South, and on their return will live in Trenton.

PLAINFIELD HAS THEM.

But the Curbstone Guard Here is Not Yet Disorderly.

Complaint is made of the great number of young men who stand along the sidewalks when church turns out Sunday evenings.—These young men think they ought to see the young ladies safe home, and the curbstone guard, extended far along the street, has long been in vogue. We would caution them to be careful what they say as the misses pass by, even if they do not care to, or cannot if they would, go along home with them. Offensive remarks will not exalt you in the opinion of any one,—[Frenchtown Star.]

—The "curb-stone guard" is a noble company, to be sure, and no doubt sensible people in Frenchtown are heartily ashamed of its existence. It seems to us that the people now have it in their hands to disperse the "guard" and break up their meetings. If, as the Star intimates, the curb flowers have resorted to making offensive remarks as ladies pass by them, it is high time the authorities interfere in the name of common decency and arrest the young blackguards. Church-going people have some rights guaranteed by law, and it is for those chosen to enforce the law in such cases to act promptly and determinedly. Flemington, too, has a "curb-stone guard," but the members are civil-tongued. They are satisfied with a silly gaping into the faces of an out-going congregation and puffing foul-smelling cigarette smoke high above the church spire.—Flemington Democrat.

Plainfield's "curbstone Guard" is on duty every night, but it is a most orderly gang as yet—in most respects. They hang over the letter boxes so that a lady cannot post anything. They make everybody step off in the gutter, to get by. They expectorate tobacco everywhere, and blow cigarette smoke in your throat. But they havn't insulted anybody, nor knocked anyone down, yet.

The Usual Daily Record.

It is thoroughly understood that to most respectable people, even a mention of the news is odious. All other respectable people are either ignorant that such a paper still exists, or that it ever existed.

One or two with a display of wisdom as large as their display of misunderstanding, have said to us: "Now never mention a competitor, for you only advertise him. Then, too, people will think he has apples on his tree, for you would not throw stones at empty branches!"

But then all will readily agree that the news is not a "competitor." And as to not advertising it, we propose to devote an inch or two occasionally to advertising the thefts of its columns. We are only stoning our own apples, in this case.

Last night's news contained the following items stolen from THE PRESS of the day before:

The opportunity offered Plainfield's boys, for admission into the New York University.

The departure of Mrs. David Boice and Miss Boice, to Illinois.

The "at home" given by Mrs. George H. Goddard, and Mrs. C. M. Goddard.

The meeting of the seven Bands of Mercy, in Reform Hall.

The Children's Service to be held in the Crescent Avenue church.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the German Reformed church.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Camp.

Boys desiring information in regard to the Y. M. C. A. Boys Camp, to be held at Lake Wawayanda, Sussex county, N. J., July 8 to 22, should apply at the Y. M. C. A. rooms or to Vincent Rockwell of East Front street.

Wm. Rockwell and Charles F. Powlison are among the number of those who very highly endorse the camp. Frank French, Bruce Beals, George Ryder and Vincent Rockwell attended last year.

A Prosperous Merchant Explains His Success.

"If you want to sell goods, advertise in THE PRESS. The first day I advertised butter at its present price, we were kept busy answering the question 'Is it good?' Yes! we guarantee it to equal any. But since then there are no questions asked, but they are just marching right in and carrying it off."

J. F. MCDONALD.

A Good Investment

Is that which yields large returns from a small outlay. Reader, the way is clear! No speculation, no chance, big returns! If you are like most of mankind you have somewhere a weakness—don't feel at all times just as you'd like to—headache to-day, backache to-morrow, down sick next week—all because your blood is out of order. A small outlay and what large returns! You invest in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon pure, fresh blood courses through your veins, and you are another being!

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

ANNUAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE HOME.

Appropriate Addresses, Enjoyable Music and Encouraging Reports.

The anniversary exercises of the Children's Home were held in the First Presbyterian church, last evening. Addresses were made by Drs. Rodman and Ketcham. Miss Jessie Utter played the organ, and a special choir consisting of Mrs. Collier, Miss J. J. Ketchem, Miss Thompson, of North Plainfield, Morris VanArsdale and Arthur Freeman gave some excellent selections.

The treasurer's report showed the total receipts for the year to have been $3,601.-81; total expenditures $3,426 29; leaving a balance on hand of $175.52. Since that time generous responses have been made to the appeal for funds. The Kinder Symphonie netted to the Association, $118.25. Mr. Neuman of New York city, sent to the ladies a check for $20 from the shares of receipts which he received. The ladies of the Association wish to return their thanks to all friends who aided in any way in the entertainment.

The President's report was as follows:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND FRIENDS:—Once more we bring you the record of our years' work for the children. It is the same sad story of wrong and suffering to the helpless and innocent through the neglect and sin of those who ought to be their helpers and guardians. During the year 1889-1890 our city Council granted no licenses to sell liquor. While no one is deluded enough to think that no liquor was sold, that no wretched father or mother gave for beer and whiskey the money that ought to have gone for food and clothing for their children, there was a very marked difference in the number of cases we were called to investigate and help. The present Common Council have granted many licenses, and opened anew these floodgates of temptation and sin in our city. The police records for March and April, the two months since licenses were given, show that the number of arrests for this time, was greater than for the whole of the last year when there were no liquor licenses. Thoughtful men and women will need no other commentary on the effect of liquor selling in our community. The experience of our own and similar organizations proves that if liquor selling and drinking could for ten years be banished from our city, there would be little need for many of our relief societies. The ordinary calls of sickness and distress could be met by private charity, and by the relief committees of our churches, During the year we have had between thirty and forty children in our Home. We have now seventeen, with applications for several others. In the present condition of our treasury we cannot enlarge our work.

From the first we have been pledged to each other, never knowingly to incur a debt! Our treasurer's books for last year show that we have barely money enough to meet our June bills. This is not an inspiring outlook as we scatter for the summer! We are sure that the friends who have so nobly helped us in the past, only need to know this fact to prompt to immediate and generous giving. This is your work, dear friends, as truly as ours, given us all by the Master who said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

May I say to those who are strangers to the Home and its work, there is no form of benevolence whose results are more hopeful and sure. We labor long and faithfully with some wretched man or woman perhaps, induce them for a time to give up drinking, and make the home quiet and comfortable; but the liquor shop with its enticements to evil, stands open day and night, or some old companion offers a glass of liquor for good fellowship, and in a moment the work of months is undone. But put around one of these boys or girls in their opening years of life the influences of a loving, christian home and they are almost sure to do well. One boy and one girl sent out by our association, although never in our home, after giving a world of trouble finally ran away from excellent homes in which they had been placed. Of nearly one hundred and fifty children these are the only ones of whom we know that are not living honest and happy lives.

Surely we may take courage even in the hours of discouragement and difficulty that come to all workers in the world's white fields. If we listen long enough, we shall hear a voice sounding from beyond the clouds and darkness, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world!" Through the year our children have been made happy by many friends. We cannot name individual gifts, they will find place in our monthly lists of donations. Easter flowers and gifts came from Netherwood, and other Sunday schools. Day and Sunday schools as well as older friends brought their offerings at Thanksgiving and Christmas. "The Helpful Ten," a band of Kings Daughters, brought a Christmas toy for each child. Other bands have taken sewing to do for us. Our thanks are due Mr. E. H. Holmes for express favors, to our druggists for medical supplies, and to Mr. Loomis and Mr. Guion for coal. Our city editors have shown us constant favors. Miss Luther's class in Holy Cross Sunday school brought two quilts they had made. Several fairs have been held by little girls and boys for our benefit. By an unfortunate mistake in our last report the sum of fifty dollars given by Miss May Evans and her friend was credited to another name. We mean that our reports shall be absolutely correct, and shall be greatly obliged to any friends who will notify us of any mistake. The health of our children has been exceptionally good, while there has been much sickness in town Dr. Rushmore has given his services in all cases of need. Our matron has entered on her thirteenth year of faithful work for our children. What that means to her and to us can be partly measured by the daily perplexities that come to every mother, only instead of a few children trained daily by loving care, we have from fifteen to twenty, to many of whom before they entered our Home, it has often, if not always been first a blow, and then the word of command. That such children love her tenderly and truly, and years after they have left the Home write letters of grateful appreciation of the Home, and her care of them there, is stronger evidence of her true worth than any words can be.

Associate officers and members of our Home, as to night we recall gratefully all the way in which we have been led, let us even in the midst of discouragements, act up to the motto of the old dial, and "mark only the hours that shine!" As day by day we try to weave into these little warped lives some threads of truth and beauty, let us remember

A weaver standing at his loom one day
Wrought with uncertain hand a strange design.
A tangled mesh it seemed, line blurring line.
Unsuited contrasts—warp and woof astray,
Sometime he paused, and pushed his work away.
"The task is hopeless," said he, and sighed.
But patiently resumed, and one by one
The broken threads were mended—
When 'twas done,
He turned the frame, and lo, upon that side
A radiant light his startled eyes did greet.
What seemed confusion, had been hidden law
And the designer's dream at once he saw,
Resulting, lovely, perfect and complete.
Like that old weaver, troubled, faint with fears,
We weave the fabric which we call our life
And our ignoring fingers through the years
Hold most incongruous threads—
* * * * * * * * * * * * *
But when the day shall dawn on heights above,
Some gracious light upon our work may shine,
Revealing clearly how the Master's hand
Guided harmonious each discordant thread,
And from the human, fashioned the divine.

N. E. KIMBALL.

THE OWLS REIGN.

So the Mair Family Carry Open Umbrellas When They Go to the Barn.

The New York papers are very much interested in the plague of owls that has for two weeks disturbed the peace of Jno. Mair's home in the outskirts of this city. The first appearance of the feathered creatures was noticed by one of Mr. Mair's sons, who, in romping about the barn, discovered a snug nest of the young birds. There were no larger owls in sight, and the boy made one of the owlets captive and carried it to the house. His mother compelled him to restore it to its nest. He had no sooner placed it with the others than one of the older birds appeared and attacked him furiously, beating him in the face with its wings, and scratching with its claws and bill at his eyes. Shielding himself with his arms, the lad ran away. The owl left him at the barn door.

That afternoon one of the young ladies of the family had occasion to visit the carriage house, where a great owl flew down and alighted on her back. She shook it off with difficulty, and in the struggle had her garments torn. Since then owls have taken complete possession of the out-buildings and their surroundings. Scores of the birds—which are of the day-owl species—have followed the first comers, and have made their nests in the barn. Several have been killed, but this seems only to make the others more fierce. Even the men dare not venture near the nesting places without masks or other protection.

The novel defence of umbrellas has been at last adopted, and now when any member of the Mair family visits the owls' castle he holds a parachute over his head. Already three umbrellas have been ruined by the birds dashing against them in vain endeavors to reach the faces of the carriers. The Mair family are in a state of mind. They don't want to move out, but they can't dispossess their unwelcome and belligerent tenants.

A Fairy Tale.

Those who are conversant with fishing in the Raritan river will appreciate the following taken from the New York World. Government fish preserve is good, and fish-ladders gooderer:

What has been pronounced by tourists one of the prettiest bits of scenery in the United States is soon to be developed into a fishing resort. The locality is that of Fieldville, two miles below Bound Brook, where a section of the Raritan River is converted by a great horseshoe dam into a beautiful lake, whose banks are made cool and inviting by grand old trees. The falls over the dam are one mass of silvery gleaming, and the river below is a series of cascades. Hitherto the lake has been used as a government fish preserve, and no fishing above the dam was allowed, but arrangements have been made to afford the anglers fine sport by constant and abundant restocking of the waters. A series of fish-ladders will be constructed to enable the finny denizens to pass from height to depth and from depth to height.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires' Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires' Root Beer Packages make.

Of Interest to Sportsmen.

The woodcock crop promises to be large. It is legal to shoot them during the month of July.

The catch of black bass in the Raritan thus far this season has not been very good. The fact is the season opens too early, the fish being still on their spawning beds.

The late Legislature did one good thing when it repealed the charter of that abomination and fraud, the West Jersey Game Society. It is to be hoped that the Governor will sign the bill.

There will be an all-day shoot at Blue Rocks on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun club, Tuesday, June 10. Admission free.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

FAVORS ANNEXATION

A Canadian Elected to Parliament on that Issue.

OPPOSED BY SEVERAL FACTIONS.

The Successful Candidate Carried About the Streets in a Chair.

Arrest of a New York Anarchist in Germany—Dissension in the British Cabinet—American Cattle Men Fight a Duel with Razors—Chancellor Von Caprivi Injured by a Fall.

WINDSOR, Ont., June 6.—A Parliamentary election in Canada, in which the annexation question was a feature, was held in the North Essex Riding, of which this town is the largest portion.

Sol. White, the foremost annexationist of Canada, was one candidate, opposed by Francis Cleary, a strong Catholic, and Gospard Pueaud, a native Frenchman.

Religious questions, race prejudices, and sectional hatred were all involved against White, but in spite of all he carried the riding by over 600 plurality. His victory is all the more significant as he was not the nominee of any party, but stood alone on his record, and well-known principles.

White is the chief of the Wyandotte Indians, while to all intents and purposes a white man and successful lawyer. When the result of the vote was approximately known, White's adherents carried him about the streets in a chair and held a carnival, the like of which the district never saw before. The returns, which are very slow in coming in, indicate a majority of over 300 for White.

ARREST OF AN ANARCHIST.

A New York Disciple of Johann Most Captured in Germany.

BERLIN, June 6.—The police of Wiesenbach have for some days past shadowed a new comer in that place whose association with men of Socialistic and Anarchistic tendencies made him an object of suspicion.

Through patient inquiry they learned that his name was Stengleit; that he had recently returned to Germany from New York, and that while in America he was an ardent admirer and follower of Johann Most.

Last night the police visited Stengleit's lodgings, where they found a quantity of explosives and a supply of seditious literature. Stengleit made his appearance while his room was being searched and was promptly arrested and locked up.

The Arnauts' Bloody Work.

LONDON, June 6.—A dispatch from Belgrade says the attack on the Servian village by Arnauts was a fiendish outrage. The inhabitants were driven out of their houses in the dead of night by a false alarm of fire. The barbarities which followed are too horrible to relate in detail. They resemble the Bulgarian atrocities. Neither sex nor age was spared. When the inhuman Arnauts had completed their bloody work and fled beyond the frontier it was found that out of a population of a hundred, fifteen were killed and thirty-five wounded.

A Duel With Razors.

LONDON, June 6.—A duel with razors was fought last night at an East End resort between two cattle drovers from America, Gallagher of New York, and Wallis of Boston, to settle a dispute. The enraged men cut and slashed one another in a frightful manner, while the excited spectators of the lowest standard of morality encouraged them with shouts of approval as one or the other would inflict a particularly severe cut upon his adversary. The fight ended in a draw, both men being too weak from loss of blood to continue.

Cabinet Dissension in England.

LONDON, June 6.—It is stated that at a Cabinet council last evening Mr. Balfour strongly objected to the shelving of the Land Purchase bill in favor of the Publicans bill, to which other members desired to give precedence, and that in consequence of Mr. Balfour's remonstrances the Publicans bill has been laid aside for the present. There is no doubt that considerable friction exists among the members of the Cabinet.

A Famous Institution Wrecked.

PARIS, June 6.—La Grand Chartreuse, the famous monastery, fourteen miles distant from Grenoble, in the Department of Isere, has been partially wrecked by being blown up with dynamite. The outrage is believed to be the work of persons living in the vicinity of the monastery who are incensed by their failure to extort money from the Chartreuse works by blackmail.

Von Caprivi Has a Fall.

BERLIN, June 6.—While riding Chancellor von Caprivi was thrown from his horse and slightly hurt. Rumors were current that he had been seriously injured, and the report caused agitation on the Bourse until it became known that he walked to the palace to attend a meeting of tht Prussian Cabinet.

The Pork Packing Strike at an End.

BOSTON, June 6.—The strike at J. P. Squire & Co.'s pork-packing establishment at East Cambridge, which was inaugurated April 19, has been practically declared off. Leaders have admitted that the strike has failed and are willing to be hired as individuals on the old basis. Mr. Squire in an interview said: "The policy of the firm remains unchanged and such men as are satisfactory will be hired as needed."

Union Shoe Cutters on Strike.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 6.—Two hundred employes of J. H. Winchell & Company's shoe factory struck last night owing, it is alleged, to the refusal of the firm to adopt the union card system in the cutting room and to pay union wages to all cutters, as agreed upon with the union a month ago.

One Escaped and Two Drowned.

EASTPORT, Me., June 6.—Charles Leonard and Nelson Watt, aged about 18 years each, were drowned in Boyden's Lake, at Perry, by the capsizing of a boat. Charles Monroe escaped by swimming a mile to shore.

AN ENGLISH PLOT.

Great Britain Interested in the Lower California Filibustering Scheme.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—From the evidence already obtained in the investigation into the proposed filibustering expedition against Lower California, it appears that the president of the Mexican Land and Colonization Company had concocted a scheme for the annexation of the peninsula to the British Empire on the basis of the plan followed by the East India Company when Great Britain acquired her possessions in Asia.

It was proposed to colonize Lower California and secure concessions from the Mexican Government, and foment dissensions which would jeopardize English interests. Then the interference of England was to be asked.

It is alleged that Major Scott, manager of the company, assured the filibusters that two English men-of-war would be in the vicinity of Ensenada skirting off the coast when the new Republic was to be declared. As soon as the declaration of independence was issued the war vessels were to enter the harbor and recognize the new nation. Scott also asserted that the nucleus of the armament was already in Lower California stored in the warehouse of the English Company at Ensenada.

After the Republic was proclaimed he was of the opinion that the United States and Mexican Governments would join in putting down the insurrection and that Great Britian would subsequently on an appeal to protect the interests of her subjects, declare a protectorate over the peninsula.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The famous panther slayer, M. Borbonnell, is dead at Dijon.

The number of people killed at Bradshaw, Neb., is now fifteen. It may be more.

Several cases of prostration are reported in New York from the unusually excessive heat of early June.

Iddlesleigh won the race for the Royal Stakes at Epsom, England. The Epsom grand prize was won by St. Serf.

Hugh Farrar McDermott, the newspaper writer and poet, and father of ex-Judge Allan L. McDermott, of New Jersey, is dead.

Chief Engineer Crittenden and three of his men were massacred by drunken Indians in Wyoming because he refused them whiskey.

The strike of granite workers at Barre, Vt., is settled and it is expected that all departments of the business there and at Montpelier will begin work at once.

Ellen Mahoney of Madison street, New York, was buried under tons of coal which swept out of a weak bin with the force of an avalanche, but was rescued.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland has arrived at Marion, Mass., and will open the summer there as for some seasons past. The ex-President has leased a house at the lower village.

E. A Loder, Member of the New York Assembly from the Third district of Monroe, and chairman of the Canal Committee, died yesterday of anemi at his residence in Chili, aged 56 years.

The chemical analysis of the bombs captured by Paris police with the recently arrested Nihilist conspirators has been completed and the chemist's report shows them to have been intended simply for experimental purposes.

Dan Hawkins was knocked out in fifteen rounds at the Golden Gate Club in San Francisco by Fred Bogan. The men fought a seventy-three round draw on Tuesday at the same club rooms. Both are light weights.

Shepard Knapp, son of George Knapp, former proprietor of the St. Louis Republican, resigned his position in the Money Order Department of the St. Louis Postoffice because a negro has been appointed to a clerkship in the office.

Dr. Gatling of Hartford, Conn., contradicts the report recently sent from Cincinnati to the effect that A. T. Perrine was the inventor of the Gatling gun. Dr. Gatling himself invented the gun and his letters patent on file in Washington are evidence of the fact.

Lewis C. Haslup is dead at his home in Howard County, Md. He several years ago built and owned Walls Opera House in Washington. He also helped to make the pick which Charles Carroll of Carrollton used in breaking the ground for the first tie for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—For New England and Eastern New York: Rain, preceded by fair in southern portions of Connecticut and Eastern New York; warmer, except stationary temperature in Eastern New York, Western Massachusetts and Western Connecticut; southerly winds; cooler to-morrow.

For Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey: Fair; followed by showers; slightly cooler; southerly winds; cooler to-morrow.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
A Party of Workingmen Run Down by a Train.
SEVERAL CARS BADLY WRECKED
The Passengers and Trainmen Escape With Slight Bruises.

Serious Accident Caused by a Defective Rail—A Sleeping Car Hurled Down a Fifty-Foot Embankment—Nine Passengers Injured—Miraculous Escape of Railroad Officials from Death.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 7.—The Northwestern passenger train from Freeport, which reaches Chicago at 2 o'clock, jumped the track two miles west of here at 11 a. m. on account of a broken wheel.

A gang of section men were working about two hundred feet from the point where the engine left the rails, and before they could get away the train had run them down and toppled over on them. The entire train was wrecked and the engineer and four of the section men were killed outright. The fireman, two section men and some of the passengers were injured.

The killed are: Edward Blaisdell, of Freeport, who had been engineer on the Galena division for over thirty-five years; August Johnson, of Winnebago; Emil Anderson, of Winnebago; John Gustafson, of Pecatonica, and John Drehmer, of Pecatonica.

SENT THROUGH A TRESTLE.

A Car Load of Railroad Officials Badly Shaken Up.

BALTIMORE, June 7.—The accident on the Ohio River road, reported yesterday, occurred at Clarington station, between Wheeling and Parkersburg, W. Va. It was a special train consisting of the private B. and O. car "West Virginia," filled with officials of the road who were en route from Parkersburg to Wheeling. The car jumped a trestle turning upside down.

Several of the occupants of the car were badly injured and it is a miracle that nobody was killed outright.

The following B. and O. officials were injured, some of them very seriously:

A. J. Johnson, Civil Engineer and Maintenance of Way of B. and O. road, badly bruised and cut on head, thigh broken.

J. F. Legge, Superintendent of Western Division B. and O., right arm broken, badly cut and bruised all over body.

John Mock, Superintendent Bridges Ohio River road, badly hurt.

A Walter, General Superintendent B. and O. road, badly hurt.

A. J. Singleton, brakeman, badly bruised and ankle sprained.

OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

A Sleeping Car Wrecked and Many of the Passengers Injured.

CINCINNATI, June 7.—An accident occurred on the Louisville & Nashville road at English Station, 53 miles from here, caused by the sleeper of a passenger train striking a defective rail. There were eight passengers injured, but none seriously.

The following were injured: Charles Brent, contracting agent; Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Memphis; Brent Arnold, general passenger agent; Col. H. C. Hodges, Mrs. Hodges, colored porter and a brakeman.

The sleeper rolled down an embankment 50 feet and was badly smashed.

Woonsocket Invites Mr. Cleveland.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 7.—Mayor Pond has invited ex-President Cleveland to visit Woonsocket on July 4 and deliver a short oration. The Mayor, as Chairman of the State Convention, once went to Washington and invited the then President to visit Rhode Island. He declined on the ground that the visit might assume some political significance, but it is now thought he may accept. The State officers would meet him here, together with many prominent New Englanders.

Mother and Children Drowned.

MIDDLEBURY, Conn., June 7.—Two boys named Edward and George Smith, aged 13 and 10 years, and their mother, were drowned in a pond here. The mother had rushed into the water to help the boys, who had been playing on a raft, and had been thrown into the water by its capsizing. She could not swim, and getting beyond her depth was drowned with her children.

Shut Down for a Month.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 7.—The American Linen Mill has shut down for a month. The back-boys struck Thursday and the spinners had to stop work on that account. They all went to the mill in the morning to go to work, but Agent Borden told them the mill would not start up for four weeks. New machinery will be put in the mill.

Farms Under Water.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 7.—The flats between Attica and Batavia are all under water. There was a wreck one mile east of Attica on the Erie yesterday morning, 19 freight cars going into a culvert. Passengers were transferred. There has been considerable damage all along the line. Many farms are under water.

A Troublesome Strike.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The strike of laborers at Yonkers has assuming a troublesome aspect. One thousand men are out and other branches threaten to join them. Work upon the construction of the city sewers is seriously interfered with.

SORRY HE MARRIED HER.

A Clergyman Applies for a Divorce from a Christian Science Practitioner.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 7.—Rev. C. H. Gleason, formerly pastor of the Congregational Church at Somers, Conn., has applied for absolute divorce from his wife on statutory grounds. Mr. Gleason became ill after the death of his first wife and went to Northampton, Mass., where he met a lady who was practicing the Christian Science cure. Afterward, to the surprise of his congregation, he married her.

A few months ago reports of an unpleasant character reached him. He did not credit them until after he had located in Boston, where such stories came to his ears that he decided upon an immediate separation and to apply for a divorce.

Mr. Gleason's family, including his children by his first wife, are widely scattered and his home broken up.

CROKER RETURNS.

The Tammany Leader Back in New York in Improved Health.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Among the passengers arriving by the steamship Aller 1 st night was Richard Croker, the Tammany leader. He was met by Mayor Grant and a number of other friends.

His appearance indicates that his health has been much improved by his sojourn abroad. He declined to be interviewed, and would not say what course he would take in regard to the attacks now being made upon Tammany Hall.

Nearly 500 Men Join the Strike.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 7.—The strike at J. H. Winchell & Co's shoe manufactory has assumed larger proportions than was at first expected, and between 400 and 500 men are out. The firm says it does not understand what is the cause of the strike, as the men had no important grievance. The men say the hands in the bottoming department were called out to assist the cutters in their demand for $15 a week.

Rutgers' Commencement.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 7.—Rutgers' commencement programme has been announced. On Sunday, the 15th, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Talbot W. Chambers, of New York. On Monday the class day exercises will be held in Kirkpatrick Chapel, the Glee Club concert being given in the Opera house at night, after which the cremation exercises will take place.

Kerrigan After Jack McAuliffe.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Patsy Kerrigan, the Boston lightweight has arrived in this city. He is ambitious and wants to be the lightweight champion. The object of his visit to New York is to get on a match with Jack McAuliffe. He means business, and says that he can get all the backing necessary in a go with McAuliffe. He has great confidence in his ability to whip any man living at his weight.

A Dinner to Chauncey Depew.

CHICAGO, June 7.—One hundred and fifty of the best known citizens of Chicago met Chauncey M. Depew last night at a banquet in the hall on the top floor of the Auditorium overlooking Lake Michigan. Chairman Lyman J. Gage, of the World's Fair Executive Committee, presided. The speech making included an address by Chairman Gage and a response by Dr. Depew.

Another Deal by the English Syndicate.

NEWARK, N. J., June 7.—It is stated here that an English syndicate has closed a deal by which they would get possession of three of the largest trunk and bag factories in the country. The firms indicated are I. B. Peddie & Co., William O. Headly & Son, and Edward Simon & Brothers. The price paid was $1,450,000.

Col. Stone Asks for a New Convention.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—Col. William A. Stone, whose nomination from Col. Bayne's district created such widespread dissatisfaction among the Republicans of the district, has written a letter to the Republican County Executive Committee asking that new primaries be held and that a new nomination be made.

Delegates Go to a Picnic.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 7.—The annual picnic of the Amalgamated Association at Rock Point to-day promises to be the largest ever held by the Association. So far as possible the mills in this vicinity closed down to-day to give the workmen an opportunity to attend. The regular sessions of the Convention will resume on Monday.

The Wedding of Mary Anderson.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Alphonse de Navarro will sail for Europe to be present at the wedding of his brother to Miss Mary Anderson. The marriage is to take place on the 19th instant in London. Miss Anderson will never appear upon the stage again.

Paddlers' Wages Advanced.

READING, Pa., June 7.—The Blandon rolling mill, at Blandon has advanced the puddlers' wages to $4 per ton. The advance affects several hundred men. Puddlers' wages in the Schuylkill Valley range from $3.80 to $4 per ton.

The Albany City Bank.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 7.—Fresh arrests are expected in the City National Bank case. Warrants are out for parties charged with collusion with Whitney.

The Colliery Fire Reached.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 7.—The fire in the East colliery has been reached through the shafts which have been driven since the fire was discovered, and water has been turned on the burning coal.

WASHINGTON TOPICS
The House to Ballot To-Day on the Silver Bill.
NOT A STRICT PARTY VOTE.
Congressman Walker Takes Off His Coat to Talk Silver.

Senator Blair Introduces a Service Pension Bill—To Caucus for Canaday's Successor—A Batch of Customs Collectors Appointed—The Senate Considering the Lumber Schedule To-Day.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The probabilities are that the House Silver bill will be passed this afternoon. Mr. Payson will try to have the bill recommitted, but it is doubtful whether the Speaker will entertain the motion.

The final vote on the bill will not be a strict party vote, as some Republicans will vote against it and some Democrats for it. In the Senate the free coinage men will in the end vote for the Finance Committee's bill.

The final struggle will be in conference, when the Senators will try to strike out of the House bill the clauses allowing the Treasurer to redeem the silver notes in bullion at his discretion.

The belief of the supporters of the House bill to-day is that that bill will in the end become a law as it now stands, or that no silver bill will be passed at all.

FUN OVER THE BILL.

Mr. Walker Was Hot and Threw Off His Coat.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—There was a roar of laughter in the House when Congressman Walker of Massachusetts stopped in his silver speech and took off his black coat and threw it on the desk beside him, and then continued his speech.

"You had better take off your vest, too," cried one of the Democrats, "we are going to make it hotter yet for you before you get through."

Mr. Walker was talking in favor of the caucus bill, and Payne of Illinois was plying him with questions, and the heat in the House and the quickness with which the questions came made the perspiration come from every pore, and his action caused great laughter and applause.

When Speaker Reed noticed Mr. Walker had taken his coat off he sent word to him that the decorum of the House required the member to keep his coat on.

Mr. Walker sent back word "It is too hot," and declined to do so.

Soon after the message was delivered the Speaker's gavel fell, and Mr. Reed declared the time of the gentleman from Massachusetts had expired. Mr. Walker looked surprised, but he had no redress, and sat down and soon after retired to the cloak room. Some of Mr. Walker's friends say the time of the Massachusetts member went very fast after Mr. Reed had sent his request and heard his answer.

SERVICE PENSION BILL.

Provisions of the New Measure Introduced by Senator Blair.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Senator Blair introduced a Service and Dependent Pension bill.

The service pension feature provides that every man who served sixty days or more during the late war and was honorably discharged shall be entitled to a monthly pension of one cent for each day's service; provided, however, that aside from any pension he may be receiving his annual income is not more than $1,200.

No service pension is to be more than $12 a month nor less than $6 a month, and shall be allowed in addition to any other pension the applicant may be receiving. The dependent feature of the bill is in general conformity to the various other bills having this end in view.

The lowest monthly rate of pension for dependency is fixed at $6, and the highest at $12, except that for minor children the rate is fixed at $4, an increase of $2 from the present rate.

Considering the Lumber Schedule.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Republican members of the Finance Committee took up the lumber schedule this morning. They are confident of reporting the bill next week. They still talk of the prospect of adjournment by July 15. Senator Cockrell said to a reporter that, while the Democrats in the Senate would not filibuster, they would insist on a reasonable time for debate, and he does not think it possible to reach an adjournment before August 1st.

Departure of the Rush.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A dispatch from San Francisco says the United States revenue cutter Rush has departed for another cruise in the Behring Sea on the lookout for depredating sealers. One of her officers informed the United Press correspondent that he did not think there would be many seizures this season, as few sealers would run the risk of being seized now that the Government had taken a positive attitude.

Belgian Glassblowers Must Go Back.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The seven Belgium glassblowers who arrived on the Umbria a few days ago and were detained on suspicion of having come under contract to work for the Warwick Glass Company, of New Jersey, were ordered to be sent back to Belgium.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, . . Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—Oh, dear! The town clock has stopped again.

—The Central Times employees today inaugurated their Summer half holiday.

—A report of Mrs. Clara Holbrook Smith's lecture on dress reform, delivered at the Congregational church, yesterday afternoon, will appear in the next issue of THE PRESS.

—Depending upon the well-known liberality of the people of Plainfield, the treasurer of the Relief Association, would appeal to its many friends for donations to reimburse its empty treasury.

—Andrew Farrell (white) was arraigned before the City Judge, this morning, for being drunk and creating a disturbance in the Mt. Olive church (colored). He was sent to the County Jail for 30 days.

—Kenny's advertisement elsewhere says that everybody goes to the corner of Front street and Park avenue for ladies oxford ties and gentlemen's patent leather and russet shoes. His prices are right, too.

—Mr. D. A. Woodhouse, of the Woodhouse Manufacturing company, No. 12 Barclay street, N. Y., was in our city last evening, endeavoring to sell the North Plainfield borough fire department some good hose for fire purposes.

—At the request of several ladies who had the privilege of hearing the delightful lecture by Mrs. C. Holbrook Smith upon Physical Culture, there will be meeting at the residence of Mrs. Geo. F. Opdyke, 15 West Eighth street, on Monday morning, June 9, at 10 o'clock, to form a class in physical training. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all interested in this important subject.

—Mrs. L. C. Whitney of New York city, who is visiting Mrs. Winters of this city, will give Bible readings on Monday evening next in the parlors of Mrs. E. D. Poole's home. Mrs. Whitney is an evangelist. Her labors have been blessed of God, and she has been the means of saving many souls from their sins and leading Christians on to a closer walk with God. All are invited. 22 West Third street, second door from Central avenue.

—The case of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, whose Treasurer is Mr. Carey, against Walter Smalley for alleged ill treatment of a horse, was before another jury Thursday, and a verdict of no cause of action resulted. The prosecutors had twelve witnesses, and the defence only three. The jury did not believe the twelve, however. If the case is carried any further now, it will look like a matter of persecution.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Hiram H. DeCamp of Chester, N.J., and brother-in-law of "Uncle" John W. Laing, is a visitor in the city today.

Mr. Litheusser, who for many years was employed by Louis Klein of East Second street, started this morning on the Steamer Ida, for Europe.

Mrs. Cornelia Morris, mother of Mrs. Robert C. Dingee, is very ill at her daughter's home on East Fifth street, and her end seems to be drawing near.

Mr. Chas. Hallock, formerly editor of Forest and Stream and now of the American Angler, has located in Plainfield for the Summer. He and his wife are at Mrs. Hazen's, 121 Broadway. THE PRESS received a pleasant call from Mr. Hallock this morning.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, has been unanimously chosen by the Y. P. S. C. E., of his church, as a delegate to represent their Society at the 9th annual international convention to be held at St. Louis, Mo., June 12 to 15 inclusive. He will leave on Monday evening per B.& O. route foot of Liberty street, N. Y., on special excursion train of Endeavor delegates. Besides affording Mr. Schenck a much-needed rest, the Society will be amply repaid by the report he will bring home from the convention. He was also presented, as a substantial token of esteem, with a purse of $50 for incidental expenses of the trip.

Lightning's Freaks.

Yesterday afternoon's thunder storm was more severe in Westfield than in this vicinity. In that town a bolt of lightning struck the house of Mr. John S. Burhans, corner of Dudley avenue and Prospect street, entering the kitchen and tearing out the sink. From thence the electric fluid meandered across two rooms to the parlor where it effectually spoiled all the gilt moulding surrounding the upper side walls of the room and finally made its exit through the cellar foundations. Mr. Burhans was standing near a window and was stunned for a time by the lightning, while Mrs. Burhans was rendered deaf in one ear. THE PRESS is glad to record, however, that she is improving from the shock and is likely to recover her full hearing.

During the same storm, a large button-ball three in the rear of Mr. Geo. Condit's home on Elm street, was struck by lightning and shattered to pieces.

A Candidate for the Asylum.

Yesterday, Justices Hart and Pearsall, of Westfield, committed to the county jail Kate Lonigan, a domestic in the employ of Mr. Chas. E Endicott, who showed strong symptoms of insanity. Officer J. M. C. Marsh conducted her to Elizabeth, and it is not unlikely that today she will be sent to the Morris Plains asylum upon the recommendation of the overseer of the poor.

FAMILY JARS.

THE BOROUGH COUNCILMEN HAVE NO POLITICAL ANTAGONISM

But They Get There Just the Same—The Effort to Remove Police Justice Hardy Fails, Yet You'll Never Find a Coward Where Pete Emmons Grows.

At the regular meeting of the Borough Council, last evening, in its rooms, Mayor Place and Messrs Buckle, Emmons, Hegeman, Needham, Sebring and Smalley were all present. Clerk Brokaw read the minutes of the last meeting as clearly as possible in spite of the vagarious action of a malarial effected gas meter. Borough Counsel Reed sat in his usual corner and mused over the possibility of a case against the Gas Light company for damages to the optical nerves of the Town Fathers. But no sooner had the meeting opened when the jumping gas was forgotten, and the mayor and council, three men who had hose to sell, two reporters and a room full of constituents were deeply interested in a set-to between Councilman Emmons and his colleagues, and Counselor Reed had his hands full as referee.

The fight was opened by Councilman Emmons saying into the ring a petition from "the undersigned, residents of the Borough of North Plainfield," asking the Mayor and Council to revoke the appointment of James Hardy as justice to try cases, as in their opinion he was not a proper person to act in that capacity. Among the signers were: John P. Emmons, Wm. C. Smith, J. W. A. Bauersachs, Chas. Lyman, R. R. Fairchild, D. R. Weaver, Will Williams, L. E. Barkalew, John A. Thickstun, Edwin Loomis, L. B. Woolston, A. M. Griffen, Thos. Young, Jno. Bodine, R. W. Mahaffee, H. A. McGee, J. M. Bettman, J. H. Cooley, H. N. Spencer, W. H. Pangborn and Thos. Worth.

Mr. Emmons moved that it be referred to the Laws Committee (of which he was chairman) as that commitlee had recommended the appointment of Mr. Hardy. Mr. Smalley moved that it be referred to a special committee of three to be appointed by the Mayor. Mr. Smalley's motion was lost—Buckle, Emmons, Hegeman and Sebring, voting nay. Mr. Emmons' motion was carried—Buckle, Emmons, Needham and Sebring voting aye.

Time was called, and while the combatants were resting other business proceeded. Warren Engine company presented a list of the officers recently elected, and the action was ratified by the Council. Clerk Brokaw reported the granting of 19 pedler, cartmen and stage licenses in May. The following claims were presented, referred and some of them subsequently ordered paid: P. Seader, $2.60; Geo. B. Stewart, $3.50; Philip Meig, $2.25; Times Printing Co., $8.00; James Hardy, $40: N. H. &, J. J. Heideloff, $10.33; Geo. Conover, $14.63 and $19 23; M. Powers, $38.16; Geo. Becker, $35; P. Kellehar, $13.65, P. T. B. Nevius, $613.22; $34.89.

Tax collector Spencer reported collected since April 4: Borough taxes, $14.24; lights, $42.72; roads, $35.60; fire department, $12.45; health, 3.56. Total collected including that previously reported, $8,029.93.

Police Justice Hardy reported ten on trial before him during May. Of these 3 had been convicted of being drunk and disorderly, 4 of being disorderly, 1 of riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, and 2 had been discharged. Fines of 39.45 were received, of which $17.45 had been paid as costs to the Marshal, witnesses and justice.

Chairman Sebring stated that the Fire Committee had made a thorough investigation of the department, and found two things necessary for its efficiency. The committee recommended the purchase of 500 feet of cotton jacket hose, and that the lock-up be removed from the engine house to make room for horses where most convenient for fire purposes. Amount on hand, $413.05, from which $75 must be deducted to pay interest on bands coming due July 1.

Chairman Hegeman for the Street Committee reported the scraping of certain avenues and the macadamizing of Grove street. He recommended the borrowing of $500 for use only on the streets of the Borough. It was so ordered—all voting aye.

Then everybody took a long breath, the gas flickered expectantly, and Heavy Weight Emmons rose in his corner. He moved that the resolution of April 15, appointing James F. Hardy the Borough police justice to try cases, be rescinded. Mr. Buckle seconded him, as he said later, to bring the matter before the Council.

The Mayor called time, and quietly asked of nobody in particular whether the Council had the power to revoke Justice Hardy's appointment. Mr. Emmons said certainly, and asked if he might be permitted to make a few remarks. He said he was elected to represent the people, and in the face of such a remonstrance as had been received signed by such people as had signed it, he felt it his duty to offer the resolution he had offered. "It does not aim to take away Mr. Hardy's office as a Justice of the Peace elected by the people" he continued, "but only his appointment by the Council to act as the Borough's police justice."

Mr. Needham thought time should be taken to investigate the causes and reasons for such petition. Any man, said he, might fail in business yet be entirely free from any act of fraud. Wait till the committee to whom the petition is referred has investigated the matter. Mr. Buckle expressed the same view of the case.

Mr. Hegeman called attention to the fact that Mr. Hardy's recent misfortunes in business were in no way connected with his office as Justice. He agreed that the signers of the petition were good men, but he thought it outrageous to ask the Council to try a man and kick him out, all in an hour. "Mr. Hardy is a most efficient Justice," he continued, "and has served this borough well; but even if he had not, we have no power to remove him. The Council had better go slow in this matter. We can't afford to put the Borough in a false position. The law that gives us power to appoint a police justice, gives us no power to remove."

Mr. Buckle stepped to the bat just then, and got in a two-base hit. He said that the members' opinions were only governed by what they each knew, and were only worth what their knowledge amounted to. That being stated, he proceeded to say that probably Mr. Emmons and himself knew more about the matter than Mr. Hegeman did.

The Mayor called time just in time, and directed attention to the fact that the petition was referred to the Committee on Laws for investigation. They had had no meeting yet, and in equity there should be no action until the committee had heard and considered the case. Mr. Buckle here remarked that there was no charge in the petition, to investigate.

Counsel Reed rose for the wind-up. "All men are in justice considered innocent," he said, "until they are proven guilty; and certainly no man should be pronounced guilty who has not even been charged with anything, nor given a hearing and fair trial. Aside from that, however, the Council has no power to remove Justice Hardy. He is appointed under a law that gives the power to appoint such an officer to serve during the existence of the Council itself. If he is unfit to act as a Justice of the Peace, he can only be impeached as such, and then if removed from that office his appointment as police justice falls too. You cannot judge a man guilty of a crime simply at the request of somebody who does not think he is fit to serve as a Justice."

A vote was then taken, and Mr. Emmons' resolution was knocked out. All voted against the removal of Justice Hardy except Mr. Emmons, who said "aye," and Mr. Smalley who had disappeared.

Mr. Sebring then got a chance to move that the Fire Committee be empowered to purchase 500 feet of cotton jacket hose at a price not to exceed 80 cents a foot, and have the same by July 4. All voted aye.

Then Mr. Emmons, undaunted still, blew another blast of battle. He offered a resolution that the petitioners of Willow avenue be permitted to withdraw their petition asking for the grading and macadamizing of that thoroughfare. "They have not received justice from the Council," he said, "and in my opinion they never will."

Mr. Hegeman thought the petitioners were just as apt to receive justice, "as they call it," said he, as other petitioners of the same sort whose petitions also awaited careful consideration.

Mr. Buckle observed that there were too many personal reflections cast at every meeting by members on those who did not agree with them. He expressed a wish that Mr. Emmons would take a lesson in good manners from his fellow members. "It looks to me," he continued, "as if Mr. Emmons had gone to the Willow avenue petitioners and asked them to withdraw their petition."

Then Mr. Emmons jumped in concert with the gas. "The idea," he said, in a tone of scorn and a glance of disdain at Mr. Buckle, "of your saying to this Council that I run around begging people to withdraw their petitions."

Mr. Hegeman wanted to know if Mr. Henry McGee and Wm. White, who had guaranteed the raising of 50 per cent of the cost, were the petitioners who wanted the petition withdrawn; and Mr. Emmons answered that if he might be allowed to make a few remarks, there were no other petitioners appearing as such before the Council. Mr. Hegeman replied that Mr. Emmons had accidentally made a good point, and asked again if Messrs McGee and White asked to be permitted to withdraw the petition. Mr. Emmons answered that if he might be permitted to make a few remarks, he would say that Mr. McGee had said he wanted to withdraw the petition.

The resolution to grant the permission was then voted down—Messrs Emmons and Smalley alone voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Emmons then offered a motion that a warrant be drawn for $75 to pay the interest due July 1 on the fire department bonds, and everybod yvoted with him. Counselor Reed thereupon remarked that Mr. Emmons was in the "Ring" now. This referred to a previous statement in open Council by Mr. Emmons. He said that Councilman Smalley told him there was a "Ring" in the Council and he had better come in.

After listening to the merits of sundry fire hose, the Council adjourned.

Elizabeth's New Street Railway.

The directors of the Union County Street Railway company, which was awarded by the Elizabeth Council a valuable franchise Wednesday night to build several additional miles of street railroad in Elizabeth, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and resolved to begin the work at once and push it vigorously. The company is backed by the Philadelphia syndicate, of which it is really a branch, and has plenty of capital to carry out the plans.

A Good Investment

Is that which yields large returns from a small outlay. Reader, the way is clear! No speculation, no chance, big returns! If you are like most of mankind you have somewhere a weakness—don't feel at all times just as you'd like to—headache today, backache to-morrow, down sick next week—all because your blood is out of order. A small outlay and what large returns! You invest in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon pure, fresh blood courses through your veins, and you are another being!

THAT FALSE FACE AGAIN.

A Fanatical Implication That Everybody in Plainfield Stopped Drinking in 1889—Was the State of Things Then, Preferable to Now?

The Central Times of this week says that in Plainfield "the number of arrests for drunkenness are more, by a fourth, for three months of license than they were for the entire twelve months of so called 'free rum,' in 1889. Taking the advocates of the high license system on their own ground, these figures can be very properly commended to their thoughtful meditation."

Thoughtful meditation, however, knocks the implication the Times would convey, higher than a kite. To be honest, the Times should have added the arrests of North Plainfield to its statistics of 1889 and 1890. The men who are in jail at Elizabeth today, from this city, for drunkenness, were in jail at Somerville a year ago for the same offense. That settles the comparison of "arrests" this side of the brook, as a proof that this year's drunkards were last year sober.

The "thoughtful meditation" of the Times and the people, is now directed to a comparison of the state of society under high license in 1890, and under no license in 1889. During the last three months, the Times says, there were 64 arrests for drunkenness. Good! Captain Grant and his men be praised, our households may now walk the streets free from offense to their ears and eyes. But under no license, and no arrests, how was it? The following quotations from three consecutive issues of THE PRESS, April 4, 5 and 6, 1889, tell the story:

A statement appears in the Elizabeth Herald that since the liquor licenses expired in this city no arrests have been made by the police. Such statement is true, but its heading, "Cause and Effect," puts a false face on it.

Bummers roam unmolested back and forth across the invisible line that separates that part of this place where no liquor is publicly sold, from that part where you can swim in it. If no arrests are made it is not because they shouldn't be. Two ladies coming from the performance at Music Hall, Monday night of last week, were spoken to by two drunken men on one of the main streets. This is the first time, probably, that ladies have been so insulted under the same circumstances since Plainfield was incorporated.

The article in the Elizabeth Herald implies that Plainfield's drunk-and-disorderlies have all reformed and drink no more. This is far from true. Saturday night a gang of them drank themselves beastly, cleaned house for a North Plainfield dealer, cut one another promiscuously with broken glasses and almost hammered a man to death with bottles. Yet there were no arrests.

A half-dozen men beastly drunk staggered about the corner of Front street and Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, and shouted indecent and blasphemous language at one another within earshot of the police, and ladies and children passing.

Fred Clark was very full round the city, yesterday. But that was all right. He foolishly strayed over the brook, however, and there he was arrested and sent to Somerville for 30 days.

The audience at Music Hall, last evening, were not only annoyed but disgusted by the loud talk and actions of two drunken lads in the front row of the dress circle. They shouted at the actresses on the stage and kept up such a noise that those anywhere near were unable to hear anything else.

But although a police officer was present and heard and saw their talk and actions, they were unmolested and allowed to go out and in again, stumbling up and down the aisles in sight of everybody. "There are no arrests in Plainfield since the hotel bars and saloons were closed." But never before were drunkards allowed to roam the main streets in broad daylight, insult women at night, or make a circus ring of the Music Hall auditorium in full view of the police.

We would ask Councilmen Dunham, Marsh and Gallup, the Police Committee, if they know of any orders having been issued that no drunkards should be arrested in Plainfield?

Does the Central Times prefer that picture in 1889 of free rum and no arrests, or their own picture of restricted license and the streets free of drunkards?

A Petition Sans Weight and Sans Equity.

One of the municipal authorities of North Plainfield, last evening, in speaking of the effort of Borough Councilman Emmons to remove Police Justice Hardy, intimated to a PRESS reporter that he entirely agreed with the opinion of Mayor Place that the assertion of certain citizens that the Justice was unfit for the office, was more of a grievance than a "petition."

"It is thoroughly an expression of personal spite," said he. "Mr. Emmons creates the petition; Chairman Emmons has it referred to his own committee, and Councilman Emmons moves that the appointment of the Justice, be rescinded. What weight should such a petition have? I can procure in fifteen minutes, signed by fifty residents of the Borough, a petition that Peter Emmons be hanged."

Miss Vail and Mr. Potter Take the Cake.

The colored "Daughters of Samaria" and their friends among the Mount Olive Baptists, held a "Pink Tea" recently, at which it was advertised every purchaser of a drink of tea could keep the cup and saucer. But the crockery did not arrive in time, and the company was invited to come again for nothing.

Last evening they gathered once more and got their cups and saucers. They were works of art. But the feature of the occasion was the walking for the cake provided by the daughters. The successful couple in style, beauty and grace—particularly in turning the corners—was that champion cake-winner, James Brown Potter, Esq., and that dusky belle, Miss Aggie Vail.

It is false! No imitation is as good as the genuine Hires' Root Beer. Some dealers recommend imitations for the larger profits they yield. What a delicious drink Hires' Root Beer Packages make.

A FEAST OF DEDICATION.

James McGee Says: "God Bless and Prosper You."

The series of meetings in connection with the dedication of the Roseville Methodist church, in the suburbs of Newark, was continued Thursday, when a laymen's platform meeting was held. Among the speakers was James McGee.

Mr. McGee said: "I congratulate you on your fine church. A Christian church stands for something. It is not a club house where people go on Sunday to hear a sermon. It stands for the brotherhood of humanity. It is one of the cardinal points of Christianity that God made of one blood all the people of the earth. I am glad that this church is good enough for the richest man in this community, and that it is none too good for the poorest. Don't be proud because you have got a fine edifice. If this church fails to accommodate the poorest man in this community it will fail of its mission, but if it reaches down with its loving arms, takes hold of the lowly and lifts him up to the full stature of Christian manhood, and if it reaches up and brings the rich and the proud down and puts both men on a common platform, it will be doing a mighty work for humanity and the glory of God.

"The Christian Church stands for the needs of humanity. Christ came to seek those who were lost. If this Church shall go out into the World and find sinners who are lost and bring them in, it will accomplish a grand mission. The Christian Church stands as the representative of the salvation of humanity. He who gave us our religion came to save the lost. If out from this pulpit go forth in strength the glorious truths that mankind is one in God, that all men are lost but for Jesus, that Jesus like the great and good Shepherd He is, can and will save them, then this church will accomplish a grand mission of good to men and glory to God. I glory in what has been done here. I believe you will make use of all your advantages to win men to fight under the banner of the great Captain of your salvation, and I say 'God bless and prosper you.'"

Captain George D. Morrison will lead the meeting at the Washingtonville Chapel, to-morrow evening.

EX-JUDGE ULRICH FOR SENATOR.

A Political Writer at the Capitol Thinks He Has a Show.

A correspondent from Trenton itself, writes to the Jersey City News, of last Sunday, that the Republicans are claiming they will again capture the State Senatorship in this county. But, the communication continues, there is doubt whether they will secure it. The two aspirants for the nomination are Assemblyman John Ulrich of this city, and Foster M. Voorhees of Elizabeth, the brilliant young Republican leader of the last House. Both are popular and would represent the county well. The machine does not want Voorhees nominated and does not propose to allow him to capture the prize if it can be helped. Voorhees is a man of force enough to kick over the party traces whenever he thinks the G. O. P. is in the wrong.

The leaders of his party had an elegant sample of this last Winter, when Mr. Voorhees went against their express commands, and voted with the Democratic members of the joint committee for the present ballot reform law. Unless John Kean threatens to plug up his barrel and take it with him on a fishing excursion if Voorhees is not nominated, there is not much hope that the genial Foster M. will be the candidate.

If he is, however, there will be none of the Damon and Pythias business in the Union county campaign, as many of the newspapers throughout the State have gushingly termed the expected contest between Mr. Voorhees, the Republican, and his chum, Fred C. Marsh, the Democrat. Mr. Marsh is undoubtedly out of politics, for a while at least.

His recent illness, brought about by the immense amount of work he did during the last session, has convinced him that he could not with safety to his health undergo the strain and excitement of another session. Moreover he wants to be Prosecutor of Union instead of Senator, and it is said that he is slated for that position, which will soon become vacant.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

AN ORDINANCE

Re'ating to the City Physician.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There shall be nominated and appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Common Council, on the first Monday in February in each year, a competent and resident physician of this city to be called the City Physician.

SECTION 2. He shall, when requested by the Overseer of the Poor, or Chairman of the Alms Committee, professionally attend any of the City poor and furnish them needful advice and medicine.

SECTION 3. In case of any person dying within the City, unattended by a physician, he may be required by the Mayor, Chairman of the Alms Committee, or Board of Health, to view the body and furnish a certificate of death, made out on the blank forms provided by the State Board of Health.

SECTION 4. He shall present to the Common Council a written report on the first Mondays of May, August, November and February, giving the names of all the City poor attended by him during the preceding quarter, and stating the character of the disease of said poor persons.

SECTION 5. The salary of the City Physician shall not exceed four hundred dollars per annum, payable in like manner as other salaried officers of the City, which sum shall be full compensation for all professional services rendered and medicines furnished by him under the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 6. The ordinance entitled "an ordinance to establish the office of City Physician and to prescribe his duties," approved July 15, 1876, is hereby repealed, but this section shall not be construed to revive any ordinance which was repealed by the ordinance hereby repealed.

SECTION 7. All ordinances and parts of ordinances, resolutions and parts of resolutions, inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council June 2, 1890.
Approved by the Mayor June 4, 1890.
JOB MALE, Mayor.
Attest: JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

To repeal certain ordinances.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The following named ordinances be and the same are hereby repealed, viz:

"An Ordinance to provide for the licensing and regulation of scavengers," approved June 9, 1885.

"An Ordinance to establish a Board of Health," approved April 28, 1874, and amended June 10, 1874.

"An Ordinance for the correction of Nuisances and for the Preservation of Health in the City of Plainfield," approved September 2, 1879, and amended December 30, 1881.

SECTION 2. All ordinances and parts of ordinances which were repealed or abrogated by any ordinance hereby repealed, shall continue to be so repealed and shall be deemed abrogated.

Adopted by the Common Council, June 2, 1890.
Approved by the Mayor June 4, 1890.
JOB MALE, Mayor.
Attest: JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk,

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance for the laying out and opening of Orchard place, from its present Easterly terminus to the Westerly side of New street.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That a public street to be known as Orchard place be, and the same is hereby laid out and opened in said city, as hereinafter specified, the Common Council judging that the public good requires the same to be done.

The centre line of said street shall begin at a stone in the centre line of the street, now known as Orchard place, at the present Easterly terminus thereof, said point being also in the Easterly line of property formerly owned by James Leonard; thence running in a course of North forty-eight degrees and twenty-three minutes East, over lands of John P. and Peter Emmons, a distance of one hundred and seventy-three and thirteen one-hundredths (173.13) feet to a point in the Westerly line of New street, said point being distant in a course of South forty-one degrees and seven minutes East, two hundred and thirty-one and twenty-six one-hundredths (231.26) feet from the intersection of the Westerly side of New street with the Southerly side of Front street, there to end; and said street shall be forty feet in width, twenty feet on each side of said centre line.

The lands and real estate with the appurtenances, necessary to be taken for the purpose aforesaid, being lands of John P. Emmons and Peter Emmons, shall be taken and appropriated pursuant to the charter of the City, and the general statutes of the State in such cases made and provided.

Adopted by Common Council, June 2, 1890.
Approved by the Mayor, June 4, 1890.
JOB MALE, Mayor.
Attest:—JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

EDITOR COWLES SHOT

Seriously Wounded by His Brother-in-Law.

HE FIRED TO SAVE HIS SISTER.

Cowles Put a Pistol to His Wife's Head and Threatened to Kill Her.

The Shooting Takes Place in a Carriage. The Wounded Man Taken to a Hospital—Sequel to a Domestic Scandal—A Mother's Hunt for Her Abducted Child Leads to the Tragedy.

MONTREAL, June 9.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a carriage containing Editor Eugene Cowles of Cleveland, his young wife and his brother-in-law, passed rapidly along Catherine street. When opposite No. 4 fire station Cowles pulled a revolver and fired at his wife but missed his aim. The brother-in-law then shot Cowles through the neck. Cowles was taken to the General Hospital and placed under Dr. Kirkpatrick's care. But slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The streets were crowded at the time of the shooting with people, and there was a tremendous sensation. By almost a miracle the ball passed completely through Cowles' neck without touching any vital point.

Hale at once drove to the Central Police Station and gave himself up. He was placed in a cell. Mrs. Cowles also gave herself up, but she was released on bail. She is completely overcome by the tragedy.

The young daughter, who is nine years of age, is at the Sacred Heart Convent, a stone's throw from where the shooting took place. Some of the leading lawyers in the city have been engaged for Hale's defence.

The trouble between Cowles and his wife and brother-in-law began some months ago, when Mrs. Cowles obtained a divorce from her husband, and the court awarded her the custody of their only child, a little girl named Florence. Last Monday Cowles kidnapped the little girl, and fled with her from Cleveland.

After considerable search by his wife and her brother the absconding editor was located at Niagara Falls, and the police there were requested to apprehend him. Before he could be arrested, however, Cowles learned there was a warrant out for him, and he ran off to Toronto.

Detectives employed by his wife followed him to the latter city, when he left for Montreal. Mrs. Cowles went on with her brother to Montreal without delay to secure her husband's arrest by the Canadian authorities if he refused to return her daughter to her keeping.

When Cowles found himself completely trapped he declared a truce, and the first demonstration of any wrong intent he made was when he tried to shoot his wife without warning.

TARRED AND FEATHERED.

An Indignant Crowd Make Mr. Grazier Very Uncomfortabe.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 9.—About a week ago Mrs. John Sigler, of Wooster, Ohio, left that place, and George Grazier of the same place also turned up missing. It has long been suspected that the couple were too intimate, and tar and feathers have been threatened, and last night were actually applied.

At midnight last night a party of about 40 went to the house, took Grazier from bed, hustled him a few yards from the mansion, and, after stripping off his shirt, administered a heavy coat of tar and feathers. The man begged and cried for mercy, getting down on his knees and begging for his life. On threats of lynching he was ordered to leave the country which he promised to do.

The men made no effort to conceal their identity. Grazier started back to the house and made Austin and his wife clean the tar and feathers from his body, after which he and the woman disappeared. Grazier made all sorts of treats before leaving.

Four Prisoners Escape.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 9.—Bolivar Carlisle, William Flynn, Anthony Maley and Richard Scully escaped from the Schuylkill County Jail yesterday. The door of Carlisle's cell was insecurely bolted, and he got into the corridor. Finding the watchman asleep, he opened the cells of the other prisoners, and by means of a scaffolding escaped through a skylight on to the jail roof, and then let themselves down by means of a rope which they had made from yarn stolen from the stocking room. The watchman did not awake until two hours after the men escaped.

Pugilist McAuliffe Sails To-Day.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Big Joe McAuliffe and his manager, Billy Madden, sail for England to-day on the steamship Wisconsin. McAuliffe expects to whip Slavin without much trouble, and he says if his expectations are realized Sullivan will have to fight him.

McCord's Slayer Convicted.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 9.—Andrew L. Sherk, charged with the murder of Chief of Police Aaron McCord, of Lebanon, on March 27, was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to prison for twelve years.

Rev. Dr. Moffatt Dead.

PRINCETON, June 9.—Rev. James Clements Moffatt, emeritus professor of church history of the Princeton Theological Seminary, died last night, in his eighty-first year.

A PASTOR'S CHARGE.

Millionaire Peddie of Newark Said to be of Illegitimate Birth.

NEWARK, N. J., June 9.—A local paper recently stated that John D. Peddie, the millionaire trunk manufacturer, was of illegitimate birth. Mr. Peddie not only began a libel suit, but made an investigation which disclosed the fact the the originator of the story was Rev. W. W. Boyd, of the Peddie Memorial Church.

Rev. Mr. Boyd admits that he told the story to a reporter, but says the reporter promised not to have it published until a later date. The editor of the paper, however, disregarded the reporter's request, and published it. Rev. Mr. Boyd now says that while the publication was premature, the statement is true, and he will stick to it.

Mr. Peddie will doubtless sue the minister as well as the paper. The matter has caused a great social sensation. It is the sequel of another and lesser scandal which has been a matter of gossip for some time, namely, the refusal of the trustees of the church to recognize Mr. John Peddie in the church's affairs.

The late ex-Mayor and ex-Congressman Thomas B. Peddie founded the church, with an endowment of $350,000. When the church was dedicated recently, the keys of the church were presented to the trustees by an adopted daughter of the late Mr. Peddie. There was some surprise that John Peddie was ignored, and a family quarrel was hinted at. The publication of the statement above referred to followed.

Mr. Peddie's friends assert that Rev. Mr. Boyd is angry at Mr. Peddie for failing to carry out certain supposed intentions of his father in regard to the minister's salary and other incidentals, and that his resentment has led him into making a libelous statement. The pastor's friends delare that he is a man who would not say such a thing unless he had proof of its truth. Mr. Peddie threatens to drive the minister from the pulpit, and there are likely to be sensational developments.

FIVE BULLETS IN HIS BODY.

George Whitelock Tells How He Was Shot by Ticket Agent Woods.

TRENTON, N. J., June 9.—George W. Whitelock, in whose body Ticket Agent Arven L. Woods lodged five bullets, still lies in a precarious condition in the City Hospital. No change for the worse, however, has occurred since last night. Three of the bullets have been removed from his body. The attending physicians say the wounded man has a chance of recovery.

Woods is confined in the County Jail. He seems to realize his unfortunate position and has expressed sorrow for the deed.

Whilelock has made an ante-mortem statement, in which he says that the dog, about which the fatal quarrel arose, was his property, and had been bought by him about a year ago. He declares that he and Woods had a talk about the dog at Moore's station, after which Whitelock went on down the track.

When near Bennington station he was again accosted by Woods, who had a pistol in his hand. Woods announced his intention of taking the dog, believing it to belong to his friend, Frank Jamieson. Whitelock said: "We are going by Jamieson's house; we will settle it when we get there." But Woods said he would settle it then, and at once began to fire. Whitelock had a revolver in his coat pocket, and after Wood's first shot he drew it but it would not work. Then he put it back. He also says that he had no acquaintance with Woods.

Killed by an Electric Wire.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—Charles Frazier, an employe in the saloon of Charles Kern, at Pratt and Fremont streets, went into the cellar to get a keg of beer. In his work he caught an electric light wire and was instantly killed. The smell of burning flesh attracted the attention of Mr. Kern, and he went to the assistance of Frazier, but as soon as he touched the body, he received a shock which knocked him senseless. He was restored to consciousness after some labor. Frazier's body was horribly burned.

Died in Church.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Rev. J. H. Kniest, aged 55, died last night in his pew in the Emanuel Lutheran Church, the pastorate of which he resigned two years ago after a paralytic stroke. He was for twenty-three years pastor of the Reformed Lutheran Church in Buffalo. He was vice-president of the General Synod of that Church in America, and had written a number of works on theology.

Sold Her Son for $35.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 9.—While a traveling circus was delighting the poorly paid mill operatives in this begrimed, work-a-day town, a poverty-stricken mother is said to have sold her four-year-old son, Michael Monaz, to one of the side show managers for $35 in American money. The side showman promised to make an acrobat out of the youngster.

Fired Four Shots at His Wife.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Vincenzo Vernona fired four shots a his 17-year-old wife last night in her father's apartments, whither she had taken refuge after separating from Vernona on account of his abuse. The young woman's father then fired at the intruder, who fled and escaped. Jealousy caused the trouble. None of the shots took effect

Arrested for Smuggling.

NEW YORK, June 9.—When the steamer City of Chicago arrived at Quarantine Treasury inspectors arrested two of the crew upon an old charge of smuggling.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Senators Cannot Agree on the Silver Bill.

THE DEBATE TO END THIS WEEK

Senator Vest to Bring Up a New Subject for Discussion.

The Tariff Bill Will Not be Reported This Week—Passing Appropriation Bills the Order in the House—The President's Trip on the Dispatch—Little Mary McKee Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The passage by the House of the caucus silver bill will doubtless operate to cut short the silver debate in the Senate. A Republican caucus may be held on the Senate side of the capitol early this week for the purpose of determining whether or not the Senate will endorse the action of the House on this question.

The general belief is that the Republican Senators will not be able to agree upon a measure, and that the Senate will pass a bill differing from the House bill especially in the bullion-redemption feature, and that the whole matter will then be settled in conference between the two houses. Whatever the caucus determines, it is likely this is the last week of silver debate in the Senate.

Senator Vest promises that he will bring up soon a new subject for debate the discussion of which may occupy several days. The special committee of which he is chairman, which spent many months in the investigation of the transportation of beef and beef products, has reported a bill and during the past week the Committee on Agriculture reported a substitute for it. Mr. Vest has given notice that some afternoon during the coming week after the set speeches on silver have been made, he will call up these bills and urge their consideration to a conclusion.

One or two appropriation bills may be called up for debate, and it is not impossible that the conferees on the Pension bill will come to some sort of understanding and report to the two houses, although this is not likely.

The River and Harbor Appropriation bill may be reported to the Senate during the week. The Committee on Commerce has made such progress with it that Senator Frye thinks its consideration may be concluded by the middle of the week. However, there are several hearings to be given by the committee, and they may prolong the discussion to the end of the week.

The Senate Finance Committee had hoped to have the Tariff bill ready to report before the end of this week, but the indications now are that the bill will not be ready to return to the Senate before the beginning or middle of next week. The Republican members of the committee have turned over to the Democrats several of the schedules, and all of the more impoftant items in the bill will be passed upon before the end of the week.

There is a prospect of a very dull week in the House. The committees that have appropriation bills ready to report will probably have full swing and the Appropriations Committee will call up the Sundry Civil bill for discussion. If this is finished before Friday, some of the other committees that have appropriation bills ready will call them up for discussion.

SENATE CAUCUS.

The Republican Senators to Select Sergeant's Successor To-Morrow Night.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Republican members of the Senate will hold a caucus to-morrow evening to make choice of a successor to Sergeant-at-Arms Canaday, whose resignation takes effect on the first of next month. There are several candidates in the field, the chief of them being ex-Representative Valentine of Nebraska. Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Charles B. Reade of Maine has a strong following, and the friends of William Bailey of Philadelphia, Senator Quay's candidate, think he has a fair chance of wining the prize. Col. Swords of Iowa is a candidate, and Mr. Reed of Minnesota is tentatively in the race.

It is not impossible that when the Republican Senators get together they will consider the possibility of making other changes in the executive staff of the Senate.

The Washington Police.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Commissioners of the District of Columbia, with a view to testing the law which makes honorable discharges from the army or navy a prerequisite of service on the District police force, appointed Frank Hutton a member of the force. Hutton has not served in either army or navy. He is the first person appointed on the Washington police force since 1867 who has not seen service. It is claimed by the Commissioners that the law was abrogated in 1878. The local Grand Army posts will test this decision.

A Cashier Returns Home.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, N. Y., June 9.—James O. Hair, cashier of the Erie Railroad freight office, and whose sudden disappearance last Thursday gave rise to the report that he was short in his accounts, returned here last night and showed the affairs of his office to be all right. No reason is given for his mysterious disappearance.

Stormy Labor Meeting.

NEW YORK, June 9.—After a stormy meeting of the Central Labor Union yesterday, the Socialist members withdrew and announced their intention of forming a separate organization.

BY THE WAY.

—Shad fishing ends to-morrow.

—A regular meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle club will be held this evening.

Such is fame! The New York Star of yesterday speaks of "Major Job, Mayor of Plainfield;" and another paper calls him "Mayor Job."

—Alpha Lodge, No. 4, I. O. of G. T., will meet in regular session this evening at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be present.

—Mrs. Holbrook Smith's physical training class will meet to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock in the parlors of the Congregational church.

—The case of Tunis J. Carey vs. the Plainfield Police Board, it is expected, will be argued in the Supreme Court at Trenton on Friday of this week.

—Many of the West Seventh street residents have done away with the fences in front of their homes, thereby adding greatly to the beauty of the surroundings.

—Some matches in Stephen McIntyre's vest, that hung in the closet of his house on West Third street, took fire last Friday, and burned up the vest and some other clothing.

—Those desiring to purchase a gasoline stove or other seasonable goods would do well to take advantage of the cash discount Pierson Hardware company offer for the next 10 days.

—The work on the extension at The Pond Machine Tool Company's Works, is progressing favorably, and weather permitting, but a few weeks' time will be required to enclose the building.

—The meeting rooms of Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance, have been newly carpeted with attractive brussels carpet, furnished by a local dealer. The new carpet was put down by the lady members of the Order.

—Ernest Marx's ten-year-old boy, took off his shoes and stockings and went wading in Green brook, one day last week. He stepped on a piece of tin which cut his foot so bad that Janitor Hope had to get a hack and take the lad home.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. A. H. McKeown has returned to Fanwood for the season.

Mrs. Stephen R Struthers of Madison avenue, left today for a visit in the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. May of Newark, are spending the Summer with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bovey of Somerset street.

Mrs Neely, an aged lady of 65 years, walked from her home in Scotch Plains to Plainfield, yesterday, attended church and walked back again.

John Ridley, Esq., of 9 Second place, was on Thursday last admitted to practice as an Attorney of the Supreme Court of this State. Mr. Ridley is a graduate of Columbia Law School, New York.

The Somerville Democrat says: "Miss Bessie Ulrich, daughter of the Hon. John Ulrich, of Plainfield, is at J. C. Kinyon's, enjoying the comforts of his home and surroundings. She is a bright little tot."

The body of the late Mrs. Frances M. Angleman, who died at Newark, on Friday, was brought to this city and interred in the M. E cemetery, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. C. B. Mitchell, conducting a short service at the grave.

Mrs. J. Williams, the mother of Mrs. Rev. C. Schenck, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Geo. Tams, both of Roxborough, Philadelphia, are visiting Mrs. Schenck during the absence of Mr. Schenck at the St. Louis Christian Endeavor Convention, which opens in the latter city on the 12th instant.

A Lake Hopatcong correspondent writes: "Bass fishing has been very good for those who know how and where to fish. Ex-Postmaster Force and John Simpson, of Plainfield, with Mahlon Decker as guide, caught sixty-seven. They had some very fine bass and pickerel—no doubt they would average a pound apiece."

John W. Taylor, Esq., Cashier of the First National Bank of Somerville, died at his home in that town Saturday night. Mr. Taylor was one of Somerville's most prominent citizens and his place in their esteem will be long unfilled. Mr. Taylor was at one time a conductor on the Central Railroad and for a long time identified with the Hope Express Co., which was afterwards bought by the Adams Express Co.

THE DESIGN COMPLETED.

Plainfield's Soldiers Monument to be Different From All Others.

Following principally the suggestions of Major Gen'l James S. Negley, Edward Forbes, the renowned war correspondent, has completed a design for the monument to be erected on Crescent Square by Plainfield in memory of her heroes who died in defence of the whole country. All other designs have been thrown aside by the committee, and they have unanimously approved of the monument that Messrs Negley and Forbes have created.

It is a granite shaft 53½ feet in height On its top instead of the customary statue of a soldier, or an angel, or victory with a wreath, will be a bronze eagle with wings spread at full length. At the base are three statues: One a soldier sheathing his sword, another Liberty, and the other Victory.

The sub-committee in charge have been requested to decide on the colors and kind of granite to be used in construction, and to secure estimates from all those who had been competitors for the design. Estimates will be called for specifying cost of both bronze and granite in the construction of the three statues.

He Will Do His Duty.

Mr. Howard P. Frothingham has been appointed a Fish Warden of Morris county, to look after the interests of fishermen and see that the fish laws are enforced, particularly about Lake Hopatcong, where he owns one of the handsomest residences around the Lake, and has the prettiest and fleetest naptha steam launch on its waters. Mr. Frothingham is an ardent disciple of the ancient "Uncle Izaak Walton," and has given out that he intends to stop the nefarious practice of the American Forcite Powder Works, located at the lower end of the Lake, emptying poisonous matter into the waters of the same, which is destroying thousands of fish annually. All fishermen will wish him success in his endeavors.

It was through the efforts of ex-Senator R S. Livingston of Union county, that a bill was passed the Legislature during that gentleman's term of office, which imposed a heavy penalty upon any person or corporation polluting the waters of the State as the above mentioned company are doing. Lake Hopatcong is too fine a sheet of water to be thus despoiled of its fish. Mr. Frothingham married one of Plainfield's fair daughters, Miss Julia Bedloe.

Plainfield in the Front of the Race.

The Plainfield homing pigeons who were in the 300 miles race, last Saturday, all made good time. They have beaten the Elizabeth and Brooklyn birds, and probably those from Newark and Philadelphia.

J. Hervey Doane's "Albatross" was the first home, just a minute or two ahead of J. Ingram's bird who was entered for a special prize. "Baby McKee" of the PRESS news service, was next, followed closely by the birds of F. R. Stevens and Charles Faber.

Meeting of the Board of Education.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held in the Franklin School building on Saturday evening, with the Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut in the chair. The meeting was called simply for the transaction of routine business, which was made necessary on account of President Kirkner's absence in Europe, and Dr. Hurlbut's proposed trip to the far West. Some matters pertaining to Commencement Day were discussed, after which the meeting adjourned.

The Boys Will Debate.

"Resolved, That fire is more destructive than water," is the subject for debate at the meeting of the young men's auxiliary at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow evening. Those who will take part in the debate, are:

Affirmative—Charles Johnston, George Rockfellow, Gifford D. Johnson.

Negative—Vincent Rockwell, Frank Vail, James Kimball.

Three Months in All for Assaulting McCue.

John Couhig was arraigned before Judge McCormick at Elizabeth, Saturday morning, on a charge of assaulting Officer Mc Cue of this city. Mr. James C. Connolly spoke in behalf of Couhig, and showed that he had never before been accused of wrong doing, and that this offense was committed while drunk Couhig had been in jail eight weeks, and the time was extended for one month more.

Entertainment by the Royal Arcanum.

The members of the Royal Arcanum will give an entertainment to the members, their ladies and friends, to-night at 8:30 at their large and newly-furnished lodge room, Hand's building, West Second street. Every member of the Order is expected to be at the room at 7:30, one hour previous to the entertainment, to transact the regular business of the lodge.

Real Estate Transfer.

Among the transfers of real estate reported at the county clerk's office since those last published in THE PRESS, was the following:

Central N. J. Land Improvement company to Edward Garm and wife of North Plainfield, tract of land, 125x40 feet, E. corner Manson place and South Second street, $340.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

How it was Observed in Trinity Reformed Church.

Infant baptism was very appropriately celebrated yesterday morning in the above church by the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, two young babies being thus consecrated to God. Mr. Schenck then delivered a sermon, especially prepared for children. His text: "I am the Rose of Sharon," Sol. 2-1, was simply, but forcibly, illustrated by a beautiful Jac. rose, which he held in his hand during his entire discourse, and by comparison with which he illustrated the purity and love of Christ, our Saviour, to the pleasure and profit of both old and young of the large congregation present. At the close of the service the Rev. A. S. VanDyck, of Amoy, China, pronounced the benediction.

The floral display on the pulpit and about the platform was exceedingly pretty and gave evidence of no little labor on the part of the ladies who furnished and arranged the flowers. Mrs. C. Frank French and Mrs. Charles P. Leggett, were the committee from the Ladies' Christian Work Society, and Miss Phebe Mills, Miss Jennie VanWinkle, and Miss Etta Krymer from the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the church.

In the evening a special service for children was held that was very largely attended, Superintendent E. E. Anthony, of the Sunday School, presiding, Mr. H. J. Martin acting as precentor, and Mr. A. L. Titsworth presiding at the organ. The exercises were according to "Hull's Children's Day Service," and included an organ voluntary, the opening chant, songs, and choruses, prayer, responsive readings, recitations, and an address by the Rev. A. S. VanDyck.

A recitation, "The four Christian festals"—Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving and Children's Day—was acceptably rendered by the Misses Cora Laire, Annie Slater, and Masters Josie R. Runyon and Charley Dolliver, and another recitation, incidental to the printed order of exercises, by little Miss Gertie Tier, entitled: "Daffy Down Dilly," elicited favorable comment, as did also still another one by Miss Lucy Coriell, "What do the pansies think?" No. 10 on the programme, "The boy you can trust," a song and chorus, by Masters Willie VanDeventer, George Reynolds and Horace Martin, Jr, the school joining in the chorus, was another pleasing feature.

The Rev. Mr. VanDyck was then introduced, and he gave an interesting and instructive talk on the manners and customs of the Chinese, particularly with reference to the young. He told of the great rejoicing in a Chinese home over the birth of a son, and of the equal amount of sorrow expressed over the advent of a daughter. He also spoke of the iniquitous traffic there among children, and cited instances to prove that mission work in China was not a failure, but a success, 1,200 children and 1,700 communicants being in the parish from whence he came. The Rev. Mr. VanDyck exhibited idols, articles of dress and other things characteristic of the heathen, which made his address highly entertaining.

The announcements were made, the farewell song and refrain was sung, and the audience was dispersed with the benediction.

HE'S EIGHTY, BUT OH!

Mr. Peck Jumps Overboard to Escape Being Run Down by a Steamer.

Samuel C. Peck, of Milford, Conn., the venerable though not aged father of S. C. Peck, Jr., of this city, had a close call from a watery grave, last Friday morning which was prevented by his presence of mind. Mr. Peck and Benjamin Sanford were fishing off Charles Island, on what is known as South Ledge. There were other boats within a hundred feet. Capt. E. L. Ford passed by with one of William M. Merwin & Son's steamers. He had in tow a barge. The steamer passed by all right but just before the barge reached the boat these gentlemen were in the barge darted towards them at a rapid rate.

Mr. Peck realizing that they were to be run into, sprang to the bow of his boat and as the barge was to strike them gave a push which, while it saved the boat and Mr. Sanford, sent him out into the water a distance of eight or ten feet from the boat. He fell on his side in the water, then turned over on his back and paddled away until Frank Burns, Frank Green and Edward Lamphere, who were near by, came to his assistance and helped him into his boat. Capt. Ford stopped the steamer and was about to lend aid when he was signalled to that the danger was over.

Mr. Peck, although over eighty years of age, is always clear headed and uses the same good judgment in emergencies which characterized his actions when he had charge of one of the military companies in his younger days. When he went overboard he was dressed in three wollen shirts and had on a pair of rubber boots. As soon as he got back in the boat, he continued his fishing perfectly unconcerned.

Bury the Wires.

Now is the time to agitate the burying of electric and other wires beneath the street surface, while the work of laying the water mains is in progress. The wires are dangerous and should be buried out of sight.

—Officer Cooney had a lively chase over the top of some freight cars, after some tramps, a few evenings since, but the men finally escaped.

Base Ball.

The "Merits" of The Pond Machine Tool Works, played a game of ball on Saturday with the Third Wards of Rahwan on the latter's grounds, defeating them by a score of 9 to 0. The "Merits" challenge any team with members under 19 years of age. All information can be had by addressing John Hickey, 291 South Second street, Plainfield, N. J.

The Moore Will Case Appealed.

The Moore will case, recently decided in the orphans' court, has been appealed to the prerogative court by the son, who was the contestant. Craig A. Marsh is the counsel for young Moore, whose father was "Uncle Billy" Moore, the well known railroad contractor, and resident of this city.

An Expensive Wrangle.

A colored man named Peterson got into a wrangle with another man of the same color, in North Plainfield on Saturday evening, over the merits of a certain female individual, and Peterson was locked up charged with disorderly conduct. He was fined five dollars and costs.

Justice Hardy Sued for Wages.

Four of the late employees of Justice Jas. H. Hardy of North Plainfield, have brought suit against him to recover wages alleged to be due them. On Saturday, Justice Crossley, before whom the cases are to be tried, adjourned them all over for a week.

—All the liverymen did a thriving business, yesterday, nearly all of their turnouts being hired in advance.

NINTH IN SUCCESSION.

The "Original Acmes" Come to Town for Another Victory, but Get Shut Out.

On Saturday by a score of 3 to 0, the Crescents defeated the Acmes after one of the finest games ever played in this city. Only one error was charged to the home team, and that was because the wind so twisted a high fly that Runyon was afraid of running into the right field bleaching boards if he tried to capture it.

It was the ninth victory in succession that the Crescents have won since their complete organization on April 30. They have all been won in eight innings too, with a total of 90 runs to their opponents 13. The runs of Saturday's game were all made in the fourth inning. Lufbery led off with a two bagger that Rivers could not guage. This followed by three singles in succession by Jones, Gillis and Gregg, netted three runs and won the game.

Runyon in right field got three difficult flys, and Walker two. Martin played deep expecting to pull down some long hits against the wind, so Lee got all the infield chances. He handled them, seven in all, with great credit. The game closed with a one handed catch by Martin of Heiser's drive. There were only four hits by the Acme batters, and but one man stole second base. The score:

Dr. Huribut Speaks Again in His First Pastorate.

The dedication exercises in the Roseville M. E. church closed Friday night with a reunion meeting addressed by former pastors. There was a large attendance and at the close of the meeting $2,000 were raised towards paying off the church debt, making $30,000 that had been received since Sunday last.

The Rev. Mr. Meeker, pastor of the church, made a few remarks, speaking of the good work done by his predecessors and the affection in which they are held by the people of the church. He closed by bidding the former pastor a hearty welcome and introduced the Rev. J. L. Huribut, D. D., Corresponding Secretary of the Sunday School Union, School Trustee of this city, and one of the earliest pastors of the church.

Dr. Huribut said: "I have read that there once lived in Florence a very very wealthy man. He resided in a magnificent place filled with all that wealth could buy or taste suggest. There were costly marbles and the finest of pictures; but there was one thing that attracted more attention than all others. On the wall in one of the most prominent portions of the house hung a pair of worn and tattered old wooden shoes. Some one asked him why he kept those shoes there. He said: 'These were the shoes I wore when I entered this city a poor young man to seek my fortune. I keep them here that I may remember my lowly estate.' I stand before you to-night to hold up before you a pair of wooden shoes and to remind you of the early history of this church. I do not think there is a pastor here who remembers this church, as I do, when it met in a little building on Gray street. This was my first pastorate, and to me this was the biggest church in the city. We all felt we were somebody and held up our heads, and this church has been doing the same thing ever since. A new epoch opens before you now, and there arises before my mind a vision of what this church may be, and I believe you will go on and work for the salvation of souls as you have done in the past and lift up the banner of the Lord in this your city—God bless you."

At the Congregational Church.

At the Congregation church, yesterday, Children's Day was observed with appropriate exercises. In the morning the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the pastor preached a sermon to the young, and one infant was baptized. Bibles were also presented to the children who have become members of the church and are now over seven years of age. The floral decorations were neat and attractive, and special music was rendered by the choir and school, the latter being accompanied with orchestral music.

Referred to the Board of Health.

Complaint is made of a certain cesspool on Richmond street, near Broadway, which it is claimed, has not been cleaned out within the past three years. The place is likely to breed disease, and should be attended to without delay. The attention of the Health Board has been called to the matter.

REFORM HALL MEETING.

Two Interesting Addresses There Last Evening.

The audience in Reform Hall last evening, listened to two highly interesting addresses, one by Mr. W. H. Sampson, of this city, and the other by the Rev. Mr. Cornwall, of Omaha, Nebraska, a delegate to the Temperance Congress in New York. Mr. Sampson selected as the text for his discourse the sixth chapter of Matthew, and therefrom presented a lesson of value, and urged the vital importance of avoiding temptation and relying for aid upon the mighty power of God. Mr. Cornwall drew a vivid picture of the proven blessings of prohibition over high license, as contrasted between the States of Iowa and Nebraska, and declared that the very existence of our form of government depended upon the overthrow of the liquor power. He spoke with great earnestness and commanded close attention. Mr. Cornwall also made the opening prayer and pronounced the benediction. A full choir led by Mr. Vanderbeek, with Mr. George Rogers as organist, rendered the music.

President Harper, among other notices, gave that of the Band of Mercy meeting in Reform Hall, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, and requested thereat a large assemblage.

The Rev. Mr. Schenck at Westfield.

It was the good pleasure of a large number to be present yesterday afternoon at the Children's Day services of the Sunday school of the Presbyterian church at Westfield, of which Mr. Hiram L. Fink is Superintendent. The exercises consisted in part of singing by the school and a quartette composed of the Misses and Mr. Harbison and Mr. Hall, which was well rendered.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck of this city, and the Rev. A. S. VanDyck, a missionary at Amoy, China, both made short addresses to the children, and the close attention they gave to each speaker gave evidence of their pleasure and profit. The church pulpit and platform was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and blooming potted plants, and the ladies who arranged them are to be congratulated upon the very pleasant effect produced. Altogether the services were a success, and prove that the Presbyterians of Westfield not only own one of the finest church properties in the State, but that they are presided over spiritually and socially by the right man, in their pastor, the Rev. N. W. Cadwell.

Westfield Wisps.

Westfield has raised $350 thus far toward a rousing celebration July 4th. Our sister village is far ahead of Plainfield in patirotic efforts.

The Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches held their usual Children's Day celebration yesterday. The churches were handsomely decorated with wild and cut flowers, and the services very interesting.

Kate Lanigan, a domestic, in the employ of C. G. Endicott, of Westfield, was yesterday committed to the Morris Plains Insane Asylum by Overseerer of the Poor Cox.

The St. Louis College club and Westfield Athletic Base Base club played an interesting game of ball at Drake's Park, Westfield, on Saturday. The result was 6 to 5 in favor of the St. Louis club.

The Elm Lawn Tennis club of Westfield, played the first game of the tournament with the Roselle club on Saturday, and scored a victory. Mr. Augustus L. Alpers and John Samson carried off the honors for Westfield.

Saturday's Trotting.

There was a fair attendance at the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association, on Saturday afternoon. The track was in bad condition but some good time was made by the local trotters notwithstanding the condition of the track.

Mr. M. Quinn's "Little Shamrock" trotted two heats with Mr. C. C. Brower's "Bantie," winning both heats in 2:43¼ and 2:36¼.

Mr. A. C. Vail's new horse, "Frank S.," trotted a mile heat with Mr. O. T. Waring's "Copeland," winning the heat in 2:38. "Frank S." was driven by his trainer, Owen Monks, and Mr. Waring handled the reins over "Copeland."

Mr. J. W. Johnson and other owners of fast horses in this city and vicinity are getting their stock in order so as to enter them in a series of contests which is being arranged to take place on the track on Saturday afternoons during the Summer months.

Trains to Lake Hopatcong.

Commencing today, the Central Railroad of New Jersey will add an additional train to Lake Hopatcong, leaving New York, foot of Liberty street, N. R., at 1 P. M., Elizabeth at 1:32 P. M., Plainfield at 1:59 P. M., arriving at Lake Hopatcong at 4:20 P. M.

Reduced rate excursion tickets are sold to Lake Hopatcong from all stations on New Jersey Central Division, good to go on Saturday and Sunday, and for return on Sunday or Monday.

Cricket.

At Trenton, on Saturday, the Trenton cricket club beat the St. George's cricket club of this city by a score of 128 to 49. The members of the St. George's club played well, however, when the fact is taken into consideration that the club is scarcely yet two months old, and the Trenton club is an old established one.

PLAINFIELD 20 YEARS AGO.

Elizabeth Complained That Her Boys Didn't Get Enough to Eat but Too Much to Drink Here.

The issue of the Elizabeth Herald of September, 16, 1870, contained quite a long account of the "Parade of the Plainfield Fire Department," in which invited guests from Elizabeth took part. The reporter complains of the "very poor lunch" that was served and adds:

The City Council was the caterers, and as they evidently do not understand the business, they should never attempt to do anything of the kind again. Plainfield may well be proud of her Fire Department, and should show her appreciation in some other way than treating the hungry firemen, after a four mile march, with nothing but bread and mush-melon—and with a small supply of that. After the half-famished company had demolished the few mush-melons and pieces of bread they could find, dessert was served in the shape of windy orations, to which the poor fellows had to listen for over an hour. Numerous toasts were given and responded to. It was all dry-toasts, however, as the parsimony of the city authorities again showed itself in its neglect to provide for the thirsty crowd wine or ale of any kind.

The result was that the company grew dry and tired of listening to the windy orators and left the tables, the procession reforming. At the end of the march the reporter states that in consequence of the boys of the department being kept so long without getting anything with which to quench their thirst, they drank to excess when they got the chance, and consequently a good many of them were intoxicated. So much for the Plainfield liquor law, which allows beer to be sold only by the quart, and licenses but one hotel for the sale of spirits!

A Sunday Clam-bake.

About thirty-five young people from this city participated in a clam-bake in the woods near New Market, yesterday, and spent the day in devouring clams, playing base ball, pitching quoits and in various other out door amusements. The party drove over in stages and in private vehicles, and on the way home one of the latter named rigs was runaway with and upset. No one was injured, however. The party reached home early in the evening, all apparently well pleased with the day's enjoyment.

Tempted by a Pair of Shoes.

Randolph Jones, a colored man, "lifted" a pair of shoes from a peg in front of a Somerset street shoe shop, on Saturday night, and made off with them. He was followed to a barber shop on Madison avenue, where the shoes were forcibly taken from him, and returned to the owner.

—A meeting of the clerks in this city is called for to-morrow evening at eight o'clock. It will take place at Laing's Hall, and a full attendance is desired.

—If a thing is worth having, it is worth taking a little trouble for. Religious notices will not be kept standing in these columns, nor old ones repeated. Fresh ones must be sent every Saturday to secure insertion in THE PRESS.

—Mr. Will Williams, son of Plainfield's popular news dealer, says: "because a man fails in business is no reason he should be removed from office." And he wants the public further to know that he is not the "Will Williams" who signed the "petition" to remove Justice Hardy.

Will Reopen the Only Saloon in Town.

LOWELL, Mass., June 9.—John Lennon has decided to reopen his saloon at Dracut, and the selectmen of that town have asked Mayor Palmer, of Lowell, to have a force of policemen placed in their town to protect property from persons intoxicated by liquors at Lennon's saloon. This the Mayor declines to do. Since the city voted against granting licenses to liquor dealers the apothecaries have been making large sales of liquors. Four made over 1,000 sales each last week, and one apothecary sold 2,238.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

Sad Ending of a Sunday Pleasure Party.

A SQUALL CAPSIZED THE BOAT

One by One the Party Sank After a Terrible Struggle in the Water.

All Could Swim Except One Man—They Tried to Climb on the Boat but Their Weight Forced Her Under—The Only Survivor Floated in an Unconscious Condition for Some Time.

BOSTON, June 9.—A party of eight young men started for a fishing excursion yesterday in a sailboat owned largely by themselves. When they were about one mile from Thompson's Island, in Dorchester Bay, the boat was struck by a squall and capsized. All but one were swimmers, but instead of trying to swim ashore, they tried to climb on the boat, which was so heavily ballasted that their weight would force her beneath the surface, leaving them struggling in the water.

In this manner the strength of the men were exhausted, and they sank one by one until but one was left.

The survivor, Walter Quinlan, had sunk for the last time, when the boat in rising came up under him, lifting him above the surface. He floated in an unconscious condition for some time, when the boat was seen from the shore by employes of the gas works at Cow Pasture Point. These men went out in a boat, brought Quinlan to shore and resuscitated him.

The drowned were Lawrence McTiernan, aged 24, and John Sullivan, aged 25, of Charlestown; Albert Lombard, aged 20; James Husband, aged 17, Thomas Troy, aged 18; Joseph Tufts aged 18, all of Boston, and Edgar Maloney of Dorchester. McTiernan leaves a wife and child. The others were unmarried.

STRUCK A ROCK.

Narrow Escape of the Anchor Line Steamer City of Rome.

LONDON, June 9.—The Anchor line steamship City of Rome, from New York, arrived at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in a damaged condition and reported having met with a narrow escape from sinking off Fastnet light.

While proceeding slowly in a dense fog the steamer struck a rock, bows on, and the passengers, alarmed by the shock and the crash, made a rush for the decks. They were met by the officers of the ship, who succeeded in allaying their fears by stifling their own, inasmuch as they were not then aware of the extent of the damage.

The signal was given to reverse and back, which the engines promptly obeyed, and the vessel was removed from her perilous position.

Examination of her bows was then made, and it was found that the stem of the ship was broken and her bulwarks stove, but the full extent of the damage she sustained will not be known until the vessel has been drydocked.

Several ladies among the passengers were made ill by fright, but, all things considered, the passengers behaved very well.

The steamer halted an hour at Queenstown and at 11 o'clock steamed from Liverpool at half speed.

The pasengers united in passing a resolution praising the conduct of the officers and crew of the ship in their trying position, and unanimously commended the carefulness of the captain in sailing at greatly reduced speed at the time of the mishap, though the vessel was many hours overdue and endeavoring to prevent the lowering of her record.

HIS SILVER JUBILEE.

Cardinal Manning Presented with an Illuminated Address.

LONDON, June 9.—Cardinal Manning celebrated his silver jubilee, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his elevation to the dignity of archbishop in the Roman Catholic hierarchy, yesterday, he having been appointed archbishop of Westminster on the death of Cardinal Wiseman in 1865.

A large number of foreign diplomats and other prominent persons were present in the cathedral in honor of the occasion, and the Earl of Ripon presented the venerable Cardinal with an illuminated address of congratulation, to which Cardinal Manning made a feeling response. In the course of his remarks he announced that a large sum of money had been subscribed and paid over in honor of the occasion toward th debt of the cathedral.

Killed Two Superintendents.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—Advices from Siberia state that there have been revolts in the gold mines belonging to the Russian millionaires, Basilewski and Bartaschoff. The miners, who were goaded to rebellion by starvation wages and maltreatment, killed two superintendents named Risanoff and Bastrikoff and demolished a large number of buildings. A troop of Cossacks were beaten off by the men and now two regiments have been ordered to the scene.

A German Company's Offer.

ROME, June 9.—A German company with a capital of $10,000,000 has made an offer to the Italian Government to cultivate the sterile district known as the Campagna di Rome, on scientific principles. At present the district is a desolate and pestilential plain whose condition is believed to contribute much to the unhealthy condition in Rome.

LONDON, June 9.—The Aurania won the eastward race to Queenstown by 90 minutes.

AN ORDINANCE

Relating to the City Physician.

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There shall be nominated and appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Common Council, on the first Monday in February in each year, a competent and resident physician of this city to be called the City Physician.

SECTION 2. He shall, when requested by the Overseer of the Poor, or Chairman of the Alms Committee, professionally attend any of the City poor and furnish them needful advice and medicine.

SECTION 3. In case of any person dying within the City, unattended by a physician, he may be required by the Mayor, Chairman of the Alms Committee, or Board of Health, to view the body and furnish a certificate of death, made out on the blank forms provided by the State Board of Health.

SECTION 4. He shall present to the Common Council a written report on the first Mondays of May, August, November and February, giving the names of all the City poor attended by him during the preceding quarter, and stating the character of the disease of said poor persons.

SECTION 5. The salary of the City Physician shall not exceed four hundred dollars per annum, payable in like manner as other salaried officers of the City, which sum shall be full compensation for all professional services rendered and medicines furnished by him under the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 6. The ordinance entitled "an ordinance to establish the office of City Physician and to prescribe his duties," approved July 15, 1876, is hereby repealed, but this section shall not be construed to revive any ordinance which was repealed by the ordinance hereby repealed.

SECTION 7. All ordinances and parts of ordinances, resolutions and parts of resolutions, inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed

Adopted by the Common Council June 2, 1890.
Approved by the Mayor June 4, 1890.
JOB MALE, Mayor.
Attest: JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

To repeal certain ordinances.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance for the laying out and opening of Orchard place, from its present Easterly terminus to the Westerly side of New street.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That a public street to be known as Orchard place be, and the same is hereby laid out and opened in said city, as hereinafter specified, the Common Council judging that the public good requires the same to be done.

The centre line of said street shall begin at a stone in the centre line of the street, now known as Orchard place, at the present Easterly terminus thereof, said point being also in the Easterly line of property formerly owned by James Leonard; thence running in a course of North forty-eight degrees and twenty-three minutes East, over lands of John P. and Peter Emmons, a distance of one hundred and seventy-three and thirteen one-hundredths (173.13) feet to a point in the Westerly line of New street, said point being distant in a course of South forty-one degrees and seven minutes East, two hundred and thirty-one and twenty-six one-hundredths (231.26) feet from the intersection of the Westerly side of New street with the Southerly side of Front street, there to end; and said street shall be forty feet in width, twenty feet on each side of said centre line.

The lands and real estate with the appurtenances, necessary to be taken for the purpose aforesaid, being lands of John P. Emmons and Peter Emmons, shall be taken and appropriated pursuant to the charter of the City, and the general statutes of the State in such cases made and provided.

Adopted by Common Council, June 2, 1890.
Approved by the Mayor, June 4, 1890.
JOB MALE, Mayor.
Attest:—JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

A THEATRE BURNED

Big Blaze in Brooklyn Early This Morning.

AN ENTIRE BLOCK THREATENED.

Hyde & Behman's Well-Known Playhouse a Total Loss.

A Janitor Rescues His Wife and Children —No One Was Injured—Fire Destroys a Hotel at Wilkesbarre and One of the Guests Burned to Death—A Connecticut Village Swept by Flames.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 10.—Hyde & Behman's well known variety theatre, in Adams street, near Myrtle avenue, was burned early this morning. There was no loss of life.

The theatre had been closed for the summer season, and there was no one in the building at the time the fire broke out, but the janitor and his wife and two children. They were aroused from their sleep by the smoke and flames, and they barely escaped with their lives.

A great crowd assembled, and there was intense excitement. Rumors, which proved untrue, that lives had been lost in the burning theatre, spread through the crowd.

So threatening was the fire that people living in the houses in Adams street, opposite the theatre had to leave their homes, and began moving their effects. But the buildings remained unharmed.

The precise origin of the fire is not known. It is believed to have been smoldering for some time and to have suddenly burst forth into flame shortly before the alarm was given.

Three alarms were sent out by the fire officials and water was thrown on the burning structure from a score of engines on all sides.

Two hours after the outbreak of the fire nothing but ruins remained of the well-known theatre. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Hyde & Behman's was one of the oldest playhouses in Brooklyn. It was formerly known as the Market. For the last fifteen years it had been used as a variety theatre.

At the time of the burning of the old Brooklyn Theatre, in 1876, Hyde & Behman's was used as a morgue.

HOTEL DESTROYED.

One Guest Burned to Death and the Landlady Injured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 10.—The Trembath Hotel was burned last night. One guest, W. P. Bombaugh, was burned to death.

Mrs. Trembath, the landlady, and her stepdaughter, Miss Annie Wilson, were seriously burned and otherwise injured. The loss on the building and furnitnre is about $15,000.

Twelve Buildings Burned.

COLCHESTER, Conn., June 10.—The Worthington brick block here was discovered on fire about 3 a. m. The flames rapidly spread, burning several stores and tenements. Among the losses are: W. B. Otis, loss $10,000, insurance $3,500; Kellog's block, loss $8,000, insurance $6,500; J. N. Adams, loss $6,000; Bingham block, loss $5,000; J. P. Scholl, loss $1,500; Pierce block, loss $2,000. In all 12 buildings were burned. The Colchester Library was totally destroyed. It was valued at $5,000.

Ironworkers on Strike.

NEWBURG, N. Y., June 10.—Over one hundred iron-workers and riveters employed at Marvel & Co.'s ship-yard have gone on strike. About four weeks ago the men requested their employers to permit them to go to work at 6:30 in the morning instead of 7 o'clock, so that they might work four hours extra, and have Saturday afternoon for recreation. Mr. Marvel consented to try the experiment, but now finds that he cannot carry out the arrangement, as it seriously interferes with contracts for work to be delivered on time. When notice to this effect was given, the men refused to go to work.

The Fight Still On.

BOSTON, June 10.—J. P. Squires & Co.'s employes met in East Cambridge and adopted resolutions denying most emphatically the newspaper reports terminating their fight; instructing their secretary to inform the State Master Workman and State Executive Board that their confidence in them is unbroken and extending the thanks of L. A. 5,629 to all men and organizations that have aided them.

Arrested for Not Answering Census Men.

NEW YORK, June 10.— United States Commissioner Shields issued warrants for the arrest of about thirty-five people who refused to answer the questions of census enumerators and in some cases assaulted them. The parties were arraigned and released on bail. The penalty on conviction of the offense is $100 and a year's imprisonment.

The Proceedings Against Daggett.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 10.—The proceedings in the petition of the Bigelow and other manufacturing companies to have Al. Dagget, the postal card contractor, declared a bankrupt, were continued until June 30 at the request of Daggett's counsel.

Conger Given the Office.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 10.—Judge E. W. Scudder gave his decision in the contested County Clerkship case, ousting Patrick Convery, the Democratic incumbent, and giving the office to John H. Conger, Republican.

THE COWLES SHOOTING.

The Editor's Wound Now serious and His Brother-in-Law Released from Jail.

MONTREAL, June 10.—E. B. Hale, the Cleveland banker, who shot Editor Eugene H. Cowles here, was brought before Judge Desnoys.

There also appeared Mrs. Cowles and the daughter Florence, Judge Ingersoll, counsel for Mrs. Cowles, and Detective Gibson.

Mr. Hale looked thoughtful and a trifle pale after his night's confinement. Mrs. Cowles had her child by her side, she having been produced in obedience to an order issued by Justice Tait.

Mr. Cowles was not represented but Hon. Mr. Laflamme will appear for him.

Dr. Kirkpatrick, house surgeon of the General Hospital, testified that Cowles, though seriously injured, would probably recover.

Cowles called for Superintendent Kirkpatrick of the Montreal General Hospital and stated that he was willing to surrender his daughter, Florence, to his wife. He affixed his signature to a document to that effect.

Judge Tait was shown the document. He considered that it settled the abduction case. Mrs. Cowles was then communicated with and she received the news with much satisfaction.

Cowles' condition is now quite serious, more especially because he is suffering from consumption. "If I die," he said to a reporter, "and I am afraid I will, it will go hard with poor Cleve. Hale."

Hale was released from prison in charge of two officers, and is stopping with his friends at the Windsor. General satisfaction is expressed at this unexpected turn of affairs in the case

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

A Child Tumbles Out of a Window and Falls Into Its Mother's Arms.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 10.—A remarkable accident occurred here at the residence of David G. Miley on West James street. Mrs. Miley was sitting on the front step, when a neighbor called to her that her child was falling out of the second-story window. She jumped to her feet and threw out her hands in time to catch the child, whose body struck her, mainly on the face. Both fell to the ground unconscious, but recovered shortly afterward, when it was found that neither of them was seriously hurt.

The child is twenty months old, and had been playing in the room from which it fell.

An Insane Man's Awful Jump.

BALTIMORE, June 10.—Harry Evans, of Washington, D. C., an insane man in charge of an officer on his way to an insane asylum at Albany, N. Y., jumped through a car window of a fast express train on the Baltimore & Ohio Road. It was thought he had met a horrible death. The train was stopped, but no trace of the man could be found. He was found wandering afterward around Canton in an almost uninjured condition.

To Die by Electricity.

BROOKLYN, June 10.—The young Italian, Nicola Tuezza, who was convicted on Friday last in the King's County Court of Sessions, for murder in the first degree, for having shot and killed Alexander Salvano at Flatbush, on April 6, was sentenced by Judge Moore to be taken to Sing Sing, and die in the week beginning July 21, in the mode and manner prescribed by the law.

Fined for Murder.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 10.—Michael Hussey and Melville Hendrickson, held for the murder of George Kissenger, during the railroad riot at Sayerville on the night of May 6, 1889, retracted their plea of not guilty and plead non vult of technical manslaughter. On the recommendation of the public prosecutor they were fined $1,000 each.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 10.—Fred W. Blake, dealer in patent leather tips, 24 Phenix Row, left town about a week ago, saying he was going to Chicago on business. It is learned that he left a number of creditors, that his property is overmortgaged, and that he owed his employes two weeks' salary. His wife has left town and it is believed the couple are in Canada.

Land for Harvard College.

BOSTON, June 10.—Col. Henry L. Higginson has presented twenty acres of land to Harvard College. This land adjoins seventy-five acres of marsh land already owned by the college and will be a starting point from which the marsh land will be filled in, and the ninety-five acres devoted to athletic purposes.

Murdered at a Colored Picnic.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 10.—During a quarrel over the tapping of a keg of beer at a colored picnic, at Castle Shannon, last night, Frank Morrison killed Charles Soilby hitting him on the head with a hammer. At the same picnic Jack Allen shot Jennie Halman in the leg for taking his umbrella. All parties were colored.

The Columbus Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., June 10.—The strike of the Consolidated Street Railway Company is beginning to look serious. This is the seventh day of the strike, and, as the Consolidated Company control every line in the city, Columbus is totally without street car facilities Trouble is expected to-day.

Pastor Down Heard From.

BOSTON, June 10.—At a meeting of the Baptist Ministers' Association Rev. W. W. Downs, of the Bowdoin Square Baptist Church presented a petition for reinstatement to the privileges of the Association. The matter was referred to a committee.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The President May Declare War on Venezuela.

THE INDEMNITY MUST BE PAID.

In Case of Refusal a War Ship May Enforce the Collection.

Business Men Working for the National Bankrupt Law—No Leaks About the Tariff Schedules—Brooks Reappointed Chief of the Secret Service Division. Baron Fava's Recall Denied.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A joint resolution passed by Congress empowers the President to practically declare war on the Government of Venezuela, in contradiction to the recommendation adopted by the Pan-American Conference, that all the Governments represented adopt a uniform treaty of arbitration.

The resolution referred to empowered the President to take such measures as in his judgment may be necessary to obtain a prompt settlement of the Venezuelan claims.

It is said that in case the Venezuelan Government fails to at once pay over the indemnity demanded, the United States may send a war ship to Venezuela to enforce the collection.

One of the articles of the proposed law provides that except in cases where the independence of a Government is imperilled, all controversies shall be submitted to arbitration.

NATIONAL BANKRUPT LAW.

Business Men Go to Washington in the Interest of the Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The friends of the Torrey Bankrupt bill are making a united effort to secure the immediate consideration of the bill by the House.

A committee, composed of prominent members of the organization for the promotion of the measure, met here to-day. Among the members present are prominent business men from Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, Dallas, etc.

Representatives H. Dudley Coleman and Nathan Frank are associated with the committee. The Bankruptcy Committee called upon Speaker Reed and Representatives McKinley, Cannon and Blount, who compose the Committee on Rules of the House. Each of the members was urged to submit a rule to the House for the immediate consideration of the bill. Speaker Reed said to the committee that he had not read the bill and did not know anything as to the probabilities of its passage or defeat, but, as there seemed to be a universal demand for its consideration, he thought that Congress ought either to pass the measure or defeat it.

KEYSTONE GOVERNORSHIP.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker Wishe to See a Compromise Candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—It can be authoritatively stated that Postmaster-General Wanamaker does not entirely approve of the suggested nomination of Senator Delamater for Governor of Pennsylvania.

He is said to have been gradually approaching this conclusion for some time, and now believes that Delamater will be inexpedient and likely to throw the party in the State into confusion. Some days ago he and Thomas Dolan are said to have had a long and earnest talk upon the subject, in which Mr. Dolan failed to shake his views.

Mr. Wanamaker's position is the subject of much talk among Pennsylvania politicians in Washington, and it is not doubted but he is exerting his influence in the direction of a compromise candidate.

The Tariff Schedules.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—It is impossible to learn any definite information as to the changes, if any, that are being made by the Finance Committee in the schedules of the McKinley bill. As they are approved or amended by Messrs. Allison, Aldrich and Hiscock, the Republican members of the sub-committee, they are being passed to the Democratic members of the sub-committee for their action. The latter are under a pledge of secrecy, and no leaks have yet been found. Members of Congress who are interested in particular schedules have made strenuous efforts to pump the members of the committee but thus far they have failed.

Investigating the Cunard Steamship Affair

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts offered a a resolution in the House directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the House whether it is true that the Cunard Steamship Company refused to obey the orders of the United States officers to give return passage to certain immigrants landed at New York by said company in violation of the contract labor laws; what steps have been taken to refuse entry to steamships of said company until the laws have been complied with, and due reparation made for the refusal to obey the orders of the officers thereof. The resolution was referred Reaffirmed the Old Scale.

PITTSBURG, June 10.—The Amalgamated Convention reaffirmed the old scale of $5.50 for boiling iron. As the scale for boiling is taken as a basis and remains unchanged, it is to be inferred that very slight, if any, change in the remainder of the scale will be effected

The Glassblowers Return.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The seven glassblowers whom the Umbria refused to take back to Europe sailed on the Wisconsin to-day.

BY THE WAY.

—A regular encampment of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will be held this evening.

—The First Baptist Sunday school will go on their annual excursion to Asbury Park, on July 11.

—The drowning season will soon begin, when hundreds of people will lose their lives because they never learned how to swim.

—The Hotel Mail of New York says: "The Hotel Netherwood at Netherwood, N. J., is highly praised as a resort for pleasure-seekers."

—The census takers receive two cents a name, except for the names of soldiers or soldiers' widows, for which they are entitled to five cents.

—An account of Mrs. C. Holbrook Smith's lecture on "Physical Training," is again crowded out of today's issue. It will appear in THE PRESS to-morrow.

—Sunday school at the First Baptist church, will on Sunday next begin at 9:30 o'clock A. M. This order will continue throughout the Summer months.

—Another section of lock and call boxes have been removed in the Post Office to make room for increasing business and the wants of the letter carriers.

—The North avenue sewer basin, near the railroad station, was emptied of its contents during last night. The stench arising while the work was in progress, was stifling.

—Some of the store keepers in this city were waited upon last evening, by a delegation from the early closing association, but in most cases they got but little or no encouragement.

—Stone Square Lodge, No. 38, F. and A. M., met in the hall in the Vermeule building on West Front street, last evening, but transacted only business of importance to the order.

—L. A. Rheaume has lately received a full and varied stock of the best qualities of Lehigh coal. He would be pleased to have everybody call and examine it before placing their orders.

—To-night the clerks in this city are requested to meet at Laing's Hall at eight o'clock, sharp, for the purpose of considering matters of importance to them. A full attendance is requested.

—Judge VanSyckel has set down the trials of the race track indictments for Thursday, June 26. The cases will be tried before struck juries, and will greatly prolong the session of court.

—A runaway horse on West Fourth street, at half-past twelve o'clock today, created considerable excitement. The animal was without harness or wagon attachments. No one was injured.

—The tonsorial establishment of Mr. George Kesselring on Park avenue, has been handsomely refitted with new fixtures of sycamore wood, the handiwork of Mr. Geo. Hartfelder of North Plainfield.

—The grounds adjoining most of the residents of our city are looking handsome with the different plants and bushes in bloom. The porches and balconies are sweet with flowers. Plainfield is noted for the quality and beauty of its floral productions.

—Miller's Pharmacy, No. 10 East Front street, has a rush on Soda Water, the people having found out that the best and purest of syrups only are used at this popular establishment. All syrups are manufactured from the genuine fruit, and are therefore the purest.

—The road bed on Park avenue was scraped and the gutters swept, by the Street Commissioner's men yesterday, now all that remains to be done to keep the avenue in good order during the dry season, is for the street sprinkler to wet the roadbed at more frequent intervals.

—Somebody has said that the following questions are to be added to the census enumerator's list of inquiries: 1st. To what extent are you indebted to your local paper? 2d. Don't you feel ashamed of yourself? For fear these questions will be asked as above you had better pay up all arrearages before the enumerator comes around.

—It is delightfully pleasant these days to take a ramble through the fields and woods, and observe the beauties of nature. The trees in full foliage, the fields of growing grain waving in the breeze, the notes of the feathered songsters, all combine to make such a ramble very pleasant, and the inhaling of the pure breezes tend to rouse one up to a new life.

ENTERTAINMENT BY THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

Plainfield Council, No. 711 Entertains its Guests in a Commendable Manner.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, met in regular session, last evening, and transacted some routine business, after which the rooms were thrown open to the public, and an entertainment was given to the members and friends of the Council, according to the following programme:

PART FIRST.

Overture—Encouragement,".....Boettger
Orchestra.
Song—"The Postillion,".....Molloy
Paul C. Tapley.
Galop—"Formosa,".....Weingarten
Orchestra.
{a "When the Frost is on the Punkin,"...Riley
{b "Treadwater Jim,".....Small
Wm. B. Green.
Piano Solo—"Masurka,".....Hitz
Miss Louise Holmes.
Valse—"Love's Dreamland".....Roeder
Orchestra.

PART SECOND.

March—"Always Ready".....Wiegand
Orchestra.
Piano Solo—"Fantasie, Sur-ime Theme, Allemande".....Leibach
Edward Hasselman.
"He Spoke His Piece".....Green
Wm. B. Green.
Song—"The Minstrel Boy".....Shelly
Paul C. Tapley.
Valse—"Lyceum".....Beebe
Orchestra.

The R. A. Orchestra consisted of 1st Violin—Joseph Sattels, 1st Violin—Peter Conde, 2d Violin—E. A. Bigelow, Clarinet—J. J. Moore, Cornet—Richard Steckton, Flute—Edward Garthwaite, Trombone—Daniel E. Davis, Piano—Edward Hasselman.

Piano Soloists—Miss Louise Holmes, Edward Hasselman, Baritone—Paul C. Tapley of Brooklyn, Reciter and Story Teller—Wm. B. Green, (The Judge), of Brooklyn.

The orchestra, which consisted of home talent, rendered some delightful music, and the piano solos by Miss Holmes and Prof. Edward Hasselman the humorous recitations by Mr. Wm. B. Green, who is a brother member of the order in Brooklyn, and the songs by Mr. Paul C. Tapley, were all exceedingly well rendered, and elicited prolonged applause. On the whole the entertainment was a grand success, and those who composed the large audience present, would be glad to have the exercises repeated at an early date.

Following is a list of the officers for the year 1890:

Regent—E. W. Conklin.
Vice Regent—Seymour Marsh.
Past Regent—A. W. Rand.
Orator—S. C. Baker.
Secretary—H. A. Thorne.
Collector—L. M. Stover.
Treasurer—W. J. Leonard.
Chaplain—A. W. Kleinecke.
Guide—P. A. Emmons.
Warden—J. R. Phillips.
Sentry—Emil Dreyer.
Past Regents—Wm. H. Lyon, Jr., S. C. Baker, D. E. Titsworth, E. E. Anthony, E. M. Bodman, W. J. Leonard, B. M. Stover.

The Plainfield Council, R. A., was founded in October, 1882, and it has steadily increased in membership, until at the present time it numbers 125 active members, representing the very best class of people in the city.

The Royal Arcanum is a fraternity composed of men who at entrance must be physically sound, socially acceptable, and between 21 and 55 years of age. $3,000 is paid to widow, children or other beneficary, on the death of a member. The Plainfield Council has had a remarkable history, having lost only one member since its organization.

A Most Fortunate Escape.

As Mrs. George Thatcher with her little niece, was driving in her cottage cart, last evening, just before seven o'clock, the horse started to run as it went under the Central avenue railroad bridge. As they passed Fifth street Mrs. Thatcher still had the animal under some control, but her anxiety for the little one by her side, and the terrible strain on her arms, was too much for her.

As the horse passed John M. Crane's house, on Central avenue, between Seventh and Eighth street, his little girl cried out to him, "There goes Mrs. Thatcher and Mamie running away with their hands before their face." Mr. Crane sprang from his dinner table and bare headed gave chase on his bicycle. The horse unguided turned suddenly into Ninth street, upset the vehicle, and threw both occupants out. Fortunately they were only bruised. A few minutes after the horse ran into Seguine's stables on Front street with only one shaft attached to him.

A Bad Runaway.

A serious runaway happened in Washington Valley, just Northwest from Scotch Plains, on Saturday afternoon, which resulted in the complete demolition of a business wagon, and perhaps fatal injuries to Mr. Robert Jahn, a tinsmith from Scotch Plains.

Mr. Jahn and his hired boy had been doing some work for a Mrs. Bloom, who resides in the Valley. They had just started for home, seated in a light business wagon, when the horse became frightened and ran away. The wagon struck a tree, throwing the occupants violently to the ground, badly injuring Mr. Jahn. The boy was more fortunate, however, he escaping with slight bruises.

The injured man was taken to his home, and three physicians, including Dr. Jenkins of this city, attended the patient. Today his condition is reported to be slightly improved.

A box of Ayer's Pills has saved many a fit of sickness. When a remedy does not happen to be within reach, people are liable to neglect slight ailments and, of course, if serious illness follows they have to suffer the consequences. "A stitch in time saves nine."

THREE MORE CONCERTS PROMISED.

But if You Want to Attend, You Must Subscribe Now.

The Plainfield Choral Society, in announcing its plans for 1890-91, refers with much satisfaction to the season just ended, the most successful in every respect in the musical annals of this community. Opening the series of concerts with Gaul's "Holy City," and closing with Handel's greatest work, the "Messiah." The society presents this record as an indication of the character of its concerts for the ensuing season. These gratifying results have been made possible by the prompt and liberal support of the subscribing members, and the Directors confidently count on the same substantial co-operation from them for the coming term.

It is proposed to give three more private concerts, dates to be announced here after. But the seating capacity of Stillman Music Hall is limited, and therefore but few names can be added to the list of subscribing members. Applications can be made at once to Mr. H. Otis Newman, 4 West Fifth street, which will be acted upon in the order received. Four reserved seats for the season allowed for each ten dollar subscription. Subscriptions payable October 1, 1890.

A Prosperous Season Commencing.

The main dining room of Hotel Netherwood is filling rapidly, and in another week probably the annex will be opened to accommodate the large number of guests arriving every day. Among those who have already engaged rooms, are:

Mrs. Canfield and wife, I. Lewis and family, Col. Fred Martin and family, Homer Lartin, E. Holmes and wife, Miss Holmes, Thomas Olmstead and wife, Misses Mc Cormick, Lincoln McCormick and wife, New York; J. E. Spencer and wife, Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Richardson, and Miss Richardson, New York; M. C. Ogden and wife. D. F. McCabe and family, W. S. Thorne and wife, Brooklyn; H. C. Weston, F. F. Robbins and family, New York; Elliott Burns and family, E. D. Butt, wife and daughter, George E. Wood and wife, Brooklyn; Dr. J. H. Lincoln and wife, New York; E. C. Benary, Mrs. Benary, Geo. W. Crossman and family, W. E. McCreedy and wife, Rowland T. Hill, wife and family, H. D. Brewster and family, H. L. Balch and family, E. H. Kirk and wife, S. H. Toby and wife, J. R. Plum and family, Oliver Bridgman and wife, New York; Wm. Yelland and family, W. J. Eaton and wife, A. E. Wimple and wife, T. C. Quinland and family, Brooklyn; Col. R. Wayne Wilson and wife, C. W. Andrus and wife, Brooklyn; J. H. Tinker and wife, Brooklyn; Mrs. R. Walters, Brooklyn; Mrs. Valentine, Brooklyn; Mrs. Bacon, Brooklyn; Mrs. M. Duryea, Miss Bessie Duryea, Miss Maud Duryea, New York; Geo. W. Wickersham and family, New York; C. E. Buchanan and wife, Brooklyn; A. F. Morrison and family, New York; J. H. Bachellor and wife, New York; F. E. Grant and family, New York; W. M. Harper and wife, Geo. Taylor, Charles Watt, J. Aug. Hinchman, New York; Messrs Jackson, Abbs and Hartley, Bradford, England.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Geo. Stowe of Mechanics Falls, Me., is visiting relatives on Somerset street, this city.

Mrs. James W. Davis and children of East Fifth street, are at Asbury Park, spending a few weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Rodman were the generous hosts who tendered the clergy of this city, a dinner, last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunn of East Seventh street, started for California, yesterday, where they will remain for an indefinite period.

Mr. William Corey, superintendent of a large paper mill at Castleton, N. Y., was yesterday the guest of Chief T. O. Doane of the Fire Department.

J. Allen Sangston, the popular young druggist who has so many friends in this city, has again been secured for the Summer by the West End Pharmacy, Asbury Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank George of New Haven, Conn., have been spending a few days with relatives on West Fourth street. Mrs. George is a cousin of Mrs. Adelbert Vail.

Miss Louise Holmes, daughter of Mr. E. H. Holmes, made her first appearance in public at the Royal Arcanum entertainment, last evening, her piano solo showing skill and careful training. Miss Holmes was presented with a handsome bouquet.

Ex-Collector Lewis E. Clark, Clerk of the Board of Education, is still confined to his bed from the stroke of paralysis he was the victim of some weeks ago. The physicians are now trying electricity to bring back the use of his arm and leg. Heart failure through "sympathy," is one of the ill results of his attack.

On the steamer "Ems" from Bremen, last Saturday, sailed Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kirkner, and the Misses Kirkner. They are expected to arrive in New York next Monday, and many anxious hearts await them here. Miss May Kirkner continues to fail in health, but there is a slight hope that she will live to reach the home in Plainfield she has longed so many weary months, to see again. It seems probable that the railway journey from Dresden was accomplished with no ill effects, else Mr. Kirkner would have cabled to his son from Southampton, Sunday.

Men of brains originate, the unprincipled imitate. Counterfeit never has the true ring of the genuine. Wide-awake people refuse to be gulled. They insist on Hires' Root Beer, and are sure to get it.

They're After Billy Lee.

The West Ends, of Somerville, have confessed that the Crescents' third baseman, Billy Lee, is even superior to their wonderful Al "Williams." So they would like to get Billy—but they can't.

He is probably very well satisfied right here where he has made his success. He is the grand stand's principal favorite, is playing in such company as can't be found in Somerville, and under the finest managers in the State.

In Aid of the Children's Home.

An entertainment consisting of music, recitations, etc., will be given in Reform Hall, this evening, under the auspices of the several Bands of Mercy in this city. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Children's Home, and a collection will be taken up for that purpose. Brief reports will be presented by the different bands, and the children from the Home, will be present and sing.

"For a long time I had no appetite, was restless at night, and very much debilitated. After taking two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my strength and appetite returned, and my health was completely restored."—D. M. Fisher, Oswego, N. Y.

Catarrh

is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

A QUESTION OF ALIMONY SETTLED.

Vice-Chancellor Green Decides That William H. Stryker Shall No Longer Contribute to His Divorced Wife's Support.

The case of Mrs. Matilda (Stryker) Tingley of this city, against William H. Stryker of Newark, to recover three dollars a week alimony awarded her when her divorce was granted, some time since, has been decided by Vice-Chancellor Green in favor of the defendant. The two principals in the case were married several years ago, and later they were granted a divorce, the wife being allowed three dollars a week alimony. Mr. Stryker paid about $40 in all, when he stopped payment, it is said, under advice of counsel.

Mrs. Stryker then caused his arrest for refusing to further assist her, and the defendant testified in court, as told in THE PRESS at the time, that he had since married and had a family to support, and that he was therefore unable to further provide for the support of his divorced wife. The matter has been pending in the courts ever since, until Saturday, when the Vice Chancellor decided the case as above stated.

Mr. Pike's Statement of the Exact Facts.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It has been a custom with the Rev. J. B. Cleaver of "Christ church," to announce to his hearers, at the beginning of every discourse, that any one present had the privilege of asking a question or challenging him to controversy relevant to any statement of his. On Sunday evening last in a discourse relative to the Bible in public schools, Mr. Cleaver pressed this invitation, and he had only proceeded a short way in the discourse—contrasting Catholicism, Protestantism and Christianity, as paid clergy, or Christianity and its free Gospel, when the writer asked him what Paul meant by "Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn!" Mr. Cleaver answered, it was a subject that required another discourse to explain. The writer said he would do it there and then in a half minute. Mr. Cleaver gave him the privilege. He immediately called the attention of the audience to the twelfth chapter of Corinthians, there to find the ministry of administration to the church and these ordained—"that they should live by the Gospel," 9th, 1st Cor., 14 vs. These are the oxen that treadeth out the corn, clearly showing that the Gospel called for a paid clergy. While the responsibility of this unusual custom is the author of it, some of those present chose to criticise your correspondent and I think it just that I should have the benefit of the exact facts.

Yours respectfully,
NOAH W. PIKE.

No Extra Charge For Saturday's Great Game.

To show the public that the Crescent League ball team is not afraid of any nine, the managers have secured at great expense the celebrated Hackett-Carharts, of New York, for next Saturday. This team occupies the Polo grounds when the New York League team is away, and draws all the city's base ball lovers. So nothing but the offer of a large sum would induce them to come to Plainfield.

Of course they expect to win, and all their friends in New York think they have a regular cinch. The Crescents, however, will probably give them a close fight and prove to the public that nothing can scare them. In spite of the cost of the game, there will be no advance in the price of admission and seats.

Amateur Base Ball.

The second class of the Washington school defeated the first class of the same school, at base ball, yesterday, by a score of 7 to . The battery for the second class consisted of V. Lorton and C. Vail; for the first class, A. Baker and R. Dunn.

The "White Caps" of this city played two games on Saturday. In the morning they defeated the "Nameless" club of North Plainfield by a score of 25 to 3. In the afternoon at Dunellen they defeated the Stars of that place by the score of 19 to 1. The Stars being unable to hit the White Caps pitcher, Burt, lost them the game by the above score.

Union County Courts.

Harry Banner, a young man, was on trial yesterday in the Union County Court at Elizabeth, charged with highway robbery, the complainant being James Brown, of the Soldiers' Home at Kearney. Brown accused Banner of knocking him down in a room and taking from him $85, all the savings he had. It was shown by witnesses that Banner and Brown were alone, and that no one else was seen in Brown's company just before the time he declared he had been robbed Banner was convicted by the jury, who were out three hours.

In the City Court.

Before Judge Codington, this morning, John Sheehan and Charles McCann were arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct, which occurred on West Third street, on Decoration Day. The defendants pleaded not guilty, and were given a trial. They were, however, found guilty as charged, and Sheehan was fined $5 and McCann, $10.

Second New Jersey Brigade Society.

The Third Annual Reunion of the Second New Jersey Brigade Society (5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 11th N. J., 2d and 120th N. Y., and other regiments serving with that brigade) will be held at Newark, N. J., Wednesday, June 18, 1890—the anniversary of Battle before Petersburg, Va., 1864, in which the brigade was engaged. The society will convene at 11 A. M., sharp, in Association Hall, No. 13 Clinton street, for reading of reports, election of officers and new members, and transaction of other necessary business.

At 12 o'clock, noon, sharp, His Honor, the Mayor of Newark, will make an address of welcome, to be responded to by Gen. James F. Rusling. The chief address of the day will be delivered by Gen. E. Burd Grubb; and there will also be a special address on "Religious Work in the Army," by Chaplain Cline, 11th N. J. Brief addresses may also be expected from His Excellency, Gov. Abbett; Hon. Theo. Runyon, ex-Chancellor N. J.; Generals Sewell, Sickles, Sharpe, Carr, Karge, Plume; Department Commander G. A. R. Matthews, and others. All old soldiers, and citizens generally, welcome at these exercises.

The members of the society, and all officers and soldiers who served with the brigade during the memorable years 1861-1865, are cordially invited to attend this reunion. Newark, ever loyal and patriotic and public-spirited, will no doubt give a hearty welcome and grand reception. Comrades, once more fall into line, and revive memories of Williamsburg, Gettysburg and Petersburg. Once more "touch elbows," and renew old ties, as when you marched beneath the flag and kept step to the music of the Union! All G. A. R. Posts in New Jersey, and all newspapers in New Jersey and other States, are kindly requested to make due announcement of this reunion, to the end that full notice thereof may reach all veterans concerned.

By order of
GEN. ROBT. MCALLISTER,
President.

Meeting of Alpha Lodge.

Alpha Lodge No. 4, I. O. of G. T., met in regular session last evening, in their hall corner of Park and North avenues. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary and adopted, after which the usual order of business was taken up. Among those present was Mr. Polhemus, of G. T. Lodge No. 155, of Orange, N. J., who gave a twenty-minute talk on the work he is striving to perform for the good of the Order.

Following were songs and recitations by several of the members, and Mr. Polhemus gave an amusing recitation entitled: "Hunting for the Mouse." The meeting then adjourned.

A Shining Example.

If the party who stole a Safety bicycle from the front of the club house is caught, the club is determined to make an example of him and to see that he gets the full benefit of the law. Our advertising columns show a liberal reward is offered for his arrest and conviction. The machine is the one whose theft was told of in THE PRESS some weeks ago. It was the property of Mr. Kirschoff.

Will Paint the Town Red.

On Saturday evening, June 28th, inst., one hundred of the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 114, G. A. R., of Philadelphia, will visit this city as the guests of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of here. The local post will welcome the visitors in grand style, and while here they will be extended the courtesies of the city.

Two Plainfielders to be Tried Next Week.

The indictment found against the two men, Ramsberger and Eagle, for robbing Mr. A. L. Cadmus of this city, was to have been tried at Elizabeth to-morrow, but on account of other pressing business, the case was laid over until next week.

—At Elizabeth, yesterday, Judge McCormick dismissed the petit jurors until to-morrow morning.

—Three weeks from Friday the small boy will be loaded down with patriotism and fire-crackers.

—Officer Charles Giesse returned to active duty last evening, having recovered from an attack of cholera morbus.

—Sixteen thousand youth have during the past year availed themselves of the evening educational classes of the Young Men's Christian Association of this country.

—The 125th meeting of the Medical Society of New Jersey, will be held in the Heath House, Schooley's Mountains, today and to-morrow. Delegates will be present from Union county.

—By the breaking in two of an empty West-bound coal train near the Central railroad station in this city, yesterday afternoon, the 3:51 o'clock passenger train to New York was delayed here for several minutes, waiting for an opportunity to discharge its passengers.

—Mr. J. C. Allen of 44 West Front street, has two specialties in the shape of a five and ten-cent counter, where everything is kept from a curry-comb to an iced-cream freezer. He also has on hand a good assortment of pretty fans, which he gives away to his patrons.

Caught His Hand in the Rigging.

While at work cleaning out the North avenue sewer, last evening, Mr. Evan Jones, the contractor, caught one of his hands in a pulley, which was used to raise and lower the buckets, terribly lascerating the flesh. The wound was dressed at a restaurant near by, and the injured man returned to his work.

First Catch Your Hare

Reads an old recipe; that's well enough in Culinary matters, but it dosen't do to wait until you Cut, Scald or Burn yourself, and then run for a bottle of CARL KAERTH'S

"Instantaneous Liniment."

A much wiser plan is to spend 25c., and keep a bottle in the house.

Ask your Druggist for it.

Has no equal for CUTS, BURNS, SCALDS, RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA. For sale at all Drug Stores or at the FACTORY, 16 E. 2d St. 4-3-tf

THE TARIFF ABROAD

The McKinley Bill Discussed in the House of Commons.

GENTLE HINTS AT RETALIATION.

The English Government Has Not Yet Received a Copy of the Bill.

Dillon Defies Balfour—He Will Address Meetings at Every Opportunity—Emperor William's Warm Reception to the Crown Prince of Italy—Several Persons Killed by Hurricanes in Hungary.

LONDON, June 10.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. C. E. Howard Vincent, member for Sheffield, referring to the act of the American House of Representatives in increasing the duties on cutlery, tin plate and other articles of British export, inquired concerning the bad effect which the approval of the Senate would have upon Sheffield, Belfast and other places in the British Empire.

He also asked if the Government still maintains that the free import system of the United Kingdom precluded its instruction to the British Minister at Washington, to represent to the American Government the injury which the pending legislation would do to the industry of a friendly power, which last year gave a free market to $95,000,000 worth of competing American goods.

Sir James Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, said the Government had not received a copy of the bill and had not been informed of any important alterations therein.

The French Chamber of Deputies rejected all the proposed modifications of M. Meline's Tariff bill, and passed the measure by a vote of 343 to 168.

DILLON DEFIES BALFOUR.

The Irish Leader Says He Will Address Meetings at Every Opportunity.

LONDON, June 10.—Mr. Dillon in the House moved to adjourn, in order to call attention to the danger to public peace, owing to the violent and illegal action of the police officials in Cashel and Tipperary. He challenged Mr. Balfour to state his reasons for proclaiming the meetings at New Tipperary, and declared that he would address meetings of Irishmen at every opportunity, at the same time cautioning the people against bloodshed.

Mr. Balfour said that an adequate force had been sent to Tipperary. If anything serious should happen there, those who defied the proclamation of the Government would be held responsible.

Mr. Gladstone supported Mr. Dillon, but the latter's motion was lost.

Received by Emperor William.

BERLIN, June 10.—When the Crown Prince of Italy arrived at Potsdam he was met at the station by Emperor William, who cordially embraced the Prince on his alighting from the train. The Emperor and his illustrious guest then proceeded in a State carriage to the Stadt Schloss and afterwards continued on to the new palace where they paid a visit to the Empress with whom they took luncheon. Later the Emperor, accompanied by the Crown Prince, went to Bornstaedterfeld where an inspection of cavalry was held.

An American's Big Libel Suit.

LONDON, June 10.—George Washington Butterfield, an American, is suing the Financial News of this city for libel and asks damages in £100,000. The alleged libel consisted in the newspaper asserting that the mining schemes of the plaintiff located in the United States were imprudent and wild.

Emin Pasha in Good Health.

SUEZ, June 10.—Major Wissmann, Imperial German Commissioner to East Africa, has arrived here from Africa on his way to Berlin. He reports that Emin Pasha, when he started for the interior of Africa, was enjoying very fine health.

Hurricanes in Hungary.

VIENNA, June 10.—Violent hurricanes are prevailing in many parts of Hungary, accompanied by heavy rains. Many persons have been killed by lightning, and the damage to property is enormous.

Tories Summoned to Council.

LONDON, June 10.—It is said the Government will convoke a meeting of the Conservative party at the Carlton Club on Thursday to discuss the proposed measures to expedite business in Parliament.

Carnegie's Gift to Edinburgh.

LONDON, June 10.—The public library which was presented to the city of Edinburgh by Mr. Andrew Carnegie was opened yesterday. Lord Roseberry presided at the opening ceremonies.

Ball Players Held for the Grand Jury.

ROCHESTER N.Y., June 10.—The members of the Rochester and Athletic clubs, who were arrested by the Irondequoit authorities and taken before Judge Coy to answer the charge of Sabbath breaking in playing ball on Sunday at Windsor Beach, were held in $100 each to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A $2,000,000 Mortgage.

READING, Pa., June 10.—A mortgage for $2,000,000, by the Reading & Chesapeake Coal & Railway Company to the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, of New York, as trustees, was recorded here. The Reading & Chesapeake is a new railroad projected to run from this city to Havre de Grace, Md.

The New England Regatta.

BOSTON, June 10.—The Bradford Boat Club has decided to send the eight-oared crew to Worcester for the New England Amateur Association regatta June 17. The senior four-oared shell crew and a senior four-oared working boat crew will also go. The Shawmuts will also have an eigh-oared crew.

Mexico and the Filibusters.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—It is said the Mexican Government has decided to demand that the United States punish Frederick Hall, Edward Hill, Ranford Worden, August Merrill, Walter G. Smith and others for their part in the conspiracy to capture Lower California.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,
J. G. CAMPBELL,

DEATH IN ITS PATH

A Funnel-Shaped Cloud Sweeps an Illinois Town.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE KILLED.

The Roaring of the Cyclone Could be Heard for Miles Away.

A Large Strip of Country Devastated. People Too Frightened to Extend Aid to the Sufferers—Surgeons Sent from Joliet—News Cut Off Owing to the Bad Condition of the Roads.

JOLIET, Ill., June 11.—A funnel-shaped cloud passed through the village of Channahon doing immense damage and killing and injuring, it is understood, quite a number of people.

Channahon is a town of abont 1,000 persons, nine miles south of Joliet, with no railroad or telegraph facilities.

A telephone message says the roaring of the cyclone could be heard for miles away, but the people were too frightened to extend aid to the sufferers. A large strip of country was devastated. Reports indicate that the list of killed and wounded will be large.

Surgeons have been sent from here to relieve their sufferings.

From the meagre information at hand it seems that most of the damage done by the storm was in the country around Channahon, and thus the majority of the casualties occurred outside the town.

Although the place is not far from here, there is little hope of getting anything definite from there, owing to the bad condition of the roads.

While it is believed that the reports so far received are exaggerated, the belief is prevalent that a great disaster has occurred.

SUICIDES IN RUSSIA.

The Police Claim They are All Political Conspirators.

LONDON, June 11.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that within the last fortnight an appalling number of suicides have occurred in that city and other Russian cities, the victims of self-destruction having been mainly of the better class. To-day another student in the Russian school of mines shot himself dead and the motive for the deed is regarded as very mysterious by his associates.

The Russian police authorities are now more than ever convinced that the Paris Nihilists were connected with a conspiracy in St. Petersburg, of wide ramifications and influential membership, against the life of the Czar, and the attempt of the Minister of the Interior to obtain, through the French Ambassador, the names of those in correspondence with the Paris plotters, will, if successful, unquestionably keep up the average of suicides for weeks to come, unless it is reduced by the flight of the incriminated persons.

The St. Petersburg police frankly connect all these self-murderers with the recent arrests of Nihilists in Paris and ascribe them to the revelations contained in the correspondence captured at the lodgings of the conspirators by the Paris police.

SHARP TALK FROM LONDON.

The Standard Has a Say on the Behring Sea Question.

LONDON, June 11.—The Standard protests strongly against Mr. Blaine's sending cruisers to Behring Sea. It says: "If he attempts to employ force wrongfully against British subjects or property, force will be employed on our side also. The gravest condition of affairs may arise from his heedless and intemperate action."

Gamblers Chased for Their Lives.

VIENNA, June 11.—A dispatch just received from Pesth, Hungary, says that a gambling house which had defrauded many of its patrons of their winnings, was set upon by the infuriated people and completely wrecked. The proprietors and employes had great difficulty in escaping with their lives. Some of them were badly beaten and only saved from a worse fate by the police.

Triumph for the Clericals.

BRUSSELS, June 11.—The general elections, were remarkably quiet. A small riot occurred at Ghent, but elsewhere everything was orderly. Two advanced Socialists were defeated at Charlerol and Mons and the the results of the balloting throughout the kingdom indicate a great triumph for the Clericals.

Three Months for Editor Tully.

DUBLIN, June 11.—Mr. Tully, editor of the Roscommon Herald, has been convicted under the Crimes Act of publishing an article denouncing land grabbers, and has been sentenced to three months imprisonment without hard labor.

To Shelve the Irish Land Bill.

LONDON, June 10.—The Cabinet, by a majority vote, has decided to shelve the Irish Land Purchase bill. The minority, headed by Mr. Balfour, were in favor of sacrificing some other measure, but yielded to the inevitable.

Emperor William and Bismarck.

BERLIN, June 11.—The Freisinnige Zeitung says that the Emperor has refused to assent to the suggestion that Prince Bismarck be prosecuted for divulging State secrets.

New Life in the Knights.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—During the four weeks ending June 7th charters were issued to sixty new assemblies of the Knights of Labor and 14 locals were reorganized and reinstated.

BOLD TRAIN ROBBERS.

They Secure $10,000 and Inflict Cruel Punishment on the Express Messenger.

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 11.—Express train No. 1, of the St. Louis, Arkansas & Texas Railroad, was wrecked by six masked robbers two miles south of here at 12:30 o'clock last night. The train was ditched at Haywoods switch by throwing the switch. The engine, tender and express cars left the track, and an unknown tramp who was stealing a ride in front of the express car was instantly killed.

The robbers attacked the express car, but the messenger repulsed them with a volley from his Winchester, but hit none of the robbers. They returned the fire with interest, and finally, after threats of cremating the messenger in the car, he surrendered. The safe was opened and the robbers secured about $10,000.

Neolin, the express messenger, and the fireman and engineer were taken to the woods by the robbers and tied to trees. They then shot the messenger in the hand, the arm, and shot one of his ears off, to revenge themselves for his resistance, and threatened death to all three if they ever resisted another train robber.

All this time the passengers were prevented from giving any assistance by one of the robbers who guarded them with a Winchester. After the robbers rode off it was an hour before the frightened passengers rescued the train men and gave the alarm.

Two posses are now out hunting the robbers, but no trace of them has been found. The leader of the gang is supposed to be Rube Burrows.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

A Small Boy Holds His Sister Over a Fire.

HAZLETON, Pa., June 11. — Nellie Dougherty, aged 11 years, daughter of Patrick Dougherty, was fatally burned last evening by her brother, who is about a year younger.

The children had been fishing. The boy built a fire to roast some frogs which he expected to catch. Becoming enraged at his sister for some trivial act, he dragged her to the fire and held her over it until her clothing became ignited; but believing that he could extinguish it without seriously injuring her, he delayed in releasing her. When he did it was too late. Her skirts were already ablaze, and all efforts to extinguish them proved futile.

In her desperation the child ran to a stream close by and threw herself into it. Some men were passing, and they arrived just in time to save the life of the boy, whose clothing had also caught fire in his efforts to save his sister. The little girl was taken from the water unconscious. She was horribly burned about the body and legs and died a few hours later. The boy will recover.

Opposed to the Horse Racing Bill.

TRENTON, N. J., June 11.—Governor Abbett received a delegation of Elizabeth people who urged him to veto the Horse Racing bill. Among those who spoke were Rev. Dr. McAllister, of the Trinity Episcopalian Church; the Rev. Dr. Morse, of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church; the Rev John F. Kerr, of the Third Presbyterian Church, and H. H. Isham, a large real estate owner.

A Clergyman Missing.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 11.—The Rev. C. A. Young, a Mount Washington clergyman, left his home last Saturday night to conduct services at De Haven, Pa., and has not since been seen. He was a married man, 31 years of age, and no reason for his mysterious disappearance can be assigned. His friends fear that he has met with foul play.

Secret Meeting of Engineers.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 11.—The Grand Council of Pennsylvania American Order of Steam Engineers is in annual session here. Mayor Clark made an address of welcome, which was responded to by Chief Engineer Benjamin F. Pettit, of Philadelphia. The sessions will be secret.

Graduates of Union College.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 11.—The Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa, at Union College, at a special meeting, last night, elected A. B. Van Voast, of Schenectady, N. Y.; John Ira Bennett, of Chicago, Ill., and Norman David Fish, of Malta, N. Y., members from the present graduating class.

Smiler Found Guilty of Murder.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Henry Smiler was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of his wife. Smiler is a printer by trade. He had several wives, and started out one day to kill two of them, but could not get into the house of one of his intended victims.

All Quiet at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 11.—Everything is quiet in the street car strike, and both sides are apparently waiting for the other to move. No attempt is being made to run cars and the strikers are quietly lounging about the different barns of the company.

Weavers Resist a Reduction.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 11.—The weavers employed in the Bethlehem Silk Mill, to the number of fifty, went on a strike upon the announcement of a ten per cent. reduction in wages. The weaving department of the mill is idle

Sons of Veterans' Encampment.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 11.—About 400 Sons of Veterans from all parts of the State are here to attend the tenth annual encampment of the Order.

Date Fixed for Chapleau's Electrocution.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., June 11.—Judge Fish has fixed the time for the execution by electricity of Joseph Chapleau for the week beginning July 21st.

Senators Talking About Retaliation Upon Canada.

INTERESTING REPORT COMING.

The Senate Committee Making Rapid Headway With the Tariff Bill.

Defunct National Bank Affairs Being Settled Up—Ex-Representative Valentine Appointed Sergeant-at-Arms—No Chance for the Border Raid Bill—Long Discussion on the Original Package Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—It is rumored among the Senators that the special committee appointed nearly two months ago to investigate the subject of the relations existing between Canada and the United States will soon make a voluminous report. Senator Hoar is the chairman of this committee, the members of which have done a great amount of traveling in search of information, having even taken a trip to Southern California.

A mass of testimony has been taken, and from time to time members of the committee throw out hints that the forthcoming report is to be a very interesting one, taking strong ground in favor of retaliatory legislation on the part of the United States against Canada for the many acts of discrimination against this Government.

RUSHING THE TARIFF BILL.

It is Probable that it Will Reach the Whole Committee this Week.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The sub-committee having the Tariff bill in charge has made such rapid headway with its work that it intends now to report the bill back to the full committee the latter part of this week. It is the purpose, it is said, to effect an arrangement with the members of the Finance Committee, so that the bill shall be voted upon as whole, and not be taken up schedule by schedule.

This will expedite the matter materially. Senator McPherson says that the reports of the committee's action that have gone out are entirely unauthorized and must not be depended upon. He is a member of the Democratic subcommittee which is working upon the bill. It is, therefore, probable that the bill will be reported by the full committee early next week.

CLAIMS OF CREDITORS.

Defunct National Bank Affairs Being Settled Up.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Comptroller of Currency has declared a sixth dividend, five per cent., in favor of the creditors of the First National Bank of Union Mills, Union City, Pa., making in all seventy per cent. on claims proved amounting to $182,453. Also a second dividend, thirty per cent., in favor of the creditors of the Third National Bank of Malone, N. Y., payable on the 12th inst., making in all sixty per cent. on claims proved amounting to $57,231. The latter bank failed December 16, 1889.

The Original Package Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The House Committee on the Judiciary spent over two hours in the discussion of the Senate Original Package bill without reaching a conclusion. The discussion revealed the fact that several members of the committee disagreed with the decision reached by the Supreme Court, but it did not proceed far enough to show definitely how the measure is regarded by the committee as a whole.

The Pennsylvania Border Raid Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—A number of the members of the Pennsylvania Border Raid Commission, including Governor Beaver, Attorney-General Kilpatrick, Hon. Harry Hall of Mercer, and Captain Skinner of Fulton, are in the city to discuss the propriety of the bill now pending before the House. The bill is extremely likely to go over until the short session.

Victory in Sight for the Lottery Men.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—A dispatch from Baton Rouge, La., says that a careful canvass of the House yesterday shows the following: Pro-lottery, 62; anti-lottery, 25; doubtful, 1. Thus it will be seen that the lottery needs only four of the two-thirds vote in the House, which it already has in the Senate.

A Move Against Intoxicating Liquors.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—In the House Mr. Morse of Massachusetts introduced a bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors upon all grounds on which are located exhibition and exposition buildings for which appropriations are made by the Government. The same bill was introduced in the Senate by request by Mr. Blair.

$5,000,000 for the Fair.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Governor Fifer has been requested to call a special session of the Legislature and pass a law allowing the city of Chicago to increase its bonded debt $5,000,000, which will be turned into the World's Fair fund. The City Council decided that if the Legislature will grant the required power, the Council will loan $5,000,000 to the World's Fair.

BY THE WAY.

—The trees on Central avenue between Front and Second streets, have been relieved of their lower branches.

—A meeting of the Carpenters' Union, No. 155, was held last evening, but the business transacted was of a private nature.

—Mr. James M. Dunn, the Park avenue grocer, is confined to the house, suffering from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

—Whitlock & Hulick, of 21 Somerset street, have their hands full supplying the people with window and door screens at very low prices.

—A truck load of empty strawberry crates was upset on Park avenue, near the railroad bridge, yesterday afternoon, and some of the crates were broken.

—The Missionary Concert on Africa, announced for last week in the Crescent Avenue church, but postponed on account of the storm, will be held this evening.

—Councilman D. S. Roberts is having erected in his livery stable on North avenue, neat and substantial closed closets, wherein he will keep his best double sets of harness.

—The services in St. Mary's church for the month of June will be held on Friday evenings at eight o'clock, instead of on Thursday evenings, as heretofore announced.

—For reliable information concerning the racing on the track of the Gentleman's Driving Park Association, THE PRESS should be consulted. All other published accounts are inaccurate.

—The dissolution of partnership difficulty that had been carried into the courts by the executors of the estates of David J. Boice and David Thickstun, was today amicably adjusted at Elizabeth, without coming to trial.

—The jury appeal case of Bullock & Co., vs. Wilson Fiske, which was to have come up for trial at Elizabeth, today, was put off for the term, on account of so much criminal business, which takes the precedence of civil suits.

—The "Diamonds" defeated the "Dwarfs" on the Sandford avenue grounds, today, by the score of 18 to 15 The battery for the "Diamonds," was C. Morgan and F. Dodge. For the "Dwarfs," F. Freeman and Wesley Thorn.

—The seventeen-year-old son of John Naylor of West Third street, fell out of a cherry tree on Jeremiah Moore's place at Fourth street and Madison avenue, this afternoon. So far as is now apparent, the only injury suffered is a severe bruising of the side of his face.

—Higgins' new stages were put on the streets today, and attracted much approval. They are easy running, handsomely made, upholstered in plush, and have all the modern stage conveniences and appliances. With plenty of such service, horse-cars will be postponed indefinitely.

—The regular meeting of the W. F. M. S., of the Congregational church, will be held in the church parlors, on Thursday the 12th inst., at four o'clock P. M. Subject, "Missions in the Islands of the Pacific." A full attendance is desired as business of importance will come before the meeting.

CELIA E. GARDNER, Sec.

—The class in Physical Training held by Mrs. C. Holbrook Smith, was well attended in the parlors of the Congregational church, yesterday. The method is excellent and especially adapted to develop symmetry and grace in young women. It is singular that so few understand how to walk and poise the body. The Plainfield class should be a large one It will meet again to-morrow at the same hour.

Amateur Base Ball.

The Young New Yorks of this city, defeated the Young Americans in a game of base ball on Saturday, at Dunellen, by a score of 17 to 5 in seven innings. The Young New Yorks won the game in the second inning by scoring 7 runs. Follows is the

FOR THE CHILDREN'S HOME.

An Entertainment Replete With Music, Recitations, etc., That Was Enjoyed by a Large Audience at Reform Hall, Last Evening.

Reform Hall was well filled, last evening, on the occasion of the announced entertainment to take place there for the benefit of the Children's Home, given under the auspices of the several Bands of Mercy, recently organized in this city. Mrs. W. J. Leonard was foremost in arranging the programme and she was awarded a unanimous vote of thanks for her untiring efforts to make the entertainment the success that it was, and to the entire gratification of all present.

Mr. H. B. Wells presided, and with him the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, and Editor A. M. Powell, were seated on the platform. The exercises were varied, and according to the following programme:

REPORTS FROM THE VARIOUS BANDS

were read, of which the following is a synopsis:

The Plainfield New Jersey Band of Mercy was organized in the Sunday school of the Unitarian Society, February 23, 1890, with Mrs. W. J. Leonard as President, Mr. Wilson Fiske, Secretary, and Master W. E. C. Leonard, Treasurer. Its meetings have been held monthly, occupying the hour of the regular Sunday school service. The exercises, though religious in tone and entirely non-sectarian, are conducted for the most part according to the customary methods of such organizations. The membership of the Band numbers 61 and is composed largely of adults.

As this Band of Mercy was the first one formed in Plainfield, it was proposed that its efforts be made as practical as possible, thereby to increase interest in the human work of the city, and to encourage the multiplication of Bands of Mercy. For this purpose the money contributions of the few meetings have been appropriated to the purchasing of several hundred humane leaflets, a large number of Bands of Mercy information pamphlets and other bits of humane literature. These have been distributed judiciously about the city. At present they are selling and receiving orders for the little English book entitled "Black Beauty." The first use of the proceeds from the sale will be devoted to buying the book for presentation to every teamster in the place. Black Beauty is a pleasing story and abounds in valuable suggestions concerning the care of horses. That This little work has met with an enormous sale in England It has only recently been published by the American Humane Education Society. The cost of the book is 25 cents.

Miss Ella U. Osborne, Secretary of the Friends' Band, reported that the meetings have been well attended, and much interest has been manifested. 84 names are now enrolled on the list.

The Secretary of the "Harned Academy Band," also reported progress, showing that the work is being advanced in that institution.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL.

During last month the "Washington Band of Mercy" was organized; The Band now numbers 108. The officers are: Miss M. E. Humpston, President; Walter Serrell, Adele Milne, Emily Runyon, and Frank Neals, Vice Presidents; Miss S. L. Wood, Secretary. This Band holds meetings on an average of once a month, and a new plan has been adopted of forming scrap books, the children being allowed to bring in anecdotes on kindness and cruelty to animals, the same being placed in the scrap books.

THE IRVING SCHOOL

Band of Mercy was organized on May 28. Miss Gilbert was elected President, and Miss Petrie, Secretary. The present membership is 118.

ST. MARY'S.

In St. Mary's Parochial school 79 children have signed the roll as members and expressed their willingness to abide by the constitution.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Miss Mary H. Miller, Secretary of the "Grammar School Band of Mercy," reported that a meeting for organization was held on June 5. The work of the society was explained and officers were elected. The name chosen for this Band is: "I will try to be kind to all harmless creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage."

The remarks by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, Editor A. M. Powell, and the singing by the children of the "Home," together with the singing by Mr. McKinley of New York, his wife accompanying him on the piano, the recitations by Miss Jeannie Nichols, Miss Edna Leonard, Miss May Shaen and Mr. Alfred White, were all warmly received.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Julia K. Johnson of this city has sold to Samuel Skinner of Newark, ¼ acre of land on Third street, for $3,500.

Harry E. Springer, a Government employee, of Washington, D. C., is in town visiting his friend, David J. Carney.

A. W. Haviland and family, of Rock View avenue, left to day for St. Andrews, Canada, where they will spend the Summer.

Frank W. Runyon, one of the editors of the Philadelphia Press, and Mrs. Runyon, are in Plainfield again for a short visit.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Hamilton, who died recently, took place from Mt. Olive Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes officiating. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

Counselor Wm. W. Pearson presented every member of the Crescent League base ball team with a fragrant buttonhole bouquet, Saturday afternoon, at the close of their ninth successive victory. He says the team will also win next Saturday, and through this prediction seems dubious, yet it must be confessed that Counselor Pearson's judgment on base ball is about right.

The lecture on Florence by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, and the music by Miss Alice Holmes and E. E. Runyon, at the Congregational church, last Thursday evening, was highly appreciated by the Ladies Aid Society, and their many friends who attended. It gave such general satisfaction that another entertainment of the kind has been requested for the near future.

An opportunity to hear Miss Maude Agnes Bowers for the first time in public since her graduation from the Boston School of Oratory, will be afforded at Seminary Hall, to-morrow evening. With Miss Bowers will appear the also charming Miss Gertrude Marchand. The programme will include a variety of literary selections and quartettes by the N.Y. College banjoists, concluding with the farce, "Fast Friends," in which Miss Bowers and Miss Marchand will enact the characters of Laura Latimer and Mabel Hamilton, respectively.

Rowland Cox, Esq., of this city, is the counsel for the Blacks, of London, who spent over a million dollars in the compilation and production of the Encyclopedia Britannica. Mr. Cox is also counsel for Scribner's Sons, in the same matter, before the U. S. Circuit Court. The valuable volumes have been photographed page by page, maps and all, and reprinted by a firm of New Yorkers, who have also been the publishers of a Christian weekly upholding the ten commandments including "Thou Shalt Not Steal!" These reproductions are sold at a price "within the the reach of all," to the great loss of Messrs Black and Messrs Scribner.

The Team and Their Victories.

Managers Burnet and Leggett are receiving the highest kind of praise from everybody for their enterprise and courage in inducing the Hackett-Carhart team to come to Plainfield, next Saturday, and see what the Crescents are made of.

Here is a list of the visiting team's victories for 1890, and their only defeats: Victories—Stars of L. I. City, 13-2. New Jersey A. C., 6-2. Bayonne A. A., 6-2. Rahways, 5-0. Iroquois A. C., of Newark, 8-2. Jersey City, 14-9. New Haven, 7-6. Hartford, 6-4. Albany, 2-1. Albany. 5-1. Columbia College, 10-0. Stars of L. I. City, 4-3. Defeats—New York (National League), 1-4. Brooklyn (National League), 3-8. Rahways, 9-10.

The batting order of both teams will be as follows: Hackett-Carharts—Morehead, ss., Kraus, c., Hammel, cf., Diven, 1b., Barry, 2b., Abel, lf., Nugent, 3b., Carmichael, rf.. Tierney, p.. Gough, extra.

Crescents—Martin, ss., Lufbery, 2b., Wiegand, 1b., Jones, c., Gillis, cf., Gregg, p., Lee, 3b., Walker, lf., McIndoe, rf. The latter is Rahway's celebrated first baseman.

Has Now One of Pittsburgh's Largest Churches.

The Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D., for so many years a resident of this city, was recently elected pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, and was formally installed therein last Thursday evening.

One of the papers of that city, in speaking of him, says: "The Rev. Richard S. Holmes is a man of apparently middle age. He is about the average height and rather slender. His hair and beard was once dark, but is rapidly turning gray. He comes to Pittsburgh from Warren, Pa., where he was very popular. He is spoken of as a very eloquent and scholarly man. The congregation over which he will preside is one of the largest in the city."

Violated the Health Ordinance.

On complaint of Health Inspector J. W. A. Bauersachs of North Plainfield, David K. Vail was arrested last week charged with violating section one of health ordinance No. 5, by leaving fish barrels and other obnoxious trash in the roadway on Race street. His hearing was set down for Saturday evening last, before Justice Crossley, but through some misunderstanding the defendant failed to put in an appearance. The case will be heard by Justice Crossley this evening.

—The Plainfield Fire Department today, purchased of D. A. Woodhouse 1,500 feet more of same hose at the same price, as now in use.

HUNTING HIGHWAYMEN.

Vigilantes in Hot Chase and Soldiers Ordered Out to Prevent Lynching.

BISMARCK, N. D., June 11.—A report has just reached here that the pursuers of the four masked highwaymen, who held up the Northern Pacific passenger train, were within three hours' ride of the robbers. They are headed for Dickinson, toward the Bad Lands, and should they get into that country there will be much trouble and danger in capturing them.

A strong detachment of cavalry was despatched yesterday from each of the three nearest military stations—Standing Rock, Abraham Lincoln and Yates—to overtake the pursuing parties in order to prevent the wholesale lynching which will be the result if the robbers are first discovered by the frontiersmen.

A PRIEST INDICTED.

He Refused to Comply With the Law Relating to School Children.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11.—It is reported that Rev. Dr. Quigley, the prominent Catholic pastor of St. Francis de Sales' Church, in charge of the largest parochial schools in the State, had been indicted by the Grand Jury for refusing to comply with the provisions of the State law relating to school children.

Complaint had been made against the priest for refusal to make returns of the number of children in his schools in order that truant children might be discovered. Lawyers say an interesting constitutional point is involved in the indictment. In case parochial schools come under the truant law they can demand a division of the school fund.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The German Empress is confined to her bed with nettle rash.

The President has approved the Customs Administrative bill.

The State Convention of Universalists convened in Reading, Pa., for a three days' session.

A. J. Elwood, a Geneva, N. Y., man died at 11 a. m., from the effect of an overdose of chloral. Several times he said that he would be better off dead, but whether he took his life while temporarily insane or whether the chloral was taken to alleviate pain, is not known.

The Oriental Mills Company, of Providence, made an assignment to Lawyer Samuel Ames. A report shows unsecured debts of $335,029, quick assets valued at $134,313, and a total debt upon the Messrs. Reeds interests in the Oriental and Forestdale Mills, plants, and all other outside property of $200,715.

The first society wedding of the season is reported from Newport. It was rather a quiet affair but very elegant in its appointments. The parties were Mr. Richard Wallace, of Washington, and Maud Anna, daughter of Samuel F. Barger, of New York. About 175 guests partook of the wedding breakfast. The couple will sail from New York to-morrow for Europe.

And Other Garments for Healthful Dressing, as Told of by Mrs. Smith.

THE audience that filled the Congregational church on Friday afternoon was notable for the culture and social prominence of those who had assembled to hear Mrs. C. Holbrook Smith speak upon Physical Training. From the first word the lecturer pleased her critical hearers, and by her grace and charm of manner made many converts to the new method of healthful and artistic dress. Mrs. Smith said that neither the highest extreme of society, nor the lowest, could mould the future—the first from lack of necessity's spur to use developed faculties, and the other from lack of opportunity for development. The keepers of America's future are the great middle class, forced by necessity to develop and make use of their faculties, and they are hampering their usefulness by permitting themselves to be controlled by conventional rules instead of increasing their inherent individualities. Much brain force is thus lost to our country. Women who follow the conventional dictates of fashion set for them by the most degraded elements in the French Capital, are destroying their mental acumen as well as their physical force. They draw down the chest and square the shoulders, thus forming a triangle, whereas nature always works in exquisite curves.

The waist, compressed by corset or tight corsage darts, prevents all free movement of the diaphragm, and restricts what are intended to be the floating ribs. Upon the diaphragm depends the health of every organ of the body and the strength of the brain. What America needs today is both brawn and brain. We can be overcome by ignorant numbers as well as by brawny muscle, and we need large vigorous brains to solve problems assimulating the dissimilar elements in our midst. Large brains need strong physiques to give executive ability. Nature when abused, can be restored by giving the body perfect freedom and exercising unused muscles. Healthful dressing insists upon equal weight upon all parts of the body and abolishing all bands and ligatures that impede circulation of the blood, and prevent deep inspiration in breathing. The first garment worn should be the union suit; second, the chemisette, fitted into the waist; third, the divided skirt, which by its division diminishes resistance in walking, and fourth the costume made upon a princess gown form shaped to conform to individual curves. Where a corset has been worn, a light, boned bodice, without any steels to press in upon the point where nature presses outward, is always admissible. This style of dressing prevents overheating and overweighing the vital organs.

The dainty short-waisted school girl's dress, made on the gown form, gives perfect freedom to every organ of the body, and enables her to pass from the schoolroom to the calisthenic class in the gymnasium. One of the most useful costumes shown was the divided bicycle gown, the division perfectly concealed by the plaits. It enables a lady to mount her wheel unassisted, and there is entire freedom in action. The dinner dress of black lace and olive silk, relieved with dull gold embroideries on kid was very beautiful, and all the costumes so rapidly shown were discussed and commended, many of the audience rising to their feet in order to see all the improvements suggested in each artistic garment. Mrs. Smith, as well as our ladies, should be congratulated upon the success of this novel and instructive lecture.

The Clerks' Meeting.

The clerks of the city held another meeting in Laing's Hall, last evening, with Mr. Jeremiah Moore in the chair. The association now numbers 67 members. It is said that a resolution was adopted in which the clerks agree to withdraw their patronage from the merchants who refuse to close their stores at seven o'clock, and also to prevail upon their friends to do likewise.

Will Work the Encampment Degree.

Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., is arranging for a grand entertainment to be given in Amphion Hall on the evening of June 20. The exercises will include the public initiation of the Encampment Degree, which will be worked by a team from Protection Lodge of Newark, numbering 22 members. Full particulars will be advertised later on.

Installation Services.

The Rev. Hobart Clark, the new pastor of the Unitarian church in this city, will be publicly installed in Seminary Hall, on Friday evening of this week, at 7:45 o'clock. The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., will preach. The Rev. Robert Collyer, the Rev. J. W. Chadwick and other prominent ministers will be present. Everyone is invited.

A Boy Fell From a Tree.

Tunis, a son of Mr. Wm. Hewett, of East Third street, fell from a tree on Monday afternoon, and sustained a fracture of his right arm. The boy was sitting on a limb, when the limb broke, throwing him headforemost to the ground.

One of the Adirondacks' Best Hotels.

Those of THE PRESS readers who will spend some coming weeks in the Adirondacks, would do well to entrust themselves to the genial and generous care of host McMartin. His thorough knowledge of how to run a hotel, his uniform affability, and the charming location of "Kunja-muck Inn," has gained for him and it, an enviable reputation.

The "Inn," formerly "Call's," is in a most attractive portion of the Adirondacks, situated at an elevation of 1,800 feet above sea level and commanding an extensive view of mountain scenery. Lake Pleasant is at the right, and Round Lake in front—only a few yards from the house. New boats have been placed on the lakes for rowing, in addition to which there are facilities for tennis, croquet, quoits, riding and driving, while fishing and hunting, in their season, are unsurpassed. Sportsmen will appreciate the fact that the New York State Hatchery is only three miles distant and that the neighboring streams and lakes are stocked from there. The rooms are large and comfortable, with ample closets.

The house has been thoroughly renovated, and the present management will cater to the comfort of its patrons and maintain a bountiful and excellent table. The atmosphere is pure and bracing, peculiarly adapted to the relief of hay fever, malaria and pulmonary troubles. New York Central railroads connect at Fonda with Fonda, Johnstown and Gloversville Railroad to Northville, N. Y., where stages meet the mid-day trains, from which point there is a most enjoyable and picturesque drive to Kunjamuck Inn. In writing for particulars, address, A. M. MacMartin, Sageville, Hamilton county, N. Y.

A Retired Minister's Handsome Home.

"Arbor Villa," the Dunellen home of the Rev. Dr. Todd, a retired minister, has just been entirely decorated throughout its interior by Winfield S. Chase, Jr., the artist, of this city. The wall papers used are principally hand made and all of quiet elegance. On the lower floor the cornices, centre pieces and brackets, are in neutral tints of water colors and bronzes, whose harmonizing effect is very pleasing. In the upper rooms, the tone of color and design, blends most pleasingly with the upholstery, hangings, rugs, etc., of each room. All the wood-work is finished in rich cherry, and mahogany—the whole making a very beautiful home.

Mr. Chase was very ably assisted in his selections of designs and coloring by the reverend gentleman's charming daughters, whose many beautiful canvasses adorn the walls of the parlors and studio. To their knowledge and kindly suggestions of color and effect, is due much of Mr. Chase's success in the completeness of the work.

New Laws.

The following bills have just been approved by the Governor:

Senate 89, amends act for the formation of borough governments; Senate 11, repealing the act of March, 1888, authorizing the issue of bonds for building county bridges; Senate 157, providing for the election of trustees in institutions of learning by members of the board; Senate 187, provides for the purchase of steam fire engines by all municipalities, and allows the levy of a special tax for that purpose; House 553, gives boards of freeholders power to elect a pro tem Director at Large; House 430, gives the municipal authorities in any municipality of the State power to build city halls on the grounds owned by them and to issue bonds not to exceed $40,000; House 105, provides that three-fourths of members of any board of freeholders may issue bonds not exceeding $250,000 to erect county lunatic asylums.

Yesterday's Shooting.

In consequence of other attractions on other club grounds at Marion and Newark, there was not a very large attendance on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club yesterday, to participate in the initial shoot of the season, under the management of Charley Smith. Some fine scores were made, however, at blue rocks, and a pleasant time enjoyed. The grounds have been put in fine condition, and next Tuesday, June 17, it is anticipated a large number of sportsmen will be present to participate in live bird shooting, of which there will be eleven events.

Of Interest to Grand Army Men.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., held a regular encampment last evening, with Commander Chas. B. Stephens in the chair. No business of especial importance was transacted, however, except the appointment of two details, one consisting of Messrs W. C. Smith, Geo. W. Moore and J. M. Atwood, to receive Post No, 114, of Philadelphia on June 28, and another one consisting of Messrs J. M. Atwood, J. E. Stewart and Geo. W. Moore to formulate plans for the organization of a contributary corps, to which honorary members will be admitted by a vote.

Another Boulevard Row.

Another free fight occurred on the Boulevard, between a lot of colored men, yesterday afternoon. The fight was the result of a dispute which originated on the Spooner Avenue ball grounds. The police are acquainted with the facts in the case, and are in possession of the names of the participants.

Men of brains originate, the unprincipled imitate. Counterfeit never has the true ring of the genuine. Wide-awake people refuse to be gulled. They insist on Hires' Root Beer, and are sure to get it.

Weary, worn and discouraged,
Heartsick and hopeless and sad;
Longing for help and comfort
When none can be had,—

Describes the condition of those persons who are said to be "going down hill," or "going into a decline." There is an indescribable weakness of the system, a general lack of vitality. They cannot tell what the matter is with them. They only know that they feel miserable in mind and body. They are gloomy and despondent. They have tried this and that remedy prescribed by their friends or doctors. They have failed to receive any benefit from them. They reach the conclusion that there is no help for them and that they must die. Now the fact is that the trouble originates, in nine cases out of ten, in impure blood. There is poisonous, effete matter in it that ought to be got rid of. But how can this be done? Simply by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which acts on the blood and various organs of the body in such a way that the man or woman using it seems to be made over—reconstructed. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

THE GREATEST BOOK SENSATION
OF THE AGE!
ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITTANNICA.

Wanamaker sells 500 COMPLETE SETS in 2½ days, (12,500 Books) at $1.50 per vol.

The monarch of cyclopædias; a library of universal knowledge. Exact reproduction of the latest (ninth, 1890) Edinburgh edition, with improved maps, at $1 50 a volume! Well printed on good paper, substantially and handsomely bound. The set will consist of twenty-five volumes, four of which will be ready this week. The entire set will probably be completed by December 1.

To let you know what a phenomenal opportunity this is we will sell volume 1 for sixty cents, without any agreement on your part to take the remainder of the set.

You can arrange to have the volumes delivered one or more (up to four) a month, and pay for them as received.

The first five hundred sets will be in superior binding and nothing extra to pay.

I am the authorized agent for Plainfield, and have just received 50 copies of volume 1, which can be seen at my store.

If you think of subscribing, do so quickly, as the number allotted to this city is limited.

AMONG THE COLLEGES

Wellesley's Tree Day Calls Out a Brilliant Assembly.

FLORAL GIFTS TO GRADUATES.

Vassar Formally Presented To-day With the New Gymnasium.

Closing Exercises at Princeton—The Freshmen Win the Caledonian Cup—Graduates at Union College—Columbia Commencement To-Night—Diplomas for Parker Graduates.

BOSTON, June 11.—Tree Day is to Wellesley College what class day is to institutions where the students are men.

The class of '90 devised for its celebration a reproduction by the college of Tennyson's "Princess." The classical poem furnished the text and the context. They gathered on the green sward in front of the main entrance to the college. Grouped in the form of an ampitheatre before the royal platform the dainty maidens made a rarely charming assembly.

First came a graceful procession of Greek maidens in classic garb of white and gold, each waving a golden staff. The sophomores assumed the garb of nuns and the juniors that of foresters. The costume of the latter was a green kirtle mantle and cap, and their emblems were the bow and quiver.

Over the lawn, from behind groves and around the corner of the college they came in many boats. Finally the seniors appeared in a rich and graceful costume of purple academic gowns over white and "mortar board." They were led by pages in yellow and purple.

All were grouped about a thrifty maple, the tree of the graduating class. The exercises here were interspersed with songs by the young ladies, and began with an address by the class president, Mrs. A. L. Pack, the Princess. Then came the presentation of a purple bouquet by Robin Hood as representative of the juniors. Floral gifts were offered by representatives of the special and the sophmores. Finally a graceful junior presents her golden staff to the Princess.

A learned oration by the Lady Blanche, Miss Ethel A. Glover, followed. She thought that man needed woman by his side so that both would mould the woman to the "perfect day."

A charming and poetical musical exercise was then led by the court poet, Miss Sarah Jane McNary. In response to the lofty thoughts of poesy the court minstrels uttered sweet strains of music.

An address to the undergraduates by Miss Mary Jennings Orton took a humorous turn. Following the manner of Dr. Amelia B. Edwards, the lecturer unearthed many unique archæological specimens, such as afternoon tea crackers, mathematical figures and many other relics known to college life.

A pretty scene followed, typifying that the class was indissolubly bound together in the exercises of noble hims. Miss Kate Dunlap then gave the "Ode to the Future."

VASSAR'S GREAT DAY.

Formal Presentation to the College of the New Gymnasium.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 11.—This city is full of visitors and Vassar College is en fete. The commencement exercises began at 10:30 this forenoon.

A prominent feature was the presentation to the college of the new gymnasium, the gift of the alumnæ. This building stands between the main building and the flower garden, facing west, and is built of red brick, with a tower at the southeast corner. The interior is divided into an exercise hall, a swimming tank and a large social hall, with a small stage. The latter apartment is adapted to lyceum uses and winter sports. This gynasium is said to be the largest and most completely provided of any woman's college in the country. The cost is about $36,000.

This evening a reception will be given by the trustees and faculty, and to-morrow there will be interesting ceremonies in a great tent on the campus. These ceremonies will consist of a cantata, composed by Dr. Frederick Louis Ritter, director of the college School of Music; an address by Judge W. Curtis, and a history of the college by Benson J. Lossing. A dinner will be given afterward by the college to the alumnæ and guests.

EXERCISES AT PRINCETON.

The Freshmen Won the Cup in the Caledonian Games.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 11.—The newly made civil engineers read their theses, and Professor Libbey gave a microscopic exhibition of the work done in his department. The Arnold Guyot memorial tablet was unveiled at 11 a. m., and at 1:30 o'clock the alumni dinner took place. The next exercise was the laying of the corner stone of Clio and Whig Hall.

Mrs. Susan Brown has given $100,000 to build another dormitory, which will be called "The David Brown Hall." The freshmen won the cup in the Caledonian games.

Packer Graduates.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 11.—The commencement exercises of the Packer Collegiate Institute took place in the chapel of the institute. There were 30 graduates who were presented with richly bound volumes of Prescott's "Ferdinand and Isabella" by President A. A. Low. This is Mr. Low's yearly custom. Tables extending the entire length of the gymnasium were covered with floral offerings from friends of the graduates.

College of the City of New York.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The commencement exercises of the College of the City of New York will be held at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday, June 19, at 8 o'clock. The Kelly prize debate takes place next Friday evening in the college chapel, and the prize speaking on Monday evening at Chickering Hall.

Columbia's Commencement To-Night.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Columbia's commencement will be held to-night at the Metropolitan Opera House at 8 o'clock. The seniors in the different schools will be graduated at the same time.

Railway Mail Service Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Postmaster-General appointed Edward J. Ryan superintendent of the First Division of the Railway Mail Service, vice W. H. Bigelow, deceased, and Spencer W. Shepardson assistant superintendent Railway Mail Service, vice Edward J. Ryan, promoted.

Valentine for Sergeant-at-Arms.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Republican members of the Senate at a caucus held last night chose ex-Representative Valentine of Nebraska to succeed W. P. Canaday as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The Manager Defeats the Actress.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Manager Harry Miner's suit against Mrs. James Brown Potter, to recover $2,438.40, which has been on trial for several days in the Supreme Court, ended in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed. The claim was for a balance of moneys advanced.

Duty on Tin Plates.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 11.—Sixty-one firms, manufacturers of and users of tin plate in Rhode Island, have petitioned Congress against any increase of duty on tin plates. They urge some reduction of the present duty.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

RAIDING SETTLERS

Marauding Cheyennes Again on the Warpath.

CITIZENS ASK FOR PROTECTION.

Governor Toole Sends a Thousand Stand of Arms to the Scene.

Cattle Shot Down by the Indians Through Pure Malice—Frontiersmen Fleeing to the Settlements—Their Houses Fired Into—Trouble Expected from the Sioux. A General Uprising Predicted.

HELENA, Mont., June 11.—The Cheyenne Indians are on the warpath. They have left their regular camps and are gathering in small camps of from fifteen to twenty-five in the tepees, and are firing at settlers' houses and making the most threatening demonstrations. Ranchmen have been bringing their families into the settlement all day.

Cattle are being shot down by Indians through pure malice, as no parts of the animals are used for beef. Eighteen cattle were shot in one bunch on Otter Creek.

Governor Toole received a dispatch signed by ten prominent citizens of Miles City requesting that he send 1,000 stand of arms and amunition. In reply arms and amunition were sent forward in charge of Col. C. O. Curtis. One troop of cavalry and two of infantry have been sent from Fort Keogh to the Cheyenne Agency.

Reports from Ashland are that a lot of Northern Cheyennes are putting on war paint and sending runners to Standing Rock and Pine Ridge to induce the Sioux to join them. One of the runners, who was intercepted, acknowledged that a general Cheyenne movement is on foot and that operations were expected to reach as far east as the Rosebud Agency. Every butte in Custer County is a signal station for the Cheyennes, and their information and instructions are sent out with wonderful rapidity and accuracy. The Indians openly assert that they have doomed Indian Agent R. L. Upshaw, and he must feel their vengeance. Sioux Indians traveling singly and in pairs, with long strings of ponies, have been intercepted coming from the direction of the Missouri River agencies and headed for the Cheyenne agency.

HIS LAST HOPE GONE.

Judge Wallace Vacates the Writ of Habeas Corpus in Kemmler's Case.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 12.—Judge Wallace, on motion of Attorney-General Tabor, has vacated and dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in William Kemmler's case. The Attorney-General appeared for the agent and warden of Auburn Prison.

In the judge's order he recites the facts of issuing of the writ, and now since the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the sentence under which Kemmler is held in due process of law, and that he is not held and detained contrary to the Constitution of the United States, the writ is recalled and dismissed, and Kemmler remanded to the agent and Warden Durston's custody, in order that the judgment of the Court of Oyer and Terminer may be duly executed.

Cut Down the Force.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The strike at Greenpoint, Long Island, of the three hundred employes of Abendrath & Root has been amicably settled on the basis of putting half the men to work on full time and laying off the remainder. All of the men returned this morning to work the three days of the present week. The firm is compelled to cut down the force because of the overstock on hand. It will re-employ those that are laid off as soon as business revives.

Shot His Child Dead.

PALMER, Mass., June 12.—Edward F. Costello, a brakeman employed by the New London Northern Railroad, instantly killed his little son, 19 months old, while the child lay asleep in its cradle. He stood directly over the boy and shot him, the bullet entering the breast. Costello then fired three shots at his wife, one striking her corset steel, which saved her life. Domestic trouble was the cause.

Natural Gas Explosion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 12.—By an explosion of natural gas which had leaked into the cellar at No. 19 Pike street, Allegheny, Mrs. Kipp, about 70 years of age, and her granddaughter Lizzie, 16 years of age, were so badly burned that they died. Mrs. Kipp and the girl entered the cellar and struck a match to light a lamp, when the explosion threw them up the stairs.

Editor Cowles Improving.

MONTREAL, June 12.—The condition of Cowles shows some improvement today. The physicians appointed by the court to examine him have decided that he is able to make a deposition. Accordingly Judge Desnoyers proceeded to the hospital and took his sworn statement. It will be laid before the grand jury. Hale is still out on parole.

Marvellous Escape from Death.

KEARNEY, N. J., June 12.—Annie Shields, 17 years old, employed in the Marshall Thread Works, was struck by a train on the Erie Railroad and hurled down an embankment a distance of thirty feet. Strange to say, she was not injured.

Syracuse to Hear Depew.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 12.—Chauncey M. Depew is to make the dedicatory address of the permanent grounds of the State Agricultural Society here in September.

A CLEVER THIEF CAUGHT.

The Notorious Rev. Joseph La Garse Arrested in Boston.

BOSTON, June 12.—The Rev. Joseph La Garse, with half a dozen aliases, the notorious thief and confidence man who operated through New England and Canada about two years ago was arrested here charged with the larceny of $125 worth of jewelry from a Mrs. Zeuss nearly a year ago. La Garse went to her house as a priest, stopped a few days, and then went away, leaving behind his vestments and taking the landlady's jewelry. Since then he has operated all through Northern New England, and has served sentences aggregating 18 months for various misdemeanors.

La Garse claims to be a member of the Dominican Brotherhood, and has the robe and outfit of the order. His dupes are numbered by the dozen. A favorite trick of his was to enter a jewelry store, and on the strength of his appearance have a lot of jewelry sent to his hotel, whence he and the jewelry would immediately depart. He has successfully operated in this way a number of times.

MUST LEAVE THE UNION.

A Railroad President Issues an Order to Telegraph Operators.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 12.—General Manager Hallstead, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, issued an order all along the line, directing the company's telegraphers to withdraw from the Order of Railway Telegraphers of North America, which they had recently joined. Hr. Hallstead had but recently favored the organization and encouraged the district organizer.

His action was based on his dislike to the rule of the telegraphers' union that "no member shall teach the art of telegraphy to any person without permission from the superintendent or chief operator of the road upon which the member is employed and the consent of the Grand Chief Telegraper, attested by the Grand Secretary under seal of the Grand Division."

Mr. Hallstead regards this rule as an interference in his business that he could not tolerate, and says this is why he rescinded the permission given by him a short time ago to the telegraphers on his road to join the order. It is claimed by the telegraphers' order that it has a membership of 37,000, and that it is non-striking and non-political.

Jockey Garrison's Narrow Escape.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Snapper" Garrison had a marvelous escape from death at Morris Park. He had the mount on Brother Ban in the second race, and in coming down the stretch the horse dropped dead, probably from over-exertion. Garrison was thrown to the ground, but beyond a few bruises was uninjured. Luckily Brother Ban was in the rear when the accident occurred. Had he been up with the bunch Garrison would probably have been trampled to death.

College Boat Racing.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 12.—The first college boat race on the Thames course will be rowed Tuesday, June 24, between Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania freshmen. The Columbias have been here a week in active practice, and are the only crew yet arrived. The others named also Yale and Harvard, will be here by Saturday.

The Synod Opposed to Union.

NEW YORK, June 12.—At the morning session of the Reformed Presbyterian synod the vote on the adoption of the report of the Committee on Union was taken. It was as follows: Ayes 129, noes 17, absent 25 not voting. The committee's report was against a union with other branches of the denomination.

Severe Hail and Wind Storm.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 12.—A severe hail and wind storm passed over the entire Cumberland Valley last night, doing considerable damage to the growing crops. Hail fell in large quantities. From the reports received here from the surrounding country, the damage to property was heavy.

Medical Men Holding a Convention.

BELVIDERE, N. J., June 12.—The members of the New Jersey State Medical Society are in session at Schooley's Mountain. Well-known physicians are present, and officers are to be elected. The sessions are enlivened by the reading of able papers.

A Prominent Lawyer Dead.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 12.—Judge Oliver Prescott, one of the best known lawyers of Southern Massachusetts, died at his home here, aged 84 years. He had been judge of the police court for New Bedford, and judge of probate for Bristol County.

The Lottery Must Go.

NEW ORLEANS, June 12.—The lottery people admit the defeat of their bill. The committee to which was it referred will report against it. This is an unexpected blow to the lottery people, who admit that they are in the last ditch.

A Skiff Overturned.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 12.—A skiff containing two workmen, employed on Frank Jones' farm at Freeman's Point, embarked and was overturned by a strong current. Charles Clarke, aged 26 was drowned. The other man reached the shore.

American Protestant Association.

CHICAGO, June 12.—A thousand delegates from the American Protestant Association, representing nearly every State in the Union, met at the fortieth annual convention of the organization in the morning, John Wilson, of Pittsburg, presiding. The public schools will be the main subject of the discussion.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Tariff Bill to be Reported on Monday.

DEBATE TO LAST OVER A MONTH

Senator Carlisle Expected to Prepare the Minority Report.

The Dependent Pension Bill Passed—Counting the Census To-Day—Pugilist Sullivan to Amuse Congressmen—The Federal Election Law—Work of the Brotherhood of Brakemen.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Tariff bill is to be reported to the Senate by Monday. The Democratic members of the committee have received a few of the schedules and do not find in these any material changes. The more important schedules are to come to them yet. The minority will require a week or ten days after they receive the completed bill to prepare their adverse report on it.

The Republicans of the committee will have also to prepare the schedule of reasons for changes from the present law, which the Senate, on Mr. Plumb's motion, ordered.

It is probable that the debate will not begin much before July 1, and it will last a month. The Democrats do not propose to present a bill, but will prepare themselves to ask questions about the Republican bill. Mr. Carlisle is to prepare the minority report.

The Republicans are now confident that they can enact a tariff law at this session. The pressure to do this is very strong.

MILLIONS FOR VETERANS.

The Conference Report on the General Pension Bill Passed by the House.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The House took up for consideration the conference report on the general pension bill. Aftet a short debate the bill passed by a vote of 119 to 76. There is no telling how much money the bill will take, but it will be a large amount.

The bill as it stands will give a pension of from six to twelve dollars a month to every soldier or sailor of the late war who is now disabled, through any cause, or who may hereafter become disabled.

The widows of all soldiers whose marriages ante-date the passage of this bill will be entitled to a pension of $12 a month.

The House Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The House Silver bill was reported back to the Senate by the Committee on Finance with important amendments. The provision in the bill making the certificates to be issued legal tender is struck out; also the provision making the certificates redeemable in bullion on demand at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury; also the section providing that when the market price of silver is $1 for 371.26 grains silver it shall be lawful to receive bullion for coinage and purchase of silver bullion shall be suspended. A new provision was added limiting the operation of the proposed new law to ten years from the date on which it takes effect.

Safety for Brakemen.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Brotherhood of Railway Brakemen is now at work on the House Committee on Railways and Canals, as it has been with the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, and will probably secure a favorable report upon the bill requiring railway companies to use safety appliances for coupling and brakes on freight cars. The committee is not disposed to go as far as Mr. Coffin, the agent of the Brotherhood, desires, and they are likely to report some kind of a bill.

Sullivan to Amuse Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—John L. Sullivan wants a vindication after the insult tendered him by Editor Bromley, and has made arrangements for a Congressional reception in this city for next week. The place will be the new Columbia Athletic Club house, and he invites any Congressman to stand up before him one or more rounds; if none accepts the invitation he intends to give them an exhibition in sparring with Joe Lannon and other pugilists, with Congressmen as spectators.

Supported by New York Merchants.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A delegation of New York financiers and capitalists, of which Charles S. Smith, President of the Chamber of Commerce, is Chairman, some of the prominent members being Cornelius S. Bliss and John H. Inman, are in the city to urge upon the Senate Committe on Commerce the necessity of defending the Mississippi Valley from overflow. They will also have an interview with the President on the subject.

Speaker Reed's Committee Appointment.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Speaker Reed announces the appointment of Mr. Mills, of Texas, as a member of the Committee on Rules, and Mr. Turner, of Georgia, as a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, to fill vacancies occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Carlisle of Kentucky.

The Counting of the Census Begun.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The officials counting of the census began at the Census Bureau to-day. Forty-two districts in New York are already in, and these will form the commencement of the work.

"Fritz" Emmet Located.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Fritz" Emmet, the actor, is quartered at a boarding house at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, under the care of a physician and nurse.

BY THE WAY.

—Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet in regular session at 8 o'clock this evening, in Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall.

—It is said that two of the butchers in this city have given up business on account of the scarcity and high price of ice.

—The 1st class of the Washington school, played a game with the 2d class and defeated them by a score of 13 to 6, yesterday.

—Don't forget the strawberry festival at Bethel chapel to-night. A fine orchestra will dispense music and you will have a good time.

—Several new houses are in course of erection at Dunellen, which goes to show that there is some activity in the building line at that place.

—The usual mid-week meeting of the Reform Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, to attend which everybody will receive cordial welcome.

—A regular meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association was held in Firemen's Hall, last evening, but the business transacted was only of a routine nature.

—Complaint is made of the dangerous condition of a strip of board walk on Richmond street, near Third. The owner of the premises should attend to the matter without delay.

—Messrs Lyman & Anthony, of 61 North avenue, are agents for a remarkably fine line of insurance companies, and are placing some of the largest risks in the city and borough.

—The First anniversary exercises of the Celestial Crescent Lodge, No. 51, I. O. of G. S., and D. of S., of this city, will take place in St. Mary's T. A. B. Hall, on Thursday evening, June 26.

—During Friday night of last week some miscreant poisoned a valuable black and tan dog, belonging to Mr. George Demler, proprietor of Demler's Hotel in the "Notch," on Somerset street.

—A canopy tea under the auspices of the Kitchen Garden of the W. C. T. U., will be held on the lawn at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street, on Tuesday, June 17, from 3:30 to 10 o'clock P. M.

—The contract has been awarded A. M. Griffen for the plumbing in William Sandford's elegant residence at Sandford avenue and Front street, which is to eclipse some of the handsomest homes already erected in this city and borough.

—The Rev. Father Stafford of St. Mary's church has invited the Catholic young men of the city to attend a meeting in the Parochial school hall this evening at eight o'clock, to consider the matter of forming a Catholic Young Men's Union.

—Complaint has been made to the effect that a number of young men and boys are in the habit of assembling under the sheds in the rear of George R. Pound's fat trying establishment, and playing cards for money. The police will abate the nuisance.

—The farmers in this vicinity predict a plentiful supply of quail next season. They are already breeding, the season being earlier than usual. Large coveys have been seen in various parts of the country and the sportsmen are directing covetous eyes towards them.

Almost a Runaway.

Mr. Robert H. Cook and his entire family were seated in a canopy top surrey, driving along Rock View avenue, North Plainfield, early last evening, when his handsome team of horses became frightened at some children springing from behind a roller which stood by the roadside, just as Mr. Cook turned into Grove street. The animals commenced to back up, but the driver kept them under perfect control until the neck yoke broke, allowing the pole to drop.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Cook and the children had alighted safely on the ground, and after backing around a few times Mr. Cook brought the horses in contact with a telephone pole, and stopped them. Aside from breaking the pole, the damage to the wagon was trifling.

The accident created considerable excitement, but no one was injured.

Concerning the Y. M. C. A. Building.

In referring to the Y. M. C. A. Buildings in New Jersey, the Signal published at Asbury Park, says: "Plainfield, with $33,000 in hand, and about $10,000 more that its good people are anxious to give besides when they get just ready, expects to adopt plans and break ground this Fall."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Theodore Bailey and mother of Brooklyn, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hope of Third and Richmond streets.

Mr. John C. VanDyke, Jr., of West Second street, left last Thursday for the far West, where he will seek health and recreation.

At Annandale, yesterday, occurred the marriage of Mr. Wm. Grannatt, Jr., of this city, and Miss Mamie Prue, of the former place. The Rev. J. P. Taylor of this city officiated.

Miss Maude Bowers and Miss Gertrude Marchand, will give a literary recital at Seminary Hall, this evening. The New York College banjo club, will also contribute to the programme.

Upon invitation from Mr. F. E. Miller, Mayor Male, Corporation Counsel Marsh, Clerk Coward, and the members of the City Council will dine at Hotel Netherwood to-morrow evening at seven o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, aged 32 years, of Newton Centre, Mass., died in North Plainfield, today, of epilepsy. She had been a victim of the disease for some years, and was living here for treatment. The remains will be sent to her former home.

The Misses Minnie, Carrie and Ida Hammond, and Mr. Robert Yarwood, of Brooklyn, and Mr. W. C. Hammond, of Washington, D. C.—who is a yeoman on the U. S. Steamship "Essex"—have been the guests for a few days, of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaerth.

Many Plainfield citizens were among the large audience at the Tabernacle Convention in New York city, yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Tomlinson, Dr. Utter, Geo. Opdyke, Ethan Lanphere and the Rev. C. B. Mitchell occupied prominent place on the platform.

Mr. Henry J. Sayers, manager for George Thatcher's Minstrels, and Mr. Harris, of the wealthy Boston firm of Rich & Harris—who own the Athenæum of that city and a large lot of other valuable theatrical property and investments—were today the guests of Mr. Thatcher at his home in this city.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Welch, who have been making a brief visit since their wedding trip, with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McGee, left this morning for their permanent home at Bedford Station, New York, where Mr. Welch has a rapidly growing parish who hold him in exceptionally high esteem.

The Central Times states: "The wedding of Miss Adaline Louise Gardner and Walter Irving Clarke will occur on Thursday, June 26, in the First Presbyterian church at Asbury Park. Only a select circle of relatives and friends will witness the ceremony. Rev. Dr. Chandler, the pastor of the church, will officiate. Mr. Clarke is favorably known in journalistic circles."

Why Don't You Print Our Argument, as We Printed Yours.

We observe that our young contemporary, The Daily Press, doesn't like the figures which the Times is producing from time to time from the police court records to show the work the open saloon is giving the Plainfield authorities to do. They cannot, however, be explained away on any such line of argument as The Press follows. The figures are an appalling illustration of what the licensed liquor traffic is doing in this city which boasts of its righteousness, and yet they do not begin to tell all the tale.—Central Times.

But we did like the Times' figures—republished them and offered our congratulations. At the same time we stated a simple fact in answer to the argument that more arrests were made for drunkenness in 1890 than in 1889. That fact is:

Those who are in jail today from Plainfield for drunkenness, were in jail last year for the same offence, from North Plainfield.

The Marriage of Miss Darling and Mr. Lowry.

At seven o'clock last evening, at the home of the bride's father, John Darling, on Prospect place, took place the marriage of Elizabeth Darling and Robert Lowry, Jr. The groom's father, the Rev. Dr. Lowry, performed the ceremony; and the Rev. Mr. Locksley, of Philadelphia, an uncle of the groom, pronounced the benediction.

The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling dress. Only the most intimate friends were present, with the immediate relatives of the couple. The rooms were fragrant with floral decorations. After a bridal supper, Mr and Mrs. Lowry left for New York on the 8:30 train. They will probably include Niagara Falls in their wedding trip.

The Sneak News Paper Still at It.

Tuesday's news was full of Monday's news stolen bodily from THE PRESS of the day before. Among such items were:

The meeting of the Board of Education with Dr. Hurlbut in the chair;

The adoption of a design for Plainfield's Soldiers Monument, and the description of it;

The departure of the Rev. Cornelius Schenck as a delegate to the Christian Endeavor Convention at St. Louis;

The result of Postmaster Force's fishing trip to Hopatcong;

The Connoisseur Clam Club's Sunday excursion from this city, and Mrs. S. R. Struthers absence in the Catskill mountains.

Men of brains originate, the unprincipled imitate. Counterfeit never has the true ring of the genuine. Wide-awake people refuse to be gulled. They insist on Hires' Root Beer, and are sure to get it.

FLAG RAISING AT WASHINGTONVILLE.

A Former North Plainfield Miss Captures the Flag Offered by the "Youths' Companion" Publishing Company for the Best Written Essay on the Influence the United States Flag Has Over the Children—The Essay in Full and a Detailed Account of the Exercises.

Several months ago the Youths' Companion Publishing Company offered as a prize a handsome flag for the best written essay on "What Influence has the United States Flag over the children, floating from every school house." The essays were limited to something like 500 words each, and every public school in the State was invited to take part in the contest. One of the many schools which sent essays in competition was the public school at Warrenville, in Washington Valley, and the writer of the essay was Miss Elizabeth Gray Austin, a former pupil in the North Plainfield public school, but now a resident of Warrenville. Miss Austin won the flag, and a few days ago it was forwarded to the school.

Yesterday the flag was floated from a fifty-foot pole erected in front of the school house, with appropriate exercises, which took place in the open air On an improvised platform erected and prettily decorated for the occasion, sat the Rev. George Bowers, pastor of the Mt. Bethel church, school trustees Geo. Kurz and W. H. Toms, and Mr. W. A. Coddington, the speaker, of this city. Miss Mamie O'Connell, the courteous and efficient instructor in the school, presided at the organ, and trustee W. H. Toms announced the numbers from an informal programme, beginning with the song: "America," by the school. Miss Austin, who is only 15, then read her

PRIZE ESSAY.

The school-house is the children's castle. Everything within and around it is peculiarly their own. Place a flag there and a feeling of proprietorship is awakened and the germ of patriotism is planted. To the little ones on first going to school, it is a picture lesson. They are attracted by its bright colors and the beauty of its waving lines, and when they sing, in this nursery of patriotism, the public school, "God bless our Flag," they know a real, tangible, existing flag is floating over them with lovely benediction.

As they grow physically and mentally stronger, the daily contact with the flag, combined with the study of history, makes the girls and boys thoughtful, and a deeper meaning is aroused within them. Thirteen States and thirteen stripes, of which blood was the price! Thousands of homes were made desolate that we might become a nation and have a flag which now becomes to them the symbol of union and liberty. And this is not confined to any one section, all the children of our broad land will be influenced in the same direction. An unconscious, abiding and moral influence growing with their growth and strengthening with their strength.

And now our flag, emblazoned with its forty-two stars, representing the prosperity, strength and vigor of our young republic, under whose free government we enjoy the advantages of education, is regarded by the growing boys and girls with pride and loyalty, a comradeship, for does it not float freely to the breeze, rejoicing with us on our gala anniversaries, and at half-mast weeps with us over the graves of the loyal and true? Ten years from now the influence of having a flag floating from every school house will be felt, and become a power to be respected and feared.

Thousands and thousands of sturdy young voters will become honest, loyal citizens, whose highest ambition will be to keep their school-day flag, their country's flag, unspotted before the World, frowning down bribery, corruption or cheating, being jealous of everything that will tarnish or disgrace it.

And then again, let a foreign foe insult our grand old flag, every man and woman of every city, town and hamlet, of the North, South, East and West, will stand up in its defence, for have they not been taught to love, respect and revere it every day of their school life? "God bless our darling old flag."

ELIZABETH GRAY AUSTIN.

Mr. W. A. Coddington of this city was then introduced and delivered an interesting and profitable address, reviewing briefly the history of the flag and telling the scholars of its significance. He admonished the pupils to be loyal to their country and to show a patriotic spirit at all times. Mr. Coddington also spoke of the progress which has been made in the Warrenville school under the tutorship of Miss O'Connor, and he impressed upon the scholars' minds the necessity of assisting her in her labors.

The Rev. Mr. Bowers followed with a short address, a vote of thanks was extended to the principal, and after the school sang "Marching Through Georgia," the exercises came to an end.

Took a "Header."

Mr. Albert Obitz of North Plainfield, took a "header" from his bicycle on West Seventh street, Tuesday afternoon, from the effects of which he is yet suffering. The young man was returning from a fishing expedition to New Market.

—Last night's shower was a welcome visitor, as it served to lay the dust and to cool off the atmosphere.

He Probably Wants Damages.

George Sadler still complains of a stiffness in his right leg, a swelling of his right hand and a continual pricking under his right ear, which he says comes from the electric shock that killed John Chandler's horse. Sadler, who was driving the horse when it fell, seized the bridle to raise the animal. He says he was immediately thrown up in the air and turned completely over.

—The days are now five hours longer than the shortest days of Winter, there now being fourteen hours of daylight, but they are yet too short to allow a poor man to earn enough to buy a ten pound chunck of ice.

"For a long time I had no appetite, was restless at night, and very much debilitated. After taking two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my strength and appetite returned, and my health was completely restored."—D. M. Fisher, Oswego, N. Y.

Save Your Hair

BY a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fullness, and beauty of the hair.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew

Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has caused my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Bishopville, Md.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

HE NAMES HIS NAMESAKE'S TWINS.

"Baby McKee," the Boy, Thinks it Would be Nice to Call "Baby McKee," the Bird's, Little Ones, "Jack & Jill."

Some days ago when THE PRESS news service homing pigeon, "Baby McKee," made a wonderful jump of 170 miles and came home before some of the rest in an interstate federation race, a copy of this paper containing an account of the event was mailed to Master Benj. Harrison Mc Kee, at Washington. Word was also sent at the time that the Bird was the proud father of twin youngsters, and the desire was expressed that the Boy would name them. The following letter tells the rest of the story:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington.

Mr. J. A. Demarest:

DEAR SIR—Your note enclosing cuttings about the news bird, "Baby McKee," is received, and as you request an exchange of photographs between the bird and the baby—or rather bird and boy—I send one taken about a year ago.

We were interested to hear of the success of the bird's flight, and, as you desire Benjamin to name the two young pigeons, he thinks it would be nice to call them "Jack & Jill."

I am, Very Truly Yours,
MARY HARRISON MCKEE.

The Best Endorsement in the World.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—A party is now being organized to attend Mr. Moody's school for Bible study in July. As it has been my pleasure to attend this gathering during the past two years, I feel that I ought to let our people know what an opportunity they have of combining pleasure with profit, by spending part of their vacation at this delightful spot. It is not merely a continuous religious meeting, Every one is at liberty to go to any meeting or to stay away from it, so that each can devote whatever time he pleases to recreation. I notice that Mr. Moody will speak every day at the school this season, and that means a great deal to those who hear him. Last Summer 300 young men used to meet at 6 A. M., and listen to him for an hour. Besides the regular addresses there will be Bible Training classes conducted by competent leaders, and nearly all phases of Christian work will be discussed. The expense is so slight that none ought to be kept away on that account. The mere contact with 500 strong young men, many of whom are soon to go to foreign fields, is an inspiration and will quicken the spiritual life of any who go to Northfield.

WM. D. MURRAY.

The Doctor Lies Down With the Pharmacist.

At the 125th meeting of the New Jersey Medical Society, held at Schooley's Mountain, during Tuesday and Wednesday, there was no doctor present from Plainfield. But an incident of the meeting worthy of remark was the presence for the first time of a delegate from the State Pharmaceutical Association. That delegate was H. P. Reynolds of this city.

Contrary to what might have been expected—considering the strained relations that are supposed to exist between the doctor and the pharmacist wherever there may seem to be a business competition—the Pharmaceutical Association's delegate was warmly received by the Medical Society. His address was attentively listened to, much interest aroused during its delivery, and sincere congratulations were tendered the speaker at its close. Dr. Green, of Elizabeth, was elected President of the society for the ensuing year. Adjournment was taken without choosing a place for next year's meeting.

Ex-Councilman Marsh Before the Vice Chancellor.

At Newark, on Tuesday morning, ex-Councilman Francis E. Marsh of this city made a motion before Vice Chancellor Van Fleet to amend a fieri facias issued by the Court of Chancery for the sale of certain land, on the ground that the fieri facias, the advertisement of sale and the Sheriff's deed only called for twenty feet front, when it should have been twenty-one feet front. The Vice Chancellor said he could understand how the fieri facias could be amended, but the court could not amend the advertisement and deed. The motion was denied.

Why They Lost the Game.

The Hackett-Carharts, who are to play the Crescents here next Saturday, beat the Rahway team a week ago Saturday by the score of 5 to 0. A Rahway paper thus accounts for the defeat:

Rahway entered the fight crippled by the unexplained absence of Gregg, heretofore one of the most reliable members of the team, and when it was learned that he was pitching for the Plainfield Crescents, the criticisms heaped upon him were many and severe, as they certainly deserved to be. As no "extra" was on hand either the manager was forced to avail himself of the best he could get.

Gregg will be with the Plainfielders on Saturday, as usual.

Captured 8,000 Bottles.

Special Agent Hayes of the Newark Bottlers' Association, says the Elizabeth Herald, raided several bottlers at Plainfield on Tuesday, and captured 8,000 bottles belonging to members of the Bottlers' Associations of New York, Newark and this city.

A box of Ayer's Pills has saved many a fit of sickness. When a remedy does not happen to be within reach, people are liable to neglect slight ailments and, of course, if serious illness follows they have to suffer the consequences. "A stitch in time saves nine."

We Were Rather Ahead of the Senator.

As Senator McPherson was always right, THE PRESS has never before had a reason to dispute a point with him. But an occasion has arisen where we must in justice deny an unintentionally incorrect statement of fact, on his part.

He claims that he was the first to publicly nominate Grover Cleveland for President in 1892; and that he so nominated him in a speech delivered in this city. The facts of this matter are: Senator McPherson made such speech, if we are not mistaken, some weeks, if not months, after Mr. Cleveland vacated the Presidential chair; while on Wednesday, March 6, 1889, two days after President Harrison's inauguration, THE PRESS printed a big streamer with these words:

For President in 1892, Cleveland!

and displayed it on high at the station in the afternoon when the special train from Washington passed, conveying Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland to New York.

The Great Century Run.

On Saturday next, at four A. M., the cyclers of New Jersey and New York will start from the Continental Hotel in Newark on their annual "century" run from Newark to Philadelphia. The number of participants will be greater than ever before, and each club is trying to outdo the other, as the one having the largest representation in the run will get a handsome silk banner. The bicyclers will reach this city in time for breakfast, which will be eaten at the rooms of the Plainfield Bicycle Club at 5:45 A. M. Leaving there at 7 and passing through Bound Brook at 8:15 the bicyclists will reach Somerville at 9. There a rest will be taken. They will reach Hopewell at 11:50. Trenton will be reached at half-past one P. M., and after a dinner the run to Philadelphia will be made by seven o'clock. The return will be made by train on Sunday afternoon. Captain F. L. C. Martin of the local club, will pilot the riders as far as Somerville.

To-night at Reform Hall.

There will be an interesting programme at Reform Hall, this evening, to which all are most cordially invited. The order of exercises will be as follows:

Duett by Miss Edna Bay Park and Miss Mabilla Park.

Question—"Who is the author of the best Religious and Temperance Songs?" Answered by Miss Florence Hawkins.

Question—"What is the size of our National standing army? What is its annual expense to the State? What are its condition of service? How filled?" Answered by M. F. Marcley.

Question for debate—"Which will advance the cause of temperance the most? Be temperate yourself, or help and assist those who are striving to live a temperate life."

Extension of Dining Car Service on the Pennsylvania Lines.

In these days of hurry and rapid transit the dining car has become an essential element of every through train. The Pennsylvania Railroad was the pioneer in the East of this branch of the service, and its dining cars have won a well merited reputation among travelers. In order to better provide for the comfort of its through passengers, dining cars will, on and after June 16, be added to the equipment of all through trains running over lines West of Pittsburgh between the East and Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis. The principal trains on the lines East of Pittsburgh are now equipped with these cars, and their addition to those of the Western territory will greatly enhance the convenience of passengers destined to the three great termini.

Arrested for Interfering With the Officer.

Officers Giesse and Kiely went to Day's saloon on the Boulevard, last evening, to serve a warrant on a young man named Dowd, who is charged with creating a disturbance on Tuesday. When the officers approached the place, Dowd seeing them, ran through the barroom and made his escape, being assisted it is said, by one James, alias "Buck" Day. The latter was arrested, however, for aiding Dowd in his escape, and for interfering with the officers in the discharge of their duties.

The prisoner was locked up, but he was subsequently released in the sum of $100 bail to appear for a hearing on Tuesday morning next.

"Cupid's Frolic."

The "rattling, roillicking, roaring farce comedy," entitled "Cupid's Frolic," as the bill boards facetiously announce, will be given at the Amphion on Monday evening, by the DeWier Comedy company. This company is well and favorably known, and is composed of such people as A. A. Mallon, late of Wallack's Theatre, N. Y., Miss Mabel Irving, E. B. Howard, late of Carncross' Minstrels, Robert Ellerton, the Irish comedian, Miss May Arlington, the soubrette, and others.

The play is in three acts and is replete with laughable situations and inimitable dialogue. Popular prices will govern.

A Bare Story.

Wm. Grattan, private secretary for ex-Councilman John Simpson, tells a PRESS reporter that he recently missed some lambs from the farm and built a bear trap in consequence with an electric attachment of warning.

The other night the bell rang, but it was too dark for bear hunting and Grattan waited until morning. He says "I then found a big grizzly in the trap, and its there now!"

Weary, worn and discouraged,
Heartsick and hopeless and sad;
Longing for help and comfort
When none can be had,—

Describes the condition of those persons who are said to be "going down hill," or "going into a decline." There is an indescribable weakness of the system, a general lack of vitality. They cannot tell what the matter is with them. They only know that they feel miserable in mind and body. They are gloomy and despondent. They have tried this and that remedy prescribed by their friends or doctors. They have failed to receive any benefit from them. They reach the conclusion that there is no help for them and that they must die. Now the fact is that the trouble originates, in nine cases out of ten, in impure blood. There is poisonous, effete matter in it that ought to be got rid of. But how can this be done? Simply by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which acts on the blood and various organs of the body in such a way that the man or woman using it seems to be made over—reconstructed. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

INSULTING THE FLAG

An Ontario Official Objects to the Stars and Stripes.

THE FLAG NOT HAULED DOWN.

The Order Causes a Ripple of Excitement in Kingston.

The British Officer Tries to Explain—He Did Not Like to See Dominion Soldiers on a Steamer Carrying the Stars and Stripes—The Owners of the Vessel Kept the Fing Waving.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 12.—Quite a ripple of excitement was created at the ferry wharf by an attempt on the part of Col. Cotton to prevent an excursion party boarding the American steamer St. Lawrence until she had lowered the Stars and Stripes.

A few days ago the management of the steamer received permission from the Canadian Government to call at Canadian ports down the St. Lawrence River to collect excursionists. The boat was engaged by the Canadian Order of Foresters for an excursion to the Thousand Islands. Among those most prominent in the party was Mayor Brennan, of this city, who had engaged Battery A. band to escort the excursionists. When about to board the boat the mayor was informed by Col. Cotton that he must not board the steamer until the American flag was hauled down. This order caused great commotion among the Foresters and their friends.

The owners of the steamer, however, after being consulted, refused to obey the order, and so informed Col. Cotton. The American flag was flying at the end of the steamer's bowsprit and the Union Jack at the top of the staff at the bow of the boat, and the Stars and Stripes also predominated at the stern.

Col. Cotton was interviewed by a reporter and said, with reference to the matter of allowing the men to land in American ports wearing British military uniforms:

"It is against the regulations governing British troops and I objected; I found out afterwards that it was not intended to land the men, and when I learned that the American flag was flying in a conspicuous place on the steamer I objected to allowing members of the band to go on board because I did not think it would look right to see a body of British troops being conveyed through the Thousand Islands on a steamer carrying the Stars and Stripes at her stern. There would have been nothing wrong in the men going with the excursion as civilians."

Col. Cotton added: "I am sorry there has been any trouble over the matter. A peaceful understanding could have been arrived at had the flags been lowered before the boat left port. Of course, we did not own the boat and could not compel the owners to lower the flag. I therefore refused to allow the band to go on board."

EDITOR O'BRIEN'S MARRIAGE.

A Distinguished Company Witness the Ceremony in London.

LONDON, June 12.—Editor Wm. O'Brien, Member of Parliament for Cork, and Mlle. Raffalovitch, daughter of the distinguished Paris banker, were married at the Church of St. Charles Borromeo, Archbishop Croke of Cashel officiating.

Elaborate decorations of cut flowers and growing plants were scattered in profusion through the church.

The church was filled to the extent of its capacity, the guests including Herbert Gladstone, a large majority of the Parnellite members of Parliament, many English members, a number of prominent French residents of London and a great gathering of ladies.

Mr. O'Brien was late in arriving and looked pale and worn as he took his place at the altar by the side of his bride, who, although she is commonly described as tall, lithe and beautiful, is really short, dark and undeniably homely. Mr. Dillon bore his part as groomsman perfectly, and contributed greatly to the smoothness with which the affair was conducted. Three little girls acted as maids of honor.

Mr. Parnell looked ruddy and appeared to be in excellent health and spirits. As he entered the church he was greeted with subdued applause.

The mass was celebrated with the accompaniment of a full orchestra, producing a magnificent effect. Archbishop Croke delivered a brief address to the wedded pair, after which Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien held an informal reception in the chancel. Everybody crowded to the front to offer congratulations, and for a time the crush was so great that it was impossible for anyone to leave the church.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left for Paris, where they will pass the honeymoon.

Great Loss of Life.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—The news has reached here of a disastrous fire, accompanied by a great loss of life and property, at Ufaleisk and Newjansk in the Ural Mountain mining district. The magazines, iron works, four schoolhouses, three churches and a thousand dwelling houses were destroyed. Forty persons lost their lives and eighteen thousand were rendered homeless by the disaster.

Anti-Slavery Conference.

BRUSSELS, June 12.—It is expected that the American delegates to the Anti-Slavery Conference will receive final instruction from Washington tomorrow and that the conference will adjourn sine die next week.

Universalists Against the Liquor Seller.

READING, Pa., June 12.—In the Universalist Convention resolutions were passed deploring the terrible effects of intemperance, asking ministers to use only the unfermented juice of the grape at communion, and declaring that persons engaged in the liquor traffic should not be admitted to church membership.

Won by Pennsylvania.

BOSTON, June 12.—The second intercollegiate cricket championship match between Harvard, Haverford and the University of Pennsylvania clubs was won by Pennsylvania.

Killed by Lightning.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 12.—Morgan Lewis was killed and four persons were injured by lightning near Olyphant.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,
J. O. CAMPBELL,

BRIBING SENATORS

Appalling Corruption Uncovered in Massachusetts.

$10,000 A VOTE FOR TEN VOTES.

The Hearing of the Legislative Investigation Well Under Way.

Lobbyist Hagar Makes a Dramatic Speech—One Witness Testified that Senator Fassett Offered to Vote for a Charter for $15,000—The House of Representatives to Investigate the Charges.

BOSTON, Mass., June 13.—"I call God to witness I never offered $100,000 for ten votes in the Senate," exclaimed Lewis P. Hagar before the State Senate Bribery Investigating Committee last night.

Senator Fassett, of Berkshire is being crowded for alleged "boodling" on his own account.

When charged with receiving money for voting for the West End Street Railway, he said it was all a mistake. The People's Elevated Company had offered him $10,000 a vote for ten votes, and he had declined it.

Frank E. Sanderson testified that on May 22 Senator Fassett met him and Louis P. Hagar, a lobbyist, at the office of the Burton Stock Company in Washington street, and that the Senator told witness that for $15,000 apiece he could furnish ten Senators, including himself, to vote in favor of granting a charter to the People's Elevated Railroad Company. Witness arranged a meeting between Senator Fasset and the financial men of the company. He did not himself attend the meeting.

The only other interesting feature of Sanderson's testimony was his naive remark, when Lawyer Burdett prodded him as to his motive in bringing this matter before the Legislature: "When I had learned that the West End Company had corrupted everybody in the Legislature I thought it was time I should add a little fuel to the fire."

Mr. Pranker, one of the People's Railway petitioners, testified that he arranged the interview between Fassett and Moore. Hagar assured witness Monday that the People's had 24 Senators, but the next day the whole crowd went over to the West Enders. Witness afterwards asked Senator Donovan what was the matter, and Donovan replied that he saw his colleagues were deserting the People's, and in order not to get left he caught on.

The House of Representatives will immediately begin an investigation in regard to Mr. Williams' charges that several of its members have been bribed by the West End Company.

SULLIVAN TO GO SOUTH.

The Champion Pugilist Will Go to Mississippi on Tuesday.

NEW YORK, June 13.—An unusually large house greeted John L. Sullivan at the People's Theatre last night, and the champion received an ovation in the way of applause. After the performance he said:

"I have decided to return to Mississippi on Tuesday so as to be sure of appearing before the grand jury of Marion County on the 20th. I don't care to say what I shall do if I am not indicted. I may fight Jackson and I may not; it depends upon the California Athletic Club. Jack Barnet will accompany me on my southern pilgrimage, and I earnestly hope that I won't have to stay down there a great while. However, if they deal harshly with me I shall take my medicine without a murmur."

Pugilist Kelly Arrested.

BOSTON, June 13.—Pugilist Tommy Kelly, who on October 26th of last year cut the throat of Tommy Shea during a row about John L. Sullivan in a barber-ship on Dover street, was arrested yesterday at Nantasket Beach on a default warrant. Kelly has been missing since the case was called over seven months ago.

The Navarro-Anderson Wedding.

LONDON, June 13.—The preparations for the wedding of Mr. Navarro and Miss Mary Anderson are complete. The intimate friends of the parties have been notified that the ceremony will take place on June 17, at the Brompton Oratory. Both are expected to arrive in London to-day, accompanied by members of their respective families.

Bridges Torn Out.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 13.—The storm raised the water in this vicinity to such an extent that bridges were torn out in all directions. In this city much damage was done by the water which washed out streets, foundations of houses and sidewalks, causing a loss of several thousand dollars.

Pleaded Guilty of Murder.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 13.—Edward Costello, who shot and killed his infant son, pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree, stating that he fully realized the enormity of his crime and that he should be hanged. He was sent to jail till September 24, when the grand jury will act on the case.

Why the Boy Took Poison.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 13.—Frank Klemmer, aged 10 years, took a dose of poison because, as he says, his father, Joseph Klemmer, a shoemaker living at No. 120 East Broad street, beat and abused him so much that he was tired of life.

Ladies' Lawn Tennis Championship.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The ladies' tennis championship of the United States was won by Miss Roosevelt of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who defeated Miss Townsend of Philadelphia, who has held the championship up to this

ANOTHER CASHIER SHORT.

Albany Bank Officials Discover a Loss of Nearly $50,000.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 13.—A new and damaging development affecting the integrity of an old and supposedly faithful employe of one of the banks of the city is in circulation.

The discovery of crookedness in the Albany City National Bank led to a systematic and careful examination of every banking institution in the city. The result is that a cashier of one of the banks of the city has been discovered to be short in his accounts nearly $50,000.

A strong effort is being made to withhold all of the facts from the public. The rumor was first current in the shape that an old clerk in the City National Bank was discovered to have been in collusion with Whitney. The bank officials and directors denied that rumor in the most emphatic terms. All seemed to stated that the only man implicated in the affair was Whitney.

The cashier affected is well-known and has always been highly respected. Both his name and the name of the bank are withheld for the present.

THE BERLIN OUTRAGE.

Assistance Will be Asked from Our Government by the Father of Jonassen.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Meyer Jonassen, a prominent fur merchant of this city, has received word that his son Joseph has been imprisoned in Berlin for speaking libelously of the Emperor William, but is now out on bail.

Mr. Jonassen says he has no further information, but supposes the young man, who is very proud of being an American, got into an argument with some students and spoke disrespectfully of German institutions as compared with American.

If young Jonasen is not speedily released his father will call the matter to the attention of the State Department.

Fire in a New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The fire in the Astor House was extinguished after it had done about $10,000 damage. Only about a dozen rooms on the top floor were ruined. A good deal of the damage was done by water. There was no panic among the guests. The proprietor blames the fire department for neglecting the hotel until it was actually afire. He claims that no protection was afforded him before that. The damage to the property 12 Vesey street is about $15,000.

Injured While Chasing a Prisoner.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Policeman Taylor arrested John Smith, colored, for selling liquor without a license and also selling on Sunday. When the officer and prisoner reached Tenth and Jefferson streets the latter tripped Taylor and ran away with Taylor in pursuit. As they reached the railroad crossing at Ninth and Jefferson streets a train was approaching. Smith crossed the tracks in safety, but Taylor was struck by the engine and dangerously injured Smith escaped.

Burglar Rogers Suspected of Murder.

RONDOUT, N. Y., June 13.—It is now believed that Levi Rogers, who was this week sentenced to seven years in Clinton Prison for burglary, is the murderer of Samuel Holtz, a Hebrew peddler, who was murdered near Wurtsboro, Sullivan County last month. Rogers is a desperate criminal and has served terms in Pennsylvania and New York prisons.

An Embezzler Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Daniel B. Wallace, of Lynn, Mass., was arrested here charged with embezzling $1,000 from Norman McLean, a grocer of Lynn, by whom he was employed. The prisoner was committed for a hearing on Wednesday in default of bail. He acknowledged his guilt and expressed a willingness to return to Massachusetts without a requisition.

Rain Forces a Dam Out.

CORRY, Pa., June 12.—Corry was visited by another heavy fall of rain. Some damage was done by the bursting of sewers and flooding of cellars. The large dam at the water works pump station went out, but the reservoir south of the city is full of water and will afford a sufficient supply until the break can be repaired.

All Quiet at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.—The end has come, and the post has resumed its customary quiet. The first class was graduated, the third class was granted furloughs until August 28th, and the Cadet Corps is short 120 members, or about one-half of its total strength.

Cholera in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 13.—Dr. J. McKibben pronounces the case of Miss Griffith, of 3 Seneca street, this city, one of genuine sporadic cholera. The chances are against the patient's recovery. The doctor does not think there is danger of an epidemic.

An Illegal Voter Convicted.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 13.—The jury in the case of James Dear, indicted for illegal voting at the last election for Mayor in Jersey City, came into court after being out all night, and announced their verdict of guilty.

Heavy Storm at Auburn.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 12.—The worst rainstorm of the season in this vicinity set in last evening. Cellars in all parts of the city are flooded, and the city sewer-pipes were burst in many places. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

The Printers' President.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 13.—President Plank was re-elected president of the International Typographical Union.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Committee at Work on the National Election Law.

SOME OF THE CHANGES MADE.

The House Rejects the Conference Report on the Anti-Trust Bill.

Mr. Mills Declines to Serve on the Committee on Rules—A Civil Service Commissioner to Resign—Candidates for the Appraisership—The President's Summer Plans—Watching the Mongolians.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The House caucus committee which is charged with the preparation of the National Election bill on the lines agreed upon by the last caucus has been industriously perfecting the details of the measure, and has so far progressed as to be able to send a rough draft of the bill to the Public Printer. When the proofs are returned the committee will meet again—probably to-morrow—and continue the work of arranging details.

Some of the changes made already in the original Rowell bill are a provision that in case of conflict between the returns given by State election officers and those of the United States supervisors the latter are to constitute prima facie evidence of the member to his seat and a provision that the United States Court within an election district shall appoint a board of three prsons representing both political parties, to canvass the returns to the supervisors.

THE ANTI-TRUST BILL.

The House Rejects the Conference Report by a Vote of 115 to 12.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The vote in the House on agreeing to the conference report on the Anti-Trust bill resulted—25 to 56.

Mr. Stewart, of Vermont, raised the point of no quorum, and the Speaker being unable to count a quorum, a call of the House was ordered. A quorum having appeared, the conference report was rejected—12 to 115.

Mr. Stewart then moved a further conference, with instructions to the House conferees to recede from the House amendment.

This amendment provides that every contract or agreement entered into for the purpose of preventing the sale or purchase of any commodity, transported from one State or Territory to be sold in another, or so contracted to be sold, or to prevent competition in the transportation of persons or property from one State or Territory into another shall be deemed unlawful within the meaning of this act; provided that the contracts here enumerated shall not be construed to exclude any other contract or agreement declared unlawful by this act.

MR. MILLS DECLINES.

Considerable Comment Over His Refusal to Serve on the Committee on Rules.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The declination of Mr. Mills to serve on the Committee on Rules was the cause of considerable comment about the capital. Mr. Mills declined to make a statement concerning his action, and said that he did not care to make known his reasons at this time.

It is understood that Mr. Mills, in tendering his resignation, was actuated by his personal feelings toward Speaker Reed. After Mr. Randall's death, Mr. Mills believed that he was entitled to the ex-Speaker's position on the Committee on Rules, and the failure of Speaker Reed to appoint him he considered discourteous to his position as leader of the Democratic side of the House.

The Speaker has appointed Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, to the vacancy caused by Mr. Mills' declination.

Thompson Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—It is understood that Civil Service Commissioner Thompson is preparing his letter of resignation, having determined to retire from the Board and go back to his home in South Carolina, where he is to be provided for. He will withhold his resignation, however, until after the Lehlbach Committee shall have made its report on its investigation of the Commission, as he does not like to go out "under fire."

To Summer at Cape May.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—It is announced that Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Dimmick and the children of the White House will leave Washington next Tuesday for Cape May and remain there during the summer. The President will probably make them weekly visits until the adjournment of Congress, after which he will remain at the seashore throughout the heated term.

Watching Mongolians.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—In a dispatch from San Francisco Collector Phelps states that there are now fully 150 Chinese encamped at Nogales waiting for an opportunity to cross the Mexican border into the United States. He says that they are being closely watched and will be surely captured if they cross the border.

Balfour Declined Parnell's Request.

LONDON, June 13.—Mr. Balfour declined the request of Mr. Parnell that a committee be appointed to inquire into the matter of violence on the part of the police at Tipperary and Cashel.

Linen Mills Closed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 13.—The American Linen Company has closed both its mills for an indefinite period. No cause is given.

—Mr. Patrick Day returned to his Boulevard residence yesterday, after an absence of five weeks in Ireland, the land of his birth.

—The cold East storm which set in late yesterday afternoon, made a change of clothing necessary with most people to enjoy comfort.

—The poles of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company in this city are being coated with a pronounced dark green colored paint.

—In consequence of the stormy weather, the Reform club exercises arranged for last evening, were postponed to next Thursday evening.

—The hotel at Mt. Bethel has changed hands, and the new proprietor is remodeling the building and getting it in readiness for Summer boarders.

—The recent grand jury did not find an indictment against Courad Miller, the man who made an assault upon two little girls at Netherwood, a few weeks ago.

—The cent-a-word column in THE PRESS grows more popular every day. People read it with nearly as much interest as they do the local or telegraphic news.

—An evening sociable was held in St. Mary's T. A. B. Hall, last evening, that was very largely attended. Dancing was the main feature of the evening's enjoyment

—Wm. F. Boehmer, advance agent of the DeWier Comedy Company, is in Plainfield making arangements for the coming show. The town is being thoroughly billed.

—The passenger coach "West Virginia" of the West Virginia Central Railroad, passed through the city this morning attached to the 10.20 Philadelphia train going East.

—Mr. John H. Tier, the iced cream dealer, has facilities for freezing forty quarts of pure cream in a single freezer, in about nine minutes. A visit to Mr. Tier's establishment is highly interesting and instructive.

—A new connection for the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Easton is to be gained by the new Easton and Philadelphia road, which has a charter to build a road from Easton along the West shore of the Delaware River to New Hope, which is about thirty-two miles.

—The work of building a skylight in the Camera Club working room, is progressing rapidly. A portrait camera, and a bromide enlargement apparatus, are to be added to the Club's appurtenances. The membership is increasing at each meeting, and the Club's parlors are becoming quite a resort for the members and their ladies.

To-night's Installation Service.

The Rev. Hobart Clark, the new pastor of the Unitarian church in this city, will be publicly installed in Seminary Hall, this evening, at 7:45 o'clock. The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., will preach. The Rev. Robert Collyer, the Rev. J. W. Chadwick and other prominent ministers will be present. Everyone is invited.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Another son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Stillman, at their home in Hoboken.

Miss Annie Hasbrouck, of East Fifth street, is visiting her friend, Miss Randall, at New Brunswick.

It is announced that the marriage of Miss Taylor and Edwin Lewis, will take place Monday, the 30th inst.

Mr. F. O. Herring of this city, on Wednesday evening paid a fraternal visit to Orient Lodge, F. and A. M., of Elizabeth.

Mr. Fred. Sanford and wife departed last evening on their bridal tour to the Thousnad Islands and other points of interest.

The Misses Christine and Edith Yawger of Brooklyn, N. Y., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Taggart, at their home in Washington Park.

The only daughter of Mr. Ed. Marble, Miss Anna Marble, is to be married in Philadelphia next Wednesday, June 18, to Mr. J. Harry Irvin, lessee of the Mansion House, Druid Hill Park, Baltimore, Md.

Miss Ida M. Wilson of North Plainfield has received a total of 525 votes in the World contest for a trip to Europe, for the most popular school teacher in New Jersey. Miss Eva P. Davies of Jersey City leads the list with 4,468 votes.

One of J. Hervey Doane's homing pigeons, in training for an ocean fly on the 29th inst., came home from Connecticut the other day in three hours. Its name is Gen'l Harrison, and its registered number is 282. Mr. Doane's loft already holds the champion ocean record.

Daniel W. Littell leaves Plainfield tonight to accompany the wealthy New York plumbers in a trip West that will include a two weeks' visit in Denver, where the craft will hold a convention. The trip will come high, but plumbers and ice men don't mind expense.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of which Mr. Carey is Treasurer, has sent through its veterinary a solemn protest against the check reins used by O. T. Waring who is a member of the amusing committee of "indignant" citizens whose report on the "outrageous suspension" of Mr. Carey is yet awaited with ghoulish glee.

Mrs. Wm. J. Smith and family of West Third street, will be among the cabin passengers who will sail to-morrow by the Anchor Line steamship "Anchuria," for Scotland. They will be absent probably a year. Mr. Smith, who is connected with The Pond Machine Tool company, finds it impossible to leave his business and accompany them.

It was a very cultured and fashionable audience that gathered in Seminary Hall, last evening, upon the occasion of Miss Maude Bowers' recital, in which she was assisted by Miss Gertrude Marchand. The programme was as already announced in these columns, and rendered in an entirely successful manner. It deserves a repetition at a more favorable season.

In a letter to the Rev. Father Stafford, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church in this city, received recently from the Rev. Father P. E. Smyth, who is traveling abroad, the latter stated that he had had a very pleasant voyage over, having met several strange priests on the vessel. Father Smith is now in Paris, and will make a tour of the Continent before he returns.

Assistant Supervising Engineer Cady is slowly recovering from the effects of an accident that caused him considerable lameness. He stepped down on the crosswalk at Broadway and Fifth street, the other day, just as a butcher wagon suddenly turned the corner. The step projecting from the shaft struck his knee, but with such force as to push him away from greater danger under the wheels.

We Are Still Open to Conviction.

When ex-President of the Council, Tell A. Beguelin, and Mrs. Beguelin, left for Europe last May, they instructed their resident representative, Judge L. F Wadsworth, to send the first lot of strawberries that ripened in their gardens, to the editor of THE PRESS. The fruit arrived yesterday, and is the most perfect in all respects that has yet been received.

Still J. Lance Mundy, of Rockfellow's grocery, sends a sample of fruit that is hard to excel, and W. Henry Rogers, of Washingtonville, should be credited with the best quart as regards perfect shape and firmness. However, all the returns are not in—we trust—and the decision as to who has grown the best this year, is reserved.

Fined Fifteen Dollars.

John O'Conner, a machinist, employed at the Scott Press Works, insulted his boarding mistress, at the latter's home on West Front street, last evening, and Officer Cooney locked him up. This morning he was given a hearing before Judge Codington, adjudged guilty and fined fifteen dollars.

O'Conner had a companion with him at the time, and the police are now looking for him.

Since the above was written O'Conner's companion, Jerry Degann has been arrested by Officer Lynch, but up to the hour of going to press, the prisoner had not been given a hearing.

Wreck at Bound Brook.

An East-bound mixed train on the New Jersey Central Railroad was wrecked near Bound Brook yesterday morning, by a broken axle. Seven cars loaded with coal were piled up, but travel was delayed only for a short time.

COLORED SOCIETY CONCERT

By the Theodore Drury Opera Company.

The tide of colored society drifted toward Amphion Hall, last evening, where a grand concert by the Theodore Drury Opera Company was announced to take place. Nearly all of the colored aristocracy in the city was present, dressed in their "best bib and tucker," and there was a sprinkling of white people in the audience. Mr. Edward Martin sold sixty-three tickets and he was let in free. He also secured the ten dollar gold piece for having disposed of the most tickets.

The programme throughout was well rendered. It included solos, duetts and trios. Miss Emma B. Magnan was the accompanist.

They Want Weekly Payments.

A petition containing the names of 166 of the employees of the Potter Press Works, was presented to Superintendent Brooks, a few days ago, asking that the men be paid weekly instead of twice a month as heretofore. Mr. Potter has been considering the matter of making weekly payments for some time past, and the new system will go into effect on July 1.

All but eight of the employees signed the petition, and Messrs Joseph Brown and Wm. F. Mosher were appointed a committee to present it to Superintendent Brooks.

Mr. Potter endorsed on the petition, as follows:

It gives me great pleasure to comply with the request contained in the within, and hereafter the pay day will be every Friday, commencing July 1.

C. POTTER, JR.

Injured in a Runaway Accident.

Mr. J. Newton Honeyman of North Plainfield, was driving along West Front street, on his way home from Dunellen, about 5:30 o'clock last evening, and when near the Grant Avenue station his horse became unmanageable and ran away. Mr. Honeyman was thrown from the wagon and dragged fully fifty feet, when he was tossed up against the fence on one side of the street and stunned. He was also slightly cut on the head. The injured man was, however, able to walk to his home on Grove street.

The horse ran at break-neck speed until New street was reached, when the animal and wagon all fell in a heap. The vehicle was badly damaged.

One man who was driving in the opposite direction, fearing that the runaway would strike him, pulled his horse to one side of the road and jumped in the gutter. His rig was uninjured.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

The great National Convention of the Christian Endeavor, opened in St. Louis, yesterday, 4,500 delegates being in attendance.

It was 4:24 P. M, when a round of applause greeted the Rev. Dr. F. E. Clark, as he ascended the platform with Governor Francis of Missouri. The convention was opened with the reading of the Scriptures by the Rev. Horner W. Carter, of Wisconsin. After the convention had sung "Blest be the Tie that Binds," led by a chorus of 500 voices under Professor Lindsey, Governor Francis made an address.

The convention organized by the election of the Rev. Dr. F. E. Clark, as chairman; the Rev. H. W. Sherwood, of New York, and C. B. Holdredge, of Illinois, as scribes; and W. B. Shumway, of Philadelphia, as timekeeper.

No, Not For a Million Dollars.

"Would Plainfield go back to the old grade crossing system, if she could?" was asked recently of Director Hubbard, of the Board of Freeholders, says the Elizabeth Journal. "Not for a million dollars" came the quick reply. Yet Plainfield has a big embankment and girder bridges, and much the same but a much cheaper elevation of tracks. The fact that there are no grade crossings in Plainfield has greatly helped to build up that beautiful city, and it will do the same for Elizabeth.

Will be Reserved for the Ladies.

The main grand stand on the Crescent League grounds, will be kept exclusively for the ladies and their escorts hereafter It has also been shaded so that not a ray of sun will creep in any part of it.

Go early, however, to-morrow, if you want a seat. The Hackett-Carharts will try to beat the Crescents, but there will be no advance in prices. Game called at 3:45.

St. Joseph's Church Fair.

A bazaar and fair for the benefit of St. Joseph's church in North Plainfield, has been in progress in the Gesang and Turner Hall, for the past three evenings. Last night, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the attendance was very large. Father Freeman, the pastor, expects to realize about $100 for the church.

—Fred. Clark became leg weary on Park avenue, at noon, today, and Officer Laine took him to the lock-up in a truck. His address for the present will be at Elizabeth, N. J.

A Ridiculous Question.

"Do you enjoy good health?" asked Brown of his friend Jones. The reply of Jones was short, sharp and to the point "Why of course I do, what fool doesn't?" Everyone enjoys good health when he has it. But some people do not have it to enjoy. Sick headache, billiousness, deranged liver, and host of ills, real and imaginary, are their heritage. Thousands of persons cure and prevent these distressing complaints by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Small, sugar-coated and easy to take; one a dose.

Rahway Says Plainfield Shan't Have McIndoe.

The Rahway Advocate says it is authorized to state that McIndoe will continue to cover first base for the Rahway team, and it hopes Captain Wiegand of the Crescents has not lost any sleep in his efforts to secure McIndoe for his right field. It continues, "McIndoe is loyal. He will remain with our team despite strenuous efforts to induce him to go elsewhere."

By the way, Rahway has not yet got over the loss of Gregg. Their team lost again Saturday and the papers say, "The result was unsatisfactory and every one felt that it was not as it should have been. With a pitcher in the box, our boys can defeat the Mets, as represented here Saturday, every time. The management should get a pitcher, even if they do come high. The patrons demand it."

New Company in Which Westfielders are Interested.

The Newark Bag Fraime Company has filed articles of incorporation in the Essex County Clerk's office at Newark. The capital is $100,000, and the company begins business with $5,000. The incorporators are: George C. Kerr, of Westfield; Charles Soelling, Martin Benz, Joseph Werner, Thomas Fitzsimmons and Herman Kadow, of Newark; Robert W. McChesney, of Westfield; Thomas M. Morrison and Bernard Limfest, of Newark.

A box of Ayer's Pills has saved many a fit of sickness. When a remedy does not happen to be within reach, people are liable to neglect slight ailments and, of course, if serious illness follows they have to suffer the consequences. "A stitch in time saves nine"

General Snowden a Candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—General Snowden, of Philadelphia, the ex-Assistant Appraiser of Customs, is a candidate for one of the four Democratic appraiserships which are created by the Customs Administrative bill. He is being very powerfully backed by political and business interests of Pennsylvania.

Ex-Congressman Brewer's Aim.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Ex-Congressman J. Hart Brewer, of Trenton, New Jersey, is being pushed by General Sewell and the Republican leaders of that State for an appraisership under the Customs Administrative bill.

"For a long time I had no appetite, was restless at night, and very much debilitated. After taking two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my strength and appetite returned and my health was completely restored."—D. M. Fisher, Oswego, N. Y.

Save Your Hair

BY a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fullness, and beauty of the hair.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew

Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has caused my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Bishopville, Md.

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

THE PRESS CORRESPONDENT AT TRENTON PRISON.

A Well-known Plainfielder Writes in Brownigese Prose, His Impressions.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—One pull at the bell at two o'clock P. M., on a sultry June afternoon, and the great iron door at the Egyptian entrance of the State Prison, swung inward on an off-visiting day. The mere mention of a name—not that of the correspondant of your popular evening daily, but the representative of your district—put to flight all possible disappointment, and the guard returned from the mysterious within, and ushered the writer in the presence of most unexpected courtesies by Warden VanHouten in the absence of his chief.

Verily the mystical name of Ulrich is the key to unlimited curiosities and civilities, that turned to nought the dread of icy coldness and official formality. For two hours the indulgence of a victim of prejudice to official life, transformed your correspondent into a pleasant confidence and delightful appreciation of kindness that discovered the best side of human nature in authority over captive spirits of crime.

If there be formal rules that regulate visiting days, your correspondent was kept in ignorance, and found himself seated as a guest of the gentlemanly warden, in the cool half-circle, just past the second iron gate of the great prison entrance. Where for a half hour were passing to and fro all classes of prisoners in uniform, single and lock-step; messengers giving the signal by throwing up the right hand to the warden, indicating the passing of blocks of prisoners unseen through the great halls of the prison; all under his watchful direction, yet at the same time he was cheerfully entertaining his guest. We have forgotten the excessive heat and cheerless outside, and cool and collected we begin the ordeal of further unmasking the common prejudices and ignorance of strangers to the inner walls of a State Prison.

Wherever we went, savored of the aroma of years of professional experience, bruised out of the best side of the master spirits at the head of this great institution, which proved to the visitors that kindness had the first and most exalted place in the government within, whatever might be hidden in the management, who were in appearance—collectively—the hardest set of human beings the writer ever saw together. New York and Philadelphia, two great cities at the ends of a great National highway, have much to do in the supply of the criminal populace of this prison, and amid such spirits, we are passing, and have already lost our way, and know none but our guide.

We first get a view of the occupied cells of unemployed men. Void of the conventional prison smell—clear air, every thing clean and bright—we are impressed that confinement alone, at its worst, can be relieved by the many curiosities shown us, of art and bric-a-brac, outside as well as within the cosy furnished cells. With pride the keeper points at these to strangers, the results of many an hour of monotonous confinement turned to profit and use. If we were exacting upon the willingness of our guide, there seemed no end to the inventive genius and curiosities in prison cells.

The most remarkable of all, over the entrance of the cell of a German prisoner, is the perpetual merry-go-round—the power of which is the water dropping from the faucet in the wash-basin. Another the canvas of Christ and angels, on the prison wall; toys out of broom handles; paintings and crayons of art, without the utensils of art; frescoed cells without the materials for frescoeing; the most consumate neatness, and cleanliness; curtains of lace; cushoned or upholstered benches; carpets and hand painted counterpains. These but the suggestion of curiosities, showing the genius of their authors who are locked in at night in the long rows of cells, by one turn of an invention of one of their own number.

Through the long avenues of every part of this great institution; bake shop, kitchen, manufacturing departments of shoes, brushes rugs, carpets, hosiery and clothing; we pass this populace of misfortune. Not unlike the outside in some respects at least; having individual fame and notoriety above the average. There are Plainfield's "fire bug;" "Jumbo" Leffert; Titus, the little old man of Somerset who murdered farmer Race; an ex-mayor's son of a neighboring city; three, five, ten and twenty years' men, and some for life. These were the spirits in prison whose eyes gazed upon a PRESS correspondent as he hugged the presence of his guide amid the secret thoughts of vice and crime.

Not a sign of a weapon as we passed from one point to another. A hundred convicts officered by one man. And to an expression of insecurity by your helpless corresponeent lost in his meanderings of a prison fortress, we were answered that prison official charges at present made the force more than ordinary watchful. We were passing the bread and water cells with these occupants, and strange to say they brought forth little sympathy, for betwixt obedience and this punishment, were only the words yes! or no! In a moment they might be free. No daily or exacting tasks; all within the reach of the ear of a kindly warden; and in his absence appointment made that their individual grievances might be heard by their chief. Such are the observations of an unprejudiced visitor to the inside scenes of prison life.

As we returned with the gentlemanly guide to the cool half-circle of the great prison house, we are again in the hospitable hands of Warden VanHouten, and further entertained with reminiscence of twenty years of official experience. A half-hour dismissed your correspondent from the presence of a kind heart, softened by allusion to the joys of the great day when prisoner, official and visitant shall have paid the universal penalty upon all—death! And in the Beyond have forever forgotten the differences that crime and misfortune have made here.

P.

OUR COUNTY'S GROWTH.

The Overflow of New York's Population Drifts in This Direction.

"Union county," said Assistant County Clerk Moffett, President of the Plainfield Common Council, to a reporter yesterday, "promises in the near future to be one of the most important counties in the State for conveyances of real estate and the greatest within fifty miles of New York city. Even now there are nearly as many transactions in real estate recorded here weekly as in Hudson county, which has almost three times the population. The reason for this is that along the line of the Central Railroad, from Elizabethport to Plainfield, all the intermediate towns and villages are rapidly increasing in population and spreading out towards each other, so that it is only a question of time when an unbroken city will extend from the shores of Newark Bay to the hills of Somerset county or North Plainfield.

"For example. Westfield and Cranford are now drawn so close together that there is practically no difference between them, nearly all the intermediate space being utilized for handsome dwellings. So it is getting to be also between Cranford and Roselle and from Plainfield to Westfield, while Elmora is practically a suburb of Elizabeth and in a short time Roselle and Elmora will be joined together by a continuous line of residences.

"The completion of the excellent system of the county roads, now being built under the direction of the Board of Freeholders, will hasten the march of improvement and contribute still more to unite the various sections of the county by bringing them into close connection with each other by means of good traveling facilities. Make no mistake about it, there is a big future in store for Union county, which is bound to get a large proportion of the overflow of population of the city of New York, especially business men who desire nice suburban homes for themselves and families where they will have a chance to own their own houses and breathe pure air without being cooped up in flats or undesirable tenements, the rental of which is nearly as much as they would have to pay annually in interest on a loan which would enable them to provide themselves with a delightful residence within less than an hour's ride of the metropolis."

Will Celebrate About as Usual.

Only a little more than three weeks before the Fourth of July, yet there has been no effort made by any one, so far as THE PRESS is informed, that is likely to result in a grand public demonstration in this city. In this respect Plainfield has moved back apace, within the past decade or less, and about the only celebration this city can now boast of on the Nation's holiday, is a couple of ball games during the day time, and a private pyrotechnical display at Netherwood in the evening.

In years gone by the day was usually ushered in by the ringing of church bells and the booming of cannons. Hundreds of dollars were also expended annually for fireworks, and a public display was made in the evening. But these are all things of the past.

It is to be hoped, however, that there are enough enterprising and public spirited citizens in Plainfield to arrange for a grand Indepennence Day celebration. Who'll start the ball a rolling?

Trials of the Census Enumerators.

One of the census enumerators in this city who started out early on his rounds one morning this week, rang the door-bell in front of a certain house in the heart of the city, and a small boy answered the call. "I'm the census man," remarked the enumerator. "No, we don't want any," said the boy, as he shut the door in the man's face.

Another amusing incident happened a few days ago, when the census enumerator called at another house. "Good morning," said he to a female, who responded to a call, "Is it hot enough for you?" "I refuse to answer your foolish questions," said the infuriated woman, leaving the census man standing on the stoop. "Refused to answer," was inserted in that blank.

State Schools Alumni Meeting.

Upon the afternoon of Thursday, June 26, the graduates of the Normal and model schools will assemble in Trenton, the occasion being the second annual meeting of the State Schools Alumni Association. The organization comprises a membership of three hundred in all parts of New Jersey. Literary exercises will be held at three o'clock in the Normal Assembly rooms, where Professor Anstie C. Apgar, and William C. Platt of the New York Mail & Express will be the leading features. Nathan C. Horton, editor of the Insurance News of Philadelphia will deliver the alumni poem. Dinner will also be served.

Men of brains originate, the unprincipled imitate. Counterfeit never has the true ring of the genuine. Wide-awake people refuse to be gulled. They insist on Hires' Root Beer, and are sure to get it.

TORIES IN REVOLT

A Large Number Threaten to Join the Unionists.

THE CABINET IN CONFERENCE.

The Members all at Sea and a Conservative Break Imminent.

Threatened Strike of the London Police Force—The Czar Again Threatened—America to be Visited by the Czarewich—An Irish Tribute to Cardinal Manning—Severe Earthquakes in France

LONDON, June 13.—A crowded meeting of the Conservative party was held at the Carlton Club to consider the present state of business in Parliament. The Government summoned the meeting in consequence of their obvious inability to pass their three great measures for dealing with the licensing question, tithes and the Irish land purchase.

Lord Salisbury announced that the Government would not abandon the Tithes bill, the Licensing bill, or the Irish Land Purchase bill. In order to cope with the business which is not blocking the proceedings of Parliament, bills which reached an advanced stage during one session would be resumed at the next session at the stage at which they had been left at the preceding session, subject to the resolution of the House.

After numerous speeches on both sides of the question, Lord Salisbury wound up the discussion by saying that any plan was preferable to Mr Gladstone's plan of 1882, fixing the date for the passage of a bill whether it had been discussed or not.

The proceedings were of a lively character. Sir Robert Fowler accused the Ministers of being humble supporters of Mr. Labouchere.

Mr. Robert William Hanbury and others condemned such a course of procedure. They declared that it would initiate a bad system in legislation. The matter was discussed for a half hour, when the caucus separated without adopting any formal resolution on the subject.

Tory Members Revolt.

LONDON, June 13.—As a result of the Conservative caucus, thirty Tory members of Parliament have revolted against the Ministerial policy and are treating with the Unionists for the formation of a cave. The discontent with the action of Home Secretary Matthews in regard to the police department is very general, and will have a great influence upon the next elections.

The Cabinet held a meeting in Mr. W. H. Smith's private room in the House of Commons. The conference lasted two hours. Lord Salisbury was present. The subject of dicussion was the unexpected result of the Carlton Club meeting. During the conference the chief whip of the party was twice called in to take part in the consultation. It is reported that the Ministers favored an autumn session, but determined to assemble again to-morrow for a final decision. If any bill is dropped the Unionists prefer that it shall be the Licensing bill.

POLICE MAY STRIKE.

Chief Munro of London Resigns and the Department Furious.

LONDON, June 13.—Chief of Police James Munro of the metropolitan force has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted by Home Secretary Matthews.

It has been ascertained that the resignation was brought about by the refusal of Mr. Matthews to press the Police Pension bill during the present session of Parliament.

The appointment of a clerk from the Home Office to the vacant Assistant Commissionership also exercised an influence in determining the action of the chief of police. The members of the metropolitan force are furious over the turn which events have taken.

The virtual dismissal of Mr. Munro, together with the disaffection of the metropolitan force arising from the action of the Government in the matter of police pensions, increased pay and reductions of hours of duty, which measures were favored by Mr. Munro, will make it very difficult to avert a police strike in the event of the Government's adherence to its present policy toward the force.

An Irish Address to Cardinal Manning.

LONDON, June 13—An address is being prepared by the Parnellite members of the House of Commons to be presented to Cardinal Manning in honor of the silver jubilee of that prelate, in recognition of his services in the cause of the freedom of Ireland. The Protestants among the Nationalist members, including Mr. Parnell himself, are unanimous in endorsement of the eulogistic terms of the address.

Earthquakes in France.

PARIS, June 13.—A number of earthquake shocks have occurred in the Department of Jura, inflicting great damage in the vicinity of the Jura Mountains. The inhabitants are panic-stricken and since the first of the shocks have refused to re-enter their houses. Thousands of men, women and children are camped out in the open fields. No loss of life is reported, but a large amount of property has been destroyed.

Another Plot Against the Czar.

LONDON, June 13.—Information which leads the Russian Government to believe that another attempt against the life of the Czar is in contemplation has been received. The guards in the imperial palace and the approaches thereto have been re-inforced and a number of persons suspected of complicity in the conspiracy have been arrested.

Opposed to Showing Clemency.

LONDON, June 13.—The public prosecutor of Sofia says that no mercy should be shown to either Panitza or Kolobkoff by the Government, and that the original death sentence pronounced on both men should be carried into execution.

The Czarewich Coming to America.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—The Czarewich will start on a tour of the world on August 1st. He will return by way of America.

Stilson Hutchins Married.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 13.—Miss Rose Blake Kneelin, well-known in Baltimore society and the only daughter of Rev. Dr. R. J. Keeling of Aberdeen, Dakota, and Mr. Stilson Hutchins, the well-known journalist of Washington, were married last night.

Shot Her Husband and Killed Herself.

ALBANY, Ore., June 13.—At Lebanon, Ore., about 3 a. m., Mrs. Aunsburgh missed her husband, Grant Aunsburgh, from her side, and on going to her sister's room and finding Mr. Aunsburgh there, she shot him dead and then committed suicide.

More Boodlers Praying for Liberty.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A motion was heard by Judge Cowing to dismiss the indictments against John Keenan and ex-Boodle Alderman Henry L. Sayles for their alleged participation in the steal of the Broadway Railroad franchise. Decision was reserved.

Spinners on Strike.

UTICA, N. Y., June 13.—Forty-two spinners of the Shenandoah Yarn Mill are on strike for an increase in wages from $1.75 to $2 per day. Two of the leaders of the strike have been discharged.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,
J. O. CAMPBELL,

MANY PERSONS LOST

Two Clouds Come Together With Awful Results.

THE FLOOD WRECKS A TRAIN.

Three Men Killed and Nineteen Cars Piled One Upon Another.

A Crash of Thunder that Seemed to Rend the Hills—A Miniature Johnstown Disaster Follows and a Succession of Fatal Accidents—A Dozen Persons Killed or Drowned in the Flood.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 14.—A miniature Johnstown disaster occurred on Bull Creek, four miles east of Maysville, at 1 a. m. About midnight there was a heavy rain storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Every minute the storm increased in fury.

Suddenly there was a lull, followed by a clash of thunder that seemed to rend the hills. For a moment all was black, then there was a roar as of Niagara. Two immense clouds had come together, and Bull Creek was a roaring river. A solid wall of water swept down the narrow valley where the stream had its course, carrying houses, fences, barns and everything before it.

It is believed that at least a dozen persons were drowned in the floods. These dead bodies have been found: John Ruggles, a well known fisherman; Lucy Pestler, a widow, and her two daughters, Bettie and Julia, and two sons. Half a dozen others are missing.

The stone culvert on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad over Bull Creek was washed out into the river while the storm was at its height.

A west-bound freight train ran into a washout and was wrecked. The engine and nineteen cars were piled one on top of another almost out of sight in the creek bottom.

Engineer C. C. Roodcap of Greenip County, Fireman Morris Hovaker of Lewis County, and Brakeman Charles U. Eaton were buried beneath the wreck. Conductor W. R. Watts and Brakeman W. Love jumped from the last car and escaped unhurt. The train was made up of 32 cars.

Nine car loads of boots and shoes for Louisville went down with the wreck. A fast wrecking train on the way to the scene ran over Frank Scott, a colored man, and killed him.

HUNTING A WAYWARD CHILD.

A Half Distracted Connecticut Father Gives Up His Business.

SOUTHINGTON, Conn., June 14.—Amelia Glave, a young girl, has been missing since May 11. It is supposed that she went to New Haven. There, it is said, she met a young Italian named Antonio Coctineccio, who had formerly worked in the tailor shop of Charles Glave, her father, and is believed to have gone with him to New York.

Mr. Glave has made two trips to New York looking for his daughter, and secured the services of the New York police to aid in his search.

Amelia was about 14 years old, of light complexion, with blue eyes and light hair, and when she left home wore a red dress with light yellow trimmings. Mr. Glave traced the girl as far as the Grand Central Depot, in New York, but does not know what became of her after she left the train.

He said that he had succeeded in getting hold of the Italian, Antonio Coctineccio, whom he suspects of enticing the girl away. The Italian was placed under arrest, but he stoutly denied all knowledge of the girl. Mr. Glave had no proof that he had abducted his daughter and the police were obliged to release the man.

The girl's disappearance has greatly troubled Mr. Glave. He wanted to remain in New York to look for the girl. As his wife could not look after the store he made an assignment. He came home to finish settling his affairs, and as soon as possible he will return to New York and renew his search. Mr. Glave is certain that his daughter has fallen into the clutches of notorious people in New York, and he intends to spend the rest of his life, if necessary, in rescuing her.

Two Men Shot and Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Last evening two pistol shots in succession were heard in the cellar of the dwelling on Maple street below Cumberland. Several persons entered the place and found William Collins and Charles Dermer lying on the floor dead. Both men were about 30 years of age. Collins had been shot through the right temple and Dermer in the mouth. The police claim that Collins first killed Dermer and then shot himself.

Farmers Swindled.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 14.—The farmers in this section have been extensively victimized by two men who pretended to be buying up walnut stumps. They gave the farmers counterfeit bills of large denominations and received change in good United States money.

Granite Cutters Compromise.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 14.—The strike of the Westerly granite cutters has been settled on a basis of nine hours as a day's work and eight hours on Saturday. Piece work will be discouraged. The result is a compromise and gives general satisfaction.

Tired of Life at 60.

NEWARK, N. J., June 14.—Mrs. Julia Bodenschatz, a widow 60 years of age, living at 315 Norfolk street, committed suicide by hanging herself from a hook at the back of her bedroom door.

TRADE REVIEW.

The Legitimate Business of the Country Unprecedented in Volume.

NEW YORK, June 14.—R. G. Dunn & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say that, while speculation has been neither large in volume nor enthusiastic in tone during the past week, the legitimate business of the country continues unprecedented in volume for the season and highly encouraging in prospect. The capacity of iron furnaces in blast on June 1 was 180,795 tons, an increase of 31 per cent. over last year. The demand for various forms of manufactured iron and steel continues good, and prices are steady. Sales of 10,000 tons of iron are reported.

Railway wars are still in progress and more cutting of east-bound rates appears, while speculative managers are suspected of willingness to see lower prices. The competition of Canadian and lake lines is felt with constantly increasing severity, and apparently will be felt until the Inter-State law has been changed.

Prices of stocks have been weaker, although Sugar Trust has been put up again with reports of large profits. The delay of the Senate Finance Committee in acting upon sugar duties suggests some uncertainty, but it is thought likely that the House Tariff bill will be passed without great changes.

WORK OF WHITE CAPS.

They Create a Reign of Terror in a New Jersey Village.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., June 14.—The little village of Whippany, N. J., near here, is in a reign of terror over the depredations of a band of White Caps. Robert Magee received a letter which contained the skull and crossbones and the White Caps' signature, and during the night he was attacked by some of the regulators at his home and severely beaten.

They arrived at the house about 11 o'clock and seized Magee, and his mother, who ran to his assistance, received a broken finger by a blow from one of the White Caps' clubs, and several severe bruises on her breast which may prove serious. Their cries aroused the neighbors, and the gang fled. One of the men was recognized, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest, but so far he has not been captured.

Doctors Arrested for Malpractice.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—The Minnie Ellis abortion case was continued in court, and after adjournment Coroner Tucker swore out a warrant against Drs. McGill and Baker, charging them with abortion. A few minutes after Dr. McGill was arrested at his office, and shortly afterward Dr. Baker surrendered himself to the police. They were locked up at police headquarters to await further developments.

Awarded the Sargeant Prize.

BOSTON, June 14.—It is announced that the Sargeant prize of $100 for the best metrical version of the twenty-ninth ode of the third book of Horace has been awarded to Miss H. L. Reed, of the Harvard Annex. This is the first time that anyone of the Annex students has succeeded in carrying off the honors which are generally supposed to belong to the students of the sterner sex.

Baseless Rumors.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 14.—The rumor to the effect that there was another bank defalcation proved to be baseless. There are to be some exciting developments, it is said, in the original case. Ex-Cashier Palmer of the Albany City Bank is to be arrested by the United States authorities on a charge of criminal negligence in allowing a defalcation of five years standing to proceed.

A Purse for Kilrain and Smith.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A dispatch has been received from the Golden Gate Athletic Club of San Francisco, offering a $3,000 purse for a finish glove contest between Jake Kilrain and Ed. Smith, of Denver, the battle to take place in September. The same dispatch says Jackson is becoming restless, and that if Sullivan does not ratify a match soon, Jackson will leave for Australia.

Storrs Returned to the Asylum.

NEW YORK, June 14.—George M. Storrs, the insane son of the late Chicago lawyer, Emory A. Storrs, escaped from the Poughkeepsie Insane Asylum Thursday morning, but was captured in this city last night. He was wandering aimlessly about the streets when found. He will be taken back to the asylum.

Seven Buildings Burned.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 14.—An incendiary fire, originating in John Romer's stable on Second avenue, resulted in the burning of seven buildings, the most valuable being the large office of the Elba Iron Works. George Chambers, of doubtful character, was arrested on suspicion of having kindled the flames.

The Miners Get an Increase.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 14.—The strike of the coal miners at Clayton Mines, Beaver County, for an advance of two cents per car of ten bushels, has ended favorably to the men, the operators conceding the increase. The men returned to work after being out six weeks.

Displaying the Stars and Stripes.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 14.—The anniversary of the adoption of the National flag was celebrated in this vicinity by a general display of the Stars and Stripes. The suggestion of such an observance by the press has met with popular approval.

Gov. Fifer Summons the Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—Gov. Fifer has issued a proclamation calling the Legislature to meet in extra session on July 23 to consider World's Fair matters.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Senate Silver Bill Goes Over Until Monday.

THE TARIFF MEASURE READY.

To be Reported by the Sub-Committee This Afternoon.

A Rumor About the Federal Election Bill—Calling Up Election Contests—Mr. Tichenor to be President of the Board of Appraisers—Civil Service Commissioners Vindicated.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The vote on the Silver bill in the Senate goes over till Monday. Senators Daniel, Reagan and Stewart all want to express views at greater length than the five-minute rule, which was to have gone into effect at 3 o'clock, would permit. "Senatorial courtesy" was accordingly extended by unanimous consent, and the result postponed until Monday night, or possibly Tuesday.

The question that will then be presented will be the adoption of the House bill, as amended and reported by the Senate Finance Committee, with some further amendments, in all probability.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The Measure Will Probably Reach the Senate on Monday.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Congressman Candler, of Massachusetts, appeared before the sub-committee of the Committee on Finance of the Senate and made a strong argument in favor of reducing the sugar standard from 16 to 13. He endeavored to show that unless this concession was made American refiners would be driven out of business and be compelled to locate in Canada.

There is great pressure being brought to bear upon the committee to increase the duty from 40 to 50 cents per 100 pounds on the refined article, but the disposition seems to be adverse to granting it.

The bill is now practically completed and will be reported, in all likelihood, to the full committee this afternoon and to the Senate on Monday.

Congressman Buchanan, of New Jersey, said that his information is that the committee has reconstructed the bill largely upon the lines recommended by the New York importers. There is a story that Speaker Reed's influence has prevailed with the sub-committee in its work, but this is not credited. The changes that have been made are all in the direction of reductions which will result undoubtedly in a clash in the conferences upon the differences between the two houses.

The Board of Appraisers.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—It is regarded here as settled that Assistant Secretary Tichenor, of the Treasury Department, will be appointed president of the Board of Appraisers at New York. The Board will be composed of nine members. Who will be nominated for the other places is yet simply a matter of speculation. Those whose names are mentioned as candidates for the position of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Col. Tichenor are Special Agent Tingle, Chief of Customs Division McGregor, Special Agent Spaulding and Solicitor Hepburn.

The Federal Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—There is a story to-day that Mr. Blaine is opposed to the proposed Republican Federal Elections bill, and that he is antagonizing it. It will be recalled that Mr. Blaine was one of the active factors as Speaker in the House who assisted the late Mr. Randall in defeating the Force bill in the Forty-Third Congress. It is also stated that the President is not entirely favorable to the bill, and that if it should be passed a veto would not be improbable.

National Election Disputes.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The House Committee on Elections has decided to call up in the House next week the Mississippi contested election case of Chalmers vs. Morgan. This will be followed during the ensuing week by the Virginia case of Langston vs. Venable, and the South Carolina case of Miller vs. Elliott. The committee has allowed $2,000 each for expenses to the parties in the cases already decided, except in the case of Cate, of Arkansas, who was allowed $1,089.

The Democratic Candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate voted for by the Democratic members was Henry W. Wall of Tennessee. He has been an official of the Senate for the past ten years, having been appointed by Col. R. J. Bright when he was Sergeant-at-Arms. He was retained by the Republicans, and is one of the most faithful and efficient employes in the Senate.

Civil Service Men Vindicated.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The House Committee on Civil Service Reform has decided on a report vindicating Civil Service Commissioners Roosevelt and Thompson from the charges made against them last fall. The report praises the two Commissioners, but does not say a word in regard to Commissioner Lyman, passing over his name without mention or comment.

General Holabird to Retire.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Next Monday Quartermaster-General Holabird will have reached the age of 64 years, and in accordance with the law will be retired. The scramble for the successorship began long ago and has gradually grown in activity until it has now reached fever heat.

The Evona Station Robbed.

Burglars broke into the Evona station a few evenings since and carried off a lot of railroad tickets good for transportation between that place and Plainfield. The building was entered by prying open one of the windows on the Front street side, but the robbers left no clew whereby their identity might be established.

The Central Railroad detectives are working on the case.

Upon Mr. I. C. Pierson of this city has been conferred the degree of Ph. D. by the University of New York. Mr. Pierson is a graduate of that University.

Mr. James Lansing and wife of Troy, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. L. Adams, at Force's Hotel. Mr. Lansing is the Surrogate of Rensselaer county, New York State.

Al. Field, brother of Dr. Field, arrived in this city, last evening, from his home in Florida, where he has a fine and paying cocoanut farm. He has not visited this section before in the past six years.

The Westfield Standard says: "While superintending the erection of some window shades in Plainfield last Monday afternoon J. Warren Brown fell from a step ladder and broke his knee cap."

"Pony" McLaren, a former resident of this city for a number of years, and at present one of the most efficient and popular engineers on the Central Railroad, visited friends in this city on Thursday last.

Alice Burt, a former teacher and an instructor in drawing in the Public Schools here, died at Albany, Sunday last. She was in the 40th year of her age. The nature of her illness has already been told of in these columns.

One hundred and eight wheelmen, and three wheelwomen, were the total number who passed through Plainfield in the mud, this morning, on the annual century ride from Newark to Philadelphia. Capt. F. L. C. Martin, of the Plainfield club, was their escort from this city to Trenton.

Alexander Campbell Eustaphieve, who will be remembered by some of the young men of Plainfield, as he spent his early boyhood here, died recently in California. He was a bright lad and gave promise of a successful and useful life. He had just reached his 21st year, when he was called away from work here to the rest of Paradise.

The death of Carrie Kirkner occurred at Dresden, Germany, on Sunday, May 25. She was in the twenty-second year of her age. Her parents and sister were with her, but it was deemed best by Mr. Kirkner to keep the sad news from those at home here, until a letter should arrive. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkner, and Miss Kirkner, are expected to arrive, with the remains, by Steamer "Ems" on Monday. Notice of funeral will be given hereafter.

Off for the Rocky Mountains.

As stated in THE PRESS of yesterday Mr. D. W. Littell of this city, was one of the twenty-six delegates elected from among the 400 members who compose the Master Plumbers' Association of New York, to attend the National Convention of Master Plumbers, which is to be held in Denver, Colorado, from June 17 to 20, inclusive.

The delegates left New York at five o'clock yesterday afternoon in a special train composed of Pullman sleepers, parlor and dining room cars, and the train is expected to arrive in St. Louis on Sunday morning. The delegates have been invited to dine with the members of the Mercantile Club of St. Louis, and the Rev. Cornelius Schenck of this city, who is in St. Louis attending the National Convention of the Christian Endeavor, has also been invited to dine with the Club.

The special will arrive in Denver at five o'clock on Monday afternoon. The entire trip will be made in about three weeks.

A Strayed Horse.

About nine o'clock last evening, four young men who live on West Front street near Grant avenue, found a chestnut colored horse, with three white legs, wandering along that thoroughfare. The animal was foaming, and was without harness or wagon attachments. Blood flowed in profusion from an ugly looking wound on the animal's face, evidently made by coming in contact with a barbed wire fence. The horse was led into town and cared for at Seguine's livery stable.

Scott & Company Pay Weekly, Too.

Messrs Walter Scott & Co, now pay their employes weekly, instead of bimonthly, as formerly. The recent endeavor to legislate for weekly payment, called Mr. Scott's attention to the justice of doing so. Four weeks ago he gave the timekeeper orders to make the necessary preparation to pay weekly, commencing last Monday.

A Warning to Bicyclists.

Captain Grant desires THE PRESS to warn bicycle riders that unless they desist from riding on the sidewalk, he will be obliged to lodge complaints against them. Last evening a lady narrowly escaped being knocken down by in indiscreet bicyclist

INSTALLATION SERVICES.

The Rev. Hobart Clark Formally Installed as Pastor of the First Unitarian Church.

The installation of the Rev. Hobart Clark as pastor of the First Unitarian church in this city, took place in Seminary Hall, last evening, in the presence of a large congregation. The platform was very prettily decorated with flowers.

The Rev. A. D. Smith of Brooklyn, presided, and pronounced the invocation. A hymn was sung, and the Rev. Henry H. Wonde of Newburgh, read the scripture.

The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., of Boston, preached an eloquent sermon, his text being found in St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, eighth chapter, second verse—"For the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Mrs. J. K. Myers, Miss Alice Holmes and Messrs E. E. Runyon and Andrew Gavett, sang a delightful anthem, "God is a Spirit," accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter on the paiano.

The Rev. Merle St. Croix Wright of New York, then delivered the installing prayer, and after another hymn was sung, the Rev. Daniel W. Morehouse of New York, extended the right hand of fellowship, the Rev. W. S. Crowe, D. D., of Newark, delivered the charge to the pastor, and the Rev. H. Price Collier of Brooklyn, delivered the address to the people.

The closing prayer was made by the Rev. James T. Bixby of Yonkers, N. Y. After the congregation joined in singing the doxology, the Rev. Hobart Clark, the newly installed pastor, pronounced the benediction.

Poor, Thin-Skinned Somervillians.

(From the Somerville Democrat.)

The Crescent Club of Plainfield are still trying to arrange games with the West End Athletic Club. The Committee sent to Somerville a few evenings ago apologized for the ungentlemanly and indecent articles published in one of the Plainfield papers against the Somerville Club and the people of Somerville generally. They said that the Crescent Club and all of the best citizens of Plainfield condemned the paper for the uncalled for attacks. The paper however keeps it up, as the following article from Tuesday's paper gives evidence:

The West Ends, of Somerville, have confessed that the Crescents' third base-man, Billy Lee, is even superior to their wonderful Al "Williams." So they would like to get Billy—but they can't. He is probably very well satisfied right here where he has made his success. He is the grand stand's principal favorite, is playing in such company as can't be found in Somerville, and under the finest managers in the State.

The citizens of Somerville do not consider themselves superior to the people of Plainfield (with the exception of the writer of the above article), but they certainly are the equal to the Plainfielders as far as manners and education are concerned.

Runaway on East Fifth Street.

An exciting runaway occurred on East Fifth street, late yesterday afternoon, which resulted in throwing a farmer out, and painfully injuring one of his hands. About five o'clock a team of heavy grey horses, attached to a hay rigging, dashed along that thoroughfare at a rapid gait. The owner of the team, whose name could not be ascertained, sat in the wagon and kept the runaway team in the middle of the street until a point was reached just West of Washington street, when the horses collided with a tree and were there captured.

The farmer was thrown violently to the ground, but fortunately escaped with some flesh wounds on one of his hands. Some of the neighbors who were soon on the spot offered to dress the wounds, but the man refused their assistance, and after patching up his harness, started off for home.

Thirteen at Table if the Mayor Had Come.

President Moffett, City Judge Codington, Corporation Counsel Marsh, Clerk Coward, and Councilmen Gallup, Hetfield, Jenkins, Johnston, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg, sat down in the main dining hall of Hotel Netherwood, last evening, as the guests of Frank E. Miller. A sumptuous banquet was served that all thoroughly enjoyed, together with the flow of reason and extra dry—wit. Mayor Male and Councilmen Dunham, Newhall and Rushmore, were absent.

In Aid of the Fresh Air Fund.

A number of the little girls residing on Craig place, North Plainfield, are arranging for a fair, which will be held on the lawn adjoining Mr. J. B. Cleaver's residence on Somerset street, on the afternoon of July 1. The proceeds will be devoted to the Fresh Air Fund.

A Calf Killed by Lightning.

During the heavy thunder shower which prevailed early this morning a calf belonging to Mr. Thomas Burke of Eighth street, which was tied to a tree in the field near his residence, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

A Ridiculous Question.

"Do you enjoy good health?" asked Brown of his friend Jones. The reply of Jones was short, sharp and to the point "Why of course I do, what fool doesn't?" Everyone enjoys good health when he has it. But some people do not have it to enjoy. Sick headache, biliousness, deranged liver, and host of ills, real and imaginary, are their heritage. Thousands of persons cure and prevent these distressing complaints by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Small, sugar-coated and easy to take; one a dose.

Jumped from an Express Train.

Charles Peterson, the informer, who "assisted" ex-Captain Carey in convicting Michael Watson for illegal liquor selling, nearly lost his life by jumping from an express train at Netherwood, on Thursday evening. Peterson has been employed at Netherwood for some time past, and on the above evening he boarded an express train which did not stop there. When the train reached the Netherwood station he jumped from the rear platform and after turning a somersault landed headforemost alongside the track.

Besides receiving a deep scalp wound, Peterson was badly bruised about the body. The injured man was admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he is still confined.

Prisoners Sentenced.

Fred Clark was arraigned before City Judge Codington at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, on a charge of being intoxicated. "How do you plead, Fred?" said His Honor. "Non vult," said the defendant. "The sentence of the Court is that you be confined in the county jail for a period of sixty days," said the Judge. "I wish you'd make it six months," said the prisoner.

Jerry Degann, the man arrested by Officer Lynch, yesterday afternoon, for insulting his boarding mistress, was fined fifteen dollars.

When Rahway "Booms" Again.

(From the Rahway Democrat.)

Mr. Ira G. Hulbert, the carpenter, of Plainfield, was in this city, Saturday and Sunday, and had a happy greeting for his many old neighbors and friends. He reports the "building boom" still "on" in Plainfield, and lots of fine buildings going up which gives him plenty to do. But he would be pleased to come back to Rahway when our "boom" comes.

Supply the Demand.

"We want a nice pitcher," the manager said,
"A pitcher that ranks every other ahead,
A genuine modern bewitcher."
A damsel facetious who this overheard
Remarked, in a voice like melodious bird,
"At Collier's you'll get an ice-pitcher."

SHAME ON YE, PATRIOTS.

ONLY A WHITEWASH COAT REMAINS IN MEMORY OF GEORGE.

Why "Washington Rock" is so Called, and What Part of America's History Has Made it Famous—An Association Formed, but it Fails to Perpetuate it—Bought by a Stranger.

Hundreds of THE PRESS readers have visited and talked of Washington Rock and the eyes of scores of them rest on it every day, yet it is not probable that a half-dozen known why it is so called or what has made it famous. Read the story here.

A musty little volume of an ancient date refers to this hollowed and sequestered spot as follows: "At an elevation of 400 feet on the brow of the mountain in the rear of Plainfield stands Washington rock. It is one of very large size, being about 25 feet in height and from 30 to 40 feet in circumference. The bold projection which nature has given it from the summit of eminence renders a fine position for taking an extensive view of the country below. In the Summer of 1777 the American army was stationed at various places on the plain below—at New Market, Middle Brook, etc. After the retreat of Sir William Howe from New Brunswick, and upon his changing his movements and marching from Amboy toward where Plainfield now is, Washington retreated to the heights in the face of the enemy. The advance guard of Howe's army fell in with Lord Sterling's division. A skirmish ensued, and, upon the approach of the column under Cornwallis, Sterling was obliged to retreat. Howe pursued him to Westfield, and on the next day returned to Amboy. Washington at this time was on the rock inspecting the operations of the armies on the plains. At various time he resorted to this place to ascertain the movements of the enemy." Accompanying this reference is what purports to be a picture of the rock, with a representation of Washington in the attitude imagination supposes him to have taken while sweeping the horizon with his glass.

It was on May 28, 1777, that Gen. Washington and his Continental army pitched their tents upon the sloping sod of the lofty hills near by. The big black rock impressed Washington by its giant statue, and he longed to climb its haughty heights. He succeeded in gratifying his ambitition through the assistance of Edward Fitz Randolph, a guide of more than local fame, who led him over a circuitous route. Fitz Randolph is said to have ridden Washington's horse. But whether Washington rode the horse, too, or tagged along afoot behind, receiving an occasional lift by catching hold of the animal's tail, even tradition doesn't say.

From the top of the rock, after he had gained it, Washington gazed down upon his forty-two skeleton regiments of 7,000 men, and Howe's scarlet troops in the hazy distance. He was so struck with the possibilities of his new position that he made his headquarters in the grove just beyond, and every morning took telescopic observations from the massive stone. From this point he is said to have clandestinely followed with his eye, aided by a powerful glass, every movement of the British troops as they strategically endeavored to draw the Americans from their stronghold. Every known device was practised by the English, but they all signally failed.

These circumstances have given the rock a colored character to the people of the present day, which, in connection with the beautiful prospect it affords, has made it a place of resort for pleasure parties. The scene is one of uncommon beauty. The whole country lies apparently as level as a map at the feet of the spectator for a circuit of sixty miles. On the left appear the spires of New York city, part of the bay, Newark, Elizabethtown, Rahway and New Brighton. Directly in front are Amboy and Raritan Bays. To the right, New Brunswick and the hills of Princeton and Trenton, and far to the east the eye stretches over the plains of Monmouth to the heights of Navesink. Beautiful villages bedeck the plain, and cultivated fields, farm houses, and numerous groves of verdant trees are spread around.

On January 25, 1867, the Washington Monument and Historical Association of Plainfield, N. J., was formed. It numbered among its members the leading citizens of this place. Its object was to secure proprietorship of the rock, and to rear on adjacent ground a monument to his memory. The corner stone was laid with imposing Masonic ceremonies by the Grand Lodge of New Jersey on the Fourth of July of the same year. People gathered from miles around; cannon boomed, bands played, patriotism ran riot and the Constitutionalist, the daddy of THE PRESS, published a two column account of the great event.

Nothing but the corner stone and the foundation were ever laid. The people gathered on the Fourth of July year after year, the eagle screamed, the cannon boomed, and the bands played just the same as they did in 1867, but no monument was reared. The association held meetings at stated intervals, but each member wanted a different kind of stone, and none could agree. "A dozen years ago a patient thief" says a newspaper reporter, "made his way to the rock, drilled a hole in the corner stone, filled it full of powder, and touched it off. The stone was split and a copper box, in which coin and other contemporary articles had been deposited, lay revealed. He took the money and then threw the box, with its other contents, away. It was afterward found and given to Judge Nathan Harper, the President of the association, for safe keeping. He took it home for the night, intending to deposit it in a vault on the following morning. His house burned down that night, however, and the box and its contents burned up." The last meeting of the association was held ten years ago.

During all these years that the association has been trying to build a monument the rock has been visited by thousands of people. The top is completely covered with the initials of patriotic tourists, while the front is covered with numerous coats of whitewash. Ever since the organization of the association it has been customary to whitewash the rock once a year, to make it the more conspicuous from the valley below. For many years it was done at the instigation of the association. Since the association went to sleep the custom has been upheld by the different owners upon whom the rock and adjacent property has devolved.. The rock is indebted to ex-Postmaster Wallace Vail, one of the original members of the association, for its last new white coat which it recently received as reported exclusively in THE PRESS.

The entire property, including the rock, is now owned by James O. Carpenter, a very wealthy man of Brooklyn. He at one time contemplated the erection of a five hundred-thousand dollar hotel, on the spot. He has not entirely given up the idea, yet. The plans are all completed, and a picture of the intended building hangs over the writer's head as these lines are written.

An Important Measure.

Senate bill No. 269, which recently became a law, is one of considerable importance in financial circles. It requires all banking, savings, trust, guarantee, safe deposit, indemnity, mortgage, investment, loan and building corporations doing business in the State to file reports annually with the Secretary of State in January or whenever the Board of Commissioners may require.

It requires them to have an actually paid in, well invested and unimpaired capital of at least $100,000. It requires a deposit of at least $30,000 with the Secretary of State, in trust, for the benefit of creditors within this State; provided, that such corporation maintaining a deposit of at least $100,000 in the State where organized may be admitted to this State without making a deposit here.

Business is Business.

(From the Rahway Democrat.)

We regret to hear that there are efforts constantly being made by those interested in another association to induce the players to leave Rahway, offering them more than the Rahway management will pay, whatever the amount may be. With our idea of business and honor, we had supposed that when an agreement was entered into with a base ball player it was the same as any other business arrangement, and that he would continue to play for the season, giving his best efforts for the interest of the club, unless released for good cause, other than that of finances.

THE GREATEST

BOOK SENSATION

OF THE AGE!

ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITTANNICA.

Wanamaker sells 500 COMPLETE SETS in 2½ days, (12,500 Books) at $1.50 per vol.

The monarch of cyclopædias; a library of universal knowledge. Exact reproduction of the latest (ninth, 1890) Edinburgh edition, with improved maps, at $1 50 a volume! Well printed on good paper, substantially and handsomely bound. The set will consist of twenty-five volumes, four of which will be ready this week. The entire set will probably be completed by December 1.

To let you know what a phenomenal opportunity this is we will sell volume I for sixty cents, without any agreement on your part to take the remainder of the set.

You can arrange to have the volumes delivered one or more (up to four) a month, and pay for them as received.

The first five hundred sets will be in superior binding and nothing extra to pay.

I am the authorized agent for Plainfield, and have just received 50 copies of volume I, which can be seen at my store.

If you think of subscribing, do so quickly, as the number allotted to this city is limited.

NEARING A CRISIS

The Tory Leaders Furious Over the Present Trouble.

CABINET CHANGES EXPECTED.

Lord Hartington Talked of for Leader in the Commons.

Pope Leo Has Sorrowful Presentiments—Sudden Flight of the Czar—Stanley's Trip to America—Ex-King Milan's Help Desired—Engaging Players in the Passion Play—Bernhardt Has a Relapse.

LONDON, June 14.—The Tory leaders are furious over the addition to the troubles of the Government by the action of Mr. Home Secretary Matthews in regard to the police, and the bitter feeling increases hourly as the matter is discussed and its full import is laid bare. The rank and file of the Conservative party are even more incensed than the leaders, and are disposed to be mutinous.

In the present state of popular feeling, along with the serious Parliamentary defection, the Government sees the absolute necessity, as a measure of self-preservation, of enforcing the suspension rule, whose proposal in yesterday's caucus caused so much dissatisfaction.

Should a division now be taken on any one of the important measures which the Ministry desires to carry over till next session without re-introducing them, the result would most assuredly be disastrous to Lord Salisbury's Government, and the suspension scheme is therefore an imperative necessity.

The rope given to the Government, combined with the additional length of cordage it has taken, is now so inextricably entwined about the necks of the Ministry that the hanging process seems not far off.

Lord Hartington as Leader.

LONDON, June 14.—It is learned, upon excellent authority, that in the event of the resignation of Mr. W. H. Smith from the office of First Lord of the Treasury and, consequently, from the leadership of the Government party in the House of Commons, Lord Hartington will doubtless succeed him. Should Mr. Matthews voluntarily or compulsorily resign the Home Secrtaryship he will be succeeded by Sir Henry James.

POPE LEO'S WARNING.

He Predicts that Society Will be Severely Punished.

DUBLIN, June 14.—The Irish Catholic states that the Pope, in replying to the congratulations of visitors at the Vatican, expressed himself as strongly of the belief that great punishment was impending on society for its disregard of and indifference to the Church. "The Lord," he said, "will come no longer with a sweet and peaceful face, but with an angry one to strike and purify His church. I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I feel in my heart sorrowful presentiments.

"A sea of evil is about to beat against the rock on which the Church is founded, and will leave nothing to be seen on the horison but the threat of the anger of God. Prayer will not suffice to appease the Almighty."

Ex-King Milan's Help Desired.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—The Novoe Vremya invites ex-King Milan to spend a few years in Russia in order that he may overcome Russian prejudices against him and be enabled to work in the Panslavist cause. The article has made a sensation, in view of the intention attributed to Russia to interfere in Servia, the inference being that Russia desires to secure Milan's influence with the Servian army.

Stanley's Trip to America.

LONDON, June 14.—It is stated that Henry M. Stanley will sail for New York with his wife on October 29. Mr. Stanley has concluded arrangements to deliver fifty lectures in the United States during the fall and winter. For the lectures delivered in New York he is to receive £5,000, and for each lecture thereafter, in the various cities, he is to receive £200.

Sudden Flight of the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—It is reported that the Czar and family have suddenly left Gatchina for the Peterhof Palace without making any preparation and without taking any luggage.

Passion Players May Come Here.

BERLIN, June 14.—Plans are being developed here that will involve the taking of 700 Oberammergau players to America in 1893.

Sarah Bernhardt Suffers a Relapse.

PARIS, June 14.—Sarah Bernhardt has suffered another relapse and is now in bed seriously ill.

Important Bank Decision.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 14.—Attorney-General Tabor has made a decision of importance to all savings banks and all other banks in this State. In response to a letter from the president of the Syracuse Savings Bank as to whether the trustees of the bank who examined property about to be purchased or mortgages given by the banks, could be remunerated out of the bank funds, the Attorney-General says that no law of the State will so allow, and Trustees can only be remunerated when in regular attendance at meetings. Even expenses of such examinations can not be paid out of the bank funds.

To be Adopted by Indians.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—Next Monday the Seneca Indians will adopt into their tribe, with the old-time rites, Mr. James E. Kelley, the famous New York sculptor, and designer of the proposed Red Jacket monument to be erected in thie city, and Mr. Converse, of New York, the husband of Mrs. Harriet Maxwell Converse, who is already a Seneca by adoption.

And Edict Against Intoxicating Liquors.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 14.—Adjutant-General Porter has issued orders prohibiting the sale or use of all spirituous or other intoxicating liquors at Creedmore Rifle Range.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $1 50; $3 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,

COMMENCEMENT DAY

Institutions of Learning Pouring Forth Their Hosts.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMONS.

Graduates Instructed as to the Duties That Devolve Upon Them.

Dr. Phillips Brooks Talks to the Harvard Students—A Big Crowd at Lehigh University—The Speakers at Trinity—President Ardrews' Sermon to Brown College Graduates.

BOSTON, June 16.—The ceremonies of commencement week at Harvard began yesterday afternoon, when the class of '90, in all the glory of its faultlessly attired manhood, marched to Appleton Chapel and listened to the baccalaureate sermon.

The preacher was the Rev. Phillips Brooks, and his discourse was, it goes without saying, eminently worthy the occasion. His text was I. Corinthians, ix., 25—"They do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we are incorruptible."

St. Paul, said the preacher, is claiming human energy for its highest work. He has gone on and up till he has gained great visions of what man may be and do. His heart is glowing with the prospect of sublime achievement. Then he looks around and listens. He hears the sound of human activity on every side. The figure of the race course rises before him. He sees the eager competitors first training themselves with painful self-control and then flinging themselves into the struggle and straining every effort for a crown of leaves. "There is no lack of energy," he seems to say.

The world has force enough if only we can have it for the highest purposes; if only self restraint and enthusiasm, and skill and fiery zeal can be poured into these more worthy channels; if only we can run the perfect race as these men run in the race course whose prize is this laural, which will fade before the morning. It is a longing which has come to the minds of all enthusiasts who craved for the one thing which in all the world seemed precious to them—that which they saw men freely giving to less precious things.

Amherst College.

AMHERST, June 16.—The baccalaureate sermon at the Massachusetts Agricultural College was delivered by Professor C. S. Walker. His text was taken from Luke, xxii., 32—"Strengthen thy brethren." His central idea was that the farmer, who furnished the raw material for our factories, bread for operatives and manhood for our civilization, should combine to demand a fairer share of the profits of American industry, claiming that no State can long exist in which the tillers of the soil bear most of the burdens and share little of the blessings of advancing civilization.

Tufts College.

MEDFORD, Mass., June 16.—The baccalaureate sermon of Tufts College was delivered in Goddard Chapel by President Capen. His topic was "The Responsibilities of the Age," and he took his text from Isaiah ix, 1. The discourse emphasized strongly the matter of equal rights to man In comparing the intellectual facilities and attainments of the present age to those of the past, the speaker said: "For myself, I count it a greater privilege to have lived in the age of Lincoln and Sumner, of Bright and Gladstone, than it would have been to have lived in any other of the world's historic epochs."

Trinity College.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 16. — The speakers at the commencement exercises at Trinity College this week are the following: Valedictorian, Clifford S. Griswold, of Wethersfield, Conn.; Salutatorian, William H. C. Pychon, of Hartford. Others are: John Williams, of Seymour; Henry H. Barber, of Washington, D. C.; Theodore L. Cheritree, of Oak Hill, N. Y.

The University of Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 16.—The exercises in connection with the annual commencement of the University of Rochester began last evening at the First Baptist Church. President Hill delivered the baccalaureate sermon to a large congregation. The exercises will continue throughout the week, the public events being held at the Lyceum Theatre.

Colgate University.

HAMILTON, N. Y., June 16.— Commencement week of Colgate University began yesterday. The education sermon was preached in the morning by Rev. Dr. Hobart, of Yonkers. The baccalaureate sermon was delivered in the evening by Professor Sylvester Burnham, D. D., of the university faculty.

Franklin and Marshall College.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 16.—Commencement week at Franklin and Marshall College was inaugurated yesterday with the baccalaureate sermon preached by President Stahr. The regular commencement will take place on Thursday.

Smith College.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 16.—President Seelye preached the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class, taking for his text Hebrews xi., 39, 40. The main thought of his discourse was that the greatest success comes through temporary failure.

The Yale-Princeton Tie.

NEW HAVEN, June 16.—The Yale and Princeton nines have arranged to play off their tie at Eastern Park, Brooklyn, Wednesday, June 18.

CORNWALLIS' SURRENDER.

Congressmen from the Thirteen Original States to Inspect the Monument.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—This afternoon a select party left the Baltimore & Ohio depot for a visit to Yorktown, Va., to inspect the monument erected there to commemorate the surrender of Cornwallis at that place.

The party is made up of Congressmen from the thirteen original States and a few invited guests, who are under the care of Col. J. E. Peyton, a gentleman who has figured in every large event of this character.

From Baltimore the party will take a York River steamer at 5 o'clock, and will be met at West Point by the Government steamer Dispatch. To morrow morning they will be entertained by Mr. Cruikshank, the present occupant of the Moore House, in which the treaty capitulations were prepared.

A TOBACCO SYNDICATE.

Englishmen Negotiating for the Control of the Tobacco Market of the World.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 16.—An English syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of all the tobacco warehouses in this city and Cincinnati. Ex-Congressman Albert S. Willis is attorney for the syndicate, and Julius Barkhouse is its agent. These two gentlemen left a few days ago for England to perfect the plans.

It is said $2,000,000 is the price asked for the good will in this city without any real estate. With the Louisville and Cincinnati markets the syndicate could control the tobacco market of the world, Louisville alone last year selling nearly 200,000 hogsheads.

New Jersey Tax Commission.

TRENTON, N. J., June 16.—Governor Abbett appointed the Tax Commission provided for by the Legislature to take testimony and report on the Tax law equalizing taxes to the next Legislature. The commission named is as follows: Barker Gummere, president; Attorney General Stockton; members of the House, Messrs. Voorhees and Nash; members of the Senate, Messrs. Gardner, Everett and William F. Abbett, Ex-Judge Hoffman is counsel for the commission. The commission will begin its investigations immediately, and will take testimony in several cities of the State.

Raid on Prize Fighters.

WATERBURY, Conn., June 16.—Ed. McDonald, better known as "Faker," and Jack Russell of New York, said to be Jack Dougherty, went to the old stone mill at Union city early in the morning to fight for $100 and the gate receipts. Just as referee Henry Murphy stepped into the ring, Sheriff Sweeney and posse appeared with drawn revolvers and captured the pugilists. The crowd quickly dispersed, followed by Doughtery, who escaped from the officers. McDonald is in the Naugatuck station house, and Dougherty is in the woods clad only in his tights.

Slashed with a Razor.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Isaac Sampson, colored, had a quarrel with his wife at Angora, Delaware County, Pa., to-day, and slashed her about the head with a razor. Citizens attempted to arrest him, but he held them at bay with his razor, until a well directed brick, thrown by one of the crowd, brought him to the grass, and he was secured. The wife was brought to the Univeralty Hospital. Her wounds are serious. Sampson was locked up.

For Grant and Lee.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 16.—A meeting was held at Middlesborough to organize permanently the Grant and Lee Monument Association. The subscription committee reported $14,100 received. Telegrams of encouragement were read from Gov. Hill, Gov. Campbell, Gov. Taylor, Charles A. Dana, and others. At the meeting $3,000 was subscribed.

Dr. Parker's Will.

HUME, N. Y., June 16.—The will of the late Alvin E. Parker, of Belmont, has been admitted to probate without contest, as had been anticipated. Henry P. Whitney, of Bradford, Pa., and Mrs. Ira Myers, of Buffalo, the only heirs of Mr. Parker's deceased daughter, share equally. The estate amounts to nearly a million dollars.

Mahan and Gibbons to Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—The Occidental Club, of this city, has matched Billy Mahan, the coast champion lightweight, against the celebrated Newark (N. J.) pugilist, Austin Gibbons. The purse will be one of $1,200, of which the loser's end is $250, and the battle will probably come off the latter part of July.

Fell Over an Embankment.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., June 16.—George F. Leavenworth, of Roxbury station, a well known merchant, in celebrating his fifty-second birthday at Southville, wrestled with one Millville. Both fell over an embankment twenty feet high near Shepang River. Leavenworth was killed. Both had been drinking.

Cornell's Closing Day.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 16.—The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Cornell University was preached here by Rev. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge, Mass. The services were held in Gymnasium Hall, which was gaily decorated with flowers and bunting.

Minister Loring at Home.

BOSTON, June 16.—Hon. George B. Loring, United States Minister to Portugal, accompanied by his wife, arrived on the steamship Scythia from Liverpool.

The Difference Between the Two Houses to be Settled in Conference.

Cutting up the Bill for the Admission of Wyoming and Idaho—The River and Harbor Bill—The New Federal Election Measure to Have a Week's Debate.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The silver debate, which has been prolonged for so many weeks, comes to an end to-day. By an agreement reached last Friday general debate on the bill ended at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and debate is now being continued under the five-minute rule until a vote is reached.

The pending measure is the House bill as amended in the Senate Committee on Finance. It will then go into conference, the chief point of difference between the two houses being the proposition to make the silver certificate legal tender and to make them redeemable in bullion at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury on demand of the owner. The matter is not likely to be disposed of finally for some time to come.

Following the Silver bill, Mr. Platt, the Chairman of the Committee on Territories, has arranged to call up the bill for the admission of Wyoming into the Union, and after that the Idaho Admission bill.

Senator Allison, the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, has promised that he will not antagonize these bills with any of the appropriation bills. It is the intention of the Democrats to offer an omnibus bill (including Idaho, Arizona and New Mexico) as a substitute for the Wyoming bill, and the debate will be on that measure. Mr. Platt has said that he will present the report of the committee in favor of the bills and make no further argument. In this event the debate of the two bills is likely to be brief, and they are likely to be disposed of by Thursday.

Mr. Frye, the chairman of the Committee on Commerce, will have the River and Harbor bill before the Senate by that time, and he has the assurance that Mr. Allison and Mr. Aldrich, of the Committee on Finance, will not call up the Tariff bill, which will by that time have been reported, until the River and Harbor bill is out of the way. Senator Morrill's Agricultural College bill is down for consideration Thursday. It may be crowded out by some other measure. The Legislative Appropriation bill is on the calendar and likely to be called up at any odd minute.

IN THE HOUSE.

The New Federal Election Bill to be Introduced To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Before the end of the week the House will probably have passed the new Federal election bill agreed upon by the Republican caucus. The bill will probably be introduced in the House to-morrow, and after the committee on the election of President and Vice-President has made its purely perfunctory report on it, the House will take it up for consideration. The consideration of the bill may run into the following week.

The consideration of the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill took the place to-day of general suspension business, which the rules of the House provided should occur to-day.

To-morrow the contested election case of Chalmers (Rep.) against Morgan (Dem.) from Mississippi, will be taken up and speedily disposed of, as the elections committee has decided in favor of Morgan the sitting member. The National Bankruptcy bill will also be taken up during the week.

A Costly Acqueduct.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—General Casey, chief of Engineers in the War Department, in a report submitted to the Senate, states that it will cost $640,000 to complete the Washington aqueduct in this city. Over $2,000,000 have so far been expended on the work. It was abandoned two years ago as defective, and has been going to ruin ever since. The work was the subject of a congressional investigation two years ago, and the engineers connected with it were transferred to other cities for duty.

McKinley Will Run Again.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Major William McKinley has announced his intention to be a candidate for the Fifty-second Congress in the new district in which he finds himself by the gerrymander of the Democratic Ohio Legislature. The major was elected to the present Congress from the Eighteenth Ohio District by a majority of over 4,000.

Boys Struck by a Train.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Joseph Johnson, aged 14, was killed, and George Smith, aged 11, probably fatally injured, by being struck by a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad train at Gray's Ferry. The boys are said to have been playing on the track.

A Destructive Spark.

DENVER, Col., June 16.—A spark from a locomotive set fire to a hay warehouse in the union depot yards, and the private car of General Manager Meek, of the Fort Worth road, and fourteen loaded freight cars were destroyed before the fire could be extinguished.

THE DAILY PRESS.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—The next regular meeting of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., will be held to-morrow evening.

—An interesting case is to be heard by Justice Hardy in North Plainfield, at five o'clock this afternoon.

—Although ice was a glut in the New York market, Saturday, the dealers here again raised the price on the butchers this morning.

—A large attendance is expected on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club to-morrow, when there will be offered a fine programme at live birds.

—A free fight took place in North Plainfield, on Saturday afternoon, but no arrests were made. The principals, it is said, were young men of this city.

—A horse belonging to Charles Potter, Jr., which had so hurt itself that it was in continual pain and beyond recovery, was killed Friday to relieve it of its misery.

—J. F. Billet, of Whitehall, will lead the meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in Mrs. Poole's parlor. Subject: "Full Salvation." All are invited 22 West Third street.

—On account of rain there was no trotting on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association, on Saturday afternoon. No rain fell in this city, but at the track, rain fell in torrents.

—Plainfield Lodge, No. 305, Order of Tonti, met on Thursday evening, with president W. B. Codington in the chair. Two new members were initiated, and seven new applications were received.

—As customary in all matters of public interest, THE PRESS is first to present them to the people. To-morrow's issue will contain the particulars of a public project that everybody is interested in.

—The street lights went out for a few minutes, all over town, last evening, but the current was soon turned on again. About eight o'clock the house lights were extinguished, and for a time the worshipers in Amphion Hall were in total darkness.

—It is understood that the Crescent League is very much opposed to the betting of money on the ball games, and the Board of Trustees published a card to that effect in Saturday's PRESS. Signs positively forbidding betting on the grounds have been posted, and every other effort will be put forth by the League to stop the practice. Over a thousand dollars changed hands on the result of Saturday's game.

Held For the Grand Jury's Action.

There was a large gathering at the house of Justice Hardy, in North Plainfield, this afternoon. The occasion was the hearing of the case of the State against Mrs. Newton Drake charged with the ill treatment of her youngest stepson. Those in attendance were principally women and neighbors of the accused, who had been called to testify for the prosecution. Their vindicitive feeling against the accused was apparent from their conversation.

Just before the hour set, Craig A. Marsh, counsel for Mrs. Drake, had a consultation with her as she sat in a closed carriage in front of the house. He subsequently stated that he had intended upon this hearing to place his client on the stand and by her testimony and that of others, to fully show the court, the prosecutor and the community that the charge was entirely a mistake.

But Mrs. Drake, he said, was in such a state of complete nervous prostration that it was impossible for her to appear, and in consequence the examination must be waived. Mr. Marsh further stated, that his client and her friends—"for she has some friends," he said—appreciated the motives of those who had brought forward the charge, and considered them made in a commendable spirit, but under a mistake that would be fully shown.

A new bond was then prepared in the sum of $300 signed by J.P. Homan, under which Mrs. Drake was held to await the action of the next grand jury of Somerset county.

The Proof of the Pudding Offered.

Tomato soup, codfish balls, hot molasses cake, baked custard, rice pudding, cookies, brown bread, hot biscuits, boiled tongue, lemon pudding and boiled ham, are a few of the things the Cooking Class girls will prepare in their tent, and the Kitchen Garden girls will serve from five till seven o'clock, of to-morrow evening, at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street.

The purpose of the entertainment as a whole is to answer by practical example the question so often asked by critical people, what is the good of all this Kitchen Garden or cooking class teaching? It is hoped that all will accept this opportunity. For ten cents their curiosity will be satisfied, they may judge for themselves of results and proficiency, while at the same time they will assist in paying a part of the expenses incurred in the work.

Fell on His Head.

A boy about 12 years of age, by the name of Scribner, living with his parents on Somerset street, on what is known as the Hillman place, while playing on a farm wagon this morning, accidently fell off, striking his head on a stone and cutting his scalp open so that surgical aid was necessary. The boy became quite weak from the loss of blood.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Edward Nelson, on Saturday returned to his post of duty as ticket agent at the main station in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Lee place, are rejoicing over the advent of a son, born to them a few days ago.

The Boys' Mission Band, "Earnest Workers," will hold their regular meeting to-morrow afternoon at 4:15, at Mrs. C. M. Goddard's, 17 Third place.

Messrs J. H. Force of Force's Hotel, and Charles Smith, of West Front street, are both again confined to their rooms by rheumatism. Oh! this weather.

To-morrow their will be presented in these columns, something all the people are more curious about and interested in, than anything for many months past.

Darlington Hoopes, a minister of the Society of Friends, from Maryland, will be at the meeting on Peace street, next Fourth day (Wednesday) morning at 11 o'clock.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will hold a regular communication tomorrow evening at eight o'clock, at which time the Master Mason degree will be conferred.

George B. Titsworth, of Madison avenue, who has just returned from a trip to Milwaukee and Chicago in the interest of Charles Potter, Jr., & Co., left last evening on another business journey of the same sort.

Prof. Cornwell, at one time pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church in this city, but now of Omaha, Neb., occupied the pulpit in the First Baptist church yesterday morning, and preached an eloquent sermon before a large congregation.

Trustee Howard Emerson of the Crescent League, gave a big supper at the City Hotel, Saturday evening, to his fellow members of the League, their friends and the ball team. About fifty were present, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell, of this city, will address the midsummer convention of the New Jersey Sunday School Association, at Asbury Park, Wednesday afternoon. His subject will be: "Mutual Relations of the Church and Sabbath School."

During the absence of the Rev. Mr. Richards, who was in Spring Lake, yesterday, the Rev. Dr. Murray of Princeton college, occupied the pulpit of the Crescent Avenue church. Dr. Murray is the father of William H. Murray, M. D., of Broadway.

Henry B. Newhall entertained the clerks of his New York establishment, yesterday, at his home on East Seventh street. The warm welcome and true hospitality of Mrs. Newhall, was one of the principal sources of the gratification shared by every one of the guests.

Mrs. Enoch Farson, of Philadelphia, daughter of Gen'l and Mrs. James S. Negley, has so much improved in the last few days from the illness recorded in these columns, as to be able to leave her room again. She is at her parent's home on the corner of Union and Plainfield avenues.

Four hundred and seventy-eight cards of admission have already been distributed to those who have sought the privilege of attending the piano recital by the pupils of Mr. Venino, to be given in the Crescent Avenue chapel, Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Ample accommodation, however, can be afforded even a larger audience.

Messrs. Allie Dunn, J. Randolph Dunn, and Willie F. Dunn started today for Fairhaven, Washington, where they expect to join the latter's father, Mr. Lewis A. Dunn, of the late firm of Dunn Bros. who has located in business there. Mr. "Ran" Dunn goes for the benefit of his health, while Mr. Al Dunn is the chaperone of the party.

The Building Committee of the Union County Country Club, of which Pliny Fisk is chairman, is making rapid progress in its plans for the twenty-thousand dollar club house at the corner of West Seventh street and Arlington avenue. Meanwhile the board of governors is receiving applications for membership, daily. The initiation fee is $50, and the dues $40 a year payable semi-annually in advance.

A well-written sermon was delivered yesterday morning in the Trinity Reformed church by the Rev. W. E. Honeyman, from the text, "Heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ."—Rom. 8-17. At the evening service "Holiness" was the subject of an able discourse by the Rev. Asa Reed Dilts of the Park Avenue Baptist church. His text, "Holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord," is found in Hebrews, 12th chapter, part of the 14th verse.

At four o'clock of yesterday morning, at Stroudsburg, Pa., occurred the death from consumption of Lambert Foster, formerly of this city and son of the late John Gray Foster, whose second wife is the daughter of D. N. Groendyke, of North Plainfield, where she has lived ever since the death of her husband. Lambert Foster was in the 29th year of his age. The funeral services will be held at the home of his uncle, Scott Foster, No. 29 East 83d street, New York, at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Interment at Woodlawn cemetery, Newburg, N. Y.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of Plainfield are respectfully urged to attend a public meeting to be held in Music Hall, at 8 o'clock tonight, to protest against the licensing of pool-selling by the Legislature of the State. Distinguished speakers will address the meeting.

ALMOST KILLED BY HIS BULL.

Mr. Burghmiller Saved by His Neighbor, But His Condition Still Very Precarious.

Lewis Burghmiller, who owns and occupies a farm near Berkley Heights, about five miles Northeast of this city, on which he keeps a large herd of cattle, was set upon by an alderney bull, yesterday morning. In the encounter, Mr. Burghmiller came near losing his life.

As is Mr. Burghmiller's custom he went down to the pasture lot to salt the stock. While looking over the cattle his attention was drawn away from the fact that a large alderney bull, 3 years old, was in close proximity to him. The animal had never shown signs of ugliness but was of an unusually quiet nature for one of this breed, which is noted for its fierce and treacherous disposition, especially those of the finer strain. But this time the animal made a lunge at Mr. Burghmiller, knocking him down and so prostrating him that he was unable to arise.

The bull then set deliberately at work to finish his victim. Mr. Menegar, who happened to be in an adjoining lot where there were some cattle of his own which he was showing to a neighbor, chanced just then to notice Mr. Burghmiller's precarious position and the bull standing over him. Not ten minutes before they were both admiring the relative merits of the animal as only stock raisers can.

Mr. Menegar seized a club and ran to his neighbor's assistance, but before he reached him the bull had torn open his vest and shirt, lacerated his breast, ripped his trousers leg from the knee to the waistband and dug deep into the flesh from knee to thigh. On the approach of Mr. Menegar, the bull ran to the herd bellowing his defiance and pawing the earth in his rage at the defeat of his purpose of killing his victim. The timely arrival of his neighbor with a club had certainly saved Mr. Burghmiller's life, although he is not yet out of danger. He was carried to his home where he now lies in a critical condition. It is feared that he has received internal injuries, and until a more careful investigation is made by a surgeon, it is impossible to know whether there is any hope. No one is allowed to ask him any questions as it hurts him to talk. He told his wife that after the bull struck him he had not the slightest idea what took place.

The bull which is a fierce one will in all probability be sent to the shambles as it is not considered safe to have him running at large where persons crossing the lot are liable to be injured.

PLAINFIELD'S SEWER BILL

And Other Laws Just Approved by the Governor.

Among the bills approved and filed by Governor Abbett with the Secretary of State, Friday, was House 460, otherwise the Plainfield sewer bill as published in THE PRESS when first introduced. Others of the new laws, were:

Senate 211, allows boroughs to issue bonds to the amount of $30,000 for the improvement of streets.

House 449, provides for the election of a borough marshal and a borough superintendent of roads.

House 490, makes the theft of poultry and fowls a misdemeanor punishable by $100 fine or three years' imprisonment or both.

House 552, makes it illegal to peddle, hawk or vend articles in streets without a license.

House 582, permits townships to sell unimproved real estate to which they hold title.

Before the City Judge.

The usual batch of prisoners were arraigned before City Judge Codington at the station house this morning. One of them was a man named Connett, arrested on Saturday night for being intoxicated. He was fined five dollars.

Albert Youngblood, another one arrested by special officer Kriney, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, and was fined fifteen dollars.

Nathan Harvey was the third prisoner arraigned on a similar charge. Like the others, he pleaded guilty to the charge, and was let off with a $5 fine.

Real Estate Transfers.

Real estate transfers have recently been made in this city as follows:

Richard Merritt to James Merritt, land on Kensington avenue, e s, 126 ft n from Broadway, 106x175 ft., $1.

George M. Phillips and wife to Louisa Greder, of North Plainfield, land on Dunellen avenue, and Green Brook, 5.83 acres, $2,500.

Peter Flynn, to Michael Nugent, tract on s e side of 3d street, 156x32½ ft., $1.

Mary Nugent and husband to Peter Flynn, same tract, $1.

Dead and Buried Within a Few Hours.

John D. Whiting, an aged man, died at his home on Grove street, North Plainfield, about eight o'clock on Saturday morning, from old age. Mr. Whiting was seventy-four years old, and had been an invalid for a long time. He was the stepfather of Mrs. Garret VanWinkle of Madison avenue.

The Rev. Charles B. Mitchell officiated at the funeral, which took place from the house on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock. Interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield.

—To-night the DeWier Comedy Company will present "Cupid's Frolic," the three act farce comedy, at Amphion Hall.

IN MEMORIAL.

The Knights Decorate the Graves of the Pythian Dead.

In accordance with a law made by the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias of the World, at their last session—that a day should be set apart to decorate the graves of the Pythian dead—Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., No. 101, of Scotch Plains, at their regular meeting held on Friday evening, June 6, passed a resolution to decorate the graves of their deceased Brothers on Thursday, June 12.

On that date they assembled at their Castle Hall, and after opening the Lodge with prayer by Brother John Hughes, and listening to appropriate remarks by each Brother present bearing testimony to the worth of the departed and referring to the duties of the living ones, they proceeded to the burial ground. Each Brother carried a beautiful floral tribute, and with impressive ceremonies decorated with handsome flowers and evergreens the graves of Past District Deputy Frank Hosinger, and Past Chancellors James Buckley and Jno. Haskard. At the next meeting of the Lodge a resolution was passed thanking the Decoration Committee for the able manner in which they conducted the decoration ceremonies.

Caught Hold of a "Live" Wire.

The serious accident which happened to Alfred Naylor, occasioned by his fall from a cherry tree at Fourth street and Madison avenue, one day last week, is said to have been caused by his grasping a "live" electric light wire which passes through the tree. The boy's hand shows marks of burning. Dr. Paul, the attending physician, pronounces the patient entirely out of danger.

SACRIFICES OF GILLIS AND WALKER WIN THE GAME.

Pitcher Tierney Never Lost Before, and Manager Perkins Drops His Money on His Crack Team—An Exhibition of Perfect Ball Playing.

The game of ball put up by the Crescent League's team on Saturday afternoon, cannot be excelled by any professional nine of the day: and in some respects Captain Wiegand and his gentlemen players, are the superiors of any others who ever wore a uniform. They move like clockwork; the in and out fielders cover every inch of the ground; not a man lets a chance go by for fear of an error; each is ready to sacrifice himself to win the game; and if a mistake should occur there is no rude fault-finding.

For instance, in Saturday's game Nugent made the Hackett-Carhart's only run through bad judgment on the part of Jones. In the second inning Barry and Abel were thrown out at first by Gregg and Martin. Nugent was hit by a pitched ball and started to steal second. Forgetting that two were out, Jones threw down to Lufbery but the latter could not reach the ball and Nugent got his third on the error, and came in on Tierney's little hit. After the inning was over, Captain Wiegand did not turn the air blue, jump on Jones with his spikes, and demand why the deuce and the dickens he made such a play at such a stage. He merely said: "Freddy will you please do me a favor, and not throw down to second when there are two men out?"

Manager Perkins of the Hackett-Carharts, told a PRESS reporter before the game commenced, that he had heard of the Crescents and came out intending to beat them. He had eleven men in uniform on the grounds ready for emergencies, and from those he picked the strongest team he ever had in the field. "Tierney will pitch," said Mr. Perkins, "and he has never lost a game for us." Before play was called, the New York manager had put up all his guarantee in cold cash against an equal amount of Plainfield dollars, that the visitors would win.

It was a beautiful game from start to finish, but the Crescents won without turning a hair. 1,065 enthusiastic people enjoyed it as thoroughly as their sentiments would permit. The visitors present from New York and Rahway, were naturally disappointed at the result, but not one was disappointed in the game as an exhibition of perfect ball playing. The only error of the home team was that of Jones, referred to above. On the visiting team's side, there were only two little ones. Moorehead and Barry let Martin and Lufbery reach first by fumbles, but neither got home. In the 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th innings, not one of the visitors got as far as first base.

The Crescents runs were made in this way: In the second inning, after the Hackett-Carharts had made their only run, Jones was sent to first on balls, stole second and reached third on McIndoe's hit. Gillis then lifted a high fly to left as a sacrifice and Jones made a successful dash for home the instant the ball was caught.

In the fifth inning Lee made a beautiful drive that gave him two bases, and he reached third on Walker's single. The latter then started for second base with the deliberate intention of sacrificing himself also. He ran so slowly that Kraus could not resist the temptation of throwing down, expecting that Barry would return the ball at once in time to catch Lee should he start home. When the ball got to second, Walker dropped down in the path five feet from the base and coaxed Barry to walk over and touch him. Meanwhile Lee came home, and the grand stand tottered.

The Hackett-Carharts will play here again on the afternoon of July 5 Next Saturday the celebrated "Mets" of New York, will be the Crescents' opponents. It will be a harder game to win, even, than that of Saturday. The Crescent team will be the same, and McIndoe will play with them for the rest of the season. Michael Gregg, the iceberg, is of course a fixture. He's got a great head as well as a great arm. His record in Saturday's game shows ten assists; and as to caring whether the bases are full behind him, it seems as if he sent men to first on balls sometimes, just for the fun of doubling them up.

It is deserving of mention, that although the Hackett-Carharts are notorious "kickers"—especially Moorehead—and believe it is the proper thing to dispute the home umpire without reason, not a single word of objection was uttered against Mr. Bowman, Saturday. The score was

THE HUNDRED MILE RUN OF THE BI'S.

Captain Martin and J. E. Murray of Plainfield, Stay to the Finish.

The third annual great Century Run was taken on Saturday under very unfavorable circumstances. On the night previous to the run a heavy thunder storm occurred, which put the roads in very poor condition. Added to this the roads between Cranford and Westfield and Somerville and Trenton are being worked which made the roads exceedingly heavy. Probably at no time in the history of cycling was such a large number of plucky bicyclists banded together for such a rough ride. The start was made at 4 A. M. from the Continental Hotel in Newark, with 138 in line, out of which 82 reached the finish, including three ladies, Mrs. C. W. Dalsen, Captain Fairmount Ladies Cycling Club of Philadelphia, Miss Katie Welch of the Wissahickon Wheelmen of Germantown, Pa., and Miss Ella Tecklenburg, unattached, of Philadelphia. On reaching Westfield, the party was received by the Union County Wheelmen, who had a spread consisting of coffee and rolls ready for the hungry cyclists and an arch erected over the street bearing the word "Welcome."

On reaching this city they were royally entertained at the club house, where an elaborate spread was in waiting for them Only two members were added to the party in Plainfield, they were Captain Frank L. C. Martin and J. E. Murray, and they both rode to the finish. It really seems as though their club, with a membership of over 100, ought to make a larger showing than it did. The riding of Mr. Murray was very creditable as he has been a rider but a short time and had never before taken a long ride. A brilliant cycling future evidently awaits him.

This certainly ought to put to shame a number of the older riders. Mr. A. L. C. Marsh expected to participate in the run but was unable to do so on account of business. He nevertheless took an afternoon train to Philadelphia, and rode back to Holmesburg, twelve miles this side of Philadelphia, where he joined the party.

The schedule time for leaving Trenton was 2:30 but it was two hours later than that when they left, one hour of which was made up before reaching Philadelphia, which was at 8 o'clock. On reaching Philadelphia, the visitors were taken in charge by the Century Wheelmen of that city, and a supper was served them in the club house of that most hospitable club. From there the party went to the headquarters at Continental Hotel. Yesterday was devoted to runs through Fairmount Park and out on Lancaster Pike. The Plainfielders speak in glowing terms of the hospitality shown them by the Philadelphians. This run is called a Century on account of the distance being 100 miles.

Along the line great crowds turned out to welcome the cyclists, especially at Trenton, Holmesburg, Frankfort and at the finish in Philadelphia.

The pace makers were Captain W. E. Fuller of the Brooklyn Bicycle club, from Newark to Plainfield; Captain Frank L. C. Martin from Plainfield to Trenton; Captain R. V. Whitehead, of the Trenton wheelmen, from Trenton to Bristol, and Captain C. W. Dalsen, of the Century Wheelmen of Philadelphia, from Bristol to Philadelphia. The committee who had the management of the run in charge, were:

W. F. Murphy, Capt. Kings County Wheelmen, Brooklyn.
L. H. Wise, Capt. Long Island wheelmen, Brooklyn.
Frank L. C. Martin, Capt. Plainfield Bicycle Club.
A. T. Rummell, Capt. Atalanta wheelmen, Newark.
E J. Day, Capt. Hudson county wheelmen, Jersey City.
F. C Gilbert, Capt. Elizabeth wheelmen.
R. V. Whitehead, Capt. Trenton wheelmen.
C. W. Dalsen, Capt. Century wheelmen, Philadelphia.
F. M. Cossitt, Capt. Riverside wheelmen, N. Y. C., Secretary.
W. E. Fuller, Capt. Brooklyn Bicycle club, Chairman.

Amateur Base Ball.

The White Caps of this city and the Stars of Westfield, played an interesting game of ball on the grounds of the former club on Spooner avenue, Saturday afternoon, the Stars losing by a score of 4 to 11. Only seven innings were played. The hits were few and scattered, the best one being made by Richards, the short stop of the White Caps, he making a two bagger, but as the ball was lost it resulted in a home run. Burt's "sky scraper" was of no avail as it was caught by Weber, the Stars' centre fielder. The visitors made two double plays.

New Boarding and Training Stables.

Messrs C. C. Brower & Co., is the name of the new firm which has just come into possession of the stables on West Sixth street, heretofore condncted by Mr. Mc Donnell. The stables will be remodelled and improved, and will hereafter be devoted to boarding and training. Several new box stalls will be erected, and other improvements made. The purchase price for the land and building was $3,500.

When fragile woman sighs, deploring
The charms that quickly fade away,
What power, the bloom of health restoring,
Can check the progress of decay?
The only aid that's worth attention,
For pains and ills of such de cription,
Thousands of women gladly mention—
"Tis "Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The price of this royal remedy, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is but one dollar. Specific for all those chronic ailments peculiar to women. The only medicine for such maladies, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction or money refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper. Large bottles $1. Six for $5.

For the sake of large profit some dealers offer substitutes when Hires' Root Beer Packages are called for. If you care to have true goods, and a most delicious drink, run no risk, and insist on getting Hires'.

LATE CABLE NEWS

Emperor William's Overtures for Peace.

HIS FRIENDSHIP FOR FRANCE.

Field Marshal von Bauer's War Declaration Not Serious.

His Gloomy View of the Situation—Fourteen Deaths from Asiatic Colera in Spain—Another Turf Surprise in Paris—The Favorite Loses the Grand Prix—Betrothal of Princess Victoria.

LONDON, June 16.—As if to put at rest all rumors of increasing friction between the German and Russian Courts, the Emperor William has sent a special request to the Czar to be allowed to command in person, during the Russian maneuvers, the Viborg Regiment, of which the Emperor William is honorary Colonel.

Whatever the actual and secret foreign policy of Germany may be, the Emperor certainly gives every outward indication of desiring friendliness with France, Russia and all his other neighbors. Persons who interest themselves in studying the chances of European peace or war are looking with considerable eagerness for some utterance on the part of Germany, apropos of the Austro-Hungarian War Minister's recent declaration that the peace of Europe was not assured.

Standing alone, Field Marshal von Bauer's declaration is serious, but not so conclusive as to create actual alarm. Continued silence on the part of other members of the Driebund would, however, be generally construed as giving tacit consent to Minister von Bauer's gloomy view of the situation.

EXCITED BOBBIES.

The Police Force of London on the Verge of a Strike.

LONDON, June 16.—The feeling of indignation on the part of the London police at their treatment by the Government, hourly increases. The latest and by no means the least cause of irritation is the cutting down by Home Secretary Matthews of the bills for expenses and overtime of the men. What the Secretary's object is in harassing the force can only be conjectured.

It is believed by many that the intention of the Government is to provoke a general strike and thus obtain an excuse for getting rid of a large number of the rank and file, and filling their places with men who can be more absolutely depended upon than the present force to implicitly do the work of the Government on such occasions as the Trafalgar Square meetings or the recent temperance parade, should need arise in future.

The men have nearly reached the striking point, but have decided to await the publication of the Superannuation bill before taking action.

TROUBLE IN COREA.

Men-of-War in the Harbor and Many Vague Rumors Afloat.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—There are many vague rumors afloat in Tokio concerning the reported taking of Corea. There is some trouble in Corea, but the Government officials of Japan know nothing definite as to its nature. All that is surely known is that all the British men-of-war are lying in the harbor with steam up and under orders to sail at a moment's notice. Several have already gone. The American naval force, under Rear Admiral Belknap, is expecting orders to sail for Corea.

Despatches from Corea say that the United States Minister, Augustine Heard, has arrived there, and the retiring Minister, H. A. Dinsmore, is about to depart.

Another Turf Surprise.

LONDON, June 16.—The result of the Grand Prix de Paris yesterday was as great a surprise for the sporting world as the defeat of Surefoot in the Derby. Fitzroya, the winner, had been selling at 15 to 1 against, and in the post odds was almost out of the betting. Mandora, the favorite, did not gain a place.

Cholera in Valencia.

MADRID, June 16.—Information has been received here that at Puebla de Rugat, in the Province of Valencia, fourteen deaths from Asiatic cholera have occurred. It is believed that the pestilence was brought into the Province by soldiers recently returned from the North African garrison.

Princess Victoria Betrothed.

BERLIN, June 16.—Princess Victoria of Prussia, sister of the Emperor, has been betrothed to the Prince of Anhalt-Dessau. The marriage will take place soon.

Lasters to Quit Work.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., June 16.—The lasters employed at Breeds' shoe factory have been notified to finish up all the shoes they are working on at present and then quit the shop. Notices of a reduction of price was given last week. The employes were willing to accept the price but the Lasters' Union would not permit them. The shops will now be fitted up with lasting machines and non-union men.

Fortune Wants $10,000.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Thos. Fortune, editor of the "Age," a colored organ, has begun a civil suit for arrest and false imprisonment against James Trainor, proprietor of Trainor's Hotel. Fortune was refused a glass of beer recently at Trainor's bar on account of his color and then thrown from the place and arrested. He sues for $10,000.

Slavonians Held.

BROOKLYN, Jund 16.—Thirteen Slavonians who arrived here on the steamer Saale in route for Pittsburg, Pa., were detained on suspicion of being contract laborers going to work on a Pennsylvania Railroad. Five steerage passengers on the Amsterdam were held on the same ground.

Pardoned by Governor Hill.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 16. — Frank Grace, of Binghamton, who had served three years, eight months and 28 days on a sentence of seven years for robbery, has been released from the prison on a pardon by Gov. Hill.

Another Arrest in the Minnie Ellis Case.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 16.—Mrs. Ella Riggs, the third person whom the Coroner has ordered under arrest in the case of Minnie Ellis, was taken into custody at midnight. The warrant charges her with assisting in procuring an abortion on Minnie Ellis. The crime that the doctors and Mrs. Riggs are charged with is manslaughter in the first degree, which is punishable by a long term of imprisonment, and the circumstantial evidence is very strong against all three of the accused.

Large Shortage in Rice Crop.

NEW YORK, June 16.—A large shortage is reported in the rice crop, and it is believed that the United States will be largely dependent this year upon the foreign yield to supply its own deficiencies. The rice crop throughout the world is short. Some foreign sections, which have hitherto exported large quantities, are importing to supply their own wants. The crop of the United States is practically exhausted at all milling centres.

Hon. Francis W. Hill Dies Suddenly.

BANGOR, Me., June 16.—Hon. Francis W. Hill, of Exeter, the Democratic candidate for Governor, died very unexpectedly at his home yesterday. Death resulted from acute bronchitis, which developed from a cold contracted at Bar Harbor a week or two ago. Mr. Hill was born in 1819 at Exeter. He was in the mercantile and real estate business for many years.

Severe Wind and Rain Storm.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 16.—A severe wind and rain storm, accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning, passed over this city at 8 o'clock last night. O'Neill's carriage shop in Lawrenceville was blown down, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. Railroad and street car tracks were also considerably damaged by the storm.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

MINERS SUFFOCATED

Terrible Fire Damp Explosion at Dunbar, Pa.

OVER THIRTY MEN ENTOMBED.

Desperate Efforts in Progress to Recover the Bodies.

The Mine on Fire and Consuming the Victims—Two Bodies Only Rescued. Awful Scenes at the Mouth of the Flaming Pit—Parents and Relatives Mad With Anguish—Names of the Victims.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 17.—Thirty-one miners were killed by an explosion of gas in the coal mines at Hill Farm, owned by the Dunbar Furnace Company, and located one mile west of this place.

The explosion occurred at 10:30 a. m. The bodies of two of the unfortunates were taken out. The others are still entombed in the mine, where a fierce fire is raging.

Desperate efforts are in progress to clear the way to recover the bodies, but so far without avail. A rescuing party of 100 men, headed by Mine Inspector Keigley, of this district, spent some time in the pit, but had been able to rescue but two bodies.

The men, it was evident, had died from injuries sustained from the force of the explosion, but their bodies were badly burned. Their features are distorted and disfigured, and the corpses could only be recognized by the clothing.

Fifty-seven miners were at work about 5,000 feet from the month of the slope when the explosion occurred. Near the point at which the heading started an air hole had been drilled recently in which gas and water had accumulated.

A miner named Patrick Kerwin penetrated this airhole, six inches in diameter, with his pick, whereupon a strong stream of water gushed out. Kerwin, alarmed, sounded the danger signal. His assistant, Patrick Hayes, started hurriedly for the main entrance, and had scarcely moved, when the foul gas was ignited from his lamp. The explosion that followed was terrific.

What little air there was in the place drifted to the heading situated to the right of the main entrance. The fire followed swiftly, and before the thirty-one men could be alarmed all hope of escape was shut off by the flames.

The twenty-six men employed in the left heading were notified of the danger in time to save their lives, although their escape was thrilling and was accompanied by the wildest confusion. It was at a point near where the explosion occurred that the two bodies of Daniel Sheirnan, fire boss, and David Hayes were found. They had evidently attempted to escape through the flames.

Mad With Anguish.

Thousands of people gathered at the mouth of the mines this morning. Among them were the parents, wives, children and sweethearts of the unfortunates, and a strong guard of police was necessary to prevent many of them, mad with anguish, from rushing into the deadly hole. Wives, widowed by the calamity, stood about illy clad and sore-footed, lulling to sleep their babes in arms. Mothers wrung their hands and cried aloud for their boys, while children from 8 to 15 years of age hurried about looking into the black faces of the escaped miners in the hope of finding their fathers or brothers.

Their suffering was pitiable, and while the authorities of the company were exerting all their energies to recover the bodies, the total absence of information regarding the fate of the missing men made their distress more severe, and moans and groans went up unconsciously from many of the pinched lids in the unhappy crowd.

List of the Victims.

Following is a full list of the missing miners:

The Citizen to Make Another Trip.

TACOMA, June 17.—George Francis Train will start about September 1st for another trip around the world, accompanied by Editor Rodebaugh of the Tacoma "Ledger," and a party of frinds. He expects to make the circle of the globe in fifty days.

The Suburban Handicap.

NEW YORK, June 17.—This afternoon the great running race of the season—the Suburban Handicap—will be decided at the track of the Coney Island Jockey Club at Sheepshead Cay. Thousands have been wagered on the result.

SHOT FIVE TIMES.

Henry Jones, a Colored Man, Attempts Murder and Suicide.

NEWARK, N. J., June 17.—A shooting affair on Canal street, near Broad street, just before midnight last night caused great excitement.

Henry Janes, colored, who has been separated from his wife for some time, met her on the street with a Mrs. Frederick Nichols. He commanded his wife to go with him. She refused, and Jones fired five shots at her. Two bullets hit her. One ball was taken from her back, but the other is in her neck and Police Surgeon Clarke will not probe for it, fearing a fatal result if he does so.

He cannot tell whether the woman will survive.

Jones was arrested half an hour later, with two wounds on his head, from which blood was flowing freely. He said he had tried to kill himself. It was found his skull was fractured.

Mrs. Nichols says Jones fired three shots at her, but none struck her. Jones and the woman are held at police headquarters.

EYRAUD WEEPS.

The Strangler is on His Way to Paris With French Detectives.

HAVANA, June 17.—The Spanish authorities of this city turned over to the French Detectives, Messieurs Gaillande and Soudain, the person of Michel Eyraud, the strangler, who, on July 26, 1889, murdered M. Gouffe, a court bailiff, in Paris.

Eyraud was placed on board the steamer Lafayette which sailed for St. Nazaire. The prisoner wept on being taken to the steamer but subsequently became more composed.

The French Consul has expressed the great obligations of his country to the Spanish authorities for their co-operation in the work of turning this famous criminal over to French justice.

Death of Col. Tremper.

RONDOUT, N. Y., June 17.—Col. Thos. H. Tremper is dead, aged 50. He was prominently identified with business interests along the Hudson for many years. He was president of the Romer & Tremper Steamboat Company, a member of the New York Produce Exchange and a trustee and director in several local banks. He was connected with the Masonic and Pythian orders, and was also a veteran of the war of the rebellion.

Tried to Hang Himself.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 17.—Samuel Newell, a large stock owner of this town, and formerly a senator in the New Jersey State Senate from Clifton, attempted suicide by hanging himself in an attic. He was unconscious when cut down, and physicians say he will either die or become an idiot. Melancholy is the cause of the attempted self destruction. He is a brother of John Newell, president of the Nickel Plate Railroad.

Thought Her Child Bewitched.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The two-year old son of Charles Frankenburg died at the home of his parents, 3550 Germantown avenue, of gastritis. About two weeks ago the mother of the boy conceived the idea that he was "bewitched" and called in a "witch doctor." The doctor performed six different "pow-wows" at different times, but the child grew worse and his protracted illness finally ended in death.

An Electric Street Railway.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 17.—A syndicate, consisting of C. W. Morse, B. B. Jones and other gentlemen in this city with parties in New York, has been formed for the purpose of building an electric street railway from Haverhill to Lawrence. The proposed route will be on the Haverhill Lawrence side of the river. Work will begin as soon as the city grants a permit to lay tracks in the streets.

The New Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The new Madison Square Garden was opened last evening, and the Strauss Orchestra appeared before an audience of 12,000 people. There was a large number of distinguished people in the throng. The amphitheatre is the largest in the country, and the acoustic properties of the immense hall proved entirely satisfactory.

109 Years Old and Still Active.

DANVERS, Mass., June 17.—Among the notable persons who will parade in Haverhill on the 250th anniversary of that city next month will be Charles King, of Middletown, who was born at St. Jerva, Quebec, January 15, 1781. He is an active old man who still travels about. Five generations, numbering six hundred persons, own him as their head.

The New Wells College Building.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 17.—The beautiful new building of Wells College for young ladies at Aurora, Cayuga Co., the alma mater of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, was formally dedicated with a song and praise service at 5 o'clock in the evening. The president, Rev. E. S. Frisbee, delivered the dedicatory address, and the young lady students of the college taking part in the religious exercises.

Trouble for the Vanderbilt Lines.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 17.—It is understood that a meeting will be held here in a day or two by the Hudson Central employes to resist certain orders of Superintendent Voorhees. It is said that unless concessions are granted a strike involving the whole Vanderbilt system, will be declared.

Swarthmore Graduates.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., June 17.—The commencement exercises of Swarthmore College was held to-day and twenty-nine graduates received degrees.

SMITH WHIPS DALY

The Philadelphian Knocked Out in the Seventh Round.

NO MATCH FOR MULDOON'S MAN.

Mike Cleary Threatens to Kill Steve Brodie for Rushing Into the Ring.

Daly Knocked Down Several Times During the Battle—Both Men Fight Savagely—Several Fouls Claimed—Kilrain Present to Challenge the Winner—Champion Sullivan Starts for Mississippi.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 17.—A large crowd of representative sports from New York, Philadelphia and Chicago visited the Arlington Athletic Club last night to witness the glove fight between Ed. Smith of Denver, Muldoon's latest protege, and James Daly of Philadelphia.

Smith ruled first choice in the betting. Smith weighed 178 pounds and had William Muldoon, Mike Cleary and Frank Bosworth, of Providence, back of him. Daly weighed 165 pounds. Steve Brodie, Tom Manning and P. J. Griffin, of Philadelphia were behind him.

Jake Kilrain was also present to challenge the winner. The fight was for a $1,500 purse, of which $500 was to go to the loser.

At 10:30 p. m. the men were introduced and donned the two-ounce gloves. Prof. James Connors, of the Buffalo Athletic Club was chosen referee.

Round 1.—Smith led and Daly tried for the wind, but didn't reach. After good in-fighting Smith got the best of it and scored a push down before the round closed.

Round 2.—It was give and take. Smith struck the harder blows and seemed to have Daly at his mercy. He planted a righ hander on Daly's mug and dazed him.

Round 3.—It was clearly apparent that Daly was overmatched. Daly clinched to avoid punishment. He was knocked down and lay several moments before his seconds could get him on his feet again.

Round 4.—Smith forced Daly at the outset into his corner and into his chair, where he sat powerless. Then Smith let him get up and walked into the center of the ring, so that he could knock him out. He repeated this before Daly was fairly on his feet. Cries of "foul!" were heard, and the referee warned Smith. Smith scored another knock down and would have scored another if Daly had got up in time.

At the end of this round Brodie rushed up to Daly and blew water in his face, whereat Muldoon claimed a foul. Not allowed.

Round 5.—Smith sent Daly to the ground five times.

Brodie repeated his tactics and Cleary unable to control his anger made a rush for him and threatened to kill him if he did not keep out of the ring. Brodie promised not to interfere further and the fighting was resumed.

Round 6.—Daly was again knocked and pushed down until the close of the round. Smith struck more blows which were alleged to be foul.

Round 7.—Daly was knocked down repeatedly, and finally on a clinch, when Smith refused to break away at the referee's order, Daly's seconds tried to claim the fight on a foul for their man. The referee disallowed it, and Daly failing to come to the scratch, gave the fight and purse to Smith.

Time of fight 28 minutes.

Sullivan Leaves for Mississippi.

NEW YORK, June 17.—John L. Sullivan left for Purvis, Miss., on the 10 o'clock vestibule train over the Pennsylvania Railroad. William Muldoon and Mike Cleary will leave for the same place to-night, and Prof. Mike Donovan will not start until to-morrow.

Smith Challenges Cal McCarthy.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Charley Smith, the 116-pound champion of England, is out with a challenge to Cal McCarthy to fight for a purse of $500 and an outside bet of $300 a side. In case McCarthy does not accept, the challenge is open to any 116-pound man in America.

Senator Blair's Great Plan.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Senator Blair introduced in the Senate a resolution requesting the President to invite an international conference to meet in Washington in February, 1891, with a view to the formation of an international alliance for the suppression of kidnapping, slavery and the slave trade, of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, fire arms and destructive substances with uncivilized people, and to promote the establishment of schools of common knowledge, art and industries among them, and also to secure the disarmament of nations and the organization of international courts.

The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—With the exception of the proposed appropriation for Hay Lake channel and the Sault Ste Marie canal, the River and Harbor bill has been completed by the Senate Committee on Commerce. The committee will probably add a million dollars for the Hay Lake and Sault Ste Marie improvement. This will bring the increases made by the Senate Committee on the House bill up to about $5,500,000. The bill will be reported probably to-morrow.

Pennsylvania Prohibitionists.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The executive committee of the Prohibition party met here and changed the time of holding the State convention at Harrisburg for the nomination of a candidate for Governor from July 15th and 16th to August 20th. This was done at the request of farmer delegates who do not want the convention held during the harvest season.

—Friday last was closing day at Rodman Seminary. The year just closed was a profitable one in this institution and the scholars who have been fitted for college or other pursuits owe their rapid advancement to Mrs. R. C. Dingee, the principal, and Miss Tarbell, her able assistant.

The Music Hall Meeting.

A public meeting was held in Music Hall, last evening, to protest against the Governor's signing the pool selling and book-making bill. Hon. Job Male presided, and the Rev. E. M. Rodman stated the object of the meeting. The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes offered prayer, after which protests were entered by several of those present. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting does most solemnly protest against the proposed legalizing of pool-selling and book-making, and all gambling, by whatever method, at race tracks, and most earnestly implores the Governor of the State to veto the bill No. 112, passed by the Legislature to legalize such pernicious practices.

Resolved, That His Honor, Mayor Male, the Rev. E. M. Rodman, Mayor Place of North Plainfield, and Geo. F. Opdyke be a committee to convey this resolution to His Honor, Governor Leon Abbett, at Trenton.

Signed: Job Male,
Ch'n of Meeting.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced, if, at the same time, the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor, and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

A COLORED ELOPEMENT.

A School Girl of Fifteen Suddenly Leaves Town, it is Alleged, With a Man Twice Her Age.

Laura Robinson, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Mansfield Robinson of East Second street, and William McQuay, until recently employed as coachman by Mr. E. L. Finch of Park avenue, have suddenly and mysteriously disappeared, and it is surmised that the two have eloped.

Laura was a pupil in the high school, and yesterday morning she told her mother that in order to successfully pass her final examination for promotion, she must go to school early. The girl left home about seven o'clock, but she did not go to school.

Some hours later Mrs. Robinson began to miss her daughter's clothing, and she became suspicious that something was wrong. She went to the school and there learned that Laura had not been to school during the day. Mrs. Robinson then called on McQuay's former employer and there ascertained that McQuay, too, was missing, having left with his baggage, saying that he was going to Saratoga.

The couple, it is said, have been intimately acquainted for some time, and it is believed that they have gone off together.

McQuay, it is said, was engaged to Laura's older sister, Emma, but he was in the habit of clandestinely meeting Laura, while the latter was on her way to and from school.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Low Dockstader was the guest of Joseph B. Miller, yesterday.

M. E. G. H. P., Wm. H. Sebring has designated June 30 next, as the time for constituting Trinity Chapter, R. A. M., at Atlantic City, N. J.

Ralph Waldren, aged eighteen years, a nephew of Chas. Cass of North Plainfield, died at his home, 52 West Fifty-seventh street, New York, on Saturday night, after a week's illness from pneumonia. The young man spent last Summer in North Plainfield, where he made many warm friends.

A Private Musical Society.

A society has been organized in this city, with William R. Chapman, the well-known Conductor of the Musurgia, Rubinstein and Metropolitan Societies of New York, as its Musical Director. This organization supersedes the musicales given at private houses during the past season.

Its rehearsals and concerts will be held in the contemplated new Casino, and will be private in character. The officers are:

President—Rowland Cox.
Vice President—Mason W. Tyler.
Treasurer—H. G. Runkle.
Secretary—William Kaufman.
Executive Com.—Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. V. B. Hart, Mrs. Chas. D. Wadsworth and Messrs Rowland Cox, Mason W. Tyler, H. G. Runkle, Wm. T. Kaufman, Wm. B. Wadsworth, Wm. R. Chapman.

Caught a Ground Hog in the Chicken Coop.

Mrs Runyon of 5 Central avenue, has for some time past been missing chickens from her hennery, and yesterday J. Howard Leggett of Reynolds' pharmacy, discovered a full grown ground hog in the coop about in the act of devouring another Spring chicken.

Mr. Leggett hastily procured a shot gun, and after emptying both barrels into the animal's body, succeeded in capturing it. The animal tipped the scales at six pounds.

To Test the Blue Laws.

The trials of the Elizabeth barbers indicted for violation of the Sunday law will begin this week in the Union County Courts. The trials will be regarded as a test of the old and supposed to be obsolete blue laws. Others openly violate these laws, but the unfortunate barbers have been selected to make a terrible example of. There are two indictments against barbers, and the first one was put on trial late yesterday afternoon.

The Current Was Not Turned On.

Manager Moore of the Electric Light Co., claims that Alfred Naylor's recent fall from a cherry tree at the corner of Fourth street and Madison avenue, could not possibly have been caused by his hand striking a "live wire." Mr. Moore says the current was not turned on at the time the accident occurred.

No Fear of Your Age Being Known.

The supervisors and enumerators of the census are forbidden to communicate to any person not an authorized agent, any information gained by them in the performance of their duties under a penalty of $500. Persons who are therefore afraid of having their age known can find consolation in this fact.

—The manager of the Washington league ball team, came all the way to Plainfield, last evening, and asked the privilege of bringing his men here for a game against the Crescents, to-morrow. It was impossible, however, for a game to be arranged on so short a notice.

REFORM HALL MEETING.

Ex-Judge Harper Speaks on Protection for the Homes.

The subject of ex-Judge Harper's address in Reform Hall, Sunday night was "Home." He commenced by saying—"There is no more hallowed place on earth than a happy home, a home wherein true affection abides, where the blessed promises of religion hold sway, and virtue, sobriety and integrity stand as guardian angels. Such is indeed a hallowed spot, deserving of every possible protection, and dearer far than wealth piled millions high. Among the salutary objects sought to be attained by temperance or total abstinence reform, there is not one more worthy of tireless effort than the protection of home against its insidious amd destructive enemy, intoxicating liquor, and if that was the only good result involved in triumphant temperance, although there are many others, it would of itself justly demand from each and every right purposed individual the registering of an irrevocable vow at the shrine of duty to fearlessly battle on, regardless of all opposition, open or disguised, until a glorious victory is won."

The speaker then proceeded to review the memories and influences of home, detailed the dangers surrounding home happiness, and held up to view its terrible foe.

In conclusion, he quoted the late John B. Finch who declared—"How many more hearts must be broken? How many more children be starved? How many more women must have the light of love and hope taken out of their lives? How many more fathers, and husbands, and sons must be offered upon the altar of the license system, and other compromises, before Christian people will stand shoulder to shoulder, and for wives, children, friends, homes and country."

George M. Angleman followed with a few practical and well timed remarks along the same line of thought.

Mr. Angleman made the opening prayer, and the singing was ably conducted by Mrs. King, Miss Hawkins and Mr. Spencer, with Miss Alice Smith as accompanist.

What's Happening in Washingtonville.

Miss Tillie D. Spencer has returned home after a two weeks' visit with relatives at Glen Side.

Miss Hattie Milligan has been spending a week with friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rufus Sage holds the appointment of census taker for Warren Township. He reports that the work in his district will be completed this week. He experienced no difficulty in geting the information required properly, thus showing a higher grade of willingness among the rural districts than is shown in the cities, judging by the reports of the experience of most census takers.

Mr. Lovell will address the meeting next Sunday evening, in the Memorial chapel. Notice is given thus early so that all may have the opportunity of hearing him.

Frank Mobus lost one of his fine, large gray horses, Sunday night. It died of lockjaw, the effects of a kick received a short time ago from its mate. A veterinary dressed the wound at the time and remarked that the horse would be better in a short time. But the wound grew worse until lockjaw set in with above results.

The proceeds of the strawberry festival to be held Wednesday evening, will be used to take the little ones of the Sunday School on a day's excursion to the sea shore, as has been the custom for several years past.

Grain and cereals of all kinds are looking fine, and promise an abundant harvest in store for the husbandman.

A story is told of a certain young man who had to cross a field, a few evenings since, where Mr. Isreal Coon had his herd of cattle at pasture. When about half way across he was espied by an inquisitive and frisky bull who chased the young man up an apple tree where he had time to think of the past. Meanwhile his girl all dressed in her best Sunday clothes, drummed upon the piano, but the sweetheart that she longed for never came.

A match game of base ball between the Stony Hill boys and the Gilletts, on the grounds of the former club, was won by the Gilletts, Saturday last. The score was 8 to 5.

Meeting of Alpha Lodge.

Alpha Lodge No. 4, I. O. of G. T., met in regular session, last evening, in their hall corner of Park and North avenues. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. There was one new member for initiation and two for restoration. It was unanimously decided that the lodge should go to Bo ton Beach on a picnic in the near future. Songs and recitations were given by several of the members, after which the meeting adjourned.

Three Clubs are Tied.

The record to date of the games played for the championship of the New Jersey Athletic Baseball League is as follows:

Clubs	Won	Lost	Per ct
West End A. C. of Somerville	2	1	.666
Perth Amboy A. A.	2	1	.666
Iroquois A. C. of Newark	2	1	.666

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Save Your Hair

By a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fullness, and beauty of the hair.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew

Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. Bailey, 9 Charles street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has caused my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Bishopville, Md.

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DEAD HEROES.

Plainfield's Soldiers' Monument and The Legend of Its Design.

The Story of the Project—Its Rise and Progress—The Men Who Have Interested Themselves For It—The Suggestions of THE PRESS Regarding Style and Site, Followed—The Final Design Adopted.

It is almost a year now since the project of erecting a Plainfield monument to the memory and honor of its heroes among the roll of those who had died for their country, first assumed proportions and conditions that looked like success. Then the trustees of Hillside Cemetery offered the gift of a plot in its grounds as a site, and everybody was filled with enthusiasm.

The following from THE PRESS of November 11, 1889, all of which information was published exclusively in these columns, is an interesting chapter in the early history of the monument, worth reproducing.

There is to be a fifteen-thousand-dollar monument erected in this city to the memory of the dead soldiers of the late war. That much is certain, as the project is in charge of Plainfield's leading citizens and veterans. Nothing fails in the hands of such men as General James S. Negley, Col. Mason W. Tyler, J. E. Stewart, L. V. F. Randolph, George W. Moore, Nelson Runyon, E. J. Olssen, Wm. H. Williams, Alex. Gilbert, E. B. Clark, J. Evarts Tracy, C. W Mc Cutchen, A. C. Baldwin, S. A. Ginna, Rowland S. Cox and L. W. Serrell. Col. Tyler is Chairman, Judge Runyon is Secretary and John E. Stewart is Treasurer of this committee upon which is represented equally the citizen and soldier element.

Saturday evening at the headquarters of Winfield Scott Post, another meeting was held at which almost the entire committee was present. It was then considered just to offer North Plainfield additional representation on the committee, and Gen'l Eli Long, Mayor Cooley, School Trustee James McGee and Commodore George P. Dupee, will be tendered invitations to join in the work.

One thing is settled—the monument will not be erected on the handsome plot in Hillside cemetery, offered by its Trustees. Even Col. Tyler, who represents the latter on the committee, recognizes the fact that the heart of the city is the proper place for the monument proposed; and ex-Councilman E. B. Clark struck the key note of the question when he said it was to teach the lessons of self sacrifice, patriotism, courage and resignation to the children of the country, that memorial shafts were pointed heavenward in honor of the soldier dead.

A month ago THE PRESS said:

The members of the G. A. R., of this city, who are to erect a Soldier's Monument in Plainfield in commemoration of the Nation's dead heroes, will make a mistake by placing such monument in Hillside Cemetery, so far from daily sight.

Let it be erected in some such prominent spot as the junction of Broadway and Crescent avenue; and let it not be in the form of a gloomy tombstone.

The public will be glad to know that the committee is acting on this very suggestion so far as the site is concerned, and will consider the question of form of monument, later. There will be no trouble now about raising the money by popular subscription as soon as it is definitely settled just where "in town" the monument will be. A sub-committee consisting of Messrs S. A. Ginna, Rowland Cox and E. B. Clark, have the question of site now in charge, and are to report at the next meeting of the committee, Saturday evening.

The sites in view are THE PRESS' choice, the "triangle" at the junction of Crescent avenue and Broadway; the "circle" on which a street lamp now stands at the "Five Points," where LaGrande, Putnam and Franklin avenues cross one another; and the City Park at Eighth street and Arlington avenue. The first named is first choice, but it is rumored that although the consent of the Trustees of the Crescent Avenue church to the use of the site could be obtained, yet Mr. John B. Dumont, President of the Council, and Mr. Joseph W. Yates, object. As they with others contributed to the purchase of the spot as a perpetual park, they have a voice in any transfer of its purposes.

The use of the other sites could be granted by an ordinance of the Council. It is understood that the Corporation Counsel has given his opinion informally to such effect.

Meeting after meeting was held, and a number of designs submitted by all the best artists and granite companies. Then on Saturday evening, January 25, another step towards consummation was taken. A sub-committee was appointed to select a design for recommendation and adoption by the general committee at a future meeting. That sub-committee was Col. Mason W. Tyler, Chairman, Gen'l James S. Negley, J. Evarts Tracy and John E. Stewart of Winfield Scott Post, and Comrade Edward Olssen of Major Anderson Post, G. A. R. But eventually they threw out all the "set" and hackneyed designs submitted by the monument builders, and a design of Plainfield's own was created by Gen'l Negley, carried out in detail by Edwin Forbes the renowned war correspondent, and unanimously approved by all who were present at a meeting held Saturday evening, June 7, as published exclusively in the next issue of THE PRESS.

There was at first some objection made by residents in the vicinity of Crescent Square, against the erection of the monument there as suggested in these columns. Then Councilman Bowers told a PRESS reporter for publication, that if the committee would decide to erect it on Franklin Square, at the junction of LaGrande and Putnam avenues, he would guarantee to raise $10,000 towards its cost. But now it is understood that the Crescent Square site can be obtained if the design meets with the approbation of the Trustees of the Crescent Avenue church and others who are residents in the vicinity and are also trustees in charge of the plot.

Nothing more need be said regarding the design decided upon, than has already been said in these columns. The picture of it given today speaks for itself, and the legend of the monument given below, is from the pen of the designer himself, Gen'l Negley. Estimates for its construction are being received, and will be opened at a meeting next Saturday evening. The eagle will be in bronze, but the shaft and the statues will be in granite. It is expected that the total cost will be under $20,000.

THE LEGEND OF THE MONUMENT.

The design is thoroughly American in sentiment and dissimilar in its idealistic features from all existing types. Its inspiration is a votive tribute to a world of heroic memories, to a world of glorious deeds, to a world of joyous victories and to a world of devotion to the principles of justice and humanity.

The column starts with a hexagon base of classic proportion, and rises to the height of 53 feet and 6 inches. The vertical development is corinthian in its lower section, but in place of the usual architectural acanthus—i. e. bear's claw capital—there is substituted the exquisitely graceful form of the tropical palm. Its frond-like leaves bend outward and spring upward with a richness of outline and charming relief.

The capital is separated by a bold division which is charged with a limited amount of incised embellishment to relieve the cold gray monotony of the granite.

A spirited figure of an American eagle poised on the crown of the shaft, completes the national imagery of the structure.

The first section of the shaft has a polished die of sufficient dimensions to accommodate suitable inscriptions of battle records. Above the die will be fashioned an emblematic shield of bronze with trophies, State and National colors and the coat of arms of the State of New Jersey; supported by a cartridge-box all in bold relief.

Three piers or pedestals project from the base of the column at equal distances. The outward faces of these pedestals present panels enriched by sculpture in low relief; each pedestal supports a figure of heroic size, over six feet in height. One of these is idealistic, the others are realistic. Each subject is instinct with character and offers an incentive to sympathetic and profound study.

"Victory," the reclining figure, epitomizes a battle scene where heroism enobles the life of the private soldier as he stood in the lines aflame with fire and death. There is deep pathos and genuineness of sentiment in the form and attitude of this wounded soldier.

Sir Walter Scott has woven a fadeless poetical garland for the brow of his hero Marmion, which we quote to illume our description:

A light on Marmion's visage spread, and fired his glazed eye,
With dying hand above his head
He shook the fragment of his blade,
And shouted "Victory."

"Mustered out," illustrates the strong individuality of the volunteer soldier. When slavery was discrowned and dishonored, and the shackles of the bondsmen fell at his feet to become a pledge of unity and peace, he returned his sword to its scabbard and took his place in the column of progress without a murmur of regret.

"Liberty," is represented by a Greek maiden attired in a classic diploidion with a crocale or fillet of stars encircling her brow. She holds uplifted the standard of the Union of States and offers with her right hand the laurels of fame and imperishable honor to those who defend the inalienable rights of man.

The truth and spiritual force of this ideal figure fills the full measure of historic expression and interest. Immovable like the past, faith in her rewards has survived the tragedies of every age. The oppressed of all peoples have worshipped at her shrine and the helpless victims of despotism will forever lay their perennial flowers of hope upon her altar.

They're Ball Players.

Since April 30, when the regular season of the Crescent League ball team opened, they have not lost a game. They have played ten, and won each one in eight innings. They have made a total of 94 hits and 92 runs, against 36 hits and 14 runs by their opponents.

During these games, Lufbery has had 57 chances and 4 errors; Lee, 40 chances and 2 errors; and Martin, 36 chances and 1 error. In the ten games Jones has made 15 hits; Lufbery, 14; Wiegand, 11; Martin, 10; Walker (9 games), 8; and Lee and Gillis, 7 each.

Do You Want to Camp Out?

Two tents have been ordered to accommodate the Plainfielders who will attend the Moody encampment for college students to be held at Northfield, Mass., June 28 to July 9. Delegates are expected from France, Germany, Sweden, and from seven of the universities of Great Britain. Hundreds of students will be present from the colleges and institutions of learning of this country. Boys camp July 8 to 22. Full information at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

—A handsome "railroad" wagon is the latest addition to the "rolling stock" of Edward Milligan, whose home-like Summer residence in Washington Valley is always open to friends and acquaintances. "Ed" is proud of his new and handsome purchase, and well he may be, for no neater rig is driven to the station to convey its owner to business in the great metropolis each morning.

Closing Exercises at Miss Kenyon's Seminary.

There were scenes of Commencement Day at Miss Kenyon's Seminary for young women, on West Seventh street, this morning, when the annual closing exercises took place. The exercises were simple and unostentatious, but they were nevertheless very pleasing and entertaining.

The programme included a cantata in one scene, entitled "A Garden of Singing Flowers," with music written, arranged and adapted by Albert J. Holden. It was admirably rendered by the pupils. Miss Lilian Erskine was the only pupil graduated. She was presented with a handsome diploma. Following the exercises dancing was indulged in by the younger pupils of the Seminary and their friends.

The drawings and other handiwork of the scholars were exhibited in some of the rooms on the second floor, and all showed skill on the part of the pupils and careful training on the part of their instructors, Miss E. E. Kenyon, Mrs. J. W. Stimson and their corps of able assistants. The floral decorations were rich and artistically arranged.

Fell Down a Flight of Stairs.

Mrs. Edwin Maynard, wife of the Park avenue tonsorial artist, was ascending a flight of stairs leading to her residence on North avenue, about nine o'clock last evening, when she became dizzy and fell backward to the landing below, striking on her back.

Mrs. Maynard was badly bruised about the body, and she also received a deep cut on the chin. Today the injured woman is somewhat improved.

Flag Presentation.

The flag to be presented by Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., to Franklin School will be swung to the breeze tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. The exercises will consist of an address and recitations, singing, etc., by the scholars of the school. The members of the Council who can are requested to meet at their hall at half-past eight, from there to proceed in a body to the school to attend the ceremonies.

—Chief Doane and the members of the Fire Committee this morning tried the handsome new horses which they are considering about buying for the Fire Department.

—Several North Plainfield young men appeared before Justice Hardy last evening, and pleaded guilty to the charge of creating a disturbance. They were fined in sums ranging from two to ten dollars.

—A correspondent writes: "Mr. Alex. Harris and Mr. Wm. Gaddis were seen in town yesterday, driving something that was nearly all ears. Can anyone inform us what it was?" writes the correspondent.

Plainfield's High School Placed on the "Approved List."

It has long been the desire of the Trustees of the State Normal School to make it an integral part of the school system of the State. To be a part of the State system means that it should occupy toward the public schools of the State, a relation similar to that of a city High school toward the Grammar and Primary schools of the city. The latter should prepare for the former and their rank be accepted by it. Such should be the relation of the Normal to the public schools of the State. Accordingly the Trustees voted that the graduates of High schools that had been placed on the "Approved List" of the Normal school, should be admitted, on the certificate of the principal, to the professional roll of the Normal.

A short time since the Plainfield Board of Education made application to be placed upon this list, and their request has been granted. By this means graduates of the High School here are admitted to the second year in the Normal. They omit the first year's review of academic work and confine themselves exclusively to professional training. This will doubtless prove of great advantage to any of Plainfield's graduates who wish to become teachers, as it will enable them to gain a pedagogical training in two years, the shortest possible time consistent with efficiency.

This commissioning system has met with a flattering reception, a number of the leading schools of the State having made application.

His Grandfather Showed Washington the Way to the Rock.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Referring to your article on Washington Rock in your Saturday's issue, I beg to say that Edward Fitz Randolph did not ride Washington's horse.

The facts are these. Washington with his aide de camp rode along Green Brook road until they reached the Jonah Vail farm; they turned in the gate and rode up to several men who were between the house and barn (one of whom was Edward Fitz Randolph who was there on a visit) and enquired if any of those present could direct him to the best point on the mountain for a good view of the surrounding country. Randolph said if he had his horse with him, he could take him to a rock from which he could get the best view to be obtained on the mountain. Thereupon Washington directed his aide de camp to dismount, and upon this horse Randolph conducted Washington by the old road yet used (near the Jonah Vail farm) over the mountain, thence along its crest, to what is now known as Washington Rock.

Ephriam Vail a short time before he died, gave me the exact history of the transaction, and it would seem quite proper that any incidents and facts connecting Washington with the Rock that bears his name, should be given and correctly stated. After us some one may have occasion to write up for some other paper, the history of Washington Rock.

GEO. W. F. RANDOLPH.

[We accept this correction as the truth; because the writer is the grandson of the Edward Fitz Randolph spoken of.—ED.]

Annoying Chinese Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Complaint has been made to the police of this city by officials of the Chinese Legation that the ladies of the legation nor themselves can, during these warm evenings, avail themselves of the cooling balconies of their legation residence, without attracting a crowd of curious idlers who, by their manners and conduct, greatly annoy them. This annoyance is so continuous and so persistent as to practically make prisoners of both the ladies and the officials of the legation within the walls of their residence.

A Yellow Fever Epidemic.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Surgeon-General Hamilton, of the Marine Hospital Bureau, is informed that a second case of yellow fever has developed on the British vessel Avon, now detained at the Chandleur quarantine station. He has also received a report from a special agent sent to Merida, Yucatan, to investigate its sanitary condition, that twelve cases of yellow fever have occurred there and that there are fears of an epidemic.

Judge Hey's Decision.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Judge Hey at Waterloo, Iowa, has rendered a decision in an original package case in which he holds that though beer be shipped in cases a bottle of it, if sealed, is an original package. He further holds that a man to sell original packages must have them sent to him from outside of the State, and not get them of another person inside the State.

End of a Lockout.

BROOKLYN, June 17.—About 500 furniture workers who had been locked out since Monday of last week have returned to work, owing to the amicable agreement reached between the workmen and the Furniture Makers Association. Equal concessions were made on both sides, the workmen agreeing hereafter to recognize the Employers' Association.

To get fair treatment, to be appreciated, and to get satisfaction every time, or money refunded, they all go to J. C. ALLEN'S, 44 West Front St. 6-7-2w-eod

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,

SWITCHMEN STRIKE

Work Stopped in Every Yard in Cleveland.

NOT A CAR OF FREIGHT MOVING.

A Belief that the Trouble Will Spread to Other Cities.

Deputy Sheriffs Patrolling the Yards—The Situation Regarded as Serious—New York Cloakmakers Refuse to Arbitrate—Over 2,500 Building Laborers in Massachusetts Strike.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 18.—Every railroad in Cleveland is "tied up," and the wheels of the passenger and mail trains are the only ones turning. Both officials and employes regard the situation as serious.

The switchmen claim that the railroads must listen to their demands without delay, or the yard men in adjacent cities would also leave work.

It was said that the switchmen at Erie, Dunkirk, Buffalo and every other point on the eastern division of the Lake Shore road were only waiting for the word from Cleveland to join in the strike. It was said also that the recent strike in Pittsburg had not been fully settled, and that the yardmen there were anxious to again make demands upon their employers.

In the morning a meeting of the strikers was held. There were hundreds of men shouting and making impromptu speeches from all parts of the room. There was no order, and the chairman had no control. The sentiment of the men was to go on with the strike, and in not one instance was there an indication of weakening.

If the railroad companies succeed in getting experienced men to do the work, the strike will collapse. The switchmen admit this, but are of the opinion that before such men can be procured the companies will be compelled give in, since at this season of the year enormous quantities of perishable goods are constantly arriving on all local railroad lines. In anticipation of trouble the sheriff has his men ready to turn out at a moment's notice, and special men have been hired to patrol th erailroad yards.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

New York Cloakmakers Wish No Outside Interference in the Lockout.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The striking cloakmakers, tailors, finishers and cutters have concluded to have nothing to do with the State Board of Arbitration and Mediation. They allege that they are sufficiently strong to fight their own battle without outside interference. The cutters are receiving the same salary from the union as they did while they were at work, while the other workmen who were ordered out are receiving fully two-thirds of what they received while working in the shops. The men say their finances are sufficient to keep the full payment up as long as the bosses can afford to do without them.

Big Strike of Building Laborers.

BOSTON, June 18.—The building laborers of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville are on strike. It is said that there are 2,500 men out in the three cities, with a prospect of that number being increased by the bricklayers and others of the building trades. It was reported that of thirty-five employers who would be affected by the demand, nearly one-third were in favor of granting what the men asked.

Carnegie's Men Locked Out.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 18.—The extensive steel mills of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., at this place, shut down. The rod mill bundlers struck for more pay and were discharged. No others could be got to take their place, and Superintendent Dillon got angry and shut down the whole plant. Three hundred men have been thrown out of employment. All is quiet.

Shot by His Wife.

UTICA, N. Y., June 18.—John Merchant, a machinist of Greene, Chenango county, is dying from the effects of a pistol shot. His wife was his assailant. It is alleged that he had been drunk several weeks and last night threatened his wife and their five-year-old child. Mrs. Merchant defended herself with a revolver and the general feeling is in her favor.

Opposing Postal Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, June 18—Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company appeared before the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads in opposition to the proposition of Postmaster-General Wanamaker for the establishment of a postal telegraph system.

The Doctors Held Responsible.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 18.—The inquest in the cause of the death of Minnie Ellis ended with a verdict holding Drs. McGill and Baker responsible for her death, and Mrs. Riggs as an accessory. Both doctors were arraigned and waived examination. The woman will be arraigned to-morrow.

Five Children Killed.

BERLIN, June 18.—The ceiling of a school room at Gollub, Prussia, fell yesterday, killing five children and injuring a large number of others, many of them seriously.

Quebec Election.

MONTREAL, June 18.—The result of the Quebec Provincial general election was as follows: Ministerialists, 46; Oppositionists, 22; Independents, 2.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

It is Now Believed that Leavenworth Was Thrown Over a Precipice.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 18.—It is now apparent that George Leavenworth, whose dead body, was found at the foot of a precipice in Roxbury, was murdered. The murder grew out of a dispute over a fifty cent bill which, it was claimed, the dead man owed.

Coroner Doten returned from Roxbury last night, having nearly completed the inquest. He thinks there is little room for doubt in the case, and was not a little chagrined to learn that Henry Manville, the man who was last seen with the victim, had escaped. He learned that he had been seen in Litchfield, and the Litchfield officers are now looking for him.

The Coroner ascertained that Manville and Leavenworth were in Dennis Dailey's saloon. Manville claimed that the other owed him fifty cents. Leavenworth denied this and refused to pay. Manville was heard to say that if Leavenworth did not pay up at once he would take him out and throw him over the precipice. Leavenworth refused to pay, and the two men went out.

Leavenworth was found dead in the place where Manville had threatened to throw him and Manville was lying beside him.

Coroner Doten believes that Manville, in throwing Leavenworth over the rocks, was either dragged after him or that he purposely lay beside his victim to create the impression that both had fallen together.

A DEMOCRATIC BOLT.

The Omission of a License Plank in the Platform Causes a Split.

BANGOR, Me., June 18.—The dissatisfaction among the Democrats owing to the refusal of the Democratic State Convention to adopt a license plank in its platform has culminated in a movement to call a State convention and nominate a candidate for Governor.

A call is being circulated, inviting all who believe that the present prohibitory law is a failure and should be superseded by local option, to meet in mass convention in this city July 15. It is said a number of Republicans and Democrats are in the movement to start the ball rolling for a license campaign, and it is thought the movement will be pushed and the convention held.

Arrested on His Wedding Day.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 18.—Arthur J. Pollachek, of this city, was to have married Miss Waldman, of New York, yesterday but he is now locked up, charged with grand larceny. Some time ago he bought a watch on the installment plan, but only paid four dollars, although he had long ago agreed to settle. Pollachek was tried in the police court and placed under bonds to appear before the next grand jury.

A Needle in a Beefsteak.

BRIDGETON, N. J., June 18.—Mrs. E. Gould, residing near here, was nearly choked by a piece of meat lodging in her throat. After great difficulty and much suffering, she finally succeeded in dislodging the meat, when she found in it a rusty needle which had prevented her from swallowing it. She cannot account for the presence of the needle in the meat.

Paint for the Faculty.

LEWISTON, Me., June 18.—Bates College sophomores burned analytics with the usual noisy ceremonies. During the night the doorsteps of several members of the faculty were painted. The class deny that any member had part in this work. A faculty meeting was held and sixteen of the class were suspended.

A Crazy Census Enumerator.

WARSAW, N. Y., June 18.—Farmer Winslow D. Foskett, one of the census enumerators for the town of Perry, was advised by his physician last evening to resign. He has notified Supervisor Wage of Albion to appoint a successor. Foskett is almost a raving maniac, having suffered with insomnia since he began his work.

Difficulties of a Pretty Waitress.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 18.—Miss Maggie McCarthy, a pretty young waitress at the Avery Hotel, was fined five dollars in the recorder's court for stealing a sacque. She attempted suicide by taking chloroform. Her life was saved through the prompt administration of emetics.

Mrs. Harrison's Visit to Cape May.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 18.—Mrs. Harrison is now announced as having definitely fixed the time for taking possession of her cottage here. She is expected to do so to-morrow. The unfinished condition of her cottage was the cause for the postponement of her arrival.

Stanley's Successful Dive.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 18.—Meredith Stanley, the world's champion bridge jumper, made a successful dive from the suspension bridge at 1 p. m., a distance of 100 feet. He struck the water head first, and after coming to the surface he climbed into the boat waiting for him and helped row ashore.

A Plea for Normal School Instruction.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 18.—President Francis A. Walker, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, delivered an address at Wells College, Aurora, in which he made a strong and elaborate plea for normal school instruction in women's colleges.

Brakemen Must Leave Their Union.

READING, Pa., June 18.—Brakemen of the Reading railroad have been notified that they are expected to leave the Order of Railway Brakemen or quit the service of the company.

STILL IN THE MINE

Further Particulars of the Disaster at Dunbar.

EARNEST RESCUERS AT WORK.

Trying to Cut Through to the Scene of the Disaster.

Desperate Methods Being Employed by Skilled Men—Erecting a Huge Fan to Fight the Fire—No Hope Entertained of Finding the Unfortunate Men Alive. The Coroner Investigating.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 18.—Mine Inspectors Blick of the Pittsburg district, and Evans of Johnstown, arrived here early and went direct to the scene of the horror where they were joined by Inspector Keighley of this district.

The three, accompanied by several mine superintendents, fire bosses and a number of experienced miners from various parts of the region, went into the Mahoning mines with a view to cutting through to the scene of the explosion.

Every man was carefully examined by the official inspectors before they were allowed to join the party. No one who had touched intoxicants the night before was allowed to enter the mine. No married men were accepted, and all prepared to meet even death.

Desperate Methods Employed.

It is a desperate case and desperate methods are being employed to get at the entombed miners in the quickest possible way. The talent and skill of the entire region is now directing the efforts at rescue, and together are managing to the minutest detail the work of penetrating the burning pit from the nearest point in the Mahoning mines, and arranging to drive the fire from its present seat by a huge fan now being erected at the mouth of the Ferguson works. This work has been tiring and telling, and the fan is yet unfinished. The men in the Mahoning works are about seventy-five feet from what is considered the shortest way into the ill-fated mine. The inspectors have no hope of finding the unfortunates alive.

Who Is at Fault?

There seems to be many views as to the cause of the fire and the proper place, if any, for placing the blame. Coroner Holbrook appointed three miners and two citizens on the jury. He placed the miners there because they were the greatest sufferers, and because they wanted a show if the remedy could be applied. The mine is so located that flooding the fire is impossible, and smothering it means certain death to the men below, provided any are living. Nearly all the mines in this region are closed down, and men, money and provisions are pouring in on every train.

Fruitless Efforts.

All night rescuing parties worked at the mouth of the manhole, but their efforts were fruitless. In the morning the fire was burning with greater fury than ever and dense clouds of smoke were rising. The rescuers were unable to approach as near to the imprisoned men by 100 feet as the night before. Efforts to reach the victims through adjoining mines had to be given up, because of impure air and water.

THE LAND BILL TO GO OVER.

The Tories Defeat a Motion Supported by the Entire Opposition.

LONDON, June 18.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. W. H. Smith stated that the Government would move next Monday an earlier daily assembling of Parliament, the curtailing of debates on the Queen's speech and the suspension of such complicated measures as the Land Purchase bill until next session.

Mr. Gladstone gave notice of his intention to offer a resolution that such a grave change in Parliamentary practice as that contemplated in Mr. Smith's proposed motion ought not to occur.

Mr. Labouchere moved to adjourn, in order to consider the serious state of public affairs which the mismanagement of the Government had caused. The motion, which was supported by the entire opposition, was rejected by a vote of 235 to 181.

Police Ready to Strike.

LONDON, June 18.—The probability of a police strike increases and the authorities at Scotland Yard, fearing the worst, are quietly organizing a reserve force. Hundreds of recruits have already been sworn in and are receiving a degree of instruction in the duties of a policeman that will enable them to make a creditable showing in the event of a general revolt of the old men against the Government's treatment of their demand.

Two Bodies Found.

GOWANDA, N. Y., June 18.—The bodies of George Fackley and Frank Cramer, the young men who were drowned in this village on Friday last, have been found near where they fell into the water.

Died of Apoplexy.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 18.—Thomas C. Sloane, youngest brother of W. D. Sloane, of New York, died of apoplexy last night at his summer residence at Lenox. He was 42 years of age.

Hanged Himself in His Barn.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 18.—Christopher Frank, a farmer living two and one-half miles southeast of Newark, hanged himself in his barn. No reason for his rash act can be learned.

BY THE WAY.

—The older pupils in Miss Kenyon's Seminary were tendered a dance, last evening.

—The new Hand building on West Second street, was photographed on Monday afternoon.

—The gutters on East Second street were yesterday plowed up, and put in good condition.

—The roads in Washington Valley, between this city and Warrenville, are in a horrible condition, and need attention at once.

—Strawberries measuring over four inches around were picked from the yard of Mr. J. T. Case, on Vine street, North Plainfield, yesterday.

—The telephone company has succeeded at last in getting the direct right of way between Westfield and Elizabeth, through Cranford and Roselle.

—The baldheaded eagle can be seen at Pierson's hardware store until to-morrow, as it has been purchased by a New York gentleman to go to Lake George.

—The praise of the people at the enterprise of THE PRESS yesterday in publishing a handsome picture of the proposed soldier's monument, is heard on every side.

—It was reported on the streets today that a woman in North Plainfield had accidentally taken a dose of poison this morning, but nothing authentic could be learned concerning the matter.

—Mr. H. P. Talmadge of Belvidere avenue has just completed his new gas generating house. The new building is located at the foot of the incline in the rear of Mr. Talmadge's handsome residence.

—Frankie, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Vail of Park avenue, who was injured by the cars just eight weeks ago today, has so far recovered from the injuries he received as to be able to leave his bed.

—Don't forget the public initiation of the Encampment degree, I. O. O. F., to be worked by the dramatic association of Protection Lodge of Newark, at Amphion Hall, Friday evening, under the auspices of Noah Dove Encampment of this city.

—Provision has been made for the entertainment of a host of friends of the Washingtonville Sunday school, at the strawberry festival to be held at the chapel this evening. Conover's large stage will leave the corner of Front and Somerset streets, about 7:30, to accommodate those who wish to have a pleasant evening's enjoyment. The stage will wait for those who wish to ride back later in the evening.

Meeting of the Clerks.

The clerks of this city held another meeting in Laing's Hall last evening, with President Jeremiah Moore in the chair. Reports were heard from the several committees appointed to wait upon the store-keepers who persist in keeping open their stores after seven o'clock at night, and the adoption of the constitution and by-laws was considered.

It was reported at the meeting that all but one of the grocery stores, and all but three of the dry goods stores had agreed to close at seven o'clock. The association now numbers 67 members.

Forty Thousand Dollars For a City Hall.

Mr. Charles Hand, owner of the new Amphion Hall building on West Second street, offers to sell the building to the city for a City Hall for $40,000. He claims that the rent the city would derive from the building would more than pay the interest on the investment together with the taxes and insurance. An architect is now drawing up plans to ascertain what changes would be necessary, in the event of the city purchasing the property.

Festival at Warrenville.

The strawberry and iced cream festival held in the Warrenville public school building, last evening, was a very pleasant affair, and it was also largely patronized, a delegation being present from this city. During the evening instrumental music was rendered for the entertainment of the visitors.

A Lively Chase by the Police.

Special Officer Kiely last evening "spotted" James Dowd on West Third street, and he gave chase. Dowd is wanted for creating a disturbance several days since, and as soon as he saw the officer he took to his heels, finally making his escape after a long and desperate chase.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

Impressive Ceremonies at Franklin School Building This Morning.

The Good and Welfare Committee of Franklin Council, No. 41, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, presented a flag measuring 10x15 feet to the Board of Education this morning, for use upon the Franklin Public School building on West Fourth street. The ceremonies attending the presentation were heartily entered into by Dr. J. B. Probasco, of the Board of Education, William A. Coddington, the Good and Welfare Committee of Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., and the scholars in the Franklin building. The regular chapel opening exercises were followed, after which Mr. Coddington made the presentation speech on behalf of the Order. The speaker was eloquent and his flights of oratory were enthusiastically received by the children. He closed by delivering Longfellow's poem, "The Ship of State."

Dr. J. B. Probasco's address was commemorative of the flag's history. He cited as an instance of patriotism the action of a veteran at the surrender of Fort Macon. This gray bearded man leaped upon the ramparts as the stars and stripes replaced the Confederate emblem, and bugled forth the stirring strains of the "Star Spangled Banner." Dr. Probasco's address evoked continued applause.

Messrs W. N. Martin, D. S. Dunavan, C. S. Greer, J. V. Beekman and P. H. Bennett comprised the Good and Welfare Committee who raised the money from the members of the Council for the purchase of the flag.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Margaret Burr of Kensington avenue is visiting relatives in Brooklyn.

Mr. Williams has so far recovered from his recent illness, as to be able to leave the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carty are the proud parents of a little son, just six days old this afternoon.

Mr. William Tier has so far recovered from his recent illness, as to be able to leave the house.

Mr. H. Weigmann and daughter of East Front street, started for Washington, D. C., yesterday, where they will spend a few days with friends.

The charming elocutionist, Miss Susie Marsh of Westfield, has accepted an invitation to appear at the coming entertainment in Warren Mission, July 10.

Mr. Henry Lapsley and family of Putnam avenue, will spend the Summer in Massachusetts, having left the city on Monday, and expect to be absent until September 1.

Charles J. Fisk is prominently spoken of as the second Vice President of the new vocal society told of in these columns, yesterday. At its next meeting he will probably be elected unanimously.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, arrived home from St. Louis at 2:30 P.M. today, where he went as a delegate to attend the National Convention of the Christian Endavor.

Mr. Wm. H. Miller, an old and respected resident of Westfield, died on Sunday, aged sixty-five years. The funeral took place yesterday. The wife of the late Mr. Miller is one of the heirs of the Frazee Lee estate.

The remains of Miss Carrie E. Kirkner, who died at Dresden, Germany, on May 25, arrived in this city last evening. The funeral will take place from the Congregational church to-morrow afternoon at five o'clock. Interment will be private.

The exercises of commencement week at Rutgers College close today, and the Senior ball to-night winds up the term. William C. Hubbard of this city, is one of the graduating class, which numbers 31, and he is also chairman of the committee on closing exercises.

George C. Chandler, who was born and bred in this city, was graduated from Grammar School, No. 43, New York city, yesterday, with the highest honors. Besides being awarded the gold medal for general excellence in a class of 60, he received the appointment of a five years' course in the New York College, having passed the examination with great credit. He is the son of Forester Chandler, formerly of Second street, and the nephew of John Chandler.

Canopy Tea.

The canopy tea given under the auspices of the Kitchen Garden of the W. C. T. U. in the tent at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street, during yesterday afternoon and last evening, was a grand financial success, and those who had the matter in charge will receive a snug little benefit as the result of their labors.

The interior of the tent was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, and there was also a profusion of flowers about the several tables. During the afternoon the members of the Kitchen Garden gave exhibitions in cookery, under the direction of their efficient teacher, Miss Alice Smith. In the evening Prof. Frazee's orchestra enlivened the occasion by discoursing popular airs.

The attendance, both afternoon and evening, was very large.

Death of an Old Resident.

At his home, No. 2 Elm street, at two o'clock yesterday morning, occurred the death of Albert Vanderweg, in the 75th year of his age. Mr. Vanderweg has been a resident of this city for many years past. His death resulted from inflammation of the bowels.

The funeral will take place from the house on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

JUSTICES NO LONGER MONARCHS OF ALL THEY SURVEY.

Counselor McClure Sitting as Supreme Court Commissioner, Sets Aside an Order of Arrest Made by Justice Nodyne, and Discharges James Hardy.

Some months ago James Hardy, Justice of the Peace of North Plainfield, became indebted to J. H. McCullough for doors furnished by McCullough, and as part payment Hardy gave McCullough an order for $75 on a Mr. Kissam for whom he was building a house. About a month later Hardy had a settlement with Kissam, and Kissam after deducting the amount of several different orders which had been given by Hardy to other people, paid Hardy the balance then appearing due him. McCullough having neglected to present his order to Kissam it was not considered in the settlement.

The fact that McCullough's order had not been presented or paid, having afterwards been brought to Hardy's attention, he at once offered to secure McCullough for the amount of his claim, which he was then unable to pay in cash. This offer was not accepted, but in turn thereof McCullough, through his attorneys, Jackson & Codington, brought suit before Justice Nodyne and obtained from him upon affidavit, a warrant for the arrest of Hardy, in a civil action, for fraud in the contraction of the debt. Hardy was arrested and appeared before Justice Nodyne with his counsel, Chas. A. Reed, Esq., who moved for his discharge upon the ground that the whole proceedings were fatally defective and irregular. Counselor Jackson offered the motion, and Justice Nodyne refused to discharge the defendant.

Counselor Reed subsequently applied to Supreme Court Commissioner McClure for an order to set aside the orders of arrest made by Justice Nodyne, who was thereupon subpœnaed to produce all the papers in the case before the Commissioner.

At 11 A. M., today Justice Nodyne, and the parties with their respective counsel appeared before Commissioner McClure, who after hearing argument by Chas. A. Reed, on the part of the defendant, Hardy, and John H. Jackson on the part of the plaintiff, McCullough, set aside the order of arrest and discharged the defendant, upon the ground that there was no proof of fraud in the affidavit. It is stated that McCullough requested the constable who arrested Hardy, to march him (Hardy) publicly through the streets, and that he (McCullough) declared that he himself would notify all the newspapers of the arrest.

Where the Little Folks Are Trained.

The closing exercises of Miss Fawcett's school and Kindergarten took place last evening. The parents and a goodly number of friends were present at the appointed time, and the applause that greeted the youthful actors proved that the whole affair gave much pleasure. The children have been a very short time under Miss Fawcett's care, but their progress is manifest. Some of the very little ones were most amusing in their representations of birds, hares, shoemakers, etc.

Beside the Kindergarten exercises, marching, singing and calisthenics, there were several recitations. Miss Margie Cleaver and Master Morgan Townsend delighted the audience with their dialogue of "The Swallow and I," and Miss Annie Jennings also gained much approbation for her recitation of "The First Letter." Little Miss Eleanor Cleaver and Master Frank Rogers amused greatly by their efforts as they recited together a tiny speech. Miss Lulu Perrine deserves much credit as leader of the little band.

The aim of the school is to develop every faculty of the children, and Miss Fawcett, believing that childhood is the time when the foundation of future success is laid, gives each child an opportunity of doing what it can.

The City Park (!) a Disgrace.

What a dilapidated, unsightly looking spot of ground is that bounded by Eighth and Ninth streets, Arlington avenue and College place, otherwise known as the "City Park." True enough there are plenty of handsome shade trees there, but aside from that the place resembles anything but a park. The few ancient looking seats which were placed in the "park," when the old First Presbyterian church was torn down, have been carried away piece by piece and used for kindling wood, until there now remains scarcely any seats at all.

About the only work that has been done in Plainfield's model park within the past few years, has been the dumping of a few loads of dirt therein. Left in its present condition the park is a disgrace to the city, and it would be far better for the city fathers to order the place fenced in, and have the Street Commissioner sow a crop of oats.

Hope Chapel Festival.

There was a strawberry and iced cream festival held in Hope chapel, last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Class of the chapel. There was a large number present. Miss Lillie Miller presided at the piano during the evening The proceeds are for the benefit of enlarging the chapel. The festival will be given again this evening.

Robbery at Fanwood.

Some time during last night the coal office of C. A. Smith at Fanwood was broken open and robbed of a costly double-barrel shot-gun. The weapon was recently purchased from Charles Smith of this city, and was valued at about $50.

That Elopement Case.

Nothing has since been heard from Laura Robinson and Wm. McQuay, the colored couple who are believed to have eloped from this city, early on Monday morning, as told exclusively in THE PRESS yesterday, and all efforts to trace the runaway couple have proved unavailing. Mrs. Robinson, the mother of the girl, consulted the police this morning, and signified her intention to swear out a warrant for the arrest of McQuay on a charge of abduction.

Thief Arrested.

The news was received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heart-felt gratitude. Chilliness, cold extremities, depressed spirits and extremely miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists.

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

DON'T DESPISE THE EDITOR.

Its Only a Bad Light in Which He is Placed by a Job-Lot Contributor.

Upon inquiry it seems to be a fact that there is no doubt in the minds of the people of Somerville that the editor of the Democrat of that place is an honest, decent sort of a fellow. Such being the case, there is then no doubt that someone else who is both dishonest and indecent, writes his baseball "editorials."

This state of things which existed in 1889, has made itself again apparent in 1890. Just one year ago last Saturday, this job-lot contributor to the Democrat, spoke of ourself and our contemporaries in Plainfield as, "The papers published at Pinchgut," and continued as follows:

Our citizens are well bred and polite, and are always called gentlemen when away from home. They are not called "toughs," like a large number of those from Plainfield were spoken of by some ladies and gentlemen from New York.

But in the next week's issue the editor of the Democrat—thoroughly ashamed of his misfit contributor's vulgarity—tried to square himself in a way that was thus answered in THE PRESS;

One of the Somerville papers seeks to excuse itself now from its ungentle remarks regarding its city's guests, the Crescents, by pleading it was "provoked thereat by the remarks of the Press."

We challenge all the papers in Somerset county to quote a word in the PRESS account of the occaston that was in the slightest way discourteous to our hosts, the Somervillians.

The papers of Somerset county searched the files of THE PRESS for months, but never replied a word to the challenge. (It is open yet) The Democrat thereupon must have discharged its bargain-counter contributor, for never another indecent word was uttered in its columns during 1889. Its readers, however, who "are well bred and polite, and always called gentlemen," wound up the season by tearing the vest off of the Crescents' Vice President, who was at the time a guest in their grand stand at Somerville.

But on June 13, 1890, the Democrat's base ball contributor again turns up, a remnant. THE PRESS in speaking of Somerville's desire to get third baseman Lee of the Crescents, said he was "playing in such company as can't be found in Somerville." Everybody but a fool knew that "such company" meant Lufbery, Martin, Wiegand, Jones et als. Those were the people Lee was playing with. The other Somerville papers so understood it. But the Democrat's cheap-John contributor considered that sentence entirely personal and shouted out like a black cook: "The citizens of Somerville certainly are the equal to the Plainfielders as far as manners and education are concerned."

But as far as the editor of the Democrat is concerned, the people won't think so of him much longer, if he lets all sorts of scolds loose in his columns.

"Baby McKee" With Them.

The New Jersey section of members of the federation of homing pigeon fanciers have shipped yesterday by Adams Express company forty-one birds, to be liberated at Rocky Mount, Va., to-morrow. Among them was Baby McKee, one of THE PRESS news service birds who has already flown in 200 and 300 mile races.

This is the third concourse race ever held in America. The distance is 400 miles. The start will be at 7 A. M. The entries for this section are as follows:

	Birds.	Special Prizes.
J. H. Doane,	5	0	Plainfield
C. E. Faber,	9	0	"
J. Ingraham,	1	0	"
DAILY PRESS,	1	0	"
D. Johnson,	10	5	Keyport
S. E. Lambertson,	9	5	"
W. A. Kiggins,	1	0	Elizabeth
E. K. Tucker,	5	2	"

There will be about 300 birds liberated for this fly at this station. There will probably be about 2,000 birds in the concourse race.

The Rev. C. L. Goodrich Will Take Part.

A council of the Congregational churches will be held at the Valley Congregational church, Orange, on to-morrow afternoon. At 8 o'clock in the evening the Rev. Charles A. Savage will be installed pastor of the church. The Rev. C. L. Goodrich of this city, will deliver the invocatian at the installation services; the Scriptures will be read by the Rev. C. H. Patton of Westfield; a prayer will be offered by the Rev. L. S. Loomis, of Newark; the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. R. R. Meredith, of Brooklyn.

Sunday School Association.

The New Jersey Sunday School Association will have an annual mid-Summer convention in Educational Hall, Asbury Park, beginning today and continuing throughout to-morrow.

It is intended to make this the best Sunday school gathering that has been held in this State, and a delegation is desired from every hamlet, town and city in this State.

Before His Honor, the Governor.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace Episcopal church of this city, was one of the speakers before Gov. Leon Abbett at Trenton, yesterday, in opposition to the pool-selling and book-making bill, which has passed both Houses of the Legislature and now only awaits the Governor's signature to become a law. It is generally predicted that the Governor will not sign the bill.

THE NEW ACADEMY IN WESTFIELD.

A $25,000 Building From Plans by a Plainfield Architect.

For nearly two years the people of Westfield have been on the rack respecting increased accommodations for the overflow of pupils attending the public schools. Theirs has been the experience generally in neighboring districts. Some opposed any new building; others favored two buildings; some advocated extravagance in cost while others were too illiberal, maintaining that a house good enough for themselves when children, is good enough now. Then the question of location developed a variety of views. Some didn't want a school building near them; some wanted it very near. Others wanted it in this part of town and others in that part.

At last the people of Westfield are at rest and take a long breath in the matter. The site was agreed upon fully a year ago. It is Southeast of the Central Railroad station the highest and most conspicuous from the passing trains of any in the township; probably more so than any on the Central Railroad, between Somerville and Elizabeth. The lot is ample, containing abont two acres including the streets of which there are three; one on each side of the plot, except the rear. The building is to be of brick and stone combined. The architect is Mr. Oscar Teal of Plainfield. The mason Aaron B. Clark and the carpenter William Moffett, both of Westfield. The ground is broken The building will soon be erected and there are pupils enough to fill it.

It is not to take the place of the Public school building now in use, which is comparatively a new building, but it is to take the surplus youth now farmed out in public halls and private buildings. Westfield is growing; the number of children is twice or three times what it was twenty years ago when the building in use was erected, and the trustees would forfeit the district's right to public school moneys, were they not to provide suitable buildings. The new building is a necessity, and Mr. Teal and the trustees propose to make it the most imposing in Union county. The present board consists of five, increased from three, under the law permitting an increase of trustees with increase of children. They are practical, prudent men; men of experience and such as the citizens of the district have confidence in, as managers of the interests committed to them. The present Board is composed of Ludlow V. Clark, James T. Pierson, Ira C. Lambert, Frank R. Pennington and George B. Brown. The building is to cost $25,000.

Notes of the New York Theatres.

The history of the American stage suggests the new axiom that "money is the measure of success," and, in no instance, is this trite saying more applicable than to DeWolf Hopper's tuneful operetta, "Castles in the Air," now in its seventh week at the Broadway Theatre, New York. There are many reasons for this, the most potent of which is a careful attention to the wants of the theatre-going public. In its present condition the opera is one that directly appeals to the sunny side of human nature, and it has become so popular that the authors and composers, Messrs Byrne and Kerker, can honestly pride themselves upon their work, while Mr. Hopper and his managers are certain to make both fame and fortune out of it. A singular feature in connection with "Castles in the Air," is that so many individual members of the cast have made distinct and emphatic hits in their respective parts. Among these are Marion Manola, Della Fox, Thomas Q. Seabrooke and Rose Leighton. The chorus, too, has received an unusual share of praise for its effective work and general comeliness.

***

J. K. Emmet's next tour will commence at the People's Theatre, New York, September 8. His "Fritz in a Mad House," which was such a success in Plainfield and elsewhere last season, will be continued again next season, as he finds that there is no need of any new material for at least a year to come.

***

Miss Minnie Palmer's American season commences on September 15. She will be under the direction of W. W. Randall, of Randall's Theatrical Bureau, and will probably have a better supporting company than she has yet had. Prominent among the members already engaged are Charles S. Dickson, the well known leading light comedian; Marjorie Bonner; Samuel Edwards, who made such a hit in "The Stepping Stone"; Thomas A. Wise, at present one of the light comedians of "The Private Secretary" cast at the Lyceum Theatre. Miss Palmer sails for America on June 28, closing her provincial season at the Court Theatre, Liverpool, on June 26. Her repertoire will consist of the always-welcome and ever-popular "My Sweetheart," "My Brother's Sister," and her new play by two New York journalists, entitled: "My Prima Donna."

***

Mrs. Leslie Carter's play with which she opens her season at the Broadway Theatre, on November 10, is "The Ugly Duckling," and is by Paul M. Potter, the well-known newspaper man. Prominent among the members of her company are Arthur Dacre, the well-known English leading man; E. J. Henley, W. J. Ferguson, and Helen Bancroft. Mrs. Carter's tour will be under the direction of E. D. Price, former manager of Richard Mansfield.

—The climax of inane journalism is reached at last, by the publication of a map of Plainfield's cesspools in the columns of one of them.

New Members Even From Elizabeth.

The regular monthly meeting of the Camera Club was held at their new rooms, 17 East Front street, last evening, with a number of members present. The furnishing and improvements of the rooms are progressing rapidly, and the Club are to be congratulated upon the able and efficient manner in which the house committee have worked to provide for the convenience of the members.

A special committee was appointed to arrange for an "outing" to take place on Saturday, July 5, and members will receive notices of the fact at an early date. The following gentlemen were elected members: Foster Milliken, Robert Rushmore and Townsend Rushmore of this city; also, W. H. K. Davey, of Elizabeth. The membership now is 42.

A Proper Project.

At a regular communication of Jerusalem Lodge, last evening, a resolution was introduced looking forward to the alliance of all the masonic organizations of the city in the ownership and occupancy of a Masonic Hall. The trustees of the associations including Jerusalem and Anchor Lodges, F. A. M., Jerusalem Chapter, R. A. M., and Trinity Commandery, K.T., are to decide upon the feasibility of the project. John W. Murray and others spoke in favor of the resolution, and it was unanimously adopted.

To mprove Their Grounds.

At a meeting of the Westfield Athletic Association, held on Friday evening last, it was decided to continue the grading of the land recently leased by the Association for enclosed ball grounds, and to lay out a bicycle track, lawn tennis court and foot ball grounds. The Association is backed up by influential men, who will spare neither pains nor money, to provide first-class out-door sports for the patrons of the grounds.

Boat Racing at Bound Brook.

The often postponed boat race for the championship of Bound Brook, occurred last evening. The contestants were Harvey Smalley and Martin Canfield. The course was a mile and turn on the Raritan from the bridge. The start was made at 7 o'clock. Smalley made the distance in 13 minutes, seventy yards ahead of Canfield. Several thousand persons witnessed the race and cheered the winner.

Wetumpka Lodge Meeting.

Wetumpka Lodge, 3401, Knights of Honor, will meet to-morrow evening, June 19, in the Lodge rooms in Hand's building. The Grand officers of New Jersey will visit the lodge on that evening. Members of the Order are requested to be present. A full attendance is requested. There will be initiation exercises.

Held for the Grand Jury.

"Jack" Dady, whom the police have been looking for for some time past, on a charge of Sunday card playing, gave himself up to Justice Nash, yesterday, and furnished $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

"The Battle of Nebraska."

Prof. Cornwall and Joe English will discuss the above question at Reform Hall to-morrow evening, and several other distinguished speakers will also take part. All are welcome to enjoy the enthusiasm of the meeting.

LOOKING FOR A VOLCANO.

An Early Eruption Indicated by the Fall of Mt. Shasta's Peak.

REDDING, Col., June 18.—Travelers familiar with volcanic phenomena, say the falling in of the principal peak of Mt. Shasta indicates an eruption at an early date. Residents in the neighborhood are greatly alarmed and are making preparations to escape to a safe distance.

The top of the peak is cut short off and must have fallen into the crater below, the depths of which have never been penetrated by the eye of man. It is thought that the absence of this old landmark may indicate further demonstrations of a volcanic nature. Fire has long been known to exist in the crater, and the lava formations of the valleys and ridges below it give rise to the question, may not the convulsion of ages past be repeated! An attempt will be made as soon as possible to restore the mountain.

'Frisco Sports Excited.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Sporting men are worked up over the letter received by Attorney-General Johnson from Governor Waterman calling attention to the frequent recurrence of prize fights within the State. He declares that the State has been disgraced by organizations given up to the degrading and disgusting exhibitions of brute force in alleged scientific contests and which are nothing more or less than prize fights. These exhibitions, he says, should be no longer permitted and concludes by requesting the attorney-general to inquire into the matter and to take such measures as will prevent any more of these dabasing exhibitions.

Pugilist Jackson Anxious.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The California Athletic Club has telegraphed R. K. Fox that the offer of a $20,000 purse for a match between Sullivan and Jackson will be open until July 1. Jackson is anxious to leave for Australia if there are no prospects of Sullivan's agreeing to meet him.

A New York Banker Dies in Paris.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A cable dispatch from Paris announces the death of V. Mumford Moore in that city. Mr. Moore was president of the National Park Bank of New York.

Fined for Sunday Ball Playing.

EASTON, Pa., June 18.—The Easton Baseball Club was last night found guilty and fined for playing a game of ball last Sunday.

FOR FREE COINAGE

The Silver Men in the Senate Secure a Victory.

A MAJORITY OF 17 FOR THE BILL.

Western Republicans Vote With the Democrats for the Measure.

The Result a Big Surprise—A Tilt Between Senators Edmunds and Plumb—The Bullion Redemption Clause Stricken Out by a Large Majority—Predicting the Result in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Senator Plumb with fourteen other Republicans joined the Democrats in passing the free coinage measure. The friends of limited coinage were taken by surprise.

Senator Edmunds sharply criticised his associates for allying themselves with their political opponents. A bitter debate followed. The galleries were filled with spectators, and on the floor were many Congressmen, including Major McKinley, Major Butterworth and Messrs. Payne, Carter and Mills.

Senator Plumb offered an amendment that after the passage of the act the unit of value in the United States should be the dollar coined of 412½ grains of standard silver or 25 8-10 standard gold, the coin to be legal tender for all public or private debts; owners of silver or gold bullion may deposit it at any mint, to be formed into standard dollars or bars for their benefit without charge; any deposit less in value than $100 or unsuitable bullion may be refused.

After Senators Wolcott and Mitchell had delivered free coinage speeches, the Plumb amendment was adopted—42 to 24. Messrs. Blair, Cameron, Ingalls, Jones, of Nevada, Manderson, Mitchell, Moody, Paddock, Plumb, Power, Sanders, Squire, Stewart, Teller and Wolcott voted with the Democrats for the amendment. Wilson, of Maryland, McPherson, of New Jersey, and Gray, of Delaware, Democrats, with twenty-one Republicans, declared their opposition.

After the vote had been announced Senator Edmunds arose and remarked satirically: "I am against this bill, as amended. However, since enough of my associates have been so deluded as to give over the management of the finances of the country to the Democrats, I presume it is needless to protest."

"The Senator from Vermont does not represent himself or the Republican party on this question," interjected Senator Plumb, quickly.

After a short debate other amendments were offered and adopted. The legal tender clause was retained—50 to 14, and the bullion redemption clause was stricken out—57 to 7. The ten years' limitation was rejected—64 to 4, and the sixth section for free coinage of silver when the market price is $1 for 371¼ grains of pure silver was beaten—46 to 16.

The vote on the passage of the bill was 42 yeas and 25 nays.

What action the House will take upon the measure when it is returned to them it is difficult to say. The free coinage people are hopeful that the moral effect of the victory will enable them to pass their measure without material change through the House.

Speaker Reed, however, says that this cannot be done; and in this declaration Mr. Conger, of Iowa; the chairman of the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, concurs.

The Election of Cottrell's Successor.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A special dispatch from Cedar Keys, Fla., says: "The election for a Mayor in place of the bulldozer Cottrell takes place next Tuesday. Everything is quiet here at present, but trouble is feared on election day. The Cottrell men have nominated J. O. Andrews, and the anti-Cottrell men E. J. Lattrell. Cottrell is believed to be at Suarnee, 40 miles from here. The United States revenue cutter McLane returned yesterday from a cruise to the southward."

Soldiers Watching the Cheyennes.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A dispatch from Cheyenne Agency says the Indians are gathered at the reservation in two camps on Tongue river, the latter being under surveilance of the military who report no signs of an outbreak. The country has been thoroughly patrolled. It is now the belief that another council will be held between a body of Cheyenne chiefs of Custer, Major Upshaw and Major Carroll at which the Indians will be asked to explain their desires.

The Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Chairman Morrill, of the Senate Finance Committee, said that the Tariff bill will be reported to the Senate this afternoon. It is impossible to prepare the report of the majority in time for it to accompany the bill on its presentation to the Senate, and it will be presented later, probably before the debate is opened on the bill. Senator Morrill said that the debate would not in all probability begin before next week.

Petitioning Against Flags.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Congressmar Williams of Ohio introduced a petition of John N. Bell and 140 others, ex-soldiers and sailors of Dayton, Ohio, praying for the enactment of a law prohibiting the sale, use, manufacture and importation of banners or flags representing the rebel flag or the red flag of the Anarchist. It was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Many Congressmen Absent.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Warm weather and approaching campaigns are decimating the membership of the House present every day quite rapidly. There were less than fifty members in the hall of the House when prayer was said. A bare quorum of the House is in the city.

In Its Original Form.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The second conference on the Anti-Trust bill has reached an agreement, by the terms of which the bill is stripped of all amendments added by the Senate and House, and remains as it originally passed the Senate.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

WILL NOT RUN AGAIN

President Harrison Tired of Official Life.

A SURPRISE FOR POLITICIANS.

The Chief Executive Says He Will Resume the Practice of Law.

Glad to Return to Indianapolis When His Time Expires—Free Coinage Receives a Setback in the House—The National Election Law to be Reported Favorably—Nominations Rejected.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A piece of news that will be read with intense interest comes from the White House. It is no less than a positive declaration by President Harrison that he will not be a candidate for renomination under any consideration or circumstance.

The President, it appears, made up his mind some time ago not to seek the Presidential nomination again. He did not think it necessary to make any announcement of the fact, although it was assumed by thousands of party men that, in the natural course of things, he would be a candidate for a second term.

The announcement was made in the most casual way. The President was in conversation with an intimate friend at the White House, and the talk turned on the Silver bill. Incidentally national politics were mentioned, and the President expressed himself quite freely. He said among other things that he had made up his mind not to be a candidate for re-nomination, and that at the end of his present term he intends to settle in Indianapolis again and resume the practice of law.

The President's declaration touching his relation to the next Presidential nomination, made as it was without reserve, was soon in wide circulation, and afforded a topic for conversation that in interest subordinated all other topics for the time.

SILVER IN THE HOUSE.

Speaker Reed Leads an Attack Against the Senate Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The unlimited coinage advocates were treated to a black eye in the House which is destined to have considerable effect upon the House's final action on the Silver bill with the Senate's free coinage attachment.

When the bill, with the Senate's amendments, was reported, the House was in Committee of the Whole, and immediately there arose a fusilade of hand-clapping which lasted for several minutes. The silver men had agreed upon a coup, and the motion was at once made that the Committee of the Whole should arise and vote to consider the Silver bill.

Speaker Reed, who is not concealing his antipathy to the Senate's free coinage action, at once went upon the floor and gave the party cue to his side of the House. The result of the vote was the defeat of the motion by eleven votes. Vaux and Mutchler, Pennsylvania Democrats, voted against it. The vote can hardly be regarded as a test one, as it was a slim house.

Speaker Reed has went over the rules carefully, and after consultation with the leaders on the Republican side and with Mr. Bland and the principal advocates of free coinage, determined that under the rules the bill will not be laid before the House at all, and that the reference of it was a formal matter which the clerk could attend to. The bill will now be considered by the committee and returned to the House with recommendations as to the Senate amendments. It will take its place at the foot of the calendar to be called up on motion at any time. Before it is considered it will be doubtless made the subject of caucus action. This news will be a surprise to the silver men.

Financiers Discuss Free Coinage.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Discussing the Senate's action on the Silver bill many money financiers are of the opinion it will expel gold from circulation and ultimately land us on an exclusively silver basis. Gold, they say, having taken its flight, we shall have a depreciated currency, with all the evils incident to that state of things. The advocates of free coinage claim it will put up the price of silver, so that the dollar of 412½ grains will again be worth 100 cents. At the same time it will make money more abundant, and thus prove a blessing to the large class of people in this country who are at present short of funds.

The New National Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The new National Election bill, introduced in the House by Representative Lodge, of Massachusetts, and sanctioned by a Republican caucus, was considered by the House Committee on the Election of President and Vice-President, and after some formal amendments had been made, the committee, by a strictly party vote, ordered a favorable report on the bill.

Postmaster of Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Ex-Alderman George J. Collins, of the Twenty-First Ward, Brooklyn, was nominated for postmaster by President Harrison.

A Will Case Settled.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., June 19.—A decision has at last been reached in the Rowland will case by which the $60,000 belonging to the estate in Burlington is to be divided among ten of the heirs.

Philadelphia Defeats New York.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—The Metropolitan League Cricket team of New York was defeated by the Belmont Cricket Club team by a score of 148 to 135.

WORK OF THE RESCUERS.

Not a Ray of Hope for the Noble Band of Workers at Dunbar.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 19.—There is not a ray of hope or encouragement offered the weary rescuing parties at Farm Hill mine, except that they are one day nearer the completion of their work, which now grows more difficult every hour.

The loose piles of fallen slate and coal in the disused chambers of the Mahoning mine have been passed with but little trouble. The main work is now in hand.

The rescuing parties from the Mahoning are digging through the fallen wreck that reaches to the roof, and are working now within seventy feet of where they expect to break into the Farm Hill lead.

There is, as usual, a conflict of authority on this question, as some still claim they are digging straight through into the burning mine, but they are fully 300 feet beyond where the men are supposed to be.

The men will probably not be obliged to dig through the solid wall after all. There is a steady draft setting in towards the burning chambers, and it now looks as if the men had made no mistake in their calculation, and will hit the nearest point to a hair's breadth.

The last report of Mine Inspector Keighly on the condition of the Hill Farm mine is still missing. It is certain he recommended repairs if he did not condemn the mine, and it is equally certain the repairs were not made. Damaging statements are made, and a sensation is promised when the miners are called before the coroner.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Two Workmen Crushed to Death Under Falling Cars Near Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., June 19.—A frightful accident occurred on the new freight road which is being constructed from Morrisville to Downingtown by the Pennsylvania Railroad, one mile from Morrisville, last night, which resulted in the death of two men, Murphy and Egolia.

A high trestle stands alongside the new track, from which the cars are dumped. Six of the cars became detached from the engine and ran down grade at a fearful rate of speed. When near the bottom of the trestlework they toppled over where a gang of men had been.

The approach of the cars had been seen by several of the gang, who ran away, but some of them were not quick enough in their flight to escape.

Murphy and Egolia were frightfully mangled, and death was instantaneous. About a dozen other workmen were more or less injured, but not seriously.

Changes at Cornell University.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 18.—The Board of Trustees of Cornell University considered many important questions. Instructor James D. Griffin was appointed registrar and instructor, and O. L. Elliott, assistant registrar and president's secretary, A. H. Grant, the present registrar and president's secretary declinining the place for next year. Andrew Carnegie was elected a member of the Board of Trustees.

Fighting the Whiskey Trust.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The executive committee of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association held a meeting and talked over the plans proposed at the first meeting for fighting the whiskey trust. They will make a report at the general meeting next Monday. It was unanimously resolved to raise a fund of $500,000 with which to build one or two co-operative distilleries.

Commencement Day at Rutgers.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 19.—The 120th annual commencement and graduating exercises of Rutgers College were held in the Opera House. The town was well filled with alumni and relatives and friends of the graduates. The valedictory address was delivered by Alexander Van Wagoner of Paterson, and the Latin salutatory by Warren R. Schenck of New Brunswick.

Explosion of a Steam Pipe.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Six persons narrowly escaped being parboiled by the explosion of a pipe of the New York Steam Heating Company's system on Fulton street, near Broadway at 8 a. m. Plate glass windows were shattered, plaster knocked from ceilings, great gusts of sand blown into basements and stores, and stocks of goods were seriously damaged.

Vermont Republican Convention.

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 19.—The Republican State Convention to-day selected James L. Martin, of Brattleboro, for chairman. The candidates for Governor are Page and Woodbury, each of whom claims to have pledges sufficient to insure his nomination. There will be little contest over the other nominations.

Murderer Smiler Will be Electrocuted.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Judge Fitzgerald in the Court of General Sessions sentenced H. A. Smiler, for killing his third wife, Maggie Drenny, to suffer the punishment of death according to the statutory law during the week beginning Monday, August 4. Smiler's second wife was in the court room.

Will Nominate Another Candidate.

BANGOR, Me., June 19.—At a meeting of the Democratic State Committee, held on the special train on the return from the funeral of the late Hon. W. F. Hill of Exeter, it was voted to issue a call for another Democratic convention to be held in Augusta on Wednesday, July 2, to nominate a candidate for Governor.

POWDERLY TO REPLY

The Master Workman Says He Will Refute Ugly Rumors.

HIS LETTER TO SAMUEL GOMPERS

The Federation President Invited to a Meeting of the Knights of Labor.

The Quarrel Between the Two Big Labor Organizations to be Ventilated in Public. Not a Wheel Moving in Cleveland on Account of the Strike—No Change in the Cloakmakers' Lockout.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Knights of Labor claim that they have patiently borne the attacks of the American Federation of Labor until patience is no longer a virtue. They have been accused of throwing obstacles in the way of the eight hour movement; that they have invaded the domains of trades unions and done similar acts against the welfare of the laboring people.

They will no longer remain in silence. They do not intend, they say, to take any unfair advantage of those who have made the charges, so the following letter was sent by T. V. Powderly, General master workman of the order, to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor:

"It is the intention of the general officers of the Knights of Labor to review and reply to the numerous charges and accusations which have been made and circulated by the officers of the American Federation of Labor against the Knights of Labor. The meeting will be held on Friday, June 20, in Cooper Institute. That you may not have to depend on hearsay or garbled reports of the meeting, I deem it but an act of courtesy to you to invite you to be present and occupy a seat on the platform on that occasion. It will afford me great pleasure to share the platform with you should you desire to reply to anything to which you may take exception during the deliberations."

SWITCHMEN STILL OUT.

Not a Wheel Moving at Cleveland and an Offer Rejected.

CLEVELAND, O., June 19.—The Big Four and Nypano Railroads offered their striking switchmen all that was asked for before the strike took place, to wit, 23 cents an hour for day and 25 cents for night work.

The offer was refused, the switchmen being united for the Chicago scale. There is no change in the situation, except that with shippers and manufacturers it is hourly growing worse. Several big establishments will be compelled suspend work to-morrow or next day for want of coal. No effort was made to put new men at work.

Mayor Gardner issued a proclamation forbidding interference with railroad employes or property.

The Cloakmakers' Lockout.

NEW YORK, June 19.—There is no material change in the situation of the locked-out cutters and cloak operators. Chairman Dale, of the Consolidated Board, made an affidavit denying Mr. Blumenthal's statement to the State Board of Arbitration that the striking cloakmakers in Meyer, Johnson & Co.'s shop would not go back to work unless the firm paid the expenses of the strike. He said that the men had withdrawn all their demands save the one for the recognition of their union, which they still insist upon. The operators' union received $160 from popular subscriptions.

BRITISH-AMERICANS.

The National Association Holding Their Third Annual Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—The third annual convention of the National British-American Association of the United States is in session here. The attendance comprises delegates from State organizations in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Illinois and Michigan.

The officers of the convention are: President, George E. Gooch of Chicago; vice-president, James Weymss, Jr., Boston; treasurer, Ernest Rowden, Brooklyn; past-president, E. W. Bradbury, Boston; secretary, J. Henry Williams, Philadelphia. The objects of the association are the naturalization of British born residents of the United States, ballot reform, anti-parochial education, and universal peace.

J. Henry Williams was chosen delegate to represent the association at the next conference of all American Protestant associations.

Congressman Grout Renominated.

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 19.—W. W. Grout was renominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Second District. A resolution was adopted urging Congress to prohibit importation of liquors into a State without the consent of such State.

Suicide is Feared.

NORWALK, Conn., June 19.—Miss Louise Peers, aged 22 years, has mysteriously disappeared from her aunt's house in this city. It is feared that she has committed suicide while temporarily insane. Her parents live in Danbury.

No Verdict in the Libel Suit.

GOSHEN, N. Y., June 19.—In the criminal libel case against William H. Keefe, of the Newburgh News, for libelling District Attorney Hirschberg, the jury failed to agree on a verdict and were discharged.

BY THE WAY.

—The boys and girls are sighing for the days of vacation, which will soon be here.

—Aspirants for political position next Fall are gradually appearing in all parts of the county.

—The Band of Mercy of Harned Academy will hold a meeting at three o'clock this afternoon.

—In the advertising columns elsewhere proposals for furnishing coal are asked for by the Board of Education.

—It is estimated that over fifty new dwelling houses are in course of erection in this city at the present time.

—The second grand sociable of St. Mary's T. A. B., Society, will be held at T. A. B. Association Hall, this evening.

—Mr. D. E. Titsworth, Vice President of the Y. M. C. A., will lead the young men's meeting at the Association rooms, Sunday at 4:15 P. M.

—Additional testimony was yesterday taken before Supreme Court Commissioner Wm. M. Stillman, in the case of Tunis J. Carey vs. the Police Board.

—Mr. C. B Clifftcn of this city, on Tuesday, paid ten dollars into the borough treasury, for violating the health ordinance by depositing decayed vegetable matter within the borough limits.

—The Pierson Hardware company of West Front street, announce a reduction of 10 per cent. on iced cream freezers, hammocks, croquet sets, window screens, etc. The offer will be withdrawn after this week.

—The numerous friends of George C. Somers are pleased to see him again in the Central depot at Bound Brook, where he is now day operator, having relinquished his position in the Plainfield ticket office.

—Mrs. Dr. Edwards, the clairvoyant, has been induced to remain at Somerville, where she has been unusually successful, a week longer. She can tell everybody something that may be of value and interest to them.

—A novel and interesting public initiation of the Encampment Degree will be worked by the dramatic association of Protection Lodge of Newark, at Amphion Hall, Friday evening, under the auspices of Noah Dove Encampment of this city.

—Elsewhere is advertised an auction sale of valuable real estate belonging to Mr. W. B. S. Taylor of this city. The property is situated on East Front street, at Scotch Plains, and the sale will take place on Saturday, June 21, at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

—The season for visiting the seashore and mountains has arrived, and readers of THE PRESS who intend to leave the city during the Summer months can have the paper forwarded to their address without extra charge. Both the present and the new address should be sent to this office.

—Constable Rockefellow emphatically states that Mr. McCullough did not request him when he arrested James Hardy to publicly march him through the streets. He says that on the contrary he was very considerate for Mr. Hardy, and that any one who met them would have thought they were just walking along as companions.

—The festival held at Washingtonville last evening was in every way a success, both socially and financially, the proceeds being larger than the expectation of the committee warranted. Much credit is due the committee in charge, who were as follows: Mrs. George Demler, Miss Fannie Titus, Miss Tillie Spencer, Messrs John Bicknell, Henry Weise, Alfred Winans and W. H. Rogers.

Home Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents on Duer street North Plainfield, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss A. Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bartindale was united in marriage to Mr. William A. Large of Trenton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. Armstrong of New Brooklyn, assisted by the Rev. A. R. Dilts of this city, in the presence of about seventy-five of the relatives and near friends of the bride and groom.

The usual wedding tea followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Large took passage on the 6:59 o'clock train to spend their honeymoon in the West. Upon their return a reception will be tendered them at their new home in Trenton. The gifts were numerous and elegant.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Mary A. Martin of Somerset street, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John M. Agans at Three Bridges, for several weeks.

Mr. C. S. Langdon and family have removed from 41 LaGrande avenue to 10 First place.

Master Warren Rice, son of R. W. Rice, is thought to be out of danger from an attack of scarlet fever.

Miss Emma Sutphen has returned to this city, after an absence of several months with friends in Orange.

Joseph Sullivan of West Third street, is lying seriously ill with typhoid fever. Dr. Paul is the attending physician.

Evangelist Nichols of this city, delivered able addresses before the temperance societies at Bound Brook on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Lewis Burghmiller, who was so badly hurt by his Alderney bull Sunday morning last, is in a fair way to recovery although quite stiff and sore yet.

Mrs. C. H. Gill of West Fourth street, has a curiosity in the shape of a mammoth cactus plant, which has on it fully one hundred flowers in full bloom.

Mrs. Maggie Cadmus, daughter of ex-Councilman John Simpson, of East Second street, returned to her home in Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon, after a visit with her father.

At the commencement exercises in Rutgers' College, yesterday, Mr. Wm. C. Hubbard of this city was one of the students who received a certificate of work awarded those not candidates for a degree.

Senator Miller has disposed of his homestead on Elm street, Westfield, together with his brick house at the corner of Elm street and Kimball avenue, to a New York party. The Senator now makes his home in New York city.

Not News, But Petty Personal Malice.

A PRESS reporter called on Councilman Hetfield this morning in relation to a certain case tried by him recently before Justice Hardy, and inquired:

"Will you tell me if there was anything of very great importance in the case of Scribner vs. Martoni to interest the public, tried by you, before Justice Hardy?"

Mr. Hetfield replied: "The statements published last evening in the news are monstrous perversions of the truth, and not published as a matter of news to the public, but to gratify a petty personal malice against me, as any fair minded person can see by perusing the article. It was simply a dispossess case brought by Mr. Scribner to eject his tenant and my client, claming that the tenant's term had expired. The case was tried and resulted in a judgment against my client. I had before that time, instituted two suits against Mr. Scribner, one for the defendant on the ejectment suit and one for a former tenant. After the trial and judgment in the ejectment case, one of my clients refused to proceed with trial before Justice Hardy, and insisted that I withdraw the suit and commence again before another Justice. I immediately withdrew the suit; my other client, who lives near Amboy, was not in attendance, so by agreement with Corporation Counsel Marsh, his case was adjourned to June 31. So instead of being defeated in three suits as was published, only one case was tried. As to my being responsible for costs; I am able to pay all legitimate claims against me, but fortunately my clients are abundantly able to pay them."

$1,000 More to be Spent on Hope Chapel.

A congregational meeting was held after the prayer meeting in the Crescent Avenue church, last evening, to consider the subject of enlarging Hope chapel. Charles Place stated that the trustees had been requested by the Session to call such a meeting, and he then desired Mr Squires, Superintendent of Hope chapel, to present the urgency of the case.

Mr. Squires stated that the chapel now held 228 chairs and a few low seats, and the attendance last Sunday was 230. There is room for only 17 classes, which gives an average of 14 to a class. The work is progressing rapidly, and the members are assisting in raising the building fund. A room to hold 75 people could be added for six or eight hundred dollars. Mr. Lovell presented a resolution authorizing the trustees to make needed additions, the expense not to exceed one thousand dollars, which resolution was adopted.

Will Meet Their President.

The Board of Directors and committeemen of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet upon invitation of the President, Mr. William D. Murray, at his residence, Eighth street and Central avenue, Saturday of this week at 3 P. M. Outdoor sports and social intercourse will occupy the afternoon, and after supper plans for aggressive work will be discussed.

You Must Either Use a Hyphen or a d.

The Times says THE PRESS is passing through another "iced cream" season. Errors of English are as liable to escape our attention as anyone's else. Yet there would be no more excuse for us if we persisted wilfully in saying "ice cream," than if we said "ice coffee," or "ice cake."

Hear Prof. Cornwall.

Prof. Cornwall and several distinguished speakers will deliver addresses in Reform Hall to-night, on the serious aspect in Nebraska. Good music may be expected. Admission free.

OBITUARY.

REV. N. EVERETT SMITH.

The Rev. N. Everett Smith, for many years pastor of the Congregational church (now Trinity Reformed) in this city, died at the home of his daughter Laura, Mrs Will Cameron, No. 55 Downing street, Brooklyn, yesterday morning, from bronchial pneumonia and partial paralysis, after a week's illness.

He was born at Jamaica, L. I., in 1825. He was educated at Rutgers College and studied for the ministry in that institution. His first pastorate was at the Dutch Reformed church at Brookville, L. I. He remained there six years and then became pastor of the Middle Reformed church of Brooklyn. After a pastorate of eighteen years he resigned, and becoming a member of the Congregational Church became pastor of the Congregational church in this city. After ten years at the church here he was called to the pastorate of the State Street Congregational church, Brooklyn, and continued in the pastorate until the disbandment of the congregation three years ago.

Since then he has had no regular charge, but has preached occasionally in the Congregational church at Lake Grove, L. I. He leave a wife and three daughters. The funeral services will take place in the Central Congregational church, Brooklyn, on Saturday afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

The World's Champions of 1884 and 1885, Will Play the Crescents Saturday.

The Crescent League ball team will have the hardest fight of its season, next Saturday. The renowned Metropolitans of New York, the champions of the World in 1884 and 1885, and victors this year over many of the league professional teams, will come to Plainfield.

Yesterday the Mets played against one of the strongest teams that could be got together by the Unions of New Brunswick. The Mets could have shut them out with ease. Lynch, who will also pitch here Saturday, struck out all of the Union's big batters. The latter would not have got a run if Lynch had not purposely pitched the ball over the catcher's head twice in succession when the bases were filled, and if Umpire Bradley had not called a foul ball "fair," that was knocked over the fence by a Union player.

The batteing order for Saturday will be:

They Have Cause for Satisfaction.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: The ladies in charge of the tent entertainment Tuesday on Park avenue desire to extend their thanks to everyone, who in any way contributed to rendering their efforts to bring their work before an appreciative public—the success they hope it will undoubtedly prove to have been.

Results, financially and otherwise, cannot yet be determined, but considering that this effort was a first experiment, and their accommodations necessarily contracted, they feel satisfied to have succeeded so well.

Captured a Young Tarantula.

Harry Connett, one of Station Agent J. A. Haynes' assistants at the frei ht house, yesterday captured a young tarantula, while unloading bananas from a freight car. The reptile was found clinging to a bunch of bananas and was placed in a box by Adam Beek. Its bite sometimes produces a trifling effect about equal to the sting of a wasp, and is popularly supposed to be cured by music. The tarantula is found in large numbers in Italy.

A Disgraceful Scene.

It was a sad sight witnessed by many persons on Park avenue, about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a middle-aged, well-dressed woman in black was seen staggering along that thoroughfare in a beastly state of intoxication. The woman could scarcely keep on the sidewalk, and she attracted the attention of nearly every one who passed her.

The Collar Snap Broke.

John E. Yose was exercising a team of grey horses belonging to Mr. A. D. Thompson, on West Second street, yesterday afternoon, when one of the collar snaps broke, allowing the harness to fall from one of the horses. Fortunately the animal did not get frightened, or a disastrous runaway might have resulted. The team was hitched to Gazelle Engine at the time.

Caught His Finger in the Machinery.

Wm. C. Benson, an employee at The Pond Machine Tool Company's Works, nearly severed the third finger on his right hand yesterday, by having it caught between two radiater drill heads. Dr. Adams dressed the wound.

—The annual State Convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at Jersey City, yesterday, delegates being in attendance from this city.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced, if, at the same time, the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor, and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

Their Claims Established.

The four cases of Dodds, Force, Thorn and Dawe, vs. James Hardy, which were tried before Justice Crosley on Saturday last, have been decided in favor of the plaintiffs and establishes their claims as correct. City Judge Codington represented the plaintiffs, and Borough Counsel Reed, Hardy.

In the case of McCullough—published exclusively in THE PRESS of yesterday—wherein Hardy was arrested for fraud, there is published below the affidavit upon which the order for arrest was made, which speaks for itself.

Mr. McCullough admits that propositions of settlement were made by Hardy by giving chattle mortgage to secure the claim, but says he failed to give a list of the goods proposed to be mortgaged although requested so to do, and after two or three weeks delay, action was taken with results heretofore published.

Union County, ss:

Court for the trial of small causes before J. Oakley Nodyne, Esquire, Justice of the Peace.

Richard H. McCullough, Plaintiff, vs. James Hardy, Defendant. } In an action upon contract.

Union County ss:

Richard H. McCullough the above named plaintiff being duly sworn on his oath saith,

That he is the plaintiff in the above stated case.

That he has a just and legal cause of action against James Hardy, the above named defendant for seventy-five dollars.

That the said debt was fraudulently contracted in manner following, that is to say: The said defendant as an inducement to said debt represented to deponent that an order in favor of deponent upon one Mr. Kissam was good and would be paid upon the next payment becoming due and this deponent solely relying upon the said representation of the said James Hardy sold and delivered to deponent seventy-five dollars worth of doors for the house of the said Kissam upon the said James Hardy giving to deponent an order in writing upon the said Kissam payable to deponent out of the next payment due from said Kissam to the said Hardy for seventy-five dollars therefore.

That before the said next payment was made, notwithstanding the fact that he had previously as aforesaid given upon said Kissam an order in favor of deponent for the payment by said Kissam to deponent out of said next payment for seventy-five dollars the said James Hardy fraudulently obtained from said Kissam to himself payment of the said sum of seventy-five dollars to him the said James Hardy, thereby depriving this deponent of the payment to him of said order of seventy-five dollars in fraud of this deponent.

That the said James Hardy is not a freeholder or resident of the County of Union.

That no part of said order has been paid to deponent by reason of the said Hardy in fraud of deponent after giving said order to deponent receiving from said Kissam said sum of seventy-five dollars and not leaving in said Kissam's hands sufficient money to pay this deponent the amount of said order.

Deponent further said that at the time said debt was contracted the said James Hardy was not, is not now and never since has been a resident or freeholder of the County of Union.

Sworn and subscribed to before me this tenth day of June A. D. 1890.

RICHARD H. MCCULLOUGH.

Why We All Laugh.

In calling attention to the enterprise of THE PRESS in publishing a picture of Plainfield's soldiers monument and a description of it, the news says:

As an extra precaution he (Gen'l Negley) took the design away with him from the post room, where the meeting was held. He has doubtless been deceived into loaning it to some dishonorable person who has made surreptitious use of it in the only publication office in this locality where honor seems unknown.

Col. Mason W. Tyler, Chairman of the committee of design, gave permission for the publication of the design in THE PRESS, and Gen'l Negley not only gave the picture to THE PRESS, but wrote the legend of it for publication in these columns.

Will They Give Their Missions an Excursion?

A meeting of the teachers of the Crescent Avenue Sunday school, was held last evening, to consider the matter of an excursion for their own school and those of the Bethel and Hope missions. A quorum not being present, no action was taken, although the subject was discussed freely. Two years ago the teachers voted against having an excursion for the home school, but having considered the advisability of supporting the missions in their yearly outing, the vote of some will be changed. The meeting and the matter were adjourned for one week.

Captain Wm. Hand Honored.

Captain William Hand. C. H. Rugg, Albert Runyon, John Goodman and T. O. Doane, were Plainfield's veterans who were present at the reunion of the Second New Jersey Brigade, at Newark, yesterday. Mayor Haynes made the speech of welcome, which was responded to by Gen'l Rusling. Gov. Abbett, Gen'l Sickels, Gen'l Carr, Gen'l Grubb and Col. Sewell were among the distinguished guests present.

Capt. Hand was elected one of the Vice Presidents of the Association.

News by Way of Newark.

On next Tuesday, at the Roseville Athletic grounds, says the Daily Advertiser, of Newark, a "match game of cricket will be played between the Plainfield Athletic Club and the Newark Cricket Club. Yesterday Captain Williams had his men out on the ground, and they showed up in very good form, and as the Plainfield men are good players, the lovers of the game in this city may expect to see a rattling match."

State Sunday School Association.

The midsummer Convention of the New Jersey Sunday School Association opened in Educational Hall, Asbury Park, yesterday About 150 delegates were present from all parts of the State. President Carlton M. Williams of Camden, delivered the address of welcome. The devotional exercises with which the Convention opened, were conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. K. Manning, pastor of the Baptist church at Red Bank. An address on "Expository Teaching" was delivered by the Rev. Wellington E. Leucks, of the Presbyterian church of Camden. The Rev. C. B. Mitchell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Plainfield, spoke on "The Mutual Relation of the Church and Sabbath School."

Carey Must Pay His Fare or Walk.

The New Jersey Central Railroad officials have authorized one of their detectives to take up ex-Captain Carey's pass over the road, as it is not thought likely that he will ever be in an official position to need one again. The detective in question came to Plainfield yesterday for the purpose of getting the pass, but the ex-Captain was not at home.

The railroad officials have heretofore refused to issue a pass to Captain Grant, so long as Carey held one, yet the city jail has been at all times open for the reception of coal train jumpers and other prisoners who have committed depredations on the railroad property.

Reduced Rates for the Fourth of July on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In pursuance of its usual liberal policy the Pennsylvania Railroad company will this year sell excursion tickets for the Fourth of July holidays between all stations on its lines at reduced rates. The tickets will be sold on July 3 and 4, valid to return until July 7, 1890. This reduction in rates does not apply to tickets sold between New York and Philadelphia, nor New York and Philadelphia and Baltimore and Washington. By the use of these tickets one can make a very pleasant holiday trip at small cost.

Now for a W. C. T. U. Building.

The fine corner lot with 50 feet front on Park avenue and 175 feet in depth on Sixth street, has been purchased by the W. C. T. U. of this city.

The lot is a part of the Murray-Compton property, and is on the North corner of Park avenue and Sixth street. A building especially designed as a home for the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and for its purposes, will be begun on the location within six months.

The Size of It.

It has naturally become the general opinion of the people of this city—an opinion shared even by some of the people of Somerville—that the West End ball team of that place is afraid to play the Crescent League team of this city.

That's about the size of it; and all claims on the part of Somerville's papers, that they wont play because THE PRESS "talks about them," deceive nobody.

Reunion of the Alumni.

It is intended to make the forthcoming reception to the High School graduates a sort of a reunion of the Alumni, and it is desired that as many of the Alumni as conveniently can will attend. Tickets of admission can be obtained from the committee at the High School.

Transfer of Real Estate.

James A. Fussell and wife of Brooklyn, yesterday transferred to Charles N. Flanders of Scotch Plains, two tracts of land in Westfield Township, on road leading from Scotch Plains to Rahway, for $1,500.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

The Men Whom Carey Ordered Handcuffed, Not Guilty.

In the Union County Court of Special Sessions, held at Elizabeth, yesterday, Charles Ramsberger and Bernard Egel were placed on trial for larceny. The case has excited much interest in this city where the parties all reside. The complaining witness was Mr. A. L. Cadmus, the miller, and he alleges that grain and flour were taken out in bags and packages from his mills by Egel in excess of orders, and that Ramsberger, the miller, was in league with the driver and that the flour and grain was sold and the proceeds pocketed. Mr. R. V. Lindabury, Mr. Joseph C. Garrison and Hon. Foster M. Voorhees are counsel for the defendants.

The jury in the above case went out this afternoon, and after deliberating for ten minutes returned a verdict of not guilty. Both Egel and Ramsberger were discharged.

A New Church Organized.

The Emmanuel Baptist Mission of which the Rev. J. W. Mitchell is pastor, met Tuesday evening, the 17th instant and organized themselves into a regular Baptist church. The Rev. Mr. Mitchell was chosen moderator. The articles of faith as set forth in Hiscox manuel were read and adopted and the church covenant was read. After which it was Resolved, That we now declare ourselves a regular Baptist church to be know as the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Christ.

Mr. Mitchell was chosen as the pastor.

The following were elected: Trustees—Arthur Wyckoff, Theo. Bounds, Robert Randolph, Alfred Atkins and W. R. Connett. Church Clerk—Charles Vanderveer. Financial Secretary—James Connett.

No Tidings from the Runaway Couple.

And as yet no tidings have been received from the missing couple, Laura Robinson and William McQuay, who suddenly left the city on Monday morning. Laura's mother, it is said has blood in her eye for McQuay, and his return to Plainfield would in all probability lead to trouble.

The couple, it is reported, took the four o'clock boat for Boston on Monday afternoon.

Changes in Borough Realty.

Within the past few days real estate has changed hands in North Plainfield as follows:

Administrator of George Townley, deceased, to Bryan R. Cain, property in North Plainfield, $550.

Ann and Samuel Hedden to Daniel C. Adams, property in North Plainfield, $250.

Wm. Gould to Ernest C. Kieb, property in North Plainfield, $2,850.

Isaac Scribner et ux to Edward P. Gavin, property in North Plainfield, $450.

Thief Arrested.

The news was received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heart-felt gratitude. Chilliness, cold extremities, depressed spirits and extremely miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists.

CHOLERA IN SPAIN

Several New Cases Reported at Puebla de Rugat.

THE PARIS BOURSE DEPRESSED.

Constantinople Has Established a Quarantine Against All Spanish Vessels.

How It Might Come Here—Surgeon-General Hamilton Says We Are Safe for the Present—Precautions Taken Should it Become Epidemic in Spain—Sanitary Inspectors on Guard.

MADRID, June 19.—The death rate in the cholera district is increasing. Four deaths are reported at Malaga and deaths have occurred at Albaida, Castello, Carcajente and Jativa. Thirteen deaths from cholera occurred at Puebla de Rugat, Valencia, yesterday.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 19.—In consequence of an outbreak of cholera in Spain the Government has established a quarantine against all vessels arriving from Spanish ports.

PARIS, June 19.—The Bourse was depressed owing to fears that the cholera now prevailing in several places in the province of Valencia, Spain, will extend and reach this country, and doubt as to the amount of the French loan.

LONDON, June 19.—Portugal and Italy have taken precautions to exclude cholera.

HOW IT MIGHT COME HERE.

Surgeon-General Hamilton's Inspectors on Watch for the Scourge.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Supervising Surgeon-General John B. Hamilton, when asked how serious the outbreak of cholera in Southern Spain was likely to be and what the chances were of its spreading beyond its present confines, replied:

"The indications are that it is the real Asiatic article that has made its appearance in Southern Spain. The locality is one subject to such visitations, as was the case in 1885. The cholera is liable at any time to enter Europe via the Spanish peninsula, and it is generally taken there from Tunis or Tripoli.

"Should it become epidemic in Spain there are two channels of communication by which it might reach us—through the continental routes and via Cuba. The latter is the more dangerous, for there are several lines of steamers constantly plying between Cuba and Spanish ports. We keep two sanitary inspectors in Havana to look out for just such a contingency. Their duties are to notify me promptly of the outbreak of an epidemic in Cuba; to inspect passengers on ships bound for ports in the United States; to see that no infected baggage or cargo is shipped for American ports, and when necessary to fumigate ships that have American destinations. Should the cholera appear at Havana and gain any foothold, they would notify me at once by cable to that effect, and extraordinary precautions would be immediately adopted to prevent the entrance of the scourge from that source.

"I have no fear that it will gain a foothold in France, even should it do so in Spain. The French sanitary system is excellent and the frontier between the two countries would be closely watched, trains would be inspected, passengers examined and quarantined and the baggage and merchandise thoroughly fumigated. We can feel that we are quite safe for the present."

MUST FIGHT FOR FRANCE.

Englishmen Born on French Soil Subject to Military Duty.

LONDON, June 19.—The insistance of France that resident British subjects of the second generation in that country shall be subject to military duty, although slight in itself, is the cause of irritation between England and France.

Some of them settled there ever since Waterloo, and still claim to be British subjects, and the sudden drafting of the sons and grandsons into the uncomfortable existence of a French conscript has shaken up the exiles tremendously.

Hopes for Erin's Future.

LONDON, June 19.—Cardinal Manning, replying to the address presented by the Irish members of Parliament, said he had hopes for the future of Ireland and believed that they would be realized at no distant day. He had not liked Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule bill, though he had not opposed it, but he had rejoiced in the Liberal Premier's Land bill, remembering, as he did, how for many years England had drained Ireland.

Hope for the Duchess of Fife.

LONDON, June 19.—The Princess of Wales is at the bedside of her daughter, the Duchess of Fife, and the Queen will arrive there on Saturday. The Duchess is doing well and her physicians believe that the chances of her relapsing into a dangerous condition are very remote.

English Radicals Furious.

LONDON, June 19.—Mr. John Morley, in a conversation on the subject of the agreement with Germany, said he regarded it as equitable, and that the Liberals would not oppose it. The Radicals, however, are furious over the cession of Heligoland.

Count Kalnoky Seriously Ill.

VIENNA, June 19.—Count Kalnoky, Minister of Foreign Affairs for the Whole Monarchy, has been attacked by a chill. His condition is serious.

Granting Laborers' Demands.

BOSTON, June 19.—Several of the Master Builders held conferences with the striking building laborers and the latter announce that in a number of instances their demands for increased pay were granted. It is stated that about five hundred men will return to work at once.

Forty Thrown Into the Water.

HOBOKEN, N. J., June 19.—A section of the bridge leading from the sea wall in front of Hudson Square Park to the free baths, gave way last night and precipitated about forty persons into the water beneath. They were rescued, however, without serious injury, as far as known.

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

CENSUS COMPLAINTS

The Incompleteness of the Returns is Causing Trouble.

CHICAGO BADLY DISAPPOINTED.

Running a Race With Philadelphia and Whole Blocks Missed.

St. Louis Preparing for Another Enumeration—Albany Citizens Indignant and Threaten to Arrest the Enumerators—Mayor Manning Orders a Police Count—Buffalo and Rochester Dissatisfied.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The incompleteness of the census enumeration is the principal topic of conversation here. The general impression is that the enumerators employed were incompetent. This is evidenced by the fact that most of the work has to be done over again. It is probable that the returns for this city will not be in and verified before July 1, as Chicago is running a race with Philadelphia, and the local supervisor will see that time is taken to have complete returns.

There is no doubt that if the newspapers had not taken the cry up there would have been no endeavors made to rectify the errors in the lists. Many complaints came in and one paper printed a list of six thousand people who had been passed. In the thickly settled portion of the city, among the foreigners, the people looked upon the enumerators with suspicion, many of them thinking that the Government was getting a list of all the men able to bear arms, and refusing to give any information. But the complaint of scarcity of enumerators comes from every portion of the city, even in the wealthiest localities. In some places whole blocks have been missed. How so many places could be omitted is a mystery.

Supervisor Gilbert said he thought the enumerators would be through by the middle of next week, but acknowledged they would have to do livelier hustling than they have yet shown themselves capable of. According to what can be learned the population by the census returns will run slightly over 1,100,000.

ALBANY INDIGNANT.

Prominent Citizens Threaten to Ask for the Arrest of Enumerators.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 20.—There is widespread discontent here over the work and the result of the census enumeration. It is known that hundreds of families have been visited and complaints are being handed into the newspaper offices by the score. It is said the enumeration will only show about 90,000 people, the same as when taken ten years ago, while it is claimed that a police tally will show over 100,000 people.

It is threatened by prominent citizens that they will ask for the enumerators' arrest, claiming that they have not legally done their work. In one man's district eight houses, all in a row, were never visited, and in another there were five discovered at a single inquiry.

It is said that Mayor Manning will order an enumeration by the police at once, and will confront the census enumerators and supervisors with the figures.

Incomplete in Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 20.—The census enumeration in this city is plainly incomplete. Two cases in one ward in which families were wholly overlooked by census takers have been brought out, and it has been reported that no names at all were taken on Eagle street in the Third Ward, the twenty families there having been missed entirely. The names of ten persons living at 324 Troup street and 133 Jefferson avenue were reported as not having been taken, and many other cases are constantly coming to light. The suggestion has been made that the Chamber of Commerce defray the cost of an enumeration in a ward or election district as a test of the accuracy of the work of the officials.

General Dissatisfaction in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 20.—Census Supervisor Douglass of the 11th district, comprising Erie, Wyoming, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua and Allegany counties, admits that less than half the enumerators in this city have made complete returns for their districts. He says, however, that the work will be finished. There is general dissatisfaction here over the way the census has been taken.

St. Louis Rated Too Low.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 20.—Great dissatisfaction exists here over the figures turned in by the census enumerators. The population of St. Louis is 435,000, or 75,000 less than the most conservative estimate. Four special enumerators have been set to work revising districts from which come reports of neglect.

Columbus Disgusted.

COLUMBUS, O., June 20.—The taking of the census of this city is little less than a farce. The enumerators do not appear to enumerate. Whole localities have been "skipped" by careless or ignorant agents.

Left Property Worth a Million.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—The will of the late Samuel Walsh has been admitted to probate. The value of the property left will exceed $1,000,000, of which $125,000 is given to local institutions.

Canada's Cholera Precautions.

OTTAWA, June 20.—The Government has adopted every precaution to prevent the introduction into Canada of Asiatic cholera.

SCHOOL GIRLS INJURED.

A Coach Filled With Young Ladies Tumbled Down an Embankment.

READING, Pa., June 20.—A party of fifteen young ladies from the Schuylkill Seminary at Fredricksburg met with a frightful accident while on their way to the railroad station at Jonestown in a coach drawn by four horses.

Some of the harness broke, and the animals madly plunged down a 20-foot embankment, the coach and its occupants falling on top of the horses.

William Hark, the driver, was cut about the head and seriously injured, he was entangled among the horses and badly trampled.

All the ladies were seriously injured. Miss Kate L. Reed, of Mahoney City, had her nose broken, and was badly bruised about the body. Miss Laura Scanlan, of Ashland, was picked up insensible. Miss Lizzie Warner, of Fleetwood, was injured in the head and face. Miss Bomberger, of Lebanon, shoulder broken and arm injured. Miss Walborn, of Mahoney City, had her arm and shoulder hurt.

GOMPERS ACCEPTS.

He Says the Conditions are Unfair but He Will be Present.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, in reply to Mr. Powderly's letter, promises to be on hand this evening at the Cooper Union to discuss with Mr. Powderly any questions that may arise in regard to the alleged misrepresentations of the Knights of Labor by the Federation.

Mr. Gompers calls attention to the shortness of the notice he received, and points out that the conditions are not fair for him, but says he will waive all this and accept the implied challenge in Mr. Powderly's letter.

SHOT BY HIS WIFE.

A Dispute Over a Trivial Affair Leads to a Tragedy.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 20.—Dr. W. J. Hammer, a popular dentist, and his wife, of this city, had a dispute over a trivial matter. The wife called her father, who attempted to act as peacemaker.

Dr. Hammer became enraged and knocked the old gentleman down with a cane. Mrs. Hammer seized a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot her husband through the right lung, inflicting fatal injuries. The prominence of the parties adds interest to the affair.

The Evacuation of Valley Forge.

MORRISTOWN, Pa., June 20.—The evacuation of Valley Forge by Washington's army was celebrated in a fitting manner here by the Patriotic Order of Sons of America. Thousands of persons surrounded Washington's headquarters, where the exercises, consisting of addresses, recitations, music by the pupils of the Norristown public schools, the reading of two prize essays on Valley Forge, were conducted.

Trouble Over a Legacy.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 20.—Arguments were heard here in the case in which City Attorney Daley procured what is in effect an injunction restraining Mayor Peck from sanctioning the vote of the city government refusing to accept the legacy of $130,000 left by Philip Marett for the poor of the city. The injunction is intended as a step toward compelling the city to accept the legacy.

Mrs. Harrison at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, June 20.—Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee and her children arrived here last night to remain during the summer. Mrs. McKee will probably remain with her mother for three weeks. She will make several trips to the more fashionable summer resorts during the season.

An Incendiary Arrested.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 20.—John W. Logan, aged 25, an axe grinder, is under arrest charged with setting fire to his lodging house for the purpose of securing an insurance of $500 which he had placed on his effects, which were not worth $100. The evidence against him is very strong.

Held for Extradition.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—United States Commissioner Edmunds decided that F. Stevenson, of England, charged with embezzling £169 from his employers and fleeing to this country, should be held to await the arrival of extradition papers from England.

Accident to the Yantic.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The U. S. man-of war Yantic, which left here a few days ago for Portsmouth, is reported returning through the Sound. There is a rumor that she has struck a rock and is returning for repairs, but nothing definite is known.

Pay of German Army Officers.

BERLIN, June 20.—In the Reichstag the Budget Committee unanimously rejected the bill increasing the pay of army officers and civil servants.

A Woman Shot by a Saloon-Keeper.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 20.—Mrs. Dora Ritzley, of 225 Mulberry street, was shot in the shoulder by Saloon-keeper Herman Wagner, 289 High street. Mrs. Ritzley went into the saloon and asked for a pint of beer. Wagner picked up a pistol and saying, "Don't be afraid," pulled the trigger. The woman will probably die. Wagner has been arrested.

Won't Compromise With the Strikers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 20.—The officials of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have notified the striking through brakemen to call at the office and receive their pay. No overtures for a conference has been made by either side.

THE MINERS ALIVE

Strong Hopes that They Will be Rescued This Afternoon.

ENTOMBED NEARLY FOUR DAYS.

The Report that They Are Still Living Causes Great Excitement.

Over a Thousand People About the Mouth of the Pit—Priests and Physicians Ready to Meet the Imprisoned Men—The Rescuing Party Hard at Work All Morning.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 20.—The imprisoned miners have been heard from. Last night the men working in the head of the entry through which the rescuing party is working its way sent word down the entry to keep quiet. Every one did so, and in a moment "pick, pick," for a dozen times came the signal from the inside. Then the men went to work with renewed vigor.

The best authorities in the rescuing party hold that it will be after 4 o'clock to-day before the men are reached.

The news that the entombed miners had been heard from spread quickly throughout the little mining town, and in a short time the mouth of the Mahoning mine was crowded. Mine Boss Gray came up from the slope with the report that the rescuing party might reach the party at any time. This morning a thousand people were at the mine.

General Manager Hazzard said:

"You may say that there are men down in the mine alive. They have been heard from. We do not expect to reach them till 2 or 3 o'clock this afternoon. They will be taken care of. The Catholic priests are down in the mine at the present time. They say they will stay there till the opening is made. I have ordered a corps of physicians to be at hand ready for anything. We don't want to let the people know outside, because the excitement would be too great. We will reach the men."

Little Mary Smith, 8 years old, heard that the men were safe. Her father is in the mine. She came up alone, a pretty little girl. "Where is my father?" she said, as she came up to the mine barriers. "He is not out yet," said a man who stood by. The little girl burst into tears.

In the meantime the suspense is awful. People are crowding to the danger line ropes, peering anxiously at the manway.

NEARLY DEFEATED.

The Tories Come Within Four Votes of Being Beaten.

LONDON, June 20.—On going into committee on the Licensing bill the Chairman put the motion that the first clause, proposing to apply £360,000 to the purchase of licenses, stand a part of the bill. Mr. Storey, who was speaking against the clause when the debate was adjourned, did not rise to resume His speech, and as no one else spoke the division was taken, resulting in a vote of 228 for and 224 against the clause.

The tactics of the opposition in snatching a vote while the Conservatives were in scanty attendance surprised the Ministerialists, who remained during the voting in a state of panic, fearing defeat. As soon as the figures were announced there were faint Conservative cheers, which were overwhelmed by shouts of triumph from the opposition. Tom O'Connor moved to report progress. He said that the vote just obtained was equivalent to a decision of the House against the bill, and that the Government ought to have an opportunity to reconsider its position.

Mr. Smith said the opposition certainly had the advantage of the surprise (Ministerial cheers), whatever that amounted to in the House or in the country. The opposition could take the credit of it. Mr. Storey, he said, had not finished his speech when the debate was adjourned on Tuesday, and the Government had therefore thought he would continue to-night. The Government now simply proposed to proceed with business in the ordinary way.

ENDORSED BY STANLEY.

The African Agreement Calls Forth Praise from the Explorer.

LONDON, June 20.—In replying to an address presented to him at Berwick Henry M. Stanley spoke about the agreement made between Great Britain and Germany on African territorial affairs. He unqualifiedly glorified the wisdom of Lord Salisbury, which, in its exercise, had resulted in the addition of five hundred thousand miles of territory to the British Empire.

Mr. Stanley said that instead of being called upon to intone the doleful Jeremiah he could cheerfully sing a paean of praise in honor, not only of the happy outcome of Anglo-German negotiations, but of the Premier who had made the result possible.

Continuing, Mr. Stanley said that the realization of the great dream of those who had been and were engaged in the work of exploring and civilizing the African continent from the Cape of Good Hope to Cairo now became a possibility.

Young Biggar a Solicitor.

DUBLIN, June 20.—The son of the late Joseph G. Biggar has passed the necessary examination entitling him to practice as a solicitor and will immediately begin professional work in Dublin. Young Biggar also comes into possession of his father's fortune.

A Brakeman Killed.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., June 20.—Albert Hall of Port Jervis, a brakeman on the Erie, was struck on the head by a low bridge, near this city, and died soon after. The skull was completely crushed.

Thrown From a Horse.

One of the men engaged in removing the old Seventh Day Baptist church had a narrow escape from serious injury at noon, yesterday. The man attempted to mount a work horse in order to ride to the stable on East Sixth street, when he was thrown off and dragged some distance.

MR. VENINO'S PUPILS.

They Give a Remarkably Fine Recital in the Presence of a Large Audience.

Several hundred of Plainfield's most musical people gathered last evening in the Crescent Avenue chapel upon the occasion of the piano recital of the pupils of Mr. A. Venino. The exhibition was a thoroughly enjoyable one, for although the qualifications of the pupils are necessarily varied, each played only what she was able to perform well, and in no case was the execution such as would be painful to the most severe critic. Mr. Venino's success as a teacher exists partly in his building only on a firm foundation, and in the playing of each pupil could be traced the shadow, more or less heavy, of the fine execution of the master.

The opening selection was an overture for two pianos, Goldmark's Sakuntala, rendered by Misses Margaret L. Tracy, Bessie E. Titsworth, Sadiee M. Wills and Kittie C. Manning. There was probably some embarrassement, in facing for the first so large an audience, which slightly affected the beginning of the selection, but it soon wore away, and the rest was rendered in fine style. A romance, Schumann, and a serenade, Jensen, were charming selections charmingly played by Miss Margaret Tracy. Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 14, No. 2, was delightfully rendered by Miss Bessie E. Titsworth. Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 2, possibly received the most applause as it is an especial pet with all music lovers, and, while being extremely difficult, it was finely rendered by Miss Carolina B. Hart and Mr. Venino. Miss Lillian A. Force and Miss Mabel A. Maxson, who played Leschetizky's Les Deux Alouettes and Seeling's Loreley, respectively, gave great pleasure, showing considerable talent. The applause they received was most appreciative and sincere.

The performance of a Sonata of Mozart by Miss Alice Holmes and Mr. Venino, deserves especial mention. Seated at two pianos several feet apart, they played as one, and in the fugue passages one could only distinguish between the two instruments by watching the players. Miss Holmes' manner at the piano is also very pleasing. Miss Marion S. Dumont's rendition of Chaminade's Air de Ballet might be compared to Mr. Venino's performance of the same in the same room, without discredit to the latter. Miss Emily Sandford also gave pleasure with a Sonata of Beethoven, Op. 78 The Meistersingers of Nurnburg, by Misses Marion S. Dumont, Lillian A. Force, Maude Van Boskerck and Mabel A. Maxson, was well executed. It was distinctively Wagnerian, which, as you know, is "a great deal better than it sounds"

Ushers, three and four deep, were kept running with baskets and bouqets of flowers through the evening. The pianos used were the Steinway Baby Grand, recently purchased by Mr. Venino, and the new Steinway Grand belonging to the Chapel.

Taken generally or specifically, last evening's recital showed commendable results never before accomplished by any instructor of music in this city.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Mary V. Stickle of East Fifth street, is spending a few weeks at Ocean Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Moore, of Elizabeth, have taken the Fosgate house, 136 Park avenue, for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Leggett, of Madison avenue, attended the regatta of the New York Yacht Club, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Benner of Orchard place, are rejoicing over the birth of a son. The little one is a week old today.

Mr. W. L. Patton of East Ninth street, has leased a cottage at North Long Branch, where he will remove his family the latter part of next week.

Mrs. Lizzie Wilson of Somerset street, who has been absent in England for the past two months visiting her parents, has returned to her home in this city.

Those who are present at the social of the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue church, this evening, will have the extreme pleasure of hearing Miss Alice Stoddard sing.

Miss Gussie and Miss Minnie Murray will accompany their brother, President Wm. D. Murray, of the Y. M. C. A., on a ten weeks' trip to Europe. They will sail Saturday of next week, and among other places of interest will visit the Land of the Midnight Sun.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of which Mayor Charles Place is President, and City Clerk Joseph Coward is Secretary, will hold its annual meeting in the association rooms, over the City National Bank, next Monday evening. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

During the evening an address was delivered by Mr. Johnson, that was both instructive and entertaining.

Carrie E. Kirkner's Funeral.

There were solemn and impressive ceremonies enacted at the Congregational church, at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the funeral of the late Miss Carrie E. Kirkner whose remains were brought on from Dresden, Germany, where she died on May 25, took place in the presence of a large circle of the relatives and friends of the deceased. The Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the pastor, officiated and he was assisted by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church, who also made the opening prayer and pronounced the benediction.

The remarks of the Rev. Mr. Goodrich were touching and sympathetic, and at times there were few dry eyes among the mourners. The Rev. Mr. Goodrich also read the Scriptures.

Dr. Lewis in his remarks alluded to his recent European tour with Mrs. Lewis, during which he met Miss Kirkner and her party in London on the eve of his sailing for home. He spoke in eulogy of Miss Kirkner whom he characterized as a model young Christian, just merging into womanhood.

A quartette choir consisting of Mrs. J. K. Myers, Miss Alice Holmes and Messrs E. E. Runyon and Alfred Holmes rendered beautiful and appropriate music. The casket containing the remains was literally banked with choice flowers. It was hermetically sealed and the body was not therefore exposed to view.

The remains were taken to Flushing, L. I., today for interment.

The Seventh-day Baptist Church.

The work of removing the Seventh-day Baptist Church building to its new location at Madison avenue, is necessarily slow, but it is progressing favorably. The old structure, although apparently new looking, was dedicated twenty-three years ago last March. It was originally intended to build a church that would cost about $16,000, but when the edifice was completed the aggregate cost figured up to about $34,000. The lot was purchased for $1,700, but it could not be bought today for $8,000.

The old church was erected just after the close of the war, when everything, including labor and material, was high; much of the lumber used in the construction of the building costing seven cents a foot.

As soon as the old church is placed upon its new foundation, the congregation will again worship in it, and until the new church is completed. The old building will then be either rented or sold.

The auditorium in the new edifice will not be so large as the one in which the congregation have previously met for worship, but it will be so arranged that the adjoining Sunday school room can be opened up and made a part of the main auditorium. When completed the new church will be free from debt.

Verdict Against Ex-Captain Carey.

After two adjournments the case of J. B. Miller & Bro., against Tunis J. Carey to recover a balance of $25, alleged to be due on a note, came up before Justice Nash, yesterday afternoon, when Carey's counsel again asked for another adjournment, which the justice refused. Judgment was rendered in favor of the complainants for the full amount of the claim, together with interest and costs.

Counsel for the defence thereupon gave notice of an appeal.

Meeting of the Grocers.

A regular meeting of the Grocers' Protective Association was held in the office of Mr. W. A. Coddington, last evening, with President George W. Rockfellow in the chair. The early closing movement was discussed at some length, and a committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs J. A. Smith, J. F. MacDonald and A. Love, to wait upon the owner of the Boynton Beach premises and make the preliminary arrangements for the grocers annual picnic to that place.

Weekly Report of the Dog Catcher.

Dog catcher James Babbitt reports a total of twelve dogs captured by him last week, as follows: Monday, 2; Tuesday, 5; Wednesday, 3; Thursday, 2; Friday and Saturday, none. Four dogs were killed on Monday of that week, and six on Wednesday.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced, if, at the same time, the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor, and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

A PLEA FOR NEBRASKA.

The Rev. Drs. Lewis, Yerkes, Rodman and Honeyman Make Addresses.

Reform Hall was well filled last evening with an appreciative audience, to hear Professor Cornwall's plea for aid to enable Nebraska to do away with high license and adopt prohibition. Ably and eloquently did the Professor present his subject, and vividly did he picture the moral evils caused by the liquor traffic.

Professor Cornwall was followed by addresses by the Rev. Drs. Lewis, Yerkes, Rodman, and Honeyman. Judge Harper presided, and the Rev. Mr. Honeyman took charge of the devotional exercises.

Prof. Cornwall prefaced his remarks by saying he had been requested to speak the unvarnished truth about Omaha, but that he could not do that, "the facts were too awful." Like many others who originally believed in high license, he had stood for it years ago when Nebraska was the first State to institute it, but he was enlightened on that subject and was doing all in his power to create a public sentiment against it now. In Omaha they were contending with all the liquor powers of the earth, for it is acknowledged that that city exceeds anything of the kind in the United States, as regards the revelry and debauchery from midnight on. He had just visited Iowa, and learned there was not an inmate in one of the jails in 60 counties of that State. (Great Applause). If the Nebraska people fail to carry the prohibitory amendment next November, they may lose the two Dakotas. "Friends, we can take Omaha and Nebraska. Let us do it!" He received great applause throughout his stirring address of half an hour.

Dr. Lewis was introduced and spoke very effectively for the great cause of temperance. His experience in the West was similar to that of the last speaker. He spoke on the theme of high license and did not believe in it as a remedy. He said "you cannot right a wrong by giving it a legal protection," and believed total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the State, was the only remedy

Dr. Yerkes was the next speaker, and expressed his belief that the total abolition of the traffic will be the only cure. He said, "we must steer close for the port of prohibition." When anyone would show him how high license would cure the evil, he would go for it. He would not at that time discuss the method of reaching that end, but thought all would in time reach a common ground.

Ex-Dean Rodman spoke in behalf of the substantial aid needed in Omaha to carry on its warfare, as against the large sums poured in there through the saloons interests, and urged the audience to do all in their power to lend a hand in fighting that great battle.

The Rev. Mr. Honeyman said a few words on the subject of the prohibition amendment election in Nebraska as a measure of very great importance to insure future successes in the other prohibition States. He read a letter from Dr. Carroll, regretting his inability to be present.

Dr. Carroll's letter reads in substance as follows: He regretted his inability to be present and was very anxious that the State of Nebraska shall become prohibition ground. It would not only be a great gain for Nebraska herself, but for her prohibition neighbors. He had no fear but prohibition would prohibit sufficiently there and dishearten the friends of the saloon. He wished for help for that State that she may help when the day for prohibition in New Jersey comes. He enclosed a contribution for the Nebraska campaign.

Special Services at Holy Cross Church.

Next Sunday morning will occur the twenty-first anniversary of the Church of the Holy Cross and the second anniversary of the introduction of the male vested choir. The occasion will be made memorable by the use of the new grand organ for the first time in the service of the church. The instrument, which Messrs Lebagh & Kemp of New York have just completed, is expected to take the front rank among the organs of the city, and there is no doubt that it will add greatly to the already attractive service of one of the most beautiful churches in Plainfield. Mr. Neilson of Elizabeth will preside at the new organ and the choir will render an interesting and appropriate musical programme.

Plainfield Boys Who Will Go to College.

The closing exercises of Mr. Leal's school were held this morning. Nine boys delivered declamations in a manner very acceptable to the audience. After some announcements of prizes and honors, good-byes were said and books laid away for the Summer.

The following boys enter college this year from the school: To Harvard, Walter J. Moore and Eli Long, Jr.; to Yale, C. W. McGee, George H. Ryder, Walter E. Stewart, Walter F. Murray and George F. VanSlyck; to Columbia, Albert Pittis; to Stevens Institute of Technology, Chas. E. Faber; to Trinity, Frederick A. Wright.

A Vote of Thanks Tendered Mr. Coddington.

At the meeting of Franklin Council, 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. W. A. Coddington for his kindness in presenting the flag given by the Council to the Board of Education for use on the Franklin School building, Wednesday morning.

PROSPERITY TO PLAINFIELD,

Also to Netherwood and Everywhere Else in This Vicinity, Comes With the New County Roads.

Chauncey B. Ripley, through whose efforts, to a great extent, the Telford system of county roads has been put into successful operation in New Jersey, said to a New York Times reporter, that all the roads of the Union County system would be completed this year. The League of American Wheelmen has been putting the improved highways provided by Mr. Ripley and his associates to an exhaustive test, and at the annual convention of the league, held Decoration Day, the wheelmen unanimously extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Ripley for his valuable initiative work in this direction. Speaking of the general subject, in furtherance of which he has expended much time and money, Mr. Ripley said:

"A good deal has been done in the last few weeks in furtherance of the county road system in Union County. The roads designated, it is believed, will all be completed before January next, when, of course, their advantages will be better appreciated. Continuity and uniformity in our roads we found it impossible to accomplish under the old township and road district system. Now we construct continuous roads from each important town, say, Elizabeth, the extreme eastern limit of the county, to Plainfield, the most western; and from Rahway, the most southern town, to Summit, the most northern. This was not practicable under the former system, inasmuch as roads of such extent pass through several townships and many road districts, each having its own set of officers, and these officers are liable to be changed as often as once a year at the annual elections.

"Others of the county roads not yet improved are to be taken in hand. A contract has just been awarded by our Road Board for the improvement of the old Philadelphia and Newark stage road, so called, between Springfield and Plainfield. This road is, in its present condition, one of the most horrible in the county, being well-nigh impassable, and its improvement has been long urged by Freeholder Vanderbeek on behalf of the citizens of the city of Plainfield. A chief benefit is that this Springfield road intersects excellent roads in Essex County.

"Mr. Vanderbeek is a large real estate owner, and has held the offices first of Road Commissioner and then of Chosen Freeholder for Union County for the last twenty or twenty-five years, and so is well qualified to judge. It is his expressed opinion that the increase in value is not only permanent, but that when the system of county roads is fully completed the values will increase far more, and that the counties of New Jersey which are near New York will all avail themselves of our statute for improved county roads.

"Travel of every sort has increased on the county roads. For example, many drive from Plainfield or from Netherwood, or from Fanwood, to Westfield, and take their train there, when the weather is fine, instead of taking it at the place of their own residence. The Hotel Netherwood, it is said by those who know, has never been so well patronized as it is this season, many of the Summer guests having their horses and carriages with them for pleasure driving."

How She Recovered Her Valuable Gold Watch.

(From the Somerset Gazette.)

About a year ago Celia Clark of North Plainfield, missed a valuable gold watch. She could find no trace of it anywhere. A few days ago she put the matter in the hands of Justice Hardy and told him that she suspected that little boy, who is a relative of hers, had stolen the time piece. The justice met the little fellow and succeeded in obtaining a confession from him as to what disposition he had made of the watch, and yesterday at noon Mr. Hardy recovered the missing time piece.

A Large Chemical Company.

Jersey City is to have a new company established there for the manufacture of chemicals. The company is to be known as the Standard Chemical Company, and was incorporated at the Secretary of State's office, yesterday. The capital is $1,000,000. The incorporators are: Samuel W. Miller of Fanwood, N. J., Clarence Delafield, Brighton, N. Y., Eugene Harvey, Philadelphia.

Local Base Ball.

A game of base ball was played yesterday afternoon on the Cricket grounds, between the "Centrals" and the "Unknows" of this city, which resulted in the easy defeat of the "Centrals." The score 12 to 18.

The "Unknowns" are composed of a pick-up nine who stands ready at any time to give satisfaction to their colored friends.

Is the Writer in Good Health?

Some fellow has written upon a public sign in the smoking room of the railroad station the following:

"With the leven of wisdom being personal conceit, and a handle to your name, you can capture the town with all its cranks and get away with the collection."

—Picnic parties daily visit the mountain in search of wild flowers, mosses, ferns, etc.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

City Court Proceedings.

"Billy" Kenney, a man of leisure, was arrested by Officer Lynch, yesterday afternoon for creating a disturbance in Pruden's Alley. This morning he was granted a sixty days furlough at the county's expense.

Ann Sullivan, an old offender, appeared in court this morning, to answer a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Mrs. John Harding. Mrs. Sullivan was robed in a red dress, a green plaid shawl and a white straw hat. Her right optic was encircled with a mourning band. Witnesses were put on the stand to testify to Mrs. Sullivan's condition as to sobriety, yesterday, when the difficulty occurred; and although she positively declared that she had not touched liquor since Tuesday, a strong aroma of Jersey lightning hung over her. Judge Codington remarked that perhaps she had been eating mince pies. Mrs Sullivan was adjudged guilty of violating the city ordinance, and sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars, or to be committed for a period of ten days.

Closing Exercises at Dunellen.

The closing exercises of the Dunellen Public School, were held in the Presbyterian church at that place, last evening. The exercises were according to the programme published in THE PRESS yesterday, and were of a thoroughly enjoyable nature. The attendance was very large, and the programme was exceedingly well rendered throughout.

—The second grand sociable of St. Mary's T. A. B. Society in T. A. B. Hall, last evening, was an enjoyable affair. Prof. O'Reilly furnished the music for dancing, which continued until a late hour.

Is This What Ails You?

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, watery and inflamed; ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; is there sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of those symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

THE SILVER TROUBLE

Republican Leaders Discuss the Question in Caucus.

ABSENT MEMBERS SENT FOR.

Mr. Blaine's Proposition for the Abolition of Certain Duties.

Senator Quay Mentioned for Governor of Pennsylvania—The Appraisers to be Appointed Soon—Elkins Refuses to Run for Congress—Democratic Caucus Postponed.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Speaker Reed, Major McKinley, Senator Hiscock, Congressman Belden and other Republican leaders were in conference last night. As a result many Republican members out of town have been telegraphed to return to Washington at once.

Three propositions are being deliberated upon as a compromise. One provides for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of fine coin per month; still another for $4,500,000 of bullion per month. The third makes the coinage limit $4,000,000 per month, as prescribed by the present law.

There are all sorts of opinions as to the parliamentary status of the Silver bill as a result of the adoption of Mr. Mills' emasculated resolution. Speaker Reed claims that the effect of the resolution is to rescind the order sending the bill to the Coinage Committee. Journal Clerk Harry H. Smith, probably the best posted parliamentarian in Washington, also holds this view, and says there must now be a big fight to determine what shall be done with the bill.

MR. BLAINE'S SUGGESTION.

A Proposition Looking to the Abolition of Certain Duties.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Harrison transmitted to Congress a letter from Secretary Blaine upon the subject of customs union and the recommendations in respect thereof, by the Pan-American Conference.

Secretary Blaine suggests an amendment to the tariff bill authorizing the President to declare the ports of the United States free to the products of any American nation upon which export duties are charged, so long as such nation will admit free to its ports the manufactures and products of the United States.

QUAY FOR GOVERNOR.

Pennsylvania's Senator May Enter the Race to Unify the Party.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—There is a steadily growing impression among Pennsylvania Republicans here that a great surprise awaits the people at the coming State convention.

It is believed that Senator Quay has fully decided to step into the breach himself and be the candidate for Governor. It is said that he could reconcile the jagged differences that a remarkably hot canvas has developed; that he could unify the party, and that he could roll up a majority of 100,000.

The Appraisers' Board.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The appointment of the nine general appraisers provided for by the Administrative Customs bill, will be made at an early date, perhaps before the end of next week. Secretary Windom will have a conference with the President, when it is likely the selections will be made, and the names of the lucky candidates may be given to the public immediately.

Elkins Won't Run for Congress.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Hon. Stephen B. Elkins has informed Senator Gorman that his business interests are such that he could not, if he wished to do so, run for Congress in West Virginia against Congressman Wilson. Mr. Elkins says he does not want to enter official life at this time.

Democratic Caucus Postponed.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—A Democratic caucus of the House was to have been held last night to consider a plan of action regarding the new National election law. But on account of the late adjournment of the House it was postponed.

Boys Find a Rich Package.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., June 20.—While several little boys were playing in the woods near Perth they discovered a package which had been partly buried in the earth. Upon examination they saw the package contained jewelry, consisting of watches, diamond finger rings, pins and chains. The articles filled a peck measure. The package was brought to this city and placed in a vault of the Farmers' National Bank. It is believed that the jewelry, which is valued at $6,000, is a part of that stolen recently from S. D. Norton's store in Gloversville.

Herr Most Ejected.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Herr Most entered a meeting of the striking cloakmakers last night with a few of his adherents, who began to shout "Most! Most!" President Simon, of the cloakmakers' Union, asked the police to eject Most, which they did without ceremony.

The First Female Dentist.

BOSTON, June 20.—Annie Fleton Reynolds, the first woman dentist to graduate in Massachusets, received the degree of D. D. S. from the Boston Dental College. She also received the first prize for senior honors.

Children Play With a Torpedo.

HOBOKEN, N. J., June 20.—Freda Seif, Florence Eldridge and Lillie Van Varick, three children, found a railway torpedo and struck it against a stone. They are now in the hospital.

For Governor of Vermont.

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 20.—The Republican State Convention nominated Mr. Carroll S. Page for Governor. His opponent was U. A. Woodbury, the present Lieutenant-Governor.

Admiral Porter at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 20.—Admiral David Porter and Mrs. Porter have arrived at their cottage at Jamestown for the season. The Admiral is in excellent health.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat-!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A CARD.

Before deciding to sell out, I had placed large orders for Spring and Summer goods which the makers hold me to, and are sending to me. Among the rest I have just received 500 pairs of fine Hand Sewed Ladies' Button Boots—both in C. S. and Opera styles, from one of the most celebrated Philadelphia city makers, which I will place in my sale, namely:

$4 00 Hand Sewed Grade, $2 50; $2 75 grade, $2 00; $2 50 grade, $1 75; $2 00 grade, $1 25. All the stock at proportionate reduction.

N. B.—I do not invite you to buy a lot of old stuff—20 years or more old—but you are respectfully invited to inspect an entire new stock, all placed in my store since December 1, 1889.

Respectfully,

J. O. CAMPBELL,

TERRIBLE CYCLONE

Awful Loss of Life in Several Illinois Towns.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE INJURED,

A School-House Wrecked and Eight Persons Instantly Killed.

A Number of Houses and Barns Demolished—The Little Town of Paw Paw Destroyed—Seventeen Lives Reported Lost—The News of the Disaster Brought by a Courier.

EARLVILLE, Ill., June 21.—A terrible cyclone and cloud-burst occurred about five miles north of this city, which resulted in awful loss of life and property, no less than fifteen people being killed and a number of houses and barns demolished.

The storm came from the southwest and swooped down on Fields' schoolhouse, a new building standing at the Four Corners, and tore it to pieces.

At the time there were but eight persons in the schoolroom and all were instantly killed. Their bodies were carried some distance and fearfully bruised and crushed.

The names of those who perished in the schoolhouse, so far as known, are: Miss Maggie McBride, the teacher; Edna Hunt, Jennie Radkey, Minnie Berry, Ada Rudolph, Lena Prentiss, Carrie White. Peter Reams, an old broom peddler, was driving near the schoolhouse when the cyclone struck it, and he too was caught up, carried some distance and flung lifeless into a hedge. His team was carried away.

SEVENTEEN KILLED.

The Little Town of Paw Paw Destroyed by a Cyclone.

DIXON, Ill., June 21.—A cyclone swept over the little town of Paw Paw, in Lee County, last evening, destroying it and killing 17 people.

All the wires are down between Amboy and Paw Paw, so that telegraphic communication is impossible; but the news of the disaster was brought in by a courier, who rode with all speed to this place for physicians to take care of the wounded. The courier says the town of Paw Paw was swept from the face of the earth. Scores were wounded by the flying timbers, and many will die of their injuries.

THE SILVER FIGHT.

The Free Coinage Men in the House Hold the Lead.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The silver men in the House repeated their victory of the previous day, but with reduced majorities, owing to the weakening of their lines by Mutchler, Kerr and Maish, of Pennsylvania, who disappeared. The battle was resumed at the outset of the session with Major McKinley calling for a vote on Mr. Mills' motion for the approval of the journal as amended, which carried with it that the Silver bill was not referred to the Coinage Committee.

On this vote there was a narrow majority of two for the silver men, six Republicans voting with the Democrats.

Two votes were taken on collateral motions, when the question came down to Mills' original motion for approval or disapproval. The silver men still retained their majority of two.

The Speaker then directed that the journal should be read at length, which painful operation was then gone through with.

The anti-silver men then began upon a course of filibustering tactics of preventing the conference report upon the anti-trust bill for the apparent purpose of obtaining a delay in order to secure the attendance of absentees.

The ayes and nays were then ordered upon a motion to take up the conference report amid considerable excitement.

The motion to take up the conference report passed by a vote of 144 to 103, and thus silver is set aside for the time being at least.

Getting Ready for Poachers.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 21.—The revenue cutter Corwin has just arrived at this port on its way to Behring Sea, where it will assist the revenue cutters Bear and Rush in protecting the seal fisheries. The Bear left for the sea about two weeks ago, and the Rush is at present at Seattle awaiting orders. The Cofwin will await orders here. There is no doubt but that the British and American sealers will endeavor to poach in the forbidden waters, and evade the cutters.

A Burglar Escapes Punishment.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The young ex-convict, David Barrett, who rescued a boy eight years old from drowning at the risk of his own life, was arraigned before Judge Martine on his plea of guilty to burglary. In consideration of his courageous act, his youth, and a number of letters from persons interested in his behalf, sentence was suspended.

Weavers to Stop Mills on Saturdays.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 21.—The labor organizations of the city are discussing the advisability of beginning a united movement with a view to compelling mill superintendents to stop the mill machinery on Saturdays for cleaning purposes. The help complain that they are now compelled to clean during the noon hour on that day.

United Workmen Reject a Proposal.

BOSTON, June 21.—The United Workmen considered the proposal to exclude persons over 45 years of age from membership and it was rejected.

COLORED LABORERS.

White Men in Jersey Are Aroused Over Their Employment.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., June 21.—There is some little excitement in this city over the discharge of men in a section gang on the Amboy division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, whose places were filled by colored men.

It was alleged at first that these men refused to work with a colored man named Williams, which the discharged men say is not so. The old hands allege that W. P. Lewis, the section boss, stated to them that they were not worthy to work with colored men, and when he hired Williams they refused to work. They are about to lay the matter before W. N. Barnard, superintendent of the division, asking to have the matter investigated.

COLLEGE CONTESTS.

The Yale-Harvard University Race to be Rowed on Friday.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—Both Cornell crews and the Pennsylvania crews arrived here last night. The big race—the Yale and Harvard University—four miles straight-away, will be rowed between 5 and 7 o'clock on Friday, the 27th.

Yale has an average crew and is doing effective work. The men fully realize that Harvard has an unusually strong and well trained crew and that to win Yale must work very hard. The date for the Cornell-Pennsylvania-Columbia University race is not yet decided upon. It will probably take place Saturday, the 28th.

Inspector of High Schools.

KINGSTON, N. Y., June 21.—Professor Francis Z. Cheney, for ten years principal of the Kingston Academy, has been appointed Inspector of High Schools and Academies of the State by the Board of Regents, and has accepted the position. Mr. Cheney will take up his residence at Albany and commence his new duties on September 1st. The position is a new one having just been established.

No Epidemics Feared.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The medical department of the War Department does not think there is any danger from yellow fever or cholera in this country. Talking about the matter, Major Greenleaf, assistant surgeon-general of the department, says he is of the opinion that there is little or no danger of yellow fever or cholera entering this country, and he does not entertain any fears on the subject.

Two Men Killed on the Rail.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 21.—William McLaughlin, of West Conshohocken, was killed at noon by a down express train while walking on the tracks of the main line of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. Thomas Doran, a section hand who lived at Merion, was found mangled on the Philadelphia & Reading tracks above Bridgeport, shortly after midnight, soon after being run over. He had been intoxicated.

A Mysterious Suicide.

BOSTON, June 21.—Samuel B. Somerby, aged 37, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear, at his home, No. 138 Westchester Park. He was a son of the late Augustus B. Somerby, one of the best known criminal lawyers in this city a dozen years ago. The relatives of the deceased and the doctor in attendance refuse to say anything about the case, but the medical examiner was sent for.

Killed by a Sliver of Wood.

NEW YORK, June 21.—John Hiller, aged 40 years, met a strange death in the planing mill No. 310 Eleventh avenue where he was employed. He was near a circular saw which was in operation. A sliver of wood was whirled off the wood being cut and it passed through Hiller's neck like an arrow, severing the jugular vein. Hilier only lived a few minutes.

Fire Caused by an Exploding Lamp.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The Russell homestead at New Rochelle, N. Y., was destroyed by fire at an early hour. Mr. and Mrs. Delaney, who were in the house, were badly burned when rescued by neighbors. Mr. Delaney died a few hours after and Mrs. Delaney will not live more than 24 hours. The fire was caused by an exploding lamp.

Small-Pox Spreading.

SEARSPORT, Me., June 21.—The small-pox is spreading gradually and six persons are now in the pest house with the disease. Some of them have varioloid. The local board of health resigned and a new one has been appointed. The schools, churches, etc., have been closed and the excitement is becoming intense.

Desperate Fight With a Burglar.

CAMDEN, N. J., June 21.—Burglars were discovered at work in the Woodbury Postoffice at 3 a. m. The police and the robbers exchanged shots. Chief of Police Cattell and Policeman Dubois overhauled one of the burglars. After a fierce struggle they overpowered him. He was locked up and refused to give his name.

The Imprisoned Miners.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 21.—The rescuing party are working bravely, but now almost hopelessly, for the men who have been imprisoned so many hours. No more sounds from the other side of the thick wall which separates the prisoners from the outer world have been heard.

Will Strike for Nine Hours.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 21.—The Carpenters and Joiners' Union voted last night to strike Monday morning for nine hours a day and eight hours Saturday with no reduction in pay.

POWDERLY'S POINTS

He Addresses a Big Meeting of Knights in New York.

MR. GOMPERS WAS NOT PRESENT

The American Federation of Labor Denounced and War Declared.

An Attempt to Stampede the Meeting. The Eight-Hour Movement Reviewed. Powderly Willing to Resign if His Friends Desire It—The Knights Will Resent All Attacks in Future.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The prospect of hearing an exchange of civilities between Messrs. Powderly and Gompers attracted a large crowd to the Cooper Union last night. Many were unable to gain entrance.

President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, was not present. He sent his respects, however, in a very strong letter, which was afterward read.

The Executive Board, K. of L., appeared on the platform at 8 o'clock. Mr. Powderly introduced George Warner, of L. A. 213, as chairman. Alexander Wright, of the Executive Board, was the first speaker. After briefly explaining the object of the meeting, namely, to discuss the false accusations made against the Knights by the Federation of Labor, he introduced Mr. Powderly, who was greeted with loud applause.

Mr. Powderly said he regretted the necessity of this meeting. After reading Mr. Gompers' recently published letter, he invited Mr. Warner to take the platform. Mr. Warner said the Board, after considering the letter, had decided that as this was a regular meeting called for a specific purpose, it would not be proper to adopt Mr. Gompers' suggestion to give that gentleman half the time of the meeting for a purpose not contemplated in the call.

200 Men Leave the Hall.

At this point a body of about 200 men rose as if by prearrangement and left the hall. Mr. Powderly said: "All who desire to leave will please do so now, as there are hundreds outside who cannot get in." This pertinent and palpably true statement was received with great cheering, and the effort of the seceders to break up the meeting fell flat. In a moment the hall was packed as full as before. When quiet was restored Mr. Powderly addressed the meeting. He referred to certain insinuations made against the management of the Knights. He denied that he was in 1886 opposed to the eight-hour principles. He was opposed, however, to certain methods of conducting the eight-hour movement. He believed in practical measures. [A voice.] "Geese and serpents hiss; we are fighting them right along," said the speaker. [A voice: "We are working people here."] "Here, too," rejoined Mr. Powderly; "it is a principle of our order that the man who works with his brain or his jaw is a laborer as well as he who works with his hands." [Applause.]

The Eight-Hour Movement.

Mr. Powderly then read documents showing that the Knights were the first to suggest the eight-hour principle. At the St. Louis convention they fixed May 1, 1890, as the date for it. "This being so, how could thirty-eight men speak for the whole crowd?" asked Mr. Powderly. There was deafening applause at this reference to the Federation. Mr. Powderly, referring to the future policy of the Knights, said they would continue, in the eight-hour movement, to help those who are willing to help themselves.

He then went into an analysis of the statements of membership of the Federation, and asserted that the large apparent membership was made up by claiming Knights of Labor as members of the Federation.

Cause of the Present Trouble.

Mr. Powderly spoke of differences of method between the two organizations. He said the first trouble between them occurred when the Knights succeeded in having the wages of cigarmakers increased. The man who headed the Shoemakers' Union was little better than a lunatic, and the Knights had to expel him. Mr. Powderly declared that all workingmen should stand together. He was ready to resign in favor of Mr. Gompers if the workingmen would unite under him as a leader. "I know as well how to follow as to lead. [Applause.] The Knights have long borne insult and misrepresentations in silence. Hereafter, as a part of their duty to labor, they will resent insult and strike back when attacked." [Great applause.]

Powderly's Peroration.

Mr. Powderly spoke for two hours to show that the Knights were always consistent, and concluded, after an eloquent peroration regarding the work of the Knights, as follows:

"The time has come when we have borne our last insult in silence. From this time we will seek no quarrels, but"—

He advanced to the front of the platform and continued: "When the snarling cur snaps at our heels then our weapon, whatever it may be, shall strike that snarling cur from the ranks of honest labor." [Loud and continued cheering.]

Killed While Driving a Hay Rake.

NEW HAVEN, June 21.—Miss Idalene M. Frisbie, daughter of Division Superintendent Frisbie of the Illinois Centre Railroad, was killed at Mt. Carmel where she was on a visit. She was driving a hay rake in the field when she was thrown from the seat and fell under the horses, her skull being fractured. She was 23 years of age.

$2,000 Worth of Scenery for Music Hall.

Upon authority of the Board of Directors, Stage Manager Mattox has just purchased a large assortment of new scenery for Music Hall. It was originally built and painted for Jacobs' theatre, Newark, but as that has been torn down Mr. Mattox was able to secure the lot at a bargain.

A great many set pieces, such as the Hall has long needed, are included in the purchase—in fact, everything of the sort from flower pots and rocks, to statues and a full size railroad locomotive. In the new scenery are three street sets, a gothic church, and a large number of interiors and exteriors particularly artistic and rich in color. A rocky mountain pass with waterfall, is one of many handsome specimens of scene painting that have been secured for next season. An exhibition of the new scenery by gaslight, will be arranged in a few days for the inspection of the Directors.

Injured in a Runaway Accident.

In a runaway accident on Park avenue near the railroad bridge, at noon today, L. Roberts of Putnam avenue, was thrown from the wagon, and badly cut about the head. The horse became frightened at a passing locomotive and jumping to one side of the road, the wagon struck the end of a drain pipe throwing Mr. Roberts out The injured man was taken home in a hack.

The horse, badly cut, came into the Smock farm at Evona, about 12:30 o'clock. It had a part of the harness on but not a remnant of the wagon. It was caught, stabled and its cuts washed.

Miss Place, Miss Dewey and Miss Stoddard, Favor.

A sociable under the auspices of the Young People's Association, was held in the Crescent Avenue chapel, last evening. The programme was entirely musical, and consisted of a piano solo by Miss Stella Place, which received a recall; instrumental duetts by Miss Dewey and Miss Place; and solos by Miss Alice Stoddard of New York, who gave such pleasure at the recent concert in the chapel. Among her songs were: "A Summer Night, "Old Madrid" and "Tying her bonnet."

The Right Sort.

A time-serving merchant is one, as a rule,
That censors and moralists set on,
But those who have purchased at Collier's remark—
"He served you with fine you can bet on."

Probasco; for spelling, by John W. Murray, and for languages by Ernest R. Ackerman. The Rev. John B. VanMeter, D. D., formerly pastor of the M. E. church of this city, and now Professor in the Woman's College, at Baltimore, will deliver the address. Orchestral music, as usual, by the New York Seventh Regt. Band.

The reception in the evening in the High School building, by the classes of '88 and '89 to the class of '90, has already been spoken of in these columns. It is proposed to make the occasion also an alumni reunion. During the evening in the Senior Class room, an exhibition will be made of school work and a display of the entire school system including sample charts, maps, etc.

Complimented By Their Grand Officers.

Wetumpka Lodge, 3401, Knights of Honor, met in their rooms, Thursday evening, and enjoyed one of the most successful meetings that the Lodge has had. The Grand Officers were present and assisted in the initiation of seven candidates. Six applications were laid over for initiation, July 3, and twelve new applications were received.

The Grand Officers complimented the Lodge upon its flourishing condition as to membership and finances. The delegation consisted of Grand Dictator Hawthorn, Grand Vice Dictator Jones and Grand Reporter Mayheer.

P. D., C. J. Feytel, presented Wetumpka with an elegant frame for the charter of the Lodge. P. D., F. P. Haffner, also presented the Lodge with an elegant spread eagle and stand of colors for the decoration of its charter. Wetumpka has a handsome balance in the treasury and is in a flourishing financial condition.

A Public Initiation and Entertainment.

A public initiation and entertainment was given by the Amateur Dramatic Association of Protection Lodge, No. 28, I. O. O. F., of Newark, in Amphion Hall, last evening, for the benefit of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O O. F., of this city. The attendance was not so large as was anticipated, but the exercises were nevertheless of an interesting nature.

The programme opened with an overture by Prof. Keene's orchestra followed by a song by Miss Maud Carter. Then came the so called exposition of the secret work of initiating a candidate, which was interspersed with music especially arranged for the occasion. The initiating exercises were very amusing, and kept the audience convulsed with laughter.

After another song by Miss Carter the entertainment came to an end. The members of the Newark Lodge suppered at the City Hotel.

Captain Grant Had His Hands Full.

Mrs. Ann Sullivan of South Second street, who was fined five dollars by City Judge Codington, yesterday, for creating a disturbance, was taken to Elizabeth during the afternoon to serve out a ten day's sentence, being unable to pay the fine. On the way down in the cars, the woman caused Captain Grant no little trouble, but when they reached Elizabeth she fought like a tiger, and the officer was obliged to drag her through the streets in order to get her to the county jail.

A Small Fire.

The roof on Kenyon's machine shop was discovered to be on fire about 9:30 o'clock this morning, by some street laborers who were working near by. The flames were extinguished with a few pails of water.

Stop That!

Mrs. John Barrett while walking along the sidewalk on East Front street, this morning, narrowly escaped being knocked down by a young man on a bicycle.

Tandem Parade.

Weather permitting, the tandem owners of Plainfield will meet at Franklin Square, this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, and have their first annual parade.

A FATAL RACE.

Many Homers Lost, But "Baby McKee" Arrives in Safety.

About 500 homing pigeons were liberated Thursday to compete for records and prizes in the third of the concourse races from 400 miles. The birds flew to this city, Philadelphia, New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Keyport, N. J.; Peekskill, N. Y., and Providence; the liberating points being Lexington, N. C., Rocky Mount, Va., Bedford City, Va., and Warrentown, Va. All, with the exception of the birds at Rocky Mount were liberated at 6 A. M. The atmospheric conditions were fair and the wind from the West or Northwest. The birds at Rocky Mount which included the Plainfield entries, were started at 5:40, wind variable and weather clear.

All day long the birds were watched for, but none returned to this city until the next morning. At five o'clock A. M., yesterday, a bird of James Ingram's came in, followed during the morning by birds of Charles Faber, Hervey Doane and "Baby McKee" of THE PRESS news service. The fly was probably one of the most disastrous ever recorded. Wind and everything else were against the birds, and possibly 300 of them are lost. But few are reported home in Philadelphia, New York and Newark, and the Plainfield owners all have birds missing. Dr. Johnson, of Keyport, who had a bird home at 6:09 P. M, of Thursday, wins the race, but loses the special prize of $50 because he neglected to mark one of his birds "special," and that was the one that got home.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Misses Smith, of Elizabeth, are the guests of Mrs. James H. Moore, of Park avenue.

Stephen McIntyre is lying dangerously ill at his home on North avenue, from the effects of a severe hemorrhage.

It is stated authoritatively that Gov. Abbett will not sign the Race-Track bill. If it is not signed today it will die a natural death.

Alfred Holmes, a High School graduate of '89, has successfully and unconditionally passed his examination for Princeton College.

Louis, the four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Nestor of Pearl street, North Plainfield, died on Thursday night from cholera infantum.

A meeting of the newly appointed committees of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this afternoon and evening, at the home of President Murray, Eighth street and Central avenue.

Charles Johnson, a brother of Benjamin Johnson, who is the porter in the City Pharmacy, died at his home in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, aged 51 years. The funeral took place at two o'clock this afternoon with Masonic honors.

The remains of the late Albert Ruttkay, formerly of this city, who died at Houston, Texas, in November, 1888, arrived in this city on Friday, and today they were interred in Evergreen cemetery. During the past year and a half the body has been in a vault at Houston.

The funeral of the late Albert Vanderweg, who died on Tuesday, took place from his late home on Elm street, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. W. R. Richards officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham. Interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield.

Election of Officers.

At a regular meeting of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F, held on Thursday evening, the following officers were elected:

C P.—William L. Jamison.
H. P.—Frank P. Storr.
S. W.—John H. Williams.
R. S.—Lewis R. Blackford.
J. W.—Joseph Kingston.

At a regular convention of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., held last night, the following were elected to fill the various offices for the ensuing term:

Chancellor Commander—Lewis DeCamp.
Vice Chancellor—M. L. Barick.
Prelate—C. Jones.
Master of Exchequer—B. B. Force.
Master-at-Arms—Thomas Osment.
Trustee, 18 months—D. N. Force.

Grand Vice Chancellor Ulrich and staff will install the officers elect early in July.

Additional Testimony Taken in the Hand-Runyon Case.

The case of Charles Hand vs. Daniel J. Runyon et als, was resumed before Special Master in Chancery John H. Van Winkle, at his office in this city, yesterday afternoon. Jackson & Codington and George A. Sterns of New York, appeared for the complainant, and Chandler W. Riker of Newark, represented the defendants. Stenogrdpher Harry C. Runyon reported the case.

Daniel J. Runyon, Mrs. Josephine M. Randolph, Mrs. Mary E VanWinkle and Mrs. Fannie L. Everitt, testified for the defence. Wm. A. Woodruff, Francis M. Bacon and W. B. Codington testified on behalf of the complainant.

The case will be argued before Advisory Master Williams at Newark, on Friday, June 27, when it is expected a final decision will be reached.

She Was Passionately Fond of Cod Fish.

The wife of a well-known Plainfield avenue resident went into Shafer's grocery store on Liberty street, last evening to make some purchases, and while there she pocketed half of a cod fish. Officer Laine subsequently recovered the fish from a closet in the woman's kitchen. No complaint was lodged against her on account of the respectability of her family.

To Sue the Electric Light Company.

John Chandler, the contractor and builder of East Third street, is about to bring suit against the Plainfield Electric Light Company, to recover the value of his trotting horse "Rambo," whose death was caused by coming in contact with a "live wire," on Crescent avenue, while the animal was on the way home from the race track, a few weeks ago. Mr. Chandler says the company made him an offer which he refused, and since then the company has done nothing further in the matter.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

"Nothing Will Tempt Any Of Us."

The following to a Rahway paper shows how dear Plainfield is to its ball nine:

NEWARK, N. J., June 18th, 1890.

Editor Rahway Democrat:

I noticed in last week's Advocate an article insinuating that I was responsible for the desertion of McIndoe from the Rahway club to the Crescents, of Plainfield. Now I have a great many friends in Rahway which I esteem very highly, and by no act of mine would I injure my standing in their eyes. I knew nothing whatever, of McIndoe's playing with Plainfield, until I saw him on the ball ground ready to play Saturday; any statement to the contrary is a falsehood made out of whole cloth. When playing in Rahway last season I was treated very nicely indeed by the people, and should —along with the rest of the m-n that left Rahway for Plainfield—have been playing there this season, but for the tight hold the management of the Rahway club held to their purse strings. I gave them every opportunity of engaging me, as far back as February, but they thought too much of the mighty dollar to do so. I will say right here, I would, at that time, have played for less money in Rahway than I am receiving in Plainfield, but now we are all playing good ball, that is appreciated by the people of Plainfield, and nothing would tempt any of us, McIndoe included, to leave the place—for Rahway or any other city. Respectfully,

J. WIEGAND.

The Society Should Uphold Its Representative.

The S. P. C. A., of this city, showed unexpected good judgment in their recent appointment of Dr. H. G. Stephenson as their Veterinary Surgeon, and in their commissioning of him to act at once in all cases of cruelty to animals that come to his notice. In skill, experience and knowledge of his profession he is not excelled in this State, and as an upright, conscientious man, and a sincere church member, he possesses the esteem of all who know him.

Certain members of the Society therefore need not expect that he can be used to carry out their personal spites, nor can he be induced to spare those that he considers guilty merely because they may be of use to such members or hold such members under obligation. Dr. Stephenson has already called attention to the great cruelty of checking a horse's head so that he stares at the sun until he is blind, suffers intense pain in the neck and is liable to stumble and severely hurt himself.

The Doctor considers the rich as guilty as the poor in any case, and he opened his righteous battle by writing to a wealthy gentleman on the subject of high-checking. THE PRESS and the New York Post told of it. Thereupon the news, which is the organ of Mr. Carey, the Treasurer of the Society, said: "Mr. Julian Scott, a prominent officer of the Society, desires us to say that the story is false." Yet the "story" is not false; but, on the other hand, as Mr. Scott has had self-respect enough to demand that his name be kept out of the news, he is probably not quoted above, and the "story" still stands without denial.

The Rev. C. L. Goodrich at Orange.

The installation of the Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Savage, of Enfiled, Mass., to the pastorate of the Orange Valley Congregational church, took place in that church Thursday evening, with a very impressive service. In the afternoon prior to the service a council of the church was called. It met at 3:30. There were thirty delegates present, both of the clergy and laity, from the churches of Northern New Jersey and New York, and Brooklyn. The Rev. Dr. A. H. Bradford, of Montclair, was appointed Moderator.

At the evening service, the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church in this city, delivered the opening prayer, and the Rev. Dr. R. R. Meredith of Brooklyn, preached the sermon.

Two New Bridges for Plainfield.

At a special meeting of the Board of Freeholders, held on Thursday afternoon, with Director J. F. Hubbard in the chair, Freeholder Vanderbeek moved to appoint a committee of five to report upon the advisability of the construction and the probable cost of building two bridges in Plainfield, one over Cedar brook, and one on Prospect avenue. The resolution was adopted.

Real Estate Transfers.

Real estate transfers have recently been made in this city, as follows:

Marie Haley, Jersey City, to Charles B. Hughes, Jersey City, 3 tracts in Plainfield, viz, on Front street, Second street and Johnson avenue and Prospect avenue, $1.

Samuel Skinner and wife of Newark, to Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, ½ acre of land on Third street, Plainfield, $3,700.

The Whole City Invited to Bound Brook.

The Bound Brook Chronicle in an editorial, yesterday, says:

The Plainfield Press regrets that no public celebration of the ever glorious Fourth of July is to take place this year in that town. The patriotic citizens of our sister city are cordially invited to come to Bound Brook and get enthused. The celebration on Washington's Camp Ground promises to be a grand affair, weather permitting.

A Scurrilous Charge.

The Democrat of Somerville adds insult to injury. Not satisfied with calling this city "Pinchgut," and its people "toughs," it further displays its vile temper by saying that it believes that the news voices the sentiments of the best people of this city."

A Proposed New Route for the Central.

In view of a rumor that the Central Railroad of New Jersey proposes to convey its passengers from Westfield, Fanwood, Netherwood, Plainfield, Evona, Dunellen, Bound Brook and Somerville over a new line, to be built from Westfield, N. J., through Newark to New York, a prominent business man, delegated by others, wrote to President J. H. Maxwell as follows:

It has been stated that passenger trains would after a while leave your main line at Westfield and reach Jersey City by way of a new line through Newark. I trust that this is mere gossip without any foundation in fact, for your patrons justly claim and loudly proclaim that one of the charms of living on the line of the Central is the delightful ride along the shore of New York bay and across Newark bay. We urge that advantage against any attraction which any other line running out of New York can present, and, speaking for many commuters, beg of you not to deprive us of that delight. If there be any possibility of such an undesirable change being made, and if a respectful remonstrance will avert it, we will send you a petition big enough to cover your walls.

President Maxwell replied as follows:

Noting yours regarding the rumored intention of this company to run its passenger traffic over a new line to Jersey City through Newark, I have to say that the report is entirely premature, and I do not see that a petition is required at this time on that subject from our patrons.

The language of Mr. Maxwell fills the commuters with doubt. They take the use of the word "premature" as an implication that the change is likely to come.

They're Afraid They'll Lose Their Ground.

From the statements of the officers of the Rahway club the Democrat of that city gleans and publishes this; "On the Saturday previous McIndoe made no statement to the manager or other officer of the club that he would not play on the following Saturday. On Wednesday the manager received a letter from him stating that he would not play with the Rahways again. Upon the advice of the officers of the club Manager Wilson went to see McIndoe, and after a conversation with him, McIndoe then told Manager Wilson that he would play on Saturday and throughout the season. Supposing this ended the matter his name was placed on the score card as usual; he did not show up, but played right field for the Plainfields. It is but justice to say that so far as the letting of any of the players go, such as had become favorites with the patrons of the game, the managers are without fault, as they could do no more than take the players' words for what they would do. As Plainfield has now one of the strongest nines in the State, made from Rahway's players, it is probable that we will have no more transactions of this character—until we demonstrate that we have some still better players. We have an elegant ground, and it may be that we will wake up some morning and find that that has gone to Plainfield too! But, we guess not, as with our increased police force we think we will be able to hold that."

A Verdict Against Mr. Smalley.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions at Elizabeth, yesterday, the trial of Justices' appeal cases was begun. The first suit was that of Samuel Smalley of this city, vs. Elias A. Hunt, appealed from the court of Justice Lambert, of Rahway.

Mr. Hunt, who was the plaintiff in the suit in the lower court, was on March 10 in possession of a farm near New Durham, under a lease. He had some trouble with his wife, and was sent to jail in Middlesex county for two weeks. During that time his goods were sold, and he found them in possession of Smalley. He made a demand and Smalley refused to surrender the goods. Hunt brought action and obtained a judgment of $200 against Smalley, who appealed. Mr. Howard McSherry was counsel for Hunt, and Judge Cowenhoven, of Middlesex county, for Smalley.

The case was given to the jury late in the afternoon, and after a short deliberation a verdict was rendered in favor of Hunt for the full amount claimed.

The Minister Finds Lessons to Learn From the Horse Tamer.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I see by the fences that Prof. Gleason is coming here. As I have repeatedly happened upon his performances in Washington and New York, if you will allow me a little space I will go out of my way for a moment to say this to the Plainfield public. Not only are these performances (and lectures) wholly unobjectionable, even to the most fastidious ladies, but they are full of interest and instruction as showing the power and sufficiency of kindness in handling horses—although at the same time thrillingly exciting. Moreover, not only may our daily runaways be possibly diminished by lessons from the professor, but other instructors of nobler animals than horses may perhaps learn choice lessons of self controling patience and manhood in the exercise of mastery.

K P. KETCHAM.

Rahway's Loss and Plainfield's Gain.

(From the Rahway Advocate.)

Mr. McIndoe, we've had enough of you.

Hello Plainfield! Are you ready for a date yet? The season is passing, so show up, or, in the parlance of the street, shut up.

No wonder the Plainfield Crescents defeated the Hackett-Carharts on Saturday, for according to the account of the game in the news, the Hacketts played without a pitcher.

"McIndoe proved a valuable acquisition to the team and caught several 'flys,'" says an account of Saturday's game in Plainfield. If half the stories are true we should say there is no question of the "valuable" part, as it is said the price paid to steal him from the Rahways was something phenomenal; as to the "flys caught" he ought to have heard what he caught from the public here for his treachery.

Ten Years in State Prison.

At Elizabeth today Judge McCormick sentenced Wm. Black, a resident of Summit to ten years in State Prison, he having been convicted for stealing a horse and buggy. Black had just been released from prison after serving out a seven years' sentence for a similar offence. He had only been out of prison for a week.

ANGRY AT AMERICA

Talk of Retaliation in the House of Commons.

OUR TARIFF BILL CONSIDERED.

A Claim that It Will Inflict Great Injury Upon British Traders.

London's New Chief of Police—Parnellites Lectured by Archbishop Walsh—Sarah Bernhardt in London—Stanley Called an Impudent Foreigner—Great Preparations to Welcome Our Riflemen.

LONDON, June 21.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Charles Howard Vincent asked whether the Government would require the United States to modify the prohibitive duties upon British products before it would make any modifications in the rules governing the importation of American cattle into Great Britain.

Sir James Ferguson said that the restrictions upon the importation of cattle into Great Britain were based solely on sanitary considerations without regard to the fiscal systems of other nations.

Mr. Vincent thereupon laid on the table of the House a notice that he would submit a motion declaring that as the proposed American tariff will inflict a great injury upon the trade of Sheffield, and upon British traders and artisans generally, the House will consider whether a free market ought to be longer given to the competing products of a foreign State which puts a prohibitory tariff upon British goods.

Mr. Vincent's notice was greeted with Conservative cheers.

Parnellites Lectured.

DUBLIN, June 21.—In a letter to the Freeman's Journal Archbishop Walsh severely lectures the absent Parnellites who saved the Government from defeat yesterday. He says that unless they can give a satisfactory explanation of their absence he will find it hard to place further trust in the Irish party.

To Welcome American Riflemen.

HAMBURG, June 21.—The Hamburg Rifle Association have made extensive preparations to welcome the American riflemen, who are coming from New York on the Hamburg-American line steamer Welland to take part in the Berlin festival.

Stanley Called a Foreigner.

LONDON, June 21.—Nearly all the newspapers praise Stanley for his remarks at Newcastle and Berwick in regard to the East African settlement. The "Chronicle" treats the explorer as a foreigner and an impudent one at that.

Bernhardt in London.

LONDON, June 21.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has arrived here. She is very pale, but is lively and in good spirits. She says she will surely appear at Her Majesty's Theatre on Monday evening next in "Jeanne d'Arc."

London's New Chief of Police.

LONDON, June 21.—Sir Edward Bradford will succeed Mr. Munro as chief police commissioner.

AN HEIRESS ABDUCTED.

Taken from a Hotel in the Presence of Over One Hundred Men.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., June 21.—A carriage stopped in front of the St. Cloud Hotel in this city and two men entered the hotel. A few moments later they returned carrying a struggling and screaming girl whom they placed in the carriage and drove rapidly away.

The house was filled with delegates to the Congressional Convention in session here and 100 men were standing in the corridors and on the sidewalk as the abductors dashed by, but no one moved.

A woman appeared at the top of the stairway and screamed to the men to stop the kidnappers, but it was too late. She was Mrs. J. E. Phillips, of Sterling, Ill., who, with her husband, came to the hotel the previous evening with their ward, Neva Cochran, the girl who was stolen.

Mrs. Phillips and the girl were in the parlor when the men seized their victim. Miss Cochran is an orphan, 16 years old and very wealthy.

Husband and Wife Hanged.

ELKO, Nev., June 21.—One of the most terrible scenes in the history of death by the noose was witnessed in the Elko jail yard, when Josiah and Elizabeth Potts were hanged for the murder of Miles Faucett. Hardened men shuddered and turned pale as they saw the woman's head nearly cut off by the rope and the blood drench her clothing, while beside her swung, in fearful contortions, the body of her husband. The Pottses have been in jail over a year for a particularly atrocious murder on New Year's Day, 1888.

Walton's Companions Acquitted.

MONTREAL, June 21.—The case of Walton, the express messenger who stole $35,000 from the Pacific Express Company in Texas, and absconded to Canada, has come to an end. Walton restored all but $8,000, and four persons were arrested here for squeezing that amount out of him. They were Jack Laird, Frank Brady, Nellie Leslie and Aggie Ashton. All four were acquitted.

A Tower for Spiritualists.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 21.—Joseph P. Hazard, a wealthy Spiritualist of South Kingstown, has contracted for the erection of a huge tower eleven stories high at Tower Hill, near Narragansett Pier. It will be dedicated to the advent of modern Spiritualism. The cost will be $30,000.

A Roadway Going Down.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 21.—The main roadway between Beaver Brook and Hazelton sunk quite a distance yesterday. It is said about two acres of ground also caved in and many houses were settled a number of feet, making them useless. No one was hurt.

Mrs. Parnell's Pension.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The President approved the act granting a pension to Mrs Parnell, mother of Charles S. Parnell.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

GUARDING A CHURCH

Militia Ordered Out by a Sheriff to Quell a Riot.

MISSILES FLEW IN A SHOWER.

A Gang of Electric Light Workmen in a Fight With Church People.

A Scuffle Between the Officers and the Crowd—Soldiers Hurry to the Scene—Armed Men Guard the Church—The Priest Urges the Men to Stand Up for Their Rights.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 23.—There was a row at Schuylerville between a gang of Electric Light Company workmen and the parishioners of the Church of Visitation (Catholic).

The church people insisted that the workmen should not set poles in front of the church, and as fast as holes were dug they filled them up.

A row ensued, but no one was fatally injured, though missiles flew in a shower. Sheriff Deyoe appeared and ordered the rioters to desist. They refused and a scuffle ensued between the sheriff, imported officers and the crowd. Sheriff Deyoe, after arresting one man, telephoned to Capt. McEwen of the 22d Separate Company of Saratoga that the services of the military were needed at once. Soon afterward the company, 66 strong, were under arms, but were informed that things were quieter but to remain in town.

The situation to-day is quiet, although 100 men with pistols and other arms guarded their church all night and day. Father Heffernan of the church urged his hearers to stand up for their rights like men. It is understood that both sides are ready for a fracas, and should the trouble be reopened it is likely the militia will be called out quickly to suppress it.

THE IMPRISONED MINERS.

They Have Not Yet Been Reached by the Rescuers.

DUNBAR, June 23.—The task of digging from the Mahoning mine into the Farm Hill heading, drags out discouragingly, but there is no flagging in the efforts of the brave men who are working night and day to remove the barriers of stone and coal.

Every one of them is imbued with the same spirit and pluck which led noble John Jenkins to labor until he sank down, fatally overcome by exhaustion.

The hope that any of the thirty-one imprisoned can yet be alive is fainter at this time, though it is still wildly held by some sore and anxious hearts.

Even if the tappings heard two days ago were really made by these men, there has been time since then for starvation to have done its terrible work.

An experienced old miner, John Monahan, one of the steady workers towards the rescue, declares that there has really been no tapping, and that it is a pity to arouse hopes in such a way.

The sounds which were heard, Monahan declares, were but pieces of slate dropping from the roof to the floor in various tunnels, as the people moved overhead and the work of digging went on underground.

Nevertheless, physicians are still at hand, and every nerve is strained for the moment when an opening shall be made into the wrecked mine.

There is a practical, but awful theory among some of the workers that, while a number of the imprisoned men are lying dead in the passages, others have got to a safe chamber, and have warded off starvation by eating meat from the bodies of the four mules which were shut in with them.

The Baccalaureate at Trinity.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 23.—Rev. Dr. Greer preached the baccalaureate sermon before the Trinity College graduates. His subject was "The Victory of the Word of God," and he spoke from the text, Revelation xix, 12-13: "And on His head was many crowns, and His name is called the Word of God." Human life, said the speaker, is capable of being made the Word of God. We should live so as to express the will of God.

Found Dead in a Bath Tub.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Chief Engineer William Robinson, of the British steamer Montana, now at this port, was found dead in his bath-tub aboard the vessel. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. Mr. Robinson was an Englishman, and was 40 years old.

Forty-Four Graduates at Allegheny.

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 23.—"The Dynamics of Human Life" was the subject taken by Dr. D. H. Wheeler, LL. D., president of Allegheny College, in his baccalaureate sermon to the students. There are 44 graduates at Allegheny this year.

Jumped to Death.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 23.—Joseph W. White, aged 47, son of the late Thomas White, city councilman, last night jumped from the roof of his house, 307 South Fremont street, and was killed. Since his father's death Mr. White has at times acted queerly.

Boston Bricklayers Take Action.

BOSTON, June 23.—The bricklayers on all buildings being erected by Harrison Bros. have notified the firm that they will take material from non-union laborers. It is thought in labor circles that this action will defeat the strike of the building laborers.

GOMPERS SPEAKS.

He Calls the Knights of Labor a Band of Organized Scabs.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The Cigarmakers' Union of Philadelphia held a mass meeting at St. George's Hall which was addressed by Mr. Gompers. He praised the Cigarmakers' Union, and then referred to Mr. Powderly's speech by saying: "I recognize the difference between straight-out labor men and storekeepers being at the head of our organization. The head should be of a distinct class, but as president of the American Federation of Labor I have said when the officers of the Knights of Labor have antagonized the movement of our plain wage earners that I had nothing to say.

"Mr. Powderly said that the Knights of Labor were the eight-hour people, when he has been trying in every way possible to break up every movement we have started.

"I am willing to go before him and his cheap labor organization (applause)—yes, go before him and his band of organized 'scabs,' and I must be excused for not accepting a challenge for a joint debate when five or six have their hands on my throat. I am willing to meet Mr. Powderly on any terms or platform, and give him satisfaction in any way he may demand."

CORBIN WILL RESIGN.

He Will Lay Down the Presidency of the Reading Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—George De Keim confirms the report that Austin Corbin would resign as president of the Reading Railroad Company in favor of A. A. McLeod, the first vice-president.

Mr. Keim is a director of the road and president of the Reading Coal and Iron Company. Mr. Corbin is now in Europe, but it is understood that his resignation was received by the board of directors, and contains a strong suggestion of Mr. McLeod as his choice of a successor.

It is probable that a special meeting of the board will be called for the early part of the week to take action on the resignation. Mr. Keim said that he knew of Mr. Corbin's intention to resign, and that the president told him of it just before sailing for Europe two weeks ago. Mr. Corbin then said: "I am going to resign the presidency of the Reading."

The Monument to Hendricks.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 23.—Preparations are complete for the unveiling of the Hendricks monument. It promises to be the most imposing event in the history of the State. Prominent Democratic clubs from the leading cities of Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri and Indiana will be here, and also Gov. Hill of New York, Gov. Campbell of Ohio, and other prominent gentlemen. Gov. Hovey will deliver the welcoming address. Senator Turpie the oration, James Whitcomb Riley the poem. Mrs. Thomas A. Hendricks, wife of the deceased Vice-President, will unveil the monument. Five hundred children are being trained to sing appropriate songs.

Found His Body in a Reservoir.

TRENTON, N. J., June 23.—Hewitt Van Marter's body was found yesterday in the water power reservoir. Van Marter, who was clerk in a pottery, had been missing since Wednesday. He was engaged to a prominent young lady, and his jealousy of her led to suicide. When found, one hand and one leg were tied together with a cord. A note found on the body directed that $25 be paid the finder of the corpse. There were also letters to his parents and those of the young lady. He was 20 years old.

Miners Moving for Higher Wages.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 23.—Threatenings of another strike are again heard in the Phillipsburg, Beech Creek, and Osceola bituminous coal districts. Meetings have been held by the miners and mine laborers relative to the adoption of a new scale of prices and better and safer labor appliances. A joint meeting is to be held in Phillipsburg on the 27th inst., when an effort will be made to adjust the growing difficulties. The present movement affects over 15,000 miners.

Mercadier's Great Swim.

NEW YORK, June 23.—"Gene" Mercadier, the young Missourian, succeeded in swimming the East River yesterday afternoon bound arms and legs and carrying in each hand a two-pound iron dumb bell. The swimmer displayed a rare pluck, a dogged gameness, for added to the difficulty of the task were adverse circumstances, and the performance is fairly entitled to class among the remarkable feats of the world.

New York City's Population.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Superintendent Murray has announced that New York city, at a rough estimate, has a population of 1,627,227. There are forty enumeration portfolios to hear from, and as these embrace districts containing institutions of all kinds, the total will likely foot up to 1,700,000, an increase of 25 per cent. since 1880.

Philadelphia Has Over 1,000,000 People.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Gen. P. B. Beath, the supervisor of the census for Philadelphia, has given out some unofficial but very interesting figures of the results of the count in the city. Gen. Beath says that, as nearly as he can guess, the population will be numbered at 1,040,449.

Killed While Sleeping on the Tracks.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 23.—Richard McGuire and Patrick Purcell, two employes of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, lay down on the tracks near Lancaster and fell asleep. A passing train struck both of them shortly after, killing Purcell and slightly injuring McGuire.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The House Ready to Discuss the New Election Bill.

A VOTE TO BE TAKEN SATURDAY

A Chance that the Silver Bill Will be Reported by the Committee.

The Senate Discusses the Bill for the Admission of Wyoming—The River and Harbor Bill Delayed—Figures on Tariff Receipts—Confirming the Rumor About the President's Declination.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The House will dissect and probably pass the new Election bill during the week. The discussion will begin immediately after the reading of the journal, and will continue until Saturday at 3 o'clock, when a vote will be taken. There is every reason to believe that the bill will be passed.

There is a chance that the Silver bill will be brought into the House this evening by the Coinage Committee and its immediate discussion demanded.

The Senate will devote some time during the week to the consideration of appropriation bills, as it is the desire of both House and Senate to get as many of these bills to the President before the close of the fiscal year—June 30—as possible.

The Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill is now on the calendar, and when it is called up for consideration the old and much-debated question of the relative rank of the representatives of the United States and the representatives of other countries at foreign courts is likely to be revived and to consume some of the time of the Senate.

The Postoffice Appropriation bill also is on the calendar, and the Indian bill and the Sundry Civil bill are likely to be reported during the week. In spite of the intention to get rid of these bills, it is altogether likely that before the end of the week a resolution will be offered and agreed to in both Houses extending the appropriations for the current fiscal year to cover the month following so as to avoid as far as possible any deficit in current and necessary appropriations.

The bill for the admission of Wyoming to the Union is the unfinished business in the Senate and, except for the intervention of appropriation bills, it will be the business discussed until it is disposed of. Following it the bill for the admission of Idaho will be called up. It was the expectation of the friends of the River and Harbor bill that that measure would be called up during the week, but Senator Frye, who is in charge of it, says that if he can get the floor for the business of the Committee on Commerce, he will call up the Shipping bill.

Thursday afternoon has been set aside by the Senate for eulogies on the late Representative Samuel Sullivan Cox of New York.

REVENUE REDUCTION.

Estimating on Receipts from Importations for the Present Year.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The clerk of the Senate Finance Committee has completed the preparation of the statement called for by the Plumb resolution adopted by the Senate, showing the increases and reductions in revenue which are estimated to follow the enactment of the Senate Tariff bill compared with the present law and the House or McKinley bill.

The importations for the fiscal year of dutiable goods (the rates on which it is proposed to change) aggregated $390,437,117.70 in value and the duties collected on these aggregated $161,408,846.49. The estimated duty on these articles (or an aggregate equal to that of the fiscal year) under the House bill is estimated at $206,344,977.77 while under the Senate bill the estimated receipts from the same aggregate are $201,689,907.08. The House bill transferred to the free list articles which during the fiscal year 1889 were received aggregate value of $107,921,735.04 and paid duty amounting to $60,736,896.12. The Senate bill transfers to the free list articles valued in the importations for 1889 at $108,919,907.15 and paying an aggregate duty of $60,599,343.69.

Adding to the first of these amounts the amount of the internal revenue reduction found in the House bill (and struck out of the Senate bill), the total reduction of revenue by the House bill is found to be $71,064,774.18, while that of the Senate bill is the figure named above, $60,599,343 69. These reductions, the Committee says, appear to be certain, but if the imports should be the same as last year under the new rates, the reduction would amount under the House bill to $26,128,642.90; under the Senate bill to $20,818,283.10.

A Wife Murderer Convicted.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 23.—George Moss, who brutally killed his wife on October 10th last, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. Sentence was deferred.

Recovered from Yellow Fever.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The British ship Algoma, from Rio Janeiro, is being disinfected at Quarantine, several of her crew having had yellow fever at Rio. The crew are all well now. The mate, James Brown, fell down the hold and broke his neck June 5th, dying immediately. He was buried at sea.

Germans Complaining.

BERLIN, June 23.—Herr Wolff, the commercial adviser of Major Wissmann, strongly condemns the Anglo-German-African agreement. The English have got everything worth having, he says, and will [illegible] Africa.

BY THE WAY.

—Saturday was the longest day of the year.

—The police made no arrests on Saturday evening, nor during Sunday.

—North Plainfield has a dog ordinance but it has no dog catchers to enforce it.

—It is reported that a well-known North Plainfield woman has suddenly left the borough.

—Councilman D. S. Roberts is building an addition to his livery stable on East Second street.

—Saturday's rain storm interfered with the out-door pleasure of hundreds of the residents of this city.

—The new fire horses purchased by the city on Saturday, were placed in the Second street houses on Saturday evening.

—On account of the rainstorm on Saturday evening, the hop announced to take place in Amphion Hall, was postponed.

—You are invited to the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. to-night at eight o'clock in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church.

—The employees of the Scott Press Works are about to ask their employer to change the weekly pay day from Monday to Saturday.

—The auction sale of W. B. S. Taylor's cottage which was prevented by the great rain of Saturday, will take place Wednesday, July 2.

—The third annual reception of the Alumni Association of the North Plainfield Public school will take place Friday evening, in the school building.

—Five were baptised in the First Church of Christ, yesterday, and six others were added, making a total membership increase of 65 in the last year.

—Prof Gleason's horse show arrived in town yesterday, and the tents were pitched on the lot on Grove street, opposite Rockview avenue, North Plainfield.

—The better day reading at the W. C. T. U., rooms, to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, will be in charge of Mrs. Fernald. All are welcome, both ladies and gentlemen.

—Attention is called to the auction sale of horses, carriages, harness, etc., which is to take place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at McDonnell's livery stable on West Sixth street.

—The Central Railroad of New Jersey is going to promote several baggagemen to be conductors, as the increased train service, incident to the new time table going in effect today, will require more men.

—The Police Gazette has sent circulars to several persons in this city, stating that in its issue of June 26, it will illustrate the elopement of Laura Robinson and Wm. McQuay, which THE PRESS first told about.

—Walter L. Hetfield, as counsel for Michael Weber, on Saturday amicably adjusted the claim of Mr. Weber against the Raritan Township Committee, for damages to Mr. Weber's horse by reason of bad roads during last Winter.

—William Thickstun of Central avenue, has a horse afraid of a bicycle, and to-night Prof Gleason proposes to cure the animal in his exhibition tent on Grove street. There will be a man on a bicycle present to take part in the ceremonies.

—The time for Gov. Abbett, of New Jersey, to take action on legislative bills expired Saturday night. Among the bills he refused to sign was one permitting the selling of pools and making of books on horse races at race tracks for fifty-five days a year.

—George VanDoren, the popular bartender at the City Hotel, left the city, last evening to take charge of the "Hotel Clinton," Trenton, which his father purchased on Saturday. George gained many warm friends while in this city, who now regret to hear of his leaving.

—The Soldiers Monument Committee met on Saturday evening, with Chairman M. W. Tyler in the chair. Only six of th members were present, and but little business was transacted. The committee will meet again on Thursday evening, when a full attendance is desired.

—A little girl six years old, was drowned off a canal boat just above Bound Brook, at seven o'clock last evening. The little one had gone out to play on the boat after supper. The mother discovered her disappearance after she had finished washing the dishes, and search found the child's hat floating on the water. The body was subsequently recovered.

"CHIEF DOANE'S SON."

A Clever Young Swindler is so Introducing Himself About the Country, With Success.

Late last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. T. O. Doane, of West Fifth street, was called to the telephone by Dr. Noah Sanborn, of Bayonne. The doctor asked if she had a son about 20 years of age, and upon being answered in the affirmative stated that he had just given him some money to pay his fare home. Mrs. Doane said it could not be her son as he had money besides a commutation ticket; but the Doctor assured her that it was all right, that the boy had called on him, stated he was out of work and just wanted enough to get to Plainfield. As Mrs. Doane's son would answer the description in many ways, she was much worried and sent at once for her husband, Chief Doane, who solved the mystery immediately.

The night before, young Doane, who was sitting in the library reading, heard a shuffling of feet on the back stoop. He went to the door and a strange man pushed himself into the house with the remark, "Its all right, young fellow." Doane did not think so, however, and pushed the intruder out again and locked the door. He then told his mother who going to the door inquired what the man wanted. He answered that he was in a strange place, without anything to eat and wanted a night's lodging. Mrs. Doane told him to go to the front door, which she opened and let him in.

Young Doane was then full of contrition at the inhospitable way in which he had treated the stranger, who he saw was only about his own ago. He took one of his father's cards on which was printed, "T. O. Doane, Chief of Fire Department, Plainfield, N. J.," and wrote on its back a note to Police Officer Laine, who is also Third Assistant Chief, asking him to give the bearer a night's lodging in the station house, and signed it "Thaddeus Doane, Jr." The stranger who had all the manners of an educated person, took it with profuse thanks and departed. But when Chief Doane came home and heard the story, he immediately said: "You'll hear from that card some way." And they did; first through Dr. Sanborn as told above, and maybe later through others to whom the strange young man is introducing himself as "Chief Doane's son, out of work, and in need of just enough money to get home to Plainfield."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Councilman Newhall's family spend the season at Lake Placid, closing their home here on the first of July.

Mr. Frank Jordan of New York was the guest of Mrs. James A. Spencer of Manning avenue, yesterday.

One of the Seniors of Yale who took part in the competition for the DeForest prize in oratory, Saturday, was Henry Opdyke of this city.

Mrs. John M. Clark, of Park avenue, will leave Plainfield in a few days for a long visit with relatives at her old home, Racine, Wis.

Miss "Lue" Lanworthy, of Little Genesee, New York State, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dunham of West Fifth street.

Hiram B. Willets died at his home in Madison, N. J., this morning. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. A. M. Runyon of this city.

Miss Nellie Dunning, of New York city, has returned after a week's visit with Mr and Mrs John H. Jackson, at their home on Duer street.

George H. Babcock and wife of Eighth street, attended the conference of the Seventh Day Baptist church, held at Westerly, R. I., last week.

District Deputy Grand Master F. O. Herring will be present in his official capacity at the regular communication of Anchor Lodge, to-morrow evening.

Willie Jeffery, of Grand View avenue, fell from a wild cherry tree, Saturday, and suffered a slight concussion of the brain. Dr. Hedges attended him, and today he is as well as ever.

Mrs. Marshall, widow of the late Daniel J. Marshall, was taken seriously ill from a hemorrhage last Saturday, but her many friends will be glad to learn that she is better today.

Dr. Edward Rushmore leaves New York to-night in company with a party of New York and Philadelphia physicians, by boat to attend the annual convention of the International Hahnemannian Association, at Watch Hill, R. I. The session begins to-morrow and lasts four days.

Virginia, the eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Davis of East Fifth street, died yesterday afternoon of cholera infantum. It is the fourth child these parents have lost; and they have the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

As already stated in these columns, the marriage of Edwin H. Lewis, teacher of the High School senior class, and son of the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, to Miss Taylor, will take place Monday the 30th inst. In the Fall, Mr. Lewis will assume the duties of the new position that he has recently accepted—Professor of Latin in the University at Alfred Center, N. Y.

Among the valuable features already secured for George Thatcher's Minstrels, none has proven so satisfactory on trial nor given such promise of great draft, as Master John Parr, a boy-soprano of phenomenal voice. Master Parr was in Plainfield the other day, and those who were favored with a chance to hear him are sincerely enthusiastic. His register is remarkable in extent, while his tones are all pure and full. He is just fourteen years of age.

A DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY.

Holy Cross Church Celebrates by Introducing Its New Organ.

The church of the Holy Cross yesterday celebrated its twenty-first anniversary and the second anniversary of its male vested choir. The occasion was also that of the first use of the new grand organ in the service of the church. The people of the church are to be greatly congratulated on the possession of the new instrument, built by Messrs Lebagh & Kemp of New York, which exceeded all expectations and will easily take first place among Plainfield's organs for richness and sweetness of tone, as well as for size. The musical services, both morning and afternoon, were admirably rendered by the choir, and Mr. Edward N. Nellson of Elizabeth who presided at the organ, was considered the most accomplished and pleasing player who has yet been heard in the church. In the morning the Rev. T. Logan Murphy preached a powerful sermon, and the collections taken during the day amount to about $100, which will be devoted to choir expenses.

HYMENIAL.

MARTIN—SUTPHEN.

At New Brunswick, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Gilbert S. Martin, a member of THE PRESS composing staff, and Miss Augusta M. Sutphen of North Plainfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. V. McDuffie, pastor of the Remsen Avenue Baptist church, at the home of Mr. H. A. Kibbe, manager of the New Brunswick Home News, 23 John street. The bride was attired in a handsome traveling dress, the groom wore a conventional suit of black. Miss Alice V. Sutphen, a sister of the bride, was the bridemaid, and Chester B. Dennis was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will reside in North Plainfield.

Uncle Dan's Sons Fall Heirs Again.

The will of the late James Marshall, senior partner in the clothing firm of Marshall & Ball, of Newark, gives to his widow all his household furniture and personal effects, $20,000 in cash and a life income of $6,000 a year. It is stipulated that his interest in the business shall be maintained so long as it pays 10 per cent. a year, that it shall not be sold at any time within five years of his death, and that in case of sale James T. Ball shall have the first option.

James Hadley, his sister's son, gets $10,000; his brother Garret, of Peoria, Ill., $2,000; his niece, Sarah Dean, $3,000; his sister Rachel, the income of $5,000; his stepson, Alfred Ball, the income of $5,000. George Marshall, $5,000, and each of Mr. Marshall's two sons, $2,500. James Lott Marshall, $2,500. Lawyer Samuel J. MacDonald, who drew the will, gets $250. The remainder of the estate, which is supposed to be pretty large, is to be divided equally between the legatees, and it is said that they will come in for something like $10,000 apiece additional. George and James Lott are sons of the late Daniel J. Marshall of this city.

Death of Mrs. Cornelia P. Morris.

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Dingee, on East Fifth street, early yesterday morning occurred the death of Mrs. Cornelia Pearsall, widow of the late John A. Morris, in the 69th year of her age. Mrs. Morris had been an invalid for a long time, and her death was therefore expected.

Mrs. Morris was possessed of many good traits for which she will long be remembered. During the late war her devotion to the wounded soldiers and sailors was noticeable, and she was at all times possessed of a kind and loving disposition. Her friends were legion.

The funeral will take place from the house, No. 25 East Fifth street, to-morrow evening at 7:30 oclock. Interment will take place at Greenwood on the following day.

Four Thoughtful Little Women.

The committee on tenement house work of the Kings Daughters, with headquarters in Mariners' Temple, New York, have written as follows to a quartette of kind hearted little Christian women, at Hotel Netherwood:

HELEN, MAY, MAUD AND JENNIE.—The 23 bunches of lovely flowers were received and distributed with 250 more to the dear little sick and crippled children at the Hospital for E. & C. children, Lexington avenue and 42d street. We thank you so much for this evidence of your love and tenderness.

E. M. V. B.

New York, June 18, 1890.

Amateur Base Ball.

The "Young Crescents" of this city and the "Cuban Giants," also of Plainfield contested in a ball game on Saturday. At the end of the game the score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the "Young Crescents." The latter club struck out 11 men, while the pitcher for the "Cuban Giants" only struck out 4.

North Plainfield's Graduates.

The Class of '90 of the North Plainfield Public School, numbering twenty-one, to be graduated with the usual exercises on Thursday evening, are: Nina Lewis Amerman, Josie Elliott VanArsdale, Grace Johnson Carroll, Emily Mary Cathcart, Robert Martin Clark, Lilian Grace Clarke, Harry H. Coddington, Samuel G. Currie, Katie M. Duffy, Charles Edward Hazeltine, James P. Ingram, Robieleen Ingram, Cora E. Mooney, Everett Lucius Morgan, Lizzie Willans Stafford, John A. Steiner, Ida L. Vermeule, Irving S. Whiting, Lizzie M. Whitlock, Sue Davies Woodland.

Pool Selling Not Legalized in Jersey.

Gov. Abbett has decided—as prophesied in the "Particular Mention" column of Saturday's PRESS—not to sign the bill making pool selling on race tracks legal in New Jersey. He sent the bill to Trenton to be filed in the State Library among the vetoed bills. Under the present law pool selling is illegal in New Jersey, except on the Monmouth Park race track. Pools are sold, however, on all the other race tracks in the State in violation of the law, and the race track men say they will continue to be sold.

"What is Home Without a Housekeeper,"

Is the degraded view taken by a gruff old bachelor, of the holy office of wife and mother. And yet how many mothers and wives there are who are simply "housekeepers," household drudges, whose life is worked out while disease is let in, during the ceaseless round of washing and scrubbing and dusting and baking and cooking. The same clothes and floors and furniture and dishes are gone over and over until the heart is sick and the body is broken with worry and disease. Amid this toil nervousness begins, bad digestion, sick headache and a host of complaints follow on. For all such take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction or money will be refunded.

LAST NIGHT'S SERVICE AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, the Pastor, Presents a Report in Detail of the Business Transacted at the National Convention of the Y. P. S. C. E.

At the Trinity Reformed church, last evening, the service was given under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Fred. S. Dunn, the president, presiding. The object of the meeting was to hear a report from the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, who was appointed a delegate to the National Convention of the Christian Endeavor, held at St. Louis, recently.

The service opened with an organ voluntary by Arthur L. Titsworth, followed by responsive reading from Psalms 24. The Rev. Mr. Schenck read the scripture, and the Rev. A. R. Dilts, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, led in prayer. He also pronounced the benediction.

The Rev. Mr. Schenck then read his report which was a lengthy document, replete with statistics and interesting data concerning the late convention at St. Louis. On account of its extreme length, THE PRESS is unable to reproduce the report in full but it showed encouraging results.

Mr. Schenck reported that on July 1, 1889, there were recorded 7,672 societies, with a membership of 485,000. Just eleven months later, June 1, 1890, there were recorded 11,013 societies, with 660,000 members. As many societies were formed during the past eleven months as during the first seven years of the existence of Christian Endeavor.

The pledge of the society printed in large letters, was framed in wild flowers and grasses and suspended on the organ front where all could read what every member promises with the help of God, to do. While above it was a large gilt monogram of the society, "C. E."

The floral display was very fine, the same being arranged by Miss Etta Krymer, Miss Ella Dunn and Miss J. Mattison. The double quartette choir, which furnished the music was composed of the following persons: Sopranos, Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, Miss Delia Runyon; Altos, Miss Lizzie Dunn, Miss Flora Hawkins; Tenors, Messrs Chas. Case and L. A. Hummer; Bassos, Messrs D. J. Krymer and H. J. Martin.

Ex-Councilman Squires Trustee of a $500,000 Club,

A certificate of incorporation of the Adirondack League Club was filed in the County Clerk's office in New York, Saturday. The trustees named are Henry C. Squiers, of this city, Warner Miller, M. W. Barse, O. L. Snyder, Robert C. Alexander, Mark M. Pomeroy, Warren Higley, A. G. Mills, Henry E. Howland, De Witt C. Le Fevre, and Alexander B. Harper.

The club is organized to purchase and maintain as a hunting and fishing preserve the Blake tract of 100,000 acres, in Hamilton and Herkimer counties. The purchase price is $500,000, which will be raised by 500 membership subscriptions at $1,000 each. The site contains Jock's or Transparent Lake and many other famous fishing and deer resorts. It will probably be the largest and most valuable private preserve in this country.

Prof. O. R. Gleason in Plainfield.

This evening at 8:15, the King of Horse Tamers, Prof. O. R. Gleason, will open his exhibition on Grove street, opposite Rock View avenue, under his water proof tent, introducing the handling of vicious horses and his $10,000 stud of educated wild Western bronchos which are pronounced perfect specimens of beauty and docility.

A. M. Seguine, the proprietor of the livery stable on Front street, has been authorized by the Professor to book all horses that have any bad habits previous to his arrival, and all these animals will be handled free of charge.

There is no doubt but the Professor should have crowds at each exhibition. This afternoon, weather permitting, the $10,000 stud of wild Western bronchos, will parade the principal streets.

Prior to Their President's Departure.

The committeemen of the Young Men's Christian Association, in response to an invitation of President Wm. D. Murray, met at the home of John W. Murray, Esq., Saturday afternoon and evening. The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to social intercourse, after which refreshments were served.

After a general conference in regard to improved methods of work, the committees met by themselves to consider the special work assigned to them. The conference was largely attended and was a pronounced success.

The Rock Eagle Goes to Lake George.

The Hotel Mail of Saturday says: "A large rock eagle, measuring 6½ feet from tip to tip of outstretched wings, was recently captured at Plainfield, N. J. It is now in possession of Mr. J. J. Wilson, of 359 Broadway, who will have it expressed to his charming Summer hotel—Brookdale Farm—at Lake George."

The eagle referred to is the one that was on exhibition at Pierson's handware store on West Front street, for a week or more past.

Plainfield Genius Rewarded.

Among the recent patents granted to residents of this State were to three Plainfielders, as follows: One for a velocipede to W. E. Brock; another for a dampening machine to Walter Scott, and ten patents to Geo. H. Babcock for a series of roofing tiles.

A TWO-HEADED SNIPE WITH WEBBED FEET.

A Prominent Public Man of Plainfield Discovers How Game Can be Served Out of Season.

A prominent public man of this city, who knows how and where to dine when in New York, sat down at his own particular table in the Astor House the other day, and scanned the menu undecided as to whether he wanted anything to eat or not. He thought not until his eye lighted on "Broiled Snipe, $1.50."

He knew snipe was out of season, and that the law placed a heavy penalty on even the person who had one in his possession. Consequently he knew something else would be served him, and therefore was very curious to see just what his order would bring forth. The waiter never betrayed even a change of countenance when the prominent public man of Plainfield ordered: "A bottle of white label bass, asparagus, lyonnaise potatoes, Boston brown bread and broiled snipe."

A bird about the size of a snipe was served, split and just browned enough, and buried in a nest of water cresses. A genuine snipe's head also occupied its proper place, and the delusion to a casual observer was just about perfect. But the prominent public man of this city—who is a connoisseur of game as well as pretty girls—did not look at the head for the proof, but at the heels. He found his snipe had webbed feet. Further exploration showed that the chef had forgotten also to cut the real head off, which proved to be that of a gosling.

After finishing his dinner with an appetite increased greatly by picturing the joke he would have on his friend, the proprietor, the prominent public man showed both heads to the latter and drank a bottle of extra dry at the expense of the house.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman at Reform Hall.

A very interesting meeting was held in Reform Hall last evening. President Harper presided, the Rev. Mr. Honeyman conducted the devotional services, and the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Vanderbeek, with George Rogers as accompanist, discoursed a fine selection of music.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. E. M. Rodman, who, in his usual clear and instructive manner, engaged the profound attention of every hearer. Doctor Rodman commenced by giving a pleasant account of his recent visit to Trenton, in company with many others, for the purpose of urging Gov. Abbett to withhold his signature from the act of the Legislature legalizing gambling on race tracks, and after severely antagonizing the evil effects of such a measure, he went on to pronounce judgment against the kindred evils of the liquor traffic, in its various forms and influences, and scathingly rebuked the license action of the present Common Council of Plainfield.

President Harper at the close of Dr. Rodman's remarks made the following announcements:

An entertainment, under the auspices of the Dorcas Society, will be held in Reform Hall, Tuesday evening, the 24th inst., for the benefit of the general poor of this city, on behalf of which liberal patronage is solicited.

The mothers' meeting of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society in the parlor of Reform Hall every Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The meeting in Reform Hall Thursday evening, 26th, to be addressed by the Rev. A. A. Phelps, and other prominent orators from abroad.

The Summer excursion of the Reform Club to Rockaway Beach, August 7, in the splendid and newly fitted Steamer Grand Republic.

The meeting closed with the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Honeyman.

Time Table Changes.

The new schedule of the Central railroad, that went into effect yesterday, is published in full on the last page of this issue. The changes of importance to PRESS readers, are: two new afternoon trains to New York, leaving Plainfield at 1:41 and 5:08. The Sunday evening train from this city to New York, is changed from 9:22 to 10:02, and there is added an additional train from New York on Sunday evenings, at 9 o'clock.

The 2:07 P. M., train from Plainfield daily, now carries a through coach for Long Branch, Ocean Grove, etc. The 8:37, 10:05 and 11:39 A. M. trains daily, also connect for those places.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following transfers have recently been made:

Manning Vermeule of Plainfield, to Emma French, Plainfield, lot on 3d street, that city, 30x178	$1
Wm. S. Pearson and wife of North Plainfield, to Matilda A. Clay and Nellie Keemy of Plainfield, land on S. E. side of 3d st., Plainfield, 150x367	2,400
Charles N. Flanders and wife of Fanwood, to Warren Ackerman, of Fanwod, 6 acres of land on road leading from Scotch Plains to Rahway	$1,800

—A special meeting of the Borough Council is called for this evening.

—The Reform Club excursion to Rockaway Beach will take place on August 7.

—Some news of interest to the Bicycle Club members, crowded out today, will appear to-morrow.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

A "Recent Case" Calls For a Meeting of the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

There will be a meeting held of the Plainfield Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, to-night, in the Republican club rooms, over the City National Bank on Front street, at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that there will be a general attendance of the members, and all who are interested in such society. But few people are aware that Plainfield has such a society, from the fact that but few cases occur where its aid is invoked. The recent ceas in our community has aroused public sentiment to such a degree that the officers have thought it wise to have a meeting of the society. Meetings have been called in the past without getting a quorum to transact its regular business.

—Mr. Alec Robinson of Baltimore, Md., is visiting his friend, George Thatcher, of minstrel fame, in this city.

—The phonograph exhibition at Laing's Hall, continues to attract crowds of pleased listeners to the wonderful invention.

—It is said that Detective Keron of Elizabeth has gone to Boston in search of Laura Robinson and Wm. McQuay, the colored elopers from this city.

—A meeting will be held this evening at Mrs. Poole's residence, 22 West Third street, to which all are invited. Subject: "The abiding presence of Jesus"

—The Order of Red Cross will be conferred by Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T. this evening. Sir Knights will bear in mind that the asylum opens at 8 o'clock P. M., and appear in fatigue uniform.

The Turners' Convention.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The fourteenth convention of the North American Turners is in session in Central Turn Hall. Col. William Pfaender, of New Ulm, Minn., is temporary chairman. Seven hundred and twenty-four delegates representing 36 States and districts are present. President Muench delivered the opening address. He congratulated the Bund upon their rapid growth. He said they controlled a greater social and political power than any other organization in the United States.

A Swindling Loan Association.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The police have received several inquiries from western points about the "Eastern Building and Loan Association," which has been actively engaged in securing mortgages in the West. None of the alleged officers of the Association can be found here, though until the police began to investigate mail addressed to the concern was taken from the post-office once a week. It is thought that a number of people have been victimized.

Supposed Suicide Turns Up.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 23.—The sensational story of the suicide of young Vincent in Cleveland two weeks ago because his handsome young male friend, Connors, had deserted him, has been unexpectedly upset. Both men are from this city, and last night Vincent, the supposed suicide, was found drunk and robbed under a river bridge. He and two companion, who are now in jail, had put up a job on Connors by pretending suicide.

Faith and Belief.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 23.—The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the University of Vermont was preached by President M. H. Buckham, from Acts, xxvii, 14; "After no long time there arose against it a tempestuous wind and the ship was driven." The speaker regarded the thought of to-day as largely driven by untoward winds. The pilotage of the word of God was necessary. Faith and belief must be regained.

Refused Naturalization.

READING, Pa., June 23.—The application of Charles Ah Sing, a Chinaman, for naturalization papers was refused by Judge Endlich in court here. The Judge finds no warrant in law for making a Chinaman an American citizen no matter how respectable or worthy he may be. The judge states that the framers of our laws never contemplated that a Mongolian should be made a voter in the country.

Dropped Dead Going to a Fire.

TROY, N. Y., June 23.—The large livery and sales stables owned by Hutton & Son, of this city, caught fire yesterday afternoon and were totally destroyed. The loss will be very heavy. Engineer Gillen, of the Eddy Fire Company, dropped dead while en route to the fire.

A Bycicler's Mishap.

PASSAIC, N. J., June 23.—About 8:30 last night Superintendent Sterling of the electric light company, while riding a safety bycicle, ran over a dog at the corner of Main and Passaic streets. The collision threw him to the ground and broke one of his legs. He was carried home by officer Whyn.

WAR SHIPS ON HAND

France Watching Her Rights at Newfoundland.

ORDERS TO BRITISH SUBJECTS.

A French Officer Says the Reports of Trouble Have been Exaggerated.

A Crisis in Mexico—Diaz Will Proclaim Himself Dictator—Germans Dissatisfied Over the African Agreement—Brigands Demand a Ransom—Dahomeyans Defeated and Many Killed.

HALIFAX, June 23.—An interview with the commander of the French war ship Indre is published at St. Johns. It was from this vessel that an officer went on shore at Bay St. George to compel British subjects to take up their nets to make room for French fishermen. The interview is as follows:

"Are the accounts of the trouble which recently took place on the French shore true?"

"There is a germ of truth in them, but they are fearfully exagerated. One of these accounts says that an armed crew landed, patrolled the shore and took up fishermen's nets. Only one officer went on shore for the purpose, and he acted as quietly as possible."

"Did you think you were exceeding your rights, as allowed by the treaty, in thus ordering British subjects to remove their nets?"

"No. As I translate it, the first and principal right of fishing belongs to the French and it is perfectly within the province of French rights to order the removal of nets of any British subjects that may interfere with them. Newfoundland takes a different view of the matter, but the treaty is plain on this point to any persons who read it."

"Do you think that fish other than codfish come under the meaning of the treaty?"

"I think fish is fish, and though British subjects might argue that there was no such thing as lobster fishery on the French shore at the time the treaty was made, still France cannot be prevented from or blamed for translating 'fish' in the broadest sense and going into lobster fishery."

"Did your men act in any hostile spirit to the inhabitants of the French shore during the unpleasantness this spring?"

"On the contrary, they had strict instructions to act quietly, though firmly."

A Conflict Expected.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 23.—A dispatch says the French war ships are hovering closer than ever around St. George Bay, and a conflict is almost unavoidable, if the colonists are interfered with by either England or France. Much ugly feeling exists against England. The Colonial Premier, Sir William Whiteway, leaves for London in the next steamer.

A CRISIS IN MEXICO.

It is Almost Certain that Diaz Will Proclaim Himself Dictator.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 23.—Information is given of an uprising in the mining State of Guanajuata which is believed to be the beginning of a general revolutionary movement, of which there have been repeated warnings for some time past. As the telegraphs are under Government censorship, it is impossible to get details by wire, and some days must elapse before all of the facts can be obtained.

There are signs of uneasiness in Government circles, and the general feeling is that a crisis is imminent. The tyranny of the Government is daily becoming heavier, and it is almost certain that within a year Diaz will proclaim himself dictator. Only revolution can prevent such a disaster to the republic. This may come quickly if the movement in Guanajuata shows the strength expected. If it be put down successfully by the Government, then the day of general resistance will be postponed.

Business is dull and a reaction has set in against a buoyancy created by credit. The latter is exhausted, and the enevitable is at hand. This state of things increases the feeling of restlessness. There is no freedom of the press. Not only are publishers and editors held responsible, but even the printer who sets an article reflecting on the condition of affairs may be sent to prison. Therefore no one need look to Mexican newspapers for information.

No Occasion for Congratulation.

BERLIN, June 23.—The Post says the Committee of the Colonial Society will abstain from participating in the festivities in honor of Major Wissman's return to Germany, on the ground that the completely changed aspect of affairs in Africa under the Anglo-German agreement no longer affords occasion for congratulation.

Gladstone's Trip.

LONDON, June 23.—Mr. Gladstone and his son, Herbert, have arranged to visit Heligoland within a few days for the purpose of obtaining the views of the inhabitants in regard to the transfer of the island to Germany, upon which data the ex-Premier will base his speech in the Parliamentary debate on the Anglo-German agreement.

Many Dahomeyans Killed.

LONDON, June 23.—A despatch from Lagos says: "Popular superstition preventing the King of Dahomey from re-entering the capital after a defeat, the King attacked the Egbas and took a thousand prisoners. The Egbas then attacked and defeated the Dahomeyans, killing many.

Pursuing Her Betrayer.

LONDON, June 23.—Miss Vallery Wiedeman, whose suit against Captain Walpole for breach of promise has just been decided against her for the second time, is still in pursuit of her betrayer. She has made application for still another trial and the case will again be heard in the courts.

Captured by Brigands.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 23.—Brigands near Sinekli have captured Wahmsudi Bey, a very wealthy Turkish official, and demand $60,000 for his release. Turkish soldiers have been despatched from here to rescue him.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

INGERSOLL'S IDEAS

He Talks About Revision of the Westminster Creed.

THIS WORLD IS BAD ENOUGH.

It Gives Him Joy to Know that the Churches Are Getting Better.

Young America Will Not be Consoled With Eternal Pain—Happiness is the Only Good and the Time to be Happy is Now—He Says that All Creeds Must be Revised.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 24.—Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, who is in town on some court business, was interviewed by a reporter. In answer to the question, "What do you think of the revision of the Westminster creed?" Mr. Ingersoll said:

"I think that the intelligence and morality of the age demand the revision. The Westminster creed is infamous. That creed has made millions insane. It has furrowed countless cheeks with tears. Under its influence the sentiments and sympathies of the heart have been withered. This creed was written by the worst of men. The civilized Presbyterians do not believe in it. The intelligent clergyman will not preach it, and all good men who understand it hold it in abhorrence. But the fact is that it is just as good as the creed of any orthodox church. All these creeds must be revised.

"Young America will not be consoled by the doctrine of eternal pain. This world is bad enough without having another in which countless billions are to be perfectly miserable forever. It is impossible to conceive of a more malevolent being than the orthodox God. It gives me great joy to know that the churches are getting better, that they are growing more and more humane—that they do not really hate all forms of joy.

"After all happiness is the only good, and the time to be happy is now, and the place to be happy is here. The Christians owe a debt of gratitude to Voltaire, Diderot, Hume, Paine, Humbolt, Darwin, Haeckel, Huxley and many others. These great men have helped to destroy the awful fears—the ghosts and devils of orthodox religion. Yes, the creeds must be revised or the churches will be closed."

THE PRIEST ENJOINED.

The Electric Light People Gain a Point in the Church Trouble.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 24.—The situation at Schuylerville is rather threatening. Father Hefferanan, the pastor of the Catholic church in front of which the electric people are endeavoring to place their poles, was seen by a reporter and stated his side of the case. He maintained that the electric light people were trespassers, and said that every expedient would be used to prevent the poles from being reset. Of Sheriff Deyoes' action in calling out the militia, Father Hefferanan spoke in a very bitter tone. "It was fortunate that I was absent during the scrimmage on Saturday," said he. "There would have been trouble if the sheriff had attempted to arrest me. The sheriff will hear from me, however; I shall not fail to pay my respects to him."

President W. D. Rich, of the electric light company, was also seen this afternoon. He said: "We have the law on our side and intend to erect those poles if it takes all the militia in New York State to protects us during the operation. The spot where the holes are dug is more than six feet from the church property. We are not trespassing, and have the full consent of the village trustees to put up the poles. We will make the attempt this afternoon, come what will, and the sheriff is bound to protect us."

Should the sheriff find it necessary to telegragh to Saratoga for the 22d Separate Company, twenty strokes will be sounded on the town hall bell—the signal agreed upon for the gathering of the militia at the armory. The company musters 83 men. Schuylerville is nine miles east of here on the Hudson river. The town has 2,000 inhabitants.

County Judge Houghton has granted the electric light company an injunction restraining the priest from interfering with the poles. It remains to be seen whether the churchmen will have the backbone to offer physical resistance in the face of the injunction and the threats of calling out the military.

Knights of Pythias Conclave.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 24.—The arrangements for the great Knights of Pythias conclave, to be held in Milwaukee, July 7 to 12, are fast nearing completion. Gen. E. L. Brand has arrived here from Chicago, and with several assistants will at once commence the erection of the 3,500 tents of the camp for the uniform rank in which it is expected 15,000 knights will be quartered during the week.

A Tug Blown to Pieces.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The steam tug Alice E. Crew, lying at the pier at the foot of Van Brunt street, South Brooklyn, was blown to pieces by the explosion of the boiler and four of the five men who were asleep in her cabins were instantly killed during the morning.

Safe Blown Open and Robbed.

PIERMONT, N. H., June 24.—The safe of Horace Eaton of this place was blown open about 3 a. m., and about $30 in money taken and $1,300 in checks and notes and about the same amount of book accounts were burned or stolen.

THE KEYSTONE CONTEST.

A Great Rush to the Republican Convention To-Morrow.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 24.—It is predicted that the Republican convention of to-morrow will attract a greater amount of attention than did the convention of '82, because of the coming in of many new leaders in politics and the position occupied by Senator Quay.

Among those now here the prevailing impression is that Delamater will be the nominee.

It is said the Meadville candidate is almost certain to win on the second ballot, if not on the first, being assured of the Allegheny delegation after Major Montooth has retired, and of four-fifths of the Philadelphia delegation after Hastings has been convinced that he has no chance of winning. The fact of there being four prominent candidates for first place, and as many for second, has stirred up the active men of the party all over the State.

Clubs and delegations headed by brass bands will, beginning to-night, pour into this city from every quarter, and their boisterous enthusiasm will permit few to enjoy a full night's sleep until the convention has finally adjourned.

TRAGEDY IN PITTSBURG.

A Man Attacks His Wife With a Hatchet and Then Commits Suicide.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 24.—Charles Diebold and his wife, whose residence is on South Twenty-first street, have not been living together for some time. Early in the morning Diebold went to his home and asked for some of his clothing. A quarrel ensued. Diebold struck his wife two murderous blows on the head with a hatchet. He hurled her supposed lifeless body into another room, kissed his two children and went to the home of his mother on another street.

Here he locked himself up in a room, slashed his wrist and throat with a razor, inflicting injuries from which he died a few minutes later. Mrs. Diebold was terribly cut, but will probably recover.

HIS HEAD BLOWN OFF.

A Tank of Ammonia Exploded in a Pork Packing Establishment.

HOBOKEN, N. J., June 24.—Henry Drake was killed and two other workmen seriously injured by the explosion of a tank of ammonia in Heitler & Sons pork packing establishment, this city.

An artificial ice machine was being set up, and the tank was being tested when the accident occurred. Drake's head was blown off. The other men were lacerated and scalded. Mr. Henry Heitler was also knocked down and slightly burned.

Freshmen to Race This Evening.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 24.—Arrangements are completed for the two mile race between Yale, Columbia and Cornell freshmen at 6:30 this evening. It will be rowed over the lower end of the course from the Naval Station to Winthrop's Point, and Richard Trimbell will act as referee. The three crews are in prime condition, and what little betting there is is even and based purely on friendship, the sports playing money on their favorites regardless of the probable result. It is expected to be a close contest.

His Freedom Was Brief.

SALEM, N. J., June 24.—Joseph Stewart, the colored man who was pardoned from State Prison last year, after having spent thirty years for a murder committed when a boy in Gloucester County, was drowned in Salem Creek yesterday. Stewart after his release came to Salem, and through the influence of friends secured work and was doing well when the accident happened.

The Mine Fire Extinguished.

PITTSBURG, June 24.—A dispatch from Mount Carmel, Pa., says fire was discovered during the morning in the inside of the Pennsylvania colliery, the largest mine in this region. A large force of men under the leadership of experienced superintendents fought the flames and after several hours' hard work the fire was extinguished.

Student Vandalism Resented.

BOSTON, Mass., June 24.—It is announced that Mr. Bridge, of Cambridge, the donor of the John Harvard statue, has cancelled certain intended bequests to Harvard College on account of the recent defilement of the statue and the refusal of the students and faculty to punish the perpetrators of the outrage

A Strong Combination.

BOSTON, June 24.—The manufacturers of ammonia have combined and in consequence the price has advanced from 5½ to 8c. a pound. The combination, it is stated, takes in practically all of the producers, and is regarded by the trade as strong in its hold upon the market

Strike of 2,000 Cigarmakers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 24.—A strike of cigarmakers for an increase of five cents per hundred for rolling Sumatra stock was ordered to-day, about 2,000 men going out.

No News From the Entombed Miners.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 24.—There is very little if any more information to-day than there was yesterday concerning the whereabouts or the condition of the entombed miners.

Tobacco Girls on Strike.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 24.—Two hundred and fifty women and girls employed in the plug department of Lorillard's tobacco factory, this city, are on strike for more wages.

TOO MANY MILLIONS

The President May Veto the River and Harbor Bill.

TALK OF REDUCING THE AMOUNT

A Conference of the Friends of the Bill to be Called.

The Selection of Customs Appraisers Creating Trouble—A Consul Makes an Appeal for Aid—Democrats Withdraw Their Call for a Caucus—The Pension Conference Report Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—General Henderson, chairman of the River and Harbor Committee, has thrown out the intimation that the President intends to veto the River and Harbor bill if it is not materially reduced.

General Henderson says that the bill as passed by the House was even too large, but that under the circumstances everybody had to be taken in in order to get it through.

The Senate has made a great mistake, he added, in tacking on four or five additional millions, and particularly, he says, it should not have increased the appropriations for the Mississippi river. It is quite probable that a conference of the friends of the bill in both houses will be called soon to take steps to shave the bill down in order to save it from the Presidential veto.

It has just been reported from the Senate Committee on Commerce and now carries a total appropriation of about twenty-five million dollars.

A TRIANGULAR CLASH.

There is Trouble Over the Appointment of Customs Appraisers.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—There is a snarl between the President, the Treasury Department and the politicians over the selection of the five appraisers as authorized by the Customs Administration bill.

Secretary Windom is determined that the men shall be experts, the President desires men of national reputation, while politicians are clamoring for politicians, who naturally are lawyers without qualifications for the position. A "slate" had been agreed upon last week, and was to have been sent to the Senate to-day, but it has been broken, and a new one will now have to be made.

It is understood that the four Democrats have been agreed upon, there having been far less friction over their selection. It is now possible that the names will not come in this week.

Five Thousand People Homeless.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A dispatch was received at the State Department from United States Consul Garesche, at Martinique, stating that fire had destroyed half of the town of Fort de France, the capital of Martinique Island, and that 5,000 people were homeless. Consul Garische makes an appeal for aid from the people of the United States. Lumber and provisions are needed. Fort de France has a population of about 8,000.

No Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—After consultation among the Democratic leaders, it was determined to withdraw the call for a Democratic caucus on the Election bill, and so no caucus was held last night. The Democratic sentiment is unanimous in opposition to the bill, but as nothing could be done against a united Republican majority, it was thought to be useless to hold a caucus.

Population of Several Cities.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Returns from census enumerators are being tabulated rapidly. The population of this city is estimated at 230,000. New Orleans is estimated at 246,000. Cleveland has a population of 248,000. The census gives Pittsburg's population approximately at 250,000 The population of Baltimore is made by the census over 500,000.

For Dependent Pensions.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The conference report on the Dependent Pension bill was taken up in the Senate, and after considerable discussion the vote was taken. The conference was agreed to. Yeas, 34; nays, 18. Messrs. Call, Hearst and Turpie voted with the Republicans in the affirmative. The bill now goes to the President.

Eight Victims of a Wreck.

HAMILTON, Ont., June 24.—The Atlantic express on the Grand Trunk Railroad, consisting of baggage car, smoking car, two day coaches, two sleeping cars, the Kinderhook and New Mexico, and a dining car, was derailed at Capetown, sixteen miles west of Hamilton. One man was killed and seven persons injured.

Pounded His Wife With a Club.

MILFORD, Mass., June 24.—In Medway Cornelius Crowley, 65 years old, becoming enraged at his wife because she had drank up all his liquor, pounded and terribly bruised her with a club. The doctor says the woman cannot live Crowley disappeared and cannot be found. His oldest child, a son, threatens to kill his father on sight

Terrific Rain and Hail Storm.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 24.—Growing crops suffered greatly last evening from the effects of a terrific hail and rain storm, accompanied by lightning, which passed over the Juniata Valley. The lightning struck three houses in Huntingdon. James Swoope was probably fatally injured, and Miss Mary Hoffman died from fright.

Johnson, Harry H. Lowrie or Gilford Johnson.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ex-Governor Green and family will occupy their cottage at Perth Amboy during the Summer, beginning on July 1.

Mr. S. C. Peck, Sr., the father of Plainfield's only "Come to Peck's," is visiting his son. He is celebrating his 82d birthday today.

Miss Clara Dunn, of Park avenue, left today for the Summer Assembly at Chautauqua where she will remain until the first of September.

David W. Pond, of The Pond Machine Tool Co., has just returned from a business trip that resulted in the securing of further contracts for the Works that will aggregate in amount several tens of thousands of dollars.

Among the Plainfielders registered at Asbury Park are Mrs. S. J. Conkling at the "Bristol," and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lewis at the "Lenox." James A. Taylor and family are registered at the "El Dorado," Ocean Grove.

The Rev. Dr. John VanMeter, of Baltimore, who as first stated exclusively in THE PRESS will address the High school graduates at Music Hall, Thursday evening, will be the guest while here of James W. Jackson of Central avenue.

Mr. L. E. Hickok, of the Pope M'f'g company of Boston, the manufacturers of the celebrated Columbia Bicycles, was the guest last night of Captain Frank L. C. Martin. He expressed himself very well satisfied with the outlook, and bestowed the usual praise upon the roads in Plainfield.

A telegram was received in this city, early this morning, announcing the death at Denver, Colorado, at nine o'clock last evening, of Harrold, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Zeagler, the latter formerly Miss Carrie W. Laing of this city. Death resulted from cholera infantum. The funeral took place from the house, No. 1737 Vine street, Capitol Hill, Denver, this afternoon at four o'clock.

The New York Sun says: "Marion Ackerman of the Plainfield Bicycle Club rode from Plainfield to Westfield and return—a distance of twelve miles—in thirty-six minutes. This is the best time made by any of the Plainfield boys." J. Hervey Doane, however, rode there in fifteen minutes, the other day, and says he would have ridden back in less time but he used up the horse he was racing against, and had to wait for the animal.

Lawrence Myers of East Front street, received word yesterday that his daughter, Lucy, was failing fast from consumption. He left last evening with his brother, ex-Councilman J. K. Myers, for Colorado Springs where she is with her mother. There is but little probability that he will reach his destination before her death. Mr. Myers bought a house at Colorado Springs, some months ago, and has since lived there with his wife and daughter for the latter's health.

Frank W. Morse, for so long a resident of this city and one of its most esteemed and genial citizens, has accepted the position of Gen'l Manager for the Magnetic Iron Ore company, at Benson Mines, St. Lawrence county, N. Y. He will leave for there Thursday. The company is already building their new manager a handsome residence, to which his wife, formerly Miss Minnie Bird of this city, will soon follow him. For the past three years Mr. and Mrs. Morse have lived at Rotterdam, where he has with great success acted as Superintendent of the sale of American oil in bulk, for well known firms of New York, Bremen and Holland.

The Judges of Award.

Those who will decide the winners of the usual prizes for certain lines of school work, this year, are as follows:

English composition — D. J. Yerkes, D. D., J. Evarts Tracy and Mason W. Tyler.

Penmanship, as taught — H. P. Reynolds, H. O. Newman and D. E Titsworth.

Mathematics — Wm. M. Stillman.

The fortunate ones will be announced at the High School commencement exercises, Thursday evening, in Music Hall.

Conduct Unbecoming a Woman.

The conduct of a certain Plainfield avenue woman, as exhibited on Park avenue, last evening, was shameful, and the police were obliged to interfere. The woman was intoxicated and had two small children in a baby carriage, which she left standing on the sidewalk, while she persisted in obtaining some beer. Special Officer Hope wheeled the children home, and Officer Cooney finally succeeded in getting the woman there.

Invited to a Brooklyn Lantern Parade.

The Plainfield Bicycle club has been invited to participate in the Ninth Annual Lantern Parade of the Kings County Wheelmen—Bedford avenue and Fulton street, Brooklyn—on Wednesday, at 9 P. M. The route will cover four miles of asphalt. It is the desire of the road officers of the Plainfield club to have a large number of their members take part. Train leaves Plainfield at 7:03 P. M. Lanterns will be furnished by the K. C. W.

Its Growth Due to Three Things.

At the service in Trinity Reformed church, on Sunday evening, given under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, in his report of the St. Louis Convention, stated that the rapid progress made by the Christian Endeavor of late was due to three things, namely: the revival of the covenant idea—the pledge; the revival of consciousness, and the revival of fellowship.

A PLEA FOR THE SICK TEACHER.

School Trustee Probasco Doesn't Believe in Their Forfeiture of One Cent of Salary, and Carries His Point.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education, last evening, there were present Trustees Kirkner, Murray and Probasco, acting Principal Goodrich, and acting Clerk Clark. The meeting opened harmoniously, with all in full accord as to the appointing of S. Lena Bass as a teacher in the 3d grade, grammar school; the opening after the long vacation again on September 8, and the stationing of the janitors as special policemen at the Music Hall doors, Thursday evening, to prevent the entrance of anyone during the reading of an essay. Mr. Goodrich's experience so far as it would bear on this last, most desirable, provision, was that the janitors would not be of much use in such capacity. The public will hope he is wrong. The amount of tuition received for the last quarter was reported as $467, making a total for the year of about $1,850.

Then the question of auditing the last pay roll of the term came up and the meeting was more interesting. Each month there is deducted from each teacher's pay, the days she has been absent. At the end of the term pay for five days of such absence if from sickness, is allowed. There were but a few teachers who last year exceeded this five day's grace, and only one was an extreme case. Miss Colony was very sick in September for a few days, and her doctor advised her not to attempt teaching again during the term. She would not give up, however, came back in October, and the result was she broke down entirely and was sick during the entire month of November. Her total absence was 36 days. During her absence and that of all the other teachers, substitutes are paid to take their places.

Mr. Murray moved, as has been the custom, that all the absentees be paid in full so far as the five days allowance would cover; and that all absent days in excess be also paid the teacher in full less the amount that had been paid her substitute.

Mr. Probasco thereupon shattered all rule and precedent by an unheard of and unexpected protest. "I don't think that's right! No teacher ought to lose her salary for being sick." In vain Mr. Murray explained how experience had shown that the absence of regular teachers was very detrimental to the progress of the scholars and the standing of the school. The making of the rule had been forced upon the Board, and its good effect had been thoroughly proven.

Mr. Kirkner's nineteen years connection with school affairs enabled him also to speak understandingly, but Mr. Probasco after listening courteously and attentively, only said: "You can't change my views! We would not treat our employees so, and school teachers are the poorest paid of all employees." Mr. Kirkner said, "Of course as individuals we can do as we please, and allow our generosity to be controlled by our sympathy; but as public servants in this case we can't do otherwise than in accordance with the rule that has been established and is understood. If it was known that all loss from absence would be remitted, we would be compelled to keep floating teachers on regular duty and full pay to supply the places of the absent."

Mr. Probasco said that the requirement of a physician's certificate would overcome all that. Mr. Goodrich—to whose duties as acting Principal has been added the task of preparing the Senior Class for graduation, and whose head and hands are so full he dare not be sick a minute—justly remarked, "It is hard enough for a teacher to be sick, and to have doctor's bills besides her living still to pay, without losing her salary besides." Then Mr. Murray withdrew his motion, and it was ordered that the teachers be paid in full for all days absent because of sickness. One of the teachers who staid away a day to go to a wedding, and another who was summoned to Court a day, will lose pay for those days.

A letter from Professor Tyler of Amherst College, father of M. W. Tyler of this city, and acting President in the absence of Prof. Seelye, was read, highly recommending Edwin S. Hunt, an Amherst senior, for the vacancy in the High School corps caused by the resignation of Edwin H. Lewis. Mr. Goodrich was instructed to send for Mr Hunt to meet the Board in this city next Friday evening.

Annie Rooney Injured.

Miss Annie Rooney, one of the girls recently employed at the carpet factory on South avenue, met with a painful accident while at work there, yesterday.

The young woman was weaving carpet when her right hand caught in the shuttles, terribly crushing four of the fingers. Two of the fingers, it is said, were so badly crushed, that it became necessary to amputate them. A physician dressed the wounds.

A Rare Treat for Boys.

Vincent Rockwell, Charles Cook, Arthur Vail, Allie Laing and Harry Wells, have already decided to go with the Y. M. C. A. boys camp at Lake Wawayanda, July 8 to 22. Although Plainfield has already more than the number of delegates to which it was entitled, it is probable that one or two more would be received in case their application is forwarded at once.

Amateurs at the Bat.

The "Cuban Giants" defeated the "Centrals" on the South avenue grounds, yesterday afternoon, by a score of 13 to 5. Conway, Perry and Littell comprised the battery for the Cuban Giants, and Cuff, Peterson, Carey and Green constituted the battery for the Centrals.

Election of Officers.

The members of the Catholic Young Men's Literary Union met in the parochial school, last evening, and elected officers as follows:

Spiritual Director—Rev. J. A. Stafford.
President—Thomas Carty.
Vice President—John J. Kenney.
Secretary—J. J. Gallagher.
Financial Secretary—M. Mack.
Treasurer—John Traynor.
Librarian—Daniel Galbraith.
Sergeant-at-Arms—John J. Lynch.
Board of Directors {J. A. McCarthy, Ed. J. Harding, M. J. Winn.

Louis M. Stover of East Ninth street, is enjoying a brief sojourn at Barnegat.

"What is Home Without a Housekeeper,"

Is the degraded view taken by a gruff old bachelor, of the holy office of wife and mother. And yet how many mothers and wives there are who are simply "housekeepers," household drudges, whose life is worked out while disease is let in, during the ceaseless round of washing and scrubbing and dusting and baking and cooking. The same clothes and floors and furniture and dishes are gone over and over until the heart is sick and the body is broken with worry and disease. Amid this toil nervousness begins, bad digestion, sick headache and a host of complaints follow on. For all such take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction or money will be refunded.

Another Case of Cruelty to Children.

Complaint was made before Justice Hardy, in North Plainfield, last evening, against a certain female who was formerly a charge on this city, and who, it is alleged, is in the habit of cruelly beating her two young children. The woman will probably be apprehended today, and the children taken from her and placed in the Children's Home.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

The Above Named Society Resurrected From Its Five Year's Sleep and Again Organized for Active Labor—Officers and Trustees Elected and Other Minor Details of the Meeting.

A meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, was held in the Republican Association rooms on East Front street, last evening, with President Charles Place in the chair. Secretary and Treasurer Joseph B. Coward also occupied his accustomed seat.

It was nine o'clock when Mayor Place, of North, Plainfield, President of the Society called the meeting to order. The attendance was small, probably owing to the several other attractions which were in progress at the same time. James W. Jackson was elected chairman of the meeting, and Joseph B. Coward, Secretary.

The following persons were elected members of the society: Messrs W. F. Williams, A. P. Darby, J. W. Johnson, L. E. Howard, H. M. Stockton, Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, Rev. W. R. Richards, Theo. S. Miller, N. B. Smalley, Dr. J. H. Cooley, B. A. Hegeman, Jr.

Trustees were elected to serve for the ensuing year as follows: Messrs Chas. Place, J. W. Jackson, H. B. Newhall, E. Miller, I. W. Rushmore, H. K. Carroll, J. B. Coward, J. E. Turrill, J. W. Johnson, L. E. Howard.

Mr. Place made a verbal report of the cases in which the Society has been instrumental in bringing about radical changes. He also told of a complaint lodged against a female coal picker, for brutality to her children, and also of the Drake case.

The Secretary was requested to notify the trustees and newly elected members of their election.

The report of the treasurer for the five years ending to-night showed the total receipts to be $4.50; total disbursements, $1.51, leaving a balance of $2.99 on hand.

The thanks of the Society was tendered to President Place and Secretary and Treasurer Coward, after which the meetidg adjourned.

OFFICERS ELECTED:

The trustees then met and elected officers as follows:

President—Chas. Place.

Vice President—E. Milller.

Secretary and Treasurer—J. B. Coward.

The Treasurer was requested to ask the members to remit their fees for this year, and after adopting an amendment to the by-laws the meeting adjourned.

Borough Council Meeting.

The Borough Council met in special session, last evening, to consider certain matter pertaining to street work. Mayor Place presided, and all the members were present. Mr. Hegeman from the Street Committee submitted a report of the work done on Grove street, together with a financial statement of the cost for the same. The report was filed.

H. A. McGee sent in a communication requesting that his name be withdrawn from the Willow avenue petition. It was filed, and thus the petition dies.

Emily street, from Somerset to Grove, and Mercer avenue from Grove street, West, were ordered macadamized.

A resolution by Mr. Hegeman, with reference to th purchase of stone, was adopted, after which Council adjourned.

Don't Miss It!

There was a large audience of some of the best people of the city and borough at the opening of Prof. Gleason's show of horse education and educated horses, last evening. The entertainment was an interesting, exciting and satisfactory one. The only thing that marred it was promptly put out.

Prof. Gleason handled with ease and entirely cured a kicker, a doctor's horse afraid of a bicycle and a mustang that no one could ride before. The doings of his $10,000 stud of trained and handsome mustangs, were also very pleasing. Many new features will be introduced this evening.

Alpha Lodge Meeting.

Alpha Lodge No. 4, I. O. of G. T.; met in regular session last evening, in their hall corner Park and North avenues. There were no initiations, but one was proposed for next meeting night. The minutes of the Picnic Committee meeting were read and adopted. Among those present were two brothers from Ray of Hope Lodge, No. 5, G. T. of Elizabeth—Grand Chief Templar Currie and Bro. Mc Mahon. Then came the regular order of business, and finally songs and recitations were indulged in by several of the members. The meeting then closed.

New Crosswalk on Park Avenue.

Ex-Borough Councilman, John A. Thickstun, is today laying a double cross-walk over Park avenue at its intersection with the Northwesterly side of North avenue. The walk was ordered laid at a recent meeting of the City Council, and will prove a great benefit to the traveling public.

Conferring the Red Cross Degree.

The degree of Red Cross was conferred upon two candidates at a special conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., last evening. The regular monthly conclave of this Commandery occurs July 7, when the Temple degree will be conferred.

You can never know till you try, how quickly a dose of Ayer's Pills will cure your sick headache. Your stomach and bowels need cleansing, and these pills will accomplish it more effectually and comfortably than any other medicine you can find.

The Manly Art in Mount Ararat.

Saturday night about 5 o'clock John Pfeifer, the Irrepressible, a well known house and carpet cleaner was knocked down on the platform of the Central Railroad passenger station at Westfield, and rolled off the platform with a thud. His assailant was a negro named Jackson (not the celebrated pugilist) and the provocation was offensive language used by Pfeifer respecting Jackson. The blow was on the left cheek of Pfeifer and terrific, splitting the face. Pfeifer came to time promptly and went for Jackson, clinching and throwing him, Pfeifer on top, but Tom Casey and Tom Kelly, two sons of Erin, were on the spot and took Pfeifer off, otherwise the darkey would have been pummelled to a finish.

Pfeifer went to the Esquire and entered a formal complaint against Jackson, who will probably be sent up for assault and battery. Several persons who witnessed the assault regard it as a gross breach of the peace, and think that in the interest of law and order, Jackson should be punished to the full extent of the statute. Pfeifer is a light weight, and apparently had no warning of the ugly blow. Pfeifer is a German and the colored man a native Jerseyman. Pfeifer was sober, but Jackson was in liquor.

A Tour of the Plainfield Bicyclers.

It has long been the desire of the officers of the Plainfield Bicycle club to arrange for a tour embracing several days. Owing, however, to the holidays coming singly, the chance has only now presented itself, and three days easy touring around Boston and vicinity has been arranged for.

The party will leave New York on Thursday, July 3 (full moon July 2) by Steamer Puritan, Fall River Line, foot of Murray street, at 5:30 P. M., and return by same steamer on Sunday, July 6. Those wishing to avail themselves of this tour will kindly notify Captain F. L. C. Martin by June 27, so that he can make the necessary arrangements. The entire cost will be about $25.

Captain Grant and the Gamblers.

Police Captain Grant was notified at noon, yesterday, that two men, one white and the other colored, were seated along the railroad track near Boice's coal yard, playing cards for money. The officer stole quietly along the track, until he reached a point directly opposite the gamblers, and crossing over surprised the men, who were busily engaged playing cards. Each man had a stack of pennies in front of him, but as soon as they saw the officer they gobbled up the money, scaled a fence and made their escape into Madison avenue, closely followed by the officer. Captain Grant succeeded in capturing forty-two of the playing cards.

His First Offence a Big One.

Lawrence Heffernan, who for the past few weeks has been amusing himself with another able-bodied man doing a boy's work in dragging a foolish road scraper on the main streets, got full last night and violated the ordinance relating to the morals and peace of the city, in three particulars.

Officer Laine took him in after a struggle in which Heffernan got a hit on the head for kicking and striking the policeman. It was his first offence, so Judge Codington only fined him $15 for being drunk and resisting an officer, but held him in $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury on a more serious charge. The accused's father went his bail and helped him pay his fine.

The Shot Gun the Best Remedy.

One of our facetious exchanges remarks that "these are the mornings to get up early and hear the larks larking, and see the swallows swallowing." It does not say anything about the annoying little sparrow sitting on the pea vines in the garden making his breakfast, dinner, and supper off the tender leaves and blossoms. But there isn't much to be said in that direction. The situation calls for prussic acid and a double-barreled gun.

A Desperate Dog Fight.

A dog fight took place last evening at the corner of Grant avenue and Second street between a bull dog and a black retriever which lasted fully half an hour and until some of the residents in the neighborhood interfered. The black dog won the battle owing to its superior strength thus keeping the bull dog on the ground all the time.

The Parochial School Picnic.

The scholars of St. Mary's parochial school held a picnic in Stelle's woods, yesterday, about 200 being in attendance. During the day the boys played base ball, and the girls enjoyed themselves in various ways. Refreshments were served by the Sisters of the school.

Real Estate Transfer.

George Thatcher and wife of Plainfield, yesterday transferred to Alfred E. Pearsall, of Westfield, 118x736 feet of land on Jerusalem road, which runs from Westfield to Scotch Plains, for $4,500.

—Christopher Myers of Emily street, North Plainfield, took a "header" from his bicycle, on Somerset street, yesterday about ten minutes to one while returning from dinner to Scott Press Works, where he is employeed. "Chris" escaped injury, but his bicycle was broken.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

He'll Place Every Offender in the Hands of the Law.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Bicycle riding on the sidewalks of our streets seems to be indulged in more extensively than ever, and to my mind it is high time that measures were taken to have the nuisance stopped.

In your Saturday's issue our attention is again called to an every day occurrence: "A lady narrowly escaped being knocked down by a young man riding a bicycle on the sidewalk."

I do not wish to curtail the pleasures of any, but if these young men (some of them I know to be members of the Plainfield Bicycle Club,) will persist in indulging in this pastime, which is a positive danger to life and limb of the pedestrian, I warn them that I for one, will endeavor to have every offender placed in the hands of the law.

CHARLES A. LEE,
50 Grove street.

Plainfield, June 23.

Literary Note.

The July number of the Cosmopolitan magazine departs from its usual make-up and devotes itself largely to fiction, travel and sports. A new Southern writer, Robert Yulee Toombs, of Georgia, comes to the front with one of the most spirited sketches of Southern life et published. Julian Hawthorne presents a curious study of the Boston girl, asking of her in his title page: "Was it Typical?" Eleanor Sherman Thackara, a daughter of General W. T. Sherman, appears for the first time in the literary world in a discussion of Three Great Philadelphia Training Schools; and Mrs. Roger A. Pryor considers the constitution of American Society in an interesting way. Trout Fishing in Lake Edward, and the actual experiences of "Trapping a Grizzly," will interest the hunter who proposes to roam the mountain-ridges during the Summer. Arthur Sherburne Hardy, one of the most distinguished graduates of the Military Academy, and the author of "Passe Rose," which received last year such favorable criticism in all English speaking countries, will start this month for Japan, with the intention of preparing for The Cosmopolitan, some articles on the military forces of that country, to be completely illustrated by photographs and sketches.

No Foreigners Need Apply.

Governor Abbett has signed Assembly bill 477, which prohibits any sheriff of a county, mayor of a city, or other person authorized by law to appoint special deputy sheriffs, special constables, marshals, detectives, policemen or other peace officers in this State, to preserve the public peace and prevent or quell public disturbance, from appointing as such special deputy, special constable, marshal, police or other officer, any person who is not a citizen of the State of New Jersey, and no person shall assume or exercise the functions, powers, duties or privileges incident and belonging to the office of special deputy sheriff, special constable, marshal or policeman, or other peace officer, without having first received his appointment in writing from the lawfully constituted authorities of the State.

The bill also provides for a $500 fine and a year's imprisonment for anyone convicted of violating its provisions.

—Watermelons have appeared, and the coming of George Washington Boerum may be expected in town, any day.

—There will be a meeting of the teachers of the Crescent Avenue Sunday school to-morrow evening at nine o'clock, to discuss the subject of an excursion and other matters. All teachers are earnestly requested to be present.

—Complaint has been made to the borough authorities against a party of boys who amused themselves last evening by throwing stones and mud up against Tier's iced cream pavillion. The matter will be investigated

Killed in a Railroad Wreck.

FREDERICKTON, Pa., June 24.—An express train was wrecked on the Reading railroad, near here, during the morning. Engineer Lawrence Hiller, Fireman George Hiller, both of Reading, and Baggage Master George Hamilton of Pottsville, were killed. Several passengers were injured.

Drowned While Intoxicated.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 24.—A dispatch from Rochester reports the drowning there of Annie McKinney, alias Mrs. Haley, in Irondequoit Bay, while out boating with Albert J. Aspenleiter, a married man. They were under the influence of liquor and the boat capsized. Aspenleiter was rescued.

First Catch Your Hare

Reads an old recipe; that's well enough in Culinary matters, but it dosen't do to wait until you Cut, Scald or Burn yourself, and then run for a bottle of CARL KAERTH'S

"Instantaneous Liniment."

A much wiser plan is to spend 25c., and keep a bottle in the house.

Ask your Druggist for it.

Has no equal for CUTS, BURNS, SCALDS, RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA. For sale at all Drug Stores or at the FACTORY, 16 E. 2d St. 4-3-tf

THE PRINCE A PEER

Albert Victor Takes His Seat in the House of Lords.

THE PRINCE OF WALES PRESENT

A Glittering Array of Officials Decked Out in Magnificent Attire.

The Government Withdraws the Licensing Clause—Brazil's Constitution Promulgated—Progress of the Cholera—An English Syndicate to Buy American Gas Works—King Mwaga Converted.

LONDON, June 24.—The House of Lords was filled with peers and other privileged persons last night on the occasion of the administration of the peer's oath to the newly created Duke of Clarence (Prince Albert Victor of Wales).

The Queen's message to the Lords formally announcing the bestowal of the ducal rank upon the Prince and establishing his status in the order of precedence was read, by which it is ordered that he take precedence after the Duke of of Connaught, but before the Duke of Albany.

The procession then entered, headed by Admiral Sir James R. Drummond, gentleman usher of the Black Rod, followed by the Duke of Clarence with his sponsor, the Prince of Wales, his father, and the Duke of Edinburgh, his uncle, in ducal robes.

After the usual formalities, the Duke of Clarence took the peer's oath and signed the rolls. He was then conducted to the bar, where he bowed thrice to the throne, the Lord High Chancellor acknowledging the salute. He was next conducted to the chair of state, and shook hands with the Lord Chancellor, soon after which he withdrew.

WITHDRAWN BY THE TORIES.

Abandonment of the Licensing Clause of the Government Bill.

LONDON, June 24.—During the sitting of the House of Commons last night Right Hon. William Henry Smith, the Government leader, announced that the Government had decided to withdraw the licensing clause of the Local Taxation bill.

Mr. Caine, member for Barrow-in-Furness, with the view of testing the feeling of his electorate on the subject, resigned his seat last night and will seek a re-election on an anti compensation programme.

At a meeting of temperance leaders a manifesto was adopted which declares that the Government's scheme is worse than worthless. The plan proposed, it says, is entirely misleading, the principle of compensation being really left untouched. The party will continue its strenuous opposition to the measure, relying upon the country for support.

The action of the Government is denounced by Tory papers.

BRAZIL'S CONSTITUTION.

Its Federal System Based on that of the United States.

RIO JANEIRO, June 24.—The new Constitution has been promulgated. It recognizes a federal system based upon that of the United States. The President alone is responsible to the nation. The Ministers are replaced by Secretaries of State, who are answerable to the President alone. Parliament will consist of a House of Representatives and a Senate. The powers of these two bodies will be of a purely legislative character, and an adverse vote by either chamber will not entail a change of Ministry.

A new House of Representatives will be elected triennially, and a new Senate every nine years. The President's term of office will be six years. The first Presidential election by Congress is fixed for November.

Fishermen Indignant.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 24.—A special dispatch from Canso says a large fleet of vessels have arrived there within twenty-four hours. Some have searched the coast from Cape Gaspar and others from Cape Sable seeking bait and finding none. At this season they have been wont to go to Newfoundland for bait, and are highly indignant at Newfoundland's imposition of a license fee which practically prohibits British as well as American fishermen from obtaining bait in British waters.

Bismarck Makes a Speech.

BERLIN, June 24.—Prince Bismarck received a deputatian of citizens of Berlin, who presented him with an address. The ex-Chancellor, in speaking to his visitors, maintained that it was his right and duty to express freely his opinions regarding public events, and declared that he would not give way even if he stood alone. He declined to criticise the Anglo-German treaty in regard to East African territory.

O'Connor Loses the Sculling Race.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 24.—An immense crowd witnessed the rowing match between James Stansbury, of New South Wales, and William O'Connor, of Toronto, Canada, champion oarsman of America, which took place on the Paramatta River. The race was won by Stansbury.

To Buy American Gas Works.

LONDON, June 24.—A syndicate of American capitalists and British bankers has been formed, with Sir J. Goldsmid, M. P., as chairman, for the purpose of buying the gas works of the principal American cities. The capital has been underwritten and the company will shortly be floated.

The Pope to be His Sponsor.

ROME, June 24.—The Vatican has been informed by Cardinal Lavigerie that his missionaries have converted King Mwaga, of Uganda, to Catholicism. The ceremony of baptising his dusky Majesty will shortly be performed, the Pope becoming his sponsor.

Cholera in Naples.

ROME, June 24.—Asiatic cholera is rapidly becoming epidemic in Naples. The doctors say that two-thirds of the city will have to be pulled down and the entire sewerage system revolutionized to prevent a constant return of the scourge.

STAMPING!

PROMPTLY EXECUTED.

FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC.

"Silent Be! Again the Cat!"

"Why do you call it 'The CAT?'"

"That is the American for CATFORD PREMIER."

"Why do you say 'Again the CAT?'"

"Because it has again made a record."

"What is it?"

"108 miles in 7 hours and 25 minutes."

"Whew!"

"Well may you 'Whew!' It has never been beaten."

"Where was it made?"

"In England. From London to Brighton and back, to beat the coaching record."

"Did it do it?"

"Yes, beat it by 25 minutes."

"How was the coaching record made?"

"By twenty relays of horses kept on a dead run the entire distance."

"Why can the CATFORD PREMIER SAFETY BICYCLE be ridden so fast?"

"Because it weighs but 33 pounds and is the easiest running Safety in the World!"

"What is the price?"

"$140."

"Isn't that a leetle more than other Safeties?"

"Yes. $5 more, but it's cheaper at twice the money. We will tell you why later on. Watch this column."

A BULL FIGHT FIRST

Virginia's Sporting Resort Under Police Protection.

PREPARING FOR BIG CONTESTS.

The Sullivan and Jackson Mill to Take Place as Soon as Possible.

The Champion Pugilist Let Off With a Fine—He Makes a Speech and Thanks the Mississippi Judge—The La Blanche-Mitchell Fight Declared Off on Account of Police Interference.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Sullivan-Jackson fight when it comes off, it is said now, will take place very near the National Capitol. The fight, it is said, is to take place under the auspices of the Virginia Athletic Association on the Virginia shore of the Potomac near Washington.

Some months ago a good deal of comment was caused by the enactment of a law by the Virginia Legislature which incorporated an athletic club and gave the officers of the club omnipotent powers as to its grounds and property. It is stated to-day that the club has purchased the property lying between this city and Alexandria, known as the Gentlemen's Driving Park, and propose to erect thereon a fine club house and such other buildings as may be necessary. The work of construction is to commence at once, and the management has announced its intention to have the Sullivan-Jackson fight take place there.

They say they can do this without interference, for the law plainly states that no sheriff or police officer has any jurisdiction over the property of the club. The only remedy is the repeal of the law, and for this purpose a special session of the Legislature would have to be called. The Virginia Legislature—a biennial body—does not meet in regular session for nearly two years.

The management has intimated that the opening performance at their new grounds will be a bull fight. This proposition would bring out all the objection that could possibly be made, and the matter would then have to be settled by the courts, which, the incorporators say and appear to believe, would uphold the law as passed by the last Legislature.

SULLIVAN IS FREE.

The Champion Escapes With a Fine and Thanks the Mississippi Judge.

PURVIS, Miss., June 25.—Champion John L. Sullivan pleaded guilty to the indictment of prize fighting and was fined $500, which he immediately paid and was liberated.

When arraigned Sullivan responded "Guilty" in a firm voice.

To the Judge he said: "Your Honor, please may I address the Court?"

"The Court would be pleased to hear you," replied Judge Terrall.

Sullivan proceeded: "In entering this plea of guilty I do so with an humbleness of heart, and ask for the leniency of the Court. I realize the fact that I have done wrong, and violated the laws of Mississippi. But I assure Your Honor that it was unintentional on my part, and it will never occur again.

"Since the beginning of this trouble I have suffered punishments which have told upon me severely, and I beseech the Court to be as light as possible in this unfortunate affair. I remain your obedient servant, John L. Sullivan."

After the Judge imposed the sentence the champion thanked the Court and shook hands with the District-Attorney.

Sullivan will remain in this vicinity a few days, visiting friends. He will then start for the North.

After leaving the court room, Sullivan was met by several of his bosom friends, who congratulated him on his escape from imprisonment. They then adjourned to a neighboring hostelry, where they had a jollification meeting. It was generally conceded that the result of the trial would have been different had not Prosecuting Attorney Neville favored the big fellow.

The Mitchell-Blanche Fight Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The fight between La Blanche and Young Mitchell, which was to have taken place here Friday of this week, has been declared off. The cause most generally assigned is the recent declaration of the chief of police that he would arrest the principals and seconds when they entered the ring.

A Big Corporation.

TRENTON, N. J., June 25.—The largest concern ever incorporated in New Jersey is the American Gas Investment Company, which filed its certificate with the Secretary of State. The fee amounted to $10,040, the capital stock of the company being $50,200,000.

Betsinger Sentenced.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 25.—Nicholas M. Betsinger, the well known Marcellus Falls apiarist, convicted of assault upon his adopted daughter, was sentenced to the Auburn State prison for fourteen years and ten months. A motion for a new trial was denied.

Shot by a Saloon Keeper.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25.—Dennis Crowley was shot and mortally wounded last night by Joseph Beucher in front of the latter's saloon at Fourth street and Girard avenue. The cause of the shooting was Crowley's intimacy with Mrs. Beucher.

Cornell Won.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25.—The Yale-Cornell-Columbia Freshmen's boat race on the Thames last evening was won by Cornell, time 11:16½; Yale second, time 11:25; Columbia third, time 11:29.

A MYSTERY STILL.

The Dunbar Rescuers Fail to Reach the Entombed Miners.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 25.—The whereabouts and conditions of the entombed miners are mysteries still.

The rescuers seem satisfied with the progress made to-day. The course of the diggers was again slightly changed. This has been construed as another evidence that those in charge of the work are confused and to an extent lost.

The diggers themselves disagree as to their location, and seemingly are so completely lost as ever was an exploring party. They may find themselves at any moment. They may not locate themselves for a week. But little confidence is placed in the predictions of the mine inspectors. The cold fact is they don't know. No one knows.

This uncertainty, waiting and watching, is burning out the very lives of the families of the unfortunates.

BEATEN TO DEATH.

A Travelling Man Decoyed to a Park by a Woman.

OTTAWA, Ill., June 25.—David N. Moore, a traveling man from Massachusetts, was decoyed to Allen park last night by Mrs. George Ford and a man by the name of Gary, and brutally beaten to death with a coupling pin. The body when found in the morning presented a horrible appearance, and the pockets were turned inside out.

His jewelry, consisting of a diamond pin and ring, was missing, but in an inner pocket of his vest, securely fastened with safety pins, was found $140 in currency.

Mrs. Ford was seen at an early hour walking nervously about the streets, tearing up a memorandum book and throwing it away. The cover and the pieces of the book were gathered up and identified as belonging to Moore. When confronted with these evidences, the woman broke down and made a confession which resulted in her arrest and the arrest of her husband and Gary an hour later.

NEW YORK REFORMERS.

A Movement Started by Citizens to Nominate a Municipal Ticket.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The gentlemen who are engineering the non-partisan municipal reform movement started by Rev. Heber Newton, Father Ducey, Jesse Seligman and others, held their first public meeting at the Windsor Hotel last night. There was a large representation from the Produce Exchange, the Reform Club, the Lawyers' Municipal Reform Club and various labor organizations. It was resolved to appoint a committee of 75 to nominate a municipal ticket. Resolutions in favor of an entire removal of the city administration from the domain of State and national politics were adopted.

Pennsylvania Republicans.

HARRISBURG, June 25.—The Pennsylvania Republican convention was called to order this morning at 11 o'clock. United States District Attorney Lyon, of Pittsburg, will be selected for permanent chairman this afternoon. The platform will endorse Senator Quay, favor the proposed Federal Election Law, the per diem pension bill, the border raid claims bill, the McKinley tariff bill, a secret ballot law, protection of American labor and exclusion of contract foreign labor. It will also endorse President Harrison, Governor Beaver and Senator Cameron.

Break in the Cloakmakers' Lockout.

NEW YORK, June 25—A break has occurred in the cloakmakers' lockout. Popkins & Marks, of the association of cloak firms, have surrendered to the terms of the locked out workmen. The latter will go back to work at once and will be paid in full for the time they have been out. This breaks the backbone of the lockout, and it is only a matter of a short time when the other firms will yield.

Class Day at Trinity College.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 25.—The class day exercises of the graduating class of Trinity College were held on the campus. The president of the day was Gilbert P. Coleman, of Cincinnati, who delivered the president's address. He was followed by E. A. Bulkley, of Hartford, who read the class history; Warren McComb, of Troy, N. Y., the class poet, and orator of the day, John Williams, of Seymour, Conn.

A. O. U. W. Officers Elected.

BOSTON, June 25.—The Supreme Lodge American Order of United Workmen has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: S. M. W., Wm. W. Wilson, Detroit; S. F., J. W. Kingsley, Helena; S. O., J. E. Burt, Boston; S. R. D., M. W. Sackett, Meadville, Pa.; S. Rec., J. J. Acker, Albany, N. Y.; S. G., L. P. Young, Jr., Lexington, Ky.; S. W., W. M. Butts, Baltimore; S. Med. Gr., H. Doherty, Boston; S. F., L. W. Troy, Chicago; S. F., W. Totten, Woodstock, Ont.; S. F., J. J. Tate, Gd. Island, Mich.

The Sugar Trust Defeated.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 25.—The Court of Appeals handed down a decision denying the appeal of the Sugar Trust. The decision is a death blow to the gigantic combination. The lawyers of the big corporation are anxiously awaiting the full text of the opinion, and will not venture a surmise until they have had time to digest the findings of the Judges of the Court of Appeals.

Editor Cowles Convalescent.

MONTREAL, June 25.—Eugene Cowles, of Cleveland, who was shot by his brother-in-law, Hale, is now convalescent, and it is expected will be able to leave the hospital in a few days. It is understood he will return to Cleveland to fight the divorce suit instituted by his wife.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Census Superintendent's Official Estimates.

HE IS PLEASED WITH THE WORK

Returns From All the Large Cities to be Tabulated First.

A Broader Substitute to be Reported for the Original Package Bill—The President Invests in Washington Property—Voting on the Silver Bill To-day—The New Sergeant-at-Arms.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Census Office will tabulate the returns from the large cities before commencing work on the smaller cities and towns. Superintendent Porter has already made public the official figurts showing the population of Washington, and New York will be thus favored. The reports from Philadelphia show that the work there has been very efficiently performed, and the population of that city will soon be given out to the press. None of the Boston schedules have yet been received, but this is explained on the ground that the entire State of Massachusetts is included in one district.

Mr. Porter is greatly pleased with the work his subordinates have performed, which has been, he says, both thorough and expeditious. There have been complaints, he adds, of carelessness on the part of certain enumerators throughout the country, but such complaints are to be expected, especially in communities desirous of making a good showing, and are, after all, few in number and generally insignificant in character.

ORIGINAL PACKAGE BILL.

A Broader Substitute Will be Reported by the House Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The House Committee on the Judiciary, after having under consideration for four meetings the Senate Original Package bill, has decided to report to the House in its stead a substitute agreed on by the Committee with one dissenting voice.

It is broader in scope than the Senate bill, inasmuch as its provisions apply to all articles of inter-state commerce, whereas the Senate bill applies only to intoxicating liquors. The substitute is as follows:

"That whenever any article of commerce is imported into any State from any other State, Territory or foreign nation, and there held or offered for sale, the same shall then be subject to the laws of such State, provided that no discrimination shall be made by any State in favor of its citizens against those of other States in respect to the sale of any article of commerce, nor in favor of its own products against those of like character produced in other States; nor shall the transportation of commerce through any State be obstructed except in the necessary enforcement of the health laws of such State."

Representative Reed, of Iowa, will prepare the report on the bill, and Representative Adams, who voted against the bill, will probably make a minority report.

The President's Investment.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Harrison and his family are showing their confidence in Washington real estate by investing in it. During the last two or three days both the President and members of his family have been making some rather extensive investments. The President is a member of a syndicate that recently purchased a large tract of suburban property on the Potomac River near Cabin John's Bridge. A beautiful little hotel has been erected and will be opened soon by the proprietor of the Senate restaurant, and villa sites are being offered for sale.

The New Sergeant-at-Arms.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sergeant-at-Arms-elect Valentine is expected here from Nebraska by the end of the week. He will take his place on next Monday and will be confronted at the beginning of his term by a movement to materially reduce the Senate roll of employes under a resolution introduced by Senator Edmunds. Notice has been served on the expectant that they have no show of success in applying for places.

Mongolians Near the Boundary Line.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A dispatch from San Diego, Cal., says: "A scout named Ah Lung, who had been sent out from a Chinese camp located about four miles below the boundary line, was captured last night and turned over to the authorities at this place for trial. There are said to be about 50 Chinamen in the camp from which Ah Lung came. They are watching an opportunity to steal in."

The Silver Bill in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, by a vote of 6 to 5, decided to report the Silver bill back to the House with a recommendation that the Senate amendments be non-concurred in and a conference be asked. The indications are that before the end of to-day's session the Silver bill will be disposed of in the House.

Wants a Murderer Bailed.

STAMFORD, Conn., June 25.—Ex-State Attorney J. M. Olmstead will to-morrow argue a singular case in Bridgeport. He will make an effort to secure bail for Thomas Holleran, of this place, who is in jail at Bridgeport charged with murder in the first degree in causing the death of Thomas Plunkett some months ago. This is the first time that an effort has been made to get bail for a man who is charged with murder in the first degree.

BY THE WAY.

—Everybody is anxiously waiting for Saturday's ball game.

—The weather was too warm and sultry, last evening, for comfort.

—Picnic at Amphion Hall, to-morrow night. Music by Prof. Guttman. Dancing commences at 8 o'clock.

—The Fanwood and Westfield base ball teams are contesting in a friendly match game on the grounds of the latter club, this afternoon.

—The clerks of this city will hold a meeting in the rooms of the Jr. O. U. A. M., corner of Front street and Park avenue, this evening at eight o'clock.

—Mr. N. H. Guttman, of No. 12 West Second street, offers a superior brand of segars known as the "American Belle," which he says cannot be excelled.

—Messrs Marsh & Ayers, the painters and decorators. have received the contract for painting Borough Councilman Hegeman's new house on Willow avenue, North Plainfield.

—The scholars of the Misses Bigelo w's class gave a musicale at the home of Mrs. J. J. Coard on Putnam avenue, Monday evening, that was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended.

—There will be good trotting on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association, on Saturday afternoon, when the three races postponed from Saturday last on account of the rain, will take place.

—At a meeting of the New Brunswick Bowling Green Club, held in Mr. H. B. Willis's office, George street, New Brunswick, on Saturday night, it was decided to contest a game with the Dunellen Club on July 12.

—The Cranford Boating Association will hold its first regatta of the present season on Saturday. It is the intention of the association to give a number of regattas and Venetian carnivals during the Summer.

—Kezia A. Todd and husband of Plainfield, yesterday transferred to Walter Withey, of Dunellen, land in Plainfield on Northwest side of Dunellen avenue and Southeast side of Front street, 100x300 feet, for $1,500.

—The Democratic State Executive Committee held a meeting at the Trenton House, yesterday, and made up their list of the County Boards of Registration. They will probably be submitted to the Governor today.

—The Board of Education, Monday evening, instructed its clerk to transmit to Franklin Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, of this city, the thanks of the Board for the beautiful flag presented by the Order, to Franklin school.

—The Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein will hold a grand picnic and Summer night's festival in Keller's grove, North Plainfield, on July 4. The members are allowed to invite only particular friends. If stormy, the festival will be held in the Gesang and Turner Hall.

—The Central Railroad of New J rsey's Sandy Hook route to Long Branch, Seabright and other Jersey coast points is starting out with nearly double the travel that it had last year at this time. Nearly all the staterooms on the boats have already been chartered for the season.

—The Seventh Day's Gypsy Carnival last night was an unusual success as such things go, but not unusual for those who arranged and carried it out. Over 300 paid their way in at the gate, besides a large number that walked in unnoticed by the ticket seller, or through the "back way."

—Messrs Vanderbeek and Sattels of Park avenue, are the only authorized agents in this city for the celebrated Bush & Gerts upright pianos, which are manufactured at Chicago. The agents have some of the instruments on hand which are highly polished and with elegantly carved panels.

Parade of the Grand Army Men.

On Saturday evening, June 26, Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, and their invited guests from Philadelphia, one hundred strong, will parade through the streets of the city according to the following route, the line forming on East Front street; thence to Peace street, to Crescent avenue, to Park avenue, to Front street, to Madison avenue, to Second street, to Amphion Hall, where a collation will be served.

The visitors will arrive in a special train at 7:54 o'clock, and will leave for home about midnight.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ex-Councilman W. R. Potts and family of this city, will spend the Summer at Pomfret Centre, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Allen of West Sixth street are the happy parents of a boy baby, whose age will be recorded from Sunday last.

An eloquent temperance orator, the Rev. A. A. Phelps, will entertain the audience at Reform Hall to-morrow evening at eight o'clock. The programme will contain many interesting features. Admission free. All are invited.

Assemblyman Fred C. Marsh returned to Elizabeth on Monday after a few weeks' rest at Provincetown, Mass. He was warmly congratulated by his friends on his improved appearance. He has gained ten pounds during his short vacation.

Wm. P. Burr a well-known and respected resident of Burlington, died very suddenly while on a visit to his son, T. S. Burr, of LaGrande avenue, this city, yesterday morning. The deceased was 82 years of age, and heart failure is though to have caused his death.

The High School Class of '90 were the guests of Miss Minnie Jackson French, one of their number, at her home on Craig place, yesterday afternoon and evening. The coming Commencement and its arrangements were talked over and a tempting supper served. Miss French proved herself a perfect young hostess.

It is much to the credit of the pupils of the High school, that all who have this year taken entrance examinations for college, have passed them successfully and without condition. Of these, Alfred Holmes, Edward C. Petrie, Edward J. Patterson and Walter R. Darby, will enter Princeton college. Edmund P. Nischwitz goes to Rutgers, and Miss Caroline F. Randolph to Wellesley.

The last sad funeral rites following the death of the late Mrs. Cornelia Pearsall, widow of the late James. A. Morris, who died on Sunday morning, took place from the residence of her son-in-law, Robert C. Dingee, No. 25 East Fifth street, at half-past seven o'clock last evening, in the presence of many of the relatives and near friends of the family. The Rev. E. M. Rodman officiated. Today the remains were taken to Greenwood for interment.

The American Potters' Journal published at Trenton, contains in its issue of June 14, a column account of a presentation to Manager Wm. Tams, by the employees of the Greenwood Pottery. The occasion was also for the purpose of an expression of good wishes towards their employer upon his recent marriage to Councilman Moffett's daughter of this city. The men presented a handsome piece of statuary and a gold headed cane, with a speech of praise and esteem. The ladies of the warerooms showed their admiration in a floral tribute.

Charles Bullman has just returned from the Choco, Republic of Colombia, via Isthmus of Panama, and is at his home on Third place. During his absence he penetrated into parts of country never before visited by white men, and discovered unworked mines rich in gold and other ores. He was sent as a scientific explorer and expert by a syndicate of capitalists who have secured large grants and mining privileges from the native kings and queens. Mr. Bullman himself owns a half-interest in one of the richest of these mines.

Among the passengers by steamer "Teutonic," at eleven o'clock this morning, for Europe, were the Rev. Dr. Ketcham, of this city, and the youngest two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Yates. They expect to be back by August 27, and Dr. Ketcham has promised to preach to his people again on the last Sunday of that month. Secretary Blaine has furnished the party with letters of introduction to all the foreign diplomatic corps, and Governor Abbett has sent letters to Minister Lincoln and others. Dr. Ketcham and the Misses Yates will visit London, Paris, Rome, Switzerland and all the most interesting features en route, including Vesuvius.

Will Visit Plainfield First.

An informal meeting of the County Board of Assessors was held in Elizabeth recently, to discuss the work of the Assessors in the various sections of Union county.

The Assessor from Elizabeth made a motion that a special committee be appointed to investigate the property valuations in Summit Township. This motion was amended by Assessor Hughes to provide for the appointment of a committee to visit every part of Union county. The motion in this form was adopted and the committee was appointed and will commence their work on the first Monday in July, visiting Plainfield first.

Before the City Judge.

Thomas Manly, an old man, apparently a tramp, was arrested by Officer Flanagan, last evening, for being drunk and disorderly. This morning he was compelled to pay a fine of five dollars or spend ten days in the County Jail.

William Walvron of Bound Brook, was gathered in by Officer Lynch, for a similar offence. He also paid a $5 fine imposed by Judge Codington.

An Accident at the Draw.

On account of an accident at the Newark Bay draw bridge, yesterday afternoon, travel over the Central Railroad at that point was delayed for about an hour, and the commuters from this city were in consequence late in arriving home.

THE BOROUGH'S SHAME.

Not Only Does a House of Ill Fame Still Prosper in Its Midst, but the Proprietor is Now Guilty of a Greater Crime.

It is about time the authorities of North Plainfield "got a move on them," as the boys say. The house of ill fame that yet exists and seems to prosper in the Borough, must go. For weeks the proprietor has been allowed to pursue his ungodly trade undisturbed, to sell liquor unlicensed and to violate every written and unwritten law that protects the morals and provides for the peace of the people. This immunity has made him bold, and to his other crimes he has now added that of procurer.

In the beginning there was, and is yet, two boarders at the house, but generous patronage induced the proprietor to secure more guests. Monday he went to the employment agency, at the corner of Clinton and Stanton streets, New York, and said he wanted a first-class cook for a wealthy family in Plainfield. Pretty Anna Feld pleased his eye. She is about 25 years of age, handsome in figure, dressed with a great deal of taste, and is engaged to a gentlemen of Newark. The man offered her such an easy place with large wages, and so pictured the charms of Plainfield as a residence place, that she went to her home at 151 Stanton street, packed up her clothes at once and brought them with her that afternoon when she came to this city and was driven to the North Plainfield resort.

In a very few minutes Anna was convinced of the nature of the house and the kind of position offered her. She demanded to be taken back at once. Recognizing the courage of the woman, and fearing she might arouse the neighbors or make a complaint herself, the man soon ceased his efforts at persuasion and brought her to Plainfield, where she engaged supper and lodging for the night. The man wrote on the register opposite the number of her room, "Charles Smith and wife, Cooperberry," and then left. The hotel employees testify that nobody entered the room but the woman.

By the 5:38 train the next morning, Miss Feld left for New York city, much shocked mentally and physically by the terrible experience she had passed through. With many a shudder she told Officer Cooney the story of her falling into the villain's clutches and her fortunate escape. It has all been reported to Capt. Grant, and if the matter was within his jurisdiction something would be done at once. It seems as if evidence of an illegal sale of liquor and the keeping of a disorderly house, might be easily procured. Certainly sufficient for a charge before a Justice, an arrest and a consequent notoriety that would frighten patrons from frequenting the place, and cause its inmates to leave for a cooler neighborhood.

For the Base Ball Championship of the State.

The managers of the Crescent League ball team have arranged for games with all the representative clubs of New Jersey so that at the end of the season the record will show who are the State champions. Already New Brunswick's big team has fallen before the Crescents, the N. J. A. C., have confessed they are no match for Plainfield, and Somerville's nine has proven by their talk and walk, they are afraid.

Having thus destroyed all lien that New Brunswick, Bergen Point or Somerville might have had on the State Championship, the Crescents will proceed to also beat out of sight, if they can, other claimants, Next Saturday will witness another game for the championship of New Jersey, on the Crescent League grounds. The visitors will be the best nine the city of Trenton can send. It promises to be a good game.

On July 9, the Newark league team will play here, and a date is being arranged with the Jersey Citys. The close of the season will thus show how near the top the Plainfield team ranks in New Jersey.

Officers Elected.

The Independent Order of Odd Ladies of this city, on Monday evening, elected officers as follows:

Noble Grand—Mrs. Demarest.
Vice Grand—Mrs. Drake.
P. L.—Mrs. Buckley.
Treasurer—Mrs. Brokaw.
Secretary—Mrs. Brown.
L. P.—Mrs. Lockrey.
Right—Mrs. Bolsterli.
Left—Mrs. Kurzhals.
Trustees—Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Buckley, and Mrs. Kurzhals.
Guardian—Mrs. Wright.
Senior Representatives—Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Westphal.
Senior Warden—Mrs. Karman.
Junior Warden—Mrs. Cox.
Financial Secretary—Mrs. Schucks.

The officers will be publicly installed early in July.

To Be Fraternal in Habitation, Also.

At Anchor Lodge last evening, the resolution was unanimously adopted that Jerusalem had already approved, authorizing the trustees of the Lodge to meet with the trustees of all other masonic organizations in this city, and consider the formation of a Masonic Hall Association. If such a plan is arranged, all will share one Hall thereafter.

Nearly a Runaway.

The left front wheel on one of C. K. Compton's confectionery wagons came off on North avenue, about eight o'clock last evening, but the presence of mind on the part of the driver, probably prevented a disastrous runaway. The horses were stopped at the corner of Park and North avenues.

Entered Into Rest.

At his home on Duer street, North Plainfield, at twenty minutes past one o'clock this afternoon, occurred the death of Raynor Tunison, son of the late George Tunison, aged about twenty-two years. The deceased was a victim of consumption from which he had been suffering for a long time.

Mr. Tunison was a member of the Trinity Reformed church. He was also a member of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, members of which society ministered to his wants in his last days. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

A Clerical Family.

The Rev. C. B. Mitchell, of this city, was one of the speakers at the Sunday School Convention, in Asbury Park. The Journal of that place says he stated that his father with six of his brothers, and seven brothers of his mother, were ministers.

This is all true, and more. Not only were Mr. Mitchell's father and all his thirteen uncles, ministers, but both his grandfathers were, too, and everyone of the sixteen good Methodists.

A Rare Vacation at Little Cost.

Seven young men from this vicinity have fully decided to go to the Y. M. C. A. encampment of college students to be held at Northfield, June 28 to July 9. Other young men are considering the matter and will probably attend for some portion of the time. Information concerning the camp will be cheerfully given by W. D. Murray, Jr., Jos. A Robinson, Alfred E. Holmes, Charles B. Brown or at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Have you got salt-rheum or tetter,
Scrofula or fever-sores?
You will never be the better
For your faith in quackish bores.
Seek from nature's store the treasure
That will save you from the grave,
And give blessings with at measure—
Not to fool, or quack, or knave.

But to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the world-famed cure for the above diseases. It is guaranteed to cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Celebration by French Canadians.

Woonsocket, R. I., June 25.—The French-Canadians of New England celebrated St. John's Day in an imposing manner. There was a large influx of people, about 50,000 strangers being in town. The decorations were elaborate and general. All business was suspended. In this city during the morning there was a parade of 73 societies with 20 bands of music. The procession marched in seven divisions. There was also a trade procession with allegorical cars. After the parade a gigantic picnic was given at Villa Nova Park.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

First: Syrups made from so-called Fruit Essences are little better than POISON.

Second: Syrups made from Bottled Juices are harmless but insipid.

Third: Syrups made from Fresh Fruit are very much better, especially

Fourth: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

"GYPSY CARNIVAL."

A Novel and Attractive Programme Rendered at the Entertainment. A List of Those Who Took Part.

The spacious lawns of Messrs Charles Potter, Jr., and R. M. Titsworth on West Seventh street, were brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, chinese lanterns, etc., last evening, on the occasion of the "Gypsy Carnival," given under the auspices of the Ladies' Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church.

The beauty of the grounds was also enhanced by Japanese decorations. Booths for the serving of iced cream, cake and strawberries, were located at convenient points, and on the whole the entertainment was most creditably arranged, and successfully carried out. The attendance was large, likewise the receipts.

During the evening a programme of scenes in gypsy life was given, introducing solos by Mrs. G. E. Stillman, Robert Gorton and Mr. and Mrs. D. E Titsworth, followed by a gypsy chorus by the young people in costume. "The Magic Mirror," an admirable production, was read by Miss Anna Titsworth, in which was presented to W. C. Hubbard, under the influence of the magic Wand of C. H. Dunham, an array of typical maidens, from whom he finally chose a housewife for his companion in life.

The following ladies constituted the general committee: Mrs. Arthur L. Titsworth, chairman, assisted by Miss Grace Lewis and Miss Mabel Potter, the latter two presiding at the lemonade booth. Mrs. J. D. Titsworth, chairman of the Refreshment Committee, was assisted by Mrs J. F. VanHoesen, Mrs. I. N. VanSickel and Miss Florence Potter.

The tables were presided over by the Misses Mary Lewis, Lulu Lewis, Mabel Maxson, Bessie Titsworth, Ernestine Smith, Ida Spicer and Ida Randolph.

The gypsy well was in charge of Mrs. Geo. B. Titsworth, assisted by Miss Ethel Titsworth and Miss Edith Titsworth.

The Dairy Maid—Miss Jessie Utter.

Phonograph in charge of Mr. Wiley.

Flowers—Mrs. D. E. Titsworth.

He Thinks it Demands a "Big D."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Your argument that it is correct to say iced cream, because it is correct to say iced coffee or iced cake, is open to debate and shows how unfamiliar you are of the commodity so fatal at Sunday school picnics, and so dear to the heart of the young beaux. Iced coffee, no matter how poor the coffee, is iced coffee, and iced cake means that failures in the cake line are usually sugar coated like pills; a practice not to be recommended during fly time. But how does it strike your idea of the fitness of things to speak of a cake of ice, as iced cake, or of melted ice as iced water.

When speaking of iced cream, you mean cream which has been iced—which is correct, but ice-cream, with or without a hyphen, can be and often is made of corn-starch and glue, and no matter whether made in the form of Hokey-Pokey, "Little Praying Samuels," or bricks, is ice-cream just the same. However, if you paid for as much of the stuff when you used to skip around with the girls, as the writer has, you would always use a D, and a dash both, when speaking of it.

K. ROSINE.

For the Benefit of the Poor.

The first musical and literary entertainment of the Dorcas Society, an organization formed for the purpose of helping the general poor of the city, was held in Reform Hall, last evening, and it was fairly well patronized. The officers of the society are: President, Miss A. Voehl; Secretary, Miss D. Voehl; Treasurer, Miss N. Train. Upwards of $70 was cleared by the entertainment.

The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, tableaux, etc., and was as follows:

PART FIRST.

Overture.....Orchestra.
Tenor solo—Selected.....Mr. Gorton.
Recitation—The Swallowed Frog....J. W. Voehl.
Song—Last Night.....Quartette.
Misses Sharp and Mrs. N. Y. Hull.
Tableau—Faith. Misses Schuck and Pennington.
Soprano solo.....Miss M. Schade.
Recitation—Selected.....Miss K. B. Ferris.
Cornet solo.....Mr. Bartow.

PART SECOND.

Overture.....Orchestra.
Tableau—Hope...Misses Schuck and Sheppard.
Banjo selections.....Messrs Teen and Company.
Recitation—Selected.....Miss K. B. Ferris.
Violin solo.....Mr. Condo.
Tableau—Charity.....Misses Train and Apgar.

Dr. E. W. Johnson's Conversion.

The latest convert to the Catford Premier bicycle is Dr. E. W. Johnson. Dr. Johnson will be remembered as the funniest of the funny men who made all laugh at the minstrel show given by the wheelmen. As the inimitable imitator of Letty Lind in short skirts, he will never be forgotten.

He rides the Catford with the same grace that he trips the light fantastic, and he says that an angel with wings and without a Catford, is only half equipped. He hopes that St. Peter will allow him to take his wheel through the pearly gates with him, "for heaven without a Catford, will not be heaven."

Charged With Disorderly Conduct.

James Dowd, the young man whom the police have been looking for for some time past, charged with creating a disturbance on West Third street, this morning gave himself up to Judge Codington, pleaded not guilty to the charge, and his trial was set down for Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Fairview Cemetery at Westfield and the New Lodge House.

The Trustees of Fairview Cemetery, through their committee, W. D. Wood, Benjamin F. Ham and Gideon E. Ludlow, gave out the contract for a new lodge House Monday night at a special meeting. J. N. Wilcox, carpenter and builder, has the contract. The contractor takes the old building which he is to move off, in part payment, and is to receive $3,100 in cash besides. Frank T. Lent, C. E., who has his office in Love's new block, is the architect.

Mr. Wood in addressing the Board of Trustees respecting the new lodge said: "Fairview Cemetery has never yet undertaken anything that did not result in success. We have built a receiving vault at a large expense; macadamized our drives; improved our parks; planted shade and ornamental trees; graded our front and done many other improvements. They all promote the sale of lots and the prosperity of the Association. Let us have a first class lodge and let every other improvement be first class."

Fairview is the burial place of Cranford as well as Westfield. It is unsectarian and has the support of every Protestant denomination in the two townships. It has natural advantages equal to any in the country, and its improvements, and those of individuals, as well as those of the trustees, are of a high order.

An Outing With the Camera Club.

At a meeting of the Plainfield Camera Club, held June 17, it was decided to hold an "Outing" on Saturday, July 5. It is proposed that the members take a stage from the club rooms at 8:30 A. M.

The route proposed is through Washington Valley and Warrenville, South and around through the notch at Chimney Rock. Stops will be made en route for any who may wish to make photographs, and lunch will be eaten at Chimney Rock Grove. Members are priviledged to invite any of their family or lady and gentleman friends that may be interested in photograph work. The pro rata expense will be light—not over 75 cents.

It is very necessary that the committee should know at an early date just how many to provide for in the way of conveyance, therefore all persons proposing to participate will please notify any of the members of the committee not later than next Saturday. The committee cousists of: Messrs Harold Serrell, R. J. Gothell, and O. S. Teal.

Oh, Clean the Borough Sidewalks.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I was advised to come to North Plainfield to locate on account of poor health, and I am satisfied that this is just the place for me. But allow me through your valuable paper just to say a few words; perhaps it may do some good. I notice there is not one family out of every ten that ever sweeps off their sidewalks. If the sidewalks in North Plainfield are a guide to go by, there must be some very dirty houses. I believe it is just as necessary to keep clean sidewalks as it is a clean house. If everyone would make a practice and clean off their walks every day, what a lovely place North Plainfield would be. I hope the women folks will take this matter in hand and see if we cannot have a great improvement in this direction.

Another Day's Record.

Among the stolen items in the news of Monday taken from Saturday's PRESS of the week before, were:

The fire in Kenyon's machine shop;

The purchase of $1,000 worth of horses for the Fire Department;

The conference of the order of "Red Cross" by the Sir Knights Templar;

The admission of Alfred Holmes to Princeton College;

The intended annual parade of the Plainfield tandem owners; and

The suit by John Chandler against the Electric Light company for the death of his horse.

A One-Sided Game of Ball.

The Young Crescents of this city defeated the Young Arlingtons on the grounds of the latter club, yesterday afternoon, by a score of 23 to 1. Only seven innings were played, the Young Crescents making eleven runs in the first inning alone. The batteries were: J. Sutphen and C. Sutphen for the Young Crescents, and G. Mattis and W. Thorn for the Young Arlingtons.

Electric Heat and Power for Plainfield.

By an official advertisement elsewhere, it will be seen that at a meeting of the stockholders of the Plainfield Electric Light company, it was unanimously resolved to add to its business of the manufacture and furnishing of electric light, the distribution of power and heat also, by electricity or any other means.

Closing Exercises at Westfield.

The closing exercises of the intermediate department of the Westfield public school, took place in Arcanum Hall, last evening. The annual commencement exercises will take place this evening. The Rev. N. W. Cadwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Westfield, will deliver the address.

—There was a display of fireworks in the District Messenger office about eight o'clock last evening, that was occasioned by a cross of the District Messenger and Electric Light wires.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

RAILROADS TIED UP.

The Strike on the Illinois Central Has Become Serious.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The strike of freight conductors, switchmen and brakemen on the Illinois Central Railroad has assumed serious proportions, inasmuch as it now involves the immense suburban traffic of the road.

At present the strike affects the road only from Chicago to Kankakee, but the men say that unless they gain their point they will tie up the entire system—Chicago to New Orleans.

A meeting of the strikers was held early in the morning, at which the men decided to stop the running of all trains except those carrying the United States mail. Accordingly, as fast as the suburban trains came in they were side tracked, and it was not long before the tracks were completely blocked up, suburban trains, freight trains, and through and way passenger trains being mixed in almost inextricable confusion.

The bone of contention in the strike is undoubtedly E. G. Russell, superintendent of the Northern lines of the Illinois and Wisconsin Railroad. He came to Chicago a year ago, and ever since his succession to the office it is said the men under him have been dissatisfied.

The railroad officials held a conference and concluded that they would resist the men's demands for Superintendent Russell's discharge. They now await overtures on the part of their employes who are out.

HIS LAST HOPE GONE.

The Warden of Auburn Prison Will Electrocute Murderer Kemmler.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 25.—The case of Kemmler, the murderer, was argued in the Court of Appeals, Lawyer W. Bourke Cochran appearing for Kemmler and Attorney-General Tabor for Warden Durston of Auburn prison. The arguments were exceedingly brief and the motion was dismissed without the court leaving the room.

Chief Judge Rutger, in dismissing the motion, alluded to the grievous delays in the case and ordered that Kemmler remain in the custody of Warden Durston, who will carry out the sentence of the lower court that he be executed by electricity.

After leaving the court-room Mr. Cockran, on being asked what was the substance of the decision, replied: "The substance is that the great experiment is to be tried."

There is nothing more to be done now except to resentence and execute the culprit.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Cardinal Gibbons is expected at Cape May this afternoon.

Mrs. Phoebe Houghton, known as "Aunt Phoebe," died yesterday at North Easton, Mass., aged 100 years and 4 months.

The Methodist ministers of Camden, N. J., discussed the question of the non-use of tobacco by pastors. No definite action was taken.

The Fassett Senate Investigating Committee, which was to meet again to-day in New York, has decided not to hold another session until September.

Benjamin B. Lawrence, a builder and real estate dealer of Malden, Mass., who is said to have unsecured debts amounting to $10,000, has disappeared from that city.

At Cerillos, N. M., a town about fifty miles from Albuquerque, the entire business part was almost entirely burned last night causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

J. Harrison Stone, an old resident of Holliston, Mass., and once a prominent boot manufacturer, committed suicide by taking poison. He had unsuccessfully used a revolver. No cause is assigned for the act.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has dismissed the bill in equity brought by Cigarmakers' Union No. 97, a member of the International Union of America, to restrain Lester Brayton from using a label closely counterfeiting that of the union.

Another subway explosion is reported from New York city. The manhole over the subway at the corner of Twelfth street and Sixth avenue blew up with terrific force about nine a. m. The manhole cover was raised from its foundations and the paving stones were tossed in the air a distance of several feet.

Weather Indications.

IMPORTANT ORDERS

Exciting News Suddenly Received at Halifax.

GREAT NAVAL PREPARATIONS.

All the Men-of-War Being Rapidly Victualed and Coaled.

A Grave Question Raised in the House of Commons—The Speaker Sustains Tim Healy—Sarah Bernhardt Denies that She Took Chloral—Paris Preparations for Eyraud—Several Persons Killed.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 25.—It is believed here that news or orders of the greatest importance must have been received last night, as an extraordinary activity prevailed all day in the dockyard at North End Harbor.

All the men of war now here are being victualed and coaled as rapidly as possible. Ammunition carts have also been busy transferring powder from the big magazine below the Wellington Barracks to the yard.

Last evening the engineer and torpedo corps were in a steam launch buoying the harbor channel between Fort Clarence, George's Island.

ANOTHER SURRENDER.

The Tories Ready to Drop the Publican Compensation Clause.

LONDON, June 25.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Healy asked the Speaker's ruling on the question whether there was any precedent for an ear-mark licensing fund. In making this request Mr. Healy was supported by Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Vernon-Harcourt.

The Speaker made a long speech in which he gave it as his opinion that there was no precedent for such a fund. To allow an ear-marking license fund to accumulate, as the Government proposed, he thought was a grave innovation which the House itself ought to decide upon; and he considered that Mr. Healy was fully justified in raising the question. The Speaker's ruling was received with cheers by the opposition.

Mr. Balfour said he thought the Speaker's decision would not apply to the Irish part of the bill.

Sir George Campbell, a Liberal, advised the Government to eat the remaining bit of leek and drop the compensation clauses altogether.

Mr. Labouchere moved an adjournment in order to protest against the proclamation of an anti compensation meeting by the Nottingham magistracy.

At this point the Ministers retired to Mr. Smith's room to discuss the Speaker's opinion on the ear-marking license fund. Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberland, who were also summoned to the conference, advised the Cabinet to drop the clause.

No definite decision was arrived at, but it is said that Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Goshen have recognized the impossibility of retaining the clauses, and will acquiesce in the opinion of the majority of the Ministers and allow them to be dropped, while retaining their portfolios.

American Riflemen Beaten.

HAMBURG, June 25.—After inspecting the town the American riflemen boarded two steamers for Uhlenhorst. On arriving there they went to the Schutzenhof at Baxbech. On the point shooting competition, two Americans won prizes, but in the competion for the silver cup they were easily beaten by the Hamburgers. This is ascribed to the absence of the best American shots, who are in Hanover.

Rebellion in Siam.

LONDON, June 25.—News has been received of a very serious rebellion in Northern Siam, provoked by the oppressive taxation levied on the people. The province in which the rebellion has broken out adjoins Burmah, the most recent addition to the British Empire in Asia, and is said to have suffered about equally from Burmese raids and native oppression.

The Newfoundland Trouble.

LONDON, June 25.—In the House of Commons last night Sir James Ferguson, replying to a question by Mr. Cameron, said that the address of the Newfoundland Legislature to the crown was expected to-morrow. The Government had no information of a conflict between French and Newfoundland fishermen.

Bernhardt Denies the Report.

LONDON, June 25.—Sarah Bernhardt was interviewed at the Savoy Hotel concerning the reports that she had taken an overdose of chloral, and in reply to the question whether there was any truth in the story, she said: "It is entirely and absolutely false and unfounded."

Preparing to Receive Eyraud.

PARIS, June 25.—When Eyraud arrives here he will be arraigned before a magistrate and confronted with Gabrielle Bompard in order to observe the effect of their meeting. Gabrielle says she still loves Eyraud and declares that she will fall at his feet upon meeting him.

Five of a Crew Killed.

LONDON, June 25.—The barque Ethel, from London for Brisbane, was sunk off Portland by coming into collision with the steamer Umbilo, from Natal for London. Four of the Ethel's crew and one of the Umbilo's were killed by falling spars. The crew of the Ethel were taken on board the Umbilo.

Laurel Wreath for Major Wissmann.

BERLIN, June 25.—Major Wissmann was to-day presented with a laurel wreath. He declined to express an opinion on the Anglo-German agreement, saying that the fact of his holding an office under the State forbade his criticising the Government.

Seven Men Killed.

LONDON, June 25.—An explosion occurred in a parafine warehouse at Lissa, Prussian Poland, yesterday, completely destroying the building. Seven men were killed, twelve seriously injured, and several others slightly hurt.

Soliciting Government Support.

LONDON, June 25.—A conference of the Unionist members was held last night at which Lord Hartington urged the importance of his colleagues supporting the Government.

"How much do other safeties weigh?"

"From 46 to 51 pounds."

"That's only a difference of 13 to 18 pounds."

"ONLY! Why, it means that you must propel that many pounds more with each revolution of the wheel, and there are 400 revolutions in each mile."

"Is that the reason you consider the CATFORD cheaper at $140 than any other Safety at $135?"

"That is one of many reasons."

The Authorities of the Hospital Reticent on the Subject.

The Symptoms are Such as to Excite Grave Suspicion—The Health Board to Look Into the Case—Extra Precautions Taken—Thirty Cases of Typhoid Fever Reported in Waterbury, Conn.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—Fred Kenseler, a sailor on the Three Sisters, which is unloading a cargo of lumber at this port, was taken to the marine ward of the German Hospital suffering from what seems to yellow fever.

The authorities at the hospital are reticent on the subject and the patient is kept in an isolated part of the ward. The health board will look into the case immediately.

The Three Sisteas arrived several days ago from Savannah. She underwent inspection at Quarantine and was passed up "all right." Kinseler was sick at the time and his case was diagnosed as that of malaria. The symptons are such as to excite grave suspicion, and the authorities will take extra precautions in the case.

Thirty Cases of Typhoid Fever.

WATERBURY, Conn., June 26.—The people of this city are greatly alarmed over the prevalence of typhoid fever, which it is feared will become epidemic. Thirty cases were reported, and it is thought that the disease had its origin in milk brought to this city from Middlebury. The Board of Health at a recent meeting decided that it would be better not to allow any more Middlebury milk to enter the city at present, and the sale of it has been stopped here. It appears that people who take milk from Farmer Dibble, of Middlebury, are down with the disease.

DALAMATER'S DAY.

Nominated for Governor by the Pennsylvania Republican Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 26.—The Republican State Convention nominated George Wallace Delamater for Governor on the second ballot.

Mr. Delamater was placed in nomination by Colonel John J. Carter in a brief speech; George W. Orlady nominated Adjutant-General Daniel Hartman Hastings; W. E. Rice nominated Secretary of State Charles W. Stone, and Emerson Collins nominated H. C. McCormick.

On the first ballot the vote was: Delamater, 83; Hastings, 69; Montooth, 30; Stone, 15; Osborne, 8; McCormick, 3. The second ballot was: Delamater, 99; Hastings, 61; Montooth, 20; Stone, 16; Osborne, 5; McCormick, 3. Before the result was announced George S. Graham of Philadelphia began the stampede to Delamater by changing his vote from Hastings. Others followed his example, and the vote as finally announced was: Delamater, 105; Hastings, 59; Montooth, 19; Stone, 15; Osborne, 4; McCormick, 2. The nomination of Mr. Delamater was made unanimous. The full ticket is as follows:

Governor—George W. Delamater.

Lieutenant-Governor—Louis A. Watres.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—Thomas J. Stewart.

The greater part of the platform is devoted to a statement of the position of the Pennsylvania Republicans on national questions. The platform recites the "good effects of the system of corporation taxation devised by the party in Pennsylvania; pledges the party to lighten the burden upon the agricultural interests and to equalize taxation generally; recommends increased appropriations for common schools and appropriations for indigent insane; expenses of the jury system, and, if necessary to meet this, favors increasing the tax on corporations."

Gen. D. H. Hastings declined the State chairmanship of the State Committee, and Andrews was re-elected.

A public ratification meeting was held in front of the Lochiel Hotel, and General Hastings and Secretary Stone made speeches from the hotel balcony promising to support the ticket.

RAILROAD TROUBLES.

The Chicago Strikers Still Threaten to Tie Up the Whole System.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The Illinois Central strikers are firm and confident, and scout the idea of any overtures on their part to the company. The threat to tie up the whole system from Chicago to New Orleans is still heard.

The railroad management say they expect the men, on sober afterthought, to return to work, and are making no endeavor to fill their places.

Suburbanites in thousands are going to and from home on crowded cable cars, and 20,000 people are discommoded.

The railroad officials say they will decide to-day whether they will remove Superintendent Russell and thus end the strike.

Protesting Against the McKinley Bill.

BERLIN, June 26.—A deputation of merchants and manufacturers from Rhenish Prussia waited upon Baron von Berlepsch, Minister of Commerce, and lodged with him a protest against the McKinley Tariff bill, which they declared virtually excluded from the United States certain German goods. The deputation requested the Government to move, through the German Minister at Washington, in the direction of obtaining a modification of the prohibitive provisions of the bill. Baron von Berlepsch promised to give the matter consideration.

SALVATOR WINS.

He Beats Tenny in One of the Greatest Races Ever Seen in America.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Salvator won the match race and made a new record for a mile and a quarter.

Over 15,000 people went down to Sheepshead Bay race track to see the contest between Salvator and Tenny. It was one of the grandest ever seen on an American race course.

There was no delay at the post, and they were sent away at once. Salvator took the lead and made the pace a very fast one. Passing the stand Salvator was half a length in front of Tenny, and this lead he increased to a length and a half on the upper turn.

As they reached the far turn Salvator drew away and was leading by nearly three lengths. Then Garrison commenced to ride and whip and Tenny closed up the gap inch by inch. At the last sixteenth Tenny was gaining fast on Salvator, when Murphy brought the whip down twice on Salvator and he managed to keep his head in front to the wire, winning by about half a head. The fractional time of the race is as follows: Quarter, 0:25; half, 0:49 3-5; one mile, 1:39 3-4, equalling Ten Broeck's time; mile and a furlong, 1:52 3-4, and mile and a quarter, 2:05.

KILRAIN'S CHALLENGE.

He Says Sullivan Must Fight Him or Give Up the Title.

NEW ORLEANS, June 26.—Jake Kilrain, Cleary and Muldoon reached Purvis a short time after Sullivan's departure. The Muldoon and Cleary cases were called. Muldoon was fined $200 and Cleary $100. Donovan's fine was reduced to $100.

Muldoon paid his own fine and Cleary's, and Kilrain paid half of Donovan's.

When interviewed Muldoon said: "Sorry Sullivan had sneaked off before our arrival. Suppose his conscience smote him. The least he could have done was to pay poor Cleary's fine."

Kilrain said to the reporters: "You are authorized to state that I challenge Sullivan to fight me to a finish, either with bare knuckles or tight gloves. London prize ring rules, the fight to come off at Fort Worth, Texas., for the purse offered by the athletic club there. I mean business and have all the backing I want for any amount. Sullivan must fight or come off the perch as champion."

OUR MARKSMEN ABROAD.

They Arrive in Berlin To-Day After a Grand Reception in Hamburg.

BERLIN, June 26.—Most of the American marksmen arrived here to-day from Hamburg. At the latter city last night the riflemen were entertained at a banquet. President Weber declared that he was overcome by the warmth of the reception extended to himself and his comrades. He said that the Independents, although defeated, were not downcast. Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Newland also proposed toasts.

Jubilee medals of the Hamburg Rifle Association were presented to President Weber, Capt. Diehl and the five Americans who competed for the cup.

Illuminations and fireworks in the gardens followed, and then there was a grand ball.

Young Frank Norman Again Ill.

BURLINGTON, N. J., June 26.—Frank C. Norman is in the hospital here suffering with the same symptoms which caused the troubles, trial and conviction of his mother, Mrs. C. E. Vandegrift. When the illness returned the mother had the youth cared for out of her house. Dr. Parsons, the attending physician, is puzzled over the case, as the symptoms are like those of croton oil poisoning, yet he is certain that is not the cause of the illness. He now thinks it is catarrh of the stomach. This may effect the sentence of Mrs. Vandegrift on Tuesday next.

A New Feature.

WOODSTOCK, Conn., June 26.—A special feature of the Fourth of July celebration this year will be the attendance of a thousand or more Sabbath school children. All the schools of Wyndham County and of Massachusetts and Rhode Island within a reasonable distance, together with their teachers parents and friends, have been invited. All denominations are included and a big attendance is expected.

Approaching the Tomb.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 26.—The rescuers are positive that they have at last struck the coal line between the Mahoning and Hill Farm mines, and that they are within sixty feet of the entombed miners. If their calculations are right, they should reach the men some time to-day. There is great excitement about the pits. The most sanguine hardly hope to find the men alive.

Lafayette College Commencement.

EASTON, Pa., June 26.—Lafayette College's commencement closed last night with the reception given by President and Mrs. Knox at their home on the campus. The first exercises were the orations by the graduates. The class numbers 60, and of these about a third won orations by their standing in scholarship.

It Will be a Great Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 26.—Yale's defeat of Harvard in Tuesday's baseball game, by a score of 7 to 1, makes the two colleges tied in their championship series, each having now won two games. A decisive game will be played on neutral ground, at Hampden Park, Springfield, Mass., next Saturday.

Cigarmakers' Strike at Binghamton.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 26.—The cigarmakers' strike remains unchanged. The strikers say that they are sure to win and that manufacturers cannot hold out very long, as they are away behind in their orders.

FREE COINAGE LOST

The Senate Clause Voted Down in the House.

A MAJORITY OF 16 AGAINST IT.

Speaker Reed Authorized to Choose a Conference Committee.

Animated Debate Begun on the Federal Election Bill—The Sergeant-at-Arms Has to Restore Order—A Vote to be Taken on July 2—Senator Pettigrew's Opinion.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The House, by a vote of 151 to 135, determined to disagree with the Senate amendments to the Silver bill, and ordered that a joint conference committee be appointed to bring about a compromise. Twenty-three hard money Democrats voted with the Republicans to crush the bill, while nineteen Republicans joined with the Democrats in declaring for free coinage.

Mr. Morse of Massachusetts led off in the debate against free coinage, declaring the Senate bill to be a new outbreak of the fiat money or greenback craze. He argued that the only beneficiaries would be the bullion owners.

Mr. Peters, of Kansas, attacked the statement that the United States, under free coinage, would be made the dumping ground for the silver of the world as theoretical and illusionary.

After hours of filibustering Mr. Bland moved that the House concur in the Senate amendment. Occupants of the crowded galleries watched the result with intense interest. When the Speaker announced the result, cheers broke forth from the Republicans. All the Senate amendments were declared stricken out. Speaker Reed was authorized to choose a conference committee to consult with a similar body from the other branch of Congress.

UPROAR IN THE HOUSE.

Beginning the Battle on the National Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The debate on the National Election bill, which began in the House after the Silver bill had been disposed of, on the report from the Committee on Rules fixing the time for consideration of the bill, promises to be one of the most heated in years. The way in which it was inaugurated is a fair promise of what is to follow.

Mr. Cannon, from the Committee on Rules in the House, reported back a substitute for the resolution introduced by Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts, setting apart five days of the present week for the consideration of the National Election bill. The substitute read:

"Resolved, That immediately after the passage of this bill (the Silver bill) the House will proceed to consider the House bill 11,046 (the National Election bill) until July 2, at two o'clock, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and any pending amendments and on the substitute for the whole bill, which the members in charge shall have the right to offer.

"That during the last two days amendments may be offered to any part of the bill in the House, with debate under the five minute rule. That this shall not interfere with general appropriation bills."

No sooner had the resolution been read than Mr. Springer was on his feet with a motion to adjourn, and Mr. Enloe of Tennessee shouted: "This is a bill to revolutionize the Government."

Mr. McMillin wanted to know if gentlemen would be given a chance to offer amendments to any section.

Mr. Cannon replied that that might require thirty to sixty days time.

At this point several members were on their feet shouting to be heard and at the request of Speaker Reed the Sergeant-at-Arms came forward with the great mace and order was restored.

Mr. Springer moved to table the resolution On a yea and nay vote this motion was lost—yeas 116, nays 133.

It was then arranged to meet at 11 o'clock for the six days during which the debate is to continue.

No Yellow Fever in Georgia.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The report telegraphed from Brunswick, Ga., to the effect that Dick Glasgow, whose death occurred there on the 23d inst., died of yellow fever, is not correct. Glasgow's death was from consumption. There is no foundation whatever for the report that there was a case of yellow fever in that city, and it is a mystery as to how the story originated. The City Council, City Physician, Health Officer and other officials, had a conference yesterday and authorized a complete denial of the story to be telegraphed to all sections of the country.

The Federal Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, an intense Republican, doubts whether the Election bill can pass the Senate on account of the disposition of Democrats to talk away the time of the session and defeat a final vote. He believes that it would be policy to let the Election bill take precedence in the order of business. It is stated that President of the Senate Morton will appoint conferees on the part of the Senate who will see that free coinage is stricken from the Senate bill.

A Lawyer Held for Assault.

RED BANK, N. J., June 26.—Joseph E. Reilly, a prominent lawyer of this place, was arrested and held under $200 bail for a hearing to-morrow on a charge of assaulting John Jones.

BY THE WAY.

—Read "Installment No. 2" in Edsall's advertisement.

—The First Baptist scholars and friends go to Asbury Park on Friday, July 18.

—A Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Grown-up Folks would fill a long felt want in Washington Park.

—West Sixth street, in the vicinity of St. Mary's church, is receiving the attention of the Street Commissioner.

—City Judge W. R. Codington has purchased a handsome new Columbia bicycle, which he will soon learn to ride.

—Prof. O. R. Gleason, the famous horse trainer, again entertained a large audience at his matinee performance, yesterday.

—Howell Division, No. 97, S. of T., held a regular meeting on Tuesday evening, and elected officers for the ensuing quarter.

—The street lamp at the entrance leading into Fairchild's alley on East Front street, has been out for two or three nights past.

—The third annual Summer night's festival of the Oriental Social club will be held at Amphion Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3.

—The thermometer yesterday at three o'clock registered 94 degrees in front of Stelle's drug store. One hundred degrees is blood heat.

—Money has been appropriated for the purchase of a reference library for the use of the teachers of the Crescent Avenue Sunday school.

—Commuters are growling, and justly too, because the so-called 5:30 P. M., express from New York is stopped at Roselle nearly every night.

—The fire department horses have already been placed in active service. One of the teams have been working with a roller on Plainfield avenue, for a day or two past.

—The young lady who had one of her hands so badly injured at the carpet factory, on Tuesday, had one of her fingers amputated by Dr. Endicott, this morning.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. A. G Conant and family of Broadway, are at Pepperill, Mass.

Property man W. R. Mattox of Music Hall, has recovered from his recent illness.

The Somerville Messenger of Wednesday says: "Freeholder W. E. Jones of North Plainfield, was in town yesterday, but had to return home on account of illness."

At the home of the bride's father, near New Market, on Tuesday, occurred the marriage of Miss Kate, daughter of Peter Smith, to Benjamin Moore, of Shipman, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in Illinois.

The Asbury Park Daily Journal thus speaks of the popular Assemblyman from Union county: "Assemblyman John Ulrich, of Plainfield, honored the Journal with a friendly call the other day. Mr. Ulrich is editor of Masonic organ, The Royal Craftsman, and is well up in degrees in the order of K. P.

Mrs. Austin Sturtevant of Liberty street, accompanied by her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Muirhied, started yesterday afternoon on a three weeks' pleasure trip to Boston, Quincy, Brockton, Plymouth, Pilgrim's Rock, and Providence, R. I. Plymouth is the birthplace of Mr. Sturtevant. They will also visit Daniel Webster's tomb.

The funeral of the late Raynor Tunison, who died yesterday afternoon, will take place from his late home, No. 141 Duer street, North Plainfield, on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, and from Trinity Reformed church at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made at Somerville, where the members of Franklin Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will conduct a short service at the grave.

Counselor Richard VanSyckel Lindabury will make another trip to Europe in a few days He is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Skillman, who are occupying the Chase residence in the Notch for the Summer. The most aristocratic turnout—including driver, swell cart, English harness and all—that appears on the Plainfield streets, is the one in which Mr. Lindabury tools himself home from the station evenings, accompanied usually by a very handsome young woman.

Got Her Pension Money at Last.

Mrs. Mary E. Moran of Harmony street, North Plainfield, on Tuesday received a check for $1,205.47, the amount of back pension money due her since the death of her husband in December, 1879. The pension was granted to her some time since, but the money did not arrive until Tuesday.

Mrs. Moran's husband was wounded in the left temple during the war, and it was on this account that she made application for a pension.

Those who were instrumental in securing the pension are Mr. M. J. McCarthy of this city and his lawyer, Henry D. Phillips of Trenton.

No Settlement Yet.

The matter of adjusting the loss to John Chandler, occasioned by the death of his trotting horse, "Rambo," is still pending between Mr. Chandler and the Electric Light Company, but as yet no definite agreement has been entered into, and the matter will probably be adjudicated in the Courts.

—A special meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held in the office of Wm. A. Coddington, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

A Hamburg Fig.

There is no longer need to force children to take castor oil for sickness. A HAMBURG FIG, which is like preserved fruit, will be taken by them with relish. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

S. P. C. C.

One Case Where Its Protection, Like That of the Republicans, Was Very Slow to Protect.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In the PRESS of Tuesday I notice that the local S. P. C. C., has held a meeting at which its President "told of a complaint lodged against a female coal picker, for brutality to her children, and also of the Drake case." I know nothing about the coal picker episode; but if I may be allowed, I should be pleased to comment on a peculiar phase of the other affair. Permit me to quote the following from another part of Tuesday's PRESS:

The main object of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, is to restrain parents from being cruel to their children. The Society is backed up by the State laws, and it is now intended to enforce them, at least so far as the Plainfield Society is concerned.

It is a great pity that the local authorities did not know they were "backed up by the State laws" a few weeks ago. Considering the unfortunate condition of the younger Drakes it is charitable to presume that both the Society and Borough officers were deplorably ignorant in the matter at that time, for when the principal official of the Society was approached a week or two since and importuned to do something, and that quickly, in aid of the unlucky and long-suffering children, of whose horrible condition he was made fully aware, I have it on excellent authority that he said he could do nothing in the matter. A complaint afterwards made to a Borough magistrate, reasonably supposed to have some power to enforce law and order, I am told met with even less encouragement. As I have said it is charitable to make out that ignorance is to answer for the undisturbed continuance of the Drake disgrace, for if ignorance is not to blame, then gross negligence and disregard of duty are responsible. It is no small reflection on our civil authorities when they don't care to bother with an outrage of the kind in question and leave it for the pluck and energy of a young person, not even a voter, to do their duty for them.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the S. P. C. C., now it has found out that it is "backed up," will go to work in earnest and be heroic enough to act when occasion requires and really protect Plainfield's helpless children from the brutal and unholy wrath of their unnatural relatives.

CRITIQUE.

Closing the School Year.

The public schools of this city and North Plainfield closed at noon today, and a vacation of about ten weeks begun. The year past has been a remarkably successful one, and the result of the year's work, especially in the higher classes, will be made known at the commencement exercises this evening.

At the High School the exercises this morning consisted of a service of song, and an address by Principal Goodrich, during which the speaker alluded to his own school life, of his graduating as a Senior from the Salem High School and entering college as a freshman. He also spoke of the progress which has been made in the schools during the past year. The exercises were enjoyed by a large number of visitors.

In most of the other schools, no special exercises took place.

Fell From the Second Story.

A German carpenter named Ritter, who resides on West Third street near Spooner avenue, met with a painful accident, while at work on a new building near his home, about dusk, last evening. The man was standing on a ladder working at one of the windows in the second story, when the ladder broke, precipitating him to the ground below, and seriously injuring one of his lower limbs at the ankle.

The unfortunate man was found by his wife afterward, lying unconscious on the ground where he had fallen. He was carried to his home and Dr. M. B. Long was summoned to attend him. Today the patient's condition is reported as improved.

Clarke—Gardner.

The wedding of Walter Irving Clarke and Miss Adaline Louise Gardner, both of Plainfield, occurred at noon today in the First Presbyterian church of Asbury Park. The ceremony, which was a very pretty one, was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Chandler, pastor of the church. The bride wore a dress of gray faille, trimmed with crepe de chine. Her hat was of crepe de chine, adorned with white birds. She carried a bouquet of water lilies.

The marriage was attended by only immediate relatives of the contracting parties The bride and groom boarded an early afternoon train for a short wedding trip.

Manly Must Serve Out His Sentence.

Thomas Manly, the man who was arrested on Tuesday for disorderly conduct, was taken to Elizabeth by Captain Grant yesterday, to serve out a ten days' sentence, being unable to pay a $5 fine imposed by Judge Codington.

The Same Old Story.

It is reported that Laura Robinson and Wm. McQuay, the colored elopers from this city, have been heard from, and that a letter has been received by the girl's mother, in which Laura requests to be taken home again.

Shortness of Breath.

DR. FLINT'S REMEDY should be taken at once when slight exertion or a hearty meal produces shortness of breath or a pain in the region of the heart. Send for treatise, free. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

—Ray of Hope Lodge, I. O. of G. T., of Elizabeth, will visit Plainfield to-night, coming by way of stage.

—There were no special closing exercises at the Bryant School building this morning, aside from the usual morning exercises.

—A meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Committee will be held in the Republican Association rooms, on East Front street, to-morrow evening.

—Special Officer Hope was summoned to a house on East Third street, last evening, to quiet a family disturbance. No arrests were made.

—The clerks of the city held a meeting last evening, with President Jeremiah Moore in the chair. The attendance was small, and but little business was transacted.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore and family of Fanwood, says a New Brunswick paper, yesterday, paid a flying visit to their esteemed friend, Mrs. R. A. Bennett, of 94 Church street.

—Witnesses were today subpœnaed, who are to testify in the case of the city vs. Thomas Dowd, for disorderly conduct, which is to come up before City Judge Codington to-morrow afternoon.

Have you got salt-rheum or tetter,
Scrofula or fever-sores?
You will never be the better
For your faith in quackish bores.
Seek from nature's store the treasure
That will save you from the grave,
And give blessings with ut-measure—
Not to fool, or quack, or knave.

But to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the world-famed cure for the above diseases. It is guaranteed to cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

—The May term of the Union County Court of Quarter Sessions, ended at Elizabeth on Tuesday afternoon, when Judge McCormick discharged the petit jurors for the term.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Beggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

MINSTREL AND EDITOR.

The Newspaper Man, According to an Esteeming Contemporary, Can Discount "Our Only George" as a Joker.

Among the real estate transfers in Union county, recorded in THE PRESS of Tuesday was that of George Thatcher and wife of Plainfield, to Alfred E. Pearsall, of Westfield, 118x736 feet, land on Jerusalem road, which runs from Westfield to Scotch Plains, price $4,500.

In this connection the Elizabeth Journal says: "George Thatcher is the celebrated minstrel, of Thatcher, Primrose and West, one of the jolliest burnt cork jokers that ever graced the minstrel stage. He hasn't been well, of late, but is better now. When he tickles either Plainfield or Westfield with his genial personality they laugh all over, and when he goes away on a minstrel tour they laugh at the memory of his happy presence till he gets back again.

"He makes lots of money, Thatcher does, but Pearsall seems to beat him at this. Pearsall is editor of the Westfield Standard, and at the same time fills several columns a day of the New York Commercial Advertiser, drives a spanking team—his own—lectures on prohibition, teaches elocution, gives humorous readings, follows several other specialties, and then hunts around for something to occupy his spare moments. Thatcher had the property and wanted the money; Pearsall had the money and wanted the property, and they met and changed jokes.

"Pearsall just fills the Westfield Standard with jokes, columns after columns of them Where George Thatcher gets off one joke Pearsall gets off a round hundred and never lays a hair. That's why he makes so much money. There are a good many folks who think his prohibition editorials are jokes, but Pearsall says he's in earnest about that, and he believes he's on the Jerusalem road in politics, the same as he is in the purchase of his new property."

Closing Exercises at the Parochial School.

The scholars in St. Mary's Parochial School held their closing exercises in the school hall, yesterday afternoon, but owing to the absence of the Rev. Father Smyth, the pastor of St. Mary's church, who is in Europe, no public demonstration was arranged. The various numbers on the programme were exceedingly well rendered, showing that the pupils have made rapid advancement during the year just closed. Annexed is the PROGRAMME.

Chorus—Wake! Wake! Wake!
Recitation—"Ave Maria".....Miss S. Rafferty
Duett (vocal)—"The Music of the Birds"
Misses J. Day and M. Sheehan.
Composition—"The Power of Conscience"
Miss A. Boone
Chorus—"Birdlet in the Tree."
Recitation—"How he saved St. Michael's."
Master M. Higgins.
Duett (vocal)—"Holy Father guide his footsteps"
A tribute to Father Smyth.
Misses A. Quinn and J. Schaffer.
Report of examinations.
Hymn to the sacred heart.

The Rev. Father Stafford, acting pastor of St. Mary's church, made a brief address to the children, after which the exercises came to an end.

The scholars of the school will, perhaps, give an entertainment on a more elaborate scale, upon the return of Father Smyth, who is expected home the latter part of August or early in September.

Yesterday's Record.

Among the items in the news of yesterday stolen from THE PRESS of the day before, were:

The proceedings of the Board of Education last Monday evening;

The departure of Miss Dunn for Chautauqua;

The accident to little Annie Rooney in the carpet works;

The meeting of the Crescent Avenue Sunday school teachers, to settle the excursion difficulty; and,

The death of Harold Zeagler at Denver.

These daily records of petty thefts by an incompetent newspaper, point the way towards—to quote the news itself of the 17th—"the only publication office in this locality where honor seems unknown."

Notice! Reform Club!

The subject of Rev. A. A. Phelps' address in Reform Hall this evening will be, as understood, on the pending Constitutional Amendment in Nebraska, and THE PRESS is authorized to state, that the bills of announcement headed "The Question of the hour—Prohibition, Protection." were posted and circulated without the knowledge or consent of the Reform Club, as all meetings held under its auspices must be strictly non-partisan.

The Ceiling Fell on Her.

Susan Johnson, the janitress at the railroad station, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday. While cleaning the ladies' toilet room, a large patch of the ceiling fell and striking her on the head rendered her unconscious. Mrs. Haynes, wife of Station Agent Haynes, promptly offered remedies and assistance to the sufferer, who received but slight cuts and bruises.

Bitten By a Snake.

Willie Klup, twelve years of age, who was running about bare-footed yesterday, stepped on a copperhead snake, and it bit him. Dr. Westcott of Scotch Plains, is attending the boy at his home just back of Washingtonville. His leg is badly swollen, but there is hope of his recovery.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

The C. L. S. C. in Metuchen.

Here in Plainfield, until recently the business centre of the C.L.S.C., the Chautauqua movement has naturally taken a deep hold and has many adherents. Yet many readers may be surprised to learn that in the pretty neighboring village of Metuchen, there has been established—with no assistance from their brethren here, other than a visit from Bishop Vincent—a thriving Chautauqua Circle, which during the past year, has increased its membership to nearly fifty.

The Metuchen Circle is now prepared to celebrate the completion of its fourth year with a public meeting to be held in the Reformed church on Monday evening of next week at 8 o'clock. The assemblage will be addressed by Dr. E. H. Cook, Head Master of Rutgers College Grammar School. Dr. Cook was formerly President of the New York State Teachers Association, and is an interesting and witty speaker. The church will be prettily decorated with Chautauqua emblems, flowers, etc., and in addition to Dr. Cook's remarks, an enjoyable musical programme is promised.

At the conclusion of the public services, which will be brief, there will be a social at the home of Augustine Campbell, where all Chautauquans and friends of the Circle will be made welcome.

A Warning to Bicyclers from Mayor Place.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Many complaints having come to me that the Borough ordinance prohibiting bicycle riding on sidewalks is daily violated, to the annoyance of pedestrians, I wish to call the attention of those whom it may concern, to the ordinance, which is as follows:

SEC 1. That betweeen the hours of 7 o'clock in the morning, and nine o'clock in the evening, it shall be unlawful for any person over eight years of age, to have, ride, or use any bicycle or other vehicle, except baby carriages and conveyances for invalids, upon any sidewalk of any of the streets or avenues of the Borough of North Plainfield.

The punishment therefor is a fine not to exceed five dollars, or imprisonment in the lockup not to exceed five days. It is hoped that all bicycle and tricycle riders will strictly obey said ordinance, and thereby not become liable to arrest.

CHARLES PLACE, Mayor.

A $250 Rig Stolen.

A horse and wagon belonging to James W. Guttridge, proprietor of the Netherwood store, was stolen from in front of a hotel at Bound Brook on Monday evening, and the rig is still missing. Mr. Guttridge left the rig in charge of the hostler, who fell asleep on the hotel steps. The horse, wagon and harness were valued at $250. Police Captain Grant has been furnished with the following description of the rig:

Bay horse 16 hands high, white blase on head, and white right hind foot, open made and open galted. Wagon with black body, red gear, sled fast top, something like a doctor's wagon; in wagon fly sheet with top button off and lower button split in two, light Summer blanket with patch on bottom.

A Sermon of the Rev. Mr. Mitchell's That Demands Repetition.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It is expected that THE PRESS can follow the pulpit so close as to publish popular sermons that are preached in the current order of ministerial service. On Monday morning the whispered fame of a sermon preached in the Baptist church resounded from one end of the city to the other and a revolution of superstitious judgment in eternal torment responded to the telling truths of the much quoted pastor who proclaimed the welcome news that we have a merciful universal parent over the family of mankind. We ask for many earnest citizens that the sermon be repeated after a proper announcement to the public.

A CHRISTIAN.

Held for the Grand Jury.

Thomas Fahey, one of the Sunday gamblers, gave himself up to Justice Nash last evening, and furnished $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The young man was subsequently arrested by Officers Giesse and Kiely on West Third street, but he was afterward released, when it became known that he had voluntarily surrendered himself to Justice Nash.

To Fight for $400.

The last deposit in the glove contest to a finish between Bill Dunn of Bayonne and Jim Dwyer of Bound Brook, at one time a resident here, of $100 a side, was posted yesterday with the Police Gazette.

The match is for $400 and a purse. J. H. Sullivan of Jersey City, or Dominick Fitzpatrick of Elizabeth, have charge of the tickets.

A Coal Train Broke In Two.

An empty West bound coal train on the Central Railroad broke in two near Netherwood about 8:30 o'clock, last evening, and the engine and a portion of the train ran to Dunellen, before the break was discovered. The train was drawn by Central Engine No. 102.

Sixteen Pardoned.

The Court of Pardons held a short session at Trenton on Tuesday and set free sixteen criminals. One of the number was Leander Whitlock, sentenced from Middlesex county in December, 1888, to two years and six months for atrocious assault and battery.

You can never know till you try, how quickly a dose of Ayer's Pills will cure your sick headache. Your stomach and bowels need cleansing, and these pills will accomplish it more effectually and comfortably than any other medicine you can find.

CITY OFFICIALS ARRESTED.

A Serious Collision Between the Authorities at Spokane Falls.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., June 26.—A serious collision occurred early in the morning between the authorities of Spokane County and the city of Spokane Falls.

There is rivalry existing between the Spokane Street Railway Company and the City Park Transit Company, both wanting to lay tracks on Division street for an electric and cable line. The Street Railway Company had its line in position and the City Council ordered the track torn up in five days, the limit expiring at midnight.

As a precautionary measure the company had procured an injunction from the Superior Court to prevent the city authorities from interfering with the tracks. At four o'clock the work of demolition began. Acting Mayor Davidson, Sheriff Hilchliff, and other city and county officials were present.

The sheriff and his deputies arrested the mayor, superintendent of streets and captain of police Martin.

They gave bonds and returning to the scene found a large force relaying the track.

The police ordered them to desist, and arrested all who refused, and subsequently took the sheriff and his deputies into custody.

State warrants were then issued for the arrest of all the members of the City Council and the entire police force, about sixty-five men.

This disqualified the policemen, and a force of special policemen was sworn in.

Upon the order of Judge Kenneard, of the Superior Court, 250 deputy sheriffs were then sworn in. The local militia regiment is at the encampment near Tacoma, 400 miles away.

There has been no bloodshed so far, but bitter feeling exists, and grave fears are entertained that a personal conflict will occur.

A Field of Icebergs.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 26.—Capt. Taylor, of the steamer Concordia from Glasgow, reports encountering a regular field of icebergs when 200 miles east of Cape Race. They were on all sides of the vessel and of various shapes and sizes. Capt. Taylor says one of the bergs was fully a mile long and from 60 to 70 feet high and flat on top. There were hundreds of the bergs each within a short distance of the others, and much difficulty was experienced in steering clear of them.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

The People Will Pay No Taxes Until They Receive Better Protection.

London Police Denounce the New Commissioner—Salisbury's Invitation Declined by the Unionists—A Priest Sentenced for Boycotting—The Cholera Record in Spain—Liberals Offer to Elect Bismarck.

HALIFAX, June 26.—The steamer Harlaw, from the West Newfoundland coast, is here, and her captain, Mr. Farquhar, confirms the statement that he was refused permission to land goods at Bay St. George unless he would give bond to be responsible for all duties and charges which the consignees might fail to pay. The captain declined to accede to this demand, and proceeded to Bonne Bay. On his return the goods were landed, the consignees having received regular permits.

The British man-of-war Pelican was at Bonne Bay. The coast is nearly free from ice.

The captain also confirms the report of a conflict between islanders and the French at Port au Port. Several of the contestants received black eyes and murderous bruises.

The trouble arose from the French wanting to take bait out of the Newfoundlanders' nets. The people on the west coast are still determined to pay no taxes until they receive better protection.

TYRANNY DENOUNCED.

The London Bobbies Rebel Against the New Chief Commissioner.

LONDON, June 26.—By command of Chief Commissioner Sir Edward Bradford, stringent orders have been posted in every police station, forbidding the members of the police force to engage in any discussion whatsoever of their grievances. This action of the commissioner, however, has not prevented the police from formulating a petition to the Home Secretary denouncing the tyranny of Bradford and praying for relief, and it is understood that it is being generally signed.

The police assert that Bradford has sought to deprive them of the privileges which are accorded by the law and custom to every British subject, and declare emphatically that they will not submit to the restrictions he has placed upon them.

Bradford has easily earned the name of having made himself generally disliked in a shorter space of time than any man who has held office under the Government in recent years.

An American's Valuable Discovery.

BERLIN, June 26.—Persons interested in African affairs in this city are greatly excited over the discovery by the American Egyptologist, Wilbour, of the record of the existence in ancient times of canals around the Nile cataracts. This discovery, of the authenticity of the date, of which there is no doubt, suggests the possibility of the reopening of the Soudan by the British by the restoration of the canals, whereby the possessions of Germany in Southern Africa would become practically valueless as compared with their promise of revenue.

Stanley Among the Students.

LONDON, June 26.—Quite a scene occurred at the Oxford University commemoration when Mr. Henry M. Stanley was introduced. Upon his presentation to the under-graduates, the explorer was good-naturedly chaffed by the college lads, who sang: "For He is a Jolly Good Fellow!" following up the rendition of the old song with a salvo of cheers for Stanley and "one more for the bride-elect," who was also present. The degree of Doctor of Civil Law was conferred upon Mr. Stanley, and also upon Prof. Goodwin, of Harvard.

Salisbury's Invitation Declined.

LONDON, June 26.—It is learned that at the Unionist caucus held yesterday, a letter from Lord Salisbury was read inviting the Unionist members to be present at a Conservative caucus to be held at the Foreign Office. Lord Hartington favored acceptance of the invitation and Mr. Chamberlain opposed it. The matter was put to vote and the invitation declined.

Thrown Into the Sea and Drowned.

LONDON, June 26.—A dispatch from Brest says: "By the collapsing of a foot-bridge leading from the steamer Stage to the steamer Saint Jean, hundreds of persons were precipitated into the sea. So far seven bodies have been found and many persons are still missing. Divers are searching for the bodies of others who are believed to have been drowned."

Father Crowley Sentenced to Prison.

CORK, June 26.—The trial of Father Crowley, of Bantry, for boycotting and intimidation, has been concluded at that place. The court sentenced him to one month's imprisonment for intimidating a Protestant parson named Schull, and six months' additional imprisonment in default of bail to keep the peace.

The Cholera Record.

MADRID, June 26.—The authorities at all Spanish ports have established a ten day's quarantine against vessels arriving from Gaudia and Valencia. If there be cholera aboard a vessel the quarantine is extended to fifteen days. The total number of cases of cholera in Valencia to date is 196, of which 113 have proved fatal.

Will Nominate Bismarck.

BERLIN, June 26.—The National Liberal party has offered to nominate Prince Bismarck as its candidate for the seat in the Reichstag relinquished by Dr. Miguel, recently appointed Prussian Minister of Finance.

Mr. Maguire Returned to Parliament.

DUBLIN, June 26.—Mr. Rochfort Maguire, the Parnellite Parliamentary candidate for North Donegal, has been elected without opposition. Mr. Maguire is a returned colonist of wealth.

1,000 Men Out at East St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 26.—An increase of wages was asked for by the freight handlers of the different roads running into East St. Louis and the demand being refused over 1,000 men went out on strike. All local freight traffic is entirely suspended. Two non-union men, who attempted to go to work, were assaulted and severely beaten by a striker. The local superintendents and agents are now holding a consultation with the strikers with a view to a settlement of the difficulty.

A Priest Commits Suicide.

OCEAN SPRINGS, Ala., June 26.—Rev. Father Bohmet, of St. Alphonsus' Church, shot himself dead to-day. He had been ill for some time. He was 45 years old, and a native of Germany.

President Seelye Resigns.

AMHERST, Mass., June 26.—President Seelye of Amherst College has resigned, to take effect at the end of the college year, August 31.

Prohibitionist Candidate for Governor.

"Why?"

"Because, it is so light that every ounce of pressure on the pedals tells."

"How light is it?"

"It weighs only 33 pounds."

"How much do other safeties weigh?"

"From 46 to 51 pounds."

"That's only a difference of 13 to 18 pounds."

"ONLY! Why, it means that you must propel that many pounds more with each revolution of the wheel, and there are 400 revolutions in each mile."

"Is that the reason you consider the CATFORD cheaper at $140 than any other Safety at $135?"

"That is one of many reasons."

"Have you a Ladies' Safety?"

"Yes; and for SWEET, ATTRACTIVE GRACE, there is nothing like our SPECIAL LADIES' PREMIER, especially when the lady is riding it!"

CORNELL'S VICTORY

The Ithaca Students Defeat the Pennsylvanians.

THREE-MILE RECORD BEATEN.

The Keystone Boys Caught the Water First but Were Quickly Outrowed.

The Race Won After the First Half-Mile—Pennsylvania Made a Good Spurt at the Finish—The Three Miles Covered in 14 Minutes and 43 Seconds—Yale-Harvard Race This Evening.

NEW LONDON, June 27.—The Cornell University crew won their race with the University of Pennsylvania last evening by six lengths over the three-mile course in the fast time of 14:33, Pennsylvania's time 15:02.

The race was very quiet and uninteresting after the first half mile, as the Pennsylvania boys gradually dropped behind while the Cornells kept increasing their lead.

Pennsylvania caught the water first and stole nearly a length on the Cornells, the latter's boat not being headed straight. Pennsylvania started off with 33 strokes and Cornell pulling 40. Cornell moved up on even terms after the first quarter, and then both crews spurted. Pennsylvania ran up to 42 and Cornell to 44. This was the decisive and only interesting part of the race.

Pennsylvania held her place until exactly opposite the first half-mile flag when they dropped to 36 strokes while Cornell was rowing 40. The Pennsylvania crew then went to pieces, each man appeared to be pulling on his own account, the oars striking the water in one, two, three, four order.

Opposite the navy yard, Cornell having a lead of two lengths, dropped their stroke to 36, while Pennsylvania had dropped to 33. After passing the mile flag Pennsylvania improved somewhat, and between the one and two mile flags the crews pulled nearly stroke for stroke, Cornell gradually increasing their lead to three and a half lengths.

Entering the last half both crews spurted, and in doing so Cornell caught two crabs in quick succession, thereby losing nearly a boat's length. Recovering, they put in a strong spurt and increased their lead, crossing the line six lengths in advance of the Pennsylvania crew. Pennsylvania made a fairly good spurt at the finish, but to no effect.

The official time was: Cornell, 14:43; Pennsylvania, 15:02.

The Yale crew were out last night, and their clocklike movements were greatly admired. The Harvard men are keeping very quiet.

Cornell celebrated the victory by the usual noisy demonstrations.

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

An Ex-Mayor of New Haven Suspected of Embezzlement Kills Himself.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 27.—One of New Haven's most prominent citizens, Lucien W. Sperry, killed himself during the morning. He was 70 years old and had served the city as mayor and represented it in the legislature. He was a descendant of one of the earliest families of New Haven. He was a brother of Postmaster N. D. Sperry.

Mr. Sperry was some years ago appointed trustee of an estate valued at $16,000. Within the past few weeks relatives have been trying to get control of the estate, and Mr. Sperry was ordered by the court to render his account. He could account for but $7,000 and was practically adjudged an embezzler, and would probably have been arrested had he not shot himself. Besides this he had worsted several men in different ways to the extent of several thousand dollars, and was under, at least, $50,000 criminal indebtedness without a dollar with which to clear himself.

Mr. Sperry always lived in fine style and passed much of his life in Europe. The suicide has caused a sensation, as he shot himself in his house which is in one of the most fashionable portions of Orange street.

Boston Building Laborers Still Out.

BOSTON, June 27.—The wages offered by the Master Builders' Association will not be accepted by the laborers. They hold that the excavators, as well as the hod men, should have twenty-five cents an hour, instead of only twenty-two cents as offered. Of the 25,000 men who originally struck, there are to-day but 419 on strike. Their officers assert that the others, whether excavators or hod carriers, have obtained the twenty-five cents per hour demanded.

Thirty-six Graduates at Bowdoin.

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 27.—A class of 36 was graduated at Bowdoin College. At a meeting of the Overseers, President Hyde was re-elected, and the following honorary degrees conferred: LL.D., Hon. Thos. B. Reed, '60, Hon. Rathbun Webb, of Portland; D.D., Rev. Elias Bond, '27, Rev. Joshua Young, '45, and Rev. Leland Chapman, '66; A. M., Rev. F. S. Root, of Auburn.

Fatal Wreck on the Erie.

CANISTEO, N. Y., June 27.—An excursion train returning from Chautauqua Lake over the western division of the Erie road was wrecked near Andover, Allegany County, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. Four people were seriously injured, one probably fatally.

Striking Weavers Compromise.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The 500 striking silk weavers of Capcult's mill in Yonkers effected a compromise, and will go to work on Monday. An equal number of strikers in Patroon's mill are still out.

THE ENTOMBED MINERS.

A Belief that the Dead Bodies Will be Found To-Day.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 27.—The tension here to-day is absolutely painful. The people are without hope of finding their friends and comrades alive, but they are firm in the belief that before the day is over the undertakers awaiting nearby will have been placed in charge of the 29 dead bodies.

The officers of the Dunbar Furnace Company and the mine inspectors are now making every effort to avoid another disaster when the dividing wall is broken through.

It is probable that Inspector Keighley will take charge at the supreme moment. He will have with him but one man. The other men on the shift will be sent back a safe distance and remain until the air in the Hill Farm mine has been tested and pronounced safe for them to enter. There will be little delay after these precautions have been taken and the work of rescue will be prompt.

A FLATIRON HIS WEAPON.

Charles Seymour Attempts to Kill His Boarder and Entire Family.

MANCHESTER, Vt., June 27.—Charles Seymour, of Manchester Centre, in a fit of frenzy struck Charles Harding, a jeweler, who was boarding with him, with a flatiron, knocking him down. Seymour's wife started to alarm the neighbors, when he struck her with the flat iron, knocking her down.

He then struck his five-year-old son with the iron. He afterward cut his throat with a pocket knife, and also stabbed himself in the abdomen. Seymour and Harding are alive, but cannot recover. The others are in a critical state. Seymour was jealous.

Schooners Collide and Sink.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 27.—The schooner Fannie Hall, Boston, for Eastport, and the schooner Stella Lee, Green's Landing, for Boston, partly loaded, collided last night off Thatcher Island. The Lee sank in 20 minutes. The Hall was cut to the water's edge and was towed to this place by the schooner Ethel T. Merrian. The Lee was 86.44 tons, built in Freeport, Me., in 1871, and owned in Portland. No insurance on either vessel.

World's Conference of Christian Students.

NORTHFIELD, Mass., June 27.—Over 400 delegates are expected, from more than 100 American colleges, to be present at the opening of the World's Conference of Christian College Students tomorrow. Students are also expected from the leading European universities. Dwight L. Moody presides over the gathering. Leading theologians of the world will address the conference, which will continue twelve days.

Shot Himself in the Temple.

BELVIDERE, N. J., June 27.—Frederick Cook, a retired merchant of Hackettstown, committed suicide in his bedroom by shooting himself in the temple with his revolver. The noise of the pistol aroused the other inmates of the house, and they hastened to his bedchamber, but arrived too late to find him alive. He had been acting strangely of late, and it is thought that his mind was unbalanced.

Awful Hot in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The excessive heat continues. Four deaths from sunstroke were reported yesterday. Scores of people were prostrated by the heat, and many are now in a critical condition. There is no indication of a change in the temperature. Rain during the night only added to the oppressive heat.

Muhlenberg College Commencement.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 27.—The degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon twenty graduates at Muhlenberg College commencement. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon twelve members of the class of '87. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. John Kohler, of Leacock, Pa., and Rev. A. J. Weddell of Norristown.

A Doctor Kills Himself.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Dr. George Langfitt, of Bellevue, jumped from the third story window of his residence while temporarily insane from excessive use of liquor and opiates. His neck was broken and death was instantaneous. The doctor was one of the best known men in Western Pennsylvania.

Wallace and Dixon Fight To-Night.

LONDON, June 27.—The Wallace-Dixon fight will take place at the Pelican Club to-night. Wallace's refusal to fight without Jem Carney in his corner was looked upon by Dixon's supporters as an attempt to "crawl" out of the fight, and he has concluded to enter the ring in any event.

Fainted While Filling a Lamp.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 27.—At Orbisonia, Mrs. Adam H. Wise fainted while filling a lamp, dropping the oil can on a stove. She and a little son who was standing at her side were drenched with burning oil and fatally burned.

The Lilly Will Go to Her Rancho.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A dispatch from London says that Mrs. Langtry is much better and will go to her ranch in California, accompanied by Mr. Gebhard, as soon as she is strong enough to bear the journey, to spend some months.

Trial of the New Steel Cruiser.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—The trial of the new steel cruiser Philadelphia off Long Island was a grand success, and the Cramps are at least $200,000 richer. The exact time is not positively stated, but it is understood that her speed was nearly twenty knots.

THE RAILROAD WAR

The Big Illinois Central Strike Rapidly Spreading.

FUTILE EFFORTS TO RUN TRAINS

Bloodshed Apprehended if the Freight Hands Return to Work.

It Will be a Repetition of the Great "Q" Strike—The Company Sends Its Ultimatum—A Mob Stops an Engine—Strikers Holding a Secret Meeting To-Day.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Illinois Central strike is like a black cloud. It threatens to spread to all the Western trunk roads.

The officials say they are determined to run the road without being dictated to by the men, and another siege similar to the big "Q" strike is looked for.

A certain reliance is placed upon the freight conductors, who fear they cannot stand a long strike. If these men return to work without the brakemen there may be bloodshed. The yardmen are greatly excited.

All the crews on the main line between Centralia and Dubuque are out. Those on the Cairo division are also out and not a wheel turns except to carry the mail.

Several committees from other roads waited on the Illinois Central strikers to-day to assure them of hearty cooperation in case there should be any necessity for a general tie-up.

It is said that conductors and brakemen have been hired from other roads in the East and that the officials will not take back any of the old employes who have not already consented to return to work.

A committee of the strikers went to Cairo to-day, and on their orders every freight train between there and Centralia on the Illinois Central Railroad was side-tracked.

The passenger coaches were detached from two trains, and local roads were notified not to handle Central cars going to other lines.

The Illinois Central will labor under every possible disadvantage, for so close is the communion now between engineers, firemen, brakmen and switchmen that no other road dare handle Central cars or do any business with it whatever.

A Mob Handles the Switch.

CENTRALIA, Iowa, June 27.—An attempt was made in the morning to run out a train on the Illinois Central. An engine, a flat car and a caboose were coupled together, B. C. Young taking the engine, while Trainmaster Higgins acted as conductor. The engine had scarcely started on the trip when a switch was turned against it by a mob, the pins pulled and the effort defeated. Young ran his engine back to the round house and no further attempt to move trains was made.

IN NATIONAL HANDS.

The World's Fair Commissioners Hold Their First Meeting.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The World's Fair National Commissioners are holding their first meeting in this city. Judge John T. Harris of Virginia was chosen temporary chairman, and made a brief speech reviewing the historical significance of the work in hand.

Mr. John Boyd Thatcher of New York stated that Chauncey M. Depew refused to allow his name to be used in connection with the presidency. A committee on permanent organization was appointed, and after a report has been received officers will be elected. Hon. T. W. Palmer has the lead for the presidency.

It is said that the lake front as a Fair site has been abandoned. So much opposition to this site developed that it was generally agreed among the directors to give it up. The members of the National Commission have been invited to make a personal inspection of the various other sites that have been proposed.

Bishop Potter's Address.

BOSTON, June 27.—Bishop Potter, in his address before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Harvard, spoke at some length on the danger that threatens the nation from the extravagant system of pensions for political purposes.

Pugilist Smith's Challenge.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Charley Smith, the 116 pound champion of England, has issued a challenge to fight the winner of the Wallace-Dixon battle if the Pelican Club will put up a purse of £200 or £300.

Will Sell the Railroad.

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., June 27.—Damariscotta voted, 79 to 40, in favor of selling the Knox & Lincoln Railroad to the Boston syndicate. This reverses the former action of the town.

General Sherman's Son a Lawyer.

NEW YORK, June 27.—P. Tecumseh Sherman, son of Gen. W. T. Sherman, was one of a class of twenty-seven young lawyers admitted to the bar by the General Term of the Supreme Court.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The President has sent to the Senate the following postmaster nominations: Massachusetts, James Ord, Medfield; New York, J. J. Lamphere, Silver Creek; Pennsylvania, Geo. Griffith, Kane; B. Fagenle, Selling Grove.

Population of Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 27.—Supervisor Williams' estimate places the population of this city at 131,538.

GRADUATES GALORE.

ONE OF THE LARGEST OF SENIOR CLASSES, BRING CREDIT TO THE TWENTIETH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT.

The Scholars and Their Subjects—The Valedictory—Mr. Wiley's Speech For the Class of '79—The Awards and the Winners.

SOME of the new scenery formed a beatiful garden set with vases of flowers and statuary, last evening, in Music Hall, upon the occasion of the twentieth annual commencement of the High School. The stage was adorned besides with the white frocked graduates in the centre, set off by, at their right and left in black coats and white ties, President Jacob Kirkner, Secretary John W. Murray and John B. Probasco of the Board of Education, Principal L. B. Goodrich, the Revs. D. J. Yerkes, C. B. Mitchell and J. B. Van Meter, ex-Trustee L. F. Wadsworth, Franklin B. Wiley and the young men graduates.

The weather was remarkably cool for a commencement date, and the orchestral music was delightful. There were flowers galore for not only those with appointments, but all the graduates of both sexes as well. The alumni were kept busy sorting and tendering the fragrant offerings. The class, whose motto is Gradatim sed Perpetuo, is one of the largest ever graduated and a great credit to Principal Goodrich and teacher Edwin H. Lewis. The graduates of 1890, and their subjects, are:

A Scottish Hero.....Bessie E. Blair
The Mystic Seven.....Marian M. Buxton
The Pleasures of Science.....Emma V. Case
Cicero at Home.....Margaret R. Case
Ideal Cities.....William Wallace Coriell
Emancipators.....Walter R. Darby
The Three Fates.....Eleanor E. Davis
Co-operative Housekeeping,
—Minnie Jackson French
Before the Revolution.....Phebe E. Mills
The Influence of Geography on Greek History,
—Edmund Philip Nischwitz
Property and Poverty..Edward James Patterson
Factors in American Character,
—Edward Charles Petrie
Iter ad Astra.....Asa F. Randolph
The Sky.....Caroline Fitz Randolph
The Nobility of Humility..Ernestine Curtis Smith
The Journal of a Spring Month.....May Stelle
Toussant L'Ouverture....Alfred Preston White
The Iron Chancellor.....C. Clara Woltman

President Kirkner announced the programme and introduced as the first essayist, Miss C. Clara Woltman, whose subject was "The Iron Chancellor." She told of the rise, progress and retirement of Count Bismarck, whose will, she said, was the most powerful factor in the history of Europe.

Walter R. Darby told of "Emancipators." He included discoverers and inventors, all leaders of thought and action, and Luther who had released the World from the thraldom of speech, as well as the abolishers of slavery.

Emma V. Case, in a very prettily made gown, explained "The Pleasures of Science" found during High School study. In the stars, daises, chemicals, buttercups, physics and mathematics, was concealed enjoyment.

Phebe E. Mills told of dress and architecture "Before the Revolution," and pictured the old powdered beaux in the minuet, and the spacious halls with carved balustrades and open fire place that were the reception rooms of those days.

Alfred Preston White, a colored graduate of intelligent face and dignified bearing, spoke well and sincerely in admiration of that statesman, soldier and martyr—"Toussant L'Ouverture."

Caroline Fitz Randolph's subject, "The Sky," was one of the most originally and intellectually treated of all. Her delivery, also, was appropriate and impressive. The close of her essay was an especially realistic picture of the beautiful and wierd effects of the clouds— t times gentle, awful, capricious or divine.

Edward James Patterson, in his address on "Property and Poverty," opened with a plea for capital as the developer and benefiter of labor, and closed by wiping out with a breath, the theories of Henry George and Edward Bellamy. He said that shorter hours had brought harder work, and increased wag s had brought higher rents; and that invention was both a blessing and a curse.

Margaret R. Case, in a pleasing way, described "Cicero at Home." How he left his conceit behind him in the Senate, and enjoyed his villa and domestic life Edward Charles Petier closed the list with "Factors in American Character." He said:

MR. PETRIE'S ESSAY AND VALEDICTORY.

"What is an American?" an English traveler asked some years ago; and answered in the same breath: "A more or less successfully disguised Englishman." An American present remarked "Very much disguised." "I must disagree with you," responded the Briton, 'the less disguised he is the nearer he comes to the English prototype; the better he is satisfied with himself."

But the present American does not wish to imitate British manners and customs, neither is he satisfied with being almost an Englishman; on the other hand he delights in declaring himself an American, an entirely different p rsonage from an Englishman. We know that at the close of the war for independ nce, men of English descent predominated. Nothing speaks better for the services they rendered our country than this fact, for they were the men who obtained our freedom, established the republic, and placed it on so firm a found tion. No doubt the English race-type yet prevails and has furnished some of the most valuable and essential characteristics of our race; but the constant changes, caused not only by the new environment, but by the mixture of alien blood as well, almost completely disguise the original English type of the American. We have had many great men in our brief history whose lives are marked illustrations of our national charter. Of these men, those who have lived in the last half century are better examples of the new race-type than the heroes and patriots of the Revolution.

Lincoln with his wisdom, fearlessness, reliance in God, and judicious management of the government during the most critical period of its history, stands in the front ranks of modern patriots. Who has been more noted for his pluck, energy and determination combined than Grant? His famous despatch: "I will fight it out on this line if it takes all Summer," shows of itself the nature of the man. His grit was marvellous. Whatever he determined to do and once fixed his mind upon, nothing on earth could make him relinquish; and of final victory he was always sure.

Whom shall we mention for his perseverance and progression? What statesman of later times has risen to prominence amid greater hardships and with the prospect of a more gloomy future than James A. Garfield? There is no need of mentioning how he, step by step, rose to one of the most honored positions in the World. Everyone remembers Phil Sheridan, with his fire and dash; and Sherman, too, the sole surviving leader of that great struggle in which he displayed his remarkable pluck, doggedness and skill as a commander. What one man stands before the World today in whom there is most prominently displayed the characteristics which, combining, form the noblest type of the American? Is it not Chauncy Depew?

But of these men, who would think of Lincoln as an Englisman, Grant as a Scotchman, or Sherman as an Irishman? For though they had foreign blood in their veins, to us they are Americans. As men of various countries, representing the best blood of the European nations, have commingled in the United States, they have become more closely acquainted with one another and have become united in bonds of friendship. The American of today is like a composite photograph, developed from many transplanted nationalities; and it is the hope and expectation of the United States that the longer men of these nationalities mingle here the more closely allied will they become, for the unity of her people is the nation's surest support. It is clear that such a nation, combining French polish, Irish sagacity and wit, German capacity for business, Scotch honesty, energy and determination, and English wisdom, godliness and stability, would far eclipse any nation that has ever appeared on the face of the earth.

VALEDICTORY.

But it is also manifest that one of the greatest factors in the future of our country is her school system, and you, the citizens of Plainfield, have manifested your appreciation of this fact by providing for the youth of our city a free and most valuable education.

We have welcomed you to many of our entertainments and have received from you many attentions and gifts. Although you may represent various nationalities, as proof that you desire the rising generation shall always have before it the emblem of liberty and shall become patriotic citizens, you have caused the American flag unfurled above each of our school buildings.

We can hardly forbear saying something here which is not the less spontaneous and sincere than it is unexpected by our acting Principal. This is that we appreciate deeply the worthy manner in which the vacancy caused by the absence of our Principal has been filled during the past year.

In bidding you farewell, the Class of '90 wish to thank you heartily for the interest you have shown in the cause of public education, and trust that it will continue with increasing measure.

Gentlemen of the Board of Education—You have probably become so accustomed to seeing classes graduate that "commencement day" has become an old story to you; but, since it is new to us, we wish to express our appreciation of your wise selection of teachers, to whose instruction we owe so much, and our gratitude for the many advantages you have procured for our school. You represent the American character with your sound judgment, sagacity and determination, and we know that you will not rest satisfied until you render our system of public schools the equal of any in the land.

* * * * * * *

It is hardly necessary for me to address my classmates, because we know one another so well. We have studied together for years. To-night we are standing at one of the mile stones in our lives. The road has been difficult at times, but we have surmounted the obstacles and have at last reached this, the goal of our youthful ambitions.

We have had advantages of which our struggling forefathers never dreamed and of which even our parents felt the sorest need. We are now reaping the results of their experience and earnest, tireless labor. It is not a night of sorrow to us, but it is a time of deep responsibility. It has been said that the youth of today constitute the nation of to-morrow. It is for us, then, to see to it that the future manhood and womanhood of our land shall justify the hopes and expectations of today, that, as we go on in life, we shall not be unknown quantities, but powerful factors in forming our national character.

EDWARD CHARLES PETRIE.

Franklin B. Wiley, of the Class of '79, then spoke as follows:

FRANKLIN B. WILEY'S SPEECH.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Board of Education, Fellow Graduates, Ladies and Gentlemen:—The class of '79, desiring to commemorate in durable form the tenth anniversary of its graduation and at the same time to give permanent assurance of its profound interest in its Alma Mater, decided at the decennial reunion held last Autumn to present to the High School a memento which should be at once suitable, serviceable, and suggestive. With the class motto, "Time—Our Estate," in mind, no difficulty was experienced in making a selection which we believe most admirably combines all of these qualities in the one gift. But in offering our gift for your approval and acceptance our satisfaction is not without its alloy of regret. We miss those of our classmates who, having made their homes far away in New England or in the cities of the great Northwest, or who, seeking fortune at the Pacific's Golden Gate or beneath the shadows of the Southern palms, have found the distances which separate them from their Alma Mater too vast to traverse even when summoned by her; we miss the two who 'Have tir.d, and laid them down where dar-

keved shadows fall:—
Dear as her loving voice may be, they cannot hear its call;"

Most of all we miss him who was with us, though not of us, whose encouraging hand pressure yet lingers in our palm and whose inspiring tones are still sounding in our ears; the courtly gentleman, the accomplished sch lar, the able principal—John P. Gross.

Our purpose to night, however, is not that of indulging in unavailing regret, but of presenting a gift to Alma Mater which we hope will for many years to come daily impress upon all her future students, both upon those who teach and those who learn, the old, familiar, often-conned, yet frequently forgotten lesson of the preciousness of time. In the World's dawn, time like life, was considered of such little account that men noted its flight only by the passage of the sun across the sky and the shifting positions of the stars. As ages fled and men emerged from the savage state, a vague idea of the value of time began to haunt the human mind and the primitive dial was invented. With advancing civilization a clearer comprehension of the surpassing importance of time took root in the minds of men and grew and bore fruit as the years went by producing the hour-glass, the device of the burning candles, and the clumsy clepsydra; and then, after a long interval, the clock, the watch, and finally the chronometer, which most vividly illustrates the modern understanding of the value of time by accurately measuring the fifth part of a second.

It was this modern understanding of the value of time which led the class of '79 to adopt as its motto, "Time—Our Estate," and it is the modern developement of the means by which time is measured that to-night enables us to give enduring expression to that motto in the clock now hanging in Assembly Hall, of which Mr. President and Gentlemen, on behalf of the Class of '79, I ask your acceptance. To all who shall hereafter gather each morning in Assembly Hall, may this clock bring home the great lesson that short as life is, it may be made shorter still by the careless waste of time. As you look upon the motto emblazoned on the glass behind which the pendulum is ever swinging, ceaseless as the the passage of time itself, let every swing of that pendulum mean life as well as time: as you listen to the slow and stately ticking of the timepiece, telling out the fleeting seconds and marking off the flying hours, remember that of all your opportunities, time is one of the most important. "Do not squander time," said Benjamin Franklin, 'for that is the stuff of which life is made." "What have we to do with time," asks Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, but to fill it up with labor." "At the battle of Montebello," said Napoleon, "I ordered Kellerman to attack with 800 horse, and with these he separated the 6,000 Hungarian grenadiers before the very eyes of the Austrian cavalry. This cavalry was half a league off, and required a quarter of an hour to arrive on the field of action; and I have observed," adds the great conqueror, "that it is always these quarters of an hour that decide the fate of a battle," including, we may add, the battle of life. Then with the words of these famous men in your ears and their stimulating example before you, "Let actions spring from resolves, until o'er you deeds make an eden of "Time—Your Estate."

President Kirkner in reply expressed the appreciation of all and the thanks of the Board. "The clock," he said, "is one that, even though the Board has a reputation in some quarters of being very extravagant, we would never have felt we could afford to purchase."

The fortunate prize winners were then called to the stage by Trustee Probasco, and honored as follows:

PRESENTATION OF REWARDS.

For Penmanship—offered by Mr. J. Kirkner—For best Penmanship, Cabinet edition of Longfellow's Poems, Household edition of Whittier's Poems. Prize—Hattie I. King and Clyde Burnett; Honorable Mention—Ada L. Wagner, William Nelson and Lillian D. Garretson. For Greatest Improvement—A gold pen. Prize—Wesley Ulrich; honorable mention—Henry L. Finch, George K. Clark and Maggie Kelley.

For Mathematics—The late Dr. C. H. Stillman. Prize offered by Mrs. C. H. Stillman. First prize—fifteen dollars in gold—Edward C. Petrie. Second prize—ten dollars in gold—Caroline Fitz Randolph.

For English Composition—Offered by Mr. G. W. Babcock—First prize—Irving's complete works, bound in calf—Edith L. Gilbert. Second prize—Irving's complete works, bound in cloth—Fred. A. Daboll Honorable mention—Lulu Patten.

For United States History—Offered by Dr. J. B. Probasco—A subscription certificate to Stanley's Darkest Africa—Prize—Emma V. Fish. Honorable mention—Phebe D. Lovell, Mary H. Miller, Mabel W. Mitchell, Grace A. Palmer, Harry E. Boice, Robert B. Carpenter and Ellery C. Leonard.

For Spelling—Offered by Mr. J. W. Murray—Fireside edition of Hawthorne's complete works—Prize—Emma V. Fish. Honorable mention—Helen Hasbrouck and Edward McCarthy.

For Languages—Offered by Mr. Ernest R. Ackerman for Latin, to each—A copy of Hawthorne's Marble Faun with illustrations—Divided between Hannah L Larkin, Grace H. Petrie. Honorable mention to Edith L. Gilbert and Helen T. French. For Greek—Greek Life and Thought, Social Life in Greece and a Greek Lexicon (Liddell and Scott edition)—Walter R. Darby.

The exercises closed with the presentation of diplomas, which ceremony, was, however, postponed until late because of a very long address by the Rev. Dr. John B. VanMeter, of the Women's College, Baltimore.

The classes of '88 and '89 tendered a reception from eleven to one o'clock, to the graduates and all their friends, in Assembly Hall. The affair was even more enjoyable than usual.

This Afternoon's Fire.

An old frame barn belonging to Messrs Hart and Parse and situated near the brook in the rear of Major Boyd's residence on West Front street, was set on fire and burned to the ground, a little after two o'clock this afternoon. The building was occupied by a colored man and it also served as a place of shelter for cows. A horse, wagon and some harness were removed from the burning building.

Abram Angleman's carpenter shop, which is located nearby, caught fire, but the flames were promptly extinguished by the firemen and others who were on the spot. The burned structure was probably not worth $100. The firemen responded to the general alarm that was sent out.

Meantime the Dam Still Stands.

The testimony in the Hyde-French case, closed before Vice Chancellor Bird Wednesday. About 110 witnesses have been examined. The matter will be argued in the Fall, and a decision may be expected in a year.

—It is said that certain persons in this city are circulating slanderous stories about their neighbors, which, if continued, is likely to result in a lawsuit.

Grand Double Programme To-Night.

Prof. O. R. Gleason, the King of Horse Tamers, has arranged for the last two evenings and for Saturday afternoon a grand double programme, and for to-night a special exhibition will be given with vicious horses. As a great number of horses have been booked to be handled, this will necessitate the entire evening without introducing the educated horses. Eleven horses will be shown, of which all have bad habits, and some of them very vicious. One in particular is a fighting and biting stallion, and a lively fight is expected, for the stallion has a record for his viciousness.

This will be a show to-night worth seeing. On Saturday afternoon there will be a programme for ladies and children, and on Saturday night nine vicious horses will be handled. As that is the last night, the Professor will offer a very attractive programme.

To-Morrow's Ball Game.

The strongest team that ever represented Trenton, composed of the pick of that city's five semi-professional nines, will come to Plainfield to-morrow. They have beaten everything they have played against, this season, including the celebrated Pennington club.

The batting order of the Trenton team to-morrow will be:—Hammel, second base; McLaughlin, short stop; Uplander, third base; Horneff, first base; Galliker, pitcher; Riddle, catcher; McGuire, left field; Haus, centre field; Brown, right field; Cuddy, extra. The Crescent team will be the same as at the last game.

Broke Her Arm.

Etta, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Higgins of West Second street, while playing near a cherry tree on Liberty street on Tuesday afternoon, slipped and fell, breaking her right arm at the wrist. Dr. Simpson attended to the injury.

You can never know till you try, how quickly a dose of Ayer's Pills will cure your sick headache. Your stomach and bowels need cleansing, and these pills will accomplish it more effectually and comfortably than any other medicine you can find.

—The graduating class of the Plainfield High School, yesterday, presented to each of the members of the Junior Class a cake of yeast, neatly tied up in ribbons, representing the class colors.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

—There was a bicycle race against time to Westfield and back, last evening, in which it is said Marion Ackerman broke previous records by making the trip there in 13 minutes, and back in 14.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

THE BOROUGH GRADUATES.

THE SEVENTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT.

The Graduating Class Numbering Twenty-one Pupils Presented an Entertaining Programme Before a Large Audience in Warren Mission Chapel, Last Evening—The Essays, Declamations and Other Minor Details.

CLOSING scenes of the school year were enacted in the North Plainfield Public School, during yesterday, and last evening the seventh annual commencement exercises took place in Warren Mission chapel. The weather, unlike that on similar occasions in former years was pleasant out of doors, but inside the building the atmosphere was at times almost stifling, and fans were found to be a source of real comfort and pleasure.

In previous years, the announced time for opening the doors has been half-past seven o'clock, and a large number of eager spectators were always in waiting for an opportunity to get into the chapel and secure the best seats. All this was changed this year, and when the front doors were thrown open soon after seven o'clock, there were less than three dozen persons waiting for admission which was by ticket. The building soon filled up, however, and when the time arrived for beginning the exercises there was not a vacant seat in the house and many were obliged to endure the hardship of standing throughout the proceedings, notwithstanding the fact that the ushers exerted themselves to find seats for all who came.

The platform make up was about the same as last year, some 200 of the younger pupils of the school occupying raised seats in the rear of the stage proper. The floral decorations were exceedingly modest, consisting principally of a stand of choice lilies. At the close of the exercises the platform resembled a veritable Eden, being liberally banked with baskets and bouquets of choice cut flowers, ferns, etc., gifts of relatives and friends of the graduates. In all twenty-one young people were graduated, and of this number nine were young men.

Principal Boss presided with his usual dignity and the members of the Board of Education, Dr. H. K. Carroll, James McGee, and E. L. Bonney occupied prominent seats on the platform. Miss Carrie D. Randolph was the accompanist. The graduates marched in and took seats on the left of the platform.

The exercises began with music, "Praise ye the Father," by the school, followed by a declamation, "The Duty of Christian Citizenship," by Master John A. Steiner. The young man delivered his declamation in a clear and distinct tone. It dwelt on the responsibility of Christians at the polls, and ended by stating that the man who deserts the righteous party must go down.

The next number on the programme was an admirably written and well delivered essay on "The Old Lane," by Miss Josie E. VanArsdale. Annexed is the essay published in full:

"THE OLD LANE."

From the great highway leading down from the city, branched off a lane, a cool shady spot on a Summer's day, and possessing many a feature worthy of the thoughts of poet or painter.

On either side was the soft green sod, and overhead the deep blue sky just visible through the thickly entwined branches of the trees which formed as it were an archway of shade and solitude. The little babbling brook that ran along on one side was a pretty sight and the sound of the water as it trickled lightly over the pebbles on its way, contributed to the tranquil feeling one would experience in but one brief moment under the shady maples.

After the day's tasks were over, how peaceful and quiet seemed the evening and especially so did it seem years ago, when in the soft gentle twilight of a Summer's day a happy group slowly wended their way through the trees and watched the pale moon rise in the East. Its vision was somewhat obscured in places, but peeping shyly at them through the branches, it edged its way up, up in the sky until far and wide over the country its light extended, and they exclaimed in rapture,

"Oh, what a perfect night!"

Long stayed they out under its mellow light taking advantage of the freedom of youth—but, ah, those days are gone, never to return—they were indeed, to quote Wordsworth,

"Sweet childish days that were as long,
As twenty days are now."

Years ago did a little fellow with his baby sister play and up and down the shady lane they ran in the joyousness of childhood.

Sometimes the little lad would stop and build dams across the stream in order to get a pretty wild flower for the blue-eyed playmate, or mayhap for the novelty of merely stepping across. In the same old lane we find him again, but now he has a few more years on his shoulders, sauntering down the path he comes, throws himself down under one of the maples, and gives himself up to day dreams.

With the gentle trilling of the brook, his thoughts fly to the time when he has left college and is studying for a profession, and then, with a skip he has received his degree as a doctor, and is just starting out on his career—soon he sees himself a noted surgeon and—but, hark! a summons of dinner reaches his ear, and see! he has again become the gay school boy, for with a jump he is up, and has darted out for the house a boy in every sense of the word. No prettier sight could be pictured than the home greeting of the father after a busy day's work off in the fields.

When the mother had made ready the appetizing meal, she joined the children outside and walking down the lane, they stood together at the gate awaiting the return of the tardy one.

There in the soft Summer twilight the children chatted and frolicked, sending off many a merry peal of laughter, which reached the ears of the farmer and his men as they hastened homeward.

They made it a game, those children, who should see father first! and when the baby shouted and clapped its chubby hands, they all sprang up, with a cry of joy to meet the newcomer. And so they wended their way up to the homestead where the old New England supper awaited them—the father and mother the centre of the merry group—a happy united family!

But life is not all a pleasant dream, and as the years passed on, breaks were made in the hitherto happy home.

The little sister, the light and joy of the household, was suddenly taken from their midst, and, as she was slowly carried down the lane, to her last resting place, the soft zephyrs sighed through the branches and whispered, as it were the words of deep sorrow, soothing the remaining ones and drawing their thoughts upward to the one above.

When the home ones had but barely grown accustomed to the absence of this loved one, the younger brother, our school boy of other days, was drawn away from the home to another part of the country, where he soon proved himself to be, not a doctor as his little revery pictured him, but a successful young merchant.

Then when the sounds of war re-echoed through the country and the call came for soldiers, the elder brother, mother's boy, volunteered and amid many tears and heart-broken sobs, he left his dear old home for the sake of his country.

Many a tale could the old lane tell of that time were it given the power of speech. In a gentle whisper would it relate the sight of the mother in tears, as coming down the lane, in the calm and silent evening her thoughts flew to the battle field in the far distant land, and with a fervent heart she prayed for the safety of her soldier boy.

And her prayers were answered for one evening at the end of a few years, he returned her boy and with boyish love threw his arms around her dear neck and kissed her.

And then was the lane the scene of a rejoicing, for the war, the cruel, cruel war was ended and the country and "her boy" were safe!

As one and another of the children left the old home, the father and mother began to realize that childhood's days were over and that their loved ones must now face the stern realities of life unaided by their kind thought and watchful care.

Like the cool shady lane with its freedom and protection seems our childhood in its simplicity and joyous thoughtlessness. But the years roll on, and those days slip back into the past, as we leave the narrow lane for the great highway beyond where life seems all so strange and sweet, its very mystery provoking the bright anticipations of youth.

And our first step in that life beyond is a confident and fearless one, for the idea of defeat seems preposterous, and we start in with a feeling of pride and pleasure.

To some the realities will prove as pleasant as the anticipations, the anxious moments will be followed by happy results and life is a success, while to others it may be a hard journey with paths rough and piercing to the feet, and the daisied walks, to smooth and sweeten the way far between.

But which ever it be, rests largely upon the life in the old lane; for little do we realize as we go skipping along through our childhood that characters are being formed which determine our future success.

In the years to come we may spend many happy hours in the lane of another's childhood, when fond recollections will crowd through our memory, cheering and refreshing us, as we travel onward. But times will come when we will cast regretful glances back upon those happy days of yore, as the consciousness steals over us, that "Something beautiful is vanished,

And we sigh for it in vain;
We behold it everywhere,
On the earth and in the air
But it never comes again."

JOSIE VAN ARSDALE.

June 25, 1890.

"Bay Billy," was the subject of Master James P. Ingram's delamation, in which he alluded to the Battle of Fredricksburg, "Bay Billy" being a favorite horse in the Twenty-second Brigade.

The school sang "The Song of the Sea," after which Miss Emily M. Cathcart, recited "The Legend of the Organ-Builder," a pathetic tale, in which the young organ builder had learned to love, wedded, deserted and finally died, and was buried with his wife.

Master Harry H. Coddington, humorously told in his recitation, "How Girls go Fishing," which elicited loud applause.

The school sang "Nursery Rhymes," a medley, and the second part of the programme was inaugurated by a declamation by Robert M. Clark, entitled "Daniel Periton's Ride." This young man is deserving of special credit. His oratorical ability was unquestioned, and his gestures were good. He told of the perilous ride "Dan" Periton had "down the valley of death" to warn the people of Johnstown of their impending danger, and how the rider had saddled his "bay" and gone to see what danger there was of the dam made of shale and clay, giving away. The young man also told how brave "Dan" Periton was overtaken by a volume of water, seventy feet high, sweeping down upon him through the Conemaugh Valley and carrying everything before it until the granite bridge was reached. In short his declamation was one of the most interesting and most creditably rendered during the evening.

Miss Grace J. Carroll, delivered the next essay on "The Unruly Member," which THE PRESS takes pleasure in reproducing in full. It was as follows:

A PLEA FOR THE UNRULY MEMBER.

There is an old fable which this subject suggests. A gentleman sent his servant in quest of the rarest delicacy the market could afford to set before some honored guests, but when the dinner was served the master was chagrined and indignant to find that the principal dish consisted of tongue. So the next day he ordered the servant to procure the worst thing in the market, and behold! tongues again. In a great rage he called the servant and asked for an explanation of such strange behaviour. The servant replied that the tongue was both the best and worst thing to be found.

The record history gives shows it has long been considered the worst thing, for its bad reputation is almost as old as the race itself, and the record of Xantippe, whose tongue is said to have made the cup of hemlock less bitter to Socrates than it might have been, is a comparatively modern instance. Then in the Bible, the Apostle James condemns the tongue, saying: "The tongue is a little matter, and boasteth great things. Though all birds, beasts and fishes may be tamed by man, the tongue cannot, for out of the same mouth come blessings and curses. It is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison, defiling the whole body and setting on fire the course of nature." And it certainly has merited its bad reputation, for whom has it not condemned? Everyone gets some share of its abuse.

It has flattered the weak, defiled the pure, accused the upright and slandered the innocent, without measure or mercy. Has it not ruined honest men and wrought scenes of desolation in once happy homes? Has not hopeful and ambitious youth been discouraged and deterred from his career by that root of all evils? Its proud, boasting and dreadful profanity are shunned by all, and so prone to falsehood has it become that even the oath on the Bible required in courts of justice and the laws against perjury avail but little in checking it. These are among the worst evils of which it is guilty, but they really bear no comparison with the good things that may be said.

The sweetest words in the human language are said to be "mother," "home" and "heaven," but if there was no tongue to pronounce them they would be but meaningless words. And if there were no tongue there could be no music, no concord of sweet sounds, no Jenny Lind to enchance the World with her wonderful voice, no Patti nor Campanini. Without it all our great oratory would have been lost. The English Parliament would never have rung with the eloquence of Edmund Burke in America's behalf. Nor would Patrick Henry, that great advocate of America's liberty, have aroused his listeners to patriotism by his grand efforts for independence! With the tongue come whispers of love, and utterance of hope and cheer without which the world would be desolate indeed. If the tongue uncontrolled pronounces curses, we know that its natural use is to bless. If it sometimes says evil hurtful things of others, does it not also speak words of comfort to the troubled? And though Florence Nightingale has long been dead, her influence is still alive in the hospitals and homes of today.

Its words of advice, warning and wisdom recall to mind Demosthenes, Socrates, Luther, Wesley, Washington, Lincoln, Bright and Gladstone, whose efforts have been so effectual in elevating the World to its present standpoint. Indeed, by far the great part of the blessings we enjoy, have come through the tongue, and so though in many ways it has proved a bad master, we could ill afford to dispense with so valuable a servant.

"The Children's Cherry Feast" was the title of a recitation by Miss Mina L. Amerman, the young lady displaying in its rendition fine elocutionary powers. The school sang airs from Erminie, accompanied on the violin by Irving S. Whiting, one of the graduates, after which Miss Lizzie M. Whitlock recited, "The Jackdaw of Rheims" to the entire satisfaction of all.

"Keenan's charge," was the subject of the closing declamation by Charles E. Hazeltine. It was both ably and forcibly rendered, and brought forth loud applause.

PRESENTING THE DIPLOMAS.

Dr. H. K. Carroll then delivered a few congratulatory remarks to the graduates, whom he said had gone through a ten year's course with credit to themselves, and satisfaction to their teachers. The motto, "Higher yet and higher," he considered was the proper one for every day life. In conclusion the Doctor said: "I take pleasure in presenting you with these well-earned diplomas."

The diplomas were then awarded to the graduates and Dr. Carroll said: "You now go out from under our discipline, but we hope to have a stronger tie in the interest you will take in the school."

The school sang "Wake! Wake!" thus bringing to a close the seventh annual commencement exercises of the North Plainfield Public School.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

James W. Whitfield, formerly of this city, but late of Tacoma, Washington Territory, is visiting among friends here.

William D. Murray and his sisters, the Misses Gussie and Minnie Murray, will sail for Europe at one o'clock, to-morrow afternoon, on the steamer "Aurania." A number of their many friends will see them off.

Capt. George M. Phillips was taken suddenly ill in John H. VanWinkle's law office, yesterday, and it was found necessary to remove him to his home on West Front street in a carriage. Heart trouble is given as the cause of his illness.

An organ recital will be given in the Church of the Holy Cross, Monday evening. Prof. Willard Groom, of Brooklyn, will preside at the new grand organ and will be assisted by several vocalists. The admission will be by invitation only.

Fred C. Knowland of this city has been appointed General Manager of the Croton Valley Railway company., and has had charge of that company's property since May 1. This line will form a part of the shortest possible line to Boston and the New England States.

BY THE WAY.

—Many items of local interest are crowded out of today's issue of THE PRESS. They will appear to-morrow.

—The Safe Deposit Boxes at City National Bank, No. 12 E. East Front street, are a secure place for the safe keeping of valuables for parties absenting themselves from home during the Summer.

—John Handley, a notion peddler from Stoney Hill, was arrested by Officer Laine at Front and Liberty streets, yesterday afternoon, for being drunk and disorderly. This morning he was fined three dollars by Judge Codington.

—Eugene, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Shafer, of E. Second street, fell on the floor yesterday afternoon, and striking on the back of his head, rendered the child unconscious. Today the little one is better.

—Credit is due to the efficiency of the police, who under instructions from Captain Grant, performed such valuable services at the High school commencement exercises in Music Hall, last evening. The arrangements were the most satisfactory of any that have ever been made.

—At the meeting of Franklin Council, last evening, the quarterly election of officers took place, which were crowded out today. The members were also notified to meet at the rooms at 1 o'clock to attend the funeral of their late brother, Rayanor Tunison, to-morrow afternoon.

A DRAMATIC REVOLT

San Salvador's Revolution Announced in a Ball-Room.

TWENTY-THREE PEOPLE KILLED

President Menendez Dies of Heart Disease Aggravated by the Excitement.

A War Cloud in the Balkans—The Sultan Disregards Russia's Demand for Indemnity—A Row in the Municipal Council at Rome—Eighty Armenians Killed in a Revolt.

LA LIBERTAD, Salvador, June 27 (via Galveston).—During a ball given at the President's residence in the capital on the 22d inst., in celebration of the anniversary of the triumphal entry of Gen. Menendez, Gen. Malesio Marcial suddenly entered the ballroom about 11 p. m. and announced, on behalf of his chief, Gen. Ezeta, who had arrived with 600 men from Santa Ana, a revolt against the existing government, demanding at the same time the deposition of President Menendez.

At this juncture Gen. Martinez, commander of the Government forces in the capital appeared on the scene and announced that President Menendez, who was sick in an upper story of the house, requested an audience with Gen. Marcial.

An altercation ensued between Martinez and Marcial, resulting in the latter being shot and killed. Ezeta's soldiers thereupon took Martinez prisoner and captured the barracks. Twenty-three were killed.

It is asserted that the President died on the following day of heart disease, which had been aggravated by the excitement.

Gen. Ezeta was proclaimed a Provisional President and a new cabinet was formed, but it has since been dissolved, and Gen. Guirola is for the present directing the different branches of governmental administration. Good order prevails.

A WAR CLOUD.

Russia's Demands for Indemnity from Turkey Disregarded by the Sultan.

LONDON, June 27.—Great importance is attached to Russia's latest demand upon Turkey for war indemnity by the Cabinets of Europe, especially in Vienna. It should be remembered, however, that Russia has been as lenient as Turkey has been lax in the payment stipulated at the close of the Russo-Turkish War, and that the arrears now amount to a sum that it is almost hopeless for Turkey to pay.

The Sultan has virtually disregarded, although he has not formally repudiated, the obligation, and therefore the peremptory demand comes with a force all the more startling. As Turkey cannot fulfill the demand, Russia will have to take satisfaction in some other way, and the opinion is that the way chosen will be military.

Meanwhile Austria is making strong military preparations to uphold her influence in the Balkans in the event of a hostile movement on the part of Russia.

Paris Has a Cholera Scare.

PARIS, June 27.—Cholera has appeared at Auray, Brittany, and other places in western France and there are two cases at Marseilles and one case at Lyons. This news has occasioned intense excitement here, as Paris is now so short of water that several arrondissments are reduced to getting their supply from the Seine, and statistics show that such a condition of things usually leads to epidemics of typhoid fever and diphtheria.

Trouble for Premier Crispi.

ROME, June 27.—There is trouble in the Municipal Council here. An excited discussion of the bill to assist in the reorganization of the municipal finances, introduced into the Chamber of Deputies by Premier Crispi, occurred. When the debate closed every member of the Council, with the exception of Menotti Garabaldi, resigned their seats to emphasize their opposition to the action of the Prime Minister. Garibaldi was hissed and it was necessary to send for the police.

Louise Michel Coming to America.

PARIS, June 27.—Mendelssohn, Orloff and Demski, three of the Nihilists who recently arrived in this city, have been liberated. The seven others will be tried. Louise Michel intends to leave France. She says she will join the Nihilists. The fiery Louise has also announced her intention of founding a Nihilist colony in America, and that she will soon leave for that country.

The German Army Bill.

BERLIN, June 27.—The Reichstag rejected all amendments to the Army bill and approved by a vote of 211 to 128, the first paragraph of the bill, which fixes the peace effective at 486,983 men until April, 1894. The minority included the members of the Freisinnige and Volks parties, the Socialists and 19 members of the Centre party.

Bismarck's Presents to be Displayed.

BERLIN, June 27.—A museum will be established at Schonhausen by Prince Bismarck. It will be made up from the numerous gifts which have from time to time been presented to the Prince. A portrait of the present Emperor will occupy the place of honor.

Revolt in Armenia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 27.—Erzeroum is reported to be in full revolt. In the conflicts that have taken place eighty Armenians and nine Turkish soldiers were killed and many on both sides were wounded.

Death of Miss Phœbe Thomas.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 27.—Miss Phœbe Thomas, who has been prominently identified with missionary work of the Presbyterian Church at Santo Paulo, Brazil, died in this city last night. She was a granddaughter of the late Charles Miner, the historian, of Wyoming.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

ASHLEY, Mich., June 27.—Gardner's stave mill at North Star was wrecked by a boiler explosion. Four men were killed. They were Charles Brown, —— Costello, Hiram Goodwin and Fred Tucker.

The Race is Always to the Swift

IF HE RIDES A

"Why?"

"Because, it is so light that every ounce of pressure on the pedals tells."

"How light is it?"

"It weighs only 33 pounds."

"How much do other safeties weigh?"

"From 46 to 51 pounds."

"That's only a difference of 13 to 18 pounds."

"ONLY! Why, it means that you must propel that many pounds more with each revolution of the wheel, and there are 400 revolutions in each mile."

"Is that the reason you consider the CATFORD cheaper at $140 than any other Safety at $135?"

"That is one of many reasons."

"Have you a Ladies' Safety?"

"Yes; and for SWEET, ATTRACTIVE GRACE, there is nothing like our SPECIAL LADIES' PREMIER, especially when the lady is riding it!"

YALE WINS THE RACE

Harvard's Crew Defeated by Four Good Lengths.

IT WAS A SPLENDID CONTEST.

The Plucky Cambridge Boys Pulled Well to the Finish.

A Close and Exciting Race for the First Three Miles—Yale's Staying Qualities Finally Prevailed—Three of the Harvard Crew Exhausted at the Finish Line—Great Crowds Present.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28—The Yale-Harvard University annual eight-oared boat race was rowed last evening over a four-mile straight-away course on the Thames river between Gale's Ferry and Winthrop Point, and was won by Yale by three and a half lengths in 21 minutes and 29 seconds.

This was the fifteenth annual race between these Universities, and was Yale's fifth successive victory. Yale has won nine and Harvard six of the 15 races.

Close and Exciting.

The race was a close and remarkably exciting one for the first three miles, neither crew being able to secure a decisive lead. Harvard was ahead twice for brief periods, but Yale quickly recovered by spurting. Yale's staying qualities finally prevailed and during the last mile the Blues gained slowly but surely on their competitors.

After passing the third mile flag Harvard's stroke seemed to lose some of its effectiveness. The shell rolled somewhat, and three or four swerves by the coxswain helped to retard the Crimsons. Yale kept up the long, steady swing with almost faultless precision to the finish, and the men did not show any sign of exhaustion as they rested on their oars after crossing the line. The Harvard boys, on the other hand, showed plainly the effects of their hard but unavailing struggle. The loser's time was 21 minutes 40 seconds.

The Finish.

When Yale crossed the finish line the crew stopped rowing and waved their hands at their frantic classmates. In the Harvard boat numbers 1, 3 and 5 fell forward, evidently having used their last pound of force. Water was dashed into their faces and they soon recovered their wind and paddled sadly away. During the last two miles the race was pulled amidst a continuous tooting of whistles and booming of cannon.

A Big Crowd Present.

The crowd of spectators was the largest seen here on a similar occasion for many years. All along the course from start to finish were scattered scores of large sail and steam yachts.

Harvard's crew was as follows:

1. J. P. Hutchinson.*	5. R. D. Upham.
2. F. B. Winthrop.	6. G. H. Kelton.
3. J. H. Goddard.	7. B. J. Tilton.
4. T. N. Perkins.	G. L. Nelson, Bow.

H. M. Battelle, Coxswain.
* Captain and stroke.

D. F. Jones, J. C. Powers, F. N. Watress and W. Rantout, substitutes. The average weight of the crew was 169 pounds.

Sketch of the Winners.

The New Haven eight are all brawny, big-chested fellows, the average age being 21 and the average weight about 170 pounds. C. F. Rogers was on the 'Varsity last year, is captain of his class crew and rowed in his freshman and junior year in his class boat. G. S. Brewster has rowed in the 'Varsity race ever since his freshman year and in his class boat at the spring regatta. J. A. Hartwell has already been in the 'Varsity crew twice and is a powerful oar. A. B. Newell was a substitute last year, is a good, reliable oar, and has been captain of his class crew. H. Perris is a new man in the 'Varsity crew, but has made a fine record for three years in his class boat. S. B. Ives, a freshman, is a remarkably good oar. Kleimpke was a substitute in the recent race with the Atalantas. Capt. Allen is a magnificent oarsman always succeeding in getting the best work out of his men. He has pulled in his class boat for two seasons and was No. 7 in last year's 'Varsity race. W. A. Simms, the substitute, is a new man. Morrison and Thompson, who are also held as substitutes, were both good, reliable oarsmen. This year's crew was as follows:

1. P. Allen.*	5. A. B. Newell.
2. S. B. Ives.	6. J. A. Hartwell.
3. C. F. Rogers.	7. H. Ferris.
4. G. S. Brewster.	8. J. Kleimpke.

* Captain and stroke.

Substitutes—W. A. Simms, Balliet and Heffelfinger.

Schedule of Past Races.

A CUNNING STRATEGY.

Mrs. Vandegrift's Son Only Feigning Illness to Save His Mother.

BURLINGTON DEPOT, N. J., June 28.—Here is the story of cunning strategy which, had it been successfully carried out, would have undoubtedly considerably modified the decision of the Supreme Court on Tuesday next in the case of Mrs. Carrie E. Vandegrift, convicted for attempting to poison her son, Frank L. Norman.

The other day Norman was taken violently ill, and was removed to the County Hospital at Mount Holly. In a short time the report that he was suffering from gastric fever and catarrh of the stomach spread, and Norman gave it out that Dr. Parsons said it was a return of the disease that was alleged to have been croton oil poisoning.

The Doctor is now out with a statement in which he indignantly denies the assertions and says that Norman is not ill at all. It is a mere pretence, says the doctor, probably arranged by Mrs. Vandegrift and her champions to secure a consideration from the Supreme Court.

After the doctor had spoken so openly Mrs. Vandegrift went to Mount Holly, visited her son, and after a short consultation brought him home. To-day he is walking about the streets apparently as well as ever.

Predicting Another Revolution.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Capt. Compton, who has just arrived from Port-au-Prince, says that another revolution is only a question of a few months in Hayti. He says the people are not satisfied with President Hippolyte, and that Gen. Legitime, who had returned from France, is now in Kingston, Jamaica, awaiting the signal from his friends in Port-au-Prince to rush over and seize the reins of Government.

Jersey Election Frauds.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 28.—Thomas Fallon and Jacob Moschell, two of the indicted election officers who are on trial before Judge Lippencott, confessed that they saw joker ballots in the hands of the workers around the polls. They were at loss to explain how men had voted upon the names of dead men and names of persons who had moved from the district. The trial will be finished on Monday.

Harvard Freshmen Beaten.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28.—The Columbia-Harvard freshman race was rowed in the dark, and proved to be a rather unsatisfactory affair. The river was crowded with craft, and little attention was paid to the race. When near the finish a steamer crossed Harvard's bow, interfering greatly with the oarsmen. The race was won by Columbia. Time 10:54.

The Poet Whittier's Regrets.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 28.—Mayor Burnham has received a letter from John G. Whittier, in which the poet deeply regrets his inability to be present at the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary celebration at Haverhill, the poet's native town. He says: "My strength is scarcely able to bear even the pleasurable excitement of such an occasion."

Fell and Broke His Neck.

YONKERS, N. Y., June 28.—The dead body of Thomas Tarpey was found near the arch of the aqueduct at Nepperham avenue. It is supposed that he walked off the arch inadvertently. He fell a distance of fifty feet and broke his neck. Tarpey was 25 years old and a well-known member of the local baseball club.

Mr. Cleveland's Report set Aside.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The report of Grover Cleveland as referee in the suit of Phillips vs. Venner has been set aside by Judge Coxe of the United States Circuit Court. The court holds that Venner is entitled to certain commissions upon certain stock transactions. The referee decided against Venner.

Returned and Stole a Mule.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 28.—Perry Donaldson, who robbed Paymaster Atkinson of $1,200 yesterday, returned last night and stole a mule belonging to Walter Langhead, of Oliphant, near here, and it is supposed Donaldson has ridden the mule into West Virginia, where he has relatives.

Ex-Customs Collector Beecher Acquitted.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A dispatch from Seattle says that Herbert F. Beecher, a son of the late Henry Ward Beecher, has been acquitted in the United States District Court on the charge of larceny in abstracting a book from the records of the Custom House at Port Townsend while he was collector of customs. The case has been pending more than a year.

The Tariff in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Senator Hawley says the Tariff bill will not come up in the Senate before July 7 or 8. He thinks ten days will be sufficient for the debate.

ALL HOPE IS DEAD

The Entombed Miners of Dunbar Cannot be Rescued.

FIRE RAGING IN THE FATAL MINE

The Entire District is Now Threatened by the Flames.

Deadly Gas Generated Back of the Fire. A Magazine Pregnant With Death—The Lightest Stroke of the Miner's Pick Would Explode It—Great Excitement in the Neighborhood.

DUNBAR, June 28.—There is no longer any hope. The entombed miners cannot be rescued.

A furious fire has sealed their fate, and if their dead bodies escape the hungry flames, the pilfering rats that infest the mines will have gnawed them beyond recognition. Death never came to men in a more revolting form and affliction never fell heavier on the bereaved.

This has been an awful disaster, yet even a greater one threatens. A fire, fierce as a whirlwind, is raging for two thousand feet down into the mouth of the Hill Farm mine. Deadly gas has generated back of the fire, and the ponderous hill into which the Hill Farm, the Ferguson and the Mahoning pits are driven is to-day a mighty magazine, pregnant with death. The lightest stroke of a miner's pick would explode it, and the effect of such an explosion would be awful to contemplate.

A Strong Guard at the Pit.

The rescuing party has been withdrawn from the face of the Mahoning pit. A strong guard has been placed at the mouth of the Ferguson mines to keep out the impatient, restless miners who would attempt to rescue the unfortunates on their own account. The flames at the Hill Farm mines are hot enough to drive away invaders.

The fire started in the mouth of the Hill Farm pit shortly after nine o'clock last night. It followed promptly after the drill entered the burning mine. For two hours before the flames burst out huge billows of smoke, black dense and deadly rolled over each other into the air and drifted upward, forming a ponderous monument of mourning to the dead inside. A rumbling, rushing sound like a swiftly moving train through a tunnel preceded the flames. To the experts the smoke indicated approaching fire and for half an hour before its arrival, its coming could be heard long before the fire reached the pit mouth, it could be seen licking up the timbers in the mine and the steady stream of water which rippled down the slope seemed only to inspire and encourage to wilder efforts the angry fiend.

An Awful Sight.

It was indeed an awful sight and when with a brilliant flash the great column of smoke was ignited the heavens seemed aflame. Fantastic figures of fire darted hither and thither chasing each other to the clouds and burning a huge hole through the gloom of night. The surrounding country was lighted guiding the excited, nervous crowds to the scene. Those who had been watching at the Mahoning mine hurried over the hill to the fire. The people of Dunbar, who could see the reddened heavens from the village, rushed about in confusion fearful that another calamity had occurred.

The families of the entombed miners who have waited and watched until their grief had become deadened are aroused and their suffering and distress come to them anew. Neighbors gathered into each stricken home, and while they comforted the living they prayed for the dead, and while they watched the fire they seemed mentally to bury their loved ones.

A Large Conscience Contribution.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has received a letter postmarked New York, and dated June 26, 1890, inclosing three one-thousand-dollar United States gold certificates, which the writer says is interest on a sum of money of which he defrauded the Government years ago. He desires Mr. Wanamaker to return it to the Government. He is the same man, he says, who some months ago sent $1,500 to Mr. Wanamaker for the same purpose. The letter accompanying the money is signed "Conscience."

Feted in Royal Style.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A dispatch from Tacoma, Wash., says: Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson, who is now in this city has been feted in royal style all over Puget Sound. In an interview published yesterday Mr. Clarkson says: "The Republican party stands for the acquisition of empire, and so has only to continue in power, as I believe, to make this a republic bounded upon all sides by salt water." Mr. Clarkson was banquetted last night by the Chamber of Commerce and was given a public reception.

The President's Visit to Cape May.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—On account of the pressure of official business the President is forced to abandon his visit to Cape May. He will, however, go next week, provided Congress takes the usual recess on the Fourth of July. In that event the President will leave here on Thursday, the third proximo, and remain at Cape May until the following Monday or Tuesday.

Protest from Northern Democrats.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The Northern Democratic members of the House of Representatives have prepared a formal protest against the National Election bill, now under discussion in the House.

BY THE WAY.

—Mr. A. Venino announces a special Summer term of piano instructions.

—The third annual ball of the Union Star Club will be held in Mt. Bethel Hall, at Mt. Bethel, on July 4.

—The "Third Installment" of a list of useful articles for home and outing, appears in Edsall's advertisement today.

—The "Marions" of New York are contesting a ball game with the Westfield club, at the latter place this afternoon.

—Mr. Patrick Sheridan has been appointed by Vice Chancellor VanFleet, receiver of the estate of Wm. Moore, deceased, pending litigation among the heirs.

—The employes at the post office will on Monday begin their fifteen days' vacation. The carriers will take their vacation in regular order, according to their number.

—In alluding to yesterday's fire in another paper, last evening, it was stated that the barn belonged to Phineas Randolph. Mr. Randolph has been dead for several years.

One of THE PRESS carriers last evening got a curiosity in the shape of a sutler's check of the 23d Massachusetts Regiment, which during the war was good for fifty cents in trade.

—The attention of the public is called to the low price on screen doors, window screens, hammocks, fruit jars and croquet sets that the Pierson hardware company are offering.

—The fat men and the lawyers of this city will play a match game of ball on the second Friday in July. The aggregate weight of the "stout" men is said to be about 1,900 pounds.

—Postmaster Hand of Scotch Plains has issued cards announcing that hereafter the post office at that place will close at 7:30 o'clock P. M., instead of eight o'clock as heretofore.

—The case of the City vs. Thos. Dowd, on a charge of disorderly conduct, came up before the City Judge yesterday afternoon. Dowd pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined six dollars.

—The Safe Deposit Boxes at City National Bank, No. 12 E. East Front street, are a secure place for the safe keeping of valuables for parties absenting themselves from home during the Summer.

—The postponed address which the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell was to deliver two weeks ago, on the late temperance congress in New York, will be given to-morrow night in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock.

—This evening the Grand Army men will paint the town red, upon the occasion of a fraternal visit from Winfield Scott Post, No. 114, of Philadelphia. The visitors will arrive in a special train about eight o'clock.

—The postponed ball which was to have taken place last Saturday evening, in Amphion Hall, was held on Thursday evening, but it was not very largely patronized. Prof. Guttman furnished the music for dancing.

—Officer Crow of Somerville was returning to that place with a prisoner, on Thursday, when the latter made his escape by jumping from a passenger train, when the train was between Bound Brook and Somerville.

—Yesterday afternoon Dr. Simpson very successfully operated upon Mrs. Edward Campbell, removing a fibroid tumor which for some time past has threatened serious consequences. Mrs. Campbell is much better this morning.

—A handsome new and attractive soda water sign has been located in a conspicuous place in L. W. Randolph's City Pharmacy. The soda water at Randolph's this season is better than ever before, and many new syrups, milk shakes and other popular drinks have this Summer been added to the list.

Good Fishing in Newark Bay.

Reports from Newark bay state that the weak fish are now biting finely at the Central Railroad bridge. "Uncle Steve" Ryder, at the Bay View Boat House, on the Bergen Point side of the bridge, has first-class boats to let for fishermen, with bait, refreshments, etc

New Hose for the Fire Department.

1,000 feet of Jacket hose, Callahan make, has arrived in this city, 500 feet of which is for the Plainfield Fire Department, and the balance for the North Plainfield Department. The new harness for the fire department horses has also arrived.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Councilman Marvin M. Dunham, is at Pittsburgh.

W. T. Broadway and family have taken possession of their new home, No. 29 La Grande avenue.

Miss Stella Parkins of New York city is the guest of Miss Ida L. Vermeule of Chatham street, North Plainfield.

The family of Charles Lyman of Rockview avenue, Washington Park, North Plainfield, will Summer at Asbury Park.

Miss Jennie E. Tabor, a teacher in the Irving School, started today for Dover Plains, N. Y., where she will spend her Summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Martin and family have rented a cottage on Heck Street, Asbury Park, and leave their Fifth street home today for the Summer.

C. S. Myers of this city last evening rode his bicycle from this city to Westfield and return, in just 35 minutes, which is considered very fast time.

Charles F. Powlison has returned from Philadelphia, where he is the Secretary of the North Western Branch of the School for Christian Workers. Mr. Powlison will spend his vacation with his parents in North Plainfield.

State Senator Miller of Union county, has removed with his family to Fifth avenue, New York, having disposed of his Westfield property. In his removal that town loses a valued citizen, and the county a faithful representative.

Yesterday was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield. On account of the recent deaths of some of Mrs. Honeyman's relatives, the anniversary was celebrated in a quiet way.

The Scranton Truth records the marriage last week of Sylvester T. Roselle and Miss Lydia M. Sloat, which proved quite a social event. Miss Sloat has many warm friends in this city, who extend their congratulations on the happy occasion.

The Bound Brook Chronicle is responsible for the following: "The Rev. J. B. Cleaver of Plainfield preached in the Congregational church Sunday evening. He has recently purchased the King place near Harris' lane for $7,000. We welcome him as a fellow townsman."

Wm. Parkhurst of Clifton Springs, N. Y., an inspector in the Internal Revenue service, is visiting the family of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Mattison of Somerset street, North Plainfield. Mr. Parkhurst is a nephew of Dr. Mattison, and it has been about twelve years since he last visited Plainfield. He was both surprised and gratified at the growth and beauty of the place.

Miss Hattie R. Shreve has passed with high credit the preliminary examinations for entrance into Bryn Mawr College, at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. As the examinations are very severe, and no certificates are received from any institution except Harvard University, much credit is due, not only to Miss Shreve, but to her teachers, Mrs. Sudler and Miss Pomeroy, whose good and faithful work has helped to secure this result.

Can Such Things Be!

Among the items crowded out of yesterday's issue, was an account of the annual anniversary of the Daughters of Samaria, at Mt. Olive church, Thursday evening. The only thing that at all marred the symmetry of the reunion's enjoyment was that some miscreant or miscreants not only stole Miss Mary Pollock's shawl and the gold pins of a number of other good, though colored, Samaritans, but even stole the flowers off their hats.

Plainfield Shamed by Netherwood's Example.

A large plot of ground bounded by La Grande, Woodland and Belvidere avenues, has been set apart by the owners for a public park that the residents of Netherwood will lay out and fit up in a manner that will put to shame the people of Plainfield whose "Park" the Councils of this and past years, have permitted to exist as a public disgrace. Oh that the city proper was represented by a Councilman Spangenberg!

Handsome Monument in Evergreen Cemetery.

Lebbeus Manning, the West Front street monument builder, has just completed a handsome monument in Evergreen cemetery for the family of the late Manning Stelle. The monument cost about $600, and is considered one of the most attractive in the cemetery. Mr. Manning has several other large monuments under way for Plainfield parties.

Opening the Excursion Season.

The first excursion of the season will be that of Wetumpka Lodge, No. 3401, K. of H., of this city, to Point View Island, on Tuesday, July 1. The train will leave this city at eight o'clock, A. M., and the steamer will leave Elizabethport an hour later. Fare for the round trip $1.25. Tickets may be had at the station on the morning of the excursion.

The Stolen Rig Recovered.

James W. Guttridge of Netherwood, whose horse and buggy was stolen from in front of a hotel at Bound Brook, one evening this week, has recovered the stolen property. The rig was found at a farm house West of Dunellen, where the horse was being cared for, and where the thief had evidently abandoned it.

Looking for her Lost Brother.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of William Wrong, aged about 26 years, last employed at Elizabeth, will confer a favor by addressing his sister, Johanna Wrong, No. 22 Essex street, this city.

ADJOURNED AGAIN.

While the Committee Dallies Public Zeal Dies.

There was an unusually large attendance of the Soldiers Monument committee last evening, but nothing was accomplished. There were present: Chairman M. W. Tyler, Secretary N. Runyon and L. V. Randolph, C. W. McCutchen, J. S. Negley, L. W. Serrell, R. S. Cox, G. W. Moore, J. E. Tracy, S. A. Ginna, J. E. Stewart and E. J. Olssen. Alex. Gilbert, of the Hillside Cemetery Association, was present during the early part of the meeting, but left after it was fully understood that the Cemetery site for the monumnet had been given up.

The design as published in THE PRESS, was explained by Gen'l Negley, and undoubtedly met the approval of all. But when Mr. Randolph moved that "this committee express its favorable opinion of and satisfaction with the design," one member objected. He said he could not vote for the approval of any design because he was not competent to judge. He wanted to wait until he asked somebody how to vote. Gen'l Negley—entirely innocent of irony—immediately suggested that the member be added to the sub-committee on design, and later in the evening on motion of Mr. Randolph, it was so done.

The resolution to express a favorable opinion of the design, also provided that it still remain in the hands of the committee for modification, improvement, or such other changes as may be thought desirable, and that meanwhile the public be asked to contribute $17,500 for the erection of such a monument. But as the one member objected, the resolution was unfortunately tabled.

Six months ago $20,000 for the purpose could have been raised easier than $10,000 can now. Public zeal dies as the committee dallies. The people's interest in the scheme would have been buried had not THE PRESS last week, with its picture of the beautitul design, roused the community to a belief that something was being done.

Estimates ranging from $13,250 to $16,975, have been received for the erection of the monument according to plans and specifications that require, among other safeguards, the modelling of the figures in clay first, their submission to the committee and alteration as they see fit, then to be remodelled in plaster and approved before being placed in the sculptor's hands. The question of site remains undecided officially, until the question of design is settled. But it is understood that for such a monument as THE PRESS published, the committee can have any site they choose. The Cemetery site, however is not under consideration, and that being understood the Association is already offering lots for sale on the plot it had promised to donate if the monument was erected in its grounds.

The monument committee has adjourned until July 10.

Miss Bulkley Pays the Costs, However.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—From your account of the last meeting of the Board of Education, it would seem as if the Board were scrupulously exact in adjusting salaries of teachers, who, from one cause or another, happened to be off duty for a few days during the term. But the principal, who has been enjoying a foreign tour for the past year, has, I believe, been allowed a salary for the full year, although no service has been rendered.

Upon what principle, or according to what rule does the Board deduct a few dollars from one teacher's salary for attending a wedding, and from another's for attending court upon a subpœna; and then pay over $2,000 to one who hasn't been within several thousand miles of the school house for a year?

It may be they acted as public servants in the former cases, and as individuals, moved by sympathy, in the latter. Perhaps they will explain it so that we can all understand it.

OBJECTOR.

[Maybe THE PRESS can explain it without waiting another issue for the Board's answer. Miss Bulkley was given a leave of absence with full salary, but it was stipulated that she should pay the cost of all such additional teachers engaged because of her absence, that the Board might deem necessary and who would meet with their approval. She has done so; and as the public school work has been carried on during her absence fully as well and thoroughly as during any other year, and as the results have been even better than during some other years—all without one cent of additional cost to the city—even "Objector" will agree that his objection is not so sound a one, now.—ED.]

The Great Gleason.

Prof. O. R. Gleason, "King of horse tamers," is still delighting large audiences at his tent on Grove street. The Professor has proved himself master over all vicious horses, and he has thus attained the enviable reputation of the king of horse trainers. He will close a week's engagement in North Plainfield with this evening's performance, when the Professor will handle several vicious horses.

Clerks Meeting.

All members of the Plainfield Clerks' Association are urgently requested to be present at the meeting on Monday evening at eight o'clock, to be held in the rooms of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Business of importance is to be transacted. By order of Jeremiah Moore, President; P. H. Bennett, Secretary.

The Rev. Mr. Phelps at Reform Hall.

In view of the great attractions furnished by the public school commencements both in this city and North Plainfield, the audience within Reform Hall Thursday evening was larger than expected. The speaker was the Rev. A. A. Phelps, who handled the question of temperance with great ability and from a purely non-partisan standpoint. His opposition to the liquor traffic was uncompromising, as was his antipathy to the license system, whether rated high or low. He argued earnestly for the triumph of constitutional prohibition in Nebraska and received some substantial responses to his appeal for aid.

During the heated term the human system requires a gentle, cooling stimulant. What a blessing then to be able to make five gallons of delicious temperance drink from a 25 cent package of Hires' Root Beer.

—Warren Engine Company, No. 1, of North Plainfield, took its apparatus to the Grove street bridge, last evening, for a "wash." The engine gave perfect satisfaction to the officers and members of the company.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh.

CRUSHED

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

RECEPTION TO THE GRADUATES.

Interesting Exercises by the North Plainfield Alumni.

The North Plainfield Alumni Association met for its annual reception at the school building last evening and so transformed were the two front rooms for the receiving back and welcoming of the old friends of the school that one could hardly imagine that here had ever been the place of hard seats and hard tasks. In one room with a back ground of green was the motto, "Welcome '90." The other room, termed by some the Green Room, from its trimmings, rivaled the other with its cheer. At few minutes after 8 o'clock President Frank R. Searles stepped to the front and called the Association to order. First came the election of officers for the coming year which was accomplished by the election of Willie Y. Westervelt of the class of '88 for president; Minnie J. French, class of '87, vice-president; Harry Williams, class of '88, secretary, and John S. Petrie, class of '87, treasurer.

After the election of officers there was presented an excellent programme, opening with a piano solo by Miss Lillian A. Force. Dr. H. K. Carroll, President of the Board of Education, then gave a few words of welcome and congratulation to the Association, followed by a short and spicy talk by President Westervelt, during which he related some of his school day reminiscences.

Then followed a very entertaining instrumental selection by Miss Lizzie Whitlock on the piano and Irving S. Whitney on the violin. Prof. Boss then told the Alumni some facts about the Association. "Just six years ago today," he said, "the first graduate left. Now the number reaches 113, of which 64 are young ladies and 49 young gentlemen." Mr. Boss told how the graduates had gone out in every day life, some of them becoming bankers, brokers, doctors, business men, etc. Only one member, Daniel Loizeaux, has been dropped from the list by death during the past six years.

Mr. Boss was followed by a recitation on the Johnstown flood, after which James McGee made a few appropriate remarks. The "Welcome '90," with a back ground of green, he said, suggested the effect time had and it was golden. He then questioned as to whether or not there had been any marriages from among the Alumni, adding that there is hope in waiting. He spoke of three words, "Faith, Force and Feeling," in which the members would find great service.

George Taggart entertained the audience with some humorous remarks, and the musical and literary portion of the programme came to a close by a neatly executed piano selection by Miss Carrie Boice.

The balance of the evening was spent in a social way, and included the partaking of refreshments etc. At a few moments before 12 o'clock one of the largest gatherings of the Alumni broke up, all present declaring that they had passed a very pleasant evening.

Somerville Defeats Plainfield.

The P. A. C's of this city visited Somerville yesterday, and fell a victim to the Blue Front ball nine of that place. The Plainfielders claim their defeat was owing to the absence of pitcher Wyckoff. Cholly said he could pitch and the P. A. C's took his word for it. The result was, the score at the end of the second inning stood 5 to 0 in favor of Somerville.

Winn then entered the box and held the Blue Fronts down for six innings, but they eventually won by the score below. Trouble arose in the ninth inning between the two umpires—Metz on bases, and Zeisz on balls. The "difficulty" occurred in this way: Metz had a brother on the Somerville nine, who, in the ninth inning, was put out running bases. Umpire Metz, however, declared him safe; and thereafter when the Plainfielders were at the bat, Umpire Zeisz insisted on calling every strike a "ball" to get even. The score by innings was:

Blue Front	2	3	0	0	3	0	0	0	3	—11
P. A. C's	0	0	1	1	0	3	0	0	3	— 8

ROYAL PRESENTS.

The Archduchess Valerie the Recipient of Many and Costly Wedding Gifts.

LONDON, June 28.—A dispatch from Vienna says the wedding gifts received by the Archduchess Valerie, the youngest daughter of the Emperor of Austria, include 89 clocks, 18 high lamps, 70 gem bracelets, 45 rings, 9 watches, 100 pairs of gloves, 100 pairs of stockings, 87 diamond tiaras, 3 emerald and ruby coronets, 12 suites of furniture, thousands of yards of old lace, a parlor organ from America, 7 pianos and a casket, presented by the city of Vienna, surmounted by a silver statue and containing sixteen water-color sketches by famous painters, embracing views of Vienna.

Queen Victoria has sent her usual gift of two Indian shawls, accompanied by morocco-bound copies of her "Journal in the Highlands" and the "Life of the Prince Consort."

The Archduchess has also received over six hundred pieces of exquisite china, chiefly from the royalties.

Lord Salisbury's New Deal.

LONDON, June 28.—It is positively stated that Lord Salisbury, in pursuance of the new deal which the Government is endeavoring to make, strongly urged Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberlain to enter the Cabinet. The former, it appears, was not averse to accepting the invitation as a means of preventing the disintegration of the Unionist party and leaving himself in the position of a leader without a following; but Mr. Chamberlain, scenting inevitable disaster to the Government, declined to identify himself with a Ministry on the verge of defeat.

England's Ministry Alarmed.

LONDON, June 28.—The Ministry are alarmed, and are planning a new deal which they hope will strengthen the Cabinet and restore the popularity of the Government with the many who have become disgusted with its indecision, and are ripe for revolt against the Conservative party when an opportunity arrives.

Bernhardt Has a Fainting Spell.

LONDON, June 28.—Sarah Bernhardt was compelled to stop suddenly and leave the stage in the second act of Joan of Arc last night. She was seized with a fainting spell and lost her voice completely. Later in the night she was reported better, but still weak and unable to leave her bed.

Terrible Suffering in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 28.—There has never been such a time of general suffering from heat in the history of the city. In the poorer quarters of the city, especially the quarters where poor foreigners are huddled closely together in tenements, the suffering is terrible, and scenes beyond description are presented. Infantile diseases are fostered by the terrible weather, which affects the food of the poor, and the mortality among the children in the tenements is very startling. Up to this time 75 per cent. of the prostrations from heat have proved fatal, and the morgue-keepers have had their hands full in caring for the bodies brought in from the streets and alleys.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 28.—Mrs. Charles Rowe of Hoadley's, Wayne County, was struck and killed by a falling tree while she was returning in a buggy from escorting two of her friends to their homes. Her body was found on the road by some lumbermen.

B. and O. Switchmen Uneasy.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—The switchmen employed in the Philadelphia yards of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad have demanded an advance in wages. Superintendent Smith says he does not think the company can grant the demand.

Dr. Beale Resigns.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 28.—The church quarrel between the Rev. Dr. J. Beale, of Johnstown, and members of his congregation has been settled by Dr. Beale resigning his charge. The resignation will take effect in September, and in the meantime he will fill the Johnstown pulpit. It will be remembered that charges of neglecting his congregation and dishonesty were made against Dr. Beale, but at a meeting of the Presbytery at Parnassus, Pa., yesterday, these charges were withdrawn. Dr. Beale thereupon tendered his resignation.

Captain Young Retains His Certificate.

LONDON, June 28.—Captain Young, of the steamship City of Rome, will retain his sailing certificate. This fact is due wholly to his seamanlike conduct and skill after the accident to his ship. The court gave due consideration to these points, as brought out by the testimony, and were of the opinion that the errors of Captain Young were merely errors of judgment.

Rejected the Bosses' Manifesto.

BOSTON, June 28.—After a long discussion over the manifesto issued by the mason builders, the striking building laborers rejected the entire document, chiefly on the grounds that "walking delegates" are barred out of buildings that may be in process of erection. The stone masons voted to sustain the building laborers and rejected the manifesto.

Permanent Officers of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Ther World's Fair Commissioners unanimously elected ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer, of Michigan President of the World's Columbian Exposition. Col. John T. Dickinson, of Texas, was elected permanent secretary.

The Cloakmakers' Lockout Unchanged.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The situation of locked out cloak operators remains unchanged. The Manufacturers' Association has nothing to say only that it intends to remain firm. The locked out men are suffering from a lack of funds.

Frances C. Yarnall Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Frances C. Yarnall, vice-president of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, is dead at his residence at Overbrook, Pa., aged 61 years.

SHE HAS TWO HUSBANDS.

The One She Thought Dead Turns Up in an Insane Asylum.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 28.—A very strange experience has been that of Mrs. George T. Allen, who, thirty years ago, young, pretty, and happily blessed with worldly goods, was married amid much ceremony. For years her husband continued in the drug business here, and finally moved down East. Several children were born to the happy couple as the years went by. About twelve years ago Allen mysteriously disappeared, no one knows whither. He started away one morning on a business trip, and was never again seen by his family.

Seven years went by, years freighted with much unhappiness for the deserted wife and her little family. Finally, giving him up as dead, she married an aged but wealthy man. Life went happily on until a few days ago, when the woman was startled at receiving a letter from a Taunton asylum that her long lost husband was there insane. He had lost all knowledge of his whereabouts, and his wanderings, a blank to himself, will probably never be known. The woman has left her second husband, pending proceedings for a divorce, which she has instituted against the husband who all these years she thought dead.

LIGHT ON THE FLOOD.

The Civil Engineers Promise a Sensation About the Disaster at Johnstown.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 28.—There are prospects of some lively times during the convention of civil engineers, now in session at Cresson Springs, over the action of the committee appointed almost a year ago to investigate the condition of the South Fork dam previous to the Johnstown flood.

The committee investigated the matter thoroughly and sealed its report but did not hand it in at the last meeting of the societp held in January. The reason given by the committee was that they did not desire to become involved in litigation over the flood at that time. At the present meeting the committee has given it out that no report will be made unless it is ordered by the society. The sealed report is said to contain some slightly interesting data concerning the condition of the South Fork dam prior to the flood.

It is stated on good authority that the report says the dam was structurally as perfect as could be made, as was evidenced by the circumstance that at the time of the flood a foot of water poured over the dam for two hours, and that when the dam broke it did so from the top. It is said that the report will further state that a larger waste wier might have prevented the flood. Many members of the society are already clamoring for the report and many stories are current. The report will be in order this afternoon when the business session is to be held.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The President has approved the Dependent Pension bill.

The business portion of Carbon, Wyoming was burned. Loss, $100,000.

W. T. Squires has been appointed postmaster at North Brookfield, N. Y.

The approach of West India cyclones is to be heralded by the Signal Office.

The population of the city of Troy, N. Y., as enumerated, approximates 50,000.

Speaker Reed has appointed Messrs. Conger, Walker and Bland conferees on the part of the House on the Silver bill.

An estimate of the population of Salt Lake City made by Supervisor Condon makes it 49,972 and that of Ogden as 16,326.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Reading Railroad Co. the resignation of President Corbin was received and accepted. Vice-President McLeod was unanimously chosen to succeed him.

Two little girls named Harrington were killed by a railroad train at South Somerset, Mass., yesterday. The elder child lost her life while trying to save the younger one. They belonged in Mechanicsville, Mass.

The bodies of three women were found last evening in the river, just above the stone bridge at Johnstown, Pa., where the great mass of wreckage lay last summer. They were under the water in the sand, and all were in a fair state of perservation. Only one was identified, that of Mrs. Roberts, wife of Howard J. Roberts, cashier of the First National Bank. Mr. Roberts, his wife and son were all drowned, but his body has not yet been recovered.

Weather Indications.

THE STRIKE SETTLED.

Concessions by the Railroad Company Accepted by the Men.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The Illinois Central strike has been settled and traffic on that road has been resumed. Superintendent Sullivan made the strikers a verbal offer which he refused to put in writing until the men had accepted it. The concession amounted to a shortening of Superintendent Russell's powers in certain directions. Among other things the superintendent agreed that Russell will not have the power to hire or discharge other employes than those directly under him.

Mr. Russell will still be superintendent of the Chicago division of the road and have the power to appoint heads of departments under him and the clerks in his office, but no others. The power to oversee, hire and discharge brakemen, engineers, switchmen, conductors and firemen will rest with the heads of departments and not with Russell. The strikers to the number of over 400 considered Mr. Sullivan's proposition for five hours, and finally decided to accept it.

Train Dispatcher Berry and his assistant, Mr. Pushie, have been reinstated. Trains are now running as usual.

The Race is Always to the Swift

IF HE RIDES A

"Why?"

"Because, it is so light that every ounce of pressure on the pedals tells."

"How light is it?"

"It weighs only 33 pounds."

"How much do other safeties weigh?"

"From 46 to 51 pounds."

"That's only a difference of 13 to 18 pounds."

"ONLY! Why, it means that you must propel that many pounds more with each revolution of the wheel, and there are 400 revolutions in each mile."

"Is that the reason you consider the CATFORD cheaper at $140 than any other Safety at $135?"

"That is one of many reasons."

"Have you a Ladies' Safety?"

"Yes; and for SWEET, ATTRACTIVE GRACE, there is nothing like our SPECIAL LADIES' PREMIER, especially when the lady is riding it!"

WASHINGTON TOPICS

A Fight to be Made Against the Lottery Company.

CONGRESSMEN APPEALED TO.

They Are Pressed to Take Action On Bills Now in Committees.

The Senate Busy With Appropriation Bills—The Federal Election Bill Now Being Debated—A Vote to be Taken on Wednesday—Superintendent Porter Estimates the Population of the Country.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Since the lottery agitation in Louisiana began to attract the attention of the nation, and especially since it began to appear that the lottery was going to secure the extension of its charter, there has been a reflex agitation here in Washington.

Those who would have been passively gratified at the certainty of the defeat of the Lottery Company are rising to active agressiveness, now that it seems that it will triumph, and a number of letters have been received by various members of Congress within the last few days, urging that the Federal Government interpose to prevent the continuance of the gigantic humbug.

There are now three bills before a sub-committee of the House Post Office Committee, one of which not only prohibits the carrying of letters through the mails addressed to the Lottery Company, but also interdicts the carrying of newspapers and other publications containing its advertisements. General Ketcham is chairman of the sub-committee, but neither he nor his associates have evidenced much interest in the matter. They will be pressed, however, to take action on the bills soon, in order that they may be either passed or defeated by the House.

IN CONGRESS TO-DAY.

Appropriation Bills Considered by the Senate and Election Bill by the House.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Appropriation bills will occupy most, if not all, of the time of the Senate during the week. The Indian, District of Columbia and Legislative Appropriation bills will be discussed, and there is a probability that the Idaho Statehood bill will come up. The Senate will probably adjourn on Thursday over the Fourth until Monday.

In the House the first three days of this week will be devoted to the consideration of the Election bill, which will be placed on its passage on Wednesday. No programme for the remainder of the week has been arranged, but Thursday will probably be set aside for the consideration of the National Bankruptcy bill, or possibly the Compound Lard bill, and an adjournment will probably be taken on Thursday over the Fourth until the Monday following.

Estimated Population of the Country.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Superintendent Porter, in an interview, states that the population of the United States is 64,500,000. The complete official returns will all be in within thirty days. The population of the United States by the census of 1880 was 50,155,783.

GYMNASTIC FESTIVAL.

Turners at Atlantic City Give a Big Street Parade.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 30.—The Philadelphia district of the North American Gymnastic Union, composed of societies of the Turn Verein in Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, are holding their fifteenth annual athletic and gymnastic festival in this city. The festival will last until July 2.

Yesterday was spent in individual contests, class athletic contests and class drills, and about 200 active scholars from the different societies participated for the prizes which will be awarded this evening.

Members from the following societies are in attendance: Philadelphia Turn Gemeinde, Philadelphia; Social Turn Verein, Trenton, N. J.; Germania Turn Verein, Philadelphia; Scranton Turn Verein, Scranton, Pa.; Southwark Turn Verein, Philadelphia; Turn Verein Verwaerts, Williamsport, Pa.; Germania Turn Verein, Roxborough and Manayunk, Philadelphia; Allentown Turn and Leiderkranz, Allentown, Pa.; Wilmington Turn Gemeinde, Wilmington, Del.; Lancaster Turn Verein, Lancaster, Pa.; Atlantic City Turn Verein, Atlantic City, N. J.

This morning a street parade was given, and the citizens and local military companies turned out and made the occasion a memorable one.

Drowned While Bathing.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 30.—Felise Wunderlich, a German aged 35 years, was drowned about half an hour after midnight in the Erie Canal, near the Ford street bridge. The man was seen on West avenue as late as 11 p. m., at which time he started to go to his boarding house on Allen street. Before reaching the house, it seems, he decided to go in bathing. Some men saw him sink and ran to his assistance, but were too late. Wunderlich was a cigarmaker. He came from Germany several years ago, leaving his wife and children in that country.

Connecticut's Congressmen.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 30.—Returns received from the census enumeration show that towns, having in 1880 about one-fifth of the population of Connecticut, give an increase of nearly 175,000. The State will therefore retain its full representation in Congress and not lose one representative, as was reported recently.

THRILLING ENCOUNTER.

A Burglar Baffled by a Brave Telegraph Operator.

ERIE Pa., June 30.—Miss Ida Wakely, the handsome young night telegraph operator at Swanville Station, on the Nickel Plate Railroad, is the heroine of a terribly thrilling encounter. Before Miss Wakely took the position at the little out-of-the-way country station on Saturday night she realized the danger to which she would be exposed from tramps who follow the road from East to West. So she had not only armed herself, but practised until she became an expert with the revolver. Shortly after midnight, at an hour when there were only a few trains, the young woman heard some one at the door, and a second later a villainous face appeared at the window. The fellow then demanded admittance and was refused, whereupon he threw a lump of coal through the window and then made a dash for the opening.

Just then Miss Wakely flashed her revolver and ordered the intruder to retreat. He stopped to parley, saying "You wouldn't shoot." The brave young woman took deliberate aim, but the tramp drew a knife. While Miss Wakely held at bay the desperado with her revolver in one hand, she used the other hand to call the next station, where a train was sidetracked, and to her joy she caught the operator, whom she informed of her dilemma. The engine was detached and with the crew aboard ran to the handsome young woman's rescue.

While the crew were coming to the young woman's relief the burglar tried to induce her to hand over the contents of the safe and made blood curdling threats, but when the engine with the crew turned a sharp curve he ran away in time to escape lynching. The night of terror was too much for Miss Wakely and when relieved by the day operator she fainted.

TIRED OF LIFE.

A Young Woman Starving Herself After Several Attempts at Suicide.

READING, Pa., June 30.—Miss Frances Potts, a beautiful girl of 19, residing with her parents at the village of St. Peters, over the border in upper Chester County, has tasted neither food nor drink since June 8 last, just twenty days ago. On that day, after repeated attempts to commit suicide by other means, she succeeded in shooting herself in the head with a revolver, but without fatal effect. Since then she had declared a dozen times a day that she wishes to die, and has doggedly refused to partake of nourishment of any kind, either liquid or solid.

For some time previous to making the attempts to take her own life, it was noticed that Miss Potts was despondent, the cause presumably being her unrequited affection for a certain young man of the village of St. Peters. An effort was made to maintain a watch over her, without her knowledge. She contrived, however, to elude the vigilance of her guardians and repeatedly threw herself headforemost into a pond. She was rescued each time, though much against her will, and afterward seemed to be in brighter spirits; but later she procured a revolver and tried to end her life with it. The bullet wound is serious, but her physicians believe she will recover in time. It is to prevent such a result and to make sure of death that she persists in her voluntary fast.

Jumped From a Train.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 30.—Nicholas Karasinski, a young married man, about 31 years of age, who lived at No. 312 North Clinton street, in this city, met with a fatal accident at Charlotte, yesterday. Karasinski was on the 4 p. m. train coming back to the city after spending the day at the beach, and left the train at Charlotte station for the purpose of assisting a friend named Mrs. Comer to board a steamer. He jumped from the train while it was in motion and slipping, fell and rolled under the wheels. He was brought to Rochester and taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where he died in a few minutes. He had a deep wound in the forehead, one leg was nearly severed from his body and both arms were badly mangled. Karasinski leaves a widow.

Eight Cars Wrecked.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 30.—At North Bend a westbound freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad was derailed, and eight cars were wrecked. The Pacific express ran into the wreck, and its engine was smashed. Traffic was delayed for several hours. Millard Hilton, a section hand, was thrown under a freight train, while going to the wreck, and sustained fatal injuries.

Parnell to the League in America.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 30.—President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League of America, has received a dispatch from Charles Stewart Parnell, in which he says that he and his colleagues are unanimously of the opinion that no useful result would follow a national convention of the League of America at the present time

Mills to Shut Down.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 30. — The mill men have very generally concluded to shut down the mills next Thursday night for the balance of the week. The production will be thus curtailed 60,000 pieces.

Took an Overdose of Laudanum

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 30.—Mrs. E. Kent, living at No. 147 West Utica street, took an overdose of laudanum on Saturday night and died Sunday morning. She had been acting very melancholy of late.

Two Persons Drowned.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., June 30.—A sad drowning accident occurred here last evening, which resulted in the death of two persons, Miss Mary McLaun and William Casselman.

PARNELL'S ADDRESS

He Speaks Hopefully of Ireland's Future.

TRAITORS CAN'T PROSPER NOW.

He Predicts the Speedy Downfall of the Present Government.

Trouble Over the McAuliffe-Slavin Mill—Poor Prospects of a Fight—A Protest Against Queen Victoria's Sunday Music—Lord Dunlo's Divorce Suit—Prince Ferdinand Afraid to Return to Sofia.

LONDON, June 30.—At the banquet at the National Liberal Club, in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Mr. Parnell, the Irish leader, Mr. Justin McCarthy, Nationalist, for Londonderry, presided. There were several Nationalist Members present. Mr. Parnell, in a speech, eulogized Mr. McCarthy, who, he declared, was the beau ideal of an Irish Member. He congratulated his followers on their alliance with the Gladstonian Members, and said that there was a time in the parliamentary history of Ireland when traitors prospered, but now, with a perfect franchise, no Irishman could successfully betray his country.

He excused the Irish members who were absent during the recent division on the Compensation bill on the ground that the Irish members were as much surprised by the closeness of the vote as the Tories. Mr. Parnell declared that it was useless to issue a "whip," because the Government opened all of the Nationalist members' letters, and under this surveillance the "whip," if one had been issued, would have defeated its own object. He predicted the speedy downfall of the present Government and declared that the prospects for Ireland would be very bright in Mr. Gladstone's hands.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT MILL.

Poor Prospects of a Match Between McAuliffe and Slavin.

LONDON, June 30.—The prospects for a match between McAuliffe and Slavin seem rather poor at present. Slavin evidently does not care to meet the American, and his excuse that he will not fight at the Pelican Club is considered an attempt to shuffle out of the fight. In any event this excuse is done away with, since Lord Lonsdale has offered the same purse that the Pelican Club agreed to put up.

McAuliffe and Madden, his manager, have signed articles at the Sporting Life office, and left a deposit for Slavin to cover. If he does not do so, proof will be positive enough that he is afraid of the other. Madden says he brought McAuliffe over here on the understanding that the fight was to take place at the Pelican Club, and under its auspices. He found upon his arrival that the purse had been subscribed by a lot of bookmakers, who wished to control the match. Madden is not noted for getting the worst of such a bargain at the beginning, and he refused to allow his man to fight on ground selected by his opponents, under conditions that could not fail to be disastrous.

According to Lonsdale's offer each man will be permitted to have six friends at the ringside, and this Madden and McAuliffe agreed to, while they consider that it would be a foregone conclusion to fight among a crowd of Slavin's friends.

Prizes Won By Our Riflemen.

HANOVER, June 30.—In the shooting in honor of the American riflemen the following New Yorkers were successful: At the field target "Germany" Zimmermann won second prize. At the rifle target "Hanover" Walther took first prize and Zimmermann second. At the hunting target Stein took first prize. Zimmermann and Stein won stars, and Kraus, Busse, Walther, Zimmermann, Simon, Sieburg, Stein, and Schroeder won cups.

Arabs in Mourning.

LONDON, June 30.—The "Times" published the following despatch from Zanzibar: Mahomed Bincassin and three companions have been hanged at Bagamayo for the murder of a German merchant eight years ago. The Arabs have gone into universal mourning as a mark of their resentment, Mahomed having belonged to a high family. The same dispatch says that the Witu Company has consolidated.

Alliance Between Russia and France.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 30.—Some Russian papers urge the formation of a treaty of alliance with France as a counterpoise to the alleged defensive alliance between England and Germany. Other papers prefer the present tacit alliance between Russia and France. The latter sentiment prevails in official circles.

Guarding Against Cholera.

PARIS, June 30.—M. Sortshakoff, the Russian Minister to the Court of Madrid, on arriving at the French frontier from that city, objected to his effects being submitted to the disinfecting process prescribed as a safeguard against the spread of the cholera. The health officers were firm, however, and refused to relax the precautionary regulations.

Prince Ferdinand Lacks Courage.

LONDON, June 30.—It is stated that Prince Ferdinand has become alarmed at the outcry which has been raised at the execution of Major Panitza, and is afraid to return to Sofia at present. It is alleged that he will therefore prolong his visit to Austria indefinitely, ostensibly because of ill health.

—A regular meeting of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., of this city, will be held in the Hand building on West Second street, to-morrow evening. Business of importance to every member is to come up for consideration, and a full attendance of the members is desired.

—Owing to the extensive increase in business and necessary additions to the staff of agents, the office of the United States Industrial Insurance company, with J. S. Jones Asst. Supt., has found it necessary to take a larger office at 28 West Front street adjoining the office of Dr. Gaston.

Raynor Tunison's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Raynor Tunison who died on Wednesday last, took place from his late residence on Duer street, North Plainfield, on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, and from the Trinity Reformed church at 2:30 o'clock. At the house the service consisted wholly of a prayer, and at the church the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, the pastor, spoke touchingly of the deceased as a model young Christian, whose life had been shut off just as he was maturing into manhood.

The floral decorations consisted principally of a broken column, presented by the Jr. O. U. A. M., with which the deceased was identified, members of which organization accompanied the remains to Somerville and conducted a short service at the grave. The pallbearers were all members of the lodge.

Another Inhuman Mother.

Jane Lascalle was arrested by Special Marshal Coddington in North Plainfield today, for cruelty to her two children. The woman was given a hearing, this afternoon. Justice Hardy committed her to the county jail for 30 days, and the S. P. C. C. sent her little ones to the Children's Home.

ENTERTAINING THEIR GUESTS.

Winfield Scott Post No. 73, G. A. R., of this City, Receive a Fraternal Visit From Its Namesake Post No. 114, of Philadelphia—Presentation, Parade, and the Collation that Followed.

In accordance with general order No. 2, the members of Winfield Scott Post No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, assembled at their headquarters on East Front street, Saturday evening, in full uniform, and at a little before eight o'clock they marched in double file to the railroad station for the purpose of meeting and escorting back to the post room the members of Winfield Scott Post No. 114, G. A. R., of Philadelphia, who were expected to arrive here in special cars at 7:58.

Post 73 formed a column on North avenue in single file, shoulder to shoulder, and when the visitors arrived they marched directly in front of Post 73, and came to a halt face to face with one another. The officer of the day of the home post gave the command to charge with extended hands, and as the two files met, the visiting and visited companies grasped one another by the hand, and a general welcome was extended the visitors on the part of Post 73.

Post No. 114 was accompanied by the Schuylkill Falls cornet band, consisting of 28 pieces, Captain Wainhauk, leader, and preceded by the band the Grand Army men were escorted to 73 Post room, where they were cordially received by the officers and members of the post.

While the usual greetings were being exchanged a large box was brought into the room and opened, and behold! a large and elegant painting, beautifully framed, of Winfield Scott, was placed upon the Commander's platform, and Past Department Commander Ferguson, on behalf of Post 114, in a short and excellently worded eulogy of the noble citizen, statesman and soldier, the hero of three wars, presented the painting as a testimony of esteem from Winfield Scott Post, No. 114, of Philadelphia, Department of Pennsylvania, to Winfield Scott Post No. 73, of Plainfield, Department of New Jersey.

Comrade L. V. F. Randolph accepted the gift on behalf of Post 73, and in a still further eulogy of the noble General, he extended the thanks of the post for the generous gift.

THE PARADE.

A line was then formed in front of the post room and the following route was traversed: Front street to Peace, to Crescent avenue, to Park avenue, to Front street, to Madison avenue, to Second street, to Amphion Hall, where the collation was served by the members of the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, auxiliary to the G. A. R., and their friends. The tables were fairly ladened with substantial food, fruit, etc., to which the veterans did ample justice.

Following the collation, which all present enjoyed, was an informal programme of music, recitations and addresses, Past Commander James Atwood of Winfield Scott Post, presiding. On the stage there were seated besides the presiding officer, Gen. James S. Negley, Col. Mason W. Tyler, the Rev. Mr. Livermore, Assemblyman John Ulrich, W. D. W. Miller and others, most, if not all, of whom took part in the exercises.

Addresses were made by Gen. Negley, Judge Ulrich, the Rev. Mr. Livermore, Department Commander, Capt. Mathews, and others, and when the latter concluded his remarks, Gen. Negley, on behalf of the ladies of the Relief Corps, presented him with a handsome bouquet of flowers, which the Department Commander acknowledged the receipt of.

The exercises were wholly of a patriotic nature, and were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The visiting comrades left for home on the 1:17 A. M. train.

Besides the members of Winfield Scott Post No. 114 of Philadelphia, Comrades were present from Middleton Post No. 500, and Harry Lee Post No's 1 and 62 of Philadelphia. Also representatives from Newark G. A. R. posts.

Another American Industry Needing Protection.

(From the Morristown Banner.)

A cargo of pauper ice from Sweden has arrived in New York. Ice pays no tariff tax. Here is a daring blow at a great American industry, which employs more men than the tin plate industry ever will, if it gets established.

It is in order for the ice companies to appeal at once to Washington to clap a prohibitory tariff tax on Swedish ice. We are paying three prices for ice now, but of course that doesn't matter when a great American industry is to be "protected."

His Name Not in the Directory.

The following letter received by Police Captain Grant recently from the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, will explain itself:

Boston, June 16, 1890.

To the Town Authorities, Plainfield, N. J.,

GENTLEMEN:—We write to ask if Otto Hartman of your town is a reputable man, and would furnish a proper home for his sister and a daughter 14 years of age.

A prompt answer will oblige us very much.

Yours Truly,
FRANK B. FAY,
General Agent.

Free Fight on Cottage Place.

The police were summoned to a house on Cottage place, about 9:30 o'clock, last evening, where a free fight was in progress. When the officers arrived on the spot, the principals had been spirited away, but their names were obtained, and their arrest will in all probability follow.

CHAS. DOANE'S BIRD BEATS ALL RECORDS.

President Murray Sends Love to All, Over the Ocean, and Trusts the Y. M. C. A. Building Is "Under Way."

For two years past the loft of J. Hervey Doane, of this city, has held the champion homing pigeon record for ocean flys; but yesterday Charles Doane's bird, registered No. 2 N, made the longest distance and fastest time ever flown from ocean to home. The bird was one of six—three of J. Hervey Doane's, two of Charles Doane's and one of James Ingram's—that were taken out to sea on the Steamer "Aurania," by President Murray of the of Y. M. C. A., Saturday.

The birds were liberated at 6 A. M., the next day. Blue checker, reg. No. 2, N, arrived home 4:40 P. M. The steamer was probably 360 miles out from Sandy Hook when the birds were released. The longest ocean flight on record before the flight made by 2N, was made by bird owned by A. P. Baldwin of Newark in 1885, from Steamship Waesland, distance 315 miles, told of in "Century Magazine" of July, 1886, but this bird was not countermarked or flown under federation management.

Birds have been flown under federation rules from coastwise steamers, but this is the first time homers have been flown from ocean steamer for federation record.

Mr. Murray was furnished with countermarks by the race secretary of the homing pigeon federation, and authorized to countermark the birds. Homing pigeons, when liberated on the ocean generally take a direct course for the nearest land and then continue their journey homeward, but Mr. Doane's bird, to make the fast time that he did, must have taken an air line course across the water and flown almost continuously until he reached home.

The bird is from very fine stock—his grandmother being an imported hen from Antwerp. He is about three years old. He had never before been flown further than New Haven; about 100 miles from Plainfield. He was sent there about a week ago with several other birds for practice, as it was expected that in flying from the ocean they would reach land somewhere in that vicinity. Five other birds were released by Mr Murray at the same time with 2 N and it is expected that all of these birds will reach home soon with messages.

The message was written on thin paper and was placed in a small rubber pouch and fastened around the leg of the bird in shape of a band. Wind and weather was very favorable for the birds—wind blowing lightly from the Northeast all day. This is the message:

STEAMSHIP AURANIA, June 28, 9 P. M.

We had a fine sail down the bay. The Manhattan Athletic Club tug followed us, snorting and tooting. We passed the "Umbria" bound for New York. "LaNormandie" is beating us. We sent off postal by pilot. Sailors amused us to-night with their games. The sunset was worth the trip. Moon to-night is elegant, and everybody on deck enjoying it.

Slight rolls beginning. No seasickness Birds will be loosed at 6 A. M., sharp. Weather promises to be fine. Plenty of good company on board. Thank Mr. Pierson and Mr Brower for the flowers. Hope the Y. M. C. A. building is under way.

Girls are delighted. We are in Winter suits to-night.

Yours,
WM. D. MURRAY.

ANOTHER MESSAGE.

Just after daybreak this morning, J Hervey Doane found that his bird "Gen'l Harrison," No. 282, had also gone down on the "Aurania" with Mr. Murray was in his loft. The brave bird had either got in the evening before, or had flown all night long to reach home. It brought the following message written the morning after the message given above:

S. S. AURANIA, June 29.

Birds all released at 6 A. M., nearly on time. Weather clear; sea smooth; each bird countermarked and carrying message. Yesterday the sail down the bay was delightful. Sunset was beautiful and moon was fine. Mr. Thresher and Mr. McCann are good companions. We passed many ships but "LaNormandie" is beating us. Gus and Min are enjoying every minute. My roommate is congenial; ship is comfortable and passengers all pleasant. Our first night at sea was a good one—not a soul sick. The only trouble was the heat. This morning opens beautifully. We are now under full sail and going finely. Good bye! Love to all!

WM. D. MURRAY.

A New Livery.

Irving G. Stelle, formerly of Dunellen, has opened a livery, boarding and exchange stable at No. 26½ West Front street, (in the rear of S. C. Peck's store,) where will be kept constantly on hand first-class horses and carriages for calling, picnic and pleasure purposes. Mr. Stelle solicits public patronage. His telephone call is No. 152.

Closed for the Summer.

Friends' First-day school closed yesterday for the usual two months Summer recess. It will reopen September 7. The scholars and teachers will enjoy a festival on the spacious grounds of the Peace street Meeting House, Tuesday afternoon of next week, July 8, from 3:30 to 6 o'clock.

A Chicken Coop Robbed.

During Saturday night thieves entered the hennery of Patrick Day on West Third street, and wrung the necks of several fine chickens. Mr. Day heard a great commotion in the coup, and going there discovered one of the robbers leaving the place with a chicken under each arm.

—The fat men and the lawyers of this city will play a match game of ball on the second Friday in July. The aggregate weight of the "stout" men is said to be about 1,900 pounds.

Yesterday's Clambake.

A large number of young people from this city attended the clam bake, held in the woods near New Market, yesterday. The day was spent in out-door amusements and the menu consisted of clams and liquid refreshments. The party arrived home early in the evening, tired out from the day's sport.

To-morrow's Excursion.

The first excursion of the season will be that of Wetumpka Lodge, No. 3401, K. of H., of this city, to Point View Island, to-morrow. The train will leave at eight o'clock, A. M., sharp, and the fare for the round trip will be $1.25.

Amendment to the Charter of the Plainfield Electric Light Co.

We, Henry M. Bylleshy, President of the Plainfield Electric Light Company, and W. H. Moore, Treasurer of said Company, we being also the majority of the Board of Directors of said Company, and A. T. Rowand, Secretary of said Company, do hereby certify that at a meeting of the stockholders of said company, duly called for that purpose, held on the twentieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety, at the Company's office in the city of Plainfield and State of New Jersey, it was resolved by a unanimous vote of the stockholders that the said Company change the nature of its business in the following particular, that is to say; in addition to its business as now fixed by law (to wit: to manufacture and furnish light by means of electricity or any other means in the city of Plainfield) it shall hereafter distribute and furnish power and heat by electricity or any other means.

Witness our hands and seals this twentieth day of June, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

COLD FACTS ABOUT SODA WATER

FIRST: Syrups made from so-called FRUIT ESSENCES are little better than POISON.

SECOND: Syrups made from BOTTLED JUICES are harmless but insipid.

THIRD: Syrups made from FRESH FRUIT are very much better, especially

FOURTH: Syrups made by a process original with us, whereby the PULP of the fruit is incorporated with the syrup. We dub such a syrup

"FRUIT CRUSH,"

And it is far ahead of all other sorts, as shown by a demand which exceeds any other in our experience, and by the fact that our idea was quickly imitated because of our neglect to copy-right.

THE TRENTONS HIT THE BALL.

In Spite of Hard Lines, However, the Crescents Only Lose by One Run.

If any team of first-class ball players ever played in hard lines against big luck, it was the Crescents last Saturday. Only two flies—one caught by Lee and one by Gillis—came within their reach, while 12 of the Crescents hits dropped right into the pockets of the Trentons. Everybody most, of the home team, was unfortunate at the bat, but particularly so in the field were Lufberry and Wiegand; while Jones struck out for the first time this year.

The Trenton nine was composed of the pick of that city's league teams, with a New York battery. They played a beautiful game with the exception of a little wild throwing that let Lee in with the tieing run; and they batted out a victory in the tenth inning by two singles, a double and a triple. Although the Crescents began their second inning with a score of 4 to 0 against them, they played with great pluck, tied the score in the seventh, and shut the visitors out from the second until the tenth. Lee's playing was again the feature. He brought two runs home in the second inning by a two-bagger, and made the run that tied the game. He had eight chances and played them all in great shape. Martin, also, played his position for all it was worth, but Wiegand, Lufbery and Jones, certainly had an off-day. The score:

Resolutions of Condolence.

At the regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., held in their hall on Thursday evening, the following resolutions were adopted on the death of their late brother, Raynor Tunison:

WHEREAS: It has pleased Almighty God the Supreme Counselor of the Universe to remove from our midst our beloved and esteemed brother, Raynor Tunison, therefore be it;

Resolved, That while we mourn the loss of our brother and bow in humble submission to the will of our Supreme Counselor, be it,

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, and be it,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family of our late brother and also placed on our minutes and published in each of the daily papers, and the Charter of the Order draped for thirty days.

In the City Court.

The police blotter at the station house yesterday morning, showed the names William Sullivan and Matthew Kilpatrick, who were arrested the night before for disorderly conduct. This morning the prisoners were arraigned before Judge Codington, when the former was discharged and the latter was fined five dollars.

A Suit Against the Plummers and Darling.

The New England company has begun an attachment suit in the Union county court against John F. Plummer, Albert F. Plummer and Wm. S. Darling, to recover $300,682.22, which it is claimed the bankrupt Plummer firm owes the company. The case will come up in the October term.

After the Sunday Gamblers.

Special Marshal Geo. Becker of North Plainfield, yesterday, routed a gang of Sunday gamblers whom he found seated along the brook in the rear of Charles Hyde's residence on East Front street. The men made their escape, but their names are known.

Poor girl, poor girl, so young, so fair,
And doomed to die so soon;
The seeds of death are scattered there,
And long before life's noon
The grass will grow upon her grave:
So friends in sorrow say,
And think no power on earth can save
The dear one from decay.

Why do you think and talk like this? Simply because some of her family have died from scrofulous poisoning of the blood, and they see indications of the same taint in her. Scrofula of the Lungs, commonly called consumption, is a terrible disease, and it is not to be wondered at that they dread it. But it can be conquered. The poison can be driven out of the blood. The taint can be elimin[ated] from the system by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands of persons who

THE CONSTABLE BACKS THE GOVERNOR.

Horse Racing, Private Betting and Bookmaking on Mount Ararat, as Amusements for the Glorious Fourth.—Lawyer Peckham and "Cy" Wilcox the Committee.

Mustangs are in daily training on Park street in Westfield, for a race on the Fourth of July. Private betting and even bookmaking are talked of, notwithstanding the late veto of Governor Abbett and the orthodox protest of the City of Elizabeth. The ubiquitous Johannes Mighty Casino Marsh is putting on war paint, oiling and scouring his bracelets, ready to enforce the law pursuant to Gov. Abbett's veto.

John is a loyal Democrat and no respecter of persons. Look out, gentlemen of the committee, and keep within the statute. May the eyes of THE PRESS never behold Constable Marsh leading up to the bench of Squire Jaques, Counselor W. G. Peckham and "Cy" Wilcox for a violation of the law on horse racing and betting. Westfield has in store patriotism to an unlimited extent; but it must not be let loose contrary to law. The trotting, which will probably be the finest in the State, should be lawful, orthodox and becoming the high-toned town and neighborhood where it is to take place.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Capt. and Mrs. Gamble says the Morristown Banner, have rented their house and gone to Plainfield.

A fourteen pound boy came to gladden the household of Mr. and Mrs. John Curren of Arlington avenue, on Saturday morning.

J. Frank Matthews, his sister Miss Eleanor Matthews, and Miss Sarah G. Kenny, left today for Pine Bush in the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandford returned from their wedding trip on Saturday, and have taken up their residence in Washington Park, North Plainfield.

The Misses Bertha E. and Estelle Stokes of Philadelphia, are visiting the family of G. W. Force, at their home on West Second street, this city.

The Rev. Dr. Kennedy of Philadelphia was the celebrant of the 10:45 o'clock mass yesterday morning in St. Mary's church, and also officiated at vespers.

Mrs. Charles Sandford and the Misses Sandford of Washington Park, North Plainfield, started today for Watch Hill, R. I., where they will spend the Summer.

John F. Wiechers of Grant avenue and Eighth street, entertained about twenty-five of his near friends and acquaintances at a dinner party yesterday, furnished by Maresi, of New York city.

The Rev. Mr. Kimball, the celebrated Debt Raiser, visited Park Avenue Baptist church, unexpectedly yesterday, and in the morning raised half its debt of $15,000. To this sum contributed, $1,000 was added in the evening, making $8,500 in all.

At Grace Episcopal church on Saturday evening, took place the marriage of Robert Peel and Miss Agnes Campbell Mylie both of this city, the Rev. E. M. Rodman officiating. A reception followed at the residence of the groom's brother, William Peel, at Netherwood.

Ruth, the six-months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Totten of Pruden's Alley, died last evening, after a two days' illness from cholera infantum. The funeral will take place from the house, tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, and interment will be made in North Plainfield.

In the account of the North Plainfield Alumni reception, on Saturday, THE PRESS was misled in stating that "only one member, Daniel Loizeaux, has been dropped from the list by death during the past six years." The only member lost by death is the late Miss Augusta Winckler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus J. Winckler, of North Plainfield.

The pupils of Miss Florence Randolph gave a musicale at her house, on Saturday afternoon, that was thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by those present. The pupils all showed more or less ability, but especial mention is deserving Miss Lulu Poillon and Miss Ella Raybert—Miss Poillon playing a composition of her own. At the close of the programme, pupils and friends were served with refreshments.

The death occurred early this morning, at her home in North Plainfield, of Kittie Conger, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Conger. She was just past seven years of age, and died of diphtheritic-croup. Mr. Conger was formerly of the firm of C. Schepflin & Co., and is now connected with a large boot and shoe establishment at Savannah. Word of his daughter's illness was wired to him last evening, and he probably started for home at once.

Robbery at Somerville.

Schwed Bros., clothing and gents furnishing goods store at Somerville, was entered and robbed of a watch, some clothing, etc., on Saturday night. Yesterday morning Officers Crow and Sebring arrested one Dominick Fitzpatrick at Bound Brook and locked him up in the Somerville jail, charged with the [robbery].

Fitzpatrick is a well-know[n] port tough, and the [goods] identified as part [of the] on Saturday.

The Epworth League officers for the coming year are: President—Charles B. Mitchell; 1st Vice President—G. M. Rittenhouse; 2d Vice President—Emma Mc Gee; 3d Vice President—Frank Cokefair; Secretary—J. Frank Martin; Treasurer—Ida Angleman.

Mr. S. E. Birdsall has gone to his mines in Colorado for the Summer. His elder daughter accompanied him.

Mr. Henry R. Hatfield, son of Dr. Hatfield of Chicago, makes his home with his relative, Mr. A. A. Taft, 143 West Front street.

Mrs. Geo. C. Mahon, who with her family are now occupying a cottage at Asbury Park, is very much improved in health.

Mr. Rob. Davis was compelled to return home from Bordentown Military Institute before the close of the term, owing to ill health.

The crayon sketches, which were used by the pastor in his talks to the Juniors' Class, and which were especially prepared for him by the gifted artist, Mrs. Anna M. Griffin, will be seen in the chapel for several days.

Dr. Hurlbut has left the city for the Summer, having gone to the various Chautauqua assemblies, of which he has charge. He will join his family at Chautauqua in August, who leave for that delightful resort early in July.

Mr. Clifford McGee will enter Yale College in the Fall, and Mr. Chas. C. Hurlbut will enter Wesleyan University at the sam time. We will greatly miss these young men from our church work, in which they have been actively engaged.

One of the most beautiful residences in the city is going up on Rock View avenue, at the head of Washington avenue. It will be a Methodist home, planned by Architect Teale, built by Builder Pangborn, and owned and occupied by Mr. John Weir and family.

The pastor's vacation will be in August.

Mrs. Theodore French has returned from a long sojourn in the far South.

Architect Teale is at work on plans for our two chapels. No one doubts that the work will be well done.

All our people, and many more, will be glad to learn that Dr. Tuttle is to occupy our pulpit one Sunday in August.

Mr. Samuel Mitchel rendered most efficient service in the choir last Sunday. The pastor knew he was there without looking.

Mrs. Chas B. Mitchell has gone for a few days to Asbury Park, to be with her sick brother, Mr. Wm. F. Aull, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The subscriptions for the Evona and North Plainfield chapels are coming in. Let every member of the church take some stock in both these enterprises.

Charged With Murdering His Wife.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 30.—John Kampfer, a railroad employe at Huntsdale, has been arrested charged with the murder of his wife, who died Thursday, shortly after he had given her what he said was painkiller. Mrs. Kampfer's brother instigated the proceedings against the prisoner, and he has procured evidence from neighbors that Kampfer had treated his wife badly and had threatened to put her out of the way. Mrs. Kampfer's body will be exhumed and an inquest held.

Remarkable Gold Strike.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 30.—Col. Panfilio Almarez, of the American Army, reached San Diego Wednesday, from Juarez, Lower California, and tells of a remarkable strike in the mountains near Juarez. He found gold ore so rich that with a hand mortar he got six pounds of gold. He declares that it is not a pocket, but there are millions in sight.

Governor Hill Leaves for Indianapolis.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 30.—Governor Hill left here last evening for Indianapolis. In the party were State Comptroller Semple, Gen. Ferdinand P. Earle, Sheriff Daniel E. Sickles, of New York city; Military Secretary Judson, and Hon. John McCall. Secretary of State Rice joined the party at Rochester. It is expected that the Governor will be back some time next Thursday.

Pugilists Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The pugilists Tommy Kelly and Benny Murphy, who had a glove contest at No. 12 St. Mark's Place, Thursday night, were arraigned in the Essex Market police court to-day on a charge of prize fighting, and were held in $500 bail each for examination on July 9th at the Tombs court.

A Site for the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 30.—After a three hours' session the Board of Directors of the World's Columbian Exposition, by a vote of 23 to 10, decided to recommend to the National Commission the Lake front and such additional land as may be necessary as a site for the fair.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Baseball Clubs Clustered Together in the Race for the Pennant.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Only a few changes have been made during the past week in either of the great baseball pennant races. Some of the clubs have, however, made a spurt that has added materially to the interest. The clubs of both organizations are more closely clustered at present than ever, and more of them are playing in good form. Cincinnati, which made such a fight for first place, met with a sudden halt when they faced the Bostons. The work of the Bean-eaters in Porkopolis, and, in fact, since they entered the West, has been simply marvelous. They made only three errors in five games and have batted in terrific form. Their three pitchers—Clarkson, Getzein and Nichols—are in first class condition, and Bennett, the star catcher, is working every day behind the bat. The rest of the team have been patched up sufficiently to produce a winning article of baseball. The "Phillies," too, under the management of young Allen, and with the promise made to Harry Wright before their departure, that they would do their best out West, have been working well. Chicago met with a setback in the early part of the week in losing two games to the New Yorks, but they have recovered themselves somewhat since facing the Brooklyns.

In the Brotherhood the sudden rise of the Chicago Club, the fine work of the Philadelphias, the spurt of the New Yorks, and Ward's streak of ill luck, has commanded great attention. Williamson, at the beginning of the week, joined the Chicago Club, and his presence has been like an elixir to the other players. From the day he joined the team it received new life. This is evident from the improvement made in their playing. They went up against the Brooklyns and Bostons with a determination that made these players sick. Their work was worthy of such an aggregation of stars, and demonstrates what can be done by them, if they are inclined to put their energies into action. They have been doing great work with the stick, fielding sharply and getting good work out of their batteries. All this is also true of the Philadelphias. The fact that such men as Comiskey, Williamson, Ewing and others looked upon them as dark horses is a clear indication of the esteem in which their playing is held.

SUNDAY BALLPLAYING.

A Sheriff Arrests the Members of the Washington and Worcester Clubs.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—During the progress of yesterday's baseball game between the Washington and Worcester Clubs at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, near Alexandria, Va., Sheriff Beach, of Alexandria County, accompanied by Justice of the Peace Drummond (colored), served warrants of arrest upon the managers and members of the two teams for playing baseball in violation of the Sunday law.

A trial, which developed into a complete farce, followed, during which the spectators unmercifully guyed the justice and sheriff. Each participant in the game was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $4, which was promptly paid.

The game was then continued, and warrants were again made out against Secretary Burkett, of the Washington Club, on the charge of playing ball without a license. Burkett, however, learned of this move and quickly drove to this city, with the sheriff in pursuit. He will probably be arrested to-day to answer this charge.

Took Strychnine and Died.

BALTIMORE, June 30.—A suicide, attended by most distressing circumstances, occurred Saturday night at No. 629 North Fulton avenue. Henry Meade, a bookkeeper, ended his life by swallowing twenty grains of strychnine. No cause for the suicide is apparent. He leaves a wife and child. The Coroner declined to hold an inquest, being satisfied that death was caused by the poison, which was taken with suicidal intent.

Conflagration Caused by Fireworks.

DENVER, Col., June 30.—The town of Morrison, twenty miles from here, was visited by a conflagration yesterday which destroyed the business portion of the place. The loss is estimated at $65,000, and the insurance small. The fire started in the rear of a drug store, the result of firing fire crackers.

The Race is Always to the Swift

IF HE RIDES A

"Why?"

"Because, it is so light that every ounce of pressure on the pedals tells."

"How light is it?"

"It weighs only 33 pounds."

"How much do other safeties weigh?"

"From 46 to 51 pounds."

"That's only a difference of 13 to 18 pounds."

"ONLY! Why, it means that you must propel that many pounds more with each revolution of the wheel, and there are 400 revolutions in each mile."

"Is that the reason you consider the CATFORD cheaper at $140 than any other Safety at $135?"

"That is one of many reasons."

"Have you a Ladies' Safety?"

"Yes; and for SWEET, ATTRACTIVE GRACE, there is nothing like our SPECIAL LADIES' PREMIER, especially when the lady is riding it!"
